Harry Perkowski bested Pat McGlothin in a hurling duel as Syracuse defeated Montreal Royals 1-0. Perkowski allowed six hits and fanned nine for his 11th victory McGlothin allowed seven hits, but one of them was a third-inning home run by Eddie Shokes.

Toronto and Baltimore divided a doubleheader. The Leafs won the opener 5-4 aided by a four-run rally in the final inning. Toronto rallied for three runs in the ninth of the second game, but Baltimore won it 8-7.

Yanks Spot Senators 5-4 As Brooks Drop 3rd In Row

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Are New York Yankees a greater club than most realize, or are they just plain lucky?

Undoubtedly, the Yankees are getting more than their share of the breaks this season. But their backers insist the Yankees put so much pressure on their opponents they often make their own breaks.

The Yankees have been winning despite 53 injuries, several to key men. They've been winning the close ones, too. In one recent week, they won four 3-2 games. They've engaged in 38 one-run decisions, and won 23 of them.

Look what happened Thursday. They spotted Washington Senators a 4-0 lead in the fourth inning, but came on to win 5-4. As in a majority of their one-run victories, an error by the opposition led to the Yankees' winning margin.

The Yankees already had tallied twice in the last half of the fourth on Tommy Henrich's home run, a fluke double by Johnny Lindell on a pop that fell in back of first, and Gerry Coleman's single. They had two men on base and two out. Cliff Mapes hit an easy roller to second, but Al Kozar bobbled it, then was slow to pick it up, and two Yankees crossed the plate to deadlock the score at 4-4.

Winning Run

A double by Phil Rizzuto and Mapes' single off Mickey Harris in the sixth, produced the winning run. Allie Reynolds, third Yankee hurler, held the Nats hitless and scoreless over the last five innings to be credited with his 12th victory. He has lost three.

The victory increased the Yankees' first-place lead over the idle Boston Red Sox to four full games.

In the National, Brooklyn Dodgers continued to flounder around. They dropped their third in a row to Philadelphia's Phils, 9-5, to fall a full game behind the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals. The Redbirds enjoyed an off day.

The third-place Cleveland Indians remained in the American League fight, walloping St. Louis Browns 14-4 in the only night game in the majors. Bob Lemon had little trouble racking up his 15th triumph while Larry Doby and Mickey Vernon each poled three-run homers for the Tribe.

Third Defeat

The fightin' Phils, staging another one of their characteristic big innings, shelled Rex Barney out with a five-run sixth inning, and went on to hang the third straight defeat on the Brooks. Del Ennis and Willie Jones featured the big inning with home runs. Jones batted in four runs. Hank Borowy, helped by Jim Konstanty in ninth hung up his 12th victory.

Home runs by Bob Elliott, Jeff Heath, Elbie Fletcher and Jim Russell helped Boston Braves defeat the New York Giants, 10-6. Johnny Sain gained credit for his ninth victory.

Rookie Jim Walsh, making his second start for Pittsburgh, pitched the Pirates to a three-hit, 2-0 victoy ove Chicago Cubs.

Detroit Tigers blanked Chicago White Sox 2-0 to snap a 19-inning scoring draught. Freddy Hutchinson pitched the Tiger shutout, allowing seven hits for his 12th triumph.

Seeks Court Aid On Flying Rights

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (CP) —Colonial Airlines is seeking court aid in its fight to avoid competition with Trans-Canada Air Lines on the rich run between Montreal and New York.

Canada has full flying rights on that route under the Canadian-American air agreement of June 4. T.C.A. has made formal application for the necessary permit and the civil aeronautics board has scheduled a hearing for Aug. 29.

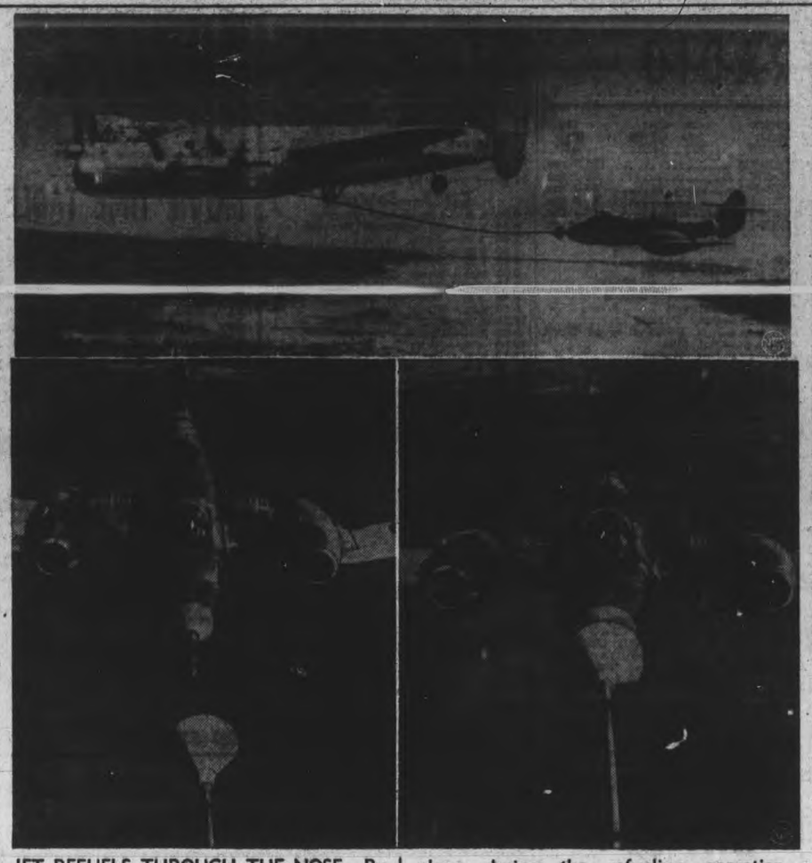
Colonial, arguing that the pact is illegal, filed suit Wednesday for a federal court order prohibiting the C.A.B. from holding the hearing and withholding the permit until the Senate ratifies the agreement.

The pact, classed as an executive arrangement between the Canadian and United States governments, does not require Senate approval. But 49 Senators, backing Colonial's contention that it will lose $1,000,000 a year to T.C.A., wrote recently to President Truman, asking him to hold up the agreement. Truman has not replied.

Colonial, which since 1945 has had a monopoly on traffic between New York and Montreal and obtains 80% of its gross revenues from those operations, said Wednesday that T.C.A.'s bigger, faster planes would "reduce and eventually destroy" Colonial's business.

Air Cadets Go Home

MONTREAL, Aug. 19—(CP)—Twenty-five British air cadets who have been touring eastern Canada for two weeks arrived here by air Thursday night for a short visit to Montreal before they fly home to the United Kingdom Aug. 22.



Two Boys Killed

ST. PIERRE DE WAKEFIELD, Que., Aug. 19—(CP)—Two small boys—Claud Dompierre, 11, and Bernard Gauthier, 9, playing with their wagon on a steep lane, were killed Thursday night when the wagon rolled out of control into the path of a truck. A third boy chased frantically after the wagon, trying vainly to stop it.

BACKACHE May be Warning

Backache may be a signal your kidneys are failing to filter excess acids and poisonous wastes from the system. Dodd's Kidney Pills help relieve this condition, often the cause of backache, headache, rheumatic pains or disturbed rest. Dodd's contain essential oils and medicinal ingredients which act directly on the kidneys and help them regain normal action. Get Dodd's Kidney Pills to-day. 138

Weighty Steers Down 50 Cents On Slow Market

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP). — Good to choice weighty steers, light steers and heifers were steady to 50 cents lower on a slow Livestock Market here this week. Common to medium grades were under pressure and closed $1 or more lower.

Fed yearlings were strong while cows and bulls held steady. Choice vealers opened $1 higher and closed $2 higher at $25. Other grades calves were steady.

Hogs increased 75 cents over last week to sell at $33.50 for Grade A. Lambs were stronger and closed steady on off truck lambs and 50 cents higher on off car lambs. Held for next week's trading were 450 head.

The cattle run totalled 7,096 head. Choice weighty steers sold from $22-$22.50, with good light steers up to 21 and good heifers at $20-$20.50 with a few up to $21. Plain steers and heifers suffered the greatest decline, selling at $16-$19.

Boners sold as low as $12. Butcher cows were $12-$14.50, with a few light heifery cows up to $15. Canners and cutters sold at $7-$11.50. Good bulls were $15.50-$16.50, with a few up to $17, while plain bulls ranged from $13-$15. Fed yearlings brought $20-$24. Plain to medium stockers sold at $13-$16, with a few of better quality at $16.50$17.75. Short keep feeders sold up to $18.50. Ordinary quality milkers and springers sold at $130-$170 each.

Calf offerings totalled 1,899 head. Choice vealers were $25, with plain to medium kinds at $15-$20, with grassers for slaughter at $15-$20.

Hogs were 1,801 head. Grade A closed at $33.50 with Grade B1 at $33.10. Sows were 50 cents higher at $20 dressed.

Sheep and lambs were 2,388 head. Good ewes and wethers opened strong at $23 and closed $23 off truck and $24.50 off car, with $1 discount on bucks. Cull lambs sold at $15-$20, with yearlings at $12-$16. Good light sheep sold at $9-$10 with a few at $11. Cull sheep were $5-$8.

Summer Theatre To Present One of Oscar Wilde's Plays

The importance of presenting a play by Oscar Wilde before its first season ends has decided the Peterborough Summer Theatre to present The Importance of Being Earnest next week, starting Monday, at the Queen Mary School auditorium.

First performed in 1895, the play is now well on the way to becoming a classic, with numerous revivals. Its latest production by a well-known professional company was by John Gielgud. With Earnest, Gielgud came to London, Ont., for try-out performances, then moved on to Broadway for a triumphant run.

The play is a satirical comedy of manners with style and sharpness of wit only Wilde can create. Earnest is not the only play of Wilde's which has had recent successful revivals. During the closing years of the war, a plush and handsome production of Lady Windemere's Fan was presented in the Haymarket Theatre in London. Less than a year ago it was on Broadway.

Davies Production

The Summer Theatre production is being directed by Robertson Davies with considerable relish. The players too are having a lot of fun rehearsing it.

John Primm, the company's most versatile actor, will play the role of John Worthing, the gay blade of London society. Jeri Sauvinet, who was described as an "actress of great promise" for her work in this week's By Candlelight, will play the Hon. Gwendoline Fairfax. Michael Lynd will play Algernon Moncrieff, a role he played professionally in England.

Featured members of the cast include Anna Cameron, star of last week's John Lowes Mary as Cecily Cardew; Bill Needles, director of By Candlelight as Rev. Canon Chasuble; Christine Thomas as Miss Prism; and Brenda Davies as Lady Bracknell. Ron Bailey and Hugh Taschereau will play Merriman and Lane.

Use Two Sets

This will be the first of the Summer Theatre's productions for which set designer Martha Jamieson will create two sets. Up to now, only single set plays have been presented.

Plays scheduled to follow The Importance of Being Earnest, include French Without Tears, a well-known riotous comedy; Power Without Glory, a tale of intrigue and murder, and possibly, The Voice of The Turtle, which many have been asking for.

Street Car Derailed

TORONTO, Aug. 19 — (CP) — Eleven persons were slightly injured in the rush to escape when a King St. street car was derailed at west-end Shaw St. in the rush hour Thursday night.

Suffers Bust Yellowknife

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T., Aug. 18—(CP)—Canada's postwar business boom has brought a bust to the Dominion's youngest gold-mining centre.

Gone are the days of the $25 taxi fare, the mushrooming tent towns, and bulging pocketbooks. Instead, the smaller mines have shut down and the workers have left town.

It is only 10 years since prospectors and greenhorns alike flocked to Yellowknife, on the north shore of Great Slave Lake 600 miles north of Edmonton. Gold was, and is, the main attraction. But since then there have been minor booms in base metals and uranium.

With the steady rise in the price level throughout the Dominion, the cost of labor and materials, never low in Yellowknife, rose accordingly. But the price of gold stayed fixed—at $35 an many producers say it no longer ounce. Under present conditions, is profitable to keep operating here.

TLC Anti-Red Drive Pleases Green, AFL

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP) — President William Green of the American Federation of Labor said Thursday the AFL is happy about the results of a drive spearheaded by AFL unions to house-clean Communists from the 400,000-member Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

"We are reasonably satisfied," Green declared at a press conference following a meeting of the AFL executive council.

At the meeting, the council heard a report from officers of Canadian right-wing unions who a year ago arrayed themselves against the TLC executive in an attempt to clean Reds out of congress unions.

All indications today pointed to the dissenting right-wing factions having patched up their differences and being united against the leftist-led groups in the congress.

2 Die In Crash

MONTREAL, Aug. 19 (CP) — Two persons were killed and two others injured when an automobile driven by Charles D. Gutelisu, vice-president of Cox and Stevens Aircraft Canada, Ltd., went out of control on Cote de Liesse road and smashed into a tree. Gutelisu, 29, was killed instantly. Miss Rose Banas, 25, died later in hospital.

Sales Manager Dies

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP) — William D. Fleming, 59, manager of the Toronto sales division of the Dominion Textile Company, died Wednesday after a long illness. Born in Kingston, he joined the company in 1905. Surviving are his widow, two brothers—Noble Fleming of Brockville and E. C. Fleming of Montreal—and a sister, Mrs. A. C. Thompson of Brockville.

Will Establish Medical Institute

TORONTO, Aug. 18 — (CP).—Toronto is to establish a medical research institute completely independent of the University of Toronto, it was learned to-day.

The institute will be known as the W. P. Caven Memorial Research Foundation, initiated on the bequest of $100,000 for medical research by the late Dr. W. P. Caven and from donations of other prosperous men still living. Dr. Caven was a Toronto physician.

Directors of the foundation: Dr. Herbert A. Bruce, surgeon; Dr. Robert J. Macmillan, physician, and Hugh Johnston McLaughlin, solicitor.

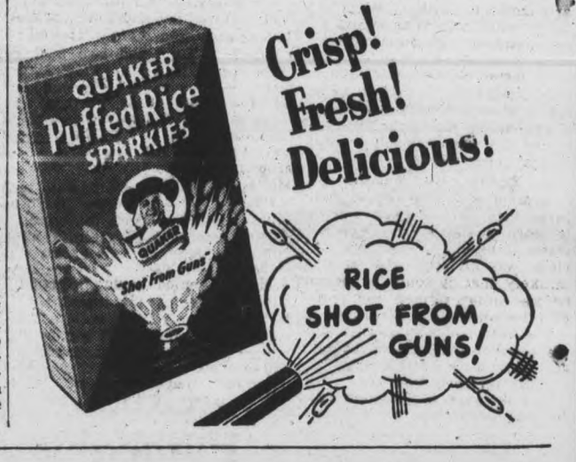
A member of the legal firm of McLaughlin, Macaulay, May & Soward said research work at the Foundation will be "under the guidance of Dr. D. W. Gordon Murray."

Mr. Murray is assistant professor of surgery at the Toronto General Hospital. He is internationally known as the inventor of the artificial kidney and for his heart and "blue-baby" operations.

Dr. Murray could not be reached for comment.

Bank Clerk Drowns

HAMILTON, Aug. 19.—(CP).—Audrey Staats, 21-year-old Hamilton bank employee, was drowned Thursday night when she and three other swimmers were caught in a swift current off Hamilton beach. A companion, Rose Marie Mueller, was pulled to safety, and Joe Demascio, 19, and Lloyd Woods managed to fight the current. They were among 20 bank employees attending a picnic and weiner roast at the beach.



Druggists At Parley

SASKATOON, Aug. 19—(CP)—The Canadian Pharmaceutical Association recorded opposition to "salacious literature" crime comics and "any magazines that could in any way corrupt the minds of youths and adults," and they will request the federal government to set up a censor board. The druggists said it was "up to each druggist voluntarily to remove from his news stand literature that he did not wish to sell."

RICE LAKE "EAGLES" ARE FISH HAWKS or Ospreys. They have established a considerable colony on Upper Foley Island, a mile east of the Indian River mouth and prey on game fish in that area. Resort Operator Art Elmhirst and son, Peter, LEFT photo, observe these big birds at the base of the dead pine where they have their eyrie. Flight photos taken from a neighboring pine, 15 feet away, show these predator birds landing and taking off from their nest, five feet in diameter and 40 feet from the ground. The soaring bird, insert, has a sizeable game fish in its talons. It was apparent that the adult birds were feeding young in the nest.—(Staff Photos—Nickels.)

Fair Directors Hear Review Of Final Plans

Livestock entries at the 1949 Peterborough Exhibition will be at least as numerous as last year, G. A. Gillespie, secretary and manager of the Board, told the final meeting of committee members Thursday night.

Exact comparative figures for last year are not available, but here are the entries for 1949: 83 light horses including foals; 40 heavy horses; 194 dairy cattle; 69 beef cattle; 60 swine, and 99 sheep.

The agricultural fair will run from August 23 to August 27, inclusive. Premiums are the same as last year—$15,000.

One of the last-minute decisions of the Board was to close the midway Tuesday night. It will open on Wednesday.

People attending the fair in cars must enter the grounds through the Park St. entrance. Parking accommodation will be found in the field inside the track. The pedestrian public will be admitted at the George St. entrance.

Plan Tot-Lot

Arrangements are being made for a tot-lot to be fenced off on the north side of the Drill Hall. Two supervisors will look after it until 9 p.m. and children will have teeter-totters, swings and other forms of amusement.

It was suggested that a tent be erected to shield the children from the sun; if so the cost will be equally borne by the Exhibition Board and the Recreation Commission.

One of the problems facing the Board members Thursday night was how to work in the popular livestock parade when the schedule was already tight. President Hugh Stewart said he thought it was too-important a feature of an agricultural fair to be dropped, and after some re-arranging it was decided to hold it in front of the grandstand Friday at 7.30 p.m. There will also be a presentation of the premium banners to the winning entries in seven breeds of cattle.

General admission will be 35 cents, with another 35 cents for those wishing to park their cars. Children will be charged 15 cents but this wil be reduced to five cents on Children's Day.

The Junior Farmers will put on their own program on Thursday.

The Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, will officially open the Exhibition on Wednesday afternoon. Arrangements for his visit are still being made.

Townships Must Assume Water Service Construction

Water services into the suburban bulges on the city's perimeter will have to be undertaken by the rural municipalities, and Utilities Commission will endeavour to supply them with water. That was the decision of the Commission Thursday afternoon, and it is being communicated to the townships of Smith, Douro, Otonabee and North Monaghan.

Mr. A. I. Edmison, clerk of Smith township, attended the Utilities meeting with a direct enquiry as to policy, and with special reference to the prospect of work being done this fall.

First, as to finances, the Commission will assume outstanding payments of debentures for borrowings to cover water main expenditure. That was done in the arrangements with North Monaghan when several streets in the south end, including Brioux Ave., were provided by the township with water services and money was obtained by a debenture issue to cover the cost. At the time of annexation the Commission assumed the outstanding payments on that loan.

Mr. Edmison was told that the Comission was prepared to continue that plan of financing. As to work this season on proposed water lines in the township, the clerk was informed that it was unlikely that it could be begun before winter arrives, and probably not until early spring.

The Commission suggested that the township council should finance any work of that kind on a local improvement basis by which the cost is levied on the fronting property.

Ross Dobbin, manager, pointed to the latest schedule of work for the early fall, when it was asked whether any of the Smith project could be got under way before the frost comes. These are promised jobs within the city, and the Commission simply said that this accumulated work would have to be done first.

Mr. Edmison agreed with the view of the Commission that some people in their quest for homes buy property on the suburban fringe to escape the city taxes. Then as soon as they begin building they think of city conveniences that are supplied by city taxpayers. In Mr. Edmison's comment the township of Smith is not unfriendly to those homebuilders, but on the other hand their interests were not chiefly in the township. They worked in the city, carried on business there, and moved into the township only for one advantage.

The definite answer to Mr. Edmison was that it was most unlikely that any of the proposed Smith work could be done this fall. There is a similar request over on the Monaghan side of the city north of Sherbrooke St.

Another recommendation to the rural neighbors was that, if there are to be water extensions, the mains should be at least six-inch, fitting into the Commission's system.

Two Dead Danes Found Floating

Pleading guilty to a charge of cruelty to animals by leaving them to drown in the Otonabee River north of the city on July 21, James McNeil, Caddy Street, was fined $15, and costs, by Magistrate R. B Baxter, Port Hope, in Police Court Friday morning.

Gerald Dunford Humane Society inspector, told the court he had received a complaint about two dogs belonging to McNeil running loose. He ordered McNeil to tie up the two female Great Dane pups. July 25 he said he was called up to the River Road to get two dogs seen floating dead in the river. The dogs were found with stones tied around their necks. They were McNeil's dogs.

People in the neighborhood told him that on the night of July 21 they had heard dogs howling and that someone had thrown stones at the dogs.

McNeil denied having thrown stones at the dogs. He said there had been no howling when he left the dogs in the river.

WINS AT BELLEVILLE

Stan Blewett of Peterborough won the 2:20 class race at Belleville on Wednesday with Victory High in three heats. - The driver was Vic Fallis. Redstone, owned by Hugh Davis of Peterborough, was second in two of the heats and third to Hambone from the stable of G. Kingston, Napanee, in the third.

Osprey Eyrie Situated On Upper Foley, Rice Lake Island, Near Mouth of River

By NICK NICKELS

A great many people at Rice Lake think they have an "eagle" colony down there on one of the islands. Resort operator Art Elmhirst was of that opinion and invited a reporter to come down on Thursday to have a look for himself. He is convinced now, after observing them at a range of 15 feet for about an hour that the pandion haliaetus, commonly known as the osprey, or fish hawk, is a nasty piece of business. They were most certainly not eagles.

The osprey is recognized as one of the most cosmopolitan birds of prey. Where there is an abundance of natural food, which means game fish in this district, they gather in small colonies. The fierceness with which ospreys defend their eggs and young, in addition to the dangerous situation they chose for their eyries, would make the chore of robbing their nests a difficult one. Observing them within a 15-foot radius provides enough excitement in itself.

On Upper Foley Island

The particular spot these birds had chosen for a nesting ground was on Upper Foley Island, 12 to 15 acres in area, and rising abruptly from the water's ege to a considerable height. It is an Indian island, or, one that is reserved for their use where they camp in summer and parch wild rice in the fall. On the well-wooded western end are half a dozen dead pine stubs that tower well above the green oak and maple growth.

Approaching by boat, three or four large brown and white birds were perched on their bare look-out trees, to keep an eye on passing fishermen who might throw dead bait overboard or watch the natural movements of small bass and pickerel with an eagle eye. Their plumage is conspicuously marked, the white of their lower parts and head contrasting sharply with the dark brown of the back when they are on the wing. Their peevish harsh cries indicated a nest, not far away on another dead stub, five feet in diameter and 40 feet from the ground.

When the boat landed, the birds flew off on six-foot wing spreads and soared in the brisk east wind far off to the mainland. The bird watchers scrambled through the brush to the base of the eyrie and found another pine stub 15 feet away, an ideal observation post. They crawled up the tree, one at a time, to have a look and, deciding that one of the stout branches would hold human

Caught Good-Sized Fish

The birds sailed back from the mainland marshes, no less than five of them, some with good-sized fish in their talons, and disappeared to some perch out of sight to have a meal. Mr. Elmhirst's ruse of going away in his boat led them to believe they were alone once more and with fighter pilot tactics swooped out of the sun to land on their nest. One of them landed on the bird-watcher's perch about ten feet above him and others made their circuit approaches, braked in for landings with payloads of small fish and took off again for more.

It was fascinating to watch the instinctive manouevrings of flight at close range and ruminate on how much man had learned and applied their principles from it. It was evident that man still had much to learn especially when these large birds came in for landings on a down wind approach which is against man's flight safety theory. The strong pinions and tail spread served as wing flaps that pancaked the bird in for a spot landing with only inches to spare.

Lack of safe climbing branches made it impossible for the observer to climb higher for a good look into the eyrie and wind in the thrashing oaks drowned all other sound. It was apparent from the amount of food brought to the nest that there were young ones in it. - Ornithologists claim that few birds lay eggs richer in coloring than the osprey; their white or pale ground is spotted, blotched or marbled with every shade of purple, orange and red, from the most delicate lilac and buff, through violet, chestnut and crimson to black. The term "osprey," applied to the nuptial plumes of egrets, has nothing to do with the osprey bird.

It would be interesting to compute the poundage of game fish they consume daily. This colony has been preying on that particular district for the past two years, at least, but classed as rare birds, they are protected along with eagles under Fish and Game laws Section 35.

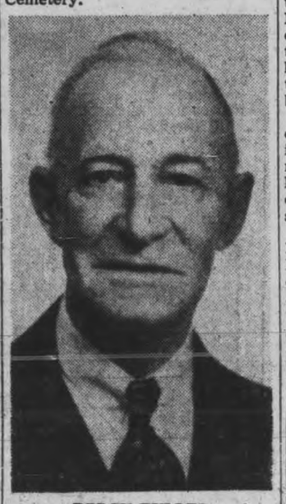
Lightning Blamed For Four Forest Fires

Wednesday's electrical storm which centred on Haliburton touched off four forest fires, one of them an acre in extent in Cavendish township, Peterborough county, was quickly brought under control. According to District Forester A. B. Wheatley of Lindsay, the largest one, 100 acres in extent, north west of Kinmount in Lutterworth township, is being fought at the present time by a crew of 60 men. Two other fires spotted by aircraft in Digby and Longford townships are not very extensive. Another fire which covered five acres in Glamorgan township near Bark Lake was brought under control shortly after its outbreak. Mr. Wheatley attributed all these fires to be the result of lightning.

PASS SWIM TESTS

Fifty-seven Port Hope children have passed the rigorous swimming and safety tests conducted by W. R. McAdam, Director of the Water Safety Program. Ontario Division of the Red Cross. The children were classed in one of three groups: junior, intermediate and senior. The crawl, breast stroke, back stroke, back stroke using arms only, back stroke using legs only, surface diving, swimming underwater, and treading water. An oral examination of each candidate was included in the test.

P. Fuller, Veteran Foreman Of CGE, Dies In 77th Year



One of the five living members with 50 years' service with the Canadian General Electric Company, Percy James Fuller died suddenly at his home today, 518 Gilmour St., in his 77th year. He was born in Reigate, Surrey, England, son of the late James Fuller and Mary Fiest, and came to Peterborough as an infant.

Mr. Fuller started work in the plating department of the Peterborough Lock Company but remained only a short time when in 1895 he started in the Dip and Buff department of the CGE. He completed 50 years' service on Oct. 25, 1945, and was presented with a gold watch and inscribed plaque along with Robert Cottrell and Joseph Reynolds. He retired in March of 1946 with the record of the longest continuous service of any foreman in the plant. The plating department grew considerably under his supervision and he was an active member of the Foremen's Association, the Quarter Century and Half Century Clubs.

For 55 years Mr. Fuller was a member of the IOOF Otonabee Lodge No. 113, and belonged to the congregation of All Saints' Anglican Church.

He leaves his wife, the former Laura Mabel Dormer, and one son, J. Vernon Fuller, prominent druggist of this city.

Funeral service will be held at the Nisbett Funeral Home on Monday, at 2 p.m. Archdeacon C. W. Balfour, of St. John's Anglican Church, will officiate, and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Majority of Milk Producers Can Meet Proposed Standard

"The majority of our milk producers in Ontario should be able to meet with little difficulty, the proposed minimum standards for milk production," said Dr. G. A. Edge of the provincial Department of Health at the meeting of Peterborough milk producers in the Canadian Legion Hall Thursday night.

The setting up of milk grades which the government is considering would raise the quality of Ontario milk to a higher level than ever, Dr. Edge said. If this system of grading comes into effect "it will be) applied along educational lines and not along policing lines."

Mr. V. S. Milburn, secretary of the local producers' association, asked for their direction in the approaching negotiations for a marketing agreement with distributors for the new year beginning Nov. 1.

Plan Of Negotiations

The meeting unanimously adopted a motion by Henry Sharpe authorizing the Milk Producers' League to negotiate for them in the same manner as last year.

Mr. Milburn recalled that Peterborough and some 40 other local groups left negotiations for price and other marketing details to the League. The ensuing agreement was for one year, and had resulted in a satisfactory arrangement.

"At the meeting of our board of directors in Toronto last week," Mr. Milburn said, "this question of new negotiations was discussed, and it was generally felt that this business should again be left to the provincial association, rather than to individual marketing groups. I thought that would also be your wish, but I require to have your approval."

Mr. Milburn reminded the members that several marketing groups who had adopted the individual plan of negotiating, had encountered difficulties, and drifted through the winter and into spring without an agreement.

Edward Butler was chairman of the meeting which was arranged by the Peterborough Board of Health in conjunction with the Milk Producers. The main part of the program was a discussion of mastitis and its prevention in dairy herds by Dr. Don Barnum of the Ontario Veterinary College. The general meaning of the word mastitis was any change from the normal in milk. His motion pictures prepared by the Ontario Agricultural College and his talk to the producers dealt entirely with "milk sanitations" and was largely a shop talk for the dairy farmers. The meeting was largely attended. Nearly half the audience was composed of women.

Mr. James Dutton, chairman of the Board of Health, said the Board greatly appreciated the co-operation of the dairy farmers of this district in maintaining a high quality of milk as an essential food of the people of Peterborough.

"We welcome the opportunity of joining with you as producers in doing anything we can to maintain the fine reputation we have in this city for the quality of our milk supply," Mr. Dutton said.

Dr. Edge was introduced by Dr. Harold Worton. Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, said his department and the dairy farmers shared a common and important responsibility to the consuming public. "Our milk supply has been good, but we all know it could be better. That is what we are working to, and meetings like this will help."

MAIN ST. TOPICS

MAY TURN ON TAPS

Utilities Commission Thursday lifted the restrictions on the use of water that have been in effect since June. This cancelling of control is immediately effective today. It applies to the watering of lawns and gardens, board of works flushing the street pavements and the filling of the wading pool at King Edward Park.

SEEK GAS LEAKS

Employees of the George Heath Company, Toronto, are now conducting their annual survey of possible leaks in the gas mains of the Peterborough Utilities Commission. The check-up, which has been going on for nearly a week, is now nearing completion; so far no leaks have been discovered, R. L. Dobbin, Utilities manager, said today.

JUDGED HEREFORDS

Forty-five members of the calf club and other juniors took part in the judging of two classes of Hereford cattle at John Stuart's farm Thursday evening. One class was of yearling heifers and the other two years Robert Bell, assistant agricultural representative, was in charge of this coaching of the young people. Some of the parents of members were present.

REFUSES TO SELL

Utilities Commission declines to sell any of its river front property at the Filtration Plant. They rejected another bid Thursday. The Commission regrets that the Wenonah Camp frontage was not bought years ago when no one was interested in it. Occupation of the river front above the Waterworks will be prevented as much as possible by the Commission.

1949 Duck Hunting Regulations Released by Ottawa Government

OTTAWA, Aug. 19 (CP) — Canada's duck hunters — nearly 500,000 of them—can start oiling their shotguns and practising their bird calls anytime now.

The Federal Wildlife Service [illegible] regulations—season dates, bag limits and firearm restrictions—for this fall's duck and geese hunting.

The 8,000-word regulations are generally the same as they were last year. But the wildlife service warned hunters to scan details for their own hunting areas.

There are different season dates for nearly every section of the country. Violations can be punished by a fine of up to $300 and six months in jail.

The regulations were drawn up by agreement between Canada's 10 provinces, the federal authorities and the United States.

They prohibit anything larger than a 10-gauge shotgun and every province but Saskatchewan bans the use of automatic guns holding more than two cartridges.

Tried Out

That regulation was introduced for the first time last year. Before that, authorities say, hunters could empty a magazine into a flock of ducks, wounding many birds they never retrieved. The birds were simply left to die.

In eastern provinces, hunters are allowed seven ducks and five geese per day. In the west they are allowed eight ducks and five geese.

But each province has varying regulations for seasonal limits.

Except in Newfoundland, no [illegible] more than 14 ducks—16 in the four western provinces—or 10 geese in his possession. In Newfoundland, hunters may be in possession of all they shoot—providing they can prove they shot them legally.

In other provinces, the season runs for four to six weeks, although parts of British Columbia have a longer season.

Seasons Spread Out

Seasons generally are spread over September, October and November. Most provinces include several different areas with different seasons.

Ontario has a variety of seasons. In Northern Ontario the season for both ducks and geese will be from Sept. 17 to Nov. 10. In Essex County the season will be Oct. 15 to Dec. 8 for ducks and Nov. 7 to Dec. 31 for geese. In the remainder of the southern district the dates will be Oct. 15 to Dec. 8 for ducks and Oct. 15 to Dec. 8 for geese.

The bag limits will be seven ducks and five geese in any one day and 100 ducks and 25 geese in a season.

Don't Know If Loan Means New Business

MONTREAL, Aug. 19 (CP) —A spokesman for Montreal Locomotive Works said Thursday his company had no immediate knowledge whether the $34,000,000 world bank loan to India for purchase of locomotives, boilers and other railway equipment in Canada and the United States is for new business or payment on three previous orders.

Announcement of the loan to India was made in Washington.

The three previous orders allotted to Canada were for 200 locomotives, a second 100 and then 30. The Montreal Locomotive Works got, respectively, 60, 60 and 20. The remainder went to the Canadian Locomotive Company of Kingston.

Torso Victim May Be Slaying

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Aug. 19 (AP)—The possibility that a torso found in the lower Niagara River Monday was that of a murder victim was being studied today by police and Coroner James W. Heary.

Heary said a study of the torso "more or less ruled out" the possibility that it was that of Charles Ruick, 66, of Niagara Falls, whose coat containing a blood-stained razor blade was found on the banks of the river above the falls Saturday.

He said the torso was that of a man weighing about 130 pounds, while Ruick was said to have weighed about 170.

A human leg apparently part of the same body, was recovered from the river Thursday near Stella Niagara, about 10 miles below the falls.

Alec Dewar Dies

MONTREAL, Aug. 19—(CP)—Alec M. Dewar, 77, three times city editor of the Montreal Daily Star and for 40 years a prominent figure in Montreal journalism, died suddenly at his home here Thursday night. Born at Annan, Ont., he entered journalism in 1894 with the old Toronto Mail and Empire. In 1895, he joined the Toronto World as a waterfront reporter and came to Montreal near the end of the century where he worked for the Herald. A keen sportsman, Mr. Dewar formed a number of hockey leagues in various parts of Quebec and Ontario.

China Buying Brings Business

By The Canadian Press

Retail merchants in Victoria, B.C., report 50 per cent of United States tourists' dollars is spent on chinaware. Woollen and linen goods attract the rest of the money.

Merchants, in a recent survey, said the reason is high prices charged for imported ceramics in the U S A $23 Dalton figure here sells at $40 below the border.

Ceramics, woollen goods and linens are listed as the "big three" which sell best to the thousands of U.S. tourists who bring thousands of dollars to the picturesque capital every day.

The tourists are buying chiefly cashmere sweaters and imported tweed coats. One merchant said he believed he can operate a store on just selling cashmere sweaters to tourists.

He said he'd sold over a thousand sweaters in one week. They sell between $15 and $20.

Leather purses ranging between $15 and $25 also are being sold in considerable numbers to tourists. Imported tweed coats are popular to those with fatter purses.

One merchant voiced the opinion that if an embargo were placed on British imported woollen goods, linen and ceramics, the number of U.S. tourists to Victoria would drop by 50 per cent.

Joe Louis Asks Liquor Licence

WINDSOR, Aug. 19 (CP)—Appearance of Joe Louis, retired boxing champion, Thursday highlighted a hearing before the Liquor Licensing Board which disallowed three applications, two from Belle River and one from Sandwich West, on technicalities.

The former world heavyweight titleholder appeared with his lawyer, John J. Riordan, on behalf of the Belle Clair Surf Club.

A total of 75 applications, from the counties of Essex, Lambton and Kent, were on the docket in Supreme Court. With the exception of the three disallowed, decision in all cases was reserved.

When Joe Louis appeared, Judge W. T. Robb, board chairman, asked:

"This is one decision I presume you hope to win?"

"Yes sir," answered Joe. But he did not address the board on behalf of the application his club is making for a dining lounge licence.

Mr. Riordan urged that because negroes find it "practically impossible" to be served liquor or beer elsewhere in Ontario's pubs and cocktail bars, that the Rochester Township club on the shores of Lake St. Clair be granted a licence.

The club's members, Mr. Riordan said, are chiefly doctors from Detroit and vicinity who have paid $90,000 cash for the Canadian property and have spent another $30,000 in preliminary improvements.

Movie Column

Sennett Sees Women Heading Toward Nudism

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 19 (AP) —Mack Sennett says the feminine beach costume in 10 years may be lipstick, rouge and perhaps a hair ribbon. That's all, brother.

"It isn't necessary to look far to see that women, if not men, too, are headed in the direction of nudism," remarked the long-time comedy wizard of the screen.

Sennett, who was born in Danville, Que., can bear some of the responsibility for the trend. His bathing beauties of the flickers showed more of the feminine form than was generally seen in those days. (Even though his beauties look now as though they were clothed by Omar the tentmaker.)

"They created a furor," he recalled. "Some people wanted to have me put in jail."

Indecent Exposure

"I'm not the only one who can remember when police would raid beaches armed with rulers to measure the number of inches of leg exposed by those 'daring' suits. If more than a few inches were in view, a lady would be arrested for indecent exposure."

Police now would need yardsticks, he observed.

Sennett said he heard women in New York and even Boston were wearing sun suits on downtown streets. He cited the plunging neckline and bare midriff as more evidence of the movement toward nudism.

The movie maker is no advocate of nudism, but says it may have its points.

Watch Your Waist

"The woman of the hour-glass figure—with sand in the wrong end—will start checking the bathroom scales and pass up a second helping of mashed potatoes and gravy."

That goes for men, too, he added. He told of a man who was invited to a bel-air swimming party after years of no swimming. All he could buy was a brief swim suit and when he looked at himself, he appreciated what his tailor had done for him. He began reducing that day.

Fruit Growers Avert Strike

VANCOUVER, Aug. 19 (CP) — An eleventh-hour agreement between growers and packinghouse workers Thursday night prevented a strike on British Columbia's rich Okanagan Valley where a $25,000,000 fruit crop awaits harvesting.

Spokesmen for the 4,000-strong Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers, certified union for the packers, said agreement had been reached. Industry spokesmen confirmed it but neither side would elaborate.

The question of a union shop was paramount issue on the dispute.

TORONTO, Aug. 19 — (CP) — Damage was estimated at $100,000 in a waterfront fire which early today destroyed a large stock of paper, cartons and other equipment belonging to the Gair Company of Canada Ltd. No one was injured.

Rain-Making By Dry Ice Not Perfect, But Has Uses

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 19 (CP)—Farmers and forest wardens don't expect too much from those flying rain-makers but don't give them up as useless.

That conclusion can be drawn from the report of three Canadian scientists [illegible] making is up for discussion today at the United Nations scientific conference on conservation and utilization of resources.

The scientists say that in 59 tests where pellets of dry ice were dropped into clouds from an aircraft, rain reached the ground underneath in 24 per cent. of the cases.

But they cautiously add that rain brought that way would not be enough in any particular area —it would also need natural rain. Furthermore, the usefulness of artificial precipitation in forestry is mainly in prevention rather than extinction of fires, they emphasize.

The Canadians who wrote the report are J. L. Orr, and D. Fraser of the National Research Council, and K. G. Pettit of the Meteorological Service of Canada, all of Ottawa.

Answers Questions

Orr is a member of the 25-man Canadian delegation at the three-week conference here. He is on hand to answer questions on the paper that may be put at the sectional meeting of experts on water control.

At the same time specialists in forestry, food, minerals and fuels are gathered in other rooms at U.N. headquarters.

The forest experts today look over a paper on air surveys prepared by H. E. Seely of the Dominion Forest Service, Ottawa. He says the development of air photography is "possibly the most revolutionary development in the history of mapping and represents a most important advance in the investigation of natural resources."

The work of the Canadian Committee on Food Preservation is reviewed in paper prepared by M. W. Thistle and W. H. Cook of the Division of Applied Biology, National Research Council, Ottawa.

The report before the agricultural experts outlines the work of the committee since its establishment in 1935.

The Canadian study of artificial precipitation was a cooperative effort of the RCAF, the Meteorological service and the National Research Council. The tests were made in the Mississagi district north of Lake Superior; near Kapuskasing, Ont.; Suffield, Alta., and Arnprior, Ont.

All the rainfall recorded by the observers occurred within 20 minutes after the dry ice was dropped.

DIEPPE RELIC—This bullet-riddled, bloodstained union jack had an eventful history during the Second World War, Captured from the 2nd Canadian Infantry Division at Dieppe seven years ago, it hung for two years in the Dieppe office of a German colonel. When the colonel attempted to ship the flag to Germany, a Frenchwoman, Madame Jovens of Dieppe, stole it and kept it hidden until the 2nd Division returned Sept. 1, 1944. Now displayed in the Canadian War Museum at Ottawa, the flag is being shown by Pte. Alex McDougall to two Ottawa girls, Claire Boivin, left, and Huguette Carriere.

Grandparents Make Mistake Infringe on Parents' Duties

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: How can one protect one's children from doting grandparents? How can one keep grandparents from actually killing their children by giving them food that upsets the children's digestions and makes them sick? Why do people who have disciplined their own children spoil their grandchildren to death?

My wife's parents have come to live with us and they are absolutely ruining an unusually fine child and we are helpless to do anything in the matter. All of the child's habits have been broken up. He goes into tantrums to get what he wants, which he never did before, and when we attempt to control him his grandparents undo all our work by pitying him and making him feel he is a little martyr. I know a lot of other young parents who are going through this same experience and we don't know what to do because we don't want to hurt the old people. W. E. B.

ANSWER: I heard a famous baby doctor once say that the greatest curse that any child ever had was grandparents and maiden aunts and that these killed more children every year than disease did.

Perhaps this is not as exaggerated a statement as it sounds. All of us have seen a poor baby kissed into hysteria by doting aunts and we have seen grandma surreptitiously slipping candies and sweetmeats, to anaemic and dyspeptic little Mamie and Johnny, that laid them low with stomach disorders a few hours later.

It is a matter of common knowledge that many grndparents regard the modern method of child-rearing with scorn and contumely and look upon the baby book which is the young parent's Bible, as a heretical document that should be burned at the stake. Why, the very idea of refusing to wake the baby when Aunt Sally and Cousin Susie have just come in to see it is perfectly ridiculous. And refusing to let it have even a teensy-weensy bit of candy or just a morsel of cake! New-fangled nonsense that is awful when your daughter does it and positively criminal when your daughter-in-law does!

Didn't they raise a big family without all this tomfoolery? Well, they lost three or four babies, but that was the Lord's will and had nothing to do with sterilized milk or tomato juice. Didn't their children turn out pretty well, though nobody had ever heard about child-psychology in those days or bothered with such nonsense as fixing the pattern of a child's life in the cradle?

So there you are, and it is the old school of child-rearing against the new, with the old thinking, that they know best, and the young keen for experimentation.

Teach a child regular habits. Teach it that screaming gets it nowhere. Teach it that there are things that it cannot have because they are not good for it. Teach it patience and courage. These are all invaluable lessons and it is a pity that grandparents try so hard to nullify them with their spoiling. It took those of us of the last generation half a lifetime to get over the way we were raised and for life to give us the discipline that our parents should have given us.

Grandparents regard their grandchildren as delightful playthings provided by Providence for their amusement and diversion. They feel they have no responsibility for them, so they are at liberty to spoil them and leave their parents to undo the harm they have done.

As we grow older, we have an immense pity and tenderness for children as we realize all the stress and storm of life that they are bound to go through. They seem so little and so helpless that we have an overwhelming desire to shelter them, to protect them, to indulge them in their heart's desire, to give them all the happiness we can before they encounter the hardships they must meet.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man 25 years old and have done much thinking concerning this thing called life. Is life really worth carrying on now or in the future considering the trend of business and living conditions? What chance has a young man with limited capital to start on?

OBSERVER

ANSWER: Every generation of young men has thought that things were easier in the past than they are now, but the way has always opened up for men of ability and energy. So don't be down-hearted. Put your heart and your back in your work and you will succeed.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: When I was in college last year I started going with a girl of whom I came to think a great deal. We had much in common and I would have asked her to marry me had it not been for the fact that I discovered that she was unconventional in her relationships, not only with me, but with others. I was sadly disappointed by the discovery. Is my attitude a hangover from the Puritan age, or should I have tried to adjust myself to her standards?

ROBERT

ANSWER: I think it will be a sad day for the world when men do not demand virture in their wives.

THE EXPERTS SAY

How Do You Like Your Tea? Is It Strong When Brewed?

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Aug. 19 — (CP) — Calling all tea-grannies! How do you like your favorite brew—weak, medium, or strong?

One reader has taken issue with a recent suggestion in this column that when making tea "for small quantities, one teaspoonful for each person, and one for the pot, gives the best results."

Mitchell Pallington of Toronto, writes that in his opinion the statement is worded "to increase the consumption of tea which already costs an exorbitant price per pound."

However, the health of the tea-drinker, and not the price of tea, is what he's really worrying about.

"Strong tea or strong coffee must be hard on a person's digestive system . . . ," writes Mr. Pallington. "Therefore, I maintain that one teaspoonful for each cup is altogether too much. My experience shows that one teaspoonful makes at least two good cups of tea."

He is not alone in his opinion. One Ottawa housewife, who was queried, said that when she makes the brew she used two level teaspoonfuls of tea—to make four or five cups.

"But then I like my tea weak," she added.

It looks as if the answer to this problem depends on strength of preference.

Beautiful Colored Sauce

Sauce a l'Aurore—a name with a question-mark at the end of it But home economists describe it as a sauce with a beautiful golden color, developed during the course of experimenting with various peach dishes.

They say it is a versatile type of sauce which is equally good as a topping for cottage pudding, sponge or angel cake, ice cream tapioca, cornstarch or custard puddings.

Ingredients: three-quarters of a cup peach pulp; three-quarters cup water; three-quarters cup sugar; one-quarter teaspoon salt; three tablespoons cornstarch; three tablespoons butter; one teaspoon vinegar or lemon juice.

Combine peach pulp and water. Mix sugar, salt and cornstarch. Add to peach mixture, blending well. Bring to boiling point over low heat, stirring constantly. Continue cooking until thick and clear, about five minutes. Remove from heat, add butter and vinegar or lemon juice. Yield: 1½ cups sauce.

Skirts Slightly Shorter Report Styles More Feminine

By The Canadian Press

Skirts will be slightly shorter this Fall, with the padded hips and square shoulders of last season's revived Gibson girl designs yielding place to more feminine styles with rounded shoulders and soft draping.

A Canadian Press cross-Canada survey today found merchants preparing to give the Canadian woman a trim look, slimming the silhouette and flattering the figure. In general, prices will be about the same as last year.

From styles about to go on display, the tent-like skirts of the last two seasons have virtually disappeared. Controlled fulness is the watchword now, calling for flying panels and soft draping. Almost everywhere, hems will be 13 to 14 inches from the ground, making the skirts an inch or two shorter than last year.

Styles generally avoid extremes, although plunging necklines still plunge deeply. Ankle-length semi-evening dresses are due to appear in Montreal. Camel's hair this season has become

The new femininity appears also in suits, which this Fall will be softly-tailored with touches of lame, lace and velvet. Vancouver merchants predict that girls this season will be more suit-conscious than ever before. Montreal stylists have designed a blouse-back suit in taupe or a warm brown shade called calache.

Rich distinctive colors are promised for dresses. They will include a ruby-rich wine shade, maple leaf red, caribou taupe, Maritime green, Newfoundland blue, Prairie brown, Pacific red. The browns are numerous and beautiful. Reds range from scarlet through garnet and plum.

The box style of coat, full cut with no belt, has returned to Ottawa stores after dropping out for nearly six years. Shops are displaying a variety of this type in wine, brown, green and tweed at prices ranging from $40 to $70. Dressy coats with wide silver-fox-trimmed collars also have returned to the Capital.

Toronto will see the Princess Elizabeth style coat, with full back, wide hemline and a small fur collar. The coat can be worn belted or unbelted.

Turn Back Clock

Hat designers have turned back to the days following the First World War to find inspiration for a bonnet-type hat, a neat creation brightened, in many cases, with velvet brocade and beading. At the other end of the scale are big, French-style hats set off with plumes and veiling.

Open-toed shoes with high heels, still holding their own at the footwear counters, are expected to retain their popularity this Fall although plain pumps also may be much in evidence. Some retailers plan to display matching combinations of shoes and handbag.

Pleated, sheer undergarments will go with the slim silhouettes. Stockings may appear in darker shades. Some new ideas in belts for coats and dresses can be expected. Small corde or suede bags will be adaptable to many types of costume.

Orillia Ousted By Petes In OLA Series

The Peterborough juvenile lacrosse all-stars got started on the right foot in their quest for an Ontario championship by defeating Orillia 18 to 5 in Orillia last night. This was the first game of a home and home series, however Orillia have defaulted the second game due to the high score against them last night.

The Petes notched five markers in the first quarter without a reply from Orillia. Play was even in the second with each team getting two with the score at half time standing at 7 to 2 in favor of the visitors. In the third quarter the Petes outscored the locals six to two and in the final quarter outscored them five to one with the final score 18 to 5.

The Petes showed the benefit of practice with a fine passing attack slightly marred by their being over anxious. Their checking was good with G. Burns being outstanding on defence for the Petes. Orillia showed little in the way of team performance.

Of the nine penalties handed out by Referees Gord Hammond of Orillia and Joe Whitnall of Peterborough, seven went to Orillia and two to the Petes. Fitzgerald and Kehoe were banished five minutes for fighting.

For the Petes B. Robinson led the goal scorers with five while O'Donnel, Heffernan and Mullen each had three, G. Burns had two and McIlmoyle and G. Robinson had singles. Groves led the Orillia marksmen with four while Fagan notched their other marker.

Petes: McIlmoyle, Foster, O'Donnell, Nicholls, B. Robinson, J. Heffernan, Mullen, Crough, Allen, Fitzgerald, G. Robinson, Vincent, G. Burns, H. Burns, Kimball.

Orillia: Clarke, Kehoe, Middleton, Lindsay, Hill, Switzer, G. Kehoe, Arbour, Martin, Groves, Childrehose, Fagan.

Referees: Joe Whitnall, Gord. Hammond.

Minor Lacrosse

Terriers beat Tigers 4-3 to tie up their peewee lacrosse finals at two games each. Goalies Larry Hunt and Fred Heffernon shone in this tight duel. Winners' goals were scored by Hickson, T. Doris, Pace and Pearl, while D. Sutherland got two and Keeting one for the losers. Teams:

Tigers — Heffernan, Sutherland, Dugan, Hutchinson, Jay, Johnston, Beck, Dubay, Bignall, Hutton, Keeting, McCullagh.

Terriers — Hunt, Hickson Doris, Cavanagh, Pace, Casey, Rowatt, Roode, Pearl, Haig, Hall and Ketcheson.

Hurricanes won 6-4 from Rockets to tie their tadpole finals at two each, forcing a fifth game Monday at 10 a.m. Crough and T. Davis each got two for the winners, J. Davis and K. Sutherland getting one apiece. R Anthony clicked for three and Faulkner one for the losers in a good game. Team:

Rockets — Heffernan, Morton, Faulkner, Chementi, Murduff, W. Anthony, R. Anthony, Stickle, Patterson, Mountney, Todd, Billingsley.

Hurricanes — Hunt, Bell, Cannon, Rogers, Byrne, J. Davis, T. Davis, Crough, Findlay, Sutherland, O'Keefe, James, Beavis, DeNoble, Meredith.

Referees—R. Hobart and B. McDougall.

Norwood Winners

HASTINGS, Aug. 19—(ENS)—Norwood defeated Hastings Juniors at Hastings Park on Thursday night 14-10 to tie up their best-of-three series 1-1, forcing a third game here on Monday night.

Hamblin was on the mound for Norwood and although hit quite freely, he settled down after a shaky second and stayed ahead the rest of the way. He also helped his cause with a long homer to right field. Bob Garden and Spencer were the main cogs in the Norwood attack.

Richardson went all the way for the juniors and while he pitched good ball, too many walks proved costly and his support was shaky at times.

Juniors . . 350 000 002—19 9 5
Norwood . 231 223 01x—14 11 3

Norwood—Webb, 3b; Bob Garden, 1b; Edwards, 2b; Payne ss; Bill Garden, lf; Martin, c; Thompson, cf; Spencer, cf; Hamblin, p.

Juniors—Scriver, lf; Morrow, 3b; Beavis, ss; Oliver, c; Richardson, p; Thomas, 2b; Stevenson, 1b; Lawrence, cf; West, rf; Stevenson batted for LeMoire in ninth.

Fund Reaches $10,236

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP)—City Finance Commissioner, Arthur Lascelles announced today that the fund for the widow and daughter of Alfred Layng, shot to death while attempting to stop a holdup man in a midtown groceteria two weeks ago, has reached $10,236. He said the total is half way towards the objective of $20,000 set to set up an annuity for the widow and her four-year-old daughter.

Elevator Girl Saves Scores

PITTSBURG, Aug. 19 (AP) — A woman elevator operator braved a $15,000 fire Thursday to take scores of terrified persons from the upper floors of a burning office building.

Two persons were burned and a third was treated for hysteria. The flames were confined to a jewellery firm's office on the second floor of a six-storey downtown building.

Elevator operator Sally Rahn, 32, made two trips until heat forced her to take over another elevator. Then she made two more trips until smoke and heat again caused her to abandon the car.

Meanwhile, scores of other persons who were working or visiting offices in other parts of the building raced down stairways to the street. Hundreds of non-hour shoppers were attracted by the screams of frightened persons who feared they were trapped on upper floors.

An employee of the jewellery firm said the fire apparently started when a watch-cleaning machine exploded.

Warkworth Tripped By Wooler Team 11-5

TRENTON, Aug. 19.—Scoring three runs in the eighth and four in the ninth, Wooler overcame a one-run deficit to beat Warkworth 11-5 at the latter town Wednesday night to sweep their first round OASA intermediate playoffs in two straight games. McColl started for Wooler, with Rosenplot taking over in the third and holding the homesters runless after the fourth inning.

McColl paced Wooler with a single and a pair of homers, one with two on in the ninth while McKee had three singles, G. Greenly with a triple and Buchanan with a double had the only extra base blows for the home club.

2 Million Britons Expected At Night School

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Aug. 19 (CP).—Two million Britons are expected to spend the long winter evenings at school in 1949-1950.

One million took evening classes in 1947-48 and last year the number increased tot 1,500,000. An addition 500,000 students may enrol this year.

The night courses are arranged by Britain's 146 local education authorities. Subjects include jazz music, wrestling, Esperanto, chess, heraldry and fly-fishing.

The student also can learn about income tax, infant care, lace-making, logic or the care and breeding of homing pigeons. In fact, local officials will arranged upward from 1s 6d. (30 or more students.

200,000 Pupils

Nearly 200,000 Londoners went to night school last year. Fees ranged upward frob 1s 6d. (30 cents) a course, contributing about £25,000 ($100,000) towards the total cost.

Cost for the London area was estimated at £600,000, half of which was covered by a Ministry of Education grant.

"These evening classes are one of the most popular forms of education," a Whitehall official said. "It's not unusual to see a youngster of 17 in the same class as a man of 70."

By providing instruction in purely recreational activities such as chess and wrestling, the local authorities are following the cue of the Education Ministry. The Education Act of 1944 requests local authorities to increase leisure-time occupations in "organized cultural training and recreative activities" considered suitable for persons over 15 years old, the minimum age for leaving school.

Truman Signs Bill Authorizing Bonds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—President Truman signed into law Thursday a bill authorizing the Niagara Falls Bridge Commission to issue bonds to finance the purchase of Queenston-Lewiston bridge.

The Foreign Affairs Committee reported the bridge, which spans the Niagara river, is an important traffic artery. It said the corporation which owns the bridge is in receivership and will to sell it at an attractive price.

New York State and the Province of Ontario will own the bridge jointly.

Release New Film About Life In Canada

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 (CP) — Canada is depicted as a land of opportunity and limitless possibilities in the latest motion-picture series, "This Is America," to be released next week.

The 18-minute (RKO) short, titled "Canada Unlimited," reveals facts about Canada which are little known in the United States. Among them are

1. Canada turns out enough paper for four out of every five pages printed in the United States.
2. She produces enough wheat to feed 92,000,000 people or seven times her own population.
3. The arrival of displaced persons in Canada has resulted in the founding of 85 new industries, which have added millions of dollars to Canadian economy.

Australians Whale U.S. Davis Cup Team

EDMONTON, Aug. 19 (CP).—A virtually unknown and unheralded intermediate team will carry Canada's banner into the world hockey championships in London next March but its members are confident they can return to the Dominion the laurels she lost last year.

Edmonton Mercurys, 1948-1949 Western Canada intermediate champions, are a smooth and well-co-ordinated group of hockey veterans. They were good enough to win 37 of the 44 games they played last year and were defeated only once in inter-league playoffs.

Coach Jimmy Graham, 43-year-old veteran of more than 25 years in the puck wars, says his team should not have much trouble in winning the world crown.

"We are not as good as a senior team, maybe, but from all accounts you don't need a senior team to win over there. Don Stanley, one of our players who was recruited last year to play with Sudbury Wolves in the world championships, told me we could have won the whole works if we had been chosen instead of the Wolves."

TURNING THE PAGES OF "CANADA UNLIMITED"

From hilltop to hilltop, Canada's early Indians sent smoke signals . . . a warning that foes were on the way. The French settlers despatched their own messages—tales of victory or defeat, sickness or cheer—by runners, who sped along the trails from village to village. By 1700, riders delivered their messages on horseback.

With dramatic speed, man's words and thoughts began to race along the singing wires of the telegraph, which came to Canada in 1846. Thirty years later, Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone . . . instant communication around the world was within reach.

Then in 1919 radio broadcasting made its entrance on the Canadian scene. Within a few years, conversations with ships at sea, with trains and even automobiles, were a reality.

Today, television is on our doorstep. Because our country is so vast, new means of communication is important—offering opportunities to every one of us. Yes, there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited.

Smash Drug Smuggling Ring Running Revolution, Leader Held In New York

Taking In $500,000 Monthly In Racket Used Funds To Organize Unsuccessful Rebellion In Peru In 1948

NEW YORK, Aug. 20—(AP)—A vast illicit drug ring—so powerful that it sparked an abortive revolution in Peru and involved United Nations action—was exposed here Friday with the arrest of the alleged ringleader. Authorities called the arrest the first high point in an international crack-down on a huge smuggling syndicate which has plied a $500,000-a-month cocaine trade between the United States and Peru.

American, Peruvian and U.N. authorities joined in a two-year drive to smash the ring, said to have used narcotics profits to arm insurgents in Peru in an attempt to seize control of the country.

The alleged ringleader, Eduardo Balarezo, 48, of Great North River, N.Y. is a naturalized United States citizen of Peruvian descent.

More than 80 persons, some of them prominent business men, have been arrested in Peru, authorities said, and 50 or 60 operatives in the United States are believed connected with the ring.

Had Eye On Italy

Joseph P. Martin, assistant United States attorney, said the syndicate apparently tried recently to expand operations to Italy through efforts to reach Charles (Lucky) Luciano, exiled one-time vice king.

Balarezo was arrested aboard the liner La Guardia, which runs between New York and Italian ports. He was held in $100,000 bail on a charge of conspiracy to smuggle cocaine from Peru.

Captain Alfonso Mier Y Teran, of the Peruvian Department of Investigation who has been here for two months to aid in the hunt, said Balarezo was a source of arms in the Aprista party uprising in Peru last October.

The captain said Balarezo was taken from here to Peru on a Peruvian warship in March, 1948, as a guest of Victor Haya De La Toree, chief of the now-outlawed Aprista party.

Balarezo allegedly took with him $60,000 in cash and a quantity of munitions, for use by the Aprista party in its uprising. If the plot succeeded, he was to be rewarded with the post of chief of Peruvian customs, Mier said.

However, the revolution failed. Hay De La Toree took refugee in the Columbian embassy in Lima, where he remains a political refugee. Balarezo fled by air to the United States, leaving his family behind.

Blown Into Lake By Explosion Trio Rescued

LINDSAY, Aug. 20 — (CP). — Three Toronto persons were blown into Sturgeon Lake, near here, Thursday, when the power launch in which they were riding exploded. None was seriously injured

In the boat were Harold Hogg, accountant, his son Albert Orr Hogg 16, and a niece Miss Gertrude Gordon.

Miss Gordon received superficial burns. All three had their hair singed by the explosion.

The launch Sodoi sank in 80 feet of water after the explosion sent a sheet of flame into the air which was seen by cottagers miles away.

The three were picked up by friends who heard the report and immediately manned rowboats and launches.

"I don't know how it happened," Mr. Hogg said to-day. "We were cruising along and suddenly there was a terrific blast and the launch seemed to disintegrate. A piece of flying timber hit me on the forehead and the next thing we knew we were all in the water. We could all swim, but we certainly felt better when we saw the boats coming to get us."

Envoy To China Coming Home

OTTAWA, Aug. 20 — (CP) — T. C. Davis, Canada's ambassador to China, may be returning home soon and if he does there will undoubtedly be some top-level discussion of the diplomatic situation in the explosive Far East.

Mr. Davis's return from Communist-held Nanking would be routine. He is eligible for the 60 days of home leave provided for Canadian ambassadors abroad.

He had planned to come home several months ago, officials say, but the war between the Nationalists and Communists which resulted in spectacular Red victories prompted him to remain in the strife-torn country. Just when he will return to Canada is up to Mr. Davis.

He may go to his home in Prince Albert, Sask., before coming to Ottawa to present a first-hand report on the Chinese situation. That report will influence Canada's future diplomatic action in that country.

Won't Send Militia

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 20. — (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey declined today to us state police or militia to handle what the Bell Aircraft Corporation and a sheriff have termed "lawlessness" at Bell's strike-bound plant.

Company president Lawrence D. Bell and Henry E. Becker, Niagara county sheriff, joined forces Friday in asking Dewey to send a state guard or state police to handle the situation.

Dog Clings To Life Till Master Arrives

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Aug. 20 (AP)—Duffy the dog is dead.

The five-year-old cocker spaniel succumbed several hours after arrival of his young master who rushed home from Europe because his pet had been injured and showed no interest in living without him.

When Charles (Chuck) Heyler arrived at the pet hospital where Duffy lay, the dog's tail thumped feebly. Tears welled in Chuck's eyes as he said "Don't die, Duffy; you're going to get well."

Duffy looked into his master's eyes and licked his hand. Then he ate a few morsels of ground meat, the first food he had taken in eight days.

He seemed to be perking up. But he evidently had held out just long enough to see his master. The injuries received when he was crushed under the wheels of an automobile were just too much.

Bad Flood Damage

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 20 —(AP)—Heavy rainfall in Austria in the last 10 days has caused damage estimated at 80,00,000 schillings ($8,000,000), official sources said today. Some lowland crops were flooded. Snow fell heavily in the Alpine districts.

Missing Boy, 4, Found Asleep In Swamp

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 20 (ENS) —An exhausted four-year-old boy was found sleeping in a swamp on the farm of Ted Illiffe, Thursday night, after wandering about half a mile from the family cottage at Green Point on the Trent River.

The boy, Jerry Dnike, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dnike of Toronto, was seen by his mother about 4 p.m. and he was reported missing two hours later. Apparently he wandered away from the cottage and became lost.

His disappearance touched off a large-scale hunt. About 50 people in the area—residents and vacationers — headed by Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg of Hasting scoured the area.

The searchers combed the shore line and fields as well as scattered areas of bush land. When dusk came, the main body procured grappling hooks and began dragging the Trent River in case the boy had drowned.

Continue Search On Shore

A group of youths, headed by Tom Bowers, 14, whose parents own a nearby lodge, continued the search on shore.

Almost by sheer luck, Bowers later said, he stumbled on the sleeping boy curled up on some weeds and grass in a swamp near the river. Previously parties had been within 30 feet of Jerry but he did not hear them, being fast asleep.

Bowers' call to inform other members of the party he had found the young boy frightened young Dnike and he began to scream hysterically.

He was later found to be suffering no physical ill effects although he was soaking wet from lying in the swamp.

RCAF Promotes Enemy Officer

CALGARY, Aug. 20—(CP) — The Air Force today promoted the man who, as the "enemy" Air Commander during Exercise Eagle in northwestern Alberta, played havoc with the Canadian Air Force.

Air Force headquarters announced that Sqn. Ldr. Donald Charles MacDonald, commanding officer of its Fort St. John, B.C., station, has been promoted to Wing Commander.

During the recent Exercise Eagle, Wing Cmdr. MacDonald commanded the "enemy" aircraft and "destroyed" many of the defending force planes before they left the ground.

Mark Princess' Birthday With Simple Family Picnic

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Aug. 20 (C)—Princess Margaret, the most eligible and perhaps the most popular girl in the world, will be 19 tomorrow.

How will she celebrate? People who dont realize the Princess' essential simplicity might be surprised. She has asked for a family picnic.

And a picnic it will be if the weather holds. With the King, the Queen, a few family retainers and perhaps one or two friends, Princess Margaret will motor to a quiet beauty spot near Balmoral.

As her birthday falls on a Sunday, there will be no dancing that day. But tonight the King and Queen will give a dance to which house guests will be invited. Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will join the week-end party from Birkhall, their seaside home.

Gifts for Princess Margaret, with hundreds of birthday greetings from all over the world, will be forwarded from Buckingham Palace by helicopter.

This birthday is the most important milestone for the Princess. Twenty is the age at which the King has said she can become engaged. During the last year of her 'teens, princes, peers and commoners will probably be seeking her hand in marriage—and one may get the right answer.

The girl with the dark gold hair, the sensitive generous mouth and quick athletic step had countless admirers since she first became a public figure.

To date 10 suitors have been mentioned, but two have since married—former King Michael of Romania and the Earl of Derby. Others with whom her name has been linked are Prince George of Denmark, the Marquess of Blandford, the Marquess of Hilford-Haven, Tom Egerton, the Earl of Dalkeith, Lord Porchester, Julian Fane, and Lord John Hope.

Chisel Way Into Vault At Lakefield

Payroll Been Removed Day In Advance From Nepheline Co.

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 20.—(ENS). —When the $5,000 payroll of the American Nepheline Company was removed from the office vault here on Friday instead of today, thieves were foiled in a major robbery attempt.

Although they successfully broke into the office in the early hours of the morning their reward was a mere $25 instead of the large bi-monthly payroll. The frustrated yeggs ransacked the vault but had to be content with the smaller sum.

Chief Constable Garnet Samis of Lakefield, Provincial Constables Archie F. Grayling and David W. Coffey, and Identification Officer William Aggas of Peterborough are all working on the case, but as yet no arrests have been made.

Acquainted With Layout

Company officials contend that the thieves were acquainted with the usual method of distributing the payroll. Generally the money is brought to the Lakefield office twice a month—on the 5th and the 20th. And it is taken to the mine to be distributed among the employees the same day.

By chance the cash was brought in on Friday instead of Saturday and was taken out to the mine the same day. In this way the well-laid scheme of the robbers was accidentally foiled.

Entry was made to the office by jimmying a back window. The thieves then chiselled a hole 18 inches by 16 inches in the 15-inch-thick brick wall of the vault.

The break-in was discovered at 7.15 a.m. by the caretaker, James Macdonald of Lakefield. He promptly notified Harry Stabler, office manager, and Ernie Craig, general manager and vice-president. Chief Samis was also informed.

Chiang's Troops Guarding Canton

CANTON, Aug. 20 — (AP) — Press reports said today the Nationalists have sped strong reinforcements into the mountains less than 170 miles northeast of Canton in an attempt to check the Reds' southward rush.

These reports probably are true, because large numbers of troops have been passing through Canton for the north the last few days.

The loss of Tayu, 170 miles northeast put the Communists only five miles from the border of Kwangtung Province, of which Canton is the capital as well as the temporary haven of the government.

(Philippine Consular officials arriving at Manila from Amoy said that big port on the southeast coast appeared about to fall to the Communists. The 18 members of the staff reported that in fleeing the city they passed within range of the fighting close to Amoy. Amoy is the best port left to the Nationalists).

Bad news also came from the far northwest. An official dispatch said the Communists had pressed to a point only 12 miles southeast of Lanchow before being thrown back Lanchow is the capital of Kansu province and a Nationalist stronghold.

Travellers from that remote region said most Nationalist troops had pulled out of the Lanchow area, leaving rearguards to fight a delaying action. The Nationalists were retreating westward into mountainous Tsinghai province.

Order Strike Cancelled

HELSINKI, Aug. 20—(AP) — Finland's Central Trade Union Federation has acted against the Communist-led unions' growing offensive. It ordered them to cancel their strike call or face expulsion. The move, which threatened to split the federation wide open, came on the heels of a government crackdown on the country-wide strike offensive which already has caused bloodshed.

OVER THE PLANK, TRICK RIDING and bicycle races were some of the events staged on Friday afternoon at Turner playground. Contestant Raymond Allen, Above, completed the difficult course with the help of much tongue-twisting and cheers and jeers of the lively young audience but was not declared the best; Jack Bird's better sense of balance made him the winner. —Examiner Staff Photo.

Chinese Captain Clears Amethyst

By WAYNE RICHARDSON

HONG KONG, Aug. 20. (AP). —The Chinese captain of the steamer Kiagling Liberation says Communist shore guns—not the British sloop Amethyst—shot up his ship during the Amethyst's escape down the Yangtze River last month.

When the Amethyst escaped after being trapped for more than three months in the river, the Communists charged she had sunk the steamer Kiangling Liberation, causing several hundred deaths.

Now information seeping from behind the Red curtain via reliable travellers quotes the Chinese captain as agreeing with the British version.

Here is the story as relayed from Capt. Chen Lo-sen, veteran Yangtze shipmaster:

The Kiangling Liberation, a 600-ton steamer, docked at Chinkiang, 30 miles downstream from Nanking, on the afternoon of July 29.

On the night of July 30 the ship proceeded downriver toward Shanghai, with all lights on. Shortly after midnight, the Kiangling Liberation suddenly came under shore fire from three directions. The firing was intense, both artillery and machine-guns being used.

Hit several times, the Chinese ship quickly caught fire and went out of control.

Sneers At England Annoy War Minister

ASPATRIA, Cumberland, England, Aug. 20.—(AP).—War Minister Emanuel Shinwell urged today that American and other critics drop "the sneering references" to financially pinched Britain.

"The suggestion that Britain is played out is sheer nonsense," he said, adding it is time "due recognition was given to the part played by this country in world affairs."

"The game of twisting the lion's tail is a risky one and it may recoil on those who indulge in this pastime," he said.

"Now, when we have almost exhausted ourselves in six years of war and find ourselves in a grave economic position, our magnificent efforts in the past are overlooked."

Canada Has Big Surplus But Lower Than In 1948

OTTAWA, Aug. 20—(CP)—A budgetary surplus of $254,000,000 for the first four months of the current fiscal year was reported Friday night by the federal Finance Department. It compared with a surplus of $387,900,000 in the corresponding period of the 1948-49 fiscal year. Revenues in the four months beginning April 1, were $878,800,000 and expenditures were $624,800,000. In the April-July period last year the revenues were $920,300,000 and expenditures $532,400,000.

In July alone, revenues were $204,800,000 and expenditures $153,800,000 for a surplus of $51,000,000. In July, 1948, revenues were $219,000,000 and expenditures were $154,126,000 for a surplus of $64,900,000.

The 1948-49 fiscal year wound up with a cash surplus of $575,000,000. In his budget speech, March 22, Finance Minister Abbott forecast a cash surplus of about $200,000,000.

Bills To Come

Although the surplus now is ahead of the forecast amount, Finance Department officials have warned that bills paid toward the end of a fiscal year eat a sizeable hole in any surplus built up in early months.

Income tax collections showed a drop of more than $24,000,000 from the first four months of last year and excise tax revenue was down by more than $18,000,000. However, corporation taxes were up $43,778,685. Custom import duties and excise duties also were slightly higher.

Excess profits tax was abolished two years ago, but some arrears still are being paid. They amounted to only $639,130 in the first four months of this fiscal year, compared with $37,900,000 in the corresponding period of last year.

He's Too Hospitable Fears Million Guests

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—Army Cadet Ralph Stephenson had a problem in etiquette on his hands—all because of his great hospitality.

When he won $4,600 on radio program Friday night, he announced he would use the money to marry Mary June McFarland, of Yonkers, N.Y. He invited radio listeners to be wedding guests at the Cadet Chapel when he graduates in 1950.

By midnight, the radio station had received 545 telegraphed acceptances, and show producers estimated a million people would accept the invitation in a week.

"Now what do I do," worried Stephenson.

Find Everything Happens To Poor Expectant Poppas

MONTREAL, Aug. 20—(CP)—Everything happens to expectant fathers!

If it isn't hospital waiting rooms, it's hard-hearted traffic cops.

At least, that's the story of Ernest Cassidy, of Rosemount.

Mr. Cassidy says he and his wife got into a taxicab Wednesday night to go to Royal Victoria Hospital. Soon it became evident that the stork was rapidly overtaking the cab. Driver N. Creatchman speeded up.

The hospital was in sight when a motorcycle policeman waved the cab over to the curb.

Mr. Cassidy tried to explain things—while he cast apprehensive looks over his shoulder at his wife.

The officer of the law was not impressed. He began writing out a ticket—and kept arguing with Mr. Cassidy.

Ten minutes passed.

The stork was closing in. Cop said Mr. Cassidy should have whisked Mrs. Cassidy to hospital in an ambulance. Mr. Cassidy said, well, it didn't look as if they needed an ambulance at the time . . .

Mr. Cassidy and Mrs. Cassidy—to say nothing of cab driver Creatchman—were frantic.

Finally, a white-clad interne came along the street, glanced in the cab—and took over. The cop relented, the cab drove on—and a few minutes after she entered hospital, Mrs. Cassidy gave birth to a girl.

Mr. Cassidy now is complaining to top police chiefs.

He says traffic cops just aren't fair to mothers—or fathers.

Trains Crash Head-On 44 Injured

Trainman Blamed For Throwing Wrong Rail Switch

CANAAN, N.H., Aug. 20—(AP) — Two Diesel-powered Boston and Maine railroad passenger trains crashed head-on at a siding here Friday injuring 44 persons—none seriously.

Officials at Mary Hitchcock hospital in nearby Hanover listed four Canadians among the injured.

Joseph Henry Carrier and Rev. Raoul Ouimet, both of Quebec, were among 13 persons who needed hospital treatment. Carrier suffered a cut scalp and Ouimet a fractured nose. Less severely hurt were Carrier's wife and 17-year-old Pierre La Casse of Montreal.

Solicitor Rober A. Jones of Grafton county said a trainman's error switched the Montreal-bound Ambassador out of Boston into the southbound Ambassador out of Montreal. The south-bound train was standing on the siding.

Crushes Car

The crash reduced to kindling a wooden milk car behind the northbound's engine, smashed the south-bound's Diesel and telescoped some of its coach vestibules.

Most of the injured were aboard the south-bound train. They were hurt when the impact pitched them into seats.

Five sidings at Canaan provided detours around the wreck.

Leon Barnum, a United States mail carrier who meets the northbound Ambassador daily, said the train was within 300 feet of the standing south-bound express when the switch was thrown.

He said he was standing 20 feet from the switch when he saw a man run forward from the waiting south-bound train and throw it.

"The fireman on the south-bound train yelled at him but the north-bound train was making so much noise he couldn't make himself heard," Barnum said. "The man ran forward and threw the switch, and the north-bound train just ploughed into the other one. It all happened in a twinkling."

Police Accept Thieves' Terms

CASABLANCA, August 20. — (Reuters)——Police Friday accepted conditions of an unknown correspondent who wrote to a Moroccan newspaper offering to return jewels stolen from the Begum Aga Khan in exchange for $72,800 in rewards.

The correspondent, who signed himself "I. F. F. R. M.," said most of the $800,000 worth of jewels are "in our hands." They were stolen in Cannes, France, Aug. 3.

The newspaper gave the letter to the police. At their request the following announcement was published Friday.

"I.F.F.R.M., please contact divisional commissioner Casablanca. Conditions accepted."

Collier Rescues Two From Disabled Boat

OSHAWA, Aug. 20—(CP) — A Toronto man and woman were rescued Thursday as they drifted helplessly in a disabled motor launch in Lake Ontario two miles from shore near here.

They are Mrs. W. C. (Pat) Borden and Edwin Knight, rescued by the collier Coalfax after its crew had spotted their frantic signals for help. When they were picked up, the small launch was riding the waves broadside and was shipping water.

Mrs. Borden told officers aboard the collier that her husband and another man had left the launch in the morning to sail to nearby Bowmanville in a dinghy for a new battery to replace the one which was dead. She remained in the launch with Knight.

A short time after her husband left, a stiff breeze came up, the anchor dragged and the launch drifted away from shore. They had been adrift more than six hours when the collier picked them up.

Rescue Ships Speed To Aid Of Battered Vessels, RCN Destroyer Standing By

Freighter Refugee Boat Badly Mauled By Storm Off Maritimes; Nova Scotia Lines Down, Power Off

HALIFAX, Aug. 20—(CP)—Help today neared two ships crippled by a storm that pounded up the Nova Scotia coast Friday and across the province into the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The Canadian destroyer Iroquois was standing by the 4,200-ton Panamanian freighter Evgenia, which lost her steering and emergency gear 80 miles southeast of Halifax. The rescue tug Foundation Josephine out of Sydney, N.S., raced through heavy seas and lashing rain to the Evgenia's position. The freighter, bound from New York for Halifax and with about 50 men aboard, will be towed into this port.

Meanwhile, the United States Coast Guard cutter Unimak out of New York neared the Baltic refugee ship Amanda, disabled 480 miles southeast of Halifax.

The Amanda, carrying 31 refugees from Sweden to Halifax, reported a mother and her new born child were seriously ill and that food and water rations were dangerously low. The ship was due here Aug. 10 but ran into a gale that shredded her sails, crippled her engine and shoved her far off her course.

An 1,800-ton floating drydock sprang a leak while being towed from Argentia, Nfld., to New York and was beached Friday on Scatari Isand off the east coast of Cape Breton Island. An American navy tug stood by, hoping to refloat the drydock after repairs had been made.

Compile Damage

Nova Scotians looked around at felled trees, broken power lines and into flooded cellars and began to total up the damage.

Liverpool, 70 miles southeast of Halifax, got 4.15 inches of rain in 24 hours. Goods were damaged in the basements of stores in several towns when drains clogged and the water backed up.

The power was cut off at Sydney for three hours, at New Glasgow for one and the mining town of Stellarton was blacked out most of the night. Winds reached 55 miles an hour at Sydney in gusts and trees, fences and outdoor advertising signs came down.

There were several telephone and telegraph communication breaks in the northern part of the province, but there were no major cut-offs.

Farmers welcomed the rain, especially in the Annapolis Valley, where fruit trees and pasture had been showing the effects of a prolonged dry spell.

Driverless Car Goes Into River

An estimated $200 damage was caused to the car of Clifford Leury, 10 Langton St., Friday afternoon, when it plunged into 12 feet of water near the old pump house at the Filtration Plant.

An element of mystery is attached to the occurrence, as nobody was driving the car at the time and it is believed also that no person was in the immediate vicinity. The car had been parked parallel to the water's edge with the front wheels apparently securely resting against a pile of stones.

It was necessary for the vehicle to make a right-angled turn in order to enter the Otonabee River at that point.

An employee of the Filtration Plant, Purdy Young, turned around just in time to see the front wheels dipping into the water.

Ken Masters, another Filtration Plant employee, dived into the water to secure a tow chain to the car's bumper, and the water-logged vehicle was dragged away by a tow truck.

The Weather

Peterborough Temperatures:

Today:
Night low..45 Noon...62

Yesterday:
Highest....66 Lowest..43

One Year Ago:
Highest....80 Lowest..61

Skies are sunny and temperatures cool throughout Ontario to-day. This is due to an extensive area of high pressure drifting southward over the province. Indications are for continuing fine weather over most regions over the week-end with slightly higher temperatures Sunday.

Increasing cloudiness is expected over north-western regions late to-night and widely scattered showers will likely develop Sunday in the James Bay region.

Forecasts:

Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario, Niagara, Georgian Bay, Haliburton, Kirkland Lake, and Sudbury Regions: Sunny to-day and Sunday. A little warmer Sunday. Winds light. Low to-night and high Sunday at St. Thomas, Wingham, Trenton and Sudbury, 45-74; St. Catharines, 50-75; Muskoka and Killaloe, 40-70; Earlton, 40-75.

Summary for Sunday: Sunny, and a little warmer.

CBC Unworried About Lotteries

OTTAWA, Aug. 20 — (CP) — Radio "give-away" programs have never reached any serious proportions in Canada and have never created any legal problem for broadcasters, Jim Allard, general manager of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, said Friday.

He was commenting on a Washington dispatch which said the Federal Communications Commissions announced sharp curbs on radio prize programs.

Mr. Allard, whose association is made up of representatives of most privately-owned broadcasting stations in Canada, said he doubted if any program now on the Canadian airwaves could be classed as a lottery.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation would not be sorry if radio jackpot programs were banned in Canada, a high official in Toronto said Friday.

"The CBC has very, very few give-away programs," the official said. "It is my honest opinion they are only an attempt to buy radio listeners and very little entertainment is offered the public."

GET PROPANE GAS

Waterloo is another community toying with the idea of installing propane gas. A proposal to install the propane gas plant was discussed Thursday night by the Waterloo Utilities Commission. Cost would be $29,000 with another $5,000 needed for conversion expenses. At the moment Waterloo buys its gas from Kitchener at a gross cost of $1.22 per 1,000 cubic feet.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Young in years but old in experience, Eric Coy of Winnipeg feels that despite 13 years of active campaigning, he'll show his best form ever in the shot-put and discus events when he completes in the 1950 British Empire games at New Zealand, Feb. 4-11.

"Right now I'm putting the shot and tossing the discus farther than I ever did," said Coy, a member of the 1948 Canadian Olympic team.

The St. Louis Cardinals baseball camp closed at St. Thomas Friday and about 20 sandlot hopefuls showed their wares before scout Joe Cusnick and his assistants, Jack Hickey and Bob McLaughlin. The scouts left for Galt to watch an inter-county senior game.

A. R. Wilson, 53, Montreal radio sales executive, won the Ontario seniors golf championship Friday at Toronto. The Montreal Summerlea Club member scored a one over par 73 to take a three-stroke margin over the runner-up, 59-year-old Len Biddell of suburban Islington. To be eligible for the seniors' competition, a golfer must be at least 50 years old.

E. G. (Sonny) Hanna of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, Toronto, Friday won aggregate honors in the international open race of the Canadian dinghy championships.

United States crews carried off honors in all other events of the three-day meet which ended on Lake St. Louis in Quebec.

Charles Currey of England and Dick Bessie of Essex, Conn., finished in a tie for second place.

Charles Ratsey, also of Essex, won the Canadian dinghy championship with an agregate total of 89 points.

Marcel Cerdan of Paris, who lost his middleweight boxing title to Jake Lamotta this summer, arrived at New York Friday from France in preparation for his return bout with the Bronx bomber in Yankee Stadium Sept. 28.

"I came back two weeks earlier than I expected so I could see the Ray Robinson-Steve Belloise bout next Wednesday," he said.

"I fully expect to whip Lamotta and I want to see Robinson and Belloise because I'l have to fight the winner of that bout next."

Natalia Smirnitskaya of the Soviet Union broke the women's world javelin record with a throw of 167 feet, 7¾ inches at the world students' games at Budapest.

The previous record was 159 feet, 6½ inches, set by Herma Baume of Austria in September, 1948.

Hironoshin Furuhashi, the astounding Japanese champion, swam to his third world record performance in the 800-metre free-style at Los Angeles Friday, but the Japanese domination of the United States A.A.U. men's crawl events came to an end with an upset victory in the 100 metres by Robert Gibe of the Detroit Athletic Club.

Furuhashi was clocked officially in 9:35.5, 15.4 seconds better than Bill Smith's listed world record.

Find Missing Dog

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 20—(AP)—A small boy crossing a field heard a whimper and found a bird dog—missing 45 days—in the bottom of an old well. The three-year-old setter, named "Shag," had wasted from 63 to 10 pounds. Owner Red Ashley believes "Shag" will pull through.

Blame Intoxication For Mother's Death

EXETER, Aug. 20 —(CP)— A coroner's jury Friday decided that Mrs. Lillian Goldie Perry, 39-year-old mother of a 4-year-old boy, died on Aug. 7 from suffocation or choking induced by intoxication while lying on a chesterfield in her home.

The jury said it also found the woman suffered injuries to her face and nose, when struck by her husband, Ernest, 38, under strong provocation, but that such injuries did not cause her death.

Eleven witnesses—two medical—were called by Crown Attorney Glenn Hays of Seaforth. In three instances he warned witnesses of the penalty of perjury before a coroner's jury and the consequence of deliberate evasiveness.

Two Major Links Completed In City Waterworks System

Utilities Commission completed this week two major links in Peterborough's system of water mains.

One was the laying of a line of 24-inch pipe from the corner of Bennett and Aylmer Streets to the pumping station. The other was the spanning of the river at Burnham's Point with a welded stretch of 12-inch pipe 296 feet long which becomes part of a new main supplying increased pressure throughout Ashburnham.

It was only a coincidence that these two jobs were finished within a few days of each other.

The big north end pipe line will cost approximately $200,000 indicating the extent of financing entailing upon the commission as an effect of the expansion of the city in recent years.

Cost of the new connection to Ashburnham cannot be determined until the job is done. Half the expenditure in the river crossing is to be borne by the city council whose projected sewer from Maria St. parallels the water main in the section that was lowered this week into the bed of the river between Burham's Point and McDonald's Point. They were twin 12-inch pipes.

Improve Water Pressure

The commission's two undertakings were aimed at improving the water pressure in all parts of the city. Their combined effects of advantage to consumers, domestic, industrial and institutional, will not be generally felt until the pipe line to Ashburnham is connected at both ends.

On the east side of the river it attaches to the main that was laid through the Wartime Housing area on Burnham's Point. And, on the west side a remaining stretch of pipe has to be run from the tip of McDonald's Point, diagonally through the adjoining park to the vicinity of Perry and Crescents Sts.

Lawn Services Renewed

The public has been made aware of these two extensions by different circumstances. Lawn and garden services had to be regulated during the summer until the 24-inch main was set in place and thoroughly tested.

New water mains have in recent years been laid into the new housing areas virtually on all fringes of the city. These projections have been reported from time to time, but little has been said about the financing of the work, and also about the concern of the commission to avoid any increase in the charge to consumers.

Victory Bond assets that were accumulated during the war years have been dwindling with the demands of excessive expenditure that have been incurred by the works program of the last few years. A recent issue of $200,000 debentures will meet the capital costs that have fallen upon the commission.

The commission early in the war foresaw the necessity of increasing water pressure generally, but particularly in the west end of the city. At any time they began the laying of an 18-inch main on Bethune St. from Sherbrooke St. to Park Hill Road, a long section of the main that was to be enlarged to 24-inch at the north end of the city through the old Hilliard farm property to the waterworks plant.

Diversions of men and material for war purposes halted that undertaking until it could be resumed when peace returned. In the meantime, the commission was almost deluged with demands for extension of mains chiefly for domestic purposes in the various housing areas that have mushroomed on the borders of the city.

However, the original job that was begun about seven years ago is finally done The 24-inch main, Mr. Dobbin recently explained, will tend to equalize water pressure all over the city, and should reduce the pumpage pressure at the waterworks plant, an engineering detail.

The additional connection to Ashburnham is the Commission's response to the needs of the Western Clock Company and St. Joseph's Hospital on the height of land adjoining Armour Hill. Other consumers were also interested in the proposed improvement of pressure, but the immediate push to action was an urgent letter to the City Council a year or so ago from J. H. Vernor of Wesern Clock Co., recalling the promise of adequate water supply as a condition to the company building on that location for its special advantages in the manufacture of their clocks and watches. Low pressure in the taps at the corner of Armour Road and Hunter Street and also at the hydrants sharpened concern, which was recognized by both the Council and the Utilities Commission.

The responsibility of boosting pressure in the Ashburnham mains rested chiefly with the Commission. On their instruction, Mr Dobbin canvassed the possibilities of economic crossing of the river.

Cross Above Inverlea

Mr. Dobbin investigated the prospect of facility of operations and estimates of expenditure in a water job upstream from Inverlea Park. Rock formation in the bed of the river indicated a blasting job to blow out a trench for the proposed main, possibly with difficulties of coffer-damming, if that procedure had to be followed.

The element of cost frowned on that route, and when other crossings were surveyed, the recommendation was finally to consider the spanning of the narrows at Burnham's Point City Council. was also moving toward the job of laying a sewer line from the Maria Street septic tank, across the river at the Point to the trunk sewer on he wes side of he river.

From those considerations, the twin pipe line undertaking was agreed upon by the Council and the Commission. The Council and City Engineer Chalmers were more than satisfied to leave the details to the Commission and Mr. Dobbin on the basis of assuming half the cost.

The final chapter of that project was the mild splash this week as the braced and welded pipes were skidded into the water. They were floated Friday to a position above the trench that had been dug in the river bed by McNamara Construction Co. and their careful sinking was the concluding detail.

Sand bags were placed on the floating pipes when they were moored above the trench, gradually overcoming their combined buoyancy and causing them to descend into the hollow that had been dug for them by the big steam shovel of the dredge

The effect of all this planning will not be available in Ashburnham until the river span is connected with the water main on the west side. By that time, too, the ultimate cost will be totalled.

Hold Investigation

Find 256 Victims

ANKARA, Aug. 20 (Reuters)—The bodies of 256 people have been found in the ruins of buildings destroyed in an earthquake in the Erzerum area of eastern Anatolia last Thursday—a death toll higher than first estimated. The earthquake, which shook 45 villages, destroyed 1,100 houses and other buildings. Some 6,000 people are homeless.

War On Dolphins

CHIOGGIA, Italy, Aug. 20—(Reuters) — Northern Adriatic fishermen have declared war on schools of dolphins which are destroying nets and scaring off catches. Fishermen say there are more dolphins now in the northern Adriatic than at any other time in memory. They attribute the influx to the unusual clarity of the water.

600 Out On Strike

LEEDS, England, Aug. 20 — (Reuters)—Six hundred pit winders in the Yorkshire coal mines today went on strike in protest against official union opposition to enforce a claim for higher wages. First reports said 35 out of 115 pits were affected. Pit winders in the Lancashire coal mines were meeting tonight to decide whether they should follow the lead of the Yorkshire strikers.

DIED

Funeral from the residence of Thomas Clancy, 266 Carlisle Avenue. Funeral at 8:45 a.m. Monday to the Immaculate Conception Church for requiem mass at 9 o'clock. Interment St. Peter's Cemetery.

Study Tenders Sewage Plant

Tenders for the enlargement of the sewage disposal plant will be considered by the committee of the whole next Wednesday night. One of the Gore and Storrie engineers will be here from Toronto to discuss details of the bids.

Several years ago the advice of the Toronto consultants was to put the sewage disposal project in a drawer for a while until costs retreated somewhat at least from their wartime construction peaks.

The present site of the plant was approved for the continuing growth of the city by the engineers who reported that they had looked down the river about a mile, and were satisfied with the present location which they have recommended for enlargement and improvement.

Two Children Suffer Minor Injuries In Crash

Two children were hurt early today when two cars collided at the corner of Armour Rd. and Packhill Rd. at 1.50 a.m.

The children were driving with Gregory Scollard, R.R. 9 Peterborough, who, police said, told them he had failed to stop at the Packhill Rd. stop sign as he drove north on Armour Rd. He collided with a car driven by John H. Paull, 343 Rubidge St., who was travelling west on Parkhill Rd.

The Paull car travelled 36 feet after the impact, smashing up against a tree and a fence on the northwest corner after knocking over a mail box. His car was damaged extensively.

OBITUARIES

VINCENT HAROLD FANKS

Vincent Harold Franks, 64, of Lot 21, Concession 6, Emily Township, died today at his residence following a lengthy illness. He was born in Emily, son of the late George Franks and Mary Margaret Lowes, and has lived in the district all his life.

He leaves his wife, the former Emmaline Jackson, and six daughters. They are the Misses Marion, Vera and Lillian, all at home, Mrs. Albert Davis (Helen) of Ennismore township, Mrs. Harold Millen (Grace) and Mrs. Alton Clark, both of Emily township. There are three brothers, Wilbert E. and Thomas Franks, of Peterborough, and Ferson, of Detroit. Two sisters live in the United States, Miss Pearl Franks in New York City and Miss Lillian Franks in Rochester.

Mr. Franks was a successful farmer and a member of St. John's Anglican Church, Emily.

Funeral service will be held at the family residence on Monday, at 2 p.m. The Rev. F. W. Pooley, of Omemee, will officiate and burial will be at Emily Cemetery.

MRS. NORMAN R. GROSE

Funeral service for Mary Alicia, wife of Norman R. Grose, of Haliburton, who died in Civic Hospital, Peterborough, on Tuesday, was held Thursday from the Weaver Funeral Homee, Trenton, with interment in St. George's cemetery, Rev. Mr. Beazer of St. John's Anglican church, Carrying Place, officiating. Pallbearers were: Arthur McConnell, Frances Little, Harry Hess, Victor Auger, Gerald Grose, and J. Ackerman.

Mrs. Grose had been in poor health for the past two months and had resided in Haliburton since November, 1946, previous to which time she lived in Niagara Falls, Ont. She was born in Whitney, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Galna. She was a member of St. George's church, Haliburton.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Alvin H. Hallman (Helen), Welland; and Mrs. Walter Murray (Anna), Newmarket. A brother, Carmel, died in July, 1948.

TORONTO, Aug. 20 (CP)—Produce prices on the spot market here this morning were quoted as follows:

Churning cream, unchanged. No. 1, 58 cents fob; 62 delivered.

HOG PRICES

TORONTO, Aug. 20 — (CP) — Hog prices at Stratford this morning were unchanged. Grade A paid $33.35 to farmers and $33.50 to truckers. Other markets were unreported.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 20 (CP) — Oats and barley futures moved narrowly in dull trade Friday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Rye also was not as actively traded as of late and prices displayed an easier tone under commission house selling and other offerings.

No wheat allocations were made to the United Kingdom, but Turkey took approximately 700,000 bushels of Canadian wheat. Small allotments also went to Costa Rica and Colombia. Class 2 wheat prices were unchanged, with No. 1 Northern and Durum at $2.06.

FINED $55

Careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident cost Sidney Maunders, Flint, Mich., $55 when he pleaded guilty to the charges Friday in police before Magistrate R. B. Baxter. The charges resulted when Maunders broke off a Hydro pole at the corner of George St. and Hilliard St. in the north end of the city Thursday night.

Duplessis Says Quebec Leads Fight On Reds

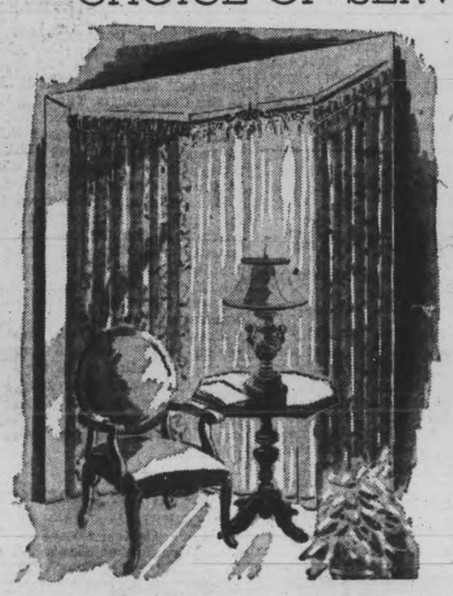
QUEBEC, Aug. 20 — (CP) — Premier Duplessis said Friday at a press conference that Quebec province had led the fight against Communism with its 12-year-old Padlock Law.

The Premier was commenting on the seizure of Communist literature in automobiles intercepted last week-end by Quebec Provincial Police, at the Quebec-Ontario border town of Point Fortune, Que.

Premier Duplessis said Ontario Provincial Police and R.C.M.P. had co-operated in bringing about the seizure of "hundreds of documents destined for Communist propaganda."

(Attorney General Porter of Ontario said in Toronto he had no comment. Commissioner W. H. Stringer of the Ontario Provincial Police said he was awaiting a report from Cornwall requested earlier this week. He said he had received no official word that his force had played any part in the Point Fortune affair.)

The Premier said the literature seized was serving for the spread of Communism at a school at Point Fortune.



He said that a year ago the Provincial Police had raided the Communists' "Provincial School" at Lake L'Achigan, near Montreal, and that Communists had realized since there was no place for them in Quebec and had moved out.

During the conference the Premier made known that the Quebec government had purchased the property of the bankrupt Quebec Pulp and Paper Corporation in Chicoutimi district for $1,500,000.

Individual Attention Impossible At City Playgrounds Dane Says

The playgrounds are not baby-minding depots, said Jack Dane, Recreation Director, today, when discussing the problem brought before the Recreation Commission Tuesday that some parents were under the impression that they could leave their children there to be cared for by the supervisor.

"While the playgrounds are safe places in which to play and any parent who sends or takes a child to the playgrounds may do so with assurance that the safety and welfare of the child will be given the utmost of consideration, they are not baby-minding depots," Mr. Dane said.

He continued saying that a supervisor with 75 or 100 children cannot give individual attention to any one particular child. The supervisor's job, he said, is to organize activities which will be of interest to the children. Due to the wide variety of interests many activities are taking place at the same time.

"These programs are developed for the benefit of the child and every child is invited to take part. Even then the child will receive as much attention as the organization of the game or activity permits."

Mr. Dane said the supervisors are continually confronted with children saying "he hit me" or "she wouldn't let me play with them." These problems, he added, are ironed out as smoothly and quickly as possible. Horseplay or unnecessary roughness is not permitted.

"However," Mr. Dane said, "there are times when the supervisor can not and does not see all that goes on. But within their power they do a good job of disciplining the children and conducting a program of fun."

In case of an accident on the playground the playground is only responsible when negligence is proven on their part and is not when the accident occurs through negligence on the part of the child.

Dump Truck Driver Suffers Fractured Leg

Caught when his dump truck toppled over at the Curtis brick yard, Oswald Covert, 53 Hilliard St., fractured his leg and was taken to Civic Hospital Thursday afternoon.

Floyd Curtis told police Covert was hauling fill for the brickyard. He was backing his truck up against a load of fill which had been previously dumped. The right rear wheel ran up on a cement slab which was propped up against the dumped load, tipping over the top-heavy truck.

Hospital authorities reported his condition was as good as could be expected.

Scott Defines Hunting Rules

TORONTO, Aug. 20 — (CP) — Lands Minister Scott, Department of Lands and Forests Friday released information on the open seasons for migratory game birds in Ontario during 1949, as provided under the Migratory Birds Convention Act.

Two important changes in the regulations are the extension of the season to 55 days, and a new duck line dividing the province into two zones. The line runs across the province from Parry Sound to Pembroke following the line of the Canadian National Railways through South Parry, Scotia, Whitney, Barry's Bay and Golden Lake.

Ducks, geese, rails, coots and callinules:

North and west of the above line—Sept. 17 to No. 10 inclusive.

South of the Line:

Oct. 15 to Dec. 8 inclusive, except in Essex county only, where the open season on geese is Nov. 7 to Dec. 31.

Wilson's snipe—Throughout the province: Oct. 1 to Oct. 31.

Woodcock — Throughout the province: Oct. 1 to Nov. 7.

Bag Limit:

Ducks—Seven per day, possession limit 14; geese, five per day, possession limit 10, season limit 25.

Woodcock—Eigt per day, possession limit 16; Wilson's snipe, eight per day, season limit 50.

Find No Political Situation Can Be Taken For Granted

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, Aug. 20 (CP). — Patience and tolerance are essential requirements for anyone involved in the science of government, because no matter how obvious a political situation may appear to be, it can never be taken for granted.

Even when a seat in the House of Commons becomes vacant, through the death of a member or some other reason, it doesn't become official until a precise path has been carefully followed.

Appointment of Leon J. Raymond, recently-elected member for Gatineau, as Clerk of the House, brought up the question of when a federal seat becomes vacant, officially.

Mr. Raymond, whose appointment was announced last week, has not resigned. But when he accepted a paid job in the government service he automatically vacated his right to represent the Quebec constituency in the Commons.

Gatineau is a new constituency carved out of Quebec, just across the river from Ottawa, in the last Redistribution Act. Mr. Raymond was its first member — or would have been. He previously represented Wright, comprising roughly the same area.

Question of Procedure

From now until Gatineau voters get a chance to elect another member, the procedure is involved. It is governed by the House of Commons Act.

It provides that the vacancy does not become an official fact until two duly elected and qualified members of the House of Commons notify the Speaker of the House, with satisfactory proof, that a vacancy exists.

Then the Speaker issues a "warrant" notifying all concerned that voters in that constituency are without a representative in Parliament.

In due course, usually at the discretion of the government in power, a by-election is held. For one reason or another the ruling party might want an immediate election or might want to put it off as long as possible.

Any two members of the House may take the initiative in notifying the Speaker of what he and everyone else already knows.

Also, if, as at present, there is no Speaker of the House—one will be elected as soon as the new Parliament meets—or if the Speaker is out of the country and Parliament in recess, any two qualified members can file a declaration with the chief electoral officer which takes the place of the Speaker's warrant in establishing the official existence of the vacancy.

Doom By Devastation

The conservation of soils, the preservation of wild life, the canalizing of water and the hundred other measures widely and excitedly urged upon this wasteful generation are petty and without value unless the greatest ravager of all—modern war—is abolished. No volcanic eruption, no forest fire, no flooding torrent of great rivers have ever caused an iota of the destruction of resources which the two world wars of this century have wreaked. The worst may yet to be, for mankind has now mastered the means to destroy itself, as Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, Canadian deputy-minister of Mines and Resources remarked at the Lake Success conference of scientists. Without peace all the work of scientists and conservationists is useless.

* * *

The twentieth century's two major wars not only destroyed human life in grievous numbers; they used up materials—many of them termed "expendable" (a wry use of the word)—in enormous quantities. Billions of tons of iron and other metals; billions of gallons of petroleum oils, billions of tons of fabric, wood, mortar, and chemicals were expended, lost to the world for ever. These were themselves used to destroy resources: arable land, vineyards, orchards, oil wells, and things which had already been manufactured from nature's resources—trains, vehicles, planes, ships buildings and even cities. Dr. Keenleyside warned that the world is already so depleted of its resources by such grandiose wars that it cannot afford further ravaging on a like scale. The essential requisite for the survival and sustenance of mankind on this planet is peace.

* * *

This profound theme must underly the discussions and studies of the scientists now meeting at the United Nations Scientific Conference on the Conservation and Utilization of Resources, at which Dr. Keenleyside is heading a Canadian delegation of twenty-five specialists in six major fields of natural resources—forests, minerals, wildlife and fish, land, water, and fuels and energy.

* * *

During and after the first Great War there was hope and even belief that that war would end all wars. There was talk of perpetual peace. Now a person who propounds this theme is considered not only a bit queer but rather unpatriotic. He may be unrealistic in a limited sense, in view of the world's state today. (It is significant that Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia officially notified U.N. that they would not attend.) But the world-peace advocate is patriotic in the highest sense, and realistic in the deepest. His own country may be unable to suffer and survive another great war, and the world and humanity could be wiped out.

Belief in the possibility of world peace, and active measure to bring it about must constantly be maintained, for there is almost no alternative to peace except extinction. New rules of war have recently been adopted at Geneva by sixty countries. The resolutions, approved by the various national legislatures, may seem small assurance. Nevertheless, they are not futile. Codes of warfare were quite generally observed in the last great conflict; and the fact that new codes are being drawn up may not only prevent some of the horrors and wastage probable in a third war, but also turn men and their governments toward larger means of preventing destruction, even to the largest of all, the abolition of war.

The Voice Of Canada

Along the short highway running from Sackville N.B. to Amherst, N.S., on the flat tidal land of the Chignecto isthmus, rise slender pylons and high webs of wires looking queerly modern yet like survivals of antediluvian fantasy. This is the Voice of Canada, as the huge transmission station's road sign says, which daily and nightly broadcasts Canada to the world in the languages of the world's nations.

The July bulletin of the Department of External Affairs discusses the station and the International Service of the C.B.C. which operates it. The Sackville station was built in 1944, primarily so that Canadian broadcasts could reach our troops overseas, but with the general purpose of giving Canada an external air voice of its own. This purpose was realized in 1945 when the full service was inaugurated. Prime Minister King said on that occasion: "The unity of Canada belongs not only to Canada, it belongs to all mankind. If we are true to ourselves, Canadian unity may well serve as a model for the wider unity of humanity. In the unity of humanity lies the one sure foundation of enduring peace". Canada recognizes through the International Service (financed by a direct grant voted by Parliament) what the poet John Donne said three and a half centuries ago: "I am involved in mankinde".

When the war ended the International Service, which had been broadcasting to Canadian troops, and to the United Kingdom, Germany, Holland, and France, began an augmented schedule. Now there are daily transmissions to the U.K., France, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Italy, The Netherlands, Sweden Norway, Denmark, the Caribbean, and Latin America (the latter in English, French, Spanish and Portuguese). There is also a weekly transmission to Australia and New Zealand. Most of the programs originate in the C.B.C.'s Montreal studios. Dr. Ira Dilworth, General Supervisor of the C.B.C.'s International Service explains that the program service is made up of:

"Factual news presentations; commentaries reflecting Canadian opinion concerning important world events; carefully designed talks dealing with various aspects of Canadian life, including specialized series on commerce, industry and manufacturing; documentary programmes projecting the Canadian scene; on the spot reporting of interesting incidents and events; drama and music. The service is primarily concerned with information rather than with entertainment, though every attempt is made to build programs in a way which will be interesting to listeners. The program of the International Service attempts to project, as clearly and honestly as possible, Canada's interest in the world scene."

The wayfarer surveying the flat marshlands running out to the sea and the towers and antennae reaching up to the sky, and in the silent large Maritime night imagining the radioed air waves eddy on eddy spreading over the great globe as far as fancy can penetrate, must ask himself as did Walt Whitman long before the days of radio:

What whispers are these, O Lands, running ahead of you, passing under seas?
And all nations communing? Is there going to be but one heart to the globe? Is humanity forming en masse?

Neighbourhood Discrimination

A public opinion poll has been asking Canadians this question: if you were buying a house, would you sign an undertaking that you would not sell or rent it later to people of certain races or colour? Fewer than one in five of the people questioned said that they would sign. This is of interest, because a recent court judgement in Ontario upheld the rights of property owners to make restrictive covenants.

Such problems, in the end, are problems of common sense. Canada is a country of comparatively young towns and cities, and neighbourhood values change fairly rapidly. In most towns the section which used to be occupied by the 'best people' fifty years ago has changed its character; it may have become a section of rooming-houses; it may have become a business section with flats over stores; many things may have happened to it. The desirable dwelling section of a town may change for a variety of reasons; towns grow, and people seeking building sites move toward the outskirts. There is a tendency, also, for people who can afford the sites to build on hills, to get a better view, or better air.

This natural change cannot be checked by restrictive covenants. If a section of a town is declining in value no refusal to sell to people of supposedly objectionable race or colour will stop that decline. The only thing for the residents in such a section to do is to face facts philosophically.

Similarly the problem is not likely to arise in a new or fashionable section; the sort of people who are considered "undesirable" cannot afford to buy there. "Desirability", in the end, comes to a question of money. The wealthier citizens can afford to buy privacy, as well as houses; when a section is "running down" living is apt to become increasingly squalid, and concern with the neighbours' business increases at the same time.

It is good to know, however, that many Canadians are opposed to such covenants in principle.

Two Years Of Indian Independence

By SHUSHELLA LALL
(By arrangement with The London Observer)

LAST Monday India celebrated the end of her second year of independence. The first year was marked by bloody upheavals and, in some areas, by the chaos which is almost inevitably associated with the birth—in this case, the rebirth—of a nation. There were moments when even the boldest feared for the survival of this country of 318 million people, a mixed family of many races and as many tongues. Grave problems still confront the Government of India, but few today will deny that the second year of independence has been a period of steady consolidation and advance.

THREE great achievements stand out. With the passing of the essential clauses of the Constitution, India has taken her place among those nations who believe that man is endowed with "certain inalienable rights", irrespective of community, creed or colour. By proudly proclaiming the achievement of a secular State, it has removed the need for separate electorates, the cause of deep ill-feeling in the past. India has taken the first painful steps towards democracy, and her example cannot but have a moderating influence on the more extreme tendencies of those other Asian lands which are struggling towards independent nationhood.

Secondly, and perhaps even more remarkable, there has been the almost bloodless assimiliation into the body of India of the Princely States. The barriers which separated their inhabitants from their compatriots are down. The precarious treaties with their rulers are torn up. The outworn conceptions of paramountcy over these multiple elements has gone. India, for the first time in her history, is one country, conscious of her identity, slowly realizing that the aspirations of the humblest of her citizens count for something, that the united aspirations of all her people have given her a voice in the world's affairs that cannot be ignored.

And, thirdly, India has chosen to remain in the Commonwealth. That Pandit Nehru should have been able, so soon after the end of British rule, to win support for this policy is striking evidence of the maturity of Indian public opinion. The aim of India's leaders has always been independence rather than revolutionary change. Her institutions are modelled largely on those established by her former British rulers. In this year she has shown her willingness to help Indonesia in a like evolution, and demonstrated, by firm handling of her native Communists, her refusal to share the fate of China.

NEVERTHELESS, the threat of Communist trouble remains serious. The lower the standard of living, the greater the Communists' opportunities, and there is no short and easy road to better living conditions in so vast a country. India's most pressing need is for machinery and machine tools, and for trained personnel. Large-scale investment in Government scholarships in the past two years will in the long run help to satisfy the latter need. Meanwhile technical experts of all kinds, both Indian and foreign, are at work, hampered by the slowness with which new equipment is forthcoming from a war-dislocated Europe and the prevailing high prices.

The Government aims to make India self-sufficient in food by 1951, and this, if attained, will redress India's adverse trade balance and make it possible to concentrate on long-term schemes for the development of the country's resources. The recent sterling balance discussions in London indicate that India's future lies, at any rate for the time being, with the sterling area. Her contribution to the great community of interests that this represents has been an agreement to reduce her dollar quota, a sacrifice which reflects a greater consciousness of the needs of the larger whole than could have been expected a year ago.

RELATIONS with her neighbour Pakistan, (who celebrated the second anniversary of her independence a day earlier) are still far from satisfactory, though something has been done in recent months to moderate the unbridled and irresponsible abuses of certain newspapers, and the Government has felt strong enough to release from prison the members of the R.S.S.S., the extremist militant Hindu organization which was responsible for much of the anti-Moslem agitation.

The need to find work and accommodation for the hundreds of thousands of refugees that have flowed into India from Pakistan is severely taxing the resources of the Government. The pace of resettlement is all too slow, and the refugees, many of whom exist in conditions of the greatest misery, provide fertile ground for nationalist agitators.

BY these and other problems a great strain is being placed on the unity of the Congress Party which is in any case made up of the most diverse elements. The main open challenge to their authority is represented by the Socialist Party, led by Jai Prakash Marain. Widespread charges of nepotism and corruption in the Central and Provincial Governments, have done much harm to the prestige of Congress. Pandit Nehru himself is visibly ageing under the burden of office; his deputy Sardar Vallahbhai Patel, is an old and sick man. Among the other Ministers there is no-one who comes near to rivalling them in popular esteem. There is, too, a shortage of trained civil servants. Though, in the transfer of power, the British provided India with the framework of an administrative machine, the officials on whom the Government and Congress must rely are in many cases young men lacking the experience which the situation demands.

Most encouraging is the determination of the Indian Government to raise the standards of popular education and local government. It has begun with the revival in the villages of the Panchayat system by which the elders of the village mete out justice and encourage a sense of communal well-being. The village school is being made the centre of enlightenment both for children and adults. If the universities are not receiving equal attention, many new technical institutes, particularly for agricultural research, have been opened.

The old fighters for India's freedom may be tiring, but they are using all the resources available to prepare the next generation for the great responsibilities that await them. The foundation stone of a more liberal and prosperous India has been laid. If the builders can maintain the present rate of progress, it may well be that they will provide for Asia, by their example, the only effective counter-attraction to the more spectacular appeal of Chinese Communism.

THROUGH THE SMOKE OF PEACE

"It's The Fear In Your Heart . . ."

(MONTREAL GAZETTE)

SINCE it took place, many a red herring has been drawn across the trail of facts surrounding the Hungarian Communist trial of Cardinal Mindszenty. Some accounts that appeared after the first shock of the outrage wore off would support the belief that it was quite a fair trial after all.

Yet many have never wavered in their belief that what was done was about as far from justice as possible, and that reports at the time did not truly picture what was transpiring. Now comes authentic substantiation for that point of view. Gabriel Pressman, one of the two U.S. correspondents permitted to cover the trial, recently told the Overseas Press Club of the "insidious" type of censorship that prevailed at the trial.

Pressman had been travelling in Europe for more than a year on a Pulitzer fellowship from Columbia University and on assignment for the Overseas News Agency. After numerous rebuffs and misadventures he eventually was allowed to join Edward Korry of the United Press with the handful of British and French journalists covering the trial. He was apparently admitted finally by mistake under the name of "Gabriel Stanley, American Pressman." Stanley is his middle name.

Pressman said that newspapermen who knew Hungary best and who could have analyzed the situation more effectively, were barred from the trial. Most of those admitted, suffered from the same handicap as himself, unfamiliarity with the language. Thus they were forced to rely upon interpreters. Pressman declared that he had been reliably informed that the interpreters had been intimidated and briefed before the trial. In addition he thought the fear of "retribution" exerted its own censorship.

But he summed up the general atmosphere in the words of one Hungarian newspaperman: "It's the fear in your heart that scratches out the words."

Maternal Pride Oddity

(Edmonton Journal)

The instinct to protect her young stirs a mother to strange manifestations at times.

When an Eastern newspaper reported that a young man had a record for stealing, including the theft of motor cars, money and two bathtubs, his mother "indignantly demanded a retraction."

She is said to have told the newspaper that her son may have stolen money and motor cars, but never bathubs. The published story made him "look ridiculous." It was two fountain pens, not two bathubs!

It's a nice point whether it was maternal pride of the protective instinct that moved his mother to protest. We shall hope it was the latter, a desire to shield her son from ridicule.

Apparently the fact that the youth was an admitted thief did not disturb this particular mother.

Birth Rate

(Windsor Star)

A report just published reveals that in the 12 months ending March 31, Britain had the highest birth rate for 27 years. It rose to 20.5 per 1,000 of population. In Britain reproduction apparently poses fewer difficulties than production.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazaret, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.

And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women . . . And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name Jesus. He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David. (Luke 1: 26-28, 31, 32.)

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him . . . .

Letter To The Editor

DOLLARS OF CROPS

Sir: Ever since I have been interested in agriculture, I have been interested in crop predictions and estimates. During that time I have read many wild predictions and many criticisms, but I have never seen them held in the personally gastronomical point of view in which you seem to regard them.

Whenever a hurricane approaches the Florida coast storm warnings are flown from Cape Hatteras to Maine. Yet the storm may veer out to sea and never be felt by the seaboard. However, shipping and affected industries have been alerted to the possibility of danger to their business. Crop predictions provide a similar alerting to the entire industry of the country. They should be taken as predictions and alert the manufacturers to the possibility that they expect some sort of a recession in the farm spending dollar. From the early predictions the matter becomes localized. A million dollar a day loss to certain specialized fruit growers may be offset by gains in another crop in another district so that it may end up as some sort of an average year, but it affects the merchants in different areas in different ways, and the thing of it is that they have been alerted to watch for such conditions.

Having been alerted the wise merchants in the Peterborough district keep in touch with their rural trade and know that some of their customers have had only a 25% hay yield and practically no spring crop yield. They also know that dry pastures have affected the weekly milk and cream check. Such merchants don't care how big a yield of hay they had in the Maritimes or anywhere else. They know that when it comes to fall spending their rural sales will be down and they can plan the purchase of their stock in trade accordingly.

In the same issue as your "Crop Dollar Guessing" editorial, you headline the crop yield which in these few staple items shows the loss of rural purchasing dollars of over $100,000,000. To the manufacturer who has to plan well in advance for Christmas trade etc., some prediction indicating that something of this nature is apt to occur are a great help, no matter how far out of line they may turn out to be. Yours truly,

RALPH G. KILBON.

A BRITISH OPINION

World Copyright. By arrangement with Beaverbrook Newspapers.

Merlin Jinks is a jeweller in Connersville, Indiana; he is also the owner of a light Swift 125 aircraft since April of this year and a would-be potential booster of air tourism in the Kawarthas. He and his wife were guests at Stan Berger's DYANCOURT MANOR, Lakefield, for a week recently and although they enjoyed their stay immensely, lack of landing strips and difficulties they experienced with their plane, left a bad taste in their mouths. Certainly they will not go back home to boost the district to fellow fliers.

Regardless of their troubles Merlin was enthusiastic about things. Said he, "You could fly a thousand miles in any direction in the USA from my hometown into supposed rustic areas to find nothing but man-made resorts, carefully landscaped and of no more interest than a visit to one's city park. But up HERE you people have everything that Americans want, just about as the Lord left it. And yet you make it tough for air tourists to be able to visit you in safety and enjoy it." We discussed the float plane proposition but this wasn't acceptable to Merlin. He thought the purchase of a pair of floats, valued between $1,500 and $2,000, was out of the question for occasional use. Besides, new light aircraft have retractable landing gear and are not adaptable to float installation. To listen politely to his criticism ws hard on the blood pressure but, alas, all too true.

Changed Vacation Trends In Air Age

The airtouring Jinks left Connersville, checked through Detroit airport of entry and set their Kollsman for Peterborough. They picked up the Peterborough air pattern one hour and forty minutes later, had difficulty in finding SKYBORO and after three passes on the uncompleted runway made a hazardous landing. They were met by host Stan Berger and driven to Lakefield. On Roy Slater's hayfield ridge, south of the village, they found short but better conditions. Merlin flew into the new site and used it for a week. It was impossible for him to fathom the lethargy of resort operators in not making a safe airstrip available and pointed out that the vacation trend in the air age was changing. American craft owners would split up their vacation times into about three of shorter duration each year, spring, summer and fall to enjoy the various seasons and the sport, trout fishing, summer camping and deer hunting. This would be a welcome addition to the life length of the tourist operator's business cycle.

Air-minded Harvey Strub and El Purvis, TEM ticket agency, have received numerous calls from tourists at Viamede, Pigeon and Rice Lakes and Toronto, inquiring into the possibility of directing flying friends to Peterborough; all they can do is recommend OSHAWA, with red faces and sinking hearts; if dear old Miss Prudence Peterborough reads this, it will give the old girl a bad turn, I HOPE.

Free Boat Licenses Have Few Takers

Regardless of the Canadian Shipping Act displayed in Dominion buildings and along canals to do with the FREE licensing of small boats, effective April 1st this year, response at the district's Customs House registry office is very poor. The Act requires that all small watercraft, with the exception of rowboats and canoes, unless they are rented for hire, display a license number. Out of the hundreds of boats in the area, registry office records show 70 licenses have been issued roughly grouped into 40 in the city, with Hastings 9, Club Whitesands 15, Rice Lake 2, and Lakefield 5. The Peterborough identification number is 36E followed by the given license number. The measure is nothing more than one of safety, for the quick identification of craft that might be in trouble. Better look into it.

Mass Snapping Turtle Hunt Mooted

Had a talk with president Cam Rowatt, Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association, in regard to his members holding a mass snapping turtle hunt some time soon for the sake of conservation. When I mentioned that a similar group in Bridgeville, Pa., were going along with this idea, he was quite interested UNTIL I explained that these hunters went after the ugly brutes with their bare hands. These experts claim that danger of being bitten is small. They've got to show us.

Lunar Gleams of Fall Hunting

Full-headed wild rice stalks bent to dark patterns in the light path of the August harvest moon have duck hunters dreaming of the opening of the fall shoot. No opening dates have been released yet but it MIGHT be around Sept. 15th. A tour of outfitters shops reveal a few interesting new items such as rubber decoys, bluebills and blacks, at $2.50 each, and superior to the papier mache variety which become pulpy after a snowfall, the man said. There is a good-looking duckcloth hunting cap on display, with hard visor and ear flaps at $2.25. Repeater shotguns at $95 down to single barrels at $23.50 are few and far between on dealers' shelves and new ones hard to get. Duck shells are from $2.30 to $2.95 per box. Deer hunters who must make long-range plans should mark their calendars from Nov. 14th to 23rd inclusive. Sunday Nov. 20th during this period slices one day of hunting from the season.

The limelight swings to CHANDOS LAKE during the past eight days when John Little of Monaghan Rd., took a grandpappy pickerel weighing 12½ pounds; this old bruiser measured 31 inches long and 18½ roundabout and will hang up a record of some kind. Over BUCKHORN LAKE way Robert Armstrong, 115 Douro St., landed a 5-pound, 2-ounce large mouth bass and moving farther south to CHEMONG LAKE, V. E. Waterman, 545 Gilmour St., a black weighing 4½ pounds; he took it from green bass ground north of the Causeway. A five-pound black was caught near Hiawatha on RICE LAKE by H. P. Bolton of Windsor but 'lunge are still holding down their reputation, to wit; Joseph Bolte of Verona, Pa., with a 16 pounder. Farther north, at Wallace's Point on the OTONABEE RIVER, Robert Logue of Toronto landed a 20-pounder. In the Auburn dam reach, Harold Haif of Langton St., landed an 18-pound muskie. Sheriff Jake Echart of Brownsville County, Pa., arrested a protesting vagrant at STONY LAKE that tipped the beam at 19 pounds. John Ondi of Cleveland, guest of Camp Cleveland, PIGEON LAKE, is reported to have said that his wife presented him with a perch; his wife was delivered of a baby girl in a Peterborough hospital on Monday one month ahead of deadline. Though he still has caught no fish to brag about, he is as pleased as Punch. Old fishermen go down fighting according to a report from TULA, Okla.; 94-year-old Mrs. G. W. Foresman had to give up the rod and reel when she fell and broke her hip during a fishing trip on the Illinois River.

Art Elmhirst, two miles east of Keene on RICE LAKE organized a boat trip to view an "eagles'" nest on Upper Foley Island a few days ago. They turned out to be ospreys or fish hawks and were formidable-looking creatures. I shinnied up a dead pine stub about 30 feet to get 15 feet away from the eyrie. The big birds beat it for a while and when Art went away in his boat, leaving me in the swaying perch, they came back. They dove out of the sun at the nest with some fair-sized green bass, apparently feeding their young. Half an hour on a knotty limb netted me the following results: (1) three good action pictures (2) some torn clothing (3) some big welts and a long pine sliver on you know where.

Busy Town Has Cheapest Ont. Power

By T. J. WILSON
(Examiner Staff Correspondent)

It is almost a century and a quarter since the Township of Seymour came under the influence of British civilization. Into this forest wilderness came British and United Empire Loyalist settlers, who, with indomitable courage and untiring energy, wrestled with seemingly insurmountable difficulties and came off more than victorious.

The history of Campbellford is inseparable from that of Seymour. Situated as it is in the heart of the township at a suitable point on the magnificent Trent, surrounded by a picturesque, but productive country, the town is richly endowed with material wealth and natural beauty.

About the middle of the last century a small settlement consisting of several houses grew up at Ranney's Falls. This place was called "The Patch". Here the post office was established, the mail being brought in from Colborne via Warkworth.

Later, a wooden bridge was erected to span the river at the ford and the name of "Campbell's Ford" was for a time supplanted by that of "The Bridge." Soon houses began to spring up at either end of the bridge and a thriving village arose, the name of which was permanently established as Campbellford.

The Military Campbells

Campbellford derived its name from the two most colorful figures in the history of Northumberland County. They were Major David Campbell of her Majesty's 63rd regiment and his brother, Lieut. Col. Robert Campbell, of Her Majesty's 52nd regiment.

In 1876 Campbellford became incorporated as a separate municipality. James Dinwoodie was the first Reeve and William Archer, J. B. Morton, Robert Linton and D. Collins were the first councillors.

For thirty years Campbellford retained its status as a village, with the population gradually increasing, until July 1, 1906, when it was incorporated as a town with William J. Doxsee as the first mayor.

The pioneers of the district were alive to the importance of education as a great factor in the development of the country. In 1874 the first high school was established. The old public school building was destroyed by fire in 1889 and was replaced by the nine-room structure now in use. In 1924 the present commodious high school building was erected to meet the increasing educational needs of the community.

Home of Churches

Campbellford is the home of fine churches. On the west side of the river, Christ Church, with its old-style English architecture and the spacious St. John's Church meet the needs of the Anglican and United congregations.

On the hill, east of the river, St. Mary's Catholic Church, with its adjoining Separate School, and St. Andrew's Presbyterian church command a fascinating panorama of the Trent and surrounding countryside.

For many years the Baptist Church has been established in Campbellford. The Gospel Hall, Glad Tidings Tabernacle, Free Methodist Church and Salvation Army have of late years become a part of the religious life of the community.

The small hospital on Front St., which has served the sick so well over the years is about to be abandoned for the more commodious Memorial Hospital, now under construction on Booth St.

The public library with nearly 12,000 books on its shelves adequately supplies the need of the reading public.

In 1873, the "Herald" weekly newspaper was established by the late J. T. Vosper, who conducted it until 1904, when it came under the management of G. A. Kingston, father of the present owner and editor, W. A. Kingston.

Industrial Growth

Campbellford owes its growth to its admirable situation on the Trent River. At present the chief industries comprise the Campbellford Cloth Co., the Gair Pulp Mill, Breithaupt Leather Factory, Gravlin-Bale Shoe Factory, Trent Valley Creameries, Trent Valley Cheese Factory, Campbellford Concrete Products, Foldaway Furniture Co., Planing Mill, Weldrest Cleaners, Monarch Toy Co., Alfalfa Plant, Rowes' Silo Co., and Hogle's Nursery.

The completion of the Trent Canal in 1914 gave Campbellford wonderful power advantages. In 1889 a bylaw was approved by the ratepayers authorizing the erection of a power plant and waterworks system for the village. Later, the water rights of the Gilmour Co., at the foot of Crow Bay, were purchased by the town and an electric plant established which served the municipality for several years.

Upon construction of the canal, the town, in lieu of water privileges at Crow Bay, was given the right to develop all the power off the new cement structure. The council immediately started to erect a power house and transmission lines to supply the growing municipality with domestic and commercial power.

Campbellford has not only the cheapest industrial power rate in the province, but a large sum is returned annually to the town as revenue.

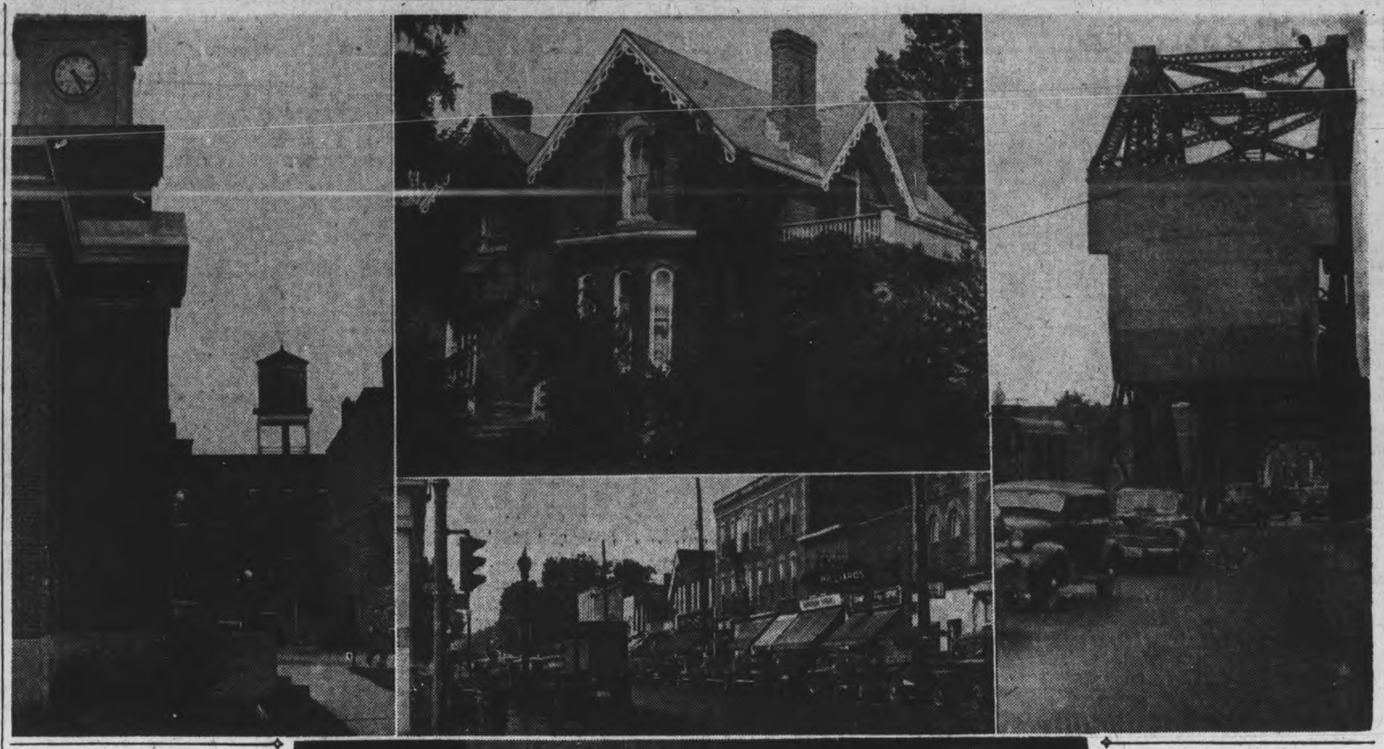
Fire and flood, each in turn raised havoc with the growth of the small settlement.

On the morning of April 9, 1875, fifteen business places on Front St. went up in flames along with the Phoenix and Campbellford Hotels. Later, flood waters filled cellars and swept all loose material down stream. The last destructive fire occurred a few years ago when it consumed hundreds of cords of balsam and birch at the pulp mill. It burned for days before it was brought under control.

Modern Town of 3,200

The modern Campbellford with a population of approximately 3,200 is served by the CNR and three bus lines. A traffic liftbridge, spanning the canal, connects the two sections of the town and another bridge down stream leads from the mainland to the island.

Campbellford is a town of neatly kept homes, up-to-date stores and miles of well lighted streets. The post office with its clock of three dials is an imposing structure of brick and cement, standing amidst beautiful lawns and flower beds. Nearby, the fire hall with its ancient tower, houses modern fire fighting equipment.



The citizens are well served with two cinemas, dance pavilion, rink, two banks, lodges, service clubs, good restaurants and a first class hotel.

Campbellford has been fortunate throughout the years in having men of vision elected to office.

At present the municipal affairs are in the hands of Mayor H. M. Donald, Reeve J. C. Anderson, Deputy-reeve Ralph Locke and six councillors. The schools are managed by fourteen members under the chairmanship of George Nicholls.

Clerk J. F. McGregor, Assessor Harry Townsend, Tax Collector J. C. Birmingham and Chief Constable George H. Hardy have been capable town employees for many years.

The town of Campbellford straddles the river Trent. This waterway, rich in Indian lore, is not only noted for its primeval scenery, but it yields the finest maskinonge, pickerel and bass found anywhere in Ontario. In search of these beauties, thousands of tourists, mostly from the United States, visit Campbellford and the nearby resorts every summer. This has brought a gold mine to Campbellford's back yard.

By BOB HATTON

When hogs, horses, sheep, men, women and children gather together next Wednesday to renew the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, they will be performing a social ceremony that is 107 years old.

A clue to the exhibition's age was given in the Peterborough Gazette of Sept. 19, 1845. A small advertisement modestly announced that the third annual fair or exhibition of stock of the Colborne district Agricultural Society would take place in Peterborough Oct. 17, 1845.

The war stole Peterborough's chance to celebrate the centenary of the fair. The exhibbition grounds were taken over and turned into a military training camp.

When districts gave way to counties as a division for local government, Peterborough was no longer a part of Colborne and the West Peterborough Agricultural Society came into existence, giving its own name to the fair.

Nothing to do but work
Nothing to eat but food,
Nothing to wear but clothes
To keep one from going nude.
—Benjamin Franklin King, Jr. (1857-1894)

Later it became the Midland Central Fair. Since then against many obstacles, it became the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, the name it has today. But an unbroken chain goes back to that original in 1842.

In the pioneer days, the show was a purely local affair of agricultural interests. Not even one dancing girl, apparently. Farmers of the district showed their stock in friendly rivalry.

But one of the most important functions of the fair was to give friends an opportunity to meet together and talk. Although many a new wrinkle has been added, the fair still is a fine place to meet friends.

Bisons Upset Newark In Doubleheader

By The Associated Press

One of the leading lights in Buffalo's bid for their first International League pennant since 1936 is Gene Markland.

The scrappy infielder has driven home 74 runs while operating from the lead-off slot. He has knocked out 133 hits in 430 times at bat for a mark of .309. His hits include 30 doubles, three triples and 20 home runs.

Markland also drove home four runs and scored four in the finale. He sewed up the game with a three-run homer in the sixth inning.

Walt Aloma stopped the Bears on six hits in the opener to gain his 10th victory and Bob Hooper scattered eight in the second game to chalk up his 16th.

Wings Bow to Giants

The triumphs boosted the Bisons' lead over the second-place Rochester Red Wings to 3½ games. The Wings bowed 6-1 to Jersey City Giants.

Roger Bowman stopped the Wings on two safeties, one of them Russ Derry's 37th homer of the season. The triumph was Bowman's 14th of the season.

The seventh-place Baltimore Orioles upset the fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs 7-1.

Montreal's fifth-place Royals divided a twin bill with the Syracuse Chiefs, winning the second game 10-3 after dropping the opener 5-3.

Sam Jethroe, speedy Royal centrefielder, was fined $100 and suspended indefinitely by Manager Clap Hopper for insubordination after the first game. Jethroe tops the league in stolen bases with 71.

Lacrosse Club 70 Years Old

CORNWALL, Aug. 20—(CP)—Colorful ceremonies were held Friday in observance of the 70th anniversary of the founding of Cornwall Lacrosse Club, believed to be the world's oldest active lacrosse organization.

A group of Mohawk Indians from nearby Stregis, Que., dressed in full tribal costume, lent color to a parade which preceded a scheduled match between Cornwall Seniors and Stregis Indians. The game was won by Cornwall 14-2.

Also in the parade through city streets were former hockey and lacrosse stars and members of the current Cornwall lacrosse club.

Among the former stars introduced at the match were Newsy Lalonde, Cornwall native who played with Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League and outstanding lacrosse squads; A. L. Caron, of Montreal, former president of the old National Lacrosse Union; Alex Connell, of Ottawa, former star goalkeeper with the old Montreal Maroons and former lacrosse ace; Donald Smith, hockey and lacrosse star of 30 years ago; and Louis White, former Indian lacrosse luminary from Cornwall Island.

Request Ban On Rugby Player-Poaching

By The Canadian Press

A prank of fate has temporarily sidelined Steve Chamko, of Windsor, central figure in a gridiron player-poaching controversy stirring the Canadian football scene.

The storm broke over an alleged attempt by Montreal Alouettes of the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union to regain the services of Chamko, a Windsor native who played in Montreal last season. Chamko said yesterday he had turned down an Alouette offer of $4,500 to play for Alouettes instead of Windsor Rockets of the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

A few hours after his announcement Chamko, husky middle wing, turned out for a Rocket workout and suffered an arm injury in scrimmage. Doctors said later he will be out of action two to three weeks.

The effects this development will have on championship hopes of the Rockets remains to be seen. Coach Art Massucci has been counting on Chamko to make the Windsor team a strong contender for ORFU senior championship honors.

Rap Player Grabbing

Meanwhile, with the football season to open—Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Toronto Argonauts meet today in an exhibition game in Toronto—officials of Western Canada and some ORFU teams pondered the Chamko case and set up a clamor for an end to "player-grabbing." They suggested that the Canadian Rugby Union should ban poaching of players by wealthy clubs.

The bitterest words on the situation came from Warren Bolton, Windsor Rockets president. Irked not only by the Chamko incident but also by the loss to Alouettes of Chuck Anderson, all but signed with Rockets when Montreal outbid Windsor, Bolton declared gloomily:

"There is nothing but futile groping in future years for Windsor Rockets unless the ORFU steps in to potect its members from the wanton, selfish and unrestricted player-grabbing of the Big Four, particularly Montreal and Ottawa."

Denny Whittaker, vice-president of Hamilton Tigers of the ORFU, said that in his opinion, "the ORFU is fast becoming more or less a fishing ground for the Big Four."

Tigers Get Title

Tigers trounced Terriers 7-5 yesterday in Miller Bowl to win the peewee PMLA championship, coming from behind to outscore the Terriers 4-2 in a fine final frame. Dan Sutherland and Ron Jay shone for the visitors while Larry Hunt stood out in goal for the losers, and Terry Doris worked hard all the way. Sutherland scored three and aided on two for the champs as Jay got three more and Keating a goal and an assist. Doris tallied twice for the losers, with Roode, Pace and Pearl each getting one. Teams:

Terriers: Hunt, Saunders, Rowatt, Ketcheson, Pace, Haig, Doris, Casey, Cavanagh, Pearl.

Tigers: Heffernan, Keeting, Dubay, Beck, Sutherland, Jay, Hutton, Johnston, McCullagh, Dugan, Bignall, Hutchinson.

Referees, R. Hobart and J. Sutherland.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

From Prince Albert, Sask., comes a letter from a young chap 16 years old, in 11th grade, telling us he likes our column. His sister here sends him the paper. This fellow is quite keen on sports and hopes to become a sportswriter sometime. Has an extensive knowledge of athletics and a real hefty library of sports books. Naturally, we're pleased he likes the stuff we turn out—often under pressure of time and therefore not too interesting—and we wrote and told him so. While you can't eat bouquets, and we don't bruise easily when hit with folding money, nevertheless it's nice to know some folks like your work enough to say so.

* * * * * *

It would be easy to tell this chap to stay away from the sportswriting business. Hours are long, rinks are cold, and you don't get rich. But there are lots of other jobs, too, where one doesn't amass a fortune, and all types of work have certain drawbacks. If he is cut out for reporting sports, more power to him. After all, it is an interesting job, there are lots of laughs along the way, and you can make some fine friends. What work can offer more? Money, sure, but it doesn't do you any good when it comes time to check out. Everyone to his own taste, but we like mauling the old typing mill and we'll always like athletes and athletics.

* * * * * *

Just What's On Tap?

A brief glance at today's games up this way. Minor lacrosse from 2.30 on this aft in Miller Bowl. A cricket match in the Oval. Midland loop golf play at Peterborough Club. Lindsay and Cobourg girls at four and 8.30 in the Bowl. Oshawa and Young Petes in baseball at six in Riverside. Westclox lasses in Kingston. Senior Petes vs. Batawa in Belleville. Lumberjacks at Brampton. Juvenile joust somewhere else. Maybe we've missed a few, but that's a sketchy sort of picture of the sports here this Saturday, if the weather is okay. It's enough, too.

* * * * * *

Plans are proceeding for the exhibition ball game Tuesday eve at six in Riverside to aid minor baseball locally. Ed Murphy's senior Petes will play Peterborough oldtime COBL-ers, and the latter list includes such former starry stalwarts as: Al Heckman, Max Swanston, Fred Ash, Hap Harrison, Frank Whitehouse, Cy Whatley, Cliff Cadd, Bun Kingdon, Tommy Holyman, Ike Batten, the Clark brothers, Len Hollingsworth, Jimmy Hall, Jeff Hardill, Lefty Billingsley, Scotty Maudsley and a few more. Some of the older players won't take part too long, but have promised to appear in the game, and it ought to be a right interesting affair.

* * * * * *

Cosmos Are Champs

Cosmos won the George Dormer Trophy, emblematic of the City Softball League championship, last eve at the Bowl when they walloped Uniteds 16-5 before a goodly gallery. Crowley finally got a twirling chance in this series and did okay, backed by good hitting and some fine fielding when Uniteds threatened. Bob Greenlaw, who was over-worked like Akers in this series, ran into trouble and had to retire. An odd series when the managers pin their faith on one twirler each. Anyway, congrats to Howie Dalton and his bunch on taking the title in decisive manner after sweeping the semi-finals in four straight. They lost but one tilt in the finals. Both teams will be seen in playdowns.

* * * * * *

A definite touch of frost in the air about Miller Bowl last gloaming but it didn't freze the vocal chords of more than 2,000 lacrosse customers as the Petes beat Weston 12-5 to take over sixth spot in the senior standing. How long the locals will stay there is problematical as they've got to play in Brampton tonight whilst Mimico might not work unduly hard in their go 'gainst Weston. Trips are trips, y'know, and also some of the Weston boys come from Mimico. And vice versa. Anyway, the Petes showed they could take Weston handily when they really battle. A nifty number all the way, and we especialy liked the work of Ralph Speck, Jack Foote, Bob Thorpe and Arn Dugan in this fray.

Ottawa Rink Bowls High In Zone Play

By HERB MARTIN

Representatives of Districts No. 13 and 16 of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association will move on to Hamilton on Aug. 27 for the final games of the provincial championships.

Dr. H. Cheney's Ottawa rink won out here yesterday in the zone playoffs, Burwash and G. Hillson, Agincourt, in the doubles and G. Yesen, Richmond Hill, in the singles.

In former years all these games were played in two days at Hamilton, but this idea of breaking the play into zone playoffs is new and judging from the comments heard yesterday it might be adopted for good.

The games were well contested and the winners earned their laurels.

Juniors Play

A new feature this year is the competition for junior players. This will also be held at Hamilton.

C. Argue, Belleville, was the official umpire and he handled things well.

Luncheon was served in the club house by the ladies of the Peterborough Club and they, too, did a real fine job.

W. Jeffries and R. Gamble came in for many compliments. They looked after all details of the playoffs and everything was carried out in good style.

M. Letcher, Port Perry, district chairman of No. 13, was a spectator all day.

It was the first time these contests were held here. The games were witnessed by many, particularly bowlers.

Play began around 10 a.m. and the three 21-end games concluded about 10 p.m.

Southenders Take First Playoff Game 7-2

Southend juveniles got the jump on East City Friday night, winning the first game of the final series 7-2. The East City boys kicked in with six errors, while Batchelor pitched steady ball, striking out 11 for the Southenders.

The Southenders took an early lead, with two runs in the first, and three in the second. After that they were never headed, as Wyatt got poor support. East City picked up one run in the second and one in the fourth. They threatened briefly in the ninth, but Batchelor picked Wyatt off third base and got the last man to fly out to end the game.

The line-ups:

East City—Gandy, 1b Driscoll, 2b; McGaw, c; Casey, ss; Wyatt, p; P. Ferguson, 3b; Chicken, rf; D. Ferguson, lf; Roger, cf.

Southend— Jensen, cf; Allen, 3b; Douglas, ss; Robinson, 1b; Young, lf; Bigford, c; Grant, rf; Jones, 2b; Batchelor, p.

East City Gets Midget Title Against North

Having won their protest on Tuesday night's game the northend midgets were shellacked 13-0 by East City Friday night in the Exhibition Grounds. The easterners are now definitely city midget champions. The game Tuesday, also won by the East City crew, only went six and a half innings and all playoff games must go at least seven to declare a winner.

Foley starred in two capacities as he held the northend boys to three scattered hits and had two for himself, one a homer in the sixth with none aboard. Foster for the northend boys pitched well until the fourth allowing only six hits, but errors committed by the fielders forced him to give way to Craw at the start of the fourth. Craw pitched three-hit ball for the rest of the game. One of the three was Foley's homer and another was Spencer's triple, also in the sixth.

The leaders in batting were Foley, Ferguson two for four and Ash two for three. Harrison netted two of the three northend hits for a perfect game at bat.

Lineups:

Northend—Langhorne, ss; Richardson, 1b and 2b; Black, rf; Craw, 2b and p; Hayward, 3b; Harrison, cf; Russelle, lf; Stewart, c; Foster, p and 1b.

East City—Ferguson, 3b; Foley, p; Mongraw, ss; Sullivan, cf; Ash, 2b; Spencer, 1b; Reynolds, rf; Seabrook, lf; Telford, c.

Petes Beat Weston 12 to 5 To Capture Sixth OLA Spot

The Petes trimmed Weston Lions 12-5 at Miller Bowl last night before more than 2,000 fans to move into sixth place in the OLA senior "A" standing, a point ahead of Weston. Each club has four more games to play—the Petes go to Brampton tonight—as they fight it out for that last playoff spot, sixth position. The schedule ends in another week.

Taking a 1-0 lead in the first quarter, the Petes were tied 2-all at halftime, but went in front 5-3 at three-quarter time and had a commanding 7-2 margin in the fourth heat of a fast, clean and well-played joust. Each side received but two penalties, Lou Vitarelli and Ted Downer getting majors in the second for a brief display of fisticuffs. The Creighton crew looked better throughout but missed a lot of scoring chances in close the first two quarters.

Drove Early

Early in the first, the locals drove hard and kept Goalie Bill Hartley on the hop. The second was fairly even with both netminders good and both sides missing chances. The Petes again dominated play in the third as the teams settled down to fast but good lacrosse, passing the ball smartly as they tried to work into position against tenacious checking. But the homesters really rolled in the fourth to rack up seven goals without a return until the last few minutes of play.

Goalie Ralph Speck, Jack Foote, Bob Thorpe and Arn Dugan shone for the winners, while Hartley, James and Chard looked best for the losers. In scoring Dugan was in on five, Thorpe on four, Foote four, Testero and Dootch Vitarelli three each, Em Creighton two, and Lou Vitarelli, Magee and Howse one apiece. Hartley had two assists for Weston, as Reddy, James, Chard, Downer and Allwell got a goal apiece, and Jeffries had one assist.

The teams:

Weston: Goal, Hartley; defence, Perdue and Grossi; centre, Hill; wings, Reddy and T. Downer; rover, H. Downer; alternates, Gair, Allwell, Gilkinson, James, Hatton, Chard and Jeffries

Petes: Goal, Speck; defence, J. Creighton and D. Vitarelli; centre, Thorpe; wings, Foote and Dugan; rover, E. Creighton; alternates, Horton, Howse, Testero, McNulty, Magee, R. Breakspear and L. Vitarelli.

Referees, J. Murphy and L. Vipond.

Cosmos Defeat Uniteds To Get League Honors

Cosmopolitans are City softball champions today. Last evening, Howie Dalton's boys smothered Uniteds 16-5 at the Bowl for their fourth victory in five starts, to win their best of seven series for the senior title.

Crowley opposed Greenlaw before a packed gallery despite chilly air. Though unusually wild, Crowley was effective enough to win comfortably, bearing down in the pinches as his mates played errorless ball afield. Uniteds drew 13 passes but were held in check for the most part—when hits meant runs—while their rivals racked up a goodly margin in the fifth, sixth and seventh to pretty well sew up the game with a seven run lead, at that point.

Greenlaw proved fairly effective until the fifth, when a walk, followed by two hits and two errors netted four for Cosmos. Eakins came in to start the sixth but the stickwork continued as, led by Crowe, Dalton, Pryde, Hawkes and Thomson, Cosmos added six more to finish the seventh. Uniteds put up a good game for the first half to hold the visitors fairly close and Castle's long homer with Scriver aboard in the seventh featured for them. Cosmos had too much power at the plate however and added four more in the final two. Eight errors hurt Uniteds but Cosmos earned the victory and the series.

Crowe led the hitters with three safeties and scored four runs. Thomson, Dalton, Pryde and Hawkes each collected two hits. Mackness featured with two beautiful catches off Sullivan and Harrison, in the eighth.

Coach Dalton accepted the trophy following the game—presented by Mr. Russelle to the city champions while Manager Fontaine of Uniteds received the cup—given annually to the team finishing first in the regular schedule.

Hamilton Edges Mimico 8-6

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton Tigers, showing flashes of last season's Dominion championship form, edged third-place Mimico Mountaineers 8-6 in a hard-fought game at the Mountain City.

Fifth place Tigers, bucking for a higher place in the league standing, have won three of their last four tilts.

George Masters lead the Tigers with a brilliant display of two-way lacrosse, picking up three goals and an assist. Tommy Love also stood out, although he counted only one goal.

Edmond, Davidson, McDonald and McKenzie were other Hamilton snipers.

The Mimico scoring was well divided with McPhail turning in one goal and an assist. Gair with two was the only Mountaineer to score more than once, pacing Rankin, Hewitt and Hayes who had one each.

Kinder Blanks Senators As Yankees Triumph 6-0

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ellis Kinder, let loose by the New York Yankee organization eight years ago, is finally paying off on the $65,000 investment Boston Red Sox paid to get him in 1947.

It appeared the money had been poured down the drainpipe when Kinder, with one indifferent performance after another, won only 10 games for the Sox last year. At 35, the Arkansas righthander was not expected to do much better this year.

That's just the way it worked out during the first half of the current campaign. Entrusted with few starting assignments, Kinder showed only a mediocre 4-4 record by June 12.

Then he got hot, reeling off 11 straight victories. His only defeat during the last two months came in a relief role.

Kinder reached his peak last night he shut out Washington Senators 6-0 on three singles. It was his fifth straight triumph and his 15th of the year against five defeats.

In Second Place

The victory enabled the Bosox to remain four games behind the pace-setting Yankees, who came from behind to defeat Philadelphia Athletics 7-4. It also kept them in second place, a game in front of Cleveland Indians, who shut out the Chicago White Sox 2-0.

The National League pennant race is all tied up again following Brooklyn's victory and St. Louis' defeat last night. Brooklyn won a 6-4, 12-inning thriller from Boston Braves, while the Cardinals bowed to the Pirates in Pittsburgh 8-2.

The fifth-place Philadelphia Phillies moved to within half a game of third when they beat New York Giants 7-1. They trail the fourth-place Braves by a fraction of a percentage point.

Chicago's Cubs whipped Cincinnati Reds 7-4 in the battle for the cellar. Detroit divided a doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns, winning the second game 4-2 after the Browns had won the opener 4-3. Rain halted the second game after six innings.

Tommy Henrich was the big gun in the Yankees' victory over the Mackmen. After four Philadelphia errors had enabled the Yankees to pull even at 4-4, Henrich singled in two tallies in the sixth to break the tie, then hammered his 22nd home run in the eighth to give relief pitcher Duane Pillette the victory. Bob Porterfield started for New York, but suffered an elbow injury in the second inning and was forced to retire. Alex Kellner, who owns four decisions over the Yanks, was the loser.

Gets Shutout

Mike Garcia, with help from Alton Benton, pitched the Indians to their shutout win over the White Sox. A home run by Bob Kennedy, followed by Garcia's double and Dale Mitchell's single, accounted for the two runs off Randy Gumpert.

Dick Kokos drove in all St. Louis' runs in the first game victory over Detroit. The slugging outfielder doubled in a run in the first inning, and sent in three more in the eighth with his 20th homer. Hal Newhouser spaced five hits in the abbreviated nightcap to register his 12th triumph for the Tigers.

Brooklyn blew a 4-0 lead to the ninth, but came back to tally twice in the top of the 12th to beat the Braves. Duke Snider's double off Red Barrett sent in the tie-breaking runs.

Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner batted in five runs with a single and his 33rd homer to wreck the Cardinals.

Bicycle Rodeo Big Success At Playground

With cowboys waving guns and Indians wielding axes over their heads, the children of Turner Park held Friday afternoon a bicycle rodeo. Smeared with red, orange, green and blue chalk marks the wild marauders went through snake, slow, trick and obstacle races on their two-wheeled mounts.

Joseph Barnard, a novice this year on the playground, assisted by Ted Cranfield, introduced the rolling of hoops to the children. This old-fashioned game has increased so much in popularity at Turner Park that the children were divided into four groups. The winners of the groups were: Peewee, Ronald Oliver; tadpole, Denton Randall; primary, Keith Clark; bantam, Douglas LaFrance.

Twisting and turning around a snake-like course Jack Bird peddled his bicycle over the route in 1 minute 3 seconds to capture the snake race event.

Riding over mounds of top soil, under slides, between teeters and over benches, Jack Bird again took a first place honor in the obstacle race. Twelve entries tried to bump their way to victory on the bicycles over the course.

In all rodeos there has to be a chuck wagon event. Due to previous disasters at other rodeos only two wagons contested in this event. Denton Randall's wagon won the last two heats in the best out of three evens to take top honors from Billy Forestell's group.

Officials for the rodeo were Joe Barnard, Ted Cranfield, Jim Burns and Jack Dane.

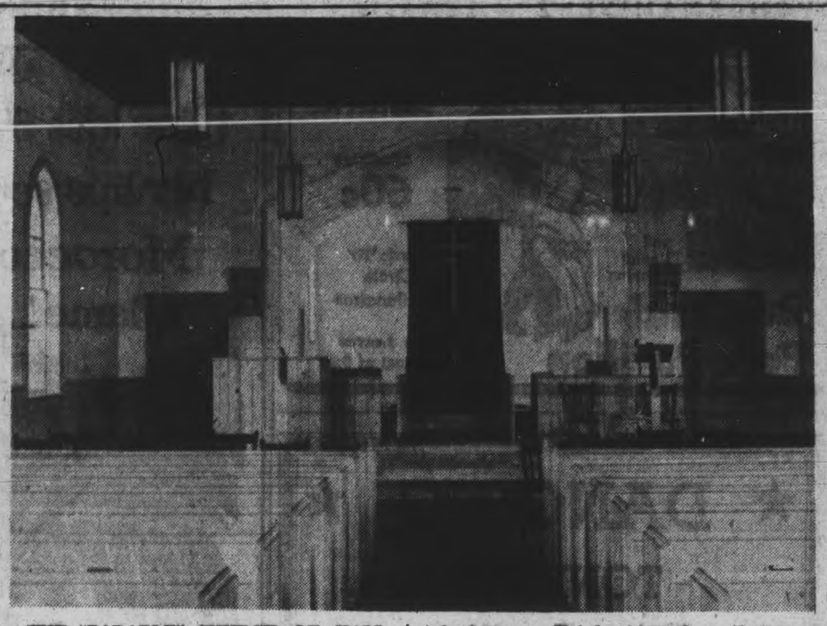
Summary of events:

Hoop races — Peewee, Ronald Oliver, Joe Allen, Gerald Greeness; tadpole, Denton Randall, Ken Orgall, Clark Schloey; primary, Keith Clark, Elwood White, Melba Allen; bantam, Douglas LaFrance, Shirley Sucee, Ted King.

Slow bicycle race — Bantam, Jack Bird, Carl Peel, Bill Bebee; peewee, Billy Forestell, Clark Scholey.

Snake race—Jack Bird, Art Carl, Raymond Allen.

Riding the plank — Jack Bird, Neil Clark, Bill Forestell.



Trick Bicycle riding—Neil and Keith Clark, Art Carl and Carl Peel.

Obstacle race — Jack Bird, Clark Scholey, Art Carl.

19,000 Idle In Strike

DETROIT, Aug. 20—(AP) — Nearly 19,000 Chrysler Corporation employees, made idle by a strike at two plants, will return to work Monday under a truce reached late Friday. Another 1,200 workers at the company's De Soto division were told to report for duty Tuesday.

THE "PARABLE" CHURCH OF HALIBURTON, constructed through the efforts of Rev. Gordon Smyth and his parishioners, is incomplete. Last summer the Haliburton cleric borrowed $1,000 from the bank and divided it among his followers as talent money. Total returns from the venture amounted to $6,500, $1,500 short of the required funds. Now Rev. Smyth is looking for Good Samaritans who could provide furnishings and fixtures for unfinished parts of the church. Photo by L. G. Smith

Church In Haliburton Needs Samaritan

By GORDON BAILEY

Rev. Gordon Smyth of Haliburton, who last Summer borrowed $1,000 from a bank to divide among his congregation as talent money to see how much they could bring back, to help build a church, today found he would have to act out another Bible parable to get enough money to finish building the church.

The young minister found that the $6,500 his parishioners brought back last year was $1,500 short of the best construction cost estimates. The church proper is complete except for a new chair in the chancel. An 81-year-old Oshawa woman has pledged the money for the chair.

The vestry is still unfurnished as well as some of the rooms in the basement.

Mr. Smyth is looking for the furniture for these unfurnished parts of the church from people in other towns who might "neighbor unto his flock." For the vestry, a suitable table and two or three chairs are needed.

The chancel floor was donated by an Anglican and requires only a maroon carpet tot give it the finishing touch.

Need Sunday School

But Mr. Smyth's great concern is that the Sunday School in the basement has been left until the last and the money ran out before its completion. The basement room is as void of furnishings as the vestry. Here the walls and ceiling have been completed but folding partitions would aid the teaching staff considerably. A permanent division would frustrate the heating system—a dilapidated furnace, greatly in need of replacing.

Sufficient room is needed too for the town's and church's social functions.

Chairs are needed for the children. About 10 six-foot tables for the class rooms that will double for dining tables, and they will be ready to hold classes.

A new cement block kitchen has been constructed off the main basement room. The kitchen is as bare as the proverbial cupboard in the Hubbard household. Some good Samaritan sent along a beautiful electric range, but the wiring is not heavy enough to run it. A large kitchen table will be needed here and a few hundred feet of shelving, as well as a couple of lighting units before things can get under way in this department. They need a sink in the kitchen, too.

There's another room off the kitchen that would make a nice washroom and toilet; but, it's empty, too, so a closet bowl and wash basin complete with piping would make this room a source of convenience to all.

This is the position Mr. Smyth finds himself in at the moment but the genial Scot has complete faith in human nature and he feels that there are a lot of Samaritans in this world who will help complete a modern miracle in Haliburton.

Cabbie Robbed Money, Clothes

HAMILTON, Aug. 20—(CP)—Stripped to the waist and left shivering in the cold night wind on a lonely country road, Edward Prowse, 24, of Hamilton, became the victim of Hamilton's second taxi cab hold up in as many days when a lone armed gunman stole $16 and the cab Friday.

The 24-year-old De Luxe cab driver recalled that he picked up the gunman, described as being 27, fair complexion, with a brush cut, about 1.30 a.m.

"He must have known that the people at the address (37 Hess St. North) have a charge account with our company," Prowse suggested, "and called from some other place."

The man whipped out a gun, stuck it in Prowse's neck and said "This is a stick up. I'm not fooling."

God Dwells In Every Heart

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

When the Psalmist wrote in Psalm 119:11, "Thy word have I hid in my heart, that I might not sin against Thee," what did he mean?

In the New Testament, in John 1, is the account of the Word that was in the beginning, the Word made flesh, dwelling among men in the earthly life of Jesus, "the Word that was with God, and was God." But what did the word of God mean to Old Testament writers, who wrote many years before Jesus came?

For them, as for those of the New Testament, it meant God in the heart, and the "heart" was the centre of man's life and being. To have God in the heart meant to be guided and controlled by God.

The word of God was the expression of God, synonymous with His commandments and His law. In Psalm 40:10 the writer expressed the same thought in the words, "I have hid Thy righteousness within my heart." In Isaiah 51:7 is the reference to the people in whose heart is the law of God.

The sense of right was dominant in all the devout Hebrews' thought of God, and of man's relation to Him; The good man is the upright" man (Psalm 11:7; 37:37). The figures of the measuring line, and the plumb line, are applied to life and character, as they are to building.

So the word of God in the heart was a word of law and command. The good life was not a matter of chance, or of man's preference. It was based on the unalterable character and laws of God himself. As well expect a life without law to be good, as to expect a house built without square, and measurement, and plumb line, to be anything but crooked.

This elemental truth, so repeatedly emphasized in the Psalms, has been sadly disregarded and neglected even by many who make profession of religion, and consider themselves among the saved. What a world this would be if every nominal Christian and church member had the Psalmist's passion to have the word of God hidden in the heart, so deep and strong that it was the motive power of every word and action!

To be upright and innocent from the great transgression" (Psalm 19:13) must be the sincere purpose of every man who would be worthy of a place in the fellowship of those who love the Lord.

Christian teaching only enforces and strengthens all that the Psalmists wrote concerning the word, and law, of God in the heart. If Jesus stressed the new commandment of love, it was as the fulfilling of the law, and not its abrogation, or as a substitute for it. There is no substitute for righteousness.

But the New Testament does reveal the word of God as love, and the indwelling of God's Spirit as the source of spiritual power to obey the voice of God within is man's highest attainment and estiny.

New Zealand Churches See Only A Fifth Of Flock

AUCKLAND, N.Z., Aug. 20—(CP)—A census of members of various churches in Auckland shows that only one in five actually goes to church on an average Sunday.

Statistics from the civil census revealed that this city's 30,000 Roman Catholics had the highest proportion of churchgoers—75 per cent. But the smallest proportion was among adherents to the largest denomination. Only four per cent of Auckland's 100,000 members of the Church of England were in church on a typical Sunday.

Thirty-two per cent of the Presbyterians and 26 per cent of Methodists went to church that day.

The census notes that many New Zealanders who take little interest in church affairs are not prepare to say they have no religion and for census and other purposes class themselves as Anglicans.

Ousts Evil Spirit

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—(AP)—A Roman Catholic newspaper says that a priest has successfully freed a 14-year-old boy of reported possession by the devil. The boy, a resident of nearby Mount Rainier, is said to have had a number of eerie experiences early this year. His family said that he was possessed by an evil spirit.

First Meat Packing Plant Built In City 67 Years Ago; Some of Happenings of 1882

By HARRY THEOBALD

The first meat packing plant in Peterborough was built in 1882 by George Matthews of Lindsay, grandfather of Gordon S. Matthews, general manager of the local plant of Canada Packers Ltd. That processing plant, mentioned briefly in the industrial notes of the late Frank H. Dobbin, was welcomed as an advantage to the farmers of the county. The building was 100 ft. by 52 ft., on part of the present site now entirely occupied by C.P. Operations were begun in November, 1882, a year in which the building trades were at an extremely low ebb of employment. Edward Webb was in charge of the construction work at a time when tradesmen were almost begging for jobs.

Writing in 1919, Mr. Dobbin commented: "This business has been most successful, and is now merged into the Matthews-Blackwell Co., Ltd."

Three houses stood on the property on the east side of George St. overlooking the river where it expands into Little Lake. One was the Leonard residence in the centre of that block; another was a frame house near the railway, and the third was the home of a family named Trennum, a brick house on the southerly point of land that remained in use until expansion of the industry overran it.

Before Coming of The C.P.R.

The present generation could hardly imagine the appearance of that section of the main street of Peterborough in the early eighties when George Matthews used to walk down Aylmer St. and across Dalhousie St. to his business. That was before the com-

Power In July Down 400 H.P.

Peterborough's July peak of electricity was 22,400 horsepower as compared with 22,900 a year ago, R. L. Dobbin reported to the Utilities Commission Thursday.

A new primary circuit was constructed on Princess St., between George and Park Sts., and rebuilding was continued on Park Hill Road between Armour Road and George St.

The department installed 104 new 3-wire electric services, bringing the total to 707 for the year. Most of them were for new dwellings.

The 75 new flat rate water heaters connected to the system in July increases the total to 4,549 with a load of 3,400 h.p. Nearly 50 per cent of the domestic consumers have this service.

Pumpage Increase

July pumpage in the waterworks branch was 149,080,000 gallons as against 141,224,000 in July, 1948. The increase was one-quarter million gallons a day.

Average temperature of the water was 77 deg., with a maximum of 80 for the first five days. This was an increase of three degrees over last year.

The air temperature averaged 3½ deg. more than last year; rainfall was 2.46 inches, as compared with 1.68 in. last year.

Work included 337 ft. of 6-in. main laid on St. Luke St., east of Rogers St., and 23 services in various parts of the city.

The gas department reported production of 4,512,000 cu. ft. The top of the large gas container was sprayed with aluminum paint.

Kawarthas Lead In Sport Of Water Skiing

A local quartet of water skiers are playing hard at Gipsy Point, near Bobcaygeon, these days. And the reason for their earnest efforts is that they hope to make a good showing in the forthcoming water-ski events at the Canadian National Exhibition.

The four are Jack Holland, professional ski instructor; Mrs. Norma Gordon, Les McIntosh and Alex McIntosh.

Their ultimate goal is the Canadian Open and the Canadian Closed events — all part of the huge $100,000 sports program arranged for CNE visitors by George N. Duthie, the sports director.

Every week during the summer the quartet has been practising the difficult art of balancing on water skiis. They have erected a standard six-foot-high jump and have tried their skill both at jumping and surfing along on one foot.

Near World Record

The best jumps yet made from the runway have been 68 feet, only four feet short of the world record.

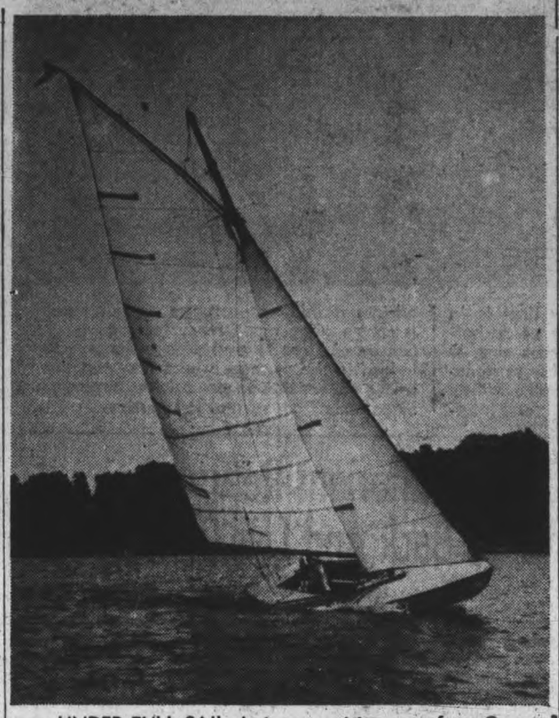
"You know there is more water skiing done in the Peterborough district than anywhere else in Canada," Jack Holland told The Examiner.

The thousands who attended the opening of the Chemong Causeway in June will recall the gallant attempts of the water skiers to give their best despite large cresting waves.

Spills were so violent some of the skiis were broken.

The local foursome, who belong to no club, expect their experience of learning to skim over the rough lake water will stand them in good stead when they get to Toronto.

Home-Built Sloop Proving One of Best Now Sailing Kawartha Chain of Lakes



By NICK NICKELS

Every freshwater sailor has hopes of building and sailing his own dream-boat some day and Harry Huff, Weller St., is no exception. After sailing dinghies for a dozen years in Oshawa and racing against crews of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, National, Queen City, Port Credit and Frenchman's Bay, and winning as many trophies, he is no novice at the sport.

He moved to Peterborough in 1944, bought a summer cottage at Stony Lake in 1933, and one day in the fall of '47, Harry went to a sawmill at the head of the lake for lumber. An old sloop hull on the rocks of Pine Island took his attention and upon investigation found it was the old Gull,, formerly owned by Major Oxley of Mount Julian and latterly by the England family of Cleveland. Built originally to race against the Knapman's Cygnet, she had finally come to the repair stage and was found to be a hopeless task by her last owners. She had been skidded out on the winter ice to drift in the spring break-up currents on the shoals off Pine Island.

Mr. Huff decided that this fine old ship, though unseaworthy, was his dream boat at last, or at least the design of one. A 20 by 30-foot garage at the corner of Reid and London Sts., was chosen as a building loft and from cardboard templates of the hull, design plans were started in December of 1947 as a spare-time project. Eight months later, after enlarging the doors to take her hull outside, she was taken to Young's Point by trailer and launched Aug. 8, 1948.

The new Gull was a beauty indeed, 26 feet, four inches long, eight foot beam with a hollow spruce mast 30 feet high carrying 400 square feet of canvas. She had been redesigned to eliminate a bowsprit the old Gull carried and the hull plan improved. Skipper Huff had purchased the spars, sails, centreboard, rudder and tiller from the owners of the old Gull and in three weeks of trial runs to iron out the bugs, he entered his first race on Labor Day. In a class of 14 craft he ran second to David Russell's Spree and proved to the hard-working owner that it was worth every minute of his thousand man-hours of overtime labor. He was assisted for a month by designer Harold Knapman who helped lay the planking and with the decking.

After this performance in her maiden race, her sailing was honed to a fine point by Mr. Huff, through the fine months of fall until it was time for storage. This was done at the owner's cottage where an ancient boathouse was tailored to fit the craft.

This year the Gull was to have no rest. She was commissioned on May 1 and has been sailing every weekend since then. In the current season's racing card for the President's cup, six races, she has come first and second in the first three heats with three more to go. If she wins the best four in six, Skipper Huff can park the trophy on his mantlepiece until next summer. The Gull also came second in the Glenwood Trophy with a 21-minute handicap.

For a man with his first home-built sloop it would appear that Harry Huff is a sailor to contend with, either in the Kawarthas or elsewhere. He took a two-year navigational course in Oshawa, both coastal and celestial, and seems qualified to take the Gull out of home waters any time he feels like it.

George Scott Is The Dean Of City's Tennis Players

Time was several years ago when tennis was a popular game in Peterborough, but during the past 10 or 12 years enthusiasm has been on the decline. Only two clubs with a total membership of approximately 160 are functioning today and owing to lack of opportunity for school age people to learn the game, prospects of up and coming players from the city's youth are far from encouraging.

This is an oft recurring topic of conversation among tennis players in Peterborough.

The man who has probably done more to stimulate interest in the game than any other player in this city is George Scott, city champion for many years. Without a thought for his 65 years, he is one of the leading players on the Quaker Club's "A" team.

With a style which puts many players 40 years his junior to shame, Mr. Scott returns almost every shot with a ball calculated to beat the most nimble opponent.

Learned Game In Edmonton

This father of tennis in Peterborough learned the game in Edmonton and has played in and around this city for some 30 years. He started to play the game at the age of 15.

A veteran who has not played for many years, but who still has plenty of interest in the game is F. D. Kerr, K.C. Some 25 years ago he was a leading tennis player and still maintains it is the best summer game. Mr. Kerr qualifies his claim by saying the game requires a combination of physical and mental skill.

If Mr. Kerr were asked to compare the standard of play today with the game as it was 25 years ago, he would ruminate for a while and then, in the most tactful way possible he would say that the ladies' tennis of a quarter of a century ago compared favorably with the general 1949 standard. About the men he would be non-commital.

"In my tennis days," Mr. Kerr said recently, "a man was at his best for the game at the age of about 35. Today, men of that age do not seem to be able to stand the pace. They seem to be at their best between the ages of 21 to 25."

Mr. Kerr's first recollections of tennis in Peterborough were of a private club at the home of Mr. A. P. Poussette which stood on the site where the Stratton Apartments on Park St. are now situated.

Tennis became, for a while, incorporated in the Peterborough Golf and Country Club. Then there was the Peterborough Club attached to the Bowling Club on McDonnel St. Tennis has not been played there for a number of years, however.

Both Mr. Kerr and Mr. Scott have happy memories of visits to Millbrook, Norwood, Lindsay, Lakefield and other nearby towns and villages for inter-club tournaments.

Several years ago there was a number of tennis groups attached to the local churches, but one by one they dispersed. When the new wing at the YMCA building was erected a tennis court situated on that site had to be abandoned.

Both the Kawartha and Quaker tennis clubs enter teams in the Kawartha league and on visits to other centres for league matches, players have discovered that Peterborough is not the only place engaged in an uphill fight.

At Port Hope the only club tennis courts were taken over during the war as a bus depot. Despite this handicap, the Port Hope club still takes part in the league, having secured the use of school courts for two months during the summer.

Both clubs in this city are now lining up their players for the annual club tournaments which are probably the greatest incentive to raising the standard of individual play. At the Quaker club there are five competitions: the men's and ladies' singles, men's and ladies' doubles, and mixed doubles. At Kawartha there are three: men's singles, men's doubles, and mixed doubles.

FIRE IN STREET GRATE

A carelessly discarded cigarette butt is believed responsible for a small fire in the street grate in front of Loftus Ladies' Wear on George St. Friday night. The lighted butt is believed to have ignited some papers which had also shifted through the grate, and a small blaze developed. Firemen used a hand pump to extinguish it.

To Judge Art

Gordon Bailey, chairman of the Fine Arts Committee, Peterborough Exhibition, announced today that Mr. George Foord, instructor at the Ontario College of Art in Toronto, will be the judge of the art exhibit at this year's fair. Exhibitors are asked to have their pictures at the Exhibition not later than Tuesday. The hanging committee will have all the work properly displayed for the judging which commences at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Record Exhibit Promised, New Buildings Ready For Industrial Exhibition

Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture in the Ontario government, will open Peterborough's agricultural and industrial exhibition next Thursday at 2 p.m. Hugh Stewart, president, sums up the prospects in the promise to the public: "With good weather, we should have a grand show. The directors have been working on it close to twelve months, and they are all confident that the people of this district are going to see one of the best Exhibitions we've ever had in Peterborough."

Col. Kennedy rarely passes up an invitation from this city, and by his visits he has become personally known to many of the citizens. He was here last week for the opening of the flower show of the Horticultural Society.

Buildings Be Filled

"All our buildings will be filled with exhibits," G. A. Gillespie, secretary-manager, said today. "We know that from the number of entries we have received. Our new building will be completed and painted, and we can tell the public that we never had the accommodation we have prepared for this Exhibition.

"We have secured for the midway the Bernard and Barry Shows that are coming to us for the first time with high recommendations. The directors were careful in entering into a contract for the midway concession, and from our relation with their representatives so far I feel confident that the public will like our midway this year. Their establishment includes 19 attractions."

The grandstand attractions engaged by the amusements committee, of which Gordon Hancock is chairman, will feature the following vaudeville acts: Art & Marie in a rolling globe novelty; Carr Brothers in musical comedy at its best; Henry's animal revue, comprising clever dogs and ponies; The Marcelles, jugglers on the wire; "Flash," the dancing stallion; Skating Whirlos, big thrills on little wheels; Rex Slocombe, comedian; Louis Lindon, television singing star.

Outstanding on this program will be the "Sensational Marions" aerial thrillers. Music for the vaudeville show will be provided by Ken Good and his orchestra.

60 Horses Entered

Charlie Quinlan, chairman of the committee in charge of horse races, reports some 60 horses will be stabled here early next week. The first race will be Thursday afternoon, with two on the evening program: a 2.15 trot and pace followed by the 2.24 class. There will be two races on the afternoon and evening cards, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, winding up with the Free-for-All Saturday night.

Not even the crowd could hope for a repetition of the memorable thrills in the Free-for-All last year. But it could be.

The Junior "Ex."

The Junior Exhibition opens Thursday morning for farm young people of Peterborough, Durham, Ontario, Northumberland, Hastings, Victoria and Prince Edward counties.

Entries Friday afternoon totalled 75 girls and 87 boys. Their program includes: livestock judging; identification and classification contest; information contest; and home making club contests for girls.

The junior show begins at 9 a.m. Thursday. Agricultural representatives from the district counties will be here, and also Mr. A. M. Barr of the agricultural extension department.

The juniors will be dinner guests of Canada Packers Limited at 6 p.m. at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Gillespie said that an indication of producer interest in the Peterborough show ring was the fact that the Holstein cattle class will total 130 entries.

"That is a good sample of the numbers the livestock committee chairmen are reporting," Mr. Gillespie said. "By the way, we should have a fine class of Guernsey cattle, too. That is one of the comparatively new breeds in this district.

"The entry forms indicate a big horse show, and in fact, as I said, we expect our buildings to be filled."

WINS FREE-FOR-ALL

Hugh Stewart took the free-for-all at Belleville Fair Thursday in three heats with his newly acquired mare Katherine Tipton. The daily Intelligencer referred to her as a stylish pacer recently purchased in the United States. She turned back seven of the better class horses in this dsitrict. Mr. Stewart was at the reins. Time of the first heat was 2.12, best of the three. The first half was passed in 1.07 and the second loop in 1.05.

176 Boys Given Holiday At YMCA Camp

One hundred and seventy-six boys accounted for 362 camping weeks at the Y's Men's Club's Boys' Camp on Clear Lake this year, Camp Director Don Duncan said today. This gives an average stay per boy of two weeks at the camp, which lasted for six weeks.

Mr. Duncan said the most popular part of the craft program was the moulding of Indian heads and plaques in plaster paris. The plaques were suitable for the boys' bedrooms. They also cut cartoon characters in their woodworking classes out of plywood. Mr. Duncan said the boys were amazed at easy way rope could be made from binder twine.

Once or twice a week parties of 15 boys would take overnight hikes up the lake. During the last week of camp the boys who had attended for the full six weeks were allowed to take a canoe trip up to the head of Stony Lake. They were out for two nights and three days.

Those who were attending camp the week of the Kawartha regatta attended it and captured six firsts, four seconds and two thirds. In the war canoe event they were edged out by the cottagers.

On August 13 the girls took over the camp for 10 days. When they move out the Canadian Girls In Training will camp there until Labor Day weekend when the 20 Plus Club will use it.

50 Die In Earthquake

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 20—(AP)—Fifty persons were killed and from 62 to 73 were injured in the earthquake which shook Eastern Turkey Wednesday night, official sources said today. The casualties occurred in the provinces of Bingol, Erzurum and Erzincan. Livestock loss was reported high.

but what about the "old" folks?

Sally and Bill can cut a rug for two hours with never a fear for a twisted ankle or even a minor bruise, but with the "old" folks, it's a different story.

Thousands of accidents happen every day in and around the home. Many of them involve people in personal liability law suits. More and more such suits are being brought by an increasingly claim-conscious public. At best, law suits mean worry, loss of time and lawyers' fees, and they may mean serious financial loss if the defendant is found guilty.

You can get protection up to $10,000 for as little as $10 a year with a Comprehensive Personal Liability policy written by Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company.

PRISON COTTAGE—A new deal is in the offering for some inmates of Saskatchewan's provincial jail, six miles east of Regina. Prisoners the provincial welfare department considers most reformable will be taken from their cells in the jail, and housed in five adjacent cottages, one of which is shown being made ready for occupancy. Groups of eight to twelve prisoners will be lodged in the cottages where they will live under supervision in conditions as remote as possible from normal jail routine.

Wealthy Estonian Begins Life Anew

KITCHENER, Aug. 20.—An Estonian who controlled 8,000 acres in Europe and had 600 men on his payroll, is starting life over again on a 56-acre farm with a badly out-of-repair house near Kitchener.

He is Johann Kalm, who arrived recently from Sweden with his wife, two sons and two daughters. The children range in age from 16 to 25 years.

Manager of a seed improvement business in Estonia, Mr. Kalm fled to Finland in 1943 to escape death by the Russians. He was a land owner of the type for whom the Reds would have shown no mercy.

After a short haven in Finland, the family, although not travelling in one party, reached Sweden. They were in Sweden three years before friends in Canada arranged passage for them here.

Thief Gets Diamonds

TORONTO, Aug. 20—(CP) — Diamond rings valued at $5,494 were stolen Friday from a downtown department store by a handsome, well-dressed thief. Police said the man walked out with a tray of rings when a clerk to whom he had been talking turned away for a moment.

CCL Scores Victory

TORONTO, Aug. 20—(CP) — The Canadian Congress of Labor Friday scored a victory over a former affiliate, the Communist-line International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Works (CIO), when employees of Anaconda American Brass Company of suburban New Toronto voted to switch affiliation to the CCL.

R.C.A.F. Graduation

CENTRALIA, Aug. 20.—(CP) —Defence Minister Claxton, next Thursday will pin wings on the tunics of the largest class of military pilots ever to graduate from this RCAF station since the war. The wings parade will mark completion of the first course of men trained under the University Air Training Flight program.

May Lead Party

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—(CP). — In the lull of activity on Parliament Hill there has been a revival of rumors that Health Minister Martin or Walter Harris, Liberal Member of Parliament for the Ontario constituency of Grey Bruce, will be called upon to head the Liberal party in Ontario. Both men have been mentioned in the past as likely successors to Farquhar Oliver, present Liberal leader in Ontario. There has been no intimation that an early Provincial Liberal leadership convention is in prospect.

325 Gibraltarians Refuse To Go Back And Live On 'Rock'

LONDON, Aug. 20 (CP). — (CP).—The call of home has lost its charm for 325 Gibraltarians who in 1940 were compulsory evacuated from "The Rock." Now, after nine years in England and Northern Ireland, they say they would rather stay than go back.

Twelve thousand were given 24 hours' notice to quit Gibraltar early in the war. Most came to London, but when flying bombs began falling in 1944 they were sent to camps in Ireland.

Housing problems delayed their return to Britain's smallest colony, and two years ago 2,000 of them "peacefully invaded" London, moved into a former Fulham Road workhouse and set up housekeeping.

They were allowed to remain. Now that the colony is returning to normal living, however, and housing projects are under way, they are being urged to go "home." The Colonial Office, under whose supervision their London "colony" came, is closing out the Fulham Road quarters at the end of September.

10,000 Evacuees Return

More than 10,000 former evacuees and their now larger families have returned to the 1⅞-square-mile rock, to which this month the British Government promised a measure of self-government.

But of Fulham Road's 351 "exiles," only 26 will be taking advantage of government repatriation. The others have found jobs, married and formed connections here and want to stay. The Chelsea Borough Council is making efforts to rehouse them.

Meanwhile, the advent of Gibraltar's Governor and Commander-in-Chief, Sir Kenneth Anderson, and a delegation representing the Gibraltar Chamber of Commerce, has brought the colony's administration to the fore.

The British Government lately introduced the island's first direct tax — one on profits — which the Chamber of Commerce is protesting. However, a £400 ($1,600) maximum is stipulated and workers' organizations fear resistance will be slight lest the Imperial Government switch to an income tax.

Unproductive because of its rocky nature, Gibraltar lives mainly by trading, and by its services to the garrison and navy and merchant vessels. A proposed 2d.-a-pound tax on coffee handled, for instance, is calculated to provide the colony with an income of £40,000 a year.

48 Koreans Killed In Panic On Train

SEOUL, Aug. 20—(AP)—Forty-eight Koreans were reported killed in a panicky rush to escape from a train stalled in a tunnel 120 miles south of Seoul Thursday night.

C. L. Burpee, United States adviser to the Korean railway communications division, made this estimate today of the deaths in the strange tragedy.

He said three cars of a six-car passenger train became uncoupled and were stalled near the middle of the two-mile tunnel. Passengers began fighting to get out of the cars. Many were trampled.

Boat Upsets, 1 Drowns

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 20 (CP)— One man was drowned and another saved when the boat in which they were fishing at nearby Echo Bay, Lake of Bays, capsized. James Johnson, 37, lost his life when he tried to swim 75 yards to shore. Rescued was George Martin, of St. Catharines, who clung to the overturned boat.

Study Sewer Plan

BRANTFORD, Aug. 20—(CP) —The Ontario Health Department will give "very careful analysis" to the suggestion of building a great trunk sewer to take care of sewage from all Grand River municipalities, Ontario Health Minster Russell Kelley said Friday.

HOME, SWEET HOME—For 19 years 69-year-old Leonard Delaney pondered the problem of catching up on his housecleaning, but "couldn't seem to get up enthusiasm to get things done." Police and firemen of the Victoria, B.C., suburb of Saanich then visited the aged recluse and were greeted by this view of his cluttered kitchen. Worried over the possible fire hazard, officials are considering what action can be taken. Five other downstairs rooms of the eight-room farmhouse are piled high with similar debris. Locks on some doors are rusty with disuse, but others are in working order and are believed to hide more valuable possessions. Part of the tumbledown cot on which Delaney sleeps can be seen at LOWER RIGHT. He has a small private income and pays taxes from fruit gathered on his 19-acre farm.

Condemn House Man Fined $25 For Living In It

For living in a house which had been condemned by the Medical Officer of Health because of lack of water and sanitary facilities and for tearing down the poster announcing the house was barred from human habitation, Wm. Brady, 555 Howden St., was fined on Friday a total of $25 and costs by Magistrate R. B. Baxter in police court.

Sanitary Inspector Ronald MacPherson testified he had examined the house in March when it was not occupied and condemned it. When he visited the one-room shack May 9 and May 27 he found Mrs. Brady there and from all appearances living there.

Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, testified he had written a letter warning Brady he would have to move out of the house by May 26 or he would be prosecuted.

Brady pleaded guilty to tearing down the condemning sign but not guilty to causing to be used a house declared unfit for human habitation. However, he told the court, he had been living in the house. He said he bought the house and lot for $450 and wanted to build a new house. He said he had been unable to find any other place to live. He had applied for and received a building permit, but had it taken from him a week later just after he had begun the forms of his foundation. He said he was told he had to straighten out his trouble with the MOH before he could proceed with building.

He said he could have had the house built if he had been allowed to go ahead. He told the court he had been paying a neighbor for water and the use of a bathroom.

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 20—(CP) —Medical students from nine Canadian universities will meet here Oct. 20-22 for the annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Medical Students and Internes. Institution of a system for satisfactory placement of medical students as internes will be a major problem for discussion.

Can Help Asia

LAKE COUCHICHING, Ont., Aug. 20.—(CP).—An Indian diplomatic official told the Canadian Institute of Public Affairs Friday that Canada can help the countries of Asia to find democracy. P. K. Banerjee, secretary at the office of the High Commissioner for India in Canada, said the problems before Asiatic countries are "establishment of democratic institutions, development of industry and agriculture and rapid raising of the standard of living."

To Investigate Regina Election

REGINA, Aug. 20 (CP)— A commissioner appointed by Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer, will investigate the manner in which the June 27 federal election in Regina was conducted, it was announced Friday.

This information was received in a letter from Dr. Castonguay addressed to J. O. Probe, unsuccessful CCF candidate in the election. Mr. Probe asked for the investigation in a letter to Ottawa July 25

The letter from Dr. Castonguay said that a commissioner would be appointed to look into the election, won by a liberal Dr. E. A. McCusker by 162 votes after a recount.

The commissioner will investigate charges by the CCF candidate that certain electors voted more than once; that some were allowed to vote after having been sworn in contrary to the provisions of the Dominion Elections Act, that certain voting places were not open to receive voters within the hours specified by the act and that the location of some of the polling places were changed on election day without sufficient notice to the voters affected.

An investigation will also be made into the appearance on more than 400 ballots of small, faint pencilled numbers. These were discovered at the recount.

Census Bureau Has New Machine That Does Everything But Talk

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—(CP). — The 1951 census is nearly two years off but the Bureau of Statistics already is getting ready to make it the broadest and most thorough scrutiny the Canadian society has been exposed to since Cartier spotted his first Indian.

A newfangled device known as an electronic statistical machine will keep tabs with astounding ease on just about everything but your conscience.

Herbert Marshall, head of the Bureau, figures the machine will cut months off the time it normally takes to absorb, analyze and publish the mountains of information a census digs up.

Developed by a United States firm, it sorts, counts, accumulates, balances, edits and prints all at the same time. The first one was brought to Ottawa some months ago in great secrecy — anyone seeing it had to sign a pledge to keep its secrets—because the patent rights weren't complete.

It now has passed into the production stage and the Bureau expects to get one next year and 11 more in time for the census that will want to know such varied facts as your marital status and the characteristics of your bathroom.

No one, however, has yet developed a machine capable of going out and getting the information the Bureau wants. An estimated 12,000 Canadians—roughly one for every 1,100 persons in the country, will do that job as usual.

Starting in June of every year ending in one, the census-takers go out after statistics on age, religion, sex, size of families, income, marital status, education, language, occupation, citizenship, rent, and what-have-you and within a month they have most of it. It takes another month to gather up loose ends such as the people who were away on holidays.

All that will be food for the electronic machine. It can distribute unit counts into as many as 60 different classifications and sort basic data at the rate of 450 cards a minute to provide for further cross classifications, thus allowing analysis formerly out of the question.

It automatically checks the accuracy of sorting, sorts or searches a file of cards for specific numbers or ranges of numbers, checks cards automatically for consistency of information, counts cards for up to the 60 single or multiple digit classification at one time, prints identifications beside group totals, and does other things in its spare time.

About two-thirds the size of a desk, it appears quite capable of doing things to the Canadian people that have never been done before.

Crime Schools Still In Ontario

LAKE COUCHICHING, Aug. 20 —(CP)—J. Alex Edmison, executive secretary of the John Howard Society, said Friday that penal reform in Canada has made more progress during the last three years than at any other time in the last century.

He told the Canadian Institute on Public Affairs that despite the reforms, "crime schools" still exist in Ontario and some other provinces. The "schools" were in prisons where, he said, prisoners were taught no trade but learned from older prisoners the arts of criminality.

Dr. Lu Chuh, Chinese ambassador to Canada, in another address blamed the western democracies for many of his homeland's troubles. Foreign affairs minister in the Chiang Kai-shek regime before coming to Canada two years ago, he said that if the Nationalist government in China loses its battle against Communism, all Asia may fall into Communist hands.

ASTRONOMY NOTE

Contrary to public opinion, the 200-inch telescope will be little used for planetary observation; medium telescopes are more adapted to this.

FARE FIGHT—A Santiago, Chile, policeman tries to arrest a rioting university student during a skirmish over a rise in fares on busses and streetcars. Government spokesmen attributed the riot to Communists. The increase in fares amounted to about three cents.

Canada Leading Commonwealth In Forestry Work

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 20. — (CP). — Canada leads the Commonwealth, if not the world, in air mapping forests.

That's the opinion of Lord Robinson, chairman of the Commission on Forestry for the United Kingdom. He paid tribute to the Dominion's energy in this field during discussion Friday at the United Nations scientific conference on conservation and utilization of resources.

"Canadians are ahead in developing the techniques of air surveying as an aid in forestry," Lord Robinson said in an interview.

He said the Dominion was aiding the other parts of the Commonwealth by sending information to the central committee at London set up by the Commonwealth forestry conference held there in 1947. He noted that the conference decided that all Commonwealth countries should complete air mapping of forests by 1959.

Pioneered Development

Earlier, H. E. Seely, of the Dominion Forest Service, presented before a sectional meeting of forestry experts, a paper on air surveys. He has pioneered in development of air photography for forestry purposes.

Seeley, one of the 25 Canadian experts at the conference, explained how air surveying can be used in conserving and utilizing soil, minerals, water and forests. In forestry, an air photograph showed the number, height and type of trees, and where disease was breaking out as well as the more obvious ravages of fire and wind.

President of the Canadian Institute of Surveying, Seely himself worked out the method of determining from air photographs tree height and forest density.

"A vast field still awaits exploration even though progress to date has been beyond expectations," Seely told the conference.

In discussion which followed, J. J. De Gryse, Canadian Government expert on forest insects, noted for importance of color photography in mapping forests.

The color photography in forestry work is still in the experimental stage, De Gryse said, but it is hoped that it would soon be available for general use.

Colored photographs showed up more clearly where disease had struck forests. For example, infestation of spruce budworm showed up as a red streak in the color photographs where it would go unnoticed in the plain black and white photographs.

Stock Markets Gain For Ninth Week

By The Canadian Press

The current advance in the stock markets continued for a ninth consecutive week as prices edged slowly ahead.

Securities had a tough time fighting their way upwards but at yesterday's close the markets showed an edge over the previous Friday.

Canadian markets made the best improvement in moderately active, steadily rising sessions. New York bucked slight periods of realizing sales.

Brokers say that the general public is still remaining out of the market despite current advances.

New York slumped Monday, rallied mildly Tuesday and then pushed ahead strongly Wednesday on gains ranging up to two points. Gains were small Thursday and steady selling pressure forced prices lower yesterday but left the general level higher from the previous week.

The Associated Press 60-stock average closed yesterday at 64.9, a gain of .3 from the previous Friday.

Canadian markets chalked up wider gains than New York. Papers continued to feature industrial stocks and golds returned to the spotlight.

In Toronto golds gained strongly, climbing to the highest price level since December, 1947.

Better senior and junior producers showed the best gains with the list marking up an increase of 4.09 on the exchange's index.

Some smaller companies continued to attract considerable attention.

Utilities, steels, liquors and papers sparkled brightly to give the industrial list an advance of 2.25 on the index over the week.

Base metals continued under pressure, steadying yesterday for the first time in eight sessions. The list was down 1.04.

Volume for the five days was 2,928,000 shares, as against 4,407,000 shares the previous week.

WIDESPREAD PRACTICE

Cannibalism has at some time or other existed in almost every part of the globe. As late as 1782 gypsies were executed in Hungary for practising cannibalism.

Urging Britain End Blockade At Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Aug. 20—(Reuters) —The British-owned North China Daily News, only independent foreign newspaper in China Friday called on the British Government to take every possible step to end the Nationalist blockade.

It describes the blockade as a ridiculous costly development which ought to have been nipped in the bud at the very outset.

The newspaper says that whatever success had attended the blockade was largely due to the fact that the powers who refused to recognize it failed to take such steps as would have made that refusal more effective.

After stating that the blockade is having no military effect upon the activities of the Communist armies, the paper says the British community is entitled to expect its government to do something about the Nationalist action.

"No vessels in appreciable numbers are bringing the goods of normal commerce to this port, and British and other foreign communities are meeting huge losses which may confidently be expected to increase very substantially if something is not done in the near future."

A usually reliable source said the British community was contemplating direct representations to the British Government, urging that effective measures should be taken to overcome the blockade.

MORE COAL FROM PROVINCE

Alberta's coal production for the first five months of 1949 was $3 451,228 tons, an increase of 616,710 tons over the same period of 1948.

Student Fined On Careless Driving Charge

A 21-year-old university student, Andrew H. Chapeskie, Barry's Bay, was found guilty Friday of careless driving by Magistrate R. S. Baxter in police court and was fined $20 and $4 costs.

The charge resulted from an accident which occurred on Highway 37 nine and a half miles south of Apsley, July 26. Chapeskie had been attempting to pass a car while travelling north. He told the court he did not see a dip in the road which hid a car being driven south by Elmer Spence car swerved to its left over he started to pass.

He said he was nearly alongside the car he was passing when he saw the approaching Spence car about 150 feet away. He said the Spence car swered to its left over the centre of the road. When he saw this, he thought he could get by the right side of the Spence car. When it pulled back and appeared to try to go between his car and the one he had been trying to pass, he sideswiped it. He said he had put his foot on the brakes immediately he saw the approaching car.

Spence said when he topped a sharp knoll in the road he saw two cars approaching, one behind the other. The back one pulled to pass. He put on his brakes and kept the car going in a straight course because there didn't seem to be anything else to do. The Chapeskie car was heading at an angle across in front of him. He said he had stopped when his car was hit. Neither Mrs. Spence, who was riding with her husband, nor the three passengers in Chapeskie's car, his two sisters with their girl friend, were hurt.

The right side of each car was damaged. Magistrate Baxter said a remark Chapeskie was reported to have made about [illegible] over the many sharp knolls in that area being a bigger thrill than riding on a roller coaster didn't indicate a proper attitude, although he was not finding him guilty on that. He said he would not suspend Chapeskie's license, but the Department of Highways might.

Expensive Project

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—(CP). — The Ottawa Area Planning Board Friday received a report from a Toronto firm of consulting engineers which indicated that extension of unified water and sewage disposal as recommended in the city's expansion program will cost nearly $23,000,000.

Boy 14 Steals Car

OTTAWA, Aug. 20—(CP) — A 14-year-old boy cut loose in a stolen car Friday and raced through downtown streets at 50 miles an hour with four police cruisers in pursuit. The boy knocked down and injured a pedestrian before police cruisers finally crowded the car—allegedly stolen—into the curb.

Joyce Gallagher Marries, Plans To Live in Oshawa

Ethel Joyce Gallagher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Gallagher, 571 Park St. N., was married today at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church to Campbell James Leckie, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Leckie, Oshawa. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Dr. James Semple.

The church was decorated with ferns and gladioli and the music was played by Christopher Gledhill. During the signing of the register Miss Nicolet Humphrey sang "I Love Thee Dear," and Gounod's "Ave Maria."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chantilly lace over white satin with a high shaped neckline, short, close fitting sleeves and plain tight fitting bodice. In the back of the skirt there were horizontal pleats to form hip drapery. Her headdress was a small hat of matching lace and satin. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Glen Moher, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a silk ice blue gown with smooth fitting lines, short cap sleeves with bead trimming and a shaped peplum skirt. She wore matching mittens and a taffeta headdress. Her ring bouquet was of white and pink glodioli.

Austin Bennett, Oshawa, was best man, and Paul Moore and Robert Lacombe, Buffalo, N.Y., were ushers.

At a reception in the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel, the bride's mother received wearing a royal blue crepe dress, matching hat and bouquet of white gardenias.

The groom's sister, Mrs. Jack Norris, also received. Her dress was of pinted grey silk crepe and she wore a black hat and grey accessories. Her bouquet was of pink roses.

The couple left for a trip to Montreal. For travelling, the bride wore a black silk crepe dress with a corsage of yellow roses, a black hat and yellow and black accessories.

On their return they will live at 231 Eulalie St., Oshawa.

Buttoniers worn at the wedding were of Scottish heather sent by the bride's sister, who is spending a few weeks in Scotland and England with her husband.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gallagher, Chicago; Mr. James Leckie, Oshawa; Miss Isabel Leckie, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Norris, Oshawa; Mr. and Mrs. Jack O'Donnell, Oshawa; Mr. Vincent Duquette, Oshawa; Mr. S. D. Mossie, Ottawa; Mr. Austin Bennett, Oshawa; Mr. Robert Lacombe, Buffalo, N.Y.; Mrs. George Turner, Apsley, and Mr. R. Rolson, Oshawa.

The bride was entertained at a miscellaneous showed Monday evening at the home of her aunt, Miss Corrine Delaire, Donegal St. She was entertained by her aunt and Miss Eleanor Collins. Those present were the Misses Catherine McTeague, Betty Meagher, Vivian Sullivan, Mrs. Eugene Sheedy, Mrs. Robert Halladay, Mrs. Glen Moher, Mrs. Kenneth Gash and Mrs. Cecil Gallagher.

MRS. RICHARD MORROW-TAIT, model turned pilot, completed her round-the-world flight in a light plane Friday, when she landed in Prestwick, Scotland, where she took off one year and a day ago.

Black and Blue Leaders In Ladies' Fall Colors

Two distinct features in fall fashions which have been appearing in Peterborough stores during the past two and three weeks are the introduction of smart velveteen suits, mostly in silver grey, Rembrandt wine and green, and the dominance of black and navy blue among dresses and coats.

From displays in the stores it also seems as though more tweed suits will be worn this Fall. There are some attractive, finely-woven check tweeds with jacket lengths perhaps slightly longer than last season, although there is no sign of the long hip-length jackets which were worn three years ago.

There is going to be more leeway in choice of jacket lengths this Fall. Some extend three inches below the waist while others end at the waist, fitting snugly.

There are some smart silk dresses in both black and navy blue, many suitable for almost any occasion. Many of the black coats are fitting, but the casual coat is also very much in evidence. Fur-trimmed shoulder capes over cloth coats are extremely smart this year.

Lace over taffeta and crepe silk is being used in a variety of styles. One attractive royal blue dress in a Peterborough store has a long fitting bodice of crepe with lace over crepe from hip to hemline. There is also a rich mauve satin two-piece dress with straight skirt and tailored jacket with paneleld back and buttoning front.

This past week has been a busy time in the stores where summer season clothes are being sold at reduced prices, along with new fall outfits.

Aces Up Sleeve Producer Has

By FRED KERNER

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (CP). — Montreal-born Robert Whitehead says he's holding a lot of aces up his sleeve.

To follow up the thumping successes of "Medea" and "Crime and Punishment" a couple of seasons back, Bob has four plays in the writing stage and they all promise to duplicate the quality of his last two smash hits.

First to hit the boards — though no dates have been set — will probably be an adaptation of Anton Chekhov's classic "The Cherry Orchard." Then comes a revival of Pinero's "The Magistrate."

These two will be followed by the Albert Camus play, "The Halter," and a dramatization of Ludwig Lewisohn's tragic novel, "The Case of Mr. Crump."

The Chekhov play is due to be billed as "With No Awakening." It is being adapted by Ben Edwards, designer of the magificent scenery of "Medea," and Virginia Bolen, known domestically as Mrs. Robert Whitehead.

Ina Claire now has the script and is trying to visualize herself as an impoverished aristocrat of the deep South—where the play has been reset. Naturally, Ben Edwards is making sketches for the scenery.

N.S. Girl to Wed Iranian With UN

STELLARTON, N.S., Aug. 19—(CP)—Cecilia Brownrigg, 19-year-old silver blonde from this Nova Scotia coal mining town is engaged to marry the son of a provincial governor of Iran.

The engagement of Miss Brownrigg to Kourus Satrap, son of Governor and Mrs. Beza Satrap of Tehran was announced today. Mr. Satrap is an economist and statistician with the United Nations at Lake Success.

The marriage, which blossoms from a luncheon date on the campus of Columbia University at New York, will take place here Wednesday.

Miss Brownrigg was crowned Queen Northumbria at the Pictou Lobster Carnival in 1948 and participated in the Miss Atlantic beauty pageant at Halifax last month. She has studied fashion designing at New York.

British Planners Preserve Beauty of Country Homes

By DON GILBERT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—(CP)—How best to preserve Britain's country houses of historic or architectural interest is engaging the attention of the government.

Private owners are running a losing race against rising taxation.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, has set up a committee to study the question. It will make recommendations for the maintenance and use of houses which might otherwise be thrown on the commercial market and their beauty and historic value destroyed.

The big problem is to preserve unity between the house and the grounds in which it stands. This is upset when the land is divided into small holdings or the buildings allocated to commercial undertakings.

A strong market exists for houses which can be turned into hotels, boarding schools, hospitals or youth hostels. But for the most part these demands thus far have been met from among less valuable properties.

The Cripps committee will search for means to keep for the nation outstanding country houses whose owners stand in danger of losing them. Experts believe this is possible only if the government is prepared to step in with financial aid on a large and permanent scale.

Keep National Monuments

Two agencies at present are active in this field. The Ministry of Works, a government department, concerns itself mostly with castles, abbeys, palaces and other historic buildings which are national monuments but have little scope for modern uses.

The National Trusts have specialized more in taking over the buildings suitable for occupancy. The trusts are voluntary bodies, depending upon public financial support of their activities.

They try where possible to maintain normal life in the houses they take over. Often they subsidize the owner, allowing him to continue to live there providing he allows the public access to the house and grounds at appropriate times.

Town Councils also have been active in helping preserve houses which lie within or near their boundaries. One recent decision concerns historic Hatfield House, seat of the Marquess of Salisbury in Hertfordshire, and the old town of Hatfield.

A new town is being developed in that area north of London. The Hertfordshire County Planning Committee found that the house and the old town together formed one of the finest surviving examples of a palace and its dependent town. They decided to leave them undisturbed.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Chase Not Over at Altar Wily Women Keep Hubbies

"My dear," said a wise woman to a bride, "it is a good thing to avoid making mistakes in marriage, but it is the things that we do that make our successes. We never love a person for the things he or she didn't do to us. It is the things they do for us that bind us to them with hoops of steel.

Dorothy Dix

"I know that a million red-light danger signals of things that you must not do have been erected for your guidance along the matrimonial road. Now here are some DO's for you:

Vamping a man is a chore that has to be done every day. You know by what manner of approach and what arts of salesmanship you broke down his sales resistance and got him to sign on the dotted line of the marriage contract. Keep it up and you will keep him satisfied with his bargain.

"Meet competition. Remember that your husband is going from you every morning to an office full of pretty, snappy young girls who are well dressed and well groomed and whose business it is to meet him with a glad sweet smile and yes-yes him. Remember you have go to outclass them and carry a superior line of goods to hold your own, thereafter, save your mussy negligees and your bad news for some other time and make breakfast the prettiest, gayest meal of the day.

"A'ssume the attitude of a Lady Love. Most husbands take wives at their own valuation and treat them as they show they expect to be treated. If a woman spends all her time in the kitchen and the nursery and has not interests outside of them, and if her conversational gamut runs from the price of butchers' meat to what little Johnny said and Mary's sniffles and back again, her husband will naturally come to look upon her as a sort of super-hired girl to whom he doesn't even have to give a pay envelope on Saturday nights.

"But if you will keep a death clutch on your romance and never let it get away from you and if you will flirt a bit with your husband and make him still see himself as your Fair Prince, you can keep him for a lover to your golden wedding day. Perhaps it isn't easy to do your housework with one hand while your husband holds the other. But it can be done, and it pays.

"Be a good housekeeper. That is your end of the matrimonial partnership and it is just as much your business to make a comfortable home for your husband as it is his to make a living for you. When your husband married you he put his stomach as well as his heart into your hands and it depends on how you feed him and take care of him whether he will be a pessimistic, dyspeptic wreck at 40 or going strong at 70.

"Be a good sport. Take matrimony on the chin, as it were. Laugh off your husband's little faults and pecularities and the minor trials of life instead of making tragedies of them. Make a joke of the times your husband stumbles off the straight and narrow path instead of weeping over them and holding his shortcomings like a club above his head and he will kiss your feet in gratitude. Get some joy out of your work of making a home and rearing a family, and let your husband see that you consider yourself one of the blessed among women instead of a domestic martyr.

"Count a hundred and then a million more before you make a snappy comeback to your husband when you do not see eye to eye with him on some subject or he criticizes something you do. Of course, it is a temptation to say something that will stab his vanity to the quick and that that will show him where he gets off, but it isn't worth what it costs to get even with one you love and one with whom you have to live. It is the soft answer that turns away a husband's wrath and causes him to make peace offerings of diamond rings and new cars.

"Jolly your husband along. He gest hammered all day in the outside world. Let him come home at night to a wife who is a salve-spreader and whose praise will be a healing ointment poured over the raw spots on his egotism. Tell him how wonderful and clever and brave and strong you think he is. Hand him a few flowers now instead of waiting to put them on his tomb. Probably disembodied spirits are not interested in the inscriptions their widows place upon their tombs.

"Show some appreciation of what your husband does for you. It must be terribly discouraging to a man to spend his life slaving for a woman who not only isn't grateful for what he gives her, but is never satisfied with what she gets. So beat upon the cymbals when your husband gives you a good home and pretty clothes and boast of his goodness to you.

"And finally, my dear, and this is the most important DO of all, tell your husband every day of your life how much you love him and how happy you are and how you thank your guardian angel for having bestowed him upon you. Men are just as heart hungry as women are and just as anxious for tenderness and affection and no man ever grows indifferent to the woman who adores him.

First Meat Plant

ing of the C.P.R. which was not laid through here until 1885. Neither the station and its yards, nor the Ackerman building, nor those on the east side of George St. at Dalhousie had yet been added to the scene. But, the Robert Romaine brickworks had been built in 1875 at the foot of Dalhousie St. with encouragement to the civic hopes and spirit of the citizens of that time.

Neighbor to the packing plant was an old stone building that housed a distillery. It was on the west side of the Jackson Park Creek, opposite the incinerator. Its chimney survived the changes of the years into comparatively recent times, a relic that used to arouse questions of its old associations and identity among those who did not know its past.

Some of Mr. Dobbin's notes are:

"1881—George A. Cox and Mayor H. H. Smith propose to establish a paper mill. Barber Brothers of Toronto are interested. They need a supply of power. Decided it could not be had in Peterborough. The project was not carried out."

"1882—Hall Brothers begin the equipping of a factory on Water St. to make biscuits, etc. Built up a thriving trade. Later moved to part of the building that is now the Lock Works on Simcoe St. After several years of activity, the business changed hands and was discontinued; beaten out by the competition of larger and better-equipped concerns."

"1882—Proposal to establish a car works here. W. H. Law gives details at meeting to take $20,000 stock. Capital stock is $200,000, and stock buyers include Messrs. Cox, McKee, Dunlop, Rogers, Stevenson, Davidson and others. Bylaw to grant $20,000 aid was carried by the ratepayers June 5."

"1882—Council passes bylaw to aid A. W. Brodie to establish a woollen mill. Exemption from taxes for ten years; to employ 39 hands, and run for not less than 200 days each year."

"1882—The Central Iron Works is established by McLean & Bradshaw in the premises of the Helm foundry, Simcoe St. This building is now (1919) part of the premises of the Lock Manufacturing Co., Simcoe St.

"1882—McKee and W. Forsythe build two factories on the Dickson raceway. Each is to employ 40 hands.

1882—New industry established and in operation on the Dickson dam; east side of the river. Building erected. Osborne & Son manufacture pulp from wood by the grinding process. Four Leffel wheels of 54-inch diameter installed. Spur line laid to connect GTR with mill.

1882—Trial in Peterborough of first roller process of grinding wheat into flour. Plant installed by George C. Rogers in the Otonabee flour mill. Very successful."

That note refers to virtually a revolutionary improvement in the cereal industry, and the beginning of the end of the small independent mills with flat stone runs that were harnessed to many of the rivers and small streams throughout the country.

The Otonabee flour mill was perhaps the old stone building on the south side of the Hunter St. bridge, Ashburnham, on the slope of the hill, down from the rock garden of the Quaker Oats Company property.

"1883 — Blythe flour mills equipped with six sets of milling rolls, following the successful introduction of this method at Otonabee mill. Blythe's is now one of the finest mills in the province."

It was on the west side of the river at Auburn.

"1883—The Ontario Canoe Co., organized by J. Z. Rogers, acquired all rights to manufacture basswood, and other grades of board canoes, from John Stevenson. This industry expanded to large proportions. Following loss by fire, the premises were newly erected at the corner of Water and King Streets; enlarged from time to time. Carried on now as the Peterborough Canoe Co., Ltd., doing a large business, and manufacturing world famous canoes."

John Stevenson's small boat shop was up the slope on the south side of the old Hunter St. bridge. Its position recalls the complete change in that Riverside area following the construction of what was then called the high-level concrete bridge, after the Quaker Oats Co. fire.

There were houses and business places on the Burnham and Hunter street faces, with a rather high bank reaching up from the wooden sidewalk on the south side of the street down the hill to the bridge. Riverside Bowl was created out of the reduction of the hill, from which immense quantities of soil were removed.

WIN, PLACE AND SHOW—Her crown set at a jaunty angle, Margaret Lynn Munn of North Vancouver and Toronto, Miss Canada of 1949, is congratulated by Barbara Durelle, RIGHT, who finished second, and Aldene Markle, third, among the 30 contestants. Both runners-up are from Toronto, where a disappointing crowd of 1,000 spectators watched the contest. The three winners split most of the $10,000 in scholarships offered as prizes.

U.S. Stage and Screen Stars Invade British Studios

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Aug. 20 (CP). — Britain is experiencing an unprecedented invasion of stage and screen personalities from the United States.

British movie studios are packed with them. British theatres everywhere are billing their personal appearances. British holiday resorts are playing host to them.

At Teddington Studios in Middlesex, Robert Montgomery is looking for a British girl to play opposite him in "Your Witness." She must have "talent, experience and looks," but need not be a star.

Tyrone Power and his wife, Linda Christian, are staying near picturesque Allington Castle in Kent, where he is working on an historical movie, "The Black Rose."

Gene Tierney, who arrived recently to team up with Richard Widmark in "Night and The City," is doing all the sightseeing she can between work on the sets.

Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon are expected at Pinewood Studios in the Autumn to make a peace-time sequel to "Mrs. Miniver."

Others On Job

Already busy on new films here are Douglas Fairbanks Jr. ("State Secret"), Jennifer Jones ("Gone to Earth"), Marlene Dietrich and Jane Wyman ("Stage Fright"), Burgess Meredith ("Three Men and a Girl"), and Walt Disney ("Treasure Island").

Richard Ney and his wife are spending a travelling vacation in Britain. Ella Raines has taken a house at Selsey Bill, Sussex, to be near her husband, Major Robin Olds, who is in the United States Air Forces.

Paul Muni is making nightly stage appearances in "Death of a Salesman" at London Phoenix Theatre. Band leader Benny Goodman is playing to packed houses at the Palladium, on the same bill with Carl Brisson, Frances Langford and her screen star husband Jon Hall.

"Who is left in Hollywood?" a London movie writer asked.

Warkworth News

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Covert and family recently visited the latter's sister, Mrs. Allan Ferguson and family at Cambray.

Mrs. Gordon Wellard of Belleville, has returned home after visiting her sister, Mrs. Grant Allan and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Peterson.

Mrs. Floyd Harvey and children Marlene, Eleanor, Leslie and Peter, London, Ont. have been holidaying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Covert.

Allan Birney has returned home from Centreton, where he has been spending his holidays at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs Leonard Birney and his grandmother Mrs. A. Birney.

Mrs. George Vansickle spent a few days at the home of John Bright and family.

M. McFarlane left Montreal on Tuesday by plane to visit his two sisters, the Misses McFarlane, who are both in poor health at their hame at Dungibbin in the northern part of Ireland.

Mr and Mrs. Jack Edwards and daughter, of Matchewan, Northern Ontario, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hamilton and family, of Georgetown, spent a few days at the home of their sister, Mrs. Douglas Langford and family.

Mrs. Margaret Bailey, Trenton, has returned home after visiting her sisters, the Misses Gallagher.

Arthur Wartman has purchased the property and remains of the cement block, Stillman garage, restaurant on Front Street which was devastated by fire and has commenced to erect a one-storey building

Mrs. W. Nelson has gone to Toronto, where she has secured a position

Gilbert Fans Bellowing At Sacrilege

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—It's humiliating that the late W. S. Gilbert, who gave the mighty Royal Navy such a royal twitting in "H.M.S. Pinafore," has been put on the spot by a Thames River pleasure flotilla. They want his memorial plaque on the Thames Embankment to play second fiddle to a signboard.

Loyal Gilbert and Sullivan fans are jumping with rage. Like Yum-Yum and Naki-Poo in "The Mikado" they feel to the last man and woman:

"Here's a pretty state of things."

"Here's a pretty how-de-do!"

Thames Water Buses, Limited, started all this. They asked the Westminster City Council for a permit to put up a signboard 17 feet long and four feet, six inches high. But they wanted to put it on top of the granite block which bears the Gilbert memorial. (Legend: "His foe was folly and his weapon wit..")

The council said: No.

Appeal To Ministry

The company appealed to the Ministry of Town and Country Planning, and the case comes up next Wednesday.

Would admirers of the late comic opera lyric writer take it lying down?

The answer was not long coming. They will not. As son Alhambra sings in "The Gondoliers":

"Of that there is no manner of doubt, no probable, possible shadow of doubt, no possible doubt, whatever."

The secretary of the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company, which holds the rights to the Gilbert and Sullivan works, started circulating a protest letter immediately. He got responses a-plenty.

The Gilbertians are gathering their forces.

Thames Water Buses, have a care. Remember the pirate chorus from "The Pirates of Pensance":

"Come, friends who plough the sea, truce to navigation; seek another station.

6—In Memoriams

BOOTH—In loving memory of Thomas Leslie Booth, who died August 21 1946.
He had a cheery smile, a pleasant way,
A helping hand to all he knew;
He was so kind, so generous and true,
On earth he nobly did his best
Grant him Jesus, heavenly rest.
—Sadly missed by his Mother, Mrs. M. Kelly.

GERRARD—In loving memory of mother, Mrs. Jane Gerrard, who passed away August 20, 1933.
Peaceful be thy rest, dear Mother
It is sweet to breathe thy name.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
—Ever remembered by her daughter, Ada.

STEWART—In loving memory of Melville, who passed away six years ago today.
Memory lane is a lonely path,
Where hearts are ever true.
A path I travel again and again
Because it leads to you.
You left me beautiful memories
Often secret tears,
But you will always be with me,
As I journey through the years.
You are always in my mind dear,
No matter what I do.
All the time within my heart,
There is a thought of you.
—Sadly missed by Florence.

WESTLAKE — In memory of dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Rhoda Westlake, who passed away nine years ago today, August 20, 1940.
God knew that you were suffering,
That the hills were hard to climb,
So he closed your weary eyelids
And whispered "Peace be thine."
—Lovingly remembered by daughter and son-in-law Edith and David and grandchildren Kay, Alfred, Gladys, Jim and Susan.

Must Like Jails

KENNETT SQUARE, Pa., Aug. 20—(AP)—Police Chief George A. MacCloskey says he thinks he knows the world's most consistent law breaker.

An 80-year-old man has been arrested 208 times during the last 27 years, says MacCloskey, on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

During that period the man—his name was not disclosed—paid more than $2,000 in fines.

MacCloskey said the man recently refused to pay a $5 fine. "He just told me he was leaving Kennett Square for the state of Delaware where it was cheaper," MacCloskey said.

Want It Kept Secret

CLEVELAND, Aug. 20.—(AP).—The disabled American veterans Friday asked the United States government to not share its atomic knowledge with other countries. In a resolution adopted at the group's annual convention, the D.A.V. called for continued atomic research, but said the information should be kept the United States.

Rear Admiral Dies

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 20. (AP).—Rear Admiral Alexander S. Halstead, commandant of the 12th Naval District from 1920 to 1923, died Friday at the United States Naval Hospital. He was 88. Admiral Halstead distinguished himself as a commanding officer of naval forces in French waters during the First World War and supervised the transportation home of 2,000,000 American soldiers after the war.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Windows Reflect Tone Careful Planning Required

You can paint your house another color . . . you can change your wallpaper every year, but rarely if ever, do you buy new windows. Therefore, be it resolved, future home builders, to study the window situation carefully. Windows are being featured more and more in the modern Canadian home. An architect is very helpful on this point, as he has studied the merits of each style and type as to operation and architectural suitability.

Influence Character of House

The windows in your home can be made to exert a decided influence on its style and character. Their size, shape and location should be carefully studied. Tall, narrow windows give the effect of height; broad, low windows will make your house look wider.

In placing your windows, both exterior and interior appearance, as well as practicality of arrangement, indoors and out, should be carefully studied. It is advisable to group your windows, because single windows are often hard to space nicely.

Window openings need screens for which copper (bronze) is preferred. Weather-stripping, double-glazing, or storm sash are desirable.

After arranging your windows to the best all-round advantage, you will do well to insist that they be glazed with window glass of high quality. Its sparkle and brilliance will add liveliness and warmth, create an atmosphere of friendly hospitality.

The selection of the right type of window for your home should depend on its architecture and your personal preference. Casement windows have much to recommend them as they may be opened so that the extending window acts as a deflecting ventilator, as well as giving 100 per cent opening.

Should Fit Properly

Properly fitted windows are important in a new house. Rattling windows are usually due to careless fitting of window stops (the narrow strips which hold the sash in place). Windows may bind a little, if they are in place while the plastering is being done until the house dries out, or the woodwork has time to adjust itself to atmospheric conditions in the completed house.

Recent developments in the manufacture of wood windows have given home builders the opportunity of buying perfect fitting stock windows already insulated against cold. These are available in all styles, including circle windows and basement sash.

Early Care Important

There are certain fundamentals of good common sense construction which should be observed for permanence of building, decoration and painting. There are a number of faults against which which simple precautions should be taken in order to realize the maximum benefits from good lumber and good paint.

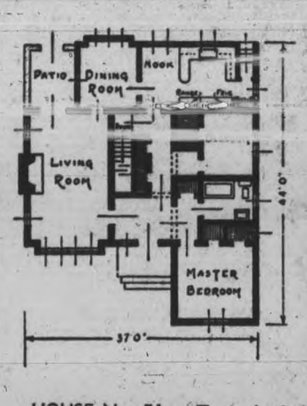
MOST COMMON FAULTS:

1. Improper protection of lumber after delivery to the building site and before it is used; allowing siding to lie directly on the ground and to be rained or snowed on will naturally cause it to absorb moisture. Siding should always be protected from the weather and kept dry.

2. Painting too soon after a rain. This is a very common fault.

3. Closing up a newly plastered house and heating it to dry plaster. The moisture from the plaster is vaporized and, in cold weather, condenses on the inside of the siding since it cannot escape. More ventilation and slower drying of plaster will correct this condition.

4. Faulty construction, particularly inadequate flashings and drip caps, which allows water to run in behind siding.



5. Damp basements, siding carried too close to the ground, and poor ventilation under porches or other parts of homes under which basements do not extend.

Avoiding Excessive Moisture

All of the above sources of excessive moisture can easily be avoided. The observance of suitable precautions should be considered a part of good construction practice, regardless of the siding material used. Neglect means trouble with other materials just as often as it does with wood siding, so good construction practices are always worthwhile. All the woods commonly used for siding are painted successfully where paint materials of good quality are properly applied.

Hundreds of gallons of water are introduced into a building during plastering operations. Following the completion of a newly plastered home there is a period of so-called "drying out." This continues until the general moisture content of the structure is reduced to a more or less static dry state at which it will remain, subject to the minor fluctuations of the seasons during the life of the building.

Built of good materials the average house is not particularly damp until the entire structure is soaked under a blanket of wet plaster. Most lumber delivered by a good lumber dealer to a building site is already dry . . . the result of kiln or air drying. Moisture from the wet plaster is absorbed in part by the dry wood. Time should be given for the wood to re-dry and for the plaster to become thoroughly dry before final woodwork in the form of finish, trim, cabinets and other items usually kiln dried are installed in the building.

HOUSE No. 51 — Typical of the conservatively modern style continuing in post-war housing, this fine home radiates a refreshing appeal that is hard to deny. It contains five rooms, a dining nook and patio on the first floor. In addition, there is a third bedroom with shower, a large rumpus room finished in knotty pine, laundry and furnace room in the basement. The large window of the living room provides the most striking feature of the exterior. Simplicity of the flush gable also catches the eye. Every detail shows evidence of careful design and execution. Kitchen location and arrangement is well laid out — the dining nook is always a welcome feature in any home. Cupboard space appears ample, particularly in the master bedroom. The owner has achieved a happy foundation planting that plays a large part in the finished effect. Fronting east, this home has a frontage of 37 feet. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

93% University Students Placed In Canadian Jobs

OTTAWA, Aug. 20 — (CP) — The Labor Department came up Thursday with a new report to those who bewail the loss of Canadian brains to the United States.

It reported that by mid July more than 93 per cent of the largest group of students ever to graduate from Canada's universities were placed in Canadian jobs They numbered more than 17,000.

The report was made by the executive and professional division of its national employment service. It drew from Labor Minister Mitchell a compliment to employers generally "for their splendid co-operation."

It said 50 per cent of the graduates were war veterans. Among under-graduates, 94 per cent had summer employment by mid-July. The minister considered it likely that by now the rest have work if they want it.

The report said a detailed campaign was conducted to seek the co-operation of employers in absorbing the record number.

Beauty Contest Brings Woes

TORONTO, Aug. 20—(CP)—A squabble over meal bills Friday added to the troubles of the 1949 Miss Canada contest.

Some of the 30 contestants, when checking out of a downtown hotel with their chaperones, said they were handed meal bills. They said the hotel cashier told them that only meals served in the cafeteria were to be paid for by the contest sponsors.

Later S. Radcliffe Weaver of Hamilton, promoter of the contest, said the sponsors would pay for the meals. But, by that time, some girls had already paid the bills and left.

Margaret Lynn Munns of Toronto, formerly of Vancouver, Thursday was chosen Miss Canada of 1949. Only 1,000 persons turned out for the contest, held in Maple Leaf Gardens which has seating capacity of 15,000.

Has 107th Birthday

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 20. — (CP).—Robert Reynolds, who claims to be 107 years old, celebrates his birthday Saturday Reynolds, who says he was born in 1842, has lived here all his life. Still active, he reads newspapers without using spectacles.

Rural Hydro Grants Total $14,876,000

DESBORO, Ont., Aug. 20—(CP) —Agriculture Minister Kennedy of Ontario said Friday that grants for rural hydro, now under his department's supervision, will total $14,876,000 this year.

Speaking at a meeting of Grey County Women's Institutes, he said:

"This means that one-half of the cost of hydro extensions in rural areas will be paid by the province and the other half by farmers.

"No farm in Ontario should be without electricity ,if at all possible. In these days of labor-saving devices, electricity is economical and essential for farms."

X-Ray Surveys Giving Health Back To Indians

By GRAHAM TROTTER.

EDMONTON, Aug. 20 (CP)—The white men are paying back an old debt to Canada's native Indians and Eskimos.

When the whites took over the country, they brought along diseases which ravaged the native population. Now Canadian medical men are giving the Indians and Eskimos back their lost health.

An X-ray survey for tuberculosis is being conducted among the Indians of Alberta and all the population of the Yukon and the North-west Territories. In a geographical sense, it is easily the biggest health survey ever undertaken in Canada, perhaps in the world.

Directing the search for tuberculosis which also has brought to light other chest diseases, is Dr. Hebert Meltzer, medical director of the Dominion's Charles Camsell Indian Hospital here. The former Winnipeg surgeon supervises the work of three X-ray teams which cover the vast expanse by automobile, plane and boat.

Reducing Population

"Record of 1947 — the latest available — show that the incidence of tuberculosis in Alberta was 21 whites and 684 Indians for every 100,000 population," Dr. Meltzer said in an interview.

"The disease was reducing the Indian population But in recent years with better health services being made available to them, all Indian agencies in Alberta are reporting population increases — some as high as 6 per cent annually."

It is hoped the present X-ray survey will help to halt the alarming decrease in the Eskimo population, believed to number only a few thousand.

One of the worst outbreaks of tuberculosis located by the survey was at Coppermine NWT, 950 miles north of Edmonton. Of 219 natives X-rayed, 25 had tuberculosis.

About eight of the victims will be flown to hospital at Aklavik, NWT.

Blames Labor Gov't.

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 20 (CP). England's Labor Government is sealing the doom of the British Empire, Thomas F. Kingsmill, former London Mayor and prominent business man, charged on Friday. Mr. Kingsmill returned from England last month after a five-week tour of the country. "They (the Laborites) gave the people everything for nothing," he claimed. "Now the country is absolutely bankrupt, or will be in short order."

Seek To Keep More Papers Of Cabinet Men

OTTAWA, Aug. 20 (CP)—The Canadian Historical Association today disputed the right of cabinet ministers to remove ministerial papers when they leave office.

Some of those papers, the association said in a brief prepared for the royal commission on arts and science development, rightfully were part of Canadian history.

It called for a halt to the destruction of important government documents and it suggested segregation of a minister's public and private papers.

Those found to be in the public domain should be handed over to the public archives, the association said. Ministers could do as they pleased with their private papers but they should be urged to place these in the archives also.

The archives could prevent the public from seeing the private documents as long as ministers wanted them kept secret, with the specification, however, that historians might be able to use them for research in the future.

Mr. King C-operates

The association said its views on ministerial papers had been outlined to Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King when he was prime minister.

(Since that time Mr. King has turned over several trunks of his private papers to the archives.)

Means had to be found, said the association, of preserving all historical documents bearing on the interest of the public.

It suggested the archives concentrate on private collections in various Canadian centres. It realized, of course, that the archives would need a bigger budget to buy these collections.

The association urged the expansion of various other government cultural organizations that had historical significance and greater support for the social scientist working with far less money than the physical scientist.

It recommended the immediate construction of a national library which could help Canadian historical studies.

Sault Protests Tourist Delay

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 20—(CP)—The Sault Ste. Marie Chamber of Commerce has sent a telegram to David Sim, deputy minister of national revenue for customs and excise, protesting delays in customs inspections of American tourists entering from and returning to the United States by way of Sault Ste. Marie.

The telegram, signed by President R. L. Curran, of the Sault Chamber of Commerce, states in part that "tourist operators, local merchants and others in the area have received numerous complaints from American tourists and Canadian citizens of long delays on entering and leaving Canada occasioned by poorly organized and exhausting examinations by Canadian customs officers."

Unless action is taken, the telegram says, tourist business will be affected.

GARDEN TECHNIQUE

Onions are deliberately overcrowded in planting in order to stunt the growth of the bulbs for food purposes.

Rector and Wife Celebrate 45th Wedding Anniversary

ROSENEATH, Aug. 20 (ENS)—Canon C. R. Spencer, rector of St. James' Anglican Church, Roseneath, and Mrs. Spencer celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary on Wednesday at their home and entertained the members of their family, that were able to be with them, at a family dinner in the evening.

Eleven Children

Canon and Mrs. Spencer were married August 17, 1904, at Haliburton. Eleven children were born to them all of whom are living. There are seven daughters and four sons, namely: Mrs. (Rev.) Roy Melville (Hilda) Sydney, British Columbia; Mrs. Douglas Lockhart (Thelma) of Toronto; Mrs. Dudley Oliver, (Alixe) of Barrie; Mrs. John Ellis (Margaret) Montreal; Mrs. George Hale (Mary), Barrie; Mrs. John Brooks, (Catherine) Toronto; Mrs. Ross Macklin (Betty) Fenella; Selby of Hamilton; Thomas with the R.C.A.F., Weston; George in Vancouver; Chas. at Petawawa.

Mother 92

Canon and Mrs. Spencer spent their holidays this year with the former's ninety-two year old mother at Haileybury.

Canon Spencer served in France in World War I and was a Chaplain in World War II. His sons were all on active service together with five of his seven sons-in-law.

Find New Autry Tough Hombre, Rugged Cowboy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 20—(AP)—Watch out for the new Gene Autry, podner—he's tough.

A change has been taking place within the confines of Gene Autry productions. The once easy-going cowpoke is becoming a rugged son of the west. Richard Widmark, move over.

Autry scripts now call for at least two fights a picture. Rough and tumble stuff, too. He also does a lot of hard riding. A favorite stunt is to pull the villain off his nag while both are galloping at breakneck speed.

The western star got his start as a singing cowboy in a colorful get-up.

"I was the only one in those days," he recalled on the set of "Beyond the Purple Hills."

Changed Type

"All of a sudden there were singing cowboys all over the place. So I decided I should change types. I'm a tough cowboy now, and I wear simple clothes that'll take a lot of wear. The only time I wear flashy get-ups is when I'm doing a personal appearance."

Autry says he has three groups of fans: young kids up to 10, who want him rough and romanceless; 'teen-agers, who like a bit of romance with the action; the older people, who go for romance, thrills, plus a few songs.

No Kissing

The first group dictates that Gene gets no kissing on the screen. "Sometimes I think that's a dirty trick," he adds.

The new Autry films have more and blacker villains and more shooting. However, the star himself seldom fires a gun. Usually he does so only to nick the villain in his shooting hand.

Boat Explodes

Believes Drug Aids Polio Case

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 20 (AP)—Mary Lou Barnes, stricken a week ago by an ailment which her physician said he diagnosed as poliomyelitis, was back in class at Ohio State University today.

Her rapid recovery began after the physician administered one injection of a drug called glyoxylide.

"She is feeling very good," said Mrs. Laura Barnes, mother of the 19-year-old sophomore.

The doctor, who asked that his name be withheld, insisted that Mary Lou's illness was polio. Her right side from her hip to her toes became stiff and numb, he explained, and motion of the right wrist was affected; also there were other symptoms.

But whether the drug caused he recovery—well, he said, that could not be stated positively. The fact remains, he declared, that she did recover, and anyone can draw their own conclusions.

A spokesman for the American Medical Association said in Chicago that he had no knowledge of any drug that would prevent polio or affect its course.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis shared the AMA viewpoint.

Veteran Stalls Big Plant Fire At London

LONDON, Aug. 19 — (CP) - Twenty-nine-year-old William Turner of London, rescued as he hung from the third storey of the downtown Dixon building by his fingertips was credited Friday by firemen in stalling a threatened major fire.

Turner, a married war veteran, dashed into the blazing store room of the Luxite Division of Holeproof Hosiery on the third floor of the Talbot and Carling Street Dixon building, and sealed off a fire which caused an estimated $40,000 damage.

Turner, an employee of the company is also the son of Leslie W. Turner, general manager of Holeproof Hosiery.

Cause of the fire is not yet known. It was first discovered by employees of the Luxite Division returning from mid-morning rest. By that time flames were already shooting out the top storey windows as the fire ripped through inflammable raw luxury lingerie materials.

20 Missing On RCAF Plane In Arctic Wastes, Weather Hampers Search

Brockville Nurse, 7 Eskimo Polio Cases Included Among Passengers
Canso Last Heard 2 Hours From Churchill

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22—(CP)—Storm-swept northern Manitoba held secret today the fate of an Air Force plane carrying 20 persons, including a Brockville physiotherapist, Constance Beattie. The plane, an amphibious Canso, vanished Sunday night on the 600-mile run from the northern part of Churchill to Winnipeg. Air Force officials said it might have been forced down on one of the innumerable lakes spotting the north country.

Aboard at the time were seven crew members, seven Eskimos, four Weather Bureau men, a Canadian Press reporter, and 24-year-old Miss Beattie. The Eskimos had been crippled in a poliomyelitis outbreak that swept the northern reions last winter and were being brought to Winnipeg for hospital treatment.

Shortly before noon today Air Commodore Martin Costello, of the RCAF, said that three Dakota search planes which combed the area this morning had been hampered in search efforts by the poor weather.

No More Word

The Canso, a type used on Coastal Command work during the war, last was heard from shortly before 8 p.m. Sunday night, roughly two hours after it had taken off from Churchill. The plane left Winnipeg last Monday, making various calls through the northern area. One of its calls had been to Clyde River on the north side of Baffin Island and about 1,200 miles northeast of Churchill. The weather men, due for leave, had been picked up there.

The call to Clyde was to take in a new weather station there.

Sunday the Canso, a two-engined plane, hopped from Churchill to Chesterfield inlet, about 400 miles north of Churchill in the northwest territories, to pick up the stricken Eskimos. Two of the Eskimos were older women, three were young girls and two were men. Five of the Eskimos were stretcher cases.

Miss Beattie, their attendant, went north this spring to work for the Indian Affairs Department. The polio epidemic swept the Arctic Wastes last spring, causing a large number of deaths

230 Frenchmen Perish In Forest Fires

BORDEAUX, France, Aug. 22—(CP)—About 230 persons have been killed so far in the great forest fires which have ravaged the Landes region of Bordeaux during the last few days, Pierre Combre, prefect of the Gironde department, told a reporter today.

Indo-Chinese troops from a garrison at Mont-de-Marsan found 30 bodies in the scorched brush near the town. Some soldiers are among the firefighters.

Police have arrested nine 'teenagers on charges arising out of the forest fires. Two boys of 14 and a girl of 16 were arrested in the Landes department.

Firefighters Sunday halted the blaze within six miles of Bordeaux after the wind which had been fanning the fire dropped.

The newspaper France-Soir said police have found "several strange tubes" containing fire-lighting powder. Police believed a "Black Maquis" might be at work, said the newspaper.

Homes Looted

In several fire-devastated areas, villagers returned from fighting flames to find their homes looted.

Refugees arriving here from Cestas spoke of fire advancing "with the speed of a galloping horse," leaving behind a desert of ashes. Others told of resinous trees which blazed up like torches.

Taxi Hits Train Report 5 Killed

DESBIENS, Que., Aug. 22 (CP)—Five persons including a young couple and their six-year-old daughter were killed Saturday night when their taxi plowed into a Canadian National Railways train 16 miles from this northeastern Quebec village.

Dead are Mr. and Mrs. Henri Caouette, 30 and 23 respectively; their daughter, Francine; Albert Fortin, 30, and Normand Larouche, 26, owner and driver of the taxi, all of Herbertville.

Desbiens is about 150 miles north of Quebec City.

Three of the victims were thrown clear of the automobile and died instantly. The other two died a few hours later. Mr. and Mrs. Caouette and Fortin were mutilated almost beyond recognition. Mrs. Caouette was decapitated.

Nationalists Claim Important Victory

CANTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Nationalists claimed more success today on the vital central China war front north of this Communist-threatened capital.

The government claimed a Red thrust to cut the Canton-Hankow Railway and isolate the Hunan province defence bastion of Hengyang had been thrown back.

The Nationalists said they beat back Red Gen. Lin Piao's attempt to take Leiyang, 230 miles north of Canton, after his forces had bypassed Gen. Pai Chung-hsi's central China defence headquarters at Hengyang, 35 miles further north.

The government counterattack carried 30 miles northeast of Leiyang to recapture Anjen, which guards Pai's eastern flank, it was reported.

Sir Harry Lauder Said Critically Ill

STRATHAVEN, Scotland, Aug. 22 (AP)—Sir Harry Lauder, the famed Scottish comedian, was reported critically ill today at his home near Strathaven.

Sir Harry celebrated his 79th birthday Aug. 4.

The little, bandy-legged Scotsman who entertained millions all over the world has been in poor health for some time. Doctors said he had grown weaker during the last month and took a turn for the worse during the weekend.

At the end of last year, Sir Harry cancelled plans for a visit to the United States because of his healh.

Smuggle Hose In Food Parcels

LONDON, Aug. 22—(AP)—The Customs Office said today that it has broken up a racket under which smugglers, using food parcels as a blind, have sent more than 10,000 pairs of nylon stockings from New York to Britain.

Nylon stockings bcing three to four times their value on the British black market. Imports of such materials are rigorously controlled. A high luxury tax adds to the price of nylons in regular trade channels.

The Customs Office said the nylons were packed into parcels labelled as Matzos, the unleavened wafers eaten by Jews at Passover. Each parcel consisted of three boxes, two actually containing Matzos and the third crammed with 50 or more pairs of stockings.

The dodge came to light during a routine inspection of parcels in a post office depot. More than 200 of the parcels were seized.

The Trades Advisory Council, a Jewish organization with headquarters in London, took part in the investigation that followed.

Maurice Orbach, labor member of parliament and secretary of the council, told reporters today he had just flown back from New York, where he tried to run down the organization which sent the parcels.

"We are after a big gang," he said.

Find Indonesian Leaders Hopeful of Sovereignty

BATAVIA, Java, Aug. 22 (AP)—Indonesia's leaders have gone to the Hague Round Table with improved hopes of getting unconditional sovereignty this year for their people from the Netherlands, who have ruled them for three-and-a-half centuries.

The bargaining in the Netherlands over the future status of the old Dutch East Indies starts Tuesday.

The Netherlands has promised to yield sovereignty to the 50,000,000 to 70,000,000 islanders, but want to keep them in a union with the Netherlands and other possessions under the crown.

Among the more optimistic, the only question remaining is how strong or loose the tie may be. Among the pessimists there is a feeling that any deal made at the round table will have a high hurdle to jump when it reached the Netherlands parliament for approval—a parliament showing signs of stubborn resistance to the idea of giving away a large piece of Queen Juliana's empire.

Leaders of the Indonesian republic—the prime minister for independence—and headmen from 15 other states outside republican territory of the Indies, met to settle differences among themselves before going to the Hague. They quickly closed ranks to present a solid front for sovereignty.

Past settlements of the Dutch-Indonesian conflict have been made on paper and then failed in operation. But the current talks seem to have a better chance of success.

BARK LAKE BLAZE IN GLAMORGAN TOWNSHIP, Haliburton, has been estimated to have destroyed 3,000 acres of timber. Reported to have been checked by Sunday evening, the morning wind at ten o'clock today fanned the fire to a fresh start on the long circular western front. In the air photos above, the smoke billows from a stand of evergreen timber at the northwest fire corner. Left photo. The western boundary of the fire is shown in the Right photo and the unnamed lake in the foreground is a short distance from where firefighters trucks were parked.

Bad Earth Tremors Rock B.C.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 22—(CP)—An earth tremor described as probably the most intense ever recorded in Canada rippled through British Columbia Sunday night. It touched at Petersberg, Alaska at one end and Portland, Ore., at the other. Jasper, Alta., also was rocked. Only slight property damage and no casualties are reported. Seismographs at Harvard, Mass., and Ottawa recorded the shocks which officials said showed intensities exceeding from five to 10 times the disastrous Ecuador quakes.

At 9 p.m. PDT the shocks rocked the area and continued for five minutes. Other waves less severe followed.

In Ketchikan, Alaska, Americans fled a Sunday theatre. Publisher Bill Baker of the Kitchikan Herald, stepping off an upcoast steamer, said the gangplank almost snapped as the shocks persisted.

In the Queen Charlottes, chimneys toppled to the ground, homes rocked on their foundations, dishes crashed to the floor and windows shattered.

No Damage

Vancouver felt it slightly but no damage was reported. In Seattle, the 42-storey Smith Tower swayed dangerously. At Portland, Ore., a houseboat rocked on the Willamette River.

Victoria and Vancouver Island centres reported no tremors. Graham Island, the effect was strongest. Dozens of brick chimneys crumbled. A three-minute shock, followed by several small-

Bush Fire Explodes Shells Use 250 Army Firefighters

ST. THOMAS, Que., Aug. 22—(CP)—A blazing brush fire today continue dto explode "dud" anti-aircraft shells on the 10-square mile army proving ground at nearby St. Maurice en Haut. More than 250 army firefighters working behind protective steel screens were attempting to combat the blaze while pieces of shrapnel whizzed precariously past them.

The brush fire, believed to have been started Saturday night by careless berry pickers, swept into the proving range of the No. 34 Depot of the Canadian Ordnance Corps, early Sunday morning and set thousands of the dud 22-millimetre shells exploding.

Evacuate Homes

Nearby villagers in St. Therese, St. Lin, Pont David and Terrebonne County, evacuated their homes and sought refuge in fields behind rocks as the terrific roar from the exploding shells thundered throughout the night and the following day.

The army immediately recruited a firefighting corps from the St. Therese Depot and attempted to isolate the blaze by digging ditches around the burning areas. But shifting winds soon scattered the blaze throughout the area and army officials were forced to put in an urgent call for more soldiers from the Longue Pointe Ordnance Depot at Montreal. Bulldozers were also rushed to the scene. The bulldozers were backed by crews of sweating pick and shovel gangs who raced against time and shifting winds.

Sunday night the army reported that the blaze was "still not confined or under complete control."

Late Sunday night no injuries had been reported by army or police.

Dying Veteran Gets New Chance

DETROIT, Aug. 22 (AP)—Ernest Gillum, 34, appealed for help Saturday in finding a special kind of a job that a man doomed to die could fill. The 34-year-old veteran said he has cancer and the doctors have given him only six months to live.

"I know I'm going to die soon," he said, "but the trouble is, I have to eat until I do."

Gillum said Sunday he had been given a "new lease on life." He said this is what happened after his story appeared in the newspapers:

A millionaire business man, who asked that his name be kept secret, came to him and said:

"I'm going to give you a job—a good one.

"But first, I'm going to get you cured."

The millionaire told him he knew of a doctor who had effected remarkable cancer cures in Europe and the United States. He is going to take him to the doctor this week to start a series of treatments.

Afterward Gillum said, "I'm going to take a permanent job. Not the temporary one I was looking for."

Wildcat Mine Strike Makes 20,000 Idle

LONDON, Aug. 22—(AP)—A spreading wildcat strike by mine-elevator operators threw 20,000 men out of work in the coal fields of northeast England today.

The National Coal Board, which runs the state-owned mines for the government, estimaed the loss of coal would run 20,000 to 23,000 tons a day.

Smoke Columns 4,000 Feet High

By NICK NICKELS.

The three thousand acre Bark Lake Haliburton fire that almost got out of control over the weekend appeared from the air this morning to be checked. The west wind which rose shortly after ten started fanning the three-mile western perimeter of the blaze and sent smoke columns 4,000 feet high as it ate into evergreen stands in the lowland of the rocky terrain.

A mile west in front of the fire fighters' trucks were parked and although crews could not be seen from the air, it was apparent they took a narrow slash road to the blaze. Known officially as the Bark Lake fire, and although it was too smoky to see the extent of the fire track, it swung south and west of the lake over the weekend. It is reported that the Department of Lands and Forests flew in 14 rangers who set up headquarters at Bark Lake on Sunday. There may also have been Department aircraft in the area today and the operator of the Haliburton Airways on Lake Kashawigamog where the news plane stopped for gas, said he thought fire fighting planes were based a few miles south on Gullfoot Lake.

Returning from the fire around the southern edge, a large burning area was observed beside a strip of farms which skirted the Irondale river. The width of the cultivated land would appear to be a natural check for the fire in that quarter.

Fire hazard in the bush everywhere are high according to not only the warnings put out constantly by the Forestry Department but quite noticeable in the acres scorched on rocky ridges and in dry swamps.

Sizzling Hespeler Routs 80 Invading Zootsuiters

HESPELER, Aug. 22 (CP)—A gang of about 80 Brantford and Paris zootsuiters invaded Hespeler Sunday night to get revenge for a beating one of their number received a week ago.

They failed in their purpose and many of them scurried home badly bruised after a clash with townspeople. Two of them are behind the bars.

The invaders arrived about 11 o'clock in cars and two trucks and paraded in groups up and down the main street. A crowd started lining up for a midnight show which the invaders told police they were going to attend. About a hundred Hespelerites gathered and ordered the invaders out of town and when they didn't move, tackled them, chasing them through side streets, lanes and gardens. Several of the zooters received rough treatment.

Police Chief Elmer Simmen and his assistant arrived on the scene and gave the invaders five minutes to get out of town. When some of them piled into their trucks, they were followed by enraged Hespelerites, who boarded the vehicles and tossed the zooters off onto the pavement. In the meantime a force of Provincial and Galt police arrived on the scene and brought the situation under control.

3,000 Acres of Timber Swept By Blaze, Plan New Fire Line

A forest fire raging through Snowden Township in Haliburton County, is still burning uncheckl ed in the north-east corner of the area, Department of Lands and Forests officials said to-day.

Firefighters are planning a bulldozed fire line in the north-east side of the burning area between Bark Lake and Caschlong Lake should it become necessary.

The fire, which is the largest of 110 now burning in the province, has been fought by ground and airborne crews of firefighters over the week-end.

In Lutterworth Township, another serious fire that threatened the town of Kinmount Saurday, is reported under control, as well all fires in the Timiskaming and Sudbury districts

Bulldozers, aircraft and portable radio sets have been thrown into the battle against the fire in Snowden Township.

The blaze broke out Saturday in scrub timber and swept over 3,000 acres despite the efforts of 335 firefighters. Emergency crews set up pumps to guard the many villages and summer camps that dot the area 180 miles northeast of Toronto, an ideal resort country with its many lakes and thick woodlands.

Some families moved out of Irondale, a 40-peron hamlet on the south fringe of the fire, at the height of the blaze, but officials said no settlements remained endangered.

Set Up Stations

Short-wave radio stations to direct the firefighters were set up at Minden, Bark Lake and Miner's Bay. Radio-equipped Lands and Forests Department planes were flown in from Sudbury, North Bay and Sault Ste. Marie. Deputy Lands Minister Frank McDougall of Ontario flew over the territory to assist in co-

Shoots Customer Over Cold Bun

ORILLIA, Aug. 22 — (CP) — Walter P. Richmond of Orillia was shot in the ankle with a .32 calibre revolver Sunday after an argument over a cold hamburger bun at a roadside snack bar 10 miles north of here.

Police charged Harry Shore, proprietor of the cafe, with shooting with intent and assault occasioning bodily harm. He has been released on $2,000 bail.

Richmond entered the snack bar accompanied by four other men and two women, police said, and found his hamburger bun was cold. He complained and the waiter called Shore.

Police said Richmond was struck on the head with the butt of a revolver as he walked toward the door saying he would not pay for the hamburger. A scuffle ensued and Richmond was shot.

Plunges 128 Feet Below Raging Falls

FORT WILLIAM, Aug. 22—(CP)—Mrs. Carl Waino of Port Arthur slipped on rocky banks of the Kaministiquia River, 16 miles west of here Sunday and plunged 128 feet to the surging water below, a few efet beyond the raging Kakabeka Falls. Deep water cushioned her fall but she was severely injured.

A group of men dragging below for a man believed to have drowned Saturday, reached her and brought her to shore.

Mrs. Waino had gone to the river bank with friends to watch the river dragging for the body of Rod McLeod, her brother-in-law, who disappeared Saturday. McLeod's body was not found.

She inched closer to the edge of the high bank to get a better view. She suddenly screamed and hurled to the foaming river. As she struck the water, she disappeared but soon broke the surface and began to struggle.

68-Year-Old Lillico Home Destroyed In $19,000 Fire

A Peterborough district landmark on Saturday morning was reduced to a heap of blackened bricks and smouldering ashes when the 68-year-old Lillico homestead on Highway 28, five miles west of here, burned to the ground.

Loss is set at nearly $19,000 and it is partly covered by insurance. Nobody was injured, but three people—one a baby—had to flee the premises.

Hundreds of spectators, many of them tourists, saw the two-storey brick house which is perched on a hill overlooking the highway, go up in flames. So intense was the fire that the pumper and crew from Peterborough were obliged to abandon any attempt to extinguish it, and the firemen had to be content with ensuring the blaze did not spread to nearby buildings. The large barn to the north was untouched.

Norman Lillico, Jr., owner of the house, his wife and three children—Gail, age 5; Sharon, 3½; and Wayne, three months, had left their North Monaghan residence in the family car only about 20 minutes before the fire broke out. They intended to return at night to their spacious home after spending the day in Peterborough.

Just how the fire began is still a mystery, but the general location of its source is known. North of the Lillico residence there was a long wooden shed divided into three sections: the first, and the one nearest the house, was a summer kitchen; next was a two-year supply of firewood, about 35 cords in all; and the third section housed implements and served as a garage.

Set House Ablaze

It was flames from the shed that set the house ablaze. A strong north-west wind whipped up the fire and in the space of a few minutes tongues of flames were shooting into the 11-room brick structure immediately to the south of the shed.

Only occupants at the time were Mrs. Mortson, a tenant, and her two children—Grace, age 12, and Charles, 16 months. Mrs. Mortson phoned in the alarm to the Peterborough Fire Department and ushered her two children to safety. She was assisted in this latter effort by an unidentified motorist on his way to Ottawa who saw the fire from the highway and drove up the laneway to lend a hand.

Mrs. Mortson was able to salvage some of her own belongings but the remainder, as well as the possessions of the Lillicos was destroyed. She saved two tables several chairs, mattresses, clothing a baby carriage, and several other items.

Heat Too Much

Neighbors who arrived swiftly on the scene found the smoke so thick and the heat so intense that further salvage work was impossible.

Among the first to reach the Lillico residence were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Seymour who were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Preston, neighbors immediately to the west. Mrs. Seymour noticed smoke and called the attention of her husband to it.

By the time they crossed the farmland the fire had spread from the shed to the house and when Mr. Seymour tried to enter the front door of the Lillico house he was met with a strong blast of heat and smoke.

When the two had started out a few minutes before the flames were confined to the long wooden shed, but were travelling rapidly.

"The shed just went like tinder," Mr. Seymour observed. "It was the north wind that did it. By the time we got there it was too late to save anything more."

Spectators were able to see the fury of the blaze as waves of flame shot out the windows in both the upper and lower storeys at times as much as 50 feet. When the metal roof finally caved in and brought down a portion of the brick wall with it, the fire surged skyward and the inside of the building appeared one churning mass of roaring flame.

(Ironically, the metal roof was put on two years ago by Mr. Lillico to prevent any possible fire due to flying sparks. Having done so he thought he had eliminated the major fire hazard.)

Peterborough firemen parked their pumper truck north of the burning dwelling, between it and the large barn, which is situated about 100 feet from the demolished shed. Had the wind shifted to the south-west they would have been hard pressed to save it, but they were not called on to do so.

Says Stove Out

Mr. Lillico told the Examiner he had no idea how the outbreak began. The wood stove in the kitchen section of the shed had been in use a couple of hours previously, but it had been out for a long time, he said.

A threshing machine in the shed, valued at more than $1,000 was also destroyed.

William Seymour, a neighbor, said he nearly suffered a property loss in the fire. Had the blaze started the day before he would have lost his combine which was stored in the shed. Peas were being harvested and threshed at Lillico's and his machine was being used.

Pioneer Family

The Lillico family are pioneer stock, and the land was originally obtained from the Crown. First Lillicos settled on the farm about 1819.

Sixty-eight years ago Mr. Lillico's grandfather, Richard William Lillico, replaced the log house which had stood there for many years with the large all-brick structure well-known to North Monaghan residents.

Mr. Lillico expects to rebuild the homestead, but he will probably have to start right at the foundation. The fire was so hot that it cracked out the mortar in the bricks, thus making them unsafe as part of a new building.

He and his wife and three children are living with relatives until further plans can be made.

Refugee Ship Towed Into Halifax

HALIFAX, Aug. 22 — (CP).— ter Unimak headed for Halifax Sunday night with the 100-foot refugee schooner Amanda in tow. The Unimak reached the disabled two-masted vessel late Saturday after a day-long dash from a point near New York.

The cutter informed the Air Force here that the Amanda did not have a sick mother and her new-born child, as had been reported earlier. However, a woman aboard was expecting a baby in three weeks. The schooner needed neither water nor medical assistance, although she had to be provisioned.

The Unimak said she expected to reach port some time late on Monday. Aboard the Amanda are 31 Baltic refugees who sailed from Gothenburg July 7. Included are eight women and four children, the youngest 18 months.

Meanwhile, the 4,200-ton Panamanian freighter Eugenia prepared to enter drydock in Halifax after being escorted into port on Saturday night by the Canadian destroyer Iroquois. The Eugenia, her steering and emergency gear broken down, asked for assistance Friday, 80 miles south-east of Halifax.

Another ship, the C. E. Roland, limped toward Cape Breton Island after encountering trouble two miles off Esprit Light and 40 miles south-east of Sydney. An Air Force plane flew over the Roland and reported her crew did not appear in danger. The vessel was making three knots.

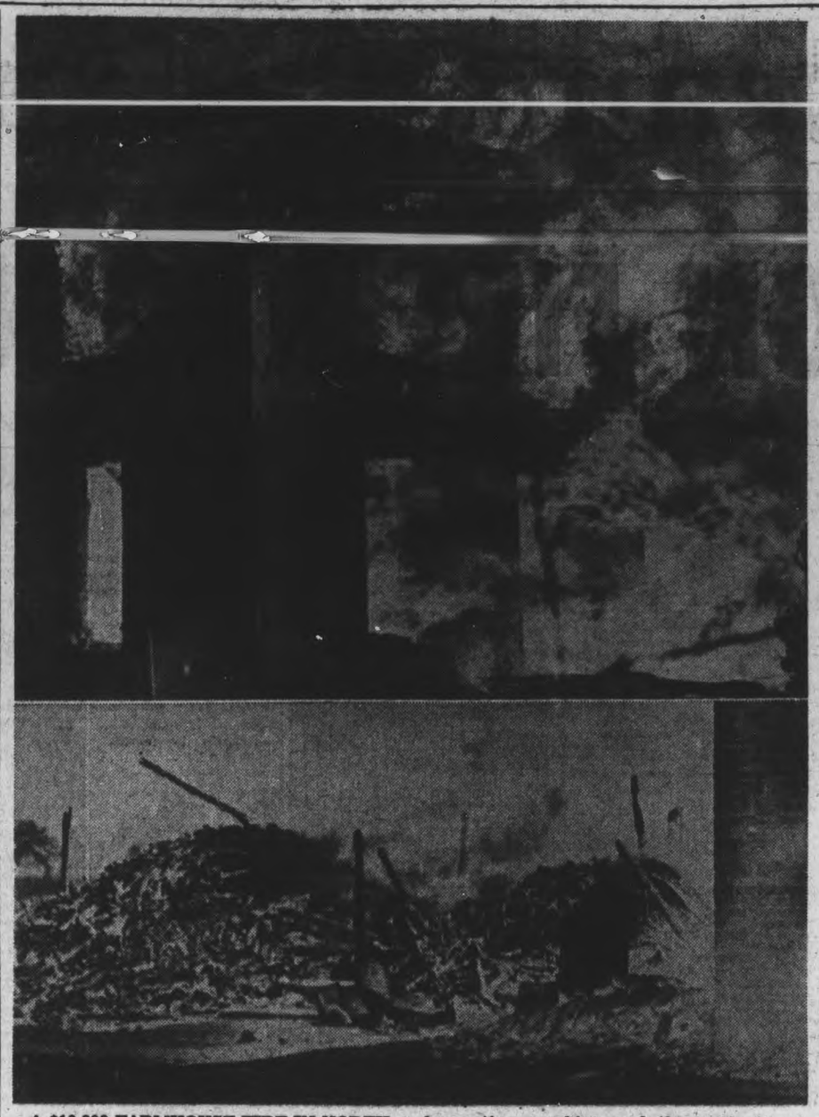
among the Eskimos and leading to a quarantine extending thousands of miles.

The plane carries a portable radio transmitter known by Air Force men as a Gigson Girl. Air Commodore Costello said, however, that the range of such sets is restricted and would not be heard by Air Force signal stations either in Winnipeg or in Churchill.

"We are hoping that the search planes might be able to pick up their signal, but if the plane is down on a lake as we believe is possible, then the shoreline would cut down the strength of such a signal," he said

Pilot of the missing plane is Flt. Lt. Frank Rush. The newspaper man is 31-year-old Jack Aveson of The Canadian Press, who has specialized in stories of the North and who had taken this swing for the purpose of writing a series of yarns on Northern topics.



Air Force authorities declined to release an official list of those aboard the plane until all next-of-kin had been notified.

If the plane came down around the time of its last radio signal, its landing place would be roughly half way between Churchill and Winnipeg. This would place it in the God's Lake area, near the Ontario-Manitoba border.

Hear One Word

An air force signals officer said the last word heard by receivers here had been the single word "wait." He said that this is a usual signal indicating that possibly the radio operator might have a log recording to make and would return immediately afterwards to the air. However, radio contact had not be re-established.

The signals officer said that the Canso's radio operator complained about interference from static. The officer said that if the plane received a direct static charge its radio equipment could have been knocked out of commission.

A $19,000 FARMHOUSE FIRE IN NORTH MONAGHAN fazed the home of Norman Lillico, Jr., five miles west of Peterborough on Highway 28 on Saturday morning. The home, built in 1883, was a well-known landmark, twice site of the International Plowing Match. The fire which is said to have started in the woodshed quickly destroyed two winters supply of wood, a new harvesting combine and the contents of the house. Ruins of shed are shown in the Lower photo. A pumper from the Peterborough Fire Department was unable to give much help due to lack of water but stood by to save the large barn. A sub-tenant, Mrs. J. Mortson gave the alarm; the Lillicos were shopping in the city.

Thinking Machine Nearer With Big Electrical Gadget

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22 (AP) —The long-dreamed-of day of the thinking machine may be nearer than you imagine.

Scientists have invented an electrical monster that can perform any mathematical exercise and can memorize more than 500 numbers.

This giant brain, using wires and coils instead of nerves and blood cells is known as the Binac. It is the second electronic brain created by J. Presper Eckert, Jr., 30, and John W. Mauchly, 42, former University of Pennsylvania physicists.

Eckert and Mauchly put the machine through a test run Sunday in which it did 500,000 additions and 200,000 multiplications in two hours.

Binac's predecessor was known as the Eniac. It performed much like Binac, but it is 30 times bigger and can't operate as fast. Eniac weighs 30 tons. Binac less than one.

Eckert and Mauchly now are at work on their third automatic computer. That one will be called the Univac and it will be far superior to either of the others.

Do Almost Anything

Univac will be able to do almost anything. The first two Univacs produced will play each other a game of chess. Eckert said they may even be able to write music.

After Univac, what?

Eckert was asked whether the day will come when each of us has a mechanical man at his beck and call to do his thinking for him?

"That's a distinct possibility," the serious-minded young scientist said. "At the moment, any problem that can be translated into mathemamtical terms can be solved by the machines."

Univac will go to work next year recording the 1950 census data.

Cost of Univac hasn't been determined yet. Eniac cost $500,000 and Binac was sold for $250,000.

The key to Binac's operation is its memory. Eckert and Mauchly refer to the machine as if it were human. The numbers memorized each have addresses and the electrical pulses which pick out the numbers to be computed are called messengers.

Squatters Fight To Keep Homes In Ottawa Area

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP)—The "Kildare squatters" are facing eviction after three rent-free years in a couple of sprawling government-owned mansions in Ottawa's east end Sandy Hill district.

Attempting to keep from being squeezed out of their commandeered quarters, the 30 war veteran families have resorted to a telegram-barrage in which pleas have been sent to anyone and everyone who might be able to help.

The latest action to forestall eviction came after employees of the city waterworks department visited the families at what used to be the wartime Kildare barracks and told them light and water will be cut off at the end of the month. The federal government, which owns the barracks, wants to use them to house the army provost corps.

Appeal To St. Laurent

A telegram was sent to Prime Minister St. Laurent "appealing to you to help us stay here until proper housing has been found."

The prime minister turned the telegram over to Defence Minister Claxton. He in turn sent a letter to the squatters advising them that it is a city problem.

The squatters went after the city, sending a telegram to Mayor E. A. Bourque and speaking to City Welfare Commissioner E. P. Goodfellow.

Homer Borris, secretary of an association set up by the families who have been occupying the vacant barracks since 1946, said Mr. Goodfellow would meet Mayor Bourque today to discuss the question.

ordinating operations.

Fourteen rangers were flown in from Algonquin Park Sunday to set up headquarters at Bark Lake, northeast of the fire area.

Ground crews fought the fire from a defence line drawn at a dirt road running south from Bark Lake to Irondale River. A clearing to act as a barrier was cut away by bulldozers and backfires.

1,240 Battle Fires

Forestry officials said a total of 1,240 men were fighting Ontario bush fires. Gradually beating out the flames, they felt they were winning the battle when no new outbreaks were reported Sunday.

Residents of two villages turned out en masse to protect their homes during the week-end. At Carlsbad Springs, 25 miles south-east of Ottawa, villagers fought all day Saturday before controlling a fire that crept within a mile of the resort centre. Residents of the small northern Ontario community of Kinmount turned back flames threatening their village.

With the forecast for continued dry weather, officials warned all bushland travellers to be extra-careful not to create fire hazards.

Worst In History

Prince Rupert, the mainland port 500 miles northwest of here, and just across the channel from Graham Island, reported the "worst quake in history." Residents fled their homes for fear they would cave in; unfastened furniture shifted crazily.

Mrs. Catherine M. Fraser of Terrace, first to report the phenomenon, said she was sitting in her office "when the desk began to move."

"At first I thought I was seeing things," she said, "but then my husband yelled that the counter was moving, too."

Standing in the street was like being "on the heaving deck of a ship in heavy seas," she reported.

She said the tremor was preceded by a two-hour storm of "ominous, rolling thunder" and heavy rain.

First notice of the tremor came from Terrace, B. C., about 90 miles east of the Skeena River from Prince Rupert. It struck at 9 p.m. and lasted five minutes.

Telephone queries to the Canadian Press network of correspondents revealed its path ranged from Graham Island in the Queen Charlotte chain, about 600 miles northwest of here, to Prince Rupert on the mainland. It roared 500 miles inland through the Skeena valley towns of Terrace, Pacific and Hazelton, down to Smithers and Prince George, and through the upper Fraser valley to Quesnel and Williams Lake.

Two-foot Tidal Wave

The northernmost point appeared to be Petersburg south of Kitchikan. Buildings rocked and a two-foot tidal wave swept the waterfront. Whitehorse, Yukon, and Fort St. John, 900 miles north of here, felt it.

In southern interior B. C., Kamloops reported clocks had stopped at 9.07. Chandeliers in the lodge at Jasper were set swinging.

Allow 4% Increase In Toronto Rents

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP)—The prices board Sunday night authorized a four-per-cent increase in rents on apartments, duplexes and other mulitple-family dwellings in Toronto.

The increase was granted to compensate Toronto landlords for increases in 1949 taxes caused by a boost in assessments. The Property Owners' Association requested it.

E. J. Prittle, association secretary, said many landlords are operating properties at a loss under current rent ceilings.

Bear Chases Four Sisters

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP)—Submachine guns, rifles and pistols were used Sunday as police and residents of Shirley's Bay cottage area hunted unsuccessfully for a big black bear.

The hunt was touched off when four girls picking berries Saturday evening came upon the bear, estimated to weigh about 400 pounds. The family's collie dog gave chase and the bear lumbered off while the girls, Margie, Marylin, Avis and Sylvania Kidd, fled in the other direction.

The animal was sighted Sunday near the Shirley's Bay road, about 10 miles west of Ottawa by a provincial police patrol car.

Dogs were used to trail the bear and tracks were found in several swampy areas, but the animal evaded the hunters.

Late Sunday police hunt was called off, but residents of the summer resort district remained alert and planned to watch for the bruin through the night.

Westclox Picnic For Employees Held To Orillia

Employees of the Western Clock Company journeyed to Orillia Saturday where the Westclox annual picnic was held in Champlain Park. Features of the day were softball tournaments, races and draws.

With five teams competing the interdepartmental softball tournament was started soon after the arrival by train. The team from the second floor, last year's winners, repeated their performance this year to capture the coveted homemade cup. Isobel "Tommy" Bullock starred in her pitching role.

At intervals during the proceedings, draws were made for prizes of five dollars in cash. Two special prizes were awarded by J. H. Vernor, a Seth Thomas Mantel clock and a chest of Community Plate. The former was won by Marion Julian and the latter by Marion Thorn.

Stan McBride acted as master of ceremonies for the day, keeping everything running smoothly and in good order.

Dr. James Semple of George St. United Church officiated today at the funeral of Mrs. John C. Tremain, 637 George St. who died Saturday in Toronto in her 50th year. Pallbearers were Vincent Davidson, William Scott, Gordon Ham, Bertrand Harvey, John Thornton, Maxwell Kernaghan. Flower bearers were Melville Dobson, Roland Krant, Ben Seabrook, William Sharpe, Frank Riviere, Frank Worsencroft.

Mrs. Tremain was born in Utica, New York, Ruth Elizabeth Evans, the daughter of the late Elizabeth Martin and Wallace Evans. She is the husband of John C. Evans. She has resided in Peterborough for the past 40 years having come to the city from the United States.

Surviving are her father and husband, one daughter, Joan Elizabeth, at home, one sister, Miss Mabel Evans of Toronto and one brother, Russell of Clarence, New York.

The funeral was held from the Kaye Funeral Home to Little Lake Cemetery.

Keene Boys Win Field Day Title

The third annual Keene field day was held Saturday. There was a large crowd to watch the ball games, enter the races and take part in other games.

The committee took in approximately $400, and after expenses are taken out, net proceeds will go towards the construction of the new Keene rink. The rink is expected to be finished in time for use this winter.

Following are the race results:

Girls, 5 and under — Marian Wismer, Betty Wickson.

Boys, 5 and under— Jim Gall, Donald Hawkes, Harry Wismer.

Girl, 7 and under — Donna Short, Dianne Richardsonfi Norma Givens.

Boys, 7 and under — Wayne Hope, Peter Shearer, Peter Nelson and Freddie Elliott.

Girls, 9 and under — Donna Short, Betty Jane Gall, Shirley Long.

Boys, 9 and under — Donnie McCarthy, Laurie Shearer, Garry Richardson.

Girls, 12 and under — Carol Elison, Valerie Moore, Margaret Nelson.

Boys, 12 and under— Gordon Howe, Douglas Shearer, Wayne Adamson.

Girls, 15 and under — Marie Foley, Mary Wood, Agnes Dickson.

Boys, 15 and under — Alvin Renwick, Melvin Wilson, Billie Donellen.

Young women's race — Lois Dickson, Margaret Short, Kay Fitzgerald.

Young men's race—Alvin Renwick, Melvin Wilson, Billie Doneller.

Wheelbarrow race—Alvin Renwick and Melvin Wilson, Gordon Hope and Wayne Adamson.

Keene district men challenged any other group in a tug-of-war, and a group from Indian River responded. Keene won.

In a softball tournament two games were played in the afternoon, and a final at night. In the first game Hastings beat the Otonabee All-Stars 6-2, and in the second Keene took Peterborough Canoe 11-1. In the final Keene took the championship with a 5-2 win over Hastings.

Gunman Kills Teacher

DETROIT, Aug. 22 (AP) —. A young ex-school teacher was shot to death Saturday by a gunman claiming to be her husband, while she sat in a bar with a companion. Police identified the victim as Madeline Patricia Koszyk, 23-year-old brunette reported to have taught school in Alabama. Bernard Niedzialkowski, 37, who served a prison term in the slaying of a former wife, was booked on a murder charge.

Toronto Paper Says Subway Does Not Comply

The Toronto Daily Star has taken up an Examiner editorial comment on the financing of the new Toronto subway and elaborated it in its leading article of last Saturday. The Examiner said in part:

"Toronto had hoped that the dominion government would pay one-fifth of the total cost and is vexed because the government is now cold toward the idea. On the face of the matter we cannot see why the Dominion should pay any part of the price of an improvement which will benefit Toronto alone. If the dominion government helps Toronto to build a tube railway, why should it not help Montreal to do the same thing?"

The Star say that the Ottawa government has not grown "cold" to the idea because, the Star says, its attitude has not changed. "The assistance offered to Toronto in 1945 was on terms open to any municipality for any government-approved public work complying with the requirements of the Dominion's proposals to the Dominion-Provincial conference."

Proposals Not Adopted

The Star points out that, first, the dominion-provincial conference proposals were not adopted; secondly, that Toronto has not postponed the subway project to a period of unemployment. The initial proposals made at Ottawa were specifically measures to deal with any large-scale unemployment in the first post-war years. This period of unemployment did not, of course, develop.

The Star mentions also that the Government never suggested paying one-fifth of the total cost of such a project. In fact, it stated specifically that rolling stock, for example, would not be eligible.

Although the agreement failed of acceptance, because Ontario itself did not accept it. the Star would not be surprise, if a depression threatened, to find the federal government renewing its offer to subsidize such municipal work as the building of a subway in Toronto or Montreal.

The Star has clearly set its face against any attempt by Toronto to blackmail the Federal Government for large sums of money to help build at this time the subway which is purely a Toronto project and will benefit only Torontonians.

Beecham Blasts British Gov't

EDINBURGH, Aug. 22 (AP)—Sir Thomas Beecham, whose speech is as stormy as some of the symphonies he conducts, had a lot to say about his homeland Sunday —and it was all bad.

The white-goateed, 70-year-old musician, here to conduct the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra at the Edinburgh International Music Festival, had this to say about the folowing subjects:

1. The state of Britain—"The country's gone potty."

2. British statesmanship—"We have ben misgoverned worse than any nation in the world."

3. The British financial situation—"We are broke."

4. State subsidies to music—He's agin' them.

Sir Thomas really hit his stride when asked to comment on the projected 1951 festival of Britain, a massive cultural and industriat fair.

The festival will show 20th-century progress in Britain.

Pounding a table with his fists at a press conference, he denounced the "lunatics who dragged us into two world wars." He went on:

"We are going to celebrate 50 years of the most abominable misgovernment by having an exhibition and festival at the expense of the United States' money. To what depths have we sunk?"

He said he objected to such things as the national theatre project because it means the taxpayers are providing money for cultural enterprises.

Cobourg Citizens Alarmed Over Rumored Stoppage Of Ferries; Call Conference

COBOURG, Aug. 22 (ENS) — Alarmed over indications that the two car ferries plying between Cobourg and Rochester, may be discontinued permanently, Mayor Joe Smith and the Federal member for Northumberland, Dr. Fred G. Robertson, M.P., are taking steps to see what can be done about it.

A meeting of mayors, reeves, wardens and members of parliament throughout central Ontario is being called for next Friday at Cobourg when the matter will be fully discussed. Invitations have gone out to the mayors of Bowmanville, Campbellford, Port Hope, Whitby, Oshawa, Trenton, Belleville and Peterborough and to the rural reeves of municipalities in that area. Included with the invitations is a letter from Dr. F. G. Robertson.

Severe Loss

The first car ferry, Ontario No. 1, was put into service around 1907 and during the First Great War the second one, Ontario No. 2, was added to the route. The ferries take excursionists back and forth from Cobourg to Rochester and means much to tourist trade of Cobourg and district. The ferries are an important part of the economic structure of the town and their discontinuance would be a severe financial loss, both to the 53 families affected as employees on each ship and to the town as a whole. The letter of Dr. Robertson reads in part, as follows:

"During the election campaign it was rumored that the Ontario car ferries which run from Cobourg, Ontario, to Rochester, N.Y., would be discontinued. I immediately contacted the Ontario Car Ferry Company in Montreal and the Minister of Transport's Office and was advised that neither office knew of any such proposal. I therefore branded it as an election rumor designed to embarass the government candidate and thought this would be the end of the matter as similar rumors had been heard on numerous occasions before only to prove unfounded. However, less than one month after election one of the ferries was tied up and I heard on good authority the Ontario Car Ferry Company was considering stopping this service altogether this Fall.

With the President of the Cobourg Liberal Association I met the Minister of Transport in Ottawa on August 9 and I learned from him that serious consideration is being given to the discontinuance of the ferry service. He tells me that the Ontario Car Ferry Company is under the control of the Canadian National Railways and the latter is independent of government control in management and only responsible to Parliament itself. He definitely promised to write to the management of the Canadian National Railways requesting a postponement of their decision until the end of the year which would give us some time to follow this matter up.

C. N. R. Managed

The ferries are operated jointly by the Baltimore & Ohio Railway and the Canadian National Railways, the latter having control of the management. The reason for stopping this service is said to be due to the fact that they are operating at a loss.

We in Cobourg feel that inefficient and short-sighted management is responsible for any deficit in the ferries' operation and that the revenue could be greatly increased if better management and a little imagination was used. Very little effort is made to attract excursions from the U.S.A., a matter which has been commented upon by visitors from the U.S.A. Many tourists would like to take their cars via the ferry and often are turned away as no space is said to be available for this purpose.

We also believe that coal is now being sent around by rail, which is a much longer and more expensive trip than by ferry, in order to make the economic condition of the ferry look very bad.

No More Pulpwood

Pulpwood has been exported in large amounts in the past by ferry and could still be if the company made an effort to get this business.

Would you be good enough to write the General Manager of Canadian National Railways, Montreal, and also the Honourable Lionel Chevrier, Minister of Transport, and the Prime Minister urging their support of our stand? I expect to visit the Head Office of the Canadian National Railways in Montreal next week. If your letter could be there by that time I am sure it would lend support to my arguments.

MARMORA, Aug. 22—(ENS)—A fire of unknown origin destroyed a garage here owned by Leslie Phillips at 2:30 a.m. on Sunday. In the garage was a 1934 model car and 90 chickens which were all destroyed. The residence close by was saved by the good work of the fire brigade.

Dollar Talks Influence Attlee

By ALLAN HARVEY

LONDON, Aug. 22—(CP)—The political course of Britain's Labor government in the next few months seems to hinge on what happens in Washington in the next few weeks.

Such issues as the date of the next general election and a possible autumn budget may depend on decisions taken by the Anglo-Canadian - American economic talks in the United States capital startisg Sept. 6.

If the conference concludes that the British standard of living must take it on the chin again in the form of new austerities it is argued here, the Labor Party would probably choose to consult the country first.

Those who hold this view say that only a strong new government could impose fresh hardships on the people. The rash of recent unofficial strikes is cited to support the argument.

Some Labor members of Parliament already have given voice to the view that the party should go to the country before the crisis makes itself felt in mass unemployment—an evil which Labor up to now has prided itself on being able to prevent.

As nearly as can be judged, the government attitude seems to be wait and see what happens next month.

Camper Dies Suddenly

MARMORA, Aug. 22—(ENS)—Death came suddenly to Harvey Lafferty of Essex R.R. 4 on Sunday at 12:30 a.m. at the cabins of W. D. Lavender, on No. 7 Highway at the eastern end of the village. Mr. Lafferty, with his wife and another couple, was staying overnight at the cabins. He took a seizure and died almost instantly. He was 49 years of age.

RODE 1,560,000 MILES; NEVER LEFT TOWN—You'd think a railroad conductor who has travelled 1,560,000 miles in the past 50 years would have seen a lot of country. But not R. A. ("Buck") Ewing of Cleveland, O., left above. Ewing, a yard conductor for the New York Central, logged all his mileage in the yards of Greater Cleveland. In fact, during his 50 years of travel he never left town. Supt. W. H. Leahy of Cleveland gives Ewing a gold pass in honor of his long service. The pass entitles him to ride anything that rolls on the Central. In the future, the veteran conductor plans to get around a bit.

Heavy Offerings Of Vegetables On Farm Market

Booths on the market Saturday were piled with vegetables, berries, apples, currants and cherries.

Corn started off at 35c a dozen but sellers were forced to drop to 30c, then 25c. Tomatoes, plentiful, started off at 65c and 75c for a six-quart basket but levelled off later in the morning at 50c. New potatoes were firm and in good demand at $2 and $2.50 for a 75-pound bag.

Carrots and beets sold for three bunches for 25c, while the pickling beets were 65c a six-quart basket. Green beans went slowly at 15c a quart while wax beans were 20c a quart or 50c cents for a six-quart basket. Sweet peppers were two for 15c while hot peppers were 5c each. Egg plants, in not too great a demand were 35c each. Pickling onions were 25c a quart.

Gladioli dominated the flower market for the third week selling at 75c a dozen. Snapdragons and carnations went slowly at 30c a dozen while asters and zinnias went at 50c a dozen. Strawflowers went quickly at 5c a bloom while sweet peas and marigolds were 25c a dozen.

Plums, making their first appearance on the market, sold at 60c a six-quart for ordinary variety and 70c for sugar plums. Apples were plentiful going at 45c for Duchess, 55c for Yellow Harvest and 45c for Transparents. Watermelons were 40c each, cantalope 30c. Thimble berries were 25c a pint with cherries at 40c a quart. Blueberries were scarce some selling at $4 for a 11-quart basket. A few pears were selling at 45c a six-quart.

Eggs were slightly lower with Grade A medium at 60c, grade A large at 65c and grade A extra large at 70c.

Honey was fairly general at $1 for a four-pound pail, 30c for a one-pound bottle and 50c for a two-pound carton.

Tracing The Tourist's Dollars

This summer Alberta has been carrying on an experiment to discover something about the place of tourist dollars in its provincial income. Alberta has a big tourist traffic; Banff and Jasper, the two National Parks, attract great numbers of visitors, as do Waterton Park and the big game reserve at Elk Island; there are a great many ranch resorts, as well, and the Alaska Highway is just coming into its own as a lure for tourists. What happens to the money the tourists bring with them?

* * *

In an attempt to answer this question the tourist bureau of Alberta has caused specially stamped five-dollar bills to be issued to tourists at several of its points of entry at the border of the U.S.A. The bills are ordinary currency, except that they bear a stamp asking each person who handles the bill to send a postcard to the publicity department, saying how the money was acquired and how it was spent.

* * *

This is an interesting idea, and it reminds us strongly of a subject which was a favourite of "composition" teachers when we were at school; "The Adventures of a Dollar Bill", was the title given, and we were expected to trace the bill through candy stores, laundries, the hands of poor but honest widows, the hands of thieves, and similar likely and unlikely places. If the Alberta publicity bureau gets a full report on all its five-dollar bills we feel sure that they will have stories to tell which not even the best-informed and most wordly child could hope to rival. But will they get full reports?

* * *

Frankly, we doubt it. First of all, a good many of the marked bills will leave Alberta, and will not be heard of again. Second, most people will quickly tire of reporting on a postcard every time one of these bills passes through their hands. Third, we do not think that the banks of Canada will welcome defaced currency advertising the tourist ambitions of the Province of Alberta. If the province gets enough information to help it in its researches into the economy of tourism, its findings may be of some value, but we think that publicity, rather than research, was uppermost in the minds which devised this interesting but essentially worthless scheme.

Individual Power In U.S. Politics

A feature of United States politics which often surprises and confuses observers in other countries is the manner in which a few determined individuals are able to thwart and harass the Government in power. Two outstanding examples of this have been afforded during the present session of the United States Congress, one by a two-man team in the Senate, the other by a solo performer in the House of Representatives. The first mentioned are Senators Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee and Pat McCarran of Nevada; the last mentioned is Representative John Rankin of Mississippi.

These men are chairmen of important committees—McKellar of the all-powerful Appropriations Committee, McCarran of the Judiciary Committee, and Rankin of the Veterans' Affairs Committee. The chairmanship of these and other committees is settled on the basis of seniority, and the Government apparently is unable to discipline disobedient chairmen. If a chairman is able to command the support of his committee—and he usually is—he can virtually defy the Government, as the above-mentioned men have done.

McKellar has consistently blocked the Government in many domestic and foreign issues. McCarran's committee was charged with the responsibility of reporting the Administration's bill dealing with displaced persons several months ago, but McCarran has decided not to report the bill. Questioned, he said it would probably not be reported "until next May". This bill would allow more liberal admission of displaced persons to the United States. The Administration has now been forced to the extreme measure of securing Opposition Republican assistance to order the bill out of the committee.

Representative Rankin, one of the rebellious Southern Democrats, did an even better job of embarrassing the Government. He rammed a $65,000,000,000 veterans' pension bill through the House of Representatives. The Administration, committed to a less fantastic yet generous pension plan, flatly opposed the bill, but Rankin knew his fellow Congressmen were acutely sensitive to anything which might affect the way veterans vote. The Senate allowed this bill to die, but Rankin promptly introduced another, providing bonus payments to veterans. This bill would cost the United States anywhere from $14,000,000,000 to $60,000,000,000.

With Republican assistance, the Democratic Government appears to have found a method of depriving McKellar and McCarran of at least some of their power. Apparently however there is no method of curbing Rankin, unless Congress changes the seniority rules governing chairmanships, and there is no indication of such a change.

Steps In A Political Career

A person does not wander into politics by accident, and more Canadians should become aware of this. There are good citizens who could excellently serve their province or country in legislatures if they would, and would take the trouble to find out how to go about it. There is no single pattern, and in citing the Reverend John Foote's advent into politics we emphasize this fact.

Mr. Foote became a hero, as a padre at Dieppe. His name was therefore widely known. He is interested in human welfare and his own Province, is a man of sense and ability, and so was persuaded to stand for election as Conservative candidate in the provincial riding of Durham, a Conservative constituency. He thus came into the fold, and was elected. In the Legislature he spoke out at times, so that he was not a nonentity there. When the Frost Government decided to dust off the liquor business in Ontario, what better man could have been chosen—both politically and practically—than Major the Reverend John Foote, who is also a Presbyterian? He became a chairman of the Liquor Control Board.

He is scheduled shortly to make a tour of Europe to study liquor legislation and drinking habits. This will of course give him the opportunity to meet political personalities overseas, to better acquaint himself with international matters, and to send reports back home which will receive their mete of publicity.

Major Foote's political career is still developing. Last week, at the village of Fraserville, he was inducted into the Orange Lodge.

Ravaging Fires

Last Thursday one hundred and seven brush and forest fires were blazing in Ontario. Most were in the northern part of the province, but there were five new ones in the Trent area that afternoon. Fire is a destroyer. It not only destroys trees which cannot be replaced for a generation; in some places it consumes the thin soil on which the trees grow. When this happens, there can be no reforestation for several thousand years, for there is nothing for the seed or sapling to grow on.

Some of the fires are ignited through natural means; for instance the five in the Trent area Thursday afternoon were caused by lightning. Many of the fires are caused by human carelessness. Most of us can put up with or ignore fools and wantonly careless people in private, but in a public matter like the forests of Ontario, which are the country's heritage, they should not be suffered nor ignored. Perhaps the time has come to amend the laws so that a person convicted of causing a forest fire, even unwittingly, is sent to jail for a good long stretch. Carelessness with flame in a forest is a major crime against the state; it should be so considered in law.

Of Cabbages And Kings

By PETER ELIOT

THE famous "Shropshire Lad" was published at the poet's own expense after it had been rejected by a famous English publishing house, who said that they were very sorry, but poetry just didn't sell. So A. E. Housman paid for the printing of some five hundred copies, which originally cost sixty cents a piece. They moved very slowly. It was more than two years before they all were sold.

Laurence Housman, "A.E." 's brother, had a hand in creating the market. He drove the second-hand book market to increase its bids for certain "unopened" copies of "A Shropshire Lad" (which he had bought for sixty cents himself) from $25 to $250. Finally he sold a signed copy for $350, to an American due to sail home, who feared that it might rise in price before he reached his native country.

AND here is another story of another poet. Ernest Dowson got into a fight with the village baker when he was living in Normandy and he was arrested for his poor behaviour.

He was not without friends, however. A deputation went to the magistrate and pointed out that Monsieur Dowson was one of England's most famous poets.

"That's quite right to remind me," said the magistrate, "I will imprison the baker instead."

And he did.

W. B. Yeats tells a story of Dowson's tragic love affair. "He was in love with a charming child," he told Masefield (in the poet laureate's Memoir to Yeats) "the daughter of two foreigners who kept a restaurant near Piccadilly Circus. He used to go there frequently in the evenings to play dominoes (some people say cards) with her. She was too young for marriage, but he hoped that at the end of three years he might be allowed to be engaged to her. However, at the end of the three years she married the waiter."

AN American visiting London, referring to the Thames said, "I don't call this thing a river. We have got rivers in our land twenty times as wide and twenty times as important as this Thames of yours. You call this thing a river?"

John Burns, the doughty Labour Member of Parliament to whom the remark was addressed, replied, "No, Sir; we don't call it a river. We call it liquid history."

SIR LANCELOT OLIPHANT, whose distinguished career in British diplomacy included a period of internment in Nazi Germany shortly after the beginning of the war, tells an amusing story about his entry into the British Foreign Service in An Ambassador In Bonds. The examinations were pretty stiffish and the young aspiring diplomat was pretty nervous especially about his ability to sit for a written examination in the difficult Gothic German script, until almost the very eve of the written test when he came across a book in a Leicester Square bookshop entitled "Specimens in Difficult German Handwriting" by Doctor O. Sommer. After a few hours with Doctor Sommer he was able to do the test as quickly as saying the Lord's Prayer.

Next day came the oral. The examiner's first question was if he had found the previous day's examination difficult. "Difficult beyond description," replied Sir Lancelot, "but I had a stroke of luck last week. I found and bought a book by that most distinguished of German professors, Doctor—er—Doctor Sommer, which proved most helpful...." etcetera.

Well, we could have told him right away who that examiner was, but it took the British Foreign Service some thirty years to get to the bottom of that one. Sir Lancelot then asked the Civil Service Commissioner whether the records could show who the German examiner in 1903 had been. He had them looked up and the answer was "Dr. Sommer!"

◇ ◇ ◇

"LORD CURZON was Secretary of State," writes Sir Lancelot, "when—just after the war an Oriental Potentate paid a visit to this country. Lord Curzon entertained him sumptuously, though taking a violent and fully justified dislike to the man's personality. The Potentate when returning home sent from Marseilles a most gushing and flowery telegram of thanks for Lord Curzon's hospitality.

"It reached the Foreign Office on a Saturday afternoon," explains Sir Lancelot, "when the Secretary of State had gone to the country. I telephoned him, therefore, explaining that the message had come and that a reply ought to go off immediately if it was to catch the Potentate before his ship sailed. I added that to save time I had drafted a message in rather cold terms, knowing what he felt about the individual. Lord Curzon's comment was as follows:

" 'The telephone is very indistinct' (at my end it was quite clear) 'but so far as I can make out, the Potentate has sent me a pound of butter and you propose to return him a pound of margarine. If this is so, I entirely approve.' "

The People Must Pay

(Montreal Financial Times)

There is no point in talking of subsidizing the railways. There are 13 million people in Canada, and they will pay the cost of running the railways. They are just as certain to pay that cost whether it is met out of taxation, or whether it is all met out of direct payment by the people who use the railways.

To reduce existing freight rates, or to increase the wages and other costs of the railway companies means more freight rates to be paid by someone, either directly, or through taxation.

As the train pulled into the station, the porter knocked on a compartment door.

"Chicago," he announced. "Shall I brush you off, madam?"

"Certainly not," she replied icily. "I'll descend in the usual way."

Nature has added special gifts of personal charm and patent sincerity. All of which have served him well in the last difficult months of negotiations with the Indonesian Republicans. No man deserves more credit than he for the Round Table Conference that opens in the Hague today to frame the long-desired United States of Indonesia.

As a student at Utrecht University Van Royen was conspicuously popular and a power in the Federation of Students which manages all their activities, clubs, sports, debating society, etc. In his fourth year, however, he gave up these distractions to devote himself to work, which earned him an excellent degree as a Doctor of Laws in 1929 and a start as Legation Secretary at Washington the year after.

Rising rapidly, van Royen was head of the Diplomatic Affairs Department of the Dutch Foreign Ministry in 1939 and with other high officials was for a time imprisoned by the Germans. In 1944 he escaped from Holland and came to London as representative of the "College of Advisers", a combination of all sections of the Dutch Resistance, which took charge in Holland after the German retreat. He was Minister for Foreign Affairs in 1946 and Ambassador to Ottawa in 1947, the post he still holds, though he has not seen Ottawa for many months.

Of the United Nations Dr. van Royen has long experience. He attended at its birth in San Francisco and three times bore the chief burden for Holland at meetings of the Assembly in London, Lake Success and Paris, before being given charge of the Dutch case in the Security Council at the end of last year. From that he went to Batavia for the negotiations with the Republicans, with the happy result already known.

His skilful, frank and hard-hitting conduct of his country's case in Indonesia won him new friends at Lake Success, particularly among the Americans with whom his mother's blood has always given him instinctive understanding. His pronounced Left-wing views ensure for him the support of the powerful Dutch Labour Party. And in Batavia his sincere conciliatory manner won him the trust of the Republicans for want of which so many negotiations in the past four years have failed.

Dr. van Royen, who speaks perfect English, is a personal friend of Mr. Malcolm Macdonald, (former British High Commissioner to Canada, now Commissioner - General for South-East Asia) whom in many of his qualities he much resembles. He was never an athlete though he plays golf with the same assiduity that he [illegible] everything he does. He is married and has three children.

That "Undefended Frontier'

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

JUST when Canadian-American relations have been renewed in the oratory surrounding the visit to Ottawa of Mr. Louis Johnson, the American Defence Secretary, the troubles of an air force pipe band intent on a friendly visit to the annual Scottish games in up-state New York serve as a reminder that the frontier may still be a formidable barrier. The band was apparently from No. 400 Auxiliary Squadron in Toronto, according to RCAF headquarters, for there are only two pipe bands in the RCAF and the permanent force pipers at Rockcliffe air station were not involved.

Flying down from Montreal, the Canadian air force pipers sought to land at Mattydale, near Syracuse, New York. But they were directed, for unexplained reasons, to another field at Amboy. Not being expected there, the plane load of bandsmen was "stacked in the air" for three hours; that is, it was left circling around until airport officials decided to allow it to land.

The bandsmen would have come down soon anyway, for the plane was reported to have only enough gasoline for another 30 minutes of flying. Once on the ground, their troubles started all over again. The airport customs office was closed, and no one was prepared to authorize the admission into the United States of the band's bagpipes, even for a friendly visit. Uncle Sam may be credited with exceptional zeal in keeping out an array of bagpipes, probably mistaking them for a new, secret weapon. And the red tape of the undefended frontier may be credited with another victory of the kind that discounts much of the happy oratory of Canadian-American relations.

Italians For Quebec

(Le Droit; Ottawa)

Canada would reap a direct advantage from approving an immigration policy toward Italy. It is not a question of opening our doors to all comers. This immigration should be selective. Italian people are frugal and hard working. These immigrants would assimilate themselves easily into the Canadian population. Quebec is the province indicated for trying this experiment.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now his parents went to Jerusalem every year at the feast of the passover. And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast. And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it....

And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions. And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers. And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing. And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?....

And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man. (Luke 2: 41-43, 46-49, 52.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him.... And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him: and lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (Matt. 3: 13, 16, 17.)

Both British Political Parties Walking On Unknown Ground With Election Policy Promises

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Aug. 22—(CP)—Remember stout old John Bull, with his cheery smile and sturdy paunch? He's dead and buried, and Britain awaits another symbolic character to take his place. John was nourished on plenty of strong beer and roast beef. He stood with his feet in the teeming industrial slums, but beyond them he could see rows of suburban houses where the middle classes lived comfortably, and beyond them the homes of the rich.

To some those were the "good old days," to others black years of Tory misrule." Good or bad, their pattern will never be repeated.

The Social revolution begun so slowly in the last century by Liberal statesmen has gathered speed. The Labor government, elected in 1945, has flung open doors of opportunity to the working classes on an unprecedented scale.

The Conservative party, preparing for another election fight within the next few months, has promised that those doors will never be slammed. It is pledged to preserve the vast new scheme or social services, and to maintain wage levels which have more than doubled since 1938.

Britain's future shape will be determined largely by the way her working people grasp their new opportunities. Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, a son of the working classes who has never lost touch with his kin, has warned:

Have Responsibilities

"The social security state cannot endure unless it is also a state of social responsibilities."

The Conservatives and the Labor Party differ radically over the best means of awakening that sense of responsibility. Labor relies on state direction and long-term education.

Conservatives say they would depend more on private initiative. They would "set the people free" by easing controls that many condemn as costly and restrictive. Their Britain of tomorrow would be a "property-owning democracy."

Its administration would call for policies far removed from traditional Conservative theory. Both parties in fact, are walking onto unknown ground.

Costly Services

Whichever party forms the next government will face an immense task in financing the social services.

The health service alone, which provides "free" medical care for everyone in the country, costs £336,000,000 ($3,344,000,000) a year. It is financed almost entirely out of the general taxation.

Food subsidies, which are a form of relief to lower income groups, demand another £465,000,000 annually, and education £273,000,000. There are many other charges.

In 1948, before the services were in full swing, 30 per cent of the national income was absorbed by taxes. Experts estimated that direct taxation was four times higher than before the war, and indirect taxation 2½ times higher. The national income had doubled, principally due to increases in the lower wage group.

The burden of taxation falls most heavily on the middle classes and those with modest fixed incomes. These are the people who moan of Britain's austerity as they struggle to preserve a place of dignity in the community.

Provide Leadership

It is they who in recent years have provided most of the leadership in industry, the civil service and politics. To them the trend toward mass education, which has doubled attendance at the famous universities, foretells a spread of mediocrity rather than an increase in initiative.

Above them financially is a small group of the extreme rich, with fortunes sufficient to meet any impost. But they are dwindling in number. Each death sees the state take a huge bite out of capital assets before the inheritance is handed on.

Below them is the vast mass of Britain's 48,000,000 now enjoying new prosperity and security. They still have their problems. Prices for all but basic subsidized foodstuffs are high and heavy purchase tax keeps many household articles out of reach. But today nobody is starving in Britain, and children of the back streets are well shod and clothed.

The government will make every effort to maintain the post-war record of full employment, which has kept the total of jobless to about 300,000.

HE'S BUZZING OL' JACK FROST — Making a pass at 30-foot altitude over a farm in the Fairfield Valley of Idaho, this light plane churns the air to keep frost from condensing on the wheat crop below. This was one of six planes that took part in a successful experiment to keep frost from killing the crops in the 5,000-foot-high valley.

Thirteen Fatalities Recorded Over The Weekend

By The Canadian Press

Traffic accidents returned to the top spot as a killer during the week-end, accounting for six of the 13 persons who met sudden death in Ontario.

With cooler weather discouraging many swimmers, four drownings were in the toll reported to the Canadian Press.

An Ottawa baby, Sandra MacDonald suffocated accidentally in her crib.

Milton (Chippy) Evoy, 51, died in a fire that destroyed a log cabin in Carleton Place. Six others escaped but Evoy died in his sleep despite efforts to awaken him. In Hamilton, John E. Looker, 41, a railway yardmaster, was killed at his work when he stepped into the path of a moving engine.

In Toronto Frank Castle, 47, lost his footing and tumbled into the Don River; in Ottawa Aime Martel was fishing when he slipped into the Ottawa River; Mrs. Elsie Morris, 46, also drowned while fishing in Francis Lake, 10 miles northwest of Owen Sound; at Tilbury, Robert McQueen jumped fully clothed from a rowboat into what he thought was a shallow section of Lake St. Clair. He sank.

Falls Off Truck

In Toronto, Henry Hurst, 59, fell to his death from the rear of a moving truck; Frank Leader, 60, of Guelph, stepped to his death into the path of a moving car; at Brougham, Mrs. Agnes Hunter was thrown to her death out the door of her husband's automobile when it collided with another car. None of the six other persons involved was injured.

Marion Larabie, 14, who died in a two-car collision north of Haileybury, also was the only one injured in the accident. Sgt. Jack Jenkins, 19, of the Lackland Air Force base at San Antonio, Texas, died in Sarnia Hospital of injuries suffered when an automobile swerved off the highway.

Frank Hrycay of Toronto was knocked down and killed by a car while crossing the Queen Elizabeth way west of Port Credit. Police said the car driver was Peter Kozell of Welland.

Fishermen Fear Power Project To Damage Catch

By The Canadian Press

Now that a Passamaquoddy tidal power project is under official discussion once more, the fishing industry has again rallied to protect its interests in New Brunswick's neighboring Charlotte County.

The industry in that area returned $3,546,000 to fishermen last year and wages of $1,900,000 to others. Canned fish products were valued at $6,150,000 and capital investment amounted to $4,850,000.

This is the stake that local opponents of Quoddy fear will be endangered if the long dream of harnessing Maine and New Brunswick tidal power ever becomes an actuality.

They have an official estimate of what might happen. A survey in 1934 showed that 2½ per cent of the herring fisheries in the Bay of Fundy region are within the areas which would be dammed. Some opponents believe there would also be damage outside these areas.

Stress Importance

The importance of a further, similar survey was stressed at St. Andrews, N.B., in testimony before the international joint commission, which is making a preliminary study into the cost of a detailed survey of the feasibility and total cost of the huge project.

A fisheries expert expressed opinion that the investigation for power development should be made first, followed by an inquiry into what effect it would have on local fisheries. He estimated the latter study would require three to four years and possibly cost $200,000.

The Saint John, N.B., Board of Trade favors a further investigation to settle for all time the question of the project's feasibility. It would approve the development if fisheries interests were compensated, if necessary, and if the cost of developing Quoddy power were lower than that of producing energy other means.

LONDON, Aug. 22 (Reuters)—The Daily Express today attacks those who are complaining about recent American criticisms of Britain While rejecting the value of American aid to Britain, the Express nevertheless refers to the "high idealism" which has "inspired" American actions.

CGE Suggestion Show Increase

A total amount of $2,709 was paid out by the Peterborough Works of the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., to its employees for suggestions made during the months of April, May and June, according to an item in the latest issue of the Peterborough Works News. For the first six months of 1949 employees were awarded $4,232, which figure is $1,174 more than for the same period last year.

The average suggestion accepted so far this year was valued at $12.56, as compared to $11.78 last year. An average of 120 employees use the suggestion plan every month. So far this year 14 employees have been recipients of awards of over $50.

Ben McMaster, of the Armature Stores Dept., who won $600 a few weeks ago, is the biggest award winner so far this year.

Other exceptionally good awards were made to: Jack Playford of Industrial Control Production, $225; David Millar of Small Motors, $195; Emerson Kemp of Refrigerator Unit, $150; Harry Lemmings of the Carpenter Shop, $120; Bernard Middleton of the Tool Room, $120; Rowene O'Brien of Small Motors, $100; Tom Gaskell of the Motor Generation Division, $90; Jim Price of the Carpenter Shop, $75; George Melhuish of the Wire Division, $75; Sam Smith and Arthur Sayer of Industrial Control, $75 each; John McManus of the Cranes Department, $60.

Frost Damages Crops

TORONTO, Aug. 22—(CP) — Frost hit some sections of northwestern Ontario Saturday night and the temperatures dipped as low as 24 degrees at Mobert in the Thunder Bay area north of Lake Superior, Weather Bureau officials reported. Potatoes and other crops were damaged north of Geraldton in the same general area.

Measles' Epidemic

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Aug. 22 (CP)—An epidemic of measles has caused the death of about 30 Amerindians and stricken 500 to 600 others in the northern section of Rapununi, medical officers reported Sunday.

Westclox Ousted In PWSU As Kingston Sweeps Two

Kingson girls eliminated Westclox in Kingston on Saturday taking two games 9-8 and 12-10 —after the Clockers had won the opener handily here—to capture their PWSU Intermediate A series. The visitors did not play up to their best form and the [illegible] the Kingston Diamond rough, the girls spending half an hour before one game picking up glass from the field.

In the first fray A. Fallon pitched seven-hit ball and had pretty good support while Westclox kicked in with nine errors as M. Downer and M. Selkirk saw slab action. B. Morrow played heads-up ball for the losers with Marg Hawthorne also hustling. Jean Vass had three hits, she and N. Whetung hitting homers. D. Westlake and J. McIntyre figured in a double play. I. McMaster and P. Pettitt stood out defensively for Kingston, while R. Aitken led at bat with four blows, and B. Demona had a triple.

Windup Tussle

Both sides were loose afield in the second scrap and both got nine hits off M. Selkirk and M. Wistard, there being few strikeouts. J. Vass shone in all-around play and hit a homer, as M. Hawthorne fielded well and N. Whetung led at bat for the Clockers with two bingles. J. McIntyre was hurt in a collision in the seventh and taken for an X-ray. A. Fallon drove in the winning Kingston runs, as R. Aitken starred afield and T. Morrison led the victors at bat with a triple and single.

Oshawa Beats Locals In Junior Go

By FRED MAYBEE

Oshawa Hunters defeated the young Petes 10-0 Saturday at Riverside, in the second of a three-game series for Lakeshore Junior "A" honors. Thursday's tie game will be replayed Tuesday in Oshawa.

Bill McTavish pitched a great game for the Hunters, scattering four hits, fanning 14 and walking two to earn the win. The addition of Gord Hanna proved valuable to the visitors as he hit safely twice to drive home four runs off Dodson, who seemed off form Saturday. Barnes and O'Connor also starred for Hunters. Corkery relieved Dodson in the fourth and turned in a good effort for the balance of the play, subduing the Oshawa hitters pretty well. Petes' fielding was not up to par, however, in this game.

COBL playoffs open here at six tonight in Riverside Park as Batawa Shoemen tackle the Petes in the first of the best-of-five senior loop semi-finals. Second game in Belleville on Wednesday and third back here Saturday. Fourth and fifth, if necessary, next Monday and Wednesday, the winner then taking on Oshawa for the league pennant. The Batawa bunch are keened up for the big money series, and won 12-5 at home from the Petes in the schedule windup Saturday. So it should be a real ball game here tonight. Don't know who will do the flinging for either side yet as both pilots are being canny on pre-game announcements.

* * * * * *

Another ball game of real interest is listed for six bells tomorrow eve at Riverside. It's the one between the Petes and the local oldtime COBL-ers, proceeds going to aid minor ball in this city. We trust it, too, draws a big crowd. Fans are sure to enjoy seeing these diamond stars of yesterday out there in uniform once more. The oldtimers can get their outfits in the bridge dressing-room ere game time, and any names of former senior players here which were missed will be added and welcome if these chaps will drop around. Alex Kay is expected to be one of the umps. Don't pass up this attraction, folks.

Races Are A-Coming

Plenty of harness horse racing on tap for visitors to the exhibition the last half of this week. More than 60 horses will be here to go afternoon and night Thursday, Friday and Saturday, night events under the lights. Events are the 2.30 trot and pace, the 2.15, 2.24, 2.20, 2.27, 2.17, 2.22, 2.28, consolation and free-for-all in that order. For purses totalling $3,000. Some of the finest trotters and pacers in the provinces will be seen and competition ought to be keen and exciting. The races make up a big part of the annual fair for many people.

Uniteds are off to Kingston on the morrow to open their best-of-three OASA senior "B" playdowns. Next one here Saturday. Cosmos are idle for a space ere meeting the Oshawa-Kingston winner, we hear. Manager Howie Dalton threw his city champs a party Saturday night, a most enjoyable affair. By the way, Howie has been voted by teammates as most valuable player on the squad this year, with Jack Mackness runner-up. Howie won the Peller Trophy last year as most valuable in the loop, and was runner-up the previous year. Other clubs should make their selections, too, and the executive will then vote on the winner.

Elimination Sets In

Westclox girls bowed out of PWSU intermediate "A" competition Saturday in Kingston. They had won handily here but were nosed out 9-8 and 12-10 on a rough Limestone City diamond. The homesters played better ball as the Clockers were a bit off. Just didn't click in crucial spots and that was that. Tough luck, girls. J. McIntyre was hurt in the second game and had to retire. Over at the Bowl, Cobourg colleens Saturday rubbed out Lindsay 14-6 to make it two straight in their PWSU intermediate "B" series, so now we only have the junior Woollens left in the provincial race. Local league playoffs will be resuming, but at this writing we hadn't heard when. Maybe we'll get it later today.

* * * * * *

Fading in a furious fourth frame after putting up a hard battle, the Petes' lacrossers came out on the runtier side of a 14-5 count in Brampton on Saturday. Giving the Excelsiors a firm grip on first place in the OLA standing. St. Kitts edged Owen Sound 7-5 to go within a point of second spot. As Mimico defeated Weston, showing nobody is giving away anything now, the Petes are still in sixth place (last playoff position) by the skin of their teeth, just one up on Weston. The Creighton crew wind up their schedule this week with three tough tilts, two in Hamilton—one being a postponement—and St. Catharines here Friday. Quite an assignment.

Minor Lacrosse

Peterborough Peewee All-Stars swamped St. John's Peewee team in an exhibition game played at Miller Bowl by the score of 26 to 1. The St. John lads just couldn't cope with the fine passing of the larger Peterborough team. The defensive work of the Peterborough team was very good with the visitors getting few shots on the locals' goal.

At the end of the first period the score stood at 7-0 which was increased to 12 to 1 at half time. The Petes added in the third and in the final frame to make the final score 26 to 1. All the Petes played well with every one but the goalies figuring in the scoring. Bunville notched the lone St. Johns tally.

Petes—L. Hunt, F. Heffernan, Pearl, Murphy, Simmons, P. Heffernan, Dugan, Curtis, Davis, Keating, G. Hunt Jay, MacInnis, Hickson, Pace Hawthorne.

St. Johns—Mareau Bolmer, Oliver, Wagner, Bunville, Puddicombe, Burke, Smith, Menard, Green, Brunelle.

Referees—Joe Whitnall, Fred McMaster.

In an exhibition game played at Miller Bowl on Saturday Peterborough Bantam All-stars defeated St. Johns 12 to 2. The game was much closer than the score indicated with Simmons hard to beat in the nets for the Petes. Hunt notched five goals for the locals while Bloom and Kearns figured in on four, McDougall and Ryan on three, Cullen on two and Hobart on one. Harrington and Jean notched the St. Johns counters.

Petes — Simmons, Hobart, Bloom, Kearns, Cullen, Hunt, Ryan, Mullen, O'Rourke, McDougall, Strickland, Kelly, Roberts Frizelle, Delehaye.

St. Johns—Adams, McCann, Beatty, Jean, Harrington, Baker, Forsythe, Dargneault, Baker, Conroy.

Referees—Joe Whitnall, Fred McMaster.

Kawartha Tennis

Quaker "A" team defeated Quaker "B" 4-3 over the weekend here to move into the Kawartha Tennis League finals against the winner of the Port Hope-Cobourg bracket. The finals will be home and home matches.

The results, "A" players being mentioned first: Ladies singles—J. Vass lost to M. Charlton 0-6, 0-6; men's doubles—D. McPherson won from C. Galley 6-2, 7-5; first men's doubles—George Scott and Bun Kingdon lost to R. Charlton and W. Jones 5-7, 2-6; second—Reg Martin and Ray Kidd won from D. McNaught and Ray Beaudreau 6-3, 6-4; first ladies'—J. Patterson and N. Whittaker lost to B. Middleton and J. Smedmore 1-6, 3-6; first mixed—J. Elmsley and R. Johnston won from K. McFadyen and W. Elmsley 4-8, 8-6 and 6-4; second mixed—R. O'Connor and Al Conlin won from C. McHugh and R. Lye 6-1, 6-0.

Locals Beaten In OLA By Brampton

BRAMPTON, Aug. 22—Rolling to their 25th win of the season, Brampton Excelsiors took a stranglehold on first place in the OLA Senior race, with a convincing 14-5 victory over Peterborough Lumberjacks, in Brampton Rose Bowl on Saturday.

Piling up a 40 lead at the quarter-mark, the Excelsiors repulsed a determined Peterborough attack in the second period to hold a 6-4 half-time advantage. The work of both goalies, Blake Eatough for Brampton and Speck in the Lumberjack nets, held the scoring to a single goal in the third period, Gordie Cruikshanks of Brampton breaking in for a clean shot on Speck at the 14:32 mark.

Running wild in the final fifteen minutes, the Excelsiors, led by their Western ace Archie Browning, hammered in a total of seven goals, with Leo Teatro notching the lone tally for Peterborough.

Browning topped scorers for the Excelsiors with five goals and three assists, with Bobby Hilson, Ollie Raine, Gordie Steele, and Gordie Cruikshanks firing two each.

The teams:

Peterborough — Goal, Speck; defence, D. Vitarelli, Chute; rover, Foote; centre, E. Creighton; forwards, Dugan, Horton; alternates, Lewis, McNulty, Howse, Teatro, Magee, Frick, Breakspear.

Brampton— Goal, Eatough; defence, Shepperd, Mulliss; rover, Garbutt; centre, Steele; forwards, Hilson, Crawford; alternates, Taylor, Graham, Raine, Browning, Cruikshanks, Caruso, Ashbee, Arthurs.

Referees— Joe Murphy, Mimico; Lou Vipond, Weston.

Face Big Struggle

LONDON, Aug. 22 (Reuters)—The general council of the British Trades Union Congress Sunday warned members of the labor movement that they are facing in the next 12 months "the greatest struggle in their history, culminating in a general election."

Redbirds Split Twin Bill Dickson Causes Downfall

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Should St Louis Cardinals' brilliant fight for the National League pennant end in failure, some of the blame could be laid to a deal made last Jan. 29.

That was the day Robert Hannegan then president of the Cards, sold Murry Dickson, a front-line pitcher, to Pittsburgh Pirates. The transaction brought $125,000 to St. Louis but no players.

Dickson, a prominent factor in the Redbirds' 1943 and 1946 championships, won 12 games for the Cards in 1948.

Dickson has not fared well in Pittsburgh. The little righthander has been able to win only six games this season, but four of them have been over his former mates.

The Redbirds faced a golden opportunity to open up their biggest lead of the year over Brooklyn—2½ games—Sunday. They had just whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2 in the first game of a doubleheader while the Dodgers were losing to Boston 5-0.

But they did not reckon with their former pitching star. Murry not only beat them but shut them out with two singles. The score was 8-0. He had a no-hitter until Solly Hemus singled in the fifth. Enos Slaughter's safety was the only other St. Louis hit.

Fred Martin pitched the 4-2 victory for the Cards.

Jones Paces Cards

Nippy Jones paced the Cards' nine-hit attack on Bill Werle and Rip Sewell with three doubles and a single. Slaughter drove in two runs with a mighty triple off the right field wall.

Pete Castiglione and Dino Restelli sparked the Pirates in the second game. Castiglione had a two-run homer and double. Restelli hit a two-run homer and a single.

Bill Voiselle pitched the Braves to their shutout victory over the Dodgers. It was Voiselle's sixth triumph, four of them shutouts. He has beaten the Dodgers three times.

Boston Red Sox closed in on the American League-leading New York Yankees, cutting their first-place margin to 2½ games by walloping Washington 4-0. Philadelphia helped the Red Sox by downing the Yankees 8-7.

Jack Kramer scattered seven hits to post his fourth victory for the Red Sox. The 34th defeat in their last 38 games dropped the Senators into the cellar.

Lefty Lou Brissie and first baseman Ferris Fain helped celebrate "Connie Mack Day" at Yankee Stadium, by leading the A's to their only win over the Yankees in the three-game set. Brissie went the route for his 12th victory. Fain drove in six runs with a double and grand slam homer.

Split Twin Bill

Third-place Cleveland split a doubleheader with the White Sox in Chicago. The Indians came from behind to win the second game 7-4 after Chicago had won the opener 5-4. Larry Doby featured a six run fifth inning with his 19th homer.

St. Louis moved out of eighth place by splitting a twin bill with Detroit. Les Moss' two-run, pinch-hit single in the eighth beat the Tigers 4-2 in the first game. Home runs by Vic Wertz, Pat Mullin and Paul Campbell won the second game for Detroit 8-7.

Philadelphia Phils divided a doubleheader with New York Giants. Kenny Heintzelman blanked Leo Durocher's crew 4-0 for the Phils in the opener. The second game was forfeited to the Giants by umpire Al Barlick in the ninth inning when the Philadelphia customers rained pop bottles and other missiles on the field in protest over a decision by umpire George Barr.

Barr had ruled that Philly outfielder Richie Ashburn had trapped a drive off the bat of Joe Lafata. Ashburn argued that he caught it. The Giants were in front at the time 4-2.

Cincinnati came back to get a split in its twin bill with Chicago winning the second game 4-1 after the Cubs had won the opener 5-4.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

The "grand old man" of baseball, George Wright, one of the last links with the handlebar moustache era of razor-like spikes and gloveless catches, died in Boston one year ago today. Wright captained the first professional baseball club —the Cincinnati Red Stockings of 1869.

Batawa Squad Gets Win To Close Loop

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 22 (CP) — Batawa Shoemen ended the regular COBL season Saturday by downing Peterborough Marines 12-5 on their home diamond. The game had no bearing on the league standing as the Petes were assured of a second place berth, and the Batawas third.

The Shoemen got to Peterborough hurler Plunkett for six runs in the first three frames to give them a lead they never relinquished. They added a single run in the seventh and ran in five in the eighth to salt away the victory.

Peterborough scored twice in the fourth but made their most determined rally in the sixth when they scored one run and loaded the bases with none away. A pop fly to Peacock in centre field scored another run but a fine relay nipped the runner trying to take third to lift the homesters out of a hole. Peacock retired the side as Plunkett flied out.

The Marines counted their last run in the ninth off Art Wright who came in to relieve Muffitt.

YOU CAN'T BUY A BETTER MOTOR OIL

Smooth running, trouble-free performance is yours with Peerless Motor Oil. Peerless is "Alloyed"... for longer lasting lubrication to all moving parts ...for unsurpassed protection against wear and friction. Refined and processed from the finest selected crudes, Peerless does a complete lubrication job under all driving conditions. Peerless means real economy because of fewer breakdowns brought on by oil failure. Drive into one of the 6000 B-A dealers from coast to coast in Canada and drain, flush and refill with Peerless. "You can't buy a better motor oil."

"It's Alloyed"

"Peerless customers never seem to have very big repair bills around our garage. There certainly must be something to the Peerless Economy story", says Roy Hay, Belmont Service, 6th & Belmont Sts., New Westminster, B.C.

"My regular PEERLESS customers seldom complain about engine performance. It certainly makes a difference", states Harold Feilde, B-A Dealer, 999 Barton Street East, Hamilton, Ontario.

"We make it a rule around our place to bring oil to a safe driving level. I have seen too many take chances with the result that costly damage has been done through lack of oil. It pays to use a good oil regularly", says Marcel Thibault, Route Trans Canada, Lauzon, Quebec.

Sign Up Town Of Gainesville To Make Film

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 22—(AP)—Columbia Pictures announces signing of the entire town of Gainesville, Texas, for a film based on its famed community circus.

Virtually the whole town (9,651 at last census) takes part in the circus, which has become well-known throughout Texas and the continent. All yill take part in the picture, which will be filmed during the show's tour.

Skelton Hijunks

Red Skelton always keeps his sets lively. He arrived early for a street scene of "Yellow Cab Man" and re-arranged a sign on a theatre marquee to read "Milton Berle in Always Leave Them Laughing." He says it almost got into the picutre before someone noticed it.

Skelton likes to bedevil his director, Jack Donohue, with new ideas for screen plays. The comic's latest is an Australian saga. It concerns a young lad whose father gives Tim a new boomerang. The boy develops a psychosis trying to throw the old one away.

Danny Thomas one of the finest comedians, finally gets a comedy role in his next film. His studio introduced him in character roles.

Capsule Review

"I Was a Male War Bride" (TCF) is an amiable comedy that rambles through Europe and 105 minutes of film. It is never very close-knit, but provides a number of comic situations that are good for guffaws. Tighter construction could have made it a wow.

Cary Grant and Ann Sheridan play the couple beleguered by army red tape. The plot is contained in the title.

Political Committee Labor Group Objective

QUEBEC, Aug. 22 (CP) — L'Evenement-Journal said today in a front page story that the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor will probably form a political action committee during its annual convention Sept. 18-22 in Montreal.

The newspaper said it was basing its report on rumors "which are being substantiated more and more in well-informed labor circles."

The Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor has a membership of about 100,000 in the Province of Quebec. Its largest affiliates include textile workers' unions and Asbestos mine workers in the Eastern Townships.

The morning daily said that the Federation of Pulp and Paper Workers had adopted a resolution advocating a political action committee and that the resolution was forwarded to the annual convention committee for approval by the expected 400 delegates.

Farm Hand Confesses Slaying Three Women

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 22 (AP)—Police said Sunday night a 30-year-old celery farm worker had confessed to the slaying of three Fort Wayne women who figured in the case of Ralph Lobaugh, now under death sentence.

Police chief Lester M. Isenhut and Sheriff Harold S. Zeis of Allen County said a statement admitting the slayings was made by Franklin Click, who has been under arrest since Wednesday.

A joint statement by the two officers said "It's true this man has confessed to the slayings of Wilhelmina Haaga, Anna Kuzeff and Phyllis Conine."

The slayings of Miss Kuzeff and Miss Haaga are two to which Lobaugh, now under sentence to die for the sex killings of Mrs. Dorothea Howard of Fort Wayne, once admitted and then denied.

Friends Honor Couple On Eve Of Departure

BETHANY, Aug. 22—(ENS)—A large number of friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. H. Heasman gathered at their home here recently to bid them farewell on the eve of their departure for their new home near Omemee. All members of the family were present except one daughter, Mrs. T. Rogers (Beulah), of Warkworth, who was ill.

The evening was spent in round and square dancing, with music supplied by Ronald and Donald Speir, Elwood Kerr, G. Ball, Harvey Hall, Norman Graham, and George Gallagher. An address was read by Mrs. O. Sargeant and the couple were presented with an occasional chair, matching end table, and a table lamp. Mr. and Mrs. Heasman expressed their thanks for the gifts and invited those present to visit them in their new home.

Beaver Narrows Forest Fire Kept In Check

"You don't realize what a fire in the bush is, until you see one. If some of these fellows who are so careless in the bush could see what they're doing, it would open their eyes." Those were the words of Mayor Max Swanston this morning, after returning from a week-end visit in the Katchacoma district, and seeing a fire ravaging there.

The fire, which was well under control by Sunday, was at Beaver Narrows, near Gold Lake. District Forester A. B. Wheatley told the Examiner that the fire covered less than an acre of pine and hemlock, and Peterborough Lumber Company, on whose property the fire was, said it was second growth.

The fire is believed to have been started by careless campers in the area. The campers, incidentally, were gone when the fire was discovered. The District Forester's office sent three or four men in to quell the blaze, and Peterborough Lumber sent a crew from Peterborough.

"The woods are very dry," the mayor said, referring to the fact that even a small blaze can be dangerous at this time.

Mr. Wheatley said that "the fire is definitely under control, and has been almost since it started."

Quick action of fire fighters confined to a small area and to relatively small damage this fire in some of the richest lumber lands of Peterborough county. Had it got out of control the loss would have been very serious, it is said.

OBITUARIES

MRS. SARAH MOORE.

After a lingering illness death came Sunday to Mrs. Sarah Moore of Millbrook at her residence. She was in her 81st year.

She was the former Sarah Robinson, daughter of the late John Robinson and Sarah Lawson. Born in North Cavan, she was educated at Millbrook and later was a resident of Peterborough. Several years ago she moved to Millbrook.

Mrs. Moore leaves a sister, Miss Emma Robinson of Peterborough. Her husband, James Moore, predeceased her.

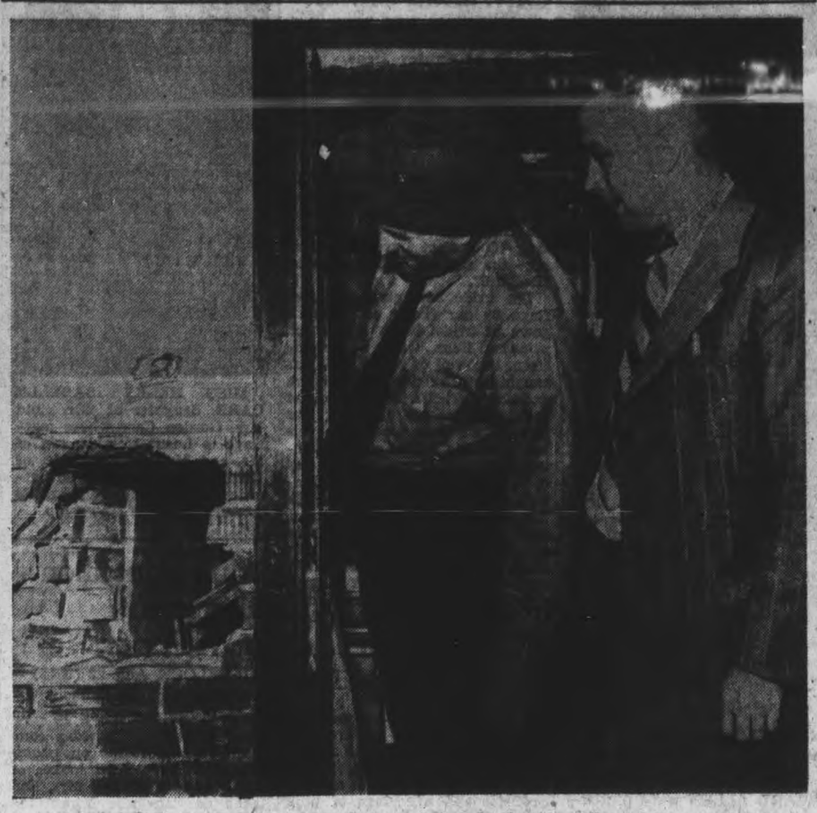
While a Peterborough resident she was a member of All Saints' Anglican Church.

The funeral will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday from the Nisbett Funeral Home with the Rev. W. A. Filer of Hamilton, formerly rector of All Saints', officiating. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. RICHARD PEARSON.

Mrs. Richard Pearson of Bobcaygeon died Saturday after an illness of five months at Lindsay in her 77th year. She was the wife of the late Richard Pearson who predeceased her some time ago. Mrs. Pearson was born in Norwood, Dencie Rusaw, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Rusaw.

Mrs. Pearson was a resident of Bobcaygeon for the past 17 years where she attended the Knox Presbyterian Church.



Surviving are two stepdaughters, Mrs. A. Mallory and Mrs. C. O. Henley of Belleville.

The Rev. Horace Kaye conducted the funeral service today at the Kaye Funeral Home before interment at Little Lake Cemetery. Pallbearers were Jack Foreman, Mervin Steele, Jack Kelly, Harold Patterson, A. Claude, A. Rusaw.

A SATURDAY MORNING BREAK-IN AT LAKEFIELD netted yeggmen a total of $25 in petty cash at the office of the American Nepheline mining office. Believed that they were after a $5,000 payroll, paid the day before, by cheque, the thieves knocked an 18 by 20-inch hole in the vault wall to crawl inside and open the main door. Chief Constable Garnet Samis and office manager Harry Stabler, Front, are shown examining the damage. Officials said it was the work of professional thieves.

Packinghouse Unions Meet In City For Conference

An historical outline of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO-CCL) on Saturday was given to about 100 delegates and their wives by Fred Dowling, Canadian Director of the UPWA. His address was the highlight of the two-day quarterly Ontario Council Conference.

It was the first time the UPWA has ever met in Peterborough.

Although the UPWA is not as large as some of the other unions in the country, none surpasses it in influence, Mr. Dowling said.

He stated that, contrary to the impression in some quarters, there have been few strikes during the eight years of the union's life.

"If we went out on strike every time we had cause to do so there would not be much livestock slaughtered," he commented.

Since 1941 there have been three strikes: in 1941 the Dumart strike in Kitchener that lasted nearly a year; in 1945 the CP strike that lasted ten days in Peterborough; and in 1947 the six-week walkout over the contract with the "big three" of the packinghouse industry — CP, Burns, and Swifts.

It was necessary to call a country-wide strike in the packinghouse industry if definite results were to be achieved, he told the delegates. There were two reasons for this: the manner in which the union was organized, and the structure of the industry.

He pointed out that it was next to useless to pull out the workers at, say, the Toronto branch of CP if the others were still operating. The livestock would just be shunted to a plant that was open for the slaughtering.

The union has been built on the basis of the master contract, obtained in 1945, he stated. This method of arriving at a contract brings handicaps as well as benefits, he cautioned, for negotiations must be on a country-wide basis. And if there are strikes they become national strikes.

Many attempts were made to organize the packinghouse workers before 1941, said Mr. Dowling. At the close of the First World War the AFL had "some success" in this direction, but its gains were washed away afterwards.

The failure was due to the fact the unions were scattered, he contended.

A change in strategy was decided upon by the founders of the UPWA. They decided that the strongest and largest plant, CP in Toronto, "the home-ground of J. S. McLean," would have to be organized first.

"We went on the assumption that if we won the Toronto plant we would win the battle," he said.

This strategy was successful and the UPWA has since grown to 17,000 members.

One of the union's accomplishments was firmly establishing the CIO west of the Great Lakes, he contended.

"The union has done a tremendous job in improving conditions in the packinghouse industry, as early as 1941," stated the Canadian director.

15 Cent Increase

S. G. "Ves" Perry, chairman of the Ontario Council, told the applauding delegates: "We are standing solid from coast to coast on this 15-cents-an-hour increase.

He said unionists should see organized labor was represented in every level of government across the country, and he concluded by urging the delegates to see that as many workers as possible participated in the Labor Day parade.

Both Alfred Barber, president of Local 210, and William Gunn, president of Local 293, made brief addresses.

Mr. Barber briefly traced the progress of the UPWA and the CIO in Peterborough since the CP plant was organized in 1942.

"We were the founders of the CIO in Peterborough and we are carrying the fight as it goes along," he stated.

Others present at the banquet in the Legion Hall Saturday night were W. C. McDonald, national education director; Lloyd Fell, MPP, and UPWA field representative; and Margaret Sargent, secretary of the United Rubber Workers of America.

Fred Hannah, local CIO representative, was chairman.

The international president, Ralph Helstein, of Chicago, was unable to attend.

Mr. McDonald spoke on The Job of a Steward, and Mr. Fell addressed the delegates on Education in the Union.

Mayor Max Swanston brought greetings to the conference members from the citizens of Peterborough.

Boys To Drive In Special Race

Three boys will be the drivers in an added race Wednesday night on the week's card at the Peterborough Exhibition.

Hugh Stewart, Jr., 15, will handle the lines of Katherine Tipton with a handicap of 100 feet. His brother Jim Stewart, 13, will drive Snappy Abbie, and Hugh Stewart of Port Hope, cousin of the Peterborough boys 12 years old and youngest of three will be up behind Minto Direct.

That is the only race scheduled for Wednesday night around the flood-lighted track. The main card opens Thursday with a 2.30 class, trot or pace, followed by two races each afternoon and evening to the free-for-all and consolation events Saturday night.

Seven horses are entered for the free-for-all, including Merton Storey's Canada Direct; Millie Volo, owned by Alex Stewart of Port Hope; Jimmy Brewer from the Downey stable of Oshawa; and Hugh Stewart's mare Katherine Tipton. There is also a Quebec pacer that is a rather unknown quantity among local horsemen.

Industrial Site Trophy To CGE For Beds, Lawns

Canadian General Electric Company has been awarded the E. C. Braund trophy of the Horticultural Society for outstanding work in beautification of industrial properties here this year.

CGE premises are closely followed by the Western Clock Company, De Laval Company and Nashua Paper Company.

Following the practice of changing the judge for this award in fairness to the society and to the men in charge of the factory lawns and flower beds, the assignment this year was accepted by Herbert R. Taylor of Toronto, a past president of the Canadian Gladiolus Society, and a life long exhibitor at the Canadian National Exhibition and Royal Winter Fair.

In his comment, Mr. Taylor said: "For an industrial city I have never seen such interest shown in the care and the beautification of factory surroundings. They are most creditable to those responsible, and the co-operation of the various executives is something of which Peterborough can well be proud. It must be most gratifying to your civic officials to have the support and the co-operation of the industrial heads and of the citizens generally in this fine work. You have a beautiful city."

Difficult Decision

The report is that Mr. Taylor found it difficult to decide the winner. CGE has some splendid flower beds with striking harmonies of color, including a sparkling bed featuring red geraniums. At that, it probably would get a secondary rating against the other beds along the Park St. front.

The groundsmen at those four plants have done an excellent job this year, particularly in the quality of the turf and the freshness of the color of the grass. De Laval appears to gain some sharper degree of appeal and impression in the freedom of its unfenced lawn. Trees are a factor at most of the factory premises in Peterborough.

Nashua Paper has made a wonderful improvement in its grounds in only a few years. Green lawns cannot be established in that time but Nashua Paper has brought about a great change.

Examples Set

Horticultural Society as quoted by the secretary, Wm. C. Wilks, wishes to extend its appreciation of all the fine work of the industrial plants in setting an example to the citizens of beautification. A special compliment is offered to Quaker Oats Company for their park property on the east side of the river at Hunter St., and notably for the attractiveness of their rockery.

Canada Packers get some mention, too, for their flowers and neatness on the property across George St. from their plant. Their double pink petunias were a pleasing color along the hot street this summer.

Mr. Wilks' comment is that CPC has done much to relieve the unsightly area in that locality. Acknowledgment is also made of the new bed planted this year by Peterborough Lumber Co. at their main approach to the city, and Peterborough Bus Lines for their colorful beds and borders.

The society does not intend to overlook the beauty of Elmwood Park, the property of A. Wander Limited, makers of Ovaltine. Its great asset is in its trees. They have been a grand show all season, virtually a bird sanctuary, a conservatory of songbirds greeting pedestrian strollers on early Sunday morning from early spring throughout the summer.

"The interest of the heads of our industries is a great stimulus to our society and the individual members," Mr. Wilks said. "In the annual report of the Ontario Horticultural Association last year special mention was made of the industrial improvement awards in Guelph and Peterborough, the only two cities in the province where this manner of appreciating beauty in factory premises has been adopted. It is regarded as as "real success'."

Edinburgh's Famous Festival Opens With Church Service

By STUART UNDERHILL,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

EDINBURGH, Aug. 22—A long file of brightly-robed dignitaries trudged into St. Giles Cathedral here Sunday to mark the beginning of another of Edinburgh's famous festivals of music and drama.

For the next three weeks every available hall and theatre will resound with music or actors' declamations. The city's hotels and lodging houses are bursting with visitors from nearly all parts of the world.

Canada has sent its largest contingent of festival visitors yet, and for the first time they will have a direct part in the program when the Ottawa Drama League presents Robertson Davies' play "Eros at Breakfast" during the week of international drams.

This is the third year the festival has been held. It is the biggest yet, with 1,800 participating artists and 250,000 tickets for the various performances. Nearly every performance has been a sell-out, rousing hopes that the festival will break even financially for the first time.

The cathedral service was attended by Edinburgh's civic officials in their colorful robes of office and many specially-invited mayors and burgomasters from Europe. Afterwards, they paraded down the famous Royal Mile leading to Holyrood Palace, the King's Edinburgh residence.

Sunday night Sir Thomas Beecham, who derided the festival when it was first proposed, launched the musical side of the festivities by conducting the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra in a concert. Today the full program of music, ballet and drama is in progress.

Apart from the cultural side, there are many attractions. Princess Street Gardens are bright with flowers. There is open-air dancing and every night troops in full dress perform special drills close by historic Edinburgh Castle.

Thirty-five Canadian visitors arrived by air at Glasgow's Prestwick Airport Friday. Their aircraft was to have made a low flight over Princess Street before landing but was not able to because of adverse weather.

They were greeted at the airport by pipers and Sir Andrew Murray, Lord Provost of Edinburgh, who said "Edinburgh is almost full today with Lord Mayors from all countries but somehow we feel the festival now is started with your arrival from Canada."

Major Watt Returns For Sutherland Funeral

Major Charles Watt of Toronto conducted the funeral service in memory of the late James Sutherland Jr. at the Salvation Army ...urday afternoon. The ...r in charge of the local corps returned to Peterborough for this purpose.

The pallbearers were Dr. Arthur Johnston, Hugh Stewart, Hugh Davis, P. Armstrong, R. Ritchie and J. Foskett.

TWO SAWDUST FIRES

Apart from assisting at the Lillico fire in North Monaghan, firemen had two small blazes to deal with over the weekend. Both were caused by sawdust igniting. The first was shortly before 7 p.m. Saturday when sawdust and used lumber ignited at the building site at the north end of the London St. dam. It was on the premises of the Gunnite Waterproofing Co. which is repairing the dam. The other was Sunday night on Gilchrist St., just south of Jackson Park Creep where a pile of sawdust was also burning. Both blazes were put out by a pumper truck.

EXTEND DUAL HIGHWAY

Extension of the dual No. 2 highway on the Lake Ontario front is expected to be resumed after the completion of a contract that has been let for the shifting of the CPR east of Oshawa. Work will be begun soon on the railway job. The double highway has been finished between Highland Creek and Oshawa. It was begun in 1937 but was held up during the war years until 1946 when the Department of Highways proceeded with the road which was officially opened by Hon. Geo. Doucett in Dec. 1947.

WINDOW BROKEN

Miss Helen Fisk, 204 McDonnel St., reported to Provincial police Sunday night that a window had been broken in a cottage owned by her on an island in Stony Lake. Investigation conducted by Provincial Constable W. K. O'Shaughnessy revealed that nothing had been stolen. The window was broken during the afternoon when the occupants were away.

DR. SEMPLE TO PRESIDE

Officials of the United Church of Canada have announced plans for a series of conferences on evangelism to encourage stronger allegiance to the church. They said the first conference in the series will be held at Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, September 8-9. Dr. James Semple of Peterborough will preside.

Think Missing Youth May Be Headed East

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22.—(CP)—Mrs. Duncan E. Campbell, of nearby Transcona, said Sunday that she thinks her missing 20-year-old son may be suffering from amnesia. The youth disappeared a week ago.

Mrs. Campbell said that if the youth had intentionally wanted to disappear, he might have gone to Peterborough in Southern Ontario where he has friends.

She said he worked near Peterborough one summer and has always liked that part of the country.

Inspector E. V. McNeill, in charge of No. 8 District Headquarters of the Ontario Provincial Police, Peterborough, said today that he had not yet received any request to make a search for Campbell in this district. He told an Examiner reporter that the latter's query on the matter was the first intimation he had yet received in regard to it.

Ennismore Couple Hurt When Two Cars Collide

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, R.R. 2, Ennismore, were taken to Civic Hospital shortly after ten o'clock this morning after the car in which they were riding was in collision with another car at the intersection of the road leading to the Onemong Causeway at Bridgenorth and the Bridgenorth Lakefield county road.

Extent of the injuries sustained by the accident victims could not be determined pending development of X-ray plates. Their condition is not believed to be critical, however.

E. W. Young, 50 Ware St., Peterborough, a passenger in the Jones car was uninjured. The other car was driven by Alfred Oldfield, of Port Kennedy, Pennsylvania, who was accompanied by Norman Knott of Curve Lake, neither of whom was hurt.

The crash occurred when Mr. Jones, who was travelling east, attempted to make a left turn to the county road. The American car, which was travelling north, collided with the right side of the Jones car. Both vehicles sustained between $300 and $400 damage.

The accident was investigated by Provincial Constable E. J. Crough and Mr. and Mrs. Jones were taken to hospital in Belleghem's ambulance. The Jones car ran into the ditch after the collision.

Penniless Pole Placed By Employment Office

The Examiner has received word that Joseph Suszko, who arrived in Peterborough July 22 after having lost all his money, has been looked after in fine style. Mr. Suszko is a displaced person who came here after completing his contract at Kapuskasing.

Deputy Minister of Labor A. MacNamara showed an interest in the plight of the young man, and was informed by the local Employment Office that Mr. Suszko had been placed on a farm near Hastings to help with the harvest. Since that time, officials have found a construction job for him in Peterborough, and according to all reports, he is now quite happy.

The 25-year-old Pole was spotted wandering down George St., afraid to go to the Employment Office because of his inability to speak good English. He was taken into the office by an Examiner reporter, and placed in the hands of Mr. James R. Sharp.

Mr. MacNamara says, referring to this case, that "It is the kindness and goodwill of the people they (the D.P.'s) meet from day to day which will enable them to become useful and happy members of their community".

CARS COLLIDE

Care operated by W. H. Brown, 216 Simcoe St., and Mrs. A. Herridge, 755 George St., were involved in a collision on No. 7 highway three miles east of Lindsay, at about 9.00 Sunday night. Neither driver was injured and the vehicles suffered only slight damage.

DISCUSS CAUSEWAY

Members of the Victoria County Roads Committee are visiting Peterborough today to discuss possible assistance from the City and County in a proposed causeway across Pidgeon Lake. The meeting is being held at the county building.

Special Mention Given Work Of Lock Company

"If there isn't any available horticultural prize for Peterborough Lock Company, at least they are entitled to extra special mention for their contribution on Hunter and Simcoe St. to down town beauty," a horticulturist said today.

"All those other companies that are listed in today's report from the Horticultural Society, giving the E.C. Braund trophy to CGE, have spacious grounds, plus the desire to improve them."

"Lock Company has only the desire, the spirit of beauty, common to virtually all of Peterborough's industries. If they have one square foot of land that will grow anything, it may be some spot of doubtful fertility on their Hunter St. frontage.

"And when you come to Hunter St. you find that most of the Lock Company frontage spans the Jackson Park creek. So, Lock had nothing to work on, but they are getting unofficial honorable mention for what they have done.

"Peterborough Lock made their flower gardens, miniaturely, after the fashion of hanging gardens, and they created a bright spot which Hunter St. pedestrians have been admiring all summer.

"Both their Simcoe and Hunter St. fronts are just about the last spots in Peterborough where any one would think of growing flowers. But, it was done, because some one at the Lock Company thought last spring of having flowers around the place, although opportunity appeared just about impossible.

"On Simcoe St. they set up a row of flower boxes along the low front wall on the west side of their property, and around the short stretch of iron fencing on Hunter St., they also suspended for the summer similar boxes of flowers. This latter display was close to the sidewalk on the south side of Hunter St., and was probably recognized by the public as an enterprising accomplishment of Peterborough Lock. They made flowers grow in a place where hardly anyone would expect flowers. The spirit was not only willing but eager, and people must have noticed that here was a contribution in beautification that was out of the ordinary, deserving a compliment when the Horticultural Society's industrial premises award for 1949 was announced."

FLOWMEN'S MEETING

Peterborough county's plowing match may cross the causeway to Ennismore in October. Vern Campbell has called a meeting for Tuesday, Aug. 30 to begin preparations for the local event.

Skinkle-Carr Rites Performed

In the parsonage of St. Paul's United Church, Warkworth, on Saturday afternoon the Rev. H. G. Lester performed the marriage of Helen Isabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Carr, to Lorne Skinkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Skinkle.

The bride was wearing a street length dress of white slipper satin and a fingertip veil of white net caught to a headdress of orange blossoms. She was attended by Mrs. Jas. Sayles, sister of the groom, who wore mauve taffeta in street length style. Each carried a bouquet of red roses.

The groomsman was Harold Carr, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in [illegible] Township. Her mother received, attired in black and wearing a corsage of red roses, assisted by the groom's mother, who was similarly gowned. Friends who assisted to serve the refreshments were Misses Noreen Carr, Hazel Grills, Marjorie Sandercock, Margaret Wartman and Mrs. Charles Killingbeck, Mrs. Aubrey Lockhart and Mrs. Earl White.

For going-away the bride chose a tailored suit of grey gabardine, black accessories and a corsage of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Skinkle will live on the groom's farm near Warkworth.

Royal Birthday Recalls Scotch Legend

BALMORAL, Scotland, Aug. 22 —(AP)—In the hilly MacBeth country around ancient Glamis Castle, birthplace of Princess Margaret, old wives spin this legend:

"The girl child who first sees light of day in Glamis Castle will be married before she is 20."

This leaves Princess Margaret just 364 days to make the legend come true—for she celebrated her 19th birthday Sunday. Like her three previous birthday observances, this one was at Balmoral Castle, where the Royal Family vacations.

Only a tea party marked the event. A special guest was the Princess' close friend, Sharman Douglas, daughter of Lewis Douglas, United States ambassador. Margaret's 9-month-old nephew, Prince Charles, was there, too.

None of the young nobles who sometimes are seen out with Princess Margaret was at the party. However, Hugh Fraser, 31-year-old Conservative member of parliament and brother of Lord Lovat, was on hand.

Princess Margaret began the day by driving to near-by Crathie Church with the King and Queen and her 13-year-old cousin, the Duke of Kent. Behind them rode Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh. Thousands lined the country road from castle to church to glimpse the Royal Family.

Congratulatory messages and presents for Princess Margaret poured in from all over the Commonwealth.

A helicopter flew up from London with one load. British newspapers called attention to the Princess birthday by publishing her birthday portrait on front pages. The portrait, taken by court photographer Cecil Beaton, shows the usually gay Princess in a sombre mood, a vague half-smile on her lips.

Family Celebrate 80th Birthday

BONARLAW, Aug. 22—(ENS) —Mrs. Arthur Burkitt was hostess on Sunday evening to a large number of guests at her home in honor of her mother, Mrs. T. M. Reid of Springbrook, who celebrated her eightieth birthday. Tables were placed on the lawn and lunch was served by six great-granddaughters of Mrs. Reid. A large birthday cake decorated with 80 candles was the centre of attraction.

Mrs. Reid received many gifts including a handsome bedspread from her daughters. Guests were present from Belleville, Marmora, Campbellford, Peterborough and Eighth Line.

Aviatrix Raps 'Nasty Minds'

LONDON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Mrs. Richarda Morrow-Tait, British aviatrix, struck back Sunday at "smutty minds" who, she said, had accused her of running away from her husband and child for a "good time" romp around the world.

She arrived here last week after a flight from Canada on the last leg of her globe-girdling trip.

Writing under her own by-line in the Sunday Dispatch, she said:

"To my critics I say....I have heard how you accused me of running away from my husband and child, and I know what you've said about my morals.

"But I don't really care what you think because people who know me know how very dearly I love my husband, and people who have been trying to twist things are only judging by their own standards, which are not mine."

Referring to people who, she said, had asked about her navigator, Michael Townsend, Mrs. Morrow-Tait wrote:

"They are disappointed it didn't turn out to be what they thought —a dirty week-end....our parents were friends, and we have grown up together just as good friends, certainly nothing more."

William E. Allen Marries Catherine Raymore Scott

At Murray St. Baptist Church on Saturday, Miss Catherine Raymore Scott, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. Raymore Scott, 286 Hunter St. W., was married to William Edward Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, Reid St. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Ivan Morgan assisted by the Rev. H. G. Douglas. Music was played by Stanley Northrop and Mrs. Northrop sang Where'er You Walk while the register was signed.

The ceremony took place in the church, which was decorated with gladioli shading from white to coral.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory slipper satin with pleated net edging, low sweetheart neckline, full length pointed sleeves and circular train. She wore a finger-length veil of French net pleated into a bandeau and caught at each side with buds of cream gladioli and white heather. Her crescent bouquet was of cream gladioli centred with white heather.

Mrs. D. Donald Diplock, London, Ont., sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Amanda Jane Scott, Oakville and Andrea Vining Diplock, both nieces of the bride, were flower girls. The matron of honor wore a gown of apricot shot taffeta with wide low cowl neckline, cap sleeves and very full gored skirt. She had cream flowers in her hair and her bouquet was of cream gladioli and apricot.

The flower girls, who were dressed identically, wore white point d'esprit over apricot taffeta. The dresses had wide ruffles at the hemline and wide girdles tying at the back in large bows. On their heads they had pleated halos of white point d'esprit tying in bows under the chin. They carried small circular bouquets.

Thomas J. Allen, brother of the groom was best man and ushers were W. Andrew Scott, brother of the bride; R. J. Allen, brother of the groom; Robert Clispin and Robert Rowsell.

At the reception in the Green Room of the Y.W.C.A. mothers of the bride and groom received the guests. Mrs. Scott was dressed in dusky rose with a navy blue taffeta hat and her bouquet was of gardenias. Mrs. Allen wore pastel blue and a hat of natural straw. She had a bouquet of cream roses.

The honeymon is being spent in Northern Ontario, after which the couple will live in Windsor.

For travelling the bride wore a surrah two-piece dress in skipper blue printed with grey and coral, grey hat and accessories. She had a corsage of rubrum lilies and cream gladioli.

Young Peoples Groups Combine

MILLBROOK, Aug. 22 (ENS)— About 30 members of the combined Young People's Group of St. Andrew's, St. Thomas' and Grace Churches had an outing on Sunday afternoon when they motored to Burleigh Falls. Among those in attendance were: Don Spicer, president; Jean Smith, 1st vice-presidest; Edith Elson, secrtary; Don Thompson, treasurer; and Paul Saunders, convenor of the social committee. The afternoon was spent swimming in Stoney Lake, boating on Lovesick Lake and in exploring the nearby country.

After supper the whole group rowed over to an island. Here the evening was brought to a close with a corn roast at which attendance prizes for the year were presented. The prizes, consisting of books, were won by Edith Elson for the girls, and Paul Saunders for the boys.

Social Situations

SITUATION: Someone tells you what nice manners your child has.

WRONG WAY: Feel you must deny the compliment by saying that he certainly doesn't show much evidence of good manners around home.

RIGHT WAY: Say: 'Thank you." It is never necessary to run down a member of your family when an outsider makes a complimentary remark.

Shirley Delahay Is Bride Of Wilbert Smith

The wedding took place Saturday in George St. United Church of Shirley Irene, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Delahay, to Wilbert A. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Apsley. The Rev. Dr. Jas. Semple performed the ceremony.

The church was decorated with baskets of gladioli, ferns and palms. Before the bride entered the church, Mrs. J. A. Spencley sang "O Perfect Love" and during the signing of the register, "Because".

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of bridal satin made on princess lines with a flowing train. Her veil of nylon net was caught to a French beaded tiara and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Her matron of honor was Mrs. D. Clysdale who wore yellow brocaded taffeta with matching poke bonnet and mittens and carried a cascade of mauve gladioli. The bridesmaids were Miss Iris Smith, sister of the groom, and Miss Maxine Johnston who were similarly frocked in nile green and orchid brocaded taffeta with matching poke bonnets and mittens, and carrying cascades of pink and yellow gladioli.

The groomsman was Mr. Roy Delahey, brother of the bride, and ushers were Messrs. D. Clysdale and H. Leard.

A reception for 80 guests was held in the church parlors. The bride's mother received in a dress of navy and white sheer with which she wore navy hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother also received, attired in a dress of mauve crepe, grey hat and matching accessories and wearing a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride and groom left later on a motor trip and on return will live in Peterborough. For travelling the bride wore a suit of navy wool crepe with navy taffeta hat and navy accessories.

Doctors Develop New Aids For Arthritis

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—(AP) —Plant seeds in Africa, hogs in Chicago stockyard and ox-bile in a Rahway, N.J., laboratory are figuring in one of medicine's newest and most dramatic stories.

It is the story of two substances which have shown remarkable promise for the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis and of rheumatic fever. The substances are called "Cortisone" and "Acth."

They are extremely scarce. Even if large supplies could be obtained scientists will not release them for general use until it is fully established that they are safe.

Investigators emphasize that Cortisone and Acth, in the treatment of arthritis, at least, must is given continuously—as Insulin is for diabetes—or the patient will relapse.

Cortisone now is being produced by a synthetic process in which the starting material is a fraction of the bile from oxen.

Acth, like Cortisone, is a hormone. It occures naturally in the human pituitary gland.

Gout Aided

Gout is another disease which the substance has shown promise.

Scientists, to offset a short supply of Cortisone, are searching in Africa for seeds of various species of a tree-growing vine of the "Strophanthus" family.

They will seek to confirm findings by previous investigators that a certain chemical called "Saramentooenin," which is similar to Cortisone is obtainable from seeds of at least one of these species.

Proven utility of "Saramentooenin" would allow Cortisone to be produced in a week, instead of in six months as under the present process.

Raise Funds For Church Entrance

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 22 (ENS) —The combined groups of the Women's Association of the United Church held a "pot luck" dinner in the dining hall of the church on Wednesday afternoon when well over one hundred attended. This series of dinners are quite popular with the tourists. The ladies have been requested to have another such dinner on Wednesday, Aug. 24.

The proceeds of the dinners go to help defray the expense of a new entrance and iron rail leading into the church.

Institute Hears Addresses On Education

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 22 (ENS) —"Education" was the theme of the August meeting of the Womens' Institute which was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Mann Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. T. J. Brown read a paper on "Adult Education." One of the greatest mistakes, she said, in thinking o feducation, is to put a period instead of a comma after public school, high school or even university training.

The world is moving so fast that ideas, knowledge and thought are outdated in a year. Early schooling is only a baptism, she said. Obstacles can be overcome and lack of time is no valid excuse.

Plan Visitors' Day

Plans were made for the Visitors' Day of the branch when Westwood and Belmont branches will be guests, the meeting to be held in the dining hall of the United Church on September 8, at 2 p.m. The visitors are to provide the program.

The appeals from the Cancer Society for white dressings (new or used) was responded to, a bundle having been forwarded to headquarters.

Mrs. T. J. Brown was in charge of the program. Readings were given by Mrs. Melville Wight and Mrs. Frank Openshaw. Mrs. Frank Openshaw won a word contest. The hostess served lunch, assisted by Mrs. Sam Ellis, Mrs. Pearl Carnrite and Mrs. Eric Little.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Necessity Only Reason Mothers Enter Business

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I think you make a mistake when you advise women to stick to the home and not try to mix careers with matrimony. We younger women who have had to concentrate on one absorbing occupation to earn a living before our marriages are the only really independent women in this country, whether we still earn money or not.

Dorothy Dix

Never will a home, husband and children be our whole world, though our love and consideration for them is not lessened thereby. When our children leave us, we will not be bankrupt.

A WIFE AND MOTHER

ANSWER: I agree with you that a woman makes a mistake when she puts all her wealth in one coin, as Mrs. Browning says, and is left spiritually destitute if she loses that. No women commit a greater folly than those who go absolutely domestic as soon as they are married and who never thereafter have a thought or an interest that isn't bounded by their homes.

They grow dull and stale and narrow and their virtues are their undoing because in the end they become nothing but pieces of domestic machinery. Their very love becomes burdensome to the husbands and children on whom they lavish their devotion.

All of us know plenty of women like these, women who have lived so much in the lives of their families that they have no lives left of their own. When their husbands die or their children leave them, they are utterly lonely and forlorn. Like Othello, their occupation is gone. They have no interests of their own. No contacts. No friends. They are helpless and bewildered like lost children in the dark.

There are thousands of middle-aged women who have plenty of money to live on independently, who might have their own homes and travel, but who go and live with their children, although they know they menace their homes. They have no interest in the world in anything except John and Mary.

I believe that every woman should be sufficiently forward-looking to provide against this rainy day when she may lose her husband and will surely lose her children. I believe she should keep her friendships, her social connections, her accomplishments and her interests as wide and her enthusiasms as fresh as she possibly can, so that she will have resources within herself that she can call upon in her need.

But all of this is different from following some career in the outside world that will take her away from her home and her children. I do not see how any woman can be both a successful wife and mother and a successful business woman or lecturer or doctor any more than a man can be both a successful carpenter and lawyer. Either occupation takes all the time and intelligence and energy that one individual possesses.

Of course, when a woman needs to make money to feed and clothe her children and give them decent living conditions, it is the right thing for her to work outside of the home, but I believe that only financial necessity should drive her to doing it. I believe that bringing up children by hand is the biggest and best paying business in which any mother can engage.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have recently moved to a strange city and I would like to meet the kind of men I knew at home. What chance has a girl of average appearance, not a flapper nor an irksome intellectual type, but one with plenty of common sense, business experience, modern ideas and a sense of humor to meet nice, intelligent, modern business men? Object not matrimony necessarily, but just companionship.

DOT

ANSWER: The business girl has an opportunity to meet this type of man in business and in that way she is better off than the society girl or home girl who moves to a strange city. But the trouble with men and women who work together is that they generally get enough of each other's society in the day's association and prefer some one with whom they are less well acquainted as companions for their idle hours.

This problem of how men and women, who come as strangers to a city can meet other young people of their own background is one that nobody has yet had the wit to work out satisfactorily. So many well-bred youngsters leave their happy homes every year and come to the cold inhospitable city, seeking their fortunes and are homesick for the boys and girls they left behind; so lonely for companionship, so hungry for the good times they have been used to all of their lives!

The churches and social organizations try to solve this problem, but there are many youngsters to whom these do not appeal, and so the problem of how young people they want to meet remains unsolved.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: One boy left me because I wouldn't let him kiss me and pet me and paw me. Another boy has left me because I did. What can a girl do when one fellow gives her the air for not doing something and another gives her the air for doing it?

ELLEN

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Adapt your technique to the man, I suppose is the answer. But a better way is to live up to your own ideals and force the boys to meet them instead of lowering yourself to suit the taste of every Tom, Dick and Harry.

Week-end in Haliburton With Rolled Brisket Roast

By MARY MOORE

Somewhere I read that "meat makes a meal," but last weekend I found out what really makes a meal: Lots and lots of people to eat it.

We went to Haliburton for the weekend—the most elongated long-weekend I have ever experienced, for it started at 3 p.m. Thursday.

Our host's cottage is on Lake Kashagawigamog which provides all kinds of entertainment, including guessing contests on how to spell it; charade to act it out; fishing; out-board motor-boating; swimming; diving from the raft; washing facilities for humans, vegetables, clothes, cars and dogs.

For every meal eleven people gathered around the long table on the huge screened-in porch the instant they were summoned by a police whistle.

I would love to describe every meal we had those three days, but the purpose of this piece today is to tell you how our hostess handled a piece of rolled brisket, to make it into a delicious Sunday roast of beef.

Roled Brisket Baked in a Wood Stove Oven

In Haliburton well-trimmed rolled brisket costs about 45 cents per pound. This "Mardie" sprinkled with salt and pepper and flour and seared in hot bacon fat on all surfaces. She then put it into the roaster with about 1 inch of hot water, and baked it covered in the wood stove oven all during the time the stove was lit for preparing porridge and toast and coffee for breakfast, and for heating dish water to wash up after all of this—which is aboout 1¼ to 1½ hours.

Then the wood fire was allowed to burn out, but I noticed that even at 11 o'clock the oven seemed quite warm.

When the stove was lighted again to cook vegetables for noon dinner, naturally, in a wood stove this heated the oven, and in a while nice sizzling sounds began to issue from the oven again, along with wonderfuly savoury odours.

(Incidentally the vegetable preparation was quite a ceremony for two of the adults were determined to acquire a whole summer's tan in three days, so struck on the plan of putting on their swim suits, gathering all five children ranging from five to 12 years, and rowing out to the raft with baskets of vegetables and fruits (for pies) and knives and pots and bowls, and then the fun began—adults started to get tanned, vegetables were scrubbed by little folks lying on their stomachs and reaching over the edge of the raft into the lake, apples were peeled, peelings were eaten by children, pot fell off raft and had to be dived for, rounds were sung—and as you can imagine joy was unconfined.)

If anyone told me the method of cooking a roast in the above "Vera-Vague-y" manner I would say "Well, can't you tell me exact time and temperature?" If you are asking that question mentally the answer is "no".

I can say though with strong conviction that the roast that was served on a hot old willow platter, and the gravy that was passed, were the "best yet" and I have eaten many a roast beef meal, and am descended from a long line of Beefeaters.

Moral: Even brisket if seared very hot, and baked covered, very slowly, can pass very well for the classic Sunday roast.

Question: I enjoy your cookery column very much, and in a recent issue you asked anyone interested in lye peeling of peaches to write to you.

I know the hot water method, but that doesn't always work, so would appreciate very much getting the lye peeling information.

MRS. B. O.

Answer: Lye peeling of peaches is only recommended where a bushel or more of peaches is to be peeled. Lye is a powerful caustic and should be used with great care. Children should never be permitted in a room where lye peeling is going on.

Put four tablespoons lye in enamel kettle. Add two gallons cold water and stir with wooden spoon until lye is dissolved—it will bubble and "boil" at first. Heat to boiling, and while boiling immerse peaches in it for from 30 to 60 seconds—depending on how underripe the fruit is. Remove at once, immediately rinse under running water, rub off skin, then drop in a bath made of one gallon water and two tablespoons each salt and vinegar until enough peaches for one jar are peeled. Then cut in halves, drop in hot sterile jars, fill jars to overflowing with boiling syrup; put on [illegible] if to be done in hot water bath give them 25 to 35 minutes, depending on ripeness of fruit.

Questions: Could you please tell me if it is possible to make apple juice at home like the tins one can buy in the stores and if so how is it done?

Answer: It is possible but highly improbable that you would have the equipment to make apple juice as it is commercially canned.

The equipment for making apple juice so crystal clear is highly technical.

If you have the apples on hand you could make apple juice (apple cider) from grinding the apples and draining off the juice, and bringing it to boiling point with a very small amount of sugar and canning it in sterile jars, and processing it as you would canned fruit—but made this way it loses its appeal for it will always be somewhat cloudy. However if it were well sterilized and jars were sterile it would not ferment.

So to have to give you a negative answer to this. I talked directly to the owner of an apple juice canning factory, and after he heard your letter he said "It could be done by a chemist in a laboratory but not in a household kitchen."

Coffee

One-Burner Dinner
Variety of Sliced Cold Meats:
Bologna, Chicken Roll or Smoked Salmon Salami
Hot Corn on the Cob
Tomato Wedges around Cabbage Salad
Melon Ball and Sliced Peach and Lime Juice Fruit Cup
Brownie Cookies Coffee

Directions

The gravy from a slowly baked rolled brisket is very well-flavored, just as top-of-stove pot roast gravy is. For each pint of it mix 3¾ tablespoons flour with ¼ cup cold water to a paste and stir this into gravy until it thickens, and there are no lumps. Taste for salt and pepper. It may not require any, for roast should have been sprinkled with salt and pepper before searing.

If squash are very young, they can be well scrubbed, baked whole, and sliced when serving and little tender seeds can be eaten.

I have not printed the recipe for Plum Puff Pudding for many years—but to those who have not made it I want to urge you to do so—it is a treat that you will serve again and again during plum season.

Plum Puff Pudding

Wash, halve and seed 8 large plums, preferably Lombards, and drop into ½ cup boiling water. Stir into this a mixture of 2½ tablespoons minute tapioca mixed with 2-3 cup sugar and ⅛ teaspoon salt, and stir while boiling for 1 minute. Pour into buttered baking dish and keep hot. Sift cake flour and measure ½ cup. Add 6 tablespoons sugar to 2 egg yolks and beat together until light. Beat together 2 egg whites and ⅛ teaspoon salt until foamy, then add ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar and beat until whites will stand in peaks but are not dry. Fold the yolk mixture into the white mixture, then fold the flour into them as you would into an angel food cake batter. Stir the hot fruit tapioca mixture to mix [illegible] tapioca which has settled to bottom. Pour batter over it. Bake at 325 deg. Fahr. for 50 minutes, or until batter is baked. This should be served warm.

If desired peaches may be used in place of plums or if desired use blueberries with the addition of a couple of apples and some lemon juice to the fruit mixture.

Rubber Cheques Trip Culprit

WINDSOR, Aug. 22—(CP) — A trail of rubber cheques stretching back to Port Colborne led Eric John Ryan, of Toronto, into court today where he pleaded guilty to 13 charges involving worthless cheques. He was remanded in custody to Aug. 29 for sentence.

Assistant Crown Attorney E. A. Duchesne said that in Port Colborne, Welland, St. Catharines, London, Chatham and Windsor Ryan preyed mainly on hotels and restaurants.

Entering a hotel, he would reserve accommodation for a number of workmen who were to arrive shortly to do construction work. A cheque for the accommodation would be entered and the balance taken in cash.

Later he would repeat the performance at local restaurants, asking for meal tickets for the workmen and taking the balance of the cheque in cash.

Each cheque was made out in the name of a Toronto construction or plumbing company and signed by the secretary-treasurer of the concern.

In each of the 13 cases brought into court, the cheques were worthless and the supposed workmen never showed up to claim the hotel reservations or use the meal tickets.

Hanging Around Park Guilty Of Vagrancy

Found guilty of vagrancy, Geraldine Armstrong, 475 Mark St., was remanded out of custody for sentence Aug. 30 by Magistrate R. B. Baxter in police court Monday morning.

Constable S. L. Keliele testified he had observed her hanging about Victoria Park the night of Aug. 13 for more than three hours. Magistrate Baxter said the sentence would depend to some extent on whether or not Miss Armstrong had found a job.

The case against Joseph J. Harvey in which he was charged with assault was adjourned to September.

Michael Ayotte, Smith township, pleaded guilty to having liquor in an illegal place and was fined $10 and costs.

William Stephens, Campbellford, was remanded in custody on a charge of vagrancy until Thursday.

The case against Arthur Stewart, 500 Park St., in which he was charged with being drunk was adjourned until September 6. Pleading guilty to being drunk August 7, Ralph Winters, 431 Chambers St., was fined $10 and costs.

An adjournment until Aug. 29 was granted in the case against Wm. Hagerman, 646 Donegal St., charged with being drunk. Joseph McAleer was remainded in custody on a charge of being drunk Sunday. rAthur King, no fixed address, was remanded in custody until Tuesday on charge of being drunk.

Lady Tweedsmuir Has Daughter At Braemar

BRAEMAR, Scotland, Aug. 22—(CP)—Lady Tweedsmuir, 34-year-old Conservative member of parliament, today gave birth to a daughter at her Braemar Castle home.

Lady Tweedsmuir, regarded as one of the handsomest women in the Commons, son of the late author and statesman who was governor-general of Canada from 1935 to 1940.

Lord Tweedsmuir, who sits on the Conservative bench in the House of Lords, served as a Canadian army infantry officer during the Second World War.

Lady Tweedsmuir has two other daughters, aged 12 and 14, by a previous marriage.

Stocks Decline As Pressure Sales Renewed

TORONTO, Aug. 22—(CP)—Selling pressure appeared as the session progressed here today and all major groups tended lower. A few issues featured in activity and gains but the remainder of the list settled down. Industrials showed fractional declines and junior gold producers were forced lower from recent gains. Base metals resumed their easier trend.

Union gas continued to hold the spotlight in industrials, climbing strongly in very active trading to a new high at 15½. A few papers and foods were lower while steels held steady.

Upper Canada Mines and Duvay Mines featured the gold board. Upper Canada, with property in the Lard Lake district, Northern Ontario, has been moving strongly since drill results were announced last week. The stock climbed to a new high at $2.29 in early dealings and then settled back under profit-taking.

Duvay Mines, rolled along briskly for a slight gain following reports from its oil properties.

Key base metal issues resumed their declines after steadying last Friday. International Nickel and Noranda were fractional losers.

Say Ford Strike Will Be Delayed

By GLENN ENGLE

DETROIT, Aug. 22 — (AP) — Don't look for a Ford strike for another week or two at least. The odds favor a continuation of the "cold war" on the automotive labor front.

CIO strategy apparently calls for the United Automobile Workers Union to lie low for quite a while yet.

Here's why, according to labor and industry dopesters:

The three-man panel studying a similar dispute in the steel industry presumably won't report to President Truman before Sept. 1 at the earliest.

Until then—barring a leak — neither Ford nor the UAW-CIO will know what that panel will recommend.

If it comes out for pensions or a substantial wage boost for steel workers it would materially bolster the UAW's cause as well. It might even win union demands in the auto industry without a major strike.

If the panel recommends little or no benefits it would knock the props from under any union on strike over economic issues when the report comes up early next month. It's doubtful the auto workers, under shrewd President Walter Reuther, would be caught in such a position.

Mrs. H. Cadigan Dies In Her 91st Year

The funeral was held this morning from the residence of her brother, Thomas Clancy, to the Immaculate Conception Church of Mrs. Hannorah Cadigan, who died on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Cadigan was one of Peterborough's oldest residents, being born in Percy township 90 years ago the daughter of the late Jeremiah Clancy and Ellen Mahoney. She has been a resident of Ashburnham for 40 years and was as long as health permitted a staunch supporter of her church.

Her husband, Michael Cadigan, predeceased her. There survives two brothers, Thomas and Michael Clancy, of Peterborough.

Requiem Mass was said by the Rev. Vernon Perdue and the services at St. Peter's Cemetery was taken by Rt. Rev. Monsignor F. J. O'Sullivan.

The pallbearers were John, Joseph, Frank and Harry Clancy and Earl and John Cadigan.

Unconscious Man, Car Moved Just In Time

ALEXANDRIA, Ont., Aug. 22—(CP)—An automobile and its unconscious driver were moved Saturday night from the railway tracks entering this town just four minutes before the arrival of the train from Ottawa.

Garland Knox of Bells Corners is being questioned by police about why he left the highway and drove his automobile more than a mile down the tracks. Two policemen and a group of Alexandria residents shoved the car from the tracks in a nick of time.

The people were awaiting arrival of the 6:24 p.m. train from Ottawa when they saw an automobile parked on the tracks about half a mile from the station.

With just nine minutes before the train was due, police enlisted the help of onlookers and managed to push the 1934 model from the tracks.

Oshawa Loses To P.-W. To End Council

By C. H. IRESON.

The Peterborough - Whitaker Cricket Club took a win by 125 to 91 Saturday at the Oval. It was the local team's last match in the Toronto and District Cricket Council schedule, leaving them at the top of their division with six wins and one loss. Next season they will move up to a stronger division.

The P. W. team batted first with newcomer A. Pope putting on a fine display as they reached a total of 125. Going in first wicket down with the total 12, he was sixth out with the total of 103, scoring 73. He showed a strong defence and hitting power and the innings included two sixes and 10 fours. His best assistant was Frank Dyer with 24 and they realized 57 of the team's 125 runs.

Oshawa went to bat and J. Cluff was most successful with 26, going out fourth wicket down with their total 63. Others were Howarth 15, J. Hobbs 13 and R. Waddell 10 but the innings closed for 91.

The P. W. leading batsman, A. Pope, arrived in Canada a few weeks ago to take a position at TCS, Port Hope. From 1932 till the war, he played regularly for Derbyshire, English first class county. Two other brothers also played for the same county. He shows the result of this play in his game here.

The local team next Saturday goes to Oshawa for a friendly game with Carleton County, a team picked from four clubs comprising the Ottawa Valley cricket council. Following is a summary of the Saturday score:

P. W.'s—F. Booth 5, H. Pyle 0, A. Pope 73, B. Roberts 8, R. Rollwagon 0, W. Freeman 1, F. Dyer 24 S. Jennings 0, J. Wold 4 not out, H. Dibben 4, F. Roberts 0, Evers 6. Total 125.

Oshawa—J. Husband 5, J. Cluff 26, J. Hobbs 13, T. Kelly 5, R. Waddell 10, L. Harris 0, H. Cornelius 6, D. Bennett 3, R. Turnstall 0, B. Gentry 0. Extras 7. Total 9.

Bowling—A. Pope 6 wickets for 44. F. Dyer 3 for 40.

The success of A. Pope has been remarkable. In two matches he has scored 96 and taken and 13 wickets for 70 runs.

Cobourg Gains Series Over Lindsay

Cobourg trimmed the Lindsay lasses 14-6 at the Bowl on Saturday afternoon to sweep their PWSU Intermediate B playdown series in two straight. They won the first in Cobourg by a 10-6 count and appear a better-balanced club than the Scugog squad. They had a big edge in hitting, steadier hurling and almost perfect fielding. Lindsay kicked in with six errors in the tussle, playing below their usual form.

E. Brown was reached for 11 hits, but was stingy with walks, and fanned five. F. Reynolds was hit hard, R. Hill, A. Sephton, M. Chase and P. Graham went best defensively. B. Arnold and R. Macklin had three hits each for Cobourg, two of the latter's being homers, while E. Brown also clouted out a four-bagger. For Lindsay, D. Wakelin was tops at the plate with three safeties.

Australians Capture Davis Tennis Cup

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 22 (AP)—Tennis records that date back as long as 30 years prove that whenever Australians gain the United States doubles title, their tennis teams wins the highly prized Davis Cup.

That happened in 1919, when Norman Brooks and Gerald Patterson won. It also was true in 1939 when Jack Bromwich and Adrian Quist defeated Jack Crawford and Harry Hopman in an all-Australian United States doubles wind-up. Both those victories were accomplished here at Longwood.

Bromwich and Billy Sidwell gained the 1949 crown Sunday by defeating their countrymen, Frank Sedgman and George Worthington, 6-4, 6-0, 6-1.

Argos Crush Bombers In 23-11 Mauling

TORONTO, Aug. 22—(AP) — Toronto Argonauts unveiled their new import - studded football team Saturday and the Americans helped provide a scoring punch that should reinstate the Double Blues as a big four league title threat this season.

Argos scored four touchdowns as they handily whipped Winnipeg Blue Bombers 23-11 in a charity exhibition contest before a Varsity stadium crowd of 10,000. United States Imports punched over for three of them and threw a touchdown forward for the other.

Russ Reader, former Detroit Lions professional, handled the team well in his first Canadian game, shared punting and passing duties with Joe Krol, and raced 20 yards for a touchdown when trapped in a forward try. He hit Royal Copeland with a 13-yard bullet pass for another major.

Ed Mittelsteadt, junior All-American from Buffalo University, twice cracked a yard through centre for touchdowns. Argos converted three of their majors, Krol placing-kicking two of the extra points and Byron Karrys the other.

Imports also scored both Winnipeg touchdowns. Bob Sandberg, the big Minnesotan, playing his third Bomber season, raced around end to give Winnipeg a 5-0 first-quarter lead that Argos wiped out with a 17-point second-quarter plunge. Early in the third quarter, end Bill Clawson from the University of Montana, intercepted a Krol forward and sped 65 yards to the payoff zone.

Quakers Get Win

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 22 (ENS)—Quaker Oats, Peterborough, defeated Campbellford 13-7 in an exhibition softball tussle here Saturday night under the flood lights. The visitors took a commanding lead in the fifth when they crossed home plate 11 times.

White brought in three counters on a long homer. Shine followed with another circuit clout and early in the game Prescott gathered in a homer. Robertson relieved McComb on the mound for the seventh. Campbellford threw away the game in the fifth on costly errors.

The teams:

Royals Divide Doubleheader With Toronto

By The Associated Press

The 14th inning proved to be an unlucky one for Dan Bankhead yesterday.

The big righthander of Montreal Royals was attempting the iron-man stunt—pitching a doubleheader—and Toronto Maple Leafs co-operated nicely until the fifth inning in the second game when they unlimbered their heavy artillery for four runs and then blasted Bankhead from the scene with an eight run uprising in the sixth. Toronto went on to win the contest 12-10.

Bankhead came up with his 16th triumph and third two-hit victory of the season in the opener which the Royals won 4-1. Johnny Blatnik homered for the lone Leaf tally.

Lefty Jim Prendergast of Syracuse was the last pitcher to start, finish and win a doubleheader in the International League. Prendergast performed his feat against Rochester July 25, 1947, winning 3-2 and 4-3.

Steals Three Bases

Sammy Jethroe, fleet Montreal outfielder, stole three bases during the afternoon to tie the modern league record of 74 established by the late Wally Cazen of Syracuse in 1945.

While Bankhead's bid for mound glory took the spotlight, Buffalo Bisons pulled further ahead in the pennant race.

Buffalo's ancient crew posted a double victory over Newark Bears Sunday to extend their winning streak to seven games and jump their lead to 5½ games over Rochester Red Wings.

The Bisons downed the Bears 9-5 and 8-7 while the Red Wings divided with Baltimore, losing the first game 5-3 but winning the second 6-0.

Clem Hausmann hung up his 13th triumph for Buffalo in the first game. Hausmann yielded eight hits over the first eight innings but was yanked in the ninth when the Bears scored four runs. Fenton Mole and Ed Ehlers homered for Newark and Ray Coleman and Lonnie Frey for Buffalo.

Grab Nightcap

The Bisons came from behind to grab the nightcap, scoring six runs in the sixth inning to overcome a 6-2 deficit. Ehlers, Joe Greengrass, Bud Heslet and Bob Thurman featured the Newark bid with home runs.

Al Widmar, the league's top winner, posted his 21st triumph for the seventh-place Orioles. Widmar scattered eight Rochester hits. The victory also was Widmar's sixth in seven starts over Rochester. Not since 1945 when Jean Pierre Roy won 25 games for Montreal has a pitcher won more than 20 games in the International League.

George Copeland came up with his sixth shutout in the nightcap. Copeland held the Orioles to four singles and also drove in two runs with a triple.

The split enabled the Wings to take over second place from Jersey City Giants by five percentage points. The Giants dropped two games to Syracuse Chiefs 7-4 and 2-1.

Johnny Hetki scattered 12 Giant hits as he coasted to his 13th win in the opener. Al Rubeling belted a three-run homer in the first inning to start the Chiefs off. Bud Byerly checked the Giants on four blows in out-dueling George Bamberger in the finale.

Young Gail Henley homered for the Giants' only run. Bob Usher knocked in both Syracuse tallies

Athetics Nip Owen Sound in 7-5 Triumph

By The Canadian Press.

St. Catharines Athletics are slowly closing in on second place in the Senior Ontario Lacrosse Association.

The A's downed Owen Sound 7-5 Saturday night and moved to within a single point of the Crescents for the runner-up slot behind Brampton Excelsiors.

In other Scheduled games Saturday, Brampton trounced Peterborough 14-5 and Mimico defeated Weston 15-12.

Scoring was well distributed in the St. Catharines fixture. Ken Croft scored twice for the Athletics and Damico, Urquhart, Bradshaw, Hildebrand and Cove each tallied once. The Crescents scores were split between Smith, Slater, Gillespie, Slater, Gillespie, Campbell and Mason.

At Mimico, the Mounties racked up their 13th successive victory in their home bowl on the strength of a last-quarter rally in which they outscored Weston 5-1. Chuck Simpson paced the winners with four goals while Donny McPhail, Ken Dixon and Bill Rankin each counted twice and A. Dixon, Peterson, Hayes, McKay and McDonald notched the others.

Two-goal scorers for Weston were Reddy, Gilkinson, Walter Hatton and J. J. Hill. Venner, Lovelace, T. Downer and Gair each netted one.

Cobourg Orphans Win First Playoff Round

TRENTON, Aug. 22—Cobourg Orphans captured the first round of the OASA Intermediate B playoffs here Saturday night by taking the measure of Trenton Contractors by an 16-9 margin. The win gave the Orphans the series in two straight and sent them into the second round against Gananoque.

Milford Smoke, Cobourg southpaw, fanned 12 while giving up 11 safeties but was never in serious trouble except in the ninth when the homesters rapped him for five runs on five hits.

Corbett and Taylor with three safeties in six tries paced the winners while Lou Istead with three for five was he pick of the Trenton nine.

French Have Major War On Hands As Indo-China Border Red Aim

By LIONEL HUDSON

SINGAPORE, Aug. 22—(Reuters)—Defence chiefs here are watching closely what they regard today as one of the world's most strategic frontiers—the border between China and French Indo-China. This frontier, an arbitrary boundary, stands astride the land route into South East Asia from Southern China and military strategists here look upon it as the outpost which will give the alarm in the event of an armed Communist invasion.

The big concern among defence planners in Singapore is that if the Tonkin-Yunnan border fell to Chinese Communists, Siam would be under immediate threat. After Siam, comes Malaya.

With the regular Chinese Communist troops still 1,000 miles away, this much-scanned frontier is already threatened.

Rebel Nationalists are reported to dominate one-third of the large Vietnam state of Tonkin, which has a common border with Yunnan, China.

Control Large Tracts

They control large tracts of territory on the frontier, isolating scores of French forts and defence posts which have to be supplied from the air.

From time to time, some of the French positions are overrun by the Vietminh and paratroops have to be dropped to recapture them.

The French have to contend with bands of Chinese bandits who raid the border posts and supply lines as well as with the Vietminh army. Reports reaching here indicate that the French have a major war on their hands which puts in the shade the terrorist skirmishes in Malaya.

Estimates of the number of insurgents fighting the French in Vietnam range from 60,000 to 80,000—compared with the federal government's estimate of only 3,000 bandits in Malaya. French troops number 125,000.

Russian-Trained Leader

The Vietminh are led by Russian-trained Ho Chi Minh and are described in reports reaching here as "just as much an organized Arm as the Chinese Reds in Shanghai."

The rebel regulars have divided the country into war zones and have an efficient chain of command with headquarters staffs and training establishments. They collect taxes from traders even in French-controlled territory to pay for army equipment.

They are short of weapons, but armament factories behind their lines are busy turning out arms and ammunition.

The Vietminh are known to have radio communication with the Chinese Communists and have liaison officers in South China.

There is no evidence that they have any link with the Communist terrorists in Malaya.

OBITUARIES

MERLIN LUCAS

DOWNEYVILLE, Aug. 22 (ENS) —A sudden heart attack Saturday took the life of Merlin Lucas, 28, Downeyville, near Delhi in western Ontario.

He suffered the attack while in a tobacco field and died before a doctor could arrive.

A member of St. Luke's Roman Catholic Church, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lucas, five brothers, Albert Jr., British Columbia; Peter, Peterborough; Donavon, Lindsay; Urlein, Sudbury; Carmen at home; and three sisters, Mrs. Yvonne Earmey, Detroit; Mrs. Edward O'Neill (Muriel), Peterborough, and Sally at home.

The body was brought from Delhi and is resting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, one half mile east of Downeyville. Requiem mass will be said by Rev. V. G. McFadden in St. Luke's Church Tuesday at 10 a.m. Interment will be in St. Luke's Cemetery.

JOHN J. KEOGAN

HASTINGS, Aug. 22 (ENS) — John Joseph Keogan died Saturday in Brantford in his 56th year after a lengthy illness. He was the son of the late Dennis Keogan and Ellen Gibson and had lived in Hastings until last year, when he went to Brantford.

Mr. Keogan is survived by three sisters, Mrs. C. H. Harris (Pearl), Reno, Nevada; Mrs. Neal (Marie), Windsor, and Olive, Hastings.

Mr. Keogan was a baker by trade, and was for 26 years with Spooner's Bakery in Hastings. He was educated in the Hastings Separate Schools and was a member of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Hastings.

The funeral will be held Tuesday from Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Hastings for requiem mass at 9 a.m. Burial will be in Mount Carmel Cemetery, Hastings.

Department Promises Not Tear Down Signs

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 22 (CP). — A promise that the Ontario Department of Highways will stop tearing down advertising signs of licensed tourist operators in Algoma district for the remainder of the tourist season was made Thursday by Chief Inspector C. G. Fairs of Toronto to operators and the executive of the Almoga Tourist Outfitters Association.

The announcement by Mr. Fairs followed three hours of heated argument over the activities of two inspectors, Thomas Free and Raymond Robbins, who were charged earlier by the association with tearing down operators' signs "without due notice and with prejudice," and with "the destruction of costly signs to the detriment of the tourist trade." Operators citimed they had lost "thousands of dollars worth of tourist business" this summer by the actions of the two inspectors.

"No more signs will be taken down until operators are interviewed and proper locations are found," declared Mr. Fairs.

Wants To Get Bonds

TOKYO, Aug. 20 (Reuters)—Premier Shigeru Yoshida has expressed a desire to redeem "as early as possible" Japanese government bonds sold before the war on the overseas market, Kaneshichi Masuda, his chief cabinet secretary, said Friday. Masuda estimated that the bonds, unilaterally cancelled by Japan during the war, amount to $400,000,000.

Begin Election Campaign In Britain Year Before Country Goes To Polls

By FRASER WIGHTON.

LONDON, Aug. 22 (Reuters)—The campaign for Britain's general election has started almost a year ahead of the date the government intends to make its appeal to the country.

The first round of the battle, fought between Prime Minister Attlee and Conservative Leader Winston Churchill on the new Conservative policy, gave a foretaste of the vehemence with which Labor and Conservatives will contest the election.

The main contestants realize, however, that circumstances may produce a deadlock soluble only by a return to Coalition government.

Before the 1945 general election which swept the Labor Party into power, Conservatives, though not well organized in the constituencies, were confident that the personal popularity of Churchill would ensure at least a modest working majority in the new House.

To-day, Conservatives have a highly-efficient constituency organization.

Labor Party Leaders have been fighting consistently to dispel the "sitting pretty" mood of many in the ranks.

This mood has been encouraged by the fact that the government has still not lost in a by-election any seat which it won, or held, in 1945.

Neither party is basing its election fight on the assumption that Coalition may be the outcome.

Labor, its recovery plans retarded by international trade recession, is preparing for an election in which schemes for the "second five years" of Britain's welfare will have to be related to the country's struggle for economic survival.

The Conservative Opposition will seek to convince the electors that while the international economic problem is not the fault of the Labor government, the government has shown ineptitude in handling the British crisis and has been too much preoccupied with the pursuit of doctrinaire Socialism.

To Travel 30,000 Miles By Car In 18 Countries

EDMONTON, Aug. 22—(CP)—A smiling quartet of South Americans said Friday they were confident of being the first to span South and North America by automobile. Travelling the final lap of a 30,000-mile junket with 13,640 miles of road between them and their hometown—Rio de Janeiro — the group, led by Brazilian army pilot Lieut. Sylvio de Niemeyer, set their sights on Fairbanks, Alaska.

De Niemeyer said his rancher uncle Alberta de Niemeyer, Brazilian banker Edmundo de Oliveira and Leonor Marcos de la Penha started out in a specially-built station wagon about 4½ months ago.

De Niemeyer said they are making the trip to prove the feasibility of an international highway spanning the two continents.

He said the party left Rio April 3 and has travelled through 18 countries.

Road conditions have surpassed their expectations, the group said. Through the northern republics of South America, Central America. Mexico, and the United States, highways were paved. De Niemeyer said the worst stretch was in his own country, Brazil.

Study Buying Power In West-East Zones

PARIS, Aug. 22 (AP)—Officials of the Economic Co-operation Administration here have issued a booklet comparing the purchasing power of the American working man with his counterpart in the Soviet Union.

The working man in the United States comes off much better in terms of working time required to buy needed commodities on the basis of the booklet's figures.

ECA officials said the booklet is based on the findings of two delegations from the Norwegian General Federation of Trade Unions which visited both the United States and Russia.

Scott Bans All Travel In Algonquin

Report 22 New Fires In Province, Campers To Blame

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP) — Lands Minister Harold Scott of Ontario announced today a ban on all forest travel in the Algonquin forest district as 22 new forest fires were reported bringing the total in the province to 129.

He blamed the carelessness of campers in the Algonquin district, southeast of North Bay, for the travel ban which is in effect to Sept. 10 unless "the present hazard is reduced by early rain."

Five new fires were discovered in Algonquin Park Monday but they were promptly extinguished. The area that is closed includes the provincial park. Road trips through the area are permitted but canoe or trail travel is not allowed.

Mr. Scott said the general fire situation has not improved and that new fires have broken out in several sections.

Out of Control

The blazes in Street and Loughrin townships in the Sudbury area are still blazing out of control and new fires are reported near North Bay, Gogama and Port Arthur.

Three hundred acres of grassland, including 100 acres of standing hay, were burned on the Tyendinaga Indian Reserve near Deseronto, 20 miles east of Belleville. Tractors ploughed fire guards around endangered farm buildings and 300 farmers and volunteers beat out the flames with branches.

The forecast of scattered showers which promised aid for the 1,300 firefighters has not yet been of assistance to them. Light showers fell in the North Bay area early today but they did not dampen any of the blazes.

But forestry officials say that if the narrow belt of rain continues moving south it may be of assistance to the firefighters later today.

See No Life Around Burned Craft

Para-Rescue Team Proceeding To Crash, Other Planes Stand By

By ROBERT CLARKE

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23 (CP). — The RCAF announced today that the Canso aircraft missing in Northern Manitoba since Sunday was sighted at 9:35 a.m. CDT today on a direct track between Churchill, Man., and 80 miles east of Winnipeg and that there was "no sign of life" around the craft which had crashed and burned.

A terse announcement from RCAF group headquarters here said a para-rescue team is proceeding to the scene of the crash. Norway House is about 250 miles northeast of Winnipeg. Two float planes and an amphibious Canso are also going to the scene.

Word that the plane had been sighted climaxed a search conducted since Monday by the RCAF after the Canso disappeared on the 600-mile flight from Churchill, on the shore of Hudson Bay, to Winnipeg.

An armada of 30 searching planes either was in the hunt or preparing to join it when news of the Canso's sighting was received.

21 People Aboard

Aboard the Canso were 21 persons, seven of them crew members, four Meteorological Bureau men, a Canadian press reporter and a young woman physiotherapist. Also aboard were eight Eskimos.

The plane left Winnipeg Aug. 15, piloted by Flt. Lt. Frank J. Rush, of Winnipeg. It had been making a "Jack-of-all-trades" flight through the northland, and among its tasks was that of transferring four weather men stationed at the bleak Baffin Island outpost of Clyde River and picking up Eskimos convalescing from poliomyelitis at Chesterfield Inlet, N.W.T.

The Canso was sighted by a Dakota piloted by Fo. F. D. Avent, of Vancouver. Fo. Avent left Stevenson Field here at 6.05 a.m. CDT, and 3½ hours later reported the discovery of the crashed aircraft.

The RCAF said Flt. Lt. Avent still was circling the scene of the crash. One of the Cansos en route is piloted by Flt. Lt. A. B. Johnston, of Simcoe, Ont., of No. 413 Squadron, Ottawa.

Another Canso has taken off from Winnipeg for the scene, together with a Dakota carrying six members of a para-rescue squad, three of them army men and three members of the RCAF. Also aboard is a medical doctor.

A Norseman aircraft is being sent to the scene from the Pas.

A Canso will try to land and report to the Dakota for the information of the para-rescue jump team, which will drop to the plane on the ground. The Dakota is carrying special medical supplies.

At the same time, Yugoslavia served a stern warning to Russia's rulers to keep their hands off the internal affairs of this Balkan Communist country.

500 Casualties As Ammunition Ship Explodes

CANTON, Aug. 23 — (AP).— Approximately 500 persons were killed or injured in the explosion of an ammunition ship in the harbor of Takao (Taipeh), Southeastern Formosa, the official Chinese Central News Agency said to-day.

The agency said ammunition was being unloaded from the Chinese steamer Chungli. There was a huge explosion, which was followed quickly by others.

The whole port city was shaken by the blast, which broke nearly every window in the city and caused much other damage, the agency reported.

Terror spread through the city.

Shortly after the first blast ripped through the ship the city was darkened by the smoke arising from the waterfront.

The wharf area was a scene of destruction, the agency said

The official account said about three-quarters of the 3,300-ton Chungli's explosive cargo had been unloaded when the blasts came.

Takao was a big Japanese naval base during the war.

(The city is one of the most important ports for the Chinese Nationalist Government on Formosa, which has been converted into a fortress.)

Hundreds In Haliburton Volunteer To Fight In Battle Of Forest Fires

Planes, Bulldozers, Radio Stations Combine Against Advancing Flames, Wind Fans Fire Toward Minden, Lochlin

By NICK NICKELS

Weary voices of fire-fighting officials tell this morning of the grim battle of the Bark Lake fire, 45 air miles north of Peterborough in Glamorgan Township. At the time of writing 500 men of all walks of life are sweating it out on a fire front miles long that stretches in a semicircle from Irondale to Gelert and Lochlin.

District Constable William Duval of Haliburton has rounded up hundreds of men in the past few days, tourists, lumberjacks, farmers, storekeepers,—there are no exceptions. It was not a case of conscription, for each and every one of them realizes the gravity of the situation and is more than willing to stand in the line of fire with shovels, slugging coils of heavy hose, portable spraying outfits or doing the thousand-and-one jobs required by expert supervisors.

Haliburton is a town filled with anxious women this morning as they watched 60 more men roll out in trucks. Many of the women want to do their share also and a few of them are right in the thick of it. There is one small gallant group serving food to weary crews in the Irondale section and others at Lochlin.

Planes Fly Fighters

The efficiency of modern firefighting would amaze the novice if he were to visit Miner's Bay or Gullfoot Lake, a few miles west or the Bark Lake Fire's western perimeter. Forestry Department Beaver aircraft from Sault Ste. Marie roar in and out of their temporary base, carrying fighting crews and equipment on the inbound trips to land in smoke-shrouded lakes at strategic points. Expert pilots plot the fire's progress from aloft and call their observations to radio stations at Miner's Bay, Minden and Bark Lake. Bulldozers roar through the rugged terrain to plough fireguards, to stop briskly burning sections, at least temporarily, and if possible to divert them.

Fanned by morning winds, the western edge of the fire crept steadily on toward Lochlin on Monday and many crews were dispatched to light a monster rear-

Old Hockey Star Succumbs Following Raid

Taken to hospital after a police raid Monday evening at his home, Grover Halpin died in Civic Hospital this morning. Police had seen that he was not in good condition and immediately called Dr. J. M. O'Brien. He was taken to the hospital without having been brought to the city police station.

The raiding party, led by Sergeant Leo Murphy, caught six other men in a drinking party at 211½ Hunter St. Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said in police court this morning there were more than 100 empty wine bottles in a back shed "piled almost to the roof."

Coroner Herbert N. Young has ordered a post mortem to determine the exact cause of death.

Was Hockey Player

Grover Halpin will be remembered by the older hockey fans as a member of the 247th team that reached the intermediate OHA finals in 1916-17, losing out to Hamilton for the title.

That team included Jack Adams, who became a star with the Detroit Red Wings and has been manager of the team since his retirement from the ice. Another great player of the 247th was Bobbie Armstrong, of Fort William, a brilliant defense man. Hubert Legros, of Peterborough, was in the nets, and others of the team were Pat and Joe Flanagan, of Fort William, George (Banty) Evans, Grover Halpin on defense, Barney Quinn, Harry Thornton.

Jack Meharry was manager, and officers of the team were Col. C. H. Ackerman, O.C. of the Bat-

Wind Fans Fire Threatens Villages Anew

TERREBONE HEIGHTS, Que., Aug. 23 —(CP)—Exhausted and terrified residents of this sprawling bush town north of Montreal today began to relax and hope that the ring of fire which suddenly gripped them Monday was about to be tamed. The blaze roared through bone-dry spruce and pine bush country west of here Monday to come within a whisker of wiping out Terrebone Heights and a nearby village, Pincour.

Only the efforts of hundreds of army and civilian fire fighters —helped greatly by a providential wind shift—saved the towns.

By noon to-day a high wind had sprung up again, fanning the flames to new fury and Maj Alan Duckett, Army Public Relations officer said "the threat to Terrebonne Heights looks almost as great as yesterday"

He emphasized, however that the flames had not yet entered the community about which the fire was battled into check Monday night.

Today, fire still was smouldering angrily on three sides of Terrebonne heights, but watchers felt that hastily-constructed trenches and flame guards had eased the threat unless a sudden change in wind whipped up the blaze and threatened new areas.

Dozen Buildings Lost

About a dozen summer cottages, shops and other buildings at the south-west end of Terrebonne Heights were destroyed but no lives were known lost and the main town was saved. Other buildings—most of them farm houses—were feared destroyed in the burned-out area west of town.

In addition, thousands of acres of bush and forest over a 60-square-mile area had been turned into a black desert.

Terrebonne Heights, a polyglot largely English-speaking town of some 1,500 summer cottagers and all-year-round residents, is only 23 miles directly north of Montreal.

Must Guard Our Economy Or Reds Benefit—Pearson

OTTAWA, Aug. 23—(CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson warned Monday that only Russia will benefit if the western democracies slip back into the chasm of economic isolation. In an address at the opening of the Central Canada Exhibition here, he said it would be a "tragedy" if the western democratic world were to adopt isolation through the formation of dollar and sterling blocs, "looking at each other with irritation over mounting trade barriers and diminishing trade returns."

"No one," he said, "could possibly benefit from such a development except those patient calculating gentlemen behind the Kremlin walls and their agents throughout the world."

Mr. Pearson said a middle course must be found between the wide-open trading of the days before the first world war and the other extreme of bilateral trade, carried out at the governmental level.

Must Be Restored

"Somehow or other the flow of goods multilaterally must be restored and this can only be done by a concerted effort based on a friendly understanding and working together in the part of the new world and the old.

"This will involve a re-examination of economic policy by all the countries concerned in the light of the present situation. It will also mean that any new measures taken over here which will assist European recovery must be met by measures on the other side which will give the necessary assurance that any assistance given will be effective."

This might mean all-round concessions. Dollar countries would have to encourage imports by "enlightened government action" while countries such as the United Kingdom would have to take steps to get into a competitive export position.

Mr. Pearson, who will represent Canada at international trade discussions in Washington next month, said the countries should keep in mind that the eventual object is "restoration of world trade on a freely convertible basis."

Reynaud Urges People's Council

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 23 (AP)—Paul Reynaud, former French premier, called today for a real European legislature directly elected by the peoples of the 12 countries in the council of Europe.

Only such elections, the French Conservative said, would give the present consultative assembly the authority to merge European economies into a single continental market which Europe's financial plight demands.

"Time is not on our side," warned Reynaud. "If American aid is curtailed and vast unemployment results, Stalin will be the winner."

Reynaud spoke to the assembly in its opening discussion of European economic problems.

Pointing out that "a new federation has been made in the east," Reynaud declared that the democracies can solve their problems "if the governments have the courage to face unpopularity . . ." he added:

"We must go to the people and talk with them. Our task is to get the people to realize that it is in their personal interest to build a union of Europe."

Nab Insane Prisoner Trying To Hitchhike

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Aug. 23—(AP)—The last of 13 criminally-insane prisoners who escaped from the State Hospital Sunday was caught Monday night.

The convict, William Cochran, was captured near Thomaston when a state patrol car spotted Cochran by the roadside trying to hitch a ride.

Dr. Thomas G. Peacock, superintendent of the hospital, announced Monday night that one hospital employee had been fired as a result of the break.

Collaboration Currency Hope

HALIFAX, Aug. 23 (CP) — Senator Wishart McLean Robertson, Liberal party leader in the Senate, today suggested "economic collaboration" by Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom, as a solution to the "western world trade crisis."

Mr. Robertson said that unless the trend of mutual reduction in purchases by Canada and the United Kingdom was reversed trade between the two countries "could dwindle and die and we would find the western world divided into two camps, the dollar and the sterling areas, with all of the serious consequences that could follow."

The Senator said Canada would receive "bad jolts." The United States would likely sink back to economic isolation to an even greater extent than now, so she would be more apt to reduce her purchases from us than to increase them."

4 Business Premises Swept By Flames

FRANKFORD, Aug. 23—(CP) —Fire Monday night swept through four business premises destroying a grocery store and causing serious smoke damage to three others here.

Twenty volunteer firemen fought the blaze for an hour and a half before bringing it under control.

Frankford is seven miles north of Trenton.

Damage to stock and equipment in the grocery store was estimated at more than $3,000. No estimate of damage to other establishments has been made. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Stabbed On Train Near Port Hope

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 23 (CP)— An argument on a fast Toronto-Montreal train Monday night ended with the stabbing of Jack Wellard 35, of Smiths Falls, shortly after the train left Port Hope.

Joseph D. Peed 65, of Newport News, Va., was charged with being drunk. Wellard, not seriously wounded, was charged with creating a disturbance.

Police, summoned by train officials, boarded the train when it pulled into Belleville.

Tow Schooner Into Halifax

HALIFAX, Aug. 23 (CP)—The R.C.M.P. cutter French entered Halifax harbor with the refugee-laden schooner Amanda in tow at 8:25 a.m. ADT today, completing a 48-mile towing job started last Saturday in the Atlantic by the United States Coast Guard Cutter Unimak.

The Unimak ended a 22-hour chore Monday about 200 miles off Halifax. The French, on regular patrol off Sydney, N.S., answered the Unimak's call for relief. It was believed the Unimak was running low on provisions and fuel. She made a day-long dash from a point near New York to pick up the 100-foot Amanda Saturday.

The Amanda, carrying 31 refugees from Communism, left Gothenburg, Sweden, July 7. Included in this number are eight women and four children, the youngest 18 months.

Reds Charge Tito Plots Balkan War

LONDON, Aug. 23 (AP)—Charges of plotting a Balkan war were hurled at Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia Monday night as the Russian-led campaign against him took a new turn.

While diplomatic and other sources still sought to fathom the implications of Russia's threat to take "effective measures" against the Tito regime, a Romanian Communist made the new accusation.

The Romanian was Vice-Premier Gheorgheiu-dej, who said Tito was "plotting to set ablaze the Balkan powder keg." He spoke at a rally attended by some 8,000 "select" Romanian Reds.

Marshal Klementi Voroshilov, a member of Russia's Politburo, spoke at the same rally and assailed Tito as a "traitor who has become the most bitter enemy of the Soviet Union and the people's democracies."

Canadian Dieppe Veterans Given Terrific Ovation

By MAJOR JACK KENT

DIEPPE, France, Aug. 20. — (CP)—(Delayed)—It has been a colorful and spectacular return to Dieppe for the 32 Canadian officers and other ranks who flew here to take part in the 1949 Dieppe ceremony.

The terrific ovation given by the French from all sides dug deep into the hearts of these men who came from Canada for Dieppe Day.

Nowhere have the French people lacked in hospitality, nor was there an opportunity missed to stage the biggest Dieppe Day since that fateful Aug. 19 morning in 1942 when 5,000 Canadians of the 2nd Canadian Division assaulted the beaches at this channel port.

During the 48 hours here there has been a continual round of activities lasting from morning until night. The town put on its best face for the occasion which came at a time when Dieppe was having its annual fortnight carnival.

It was the spontaniety of the receptions which highlighted the Canadians' visit, culminated by the giant parade yesterday which brought out French troops representing all services for the presentation to the town of Dieppe of the Croix de Guerre Avec Palme in honor of the town's important participation in the war.

Perhaps the feeling of the people was best shown in their homes, where the Canadian party was billeted. Nothing was too good for the Canadian; his wish was a command.

Today as Canadians left their billets there were tears in their eyes. Words could not begin to say thanks for all the kindnesses.

Brigade Of Guards To Get New Uniforms

LONDON, Aug. 23 (CP)—The Brigade of Guards has been promised a supply of new cloth for its recently-restored full-dress uniforms.

Since traditional uniform was resumed for ceremonial duties in London, after a lapse of 10 year officers and men have worn second-hand clothing.

Former officers have supplied the officers' dress. Other ranks paraded in uniforms worn by men before the war, or held in pre-war stock.

Cost of the Guardsmen's uniforms will be met from public funds. Cost of the supply of officers' dress also will have to be considered.

Britain Weary Of U.S. Bossing

LONDON, Aug. 23 (CP) — A Labor Member of Parliament said Monday night that Britain might be tempted to prefer Communism to "being kicked around by the unlettered pot-bellied money magnates of the United States." He accused American big business of "conspiring to overthrow the Labor Government."

Tom O'Brien, union leader and member of the House of Commons for Nottingham West, made the statement in a political speech in London's Finchley district.

"What the Americans do not realize," he said, "is that the British Labor Government and not their dollars is the only effective bulwark against the Communist domination of Europe."

"The freedom-loving people of Britain, if the ghastly choice were before them, might be tempted to prefer the tyranny and poverty of the east rather than abject subservience to the opulent vulgarity and offensiveness of the west."

Chiang Arrives In Canton To Squelch Peace Efforts

CANTON, Aug. 23 — (AP). — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek arrived in Canton to-day. The Chinese Communists prepared to strike into the province holding this Nationalist refugee capital.

The rumor was that the top Nationalist came here to squelch any move for a local peace with the Reds—a move which has been advocated by some influential persons.

Chiang will preside at a meeting of the Kuomintang (Nationalist Party) Emergency Council, a Supreme War Cabinet which was created during his eight-day stay here last month.

It is expected Chiang will complete plans for the defence of South China, especially Canton, in which he has pledged to die if necessary.

The Communists were reported massing their invasion force in Kiangsi Province where they are only few miles from the Kwangtung border and 170 miles northeast of Canton.

To meet this assault, the Ministry of National Defence said the Nationalists were preparing a counter-offensive along the Kwangtung-Kiangsi border.

The front north of Canton also seemed getting set for heavy fighting. Counter-attacking Nationalists had retaken Anjen, 250 miles north of Canton, and were pushing on toward Yuhsien, 25 miles to the north.

The ministry said Red Gen. Lin Paio was moving his 46th Army southward in an attempt to halt this Nationalist counter-drive.

The so-called Communist Peoples force operating in southwestern Hunan, the ministry said, has come over to the Nationalists and is being reorganized as an independent division of 5,000 to 6,000 men.

Light Rain Eases Fires In France

BORDEAUX, France, Aug. 23 (CP)—A light rain fell early today, lessening the danger of new outbreaks of the forest fires which have been raging around Bordeaux during the last week.

Officials said today that the bodies of 82 victims of the fires have been recovered so far. However, Pierre Combre, Prefect of the Gironde Department, said that at least 230 persons have been killed by the flames.

Military officials said that during the night fires broke out at Saucats, a village 14 miles south of Bordeaux, causing evacuation of the town.

A later communique said, however, the fire had been brought under control and all danger had passed. On the other fronts, all was quiet, the communique said.

Declares Canadian Universities Crippled By Lack Of Funds

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 (CP)—Canadian universities are being crippled by a lack of funds, the National Conference of Universities said today in an appeal for direct financial aid from the Federal government.

Without this aid, the conference said in a 15,000-word brief prepared for the Royal Commission on Arts and Science Development, Canadian universities will be unable to keep up with the growth of the dominion or even maintain their present stature.

Costs were increasing and revenues declining. Many of the smaller colleges were in jeopardy. Without further financial help they soon may disappear altogether.

Custodian of Canada's English and French cultures, the universities also were focal points in the welfare of the state. They were the seat of scientific research "of profound importance" to the dominion.

Depend On Colleges

The conference said that it realized that the British North America Act assigned education to the provinces but that since Confederation the Federal Government has become more and more dependent on the universities.

Large sums of government money were being spent by the National Research Council, the Defence Research Board and Federal Health and Agriculture agencies in university research.

In a way universities were working for the Federal government and getting less and less support from the provinces.

The conference recommended:

1. A direct Federal government annual grant, somewhat along the lines of grants made to student veterans, to professional faculties in which training is most costly; medicine, dentistry, agriculture and forestry.

Declares Canadian

2. Expansion of grants-in-aid to the faculties of pure and applied science through the National Research Council and in addition a system of "block" grants which the universities could use as they saw fit.

3. Establishment of a Canadian Council of Arts and Letters along the lines of the National Research Council which could help university faculties doing arts and letters research and training.

4. This arts and letters council to sponsor the development of libraries, art collections, museums and music centres in various Canadian centres.

5. A system of government scholarships and fellowships for all university faculties and for post-graduate studies in all fields in and out of Canada.

6. Establishment of a national library to remove the stigma of Canada's being the only nation in the world without such an institution.

7. Establishment of a national science museum to record Canada's scientific achievements and to make scientific exhibits available to communities across the country.

The conference maintained that in the field of arts and letters, there is no alternative nursery of a truly Canadian civilization and culture than the universities.

British Police Foil Russian Kidnapping

VIENNA, Aug. 23 (Reuters)—Unarmed British military police formed a cordon around a Russian jeep to prevent armed Russian soldiers from carrying off an Austrian civilian Monday, British police said.

Later fully armed troops were brought from a neighboring barracks to protect Russian offices threatened by a crowd of Austrians, British sources added.

British police said the armed, uniformed Russians, including a colonel, who were riding in the jeep with the Austrian stopped on a bridge in the British sector to ask the way.

The Austrian then jumped out of the vehicle, screaming, "I am being kidnapped."

When he tried to escape, Russians chased him and struck him on the head with a gun, the report said.

Lighthouse Residents Safe From Flames

PICTON, Aug. 23 (CP)—Fears for four lighthouse residents on fire-swept False Duck Island Monday night proved groundless.

The four — lighthouse-keeper Kenneth McConnell, assistant Milton Bigg and their wives—Sunday visited the Lake Ontario fishing village of Point Traverse. They reported their home in Prince Edward County was not menaced by flames that burned 75 acres of woodland on the island. They said fears for their safety likely arose because their radio-telephone is not working.

Navy Officer On College Staff

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.— (CP).—An English-born naval officer with a distinguished wartime record aboard Canadian ships has been appointed to the directing staff of Canada's National Defence College.

The Navy announced today that Commander Antony H. G. Storrs, DSC and Bar, 42, of Victoria, B.C., and Ottawa, will be the naval member of the directing staff at the college in Kingston.

Commander Storrs, whose appointment becomes effective Wednesday, will hold the acting rank of captain. The former commanding officer of the Canadian destroyer Nootka succeeds Commodore R. E. S. Bidwell, who recently was appointed to naval headquarters as assistant chief of naval staff.

A native of Ove rton, England, Commander Storrs was trained in the Royal Navy reserve and entered the Royal Canadian Navy in 1940.

He won the Distinguished Service Cross and Bar for outstanding service while senior officer of the 31st minesweeping flotilla which played an important part in clearing the channels of the Normandy beachhead in 1945.

Other decorations were the U. S. Legion of Merit and the French Cross of the Legion of Honor and the Croix de Guerre with Palm.

During the Second World War, Commander Storrs commanded the minesweepers Armentieres and Caraquet, the Corvettes Dawson and Drumheller and the destroyer Gatineu.

guard of more than 1,000 acres to halt the flames. This strategy was finished by 4 a.m. this morning and officials hope it will permanently check the fire along its main front.

A few miles north of Bark Lake another fireguard was pushed up by bulldozers for a distance of five or six miles, followed by crews who dampened down the crackling dry underbrush. This measure will prevent the fire from spreading north in case of a wind shift, experts say.

Lambent Fires Flare

Small blazes break out in the most unexpected places, set by burning debris that is carried for miles on the main fire's terrific updraft. Such was one that started on the 8th concession of Anson Township, five miles north of the town of Minden. It was being kept under control on Monday by small crews who trenched and backfired several sections of it to prevent the fire from getting out of control.

What is the cause of all this? Provincial Constable A. R. Edwards of Minden sized it up neatly. "A man's shoe nail, bulldozer track or a shovel blade struck sharply on the hot rocks might spark a small blaze in the heat-scorched bracken and dried grasses anywhere. The dryness is appalling.

Weary officials to say nothing of the staunch crews, no sooner hope they have brought one area under control than a call comes from an entirely different direction. For instance, 26 miles west of the Bark Lake blaze, a section around Uphill, west of Norland, sped over a six-mile front and is still being fought.

Local Anxiety

It is an anxious time right in our own backyard for the country north from the Township of Ennismore to the north end of Peterborough County and into the distress area is burned brown.

Careless motorists, campers, berrypickers and smokers everywhere could easily cause the same devastating conditions near home. They would only have to catch one glimpse of the towering smoke columns, the sweating crews the burned-over lakes white with the upturned bellies of dead gamefish and thousands of carcasses of small wildlife, to ruminate on the gravity of it all.

We could all turn our eyes northward these nights and watch the red glow in Glamorgan, pulse and die and remember that red means danger. PREVENT FOREST FIRES—IT PAYS. Ask the men who are fighting them for 72-hour shifts. They will tell you in no uncertain terms.

Forestry officials directing the over-all operations by radio and aircraft said Monday night they believe the fire will be held, barring sudden shifts in winds. At the same time, the weather forecast indicated showers late this afternoon which will aid 1,300 men fighting the flames across Ontario.

Minden Menaced

Residents of Minden and Lochlin, where the fire advanced within a mile, reported the entire night sky over the blaze burned a bright red.

The total of separate outbreaks in Ontario rose to 113 Monday as new fires started faster than others were controlled. A new outbreak was reported near Minden, about 12 miles northwest of the main Haliburton blaze. Of two fires near Lindsay, one was reported still out of control after ravaging 100 acres of bush.

Wait 4 Years To Try Von Manstein

HAMBURG, Germany, Aug. 23 (CP)—After a four-year wait, Field Marshal Erich Von Manstein faced a British military court today on 17 war crimes charges. He immediately lost a preliminary legal move.

The court rejected his plea that he receive the "soldier's right" of trial by court martial instead of by a war crimes tribunal.

The charges against the 61-year-old German officer arise from his alleged activities in various high commands in Poland and Russia during the second world war.

A defence argument, submitted before the indictment was read, claimed that Von Manstein still had prisoner-of-war status and therefore could not be tried by a war crimes court.

Both prosecuting and defending counsel agreed it was the first time a British court had been asked to decide on the validity of the Royal Warrant covering war crimes trials.

Defence counsel R. T. Paget, a Labor Member of Parliament, claimed the Royal Warrant denied Manstein the protection of the Laws of Evidence, confronting him with documents he had never seen and testimony taken behind his back.

"If such things happened in a criminal court in England, the High Court would quash the proceedings as a gross miscarriage of justice.

Sir Arthur S. Comyns-Carr, Chief Prosecutor, submitted the German commander had lost his status as a prisoner-of-war, having been brought back to Germany in August, 1943, and discharged from the Wehrmacht.

Miss Janet Larmer, Fraserville, has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Cliff Larmer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Payne visited the latter's mother, Mrs. R. Monteith, and other friends in Barrie over the week-end.

Mrs. Howard Morrow, Bethany spent Saturday with her aunt, Mrs. William Skitch.

C. R. Graham has returned home from hospital and is making good progress toward recovery.

Rev. A. L. Sisco, formerly pastor of St. Andrew's Church, and Mrs. Sisco, of Tweed, and Mrs. Sisco's mother, Mrs. Travers, are spending a few days in town renewing old acquaintances.

Mrs. Buckham and daughters Merilea and Lenore motored with her parents, Rev. A. E. Duffield and Mrs. Duffield, Lambeth, to a cottage in Muskoka, near Bracebridge for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ball are taking a holiday trip around Lake Ontario on both the Canadian and American sides.

Gordon Gibson is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Gibson, on the form of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson, Plainville.

Misses Melba Ball and Betty Forsyth are holidaying in North Bay.

Bandits Threaten Ships

CANTON, Aug. 23 (Reuters) — Bandit organizations operating in the Pearl River delta have threatened to mine shipping unless the local shipping companies provide them with funds, arms, ammunition and food. Several river steamers, including the British owned Wu Seh, have been fired on between Canton and Hong Kong in recent weeks.

SWEET MEDICINE

"Soda pop" and other carbonated beverages got their start as medicines.

Mine Workers Discuss Wages

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va., Aug. 23 (AP)—With one eye on the slowly-dwindling stockpile of soft coal, the United Mine Workers and operators gathered here for more contract talks today.

There were reports that John L. Lewis, himself, might show up for today's talks. If the U.M.W. chief does take part, it could mean that some concrete developments might come about quickly. He was absent from recent contract sessions.

In previous negotiations since the soft coal contracts expired, little or no progress towards new pacts has been apparent.

Lewis, in a departure from the U.M.W. tradition of "No contract, no work," has kept union members in mines east of the Mississippi on the job three days a week. Mines west of the river are on a five-day week.

Under the three-day week, production has averaged slightly better than 7,000,000 tons weekly, or about 5,000,000 tons less than normal.

This means a loss of about 30,000,000 tons in the six weeks the "Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday" week has been in force.

The existing stockpile (coal above the grond) is estimated at between 40,000,000 and 45,000,000 tons by various industry sources.

Playlot At Ex For Under 12's NewConvenience

Immediately west of the drill hall at the Exhibition Grounds the Recreation Commission will have a demonstration playground for the four days of the Exhibition this week. It will be supervised by the leaders of the eight playgrounds in the city, who will be on duty in turns from noon until 8 p.m. each day of the Exhibition.

The Exhibition Board requested the Recreation Commission to set up the playground for the convenience of the children attending the fair. All children 12 years old and under are invited to play on the apparatus—slides, teeters, swings, sandbox, hobby horse ponycycle, rocking boat and jungle gym. The area has been fenced in to keep the fair crowd from rushing through the playing area. The equipment has been borrowed from the Kinsmen's Inverlea Park, the Lions' Riverside Park and the B'Nai B'Rith Turner Park. The Scouts of the Parkhill troop lent a tent to the commission to be used as a shelter for children and spectators. All signs were made by playground Art Director Stafford Collie.

Not a Baby Shelter

Jack Dane, recreational director, reminds the people that this demonstration playground is not to be used as a baby shelter.

Playground art and handicraft exhibit will be displayed in the new Exhibition building. The drawings, paintings, plasticine modelling, wood carving, wood cut-outs and tin-can work from the playgrounds has been chosen by the art director.

Stafford Collie, the art director, will be at the booth in the afternoons and evenings to point out the highlights of the program and to draw attention to the various work displayed.

Hitch-Hiker Suffers Broken Leg In Crash

LINDSAY, Aug. 23.—John Burrows, 17, of Lindsay, has been charged with dangerous driving following an accident at the intersection of Highways 7 and 12, north of Sunderland, in which five people were injured.

Police said that Burrows' car collided with a small English car, driven by Richard Wheeler, of Brooklin, at the corner. A hitch hiker in Burrows' car, a Mrs. Harris, of Whitby, suffered a broken leg, but others did not require hospitalization. They were Jean Leach, of Lindsay, another hitch-hiker with Burrows; Wheeler and his mother, who was riding with him, and Burrows. They were given first aid by Dr. J. H. Oliver of Sunderland, and Dr. M. E. Gorman of Lindsay.

Charge Circus Man

COBOURG, Aug. 23 —(ENS)—Albert Broome, circus employee, was charged with carnal knowledge of a 15-year-old girl when he appeared in police court Monday morning. He was remanded until Friday. The complainant is a resident of Haldimand township.

Possible Buyer Inspects Cobourg Ferry

COBOURG, Aug. 23 —(ENS)—Town Council tonight will discuss the rumored closing of the car ferry service from Cobourg to Rochester. A serious financial loss to the town through business brought by tourists on the car ferries will result, it is stated, if the car ferries are taken out of service. In addition some 36 employees will be out of work along with customs and immigration staff stationed at Cobourg. It was learned also that a prospective buyer for car ferry Ontario No. 1 was in Cobourg during the week-end looking over the ship.

Meanwhile invitatins have been sent out to mayors, reeves and M.P.'s in central Ontario to a meeting to be held here on Friday night to discuss the matter.

Columbus' first landing in America was made in the Bahamas, on Watlings Island, also known as San Salvador, in 1492.

Meet Bear, Wolf

APSLEY, Aug. 23 (ENS)—While Lewis Smith and Virginia Smith were driving from Jack's Lake on Sunday afternoon they encountered a large black bear standing in the middle of the road, about a quarter mile from the village. Bruin lumbered off along a surveyor's trail as the car approached. Near the same place Kenneth Tanner, while driving from Jack's Lake on Friday night, ran over and killed a large timber wolf.

Will Bar Communists

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Aug. 23 (Reuters)—New Zealand is to bar persons "holding the doctrines of the Moscow brand of Communism" from positions in the military forces, scientific research or other state posts involving security. Prime Minister Peter Fraser announcing this today, said such people would not be debarred from earning a living, but would not be permitted in positions demanding loyalty.

Manvers Farmer Fred Argue Dies Suddenly

BETHANY, Aug. 23 (ENS). —Funeral service for Fred Argue, 68, was held from Manvers United Church on Sunday, with Rev. C. Kellogg officiating. The service was largely attended by friends and neighbors, who were deeply shocked at his sudden death. Pall-bearers were Alfred Johnston, Leslie Argue, Harold Thompson, Earl Argue, James Boggs, and Lloyd Argue.

H. Argue, a farmer of Lot 18, Concession 4 of Manvers Township, had been in his usual good health and on Thursday was in Bethany doing his shopping, leaving for his home at about 5 o'clock. He died suddenly at the supper table an hour later presumably from a heart attack.

Surviving are one sister Mabel at home and one brother Frank, Kenora.

Merchants Want Meters Removed

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 23 —(ENS)—The cold war between a section of the business men and the Town Council over the newly installed parking meters continues without any signs of subsiding.

On Monday a protest meeting was held by approximately 35 members of the Business Men's Association in the Hollywood Theatre where several members claimed the meters were driving business to other centres.

Speaking with some authority on the issue, W. A. Hogle said that the contract between the meter company and the town was very binding and such a contract had never been broken.

After much discussion it was decided to present to the Council at a special meeting a written petition asking that the meters be removed at once. Frank De Carroll was put in charge of circulating the petition.

Granted Remand

HAMILTON, Aug. 23 (CP) — Edward (Dempsey) Richards, Hamilton bartender charged with the rifle-murder of Richard Slifka Aug. 6, Monday was remanded until next Monday for preliminary hearing. David (Irish Davy) Ambersley, charged jointly with Richards in connection with the fatal shooting, is also scheduled to appear in court the same day. Slifka was shot and killed at Ambersley's suburban home following a drinking party and fight.

Lay Off 1,000 Men

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP) — Steve Anco, president of the Massey Harris Local of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) said Monday night that a layoff of 1,000 employees at the Massey Harris plant has started. He told the Toronto Labor Council all employees with up to 18 months' service are being laid off as part of the company's program to cut back production. Earlier this year J. S. Duncan, president of Massey Harris, said that lay-offs would be necessitated by a reduction in orders from overseas markets due to dollar shortages.

Do You Know...

the most famous riddle in history?

"What goes on four feet, on two feet, and three, But the more feet it goes on the weaker it be?"

Do You Know . . . that this is the famous 'Riddle of the Sphinx'? It was asked by the ancient Greek mythological monster who infested Thebes, and devoured all those inhabitants who could not solve it.

Do You Know . . . that it was finally solved by Oedipus, who answered: "Man — who as an infant crawls on all fours, in manhood goes erect on his two feet, and in old age supports his tottering legs with a staff." On hearing this correct answer the Sphinx slew herself, and Thebes was delivered.

Do You Know . . . that the story of the Sphinx's riddle made its first appearance in the writings of the Greek tragedians?

One Way To Found A National Library

The Canadian Library Association has laid a well-reasoned brief before the Massey Commission, asking for a National Library for Canada. We do not suppose that anyone denies the need for such an institution; it is another matter, however, to find the money for it. Like so many countries, Canada alway seems to be short of money when cultural advances are in question.

* * *

We suggest that the cost of a National Library might be lessened if the Dominion Parliament would be willing to make its fine library available as a starting-point for the collection. There is a large and valuable library provided for the use of the Senate and Commons; it is housed in the oldest part of the Parliament Buildings. If a fine new building were provided to house these books and the material which is now in the Dominion Archives, our National Library would be off to a good start. The collection would have to be increased, of course, but a fine beginning would have been made.

* * *

We understand that the Parliamentary library is seriously crowded; we have ourselves seen books ranged two deep on a single shelf. There is no doubt, also, that Parliament could use the space which would be available if the library were moved to commodious quarters nearby. In the U.S.A. the Congressional Library is regarded as the national library, and we think that Canada might take a leaf from our neighbour's book.

* * *

It would be a notable addition to the apparatus of scholarship if the books of the Parliamentary Library and the collections in the Dominion Archives were available under one roof. From such a union a great library might grow.

P.E.I. Ferry

The Ottawa Journal has been saying editorial things about the car ferry service from Cape Tormentine, N.B., to Borden, P.E.I. Unfortunately for our complete understanding of the Journal's point of view, we were on the ferry at the time the Journal made its point, and so missed it (the point, not the ferry). We have, however, seen the Charlottetown Guardian taking an editorial plunge into the matter (the Guardian is the Island's chief and very good paper which "covers the island like the dew".) It seems that the Journal urged the need for a regular and dependable schedule for motor vehicle service to the Island, independent of the railway timetable or to railway regulation. The Guardian says:

"Our Ottawa contemporary fails to note the most important factor in the car ferry situation. The provision of adequate service at this main connecting point with the mainland is a constitutional obligation resting upon the Dominion and the briefs, both of the Provincial Government and the Boards of Trade, demonstrate very conclusively that the present service is inadequate, and that until a second ferry is provided there is always the danger of a complete breakdown of traffic, with its resultant disastrous consequences to this province."

Now let our inland voice be added, a voice from the ferry Abegweit itself. The Abegweit, a C.N.R. vessel, is new, commodious and handsome. It makes four round trips every summer day, carries we do not know how many passengers and about 65 vehicles, as well as Pullman railway cars which have come from Montreal and other points to be shunted into the bowels of the ship. The ship has lounge rooms, restaurant, and on one of our crossings, even a movie from the National Film Board telling us more than we ever expected to know about salmon fishing in B.C. All this—meals extra—was provided us for a delightful hour's crossing and a modest transportation fee.

We would no more think of criticizing the Abegweit adversely than we would the Island itself. What if we motored at break-neck speed to the Cape Tormentine docks to catch the 7.30 ferry only to find that the train was an hour and a half late, and thus that the sailing would be late by the same time? It gave use an hour and a half extra to enjoy the Abegweit, the scenery and our anticipation of P.E.I.'s summer loveliness. Further, it inducted us immediately into the quiet, leisurely ways of the Island, where time is less important than living.

Not for us. We'll take the Abegweit as she is, and let the hurry-uppers take the other ferry from Wood's Island to Nova Scotia. They can even use the return half of their Abegweit ticket. And if the Abegweit breaks down for a day or two or a month or two we shall thank the deus ex machina and stay peacefully and gratefully on the Island until she is repaired, hoping that nobody around our office hears that there is much too fast air service to and from our Island haven.

Socialism Hates A Free Press

The Royal Commission on the Press in Britain seems to have satisfied everyone except the Socialist Cabinet. The Commission, after a sitting which extended over two years, cleared the press of the charges of bias and monopoly which had been laid against it. Some recommendations for press reform were made, the chief of which was the establishment of a General Council of the Press, to be made up of newspapermen and some laymen, to give general advice. Mr. Herbert Morrison, who is Mr. Attlee's deputy, has said in the House of Commons that the press had better get busy and establish such a Council, or the government will do it for them. Nor is this waspish remark (within a few weeks of the publication of the Commission's report) the only evidence that the clean bill given to the press was not to the liking of the more prominent socialist politicians.

This is no surprise. Mr. Attlee, Mr. Morrison, and the rest, are men of honour and democrats, insofar as it is given to them to understand honour and democracy. But they are first of all men whose principal wish is to do good to their fellow men acording to rules which they themselves have established. And like all professional doers of good, they bitterly resent criticism. As they have the power to control a great state, they would like to silence criticism; they would like to dictate a line of thought to the press which would further their designs, instead of occasionally baulking them.

There is nothing strange or new about this. All governments hate criticism, and none more than reforming governments with a conviction that they can set right all that is wrong. Oliver Cromwell, the spiritual ancestor of the modern socialist government, had no use for criticism, and silenced it brutally; his work in this direction was warmly applauded by his friend and crony John Milton, who wrote an eloquent defence of freedom of the press, but did not believe too firmly in it, for all that.

A free press, bothersome though it often is, is a real democratic force. A controlled press is the agency of the Servile State. The chagrin of the Cabinet in Britain is understandable, but we devoutly hope that the press there will continue to enjoy the right to say what it likes.

Heyday For Cadgers

A good deal of publicity has been given to the two Kingstonians who travelled to Britain in order to have expensive surgery done at the cost of the state. It cost them less to travel abroad, and take advantage of Britain's National Health Scheme—which provides services for visitors as well as residents —than it would have done to have their operations at home.

We do not approve of the motive which took these two people abroad. They are cadgers, taking advantage of a scheme paid for by the taxpayers of another country. But their action shows up the extraordinary folly of the Health Scheme, which is so loosely organized as to make Britain a mark for cadgers the world over. The halt, the lame and the blind will journey to Britain for free treatment as they have never flocked to Lourdes, until the provisions of the service are changed.

We have a good deal of sympathy with the British health scheme. Although it is not likely to improve the standard of medical service, and although we think it unworkable in cases of complicated illness demanding delicate treatment, we feel that it provides needed treatment for people who have never been able to get it before.

We see no reason, however, why Britain should pay for the operations of crafty visitors.

Our Special Bad News Note For Today: other government departments are laying off civil servants but the Department of Internal Revenue has taken on 3,000 extra hands. And it's no use buttoning your pockets!

Communism Versus Catholicism

By W. N. EWER
(U. K. Information Office)

THE Communist Governments of Poland and Czechoslovakia are threatening severe punishment to any Catholic priest who refuses the Sacraments to a member of the Communist party. It is one of the strangest and most significant things that have happened in the strange development of Communism.

These Communist Governments are demanding for Communists the right to be "practising Catholics", to have full membership of Catholic Church. By all the canons of "Marxism" and "Leninism" that is simply not sense. Both Marx and Benin would have poured angry scorn on the suggestion that one could be at one and the same time Marxist and Christian.

The two creeds are—both from the Marxist and from the Christian point of view—incompatible and irreconcilable. If you believe in the Christian Revelation, then dialectic materialism is blasphemy. If you believe in dialectic materialism the Christian Revelation is childish nonsense.

◇ ◇ ◇

MARX, Lenin and their followers were sincere and consistent in their beliefs. To them the conception of a personal god was gross superstitution. Religion was "the opiate of the people"—an instrument of the ruling class to keep the workers in passive subjection. For them a Communist must by definition be an atheist. He could not be a Christian or a Moslem or a theist of any kind. That was—and indeed it must be to any convinced Marxist—axiomatic. And the idea that a member of the Communist party should be, or wish to be, Christian—should want to partake of the Christian Sacraments—would be unthinkable. Such a desire would not be mere "deviation". It would imply denial of the essential basis of the Communist creed. It would have involved "ex-communication" —expulsion from the party—without doubt or hesitation. The Communist regime might tolerate Christianity among its subjects, might respect "freedom of conscience". The Soviet Government has indeed done so. It has done so within certain limits: that is true, though the limits may vary, for all Governments. But that is entirely a different matter from tolerating Christianity among members of a Communist party. That has not been allowed: and rightly so since it is absurd: as absurd as for a vegetarian society to allow its members to eat meat.

BUT now the whole attitude has changed. The Communist parties are not merely allowing their members to be Catholics. They are insisting peremptorily on their right to be Catholics and to receive the Christian Sacraments. It is as though the Church had demanded for the early Christians the right to sacrifice to pagan idols and to statues of the Emperor. It is as though Calvin had demanded for the citizens of Geneva the right to attend Mass.

The thesis of the Catholic church, given Catholic premises, is rational and logical. You cannot be both a Christian and a Marxist. You may choose between the Church and the party, and resign (or accept expulsion) from one or the other. But you cannot simultaneously accept two incompatible creeds, two incompatible disciplines, two incompatible royalties.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE new Communist thesis, given Marxist premises, is irrational and illogical. It does not make sense. What, then, is the explanation? It is surely clear. The premises have changed. The Communist parties of Eastern Europe are no longer Marxist in any sense of the word that either Marx or Lenin would have recognized. They have thrown their own fundamental beliefs and their old ideals. This neo-Communism-Stalinism—is neither Marxist nor Socialist. Nor is it Leninist. Lenin's conception of the character of the society he was seeking to build has little or nothing in common with that of the society which Stalin and his accomplices are building.

STALINIST parties today are simply strictly disciplined political machines whose purpose is the maintenance of the power and authority of privileged oligarchies; a hierarchy of oligarchs topped by the autocracy of Stalin himself. A Stalinist need have no Marxist principles. It is better that he should have no principles of his own at all. But he can have any he pleases, or any which Stalin at any given moment chooses to permit, provided he will give unquestioning obedience and unquestioning support to his self-appointed "leaders" and unbounded reverence to the august and remote imperial figure of Josef Stalin.

That is the deeper significance of these decrees, which on the surface are mere tactical moves in the battle with the Catholic episcopates of Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Independence, or . . .

(Le Devoir, Montreal)

The problem of the future of Canada presents itself in such a way that it can no longer be set aside. The trend in favour of total independence grows stronger in almost all the countries of what was formerly called the Empire. But it must not be believed that it will not come up against systematic and organized opposition. What has to be abandoned in one direction will be sought to be made up in another. That is very human: it is very imperial. Mr. Churchill will perhaps before long be once again head of the British government. Then in the official program of his party (there will be) a series of texts insisting on the necessity of repairing and renewing the machinery that will permit a community of action. That will carry with it, among other things, a combined council of defence and headquarters for the Commonwealth to serve as a tie between the frequent meetings of Commonwealth prime ministers; a machine for economic consultation and a commonwealth court which will be a successor to the judicial committee of the Privy Council. In a word and in another form, adapted to present circumstances, the old dream of imperial federation.

REPORTS OF MY DEATH WAS GREATLY EXAGGERATED

TODAY'S NEWSNAME

Dr. Konrad Adenauer

By FLORA LEWIS
(By arrangement with the London Observer)

A SHREWD, adroit politician of 73 is now scheduled to be the first Chancellor of the West German Republic. Dr. Konrad Adenauer, a native of Cologne and leader of the Christian Democrats (C.D.U.) who polled the largest number of votes in Sunday's elections, had rather hoped for the more historically dignified post of President of the Federation. But the Premiership is more important, and in the coalition regime which is now being planned Adenauer will take over the leadership of the Government, while the Presidency will go to Theodor Heuss, leader of the Free Democrats, the C.D.U.'s partners.

Adenauer is no newcomer to parliamentary life. He was chairman of the Bonn Council which wrote the new State's Constitution. There he showed an aptitude for political manoeuvre which he will need in the new minority Cabinet.

He is a wrinkled, plumpish but energetic little man, endowed with abundant self-control. A barrister, he first entered politics in 1917 when he became Mayor of Cologne. He continued in this job until 1933, when the Nazis demanded his resignation and banished him from the busy Ruhr city. He then moved to a village called Honnef, near the new capital of Bonn, where he still lives.

Adenauer spent the intervening years of Nazi rule quietly, under constant supervision. His ardent support of the Weimar Republic and his opposition to a strong, central Reich under Prussian dominance were black marks against him. In 1945, the conquering American Army reinstated him as Cologne's mayor, but in October of that year the British Military Government again banned him from public life because they considered him too closely tied to the big Ruhr industrialists. The ban was lifted a few months later, and Adenauer was instrumental in forming the Christian Democratic Union, a post-war growth in German politics which drew much of its strength from the old Catholic Centre Party.

Adenauer himself is a determined Conservative, staunchly committed to a free-enterprise economy and vigorously opposed to nationalization. Some elements of his Party stand to his left, but his firmly Rightist attitude has been clearly endorsed by the electors.

Considerable concern over his stand on nationalism was aroused a few months ago when he said in Switzerland that "Europe must remember that only the German army, not the German nation, capitulated in 1945". He has since denied this expression and has advocated German participation in European councils. During the election, he followed the lead of the Social Democrats and campaigned on an anti-Allied platform.

Adenauer's job will be more difficult than he had perhaps expected before the balloting, since the scattering of the votes gave no one party nor even any natural combination a sure working majority. The pressure for compromise will come from the far Right. The new Chancellor will bear a large share of the responsibility for keeping Western Germany both stable and democratic — no easy task for any statesman.

ANOTHER YEAR OF SUMMER THEATRE?

Sir: The large attendance at the performances of the Peterborough Summer Theatre are a fine indication of the pleasure which our people are having—so let us hope that nothing will prevent next season's programme of plays under the same management. However, a rumour is abroad that some residents living near the Queen Mary School wish to have it discontinued another year as they consider these activities a nuisance. If this is the case I sincerely hope that a solution to this difficulty may be reached. I am a resident of this district and although I have been absent from the city most of this summer I fail to see how the presence of this company could be a nuisance.

Many people have told me how well the presentations of this company have been received. And I have already enjoyed one performance myself and hope to see all the remaining plays of the season. It is so many years since we have had any form of professional theatre here that we should be most grateful to the supporters of this fine venture.

Surely the plays also add to our numerous other tourist attractions and are therefore an asset in this field.

And I should also like to commend the good judgement of the Board of Education in allowing the use of this publicly owned school property for such a fine cultural aspect of our life as the Peterborough Summer Theatre.

Sincerely yours,
MARY E. MEDD.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And God said moreover unto Moses, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath sent me unto you: this is my name for ever, and this is my memorial unto all generations. (Ex. 3: 15.)

◇ ◇ ◇

And Moses answered and said, But, behold, they will not believe me, nor hearken unto my voice: for they will say, The Lord hath not appeared unto thee.

And the Lord said unto him, What is that in thine hand? And he said, A rod. And he said, Cast it on the ground. And he cast it on the ground, and it became a serpent; and Moses fled from before it.

And the Lord said unto Moses, Put forth thine hand, and take it by the tail. And he put forth his hand, and caught it, and it became a rod in his hand: that they may believe that the Lord God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath appeared unto thee. (Ex. 4: 1-5.)

Antarctic Housing Readied

(Norway Digest)

Norwegian architects John Engh and Peer Qvam have designed a new home for Antarctic living—this one, with a special fan to blow frigid outdoor air under the floor. Not as peculiar as it sounds, two such buildings are now being constructed for the joint Norwegian-British-Swedish expedition soon to leave for Antarctica. (See "News of Norway", No. 43, August 6, 1949.) Walls, little more than three feet high at the eves, will rise to a ten foot pitch, and the floor will be in two layers. Next to the ice on which the building rests will be a layer of big hollow insulated masonite squares—about the size of an average door. Between this insulating sheet and the floor above will be an air duct through which warm air will be circulated to heat the building. To keep this heat from melting the ice underneath the house, cold air, in turn, will be blown in under the main insultating layer. The designers maintain that the building will withstand temperatures of 80 degrees below zero and winds up to 120 miles per hour.

The one building will house five men and the galley, while radio, radar, and nine expedition members will be accommodated in the other. Careful attention has been paid to such details as an individual nitch for each expedition member where he has his own bunk and locker. The men will be seeing no one but each other for over two and a half years.

Customs Men Use Radar To Combat Smugglers

By MICHAEL KING

LONDON, Aug. 23—(Reuters)—Radar is being used by customs officers to combat 'get-rich-quick' smugglers bringing highly dutiable goods into Britain mainly from the Continent.

Latest radar devices have been fitted to the revenue cruiser Vigilant to help waterguards—the men responsible for revenue defence—comb coastal waters.

The cruiser now can lie in coves in secluded parts of the coast, watching on her radar screen movements of even the smallest ships for several miles.

At the end of the war, a school for waterguard officers was started because customs and excise authorities realized that many battle-trained men, taught to be resourceful as well as ruthless, would be coming back to Britain.

Some of these men were expected to turn to smuggling, assisted by the many small craft which the Royal Navy disposed of after the war.

2,000 Waterguards

There now are between 1,500 and 2,000 waterguards and preventive officers round the coast of Britain. They maintain constant patrol between ports.

Smuggling has been going on around Britain's coastline for centuries. The coast guards, with a long tradition behind them generally know more about smuggling methods than the smugglers themselves.

Last year consignments confiscated by the customs and excise totalled 24,624, against 22,489 in 1947 and 16,642 in 1946.

Goods included tobacco, spirits, nylons, watches and cameras. Drug smuggling has been on the decline.

About 1,000 persons were found guilty of customs and excise offences last year. Of these 74 were imprisoned.

Fines last year amounted to £208,000 ($832,000) compared with £111,250 in 1947.

This year, fines already have run into five figures. Heavy prison sentences have also been imposed.

At Forbidden City

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—(AP)—A CBS commentator said Monday his fellow-broadcaster, Lowell Thomas, has visited the Forbidden City of Lhasa in the Tibet. Edward R. Murrow, substituting on Thomas' news program, said the travel-wise Thomas thus realized an ambition of many years' standing. The borders of Tibet have been guarded against outsiders for many years. However, several other outsiders have managed to get in over the years.

Doll Mix-up Drags On, Senator Helps

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 (CP) —The ever-widening international doll controversy reached into the capitals of Canada and the United States Monday with a lot of people talking and not much being done.

Margaret Wooding of St. Catharines, who shipped 200 dolls to Somerset, Pa., for Europe's children, said Monday the Canadian government has assured her the gift could be sent to the United States duty-free.

The dolls are being held in a customs warehouse at Pittsburg because the U. S. government wants customs duty on them.

In Ottawa, meanwhile, a government official said he understood that H. B. Reiley of Somerset, Pa., to whom the dolls were sent, wanted to repack the dolls before sending them to needy children overseas.

No Assurance Given

The official added that the government could not possibly have given Miss Wooding assurance that her dolls could be sent to the U. S. duty-free. If there were such assurance, it was not from anyone in a position of authority.

The whole controversy began when the dolls were collected by children at a festival sponsored by the St. Catharines Recreation Commission. The festival was held on the suggestion of Miss Wooding who obtained the idea from a society reporter on the Somerset American.

In Washington, Republican Senator Edward Martin of Pennsylvania made everything sound simple. The dolls, he said, can pass through the U. S. duty-free if the Somerset American, sponsor of the collection campaign, will fill out some papers guaranteeing that the dolls will not be sold in the U. S. Senator Martin said he received the assurance from customs authorities.

Petes Grab COBL Opener With 7-2 Win Over Bata

The Petes pounded out a 7-2 victory over Batawa Shoemen here Monday night to open their best-of-five COBL semi-final series. They unloosed a 16-hit attack, including two triples and two doubles, on Art Wright and Gord Muffitt, the latter going in as a relief hurler to open the sixth. But some odd base-running, two Batawa double plays, and 12 local runners left stranded, kept down the count. Lefty Dadson went the route comfortably for the homesters.

Ed. Bush, Johnny Aquino and Jerry Wagar led Batawa at bat with two hits each. Pat Wilson topped the winners with three in four tries, while Dadson got two for three, Howie Dalton and Tommy Foley three for five each and Bob Crowe two in four times up.

The Petes shoved two runs across each in the first, third and fifth frames, adding one in the seventh. Batawa got one apiece in the third and four innings.

A Double Play

Dadson got safely back to third on a rundown once but it was turned into a double-play by Batawa as the other two runners aboard were caught off smartly. Another time saw Wilson triple but he picked off third right after. Both sides fielded well generally but the Petes' power at the plate as Ed Murphy threw a bunch of lefthand hitters at righthand Batawa pitching proved the big difference.

Dalton's hit, a walk, an out and Wilson's double meant two runs in the first. Menzies tripled and scored in the third on a fielder's choice after a rundown, Brown, who had reached first on the choice, stealing second, moving up on an out and tallying on a hit by Foley. Two more counted in the fifth on singles by Foley, Stewart and Dalton, plus an error. They added one in the seventh on singles by Crowe and Dadson, with Dalton's double.

CGE And Ashbys Gain Wins In Girls' Games

CGE edged Woollens 10-9 and Ashby's romped home to a 17-8 verdict over Marines at the Bowl last night as a round-robin girls' softball series started. Top two teams will later meet for the city title. Tomorrow night, Ashby's play CGE, with Marines meeting Lindsay; on Friday, it'll be CGE vs. Marines, and Westclox vs. Ashby's.

CGE experience helped in their close win over Woollens, who came to life the last few frames to make it plenty hot. M. Perrin allowed eight hits while fanning 14 in a fine showing, the losers' pitchers allowing only nine hits and fanning four. B. McMahon, R. Todd, S. Harris and E. Humphries were good in the field. Two hits each were garnered by M. Zinston, R. Todd, Marg Perrin and D. Jackson, as M. Perrin hit a homer. S. Johnston, R. McInroy, M. Laing and C. Ferguson of Woollens each had two hits, the latter pair's including homers. Teams:

Errors Hurt

Marines had 10 costly errors in losing to Ashby's, who had but one more hit, there being few strikeouts in the open tussle. E. Simmons led the winners at bat with four for six, M. Stewart getting a double and a triple. E. Simmons and M. Freeman went good defensively. M. Behan led the losers with three in six plate appearances, as H. LaPointe and V. Mitchell stood out in the field. Teams:

Ashby's: D. Callan, cf; J. Reynolds, c; E. Simmons, lf; E. McFadden, 3b; M. Stewart, rf; M. Freeman, 1b; J. Dunk, ss; L. Jordan, 2b; D. McFadden, p.

East City Champs

East City Peewees won the city baseball championship by forfeit Monday night at the Orphanage Field 9-0. In the top of the sixth McDougal was sent off for abusive language and attempting to stall the game. This left the Southend peewees short a man and the game was handed to the Easterners. The score at the end of five innings was Easterners 19, Southend 3.

Line-ups:

Easterners—Guerin, c; Garvey, 2nd; McIlmoyle, p; D. Baptie, 1st; Dorrington, ss; Stewart, cf; Ayott and F. Innes, lf; E. Innes and A. Baptie, rf; Towns, 3rd.

Electrics Given Bye In First Round OFA

CGE will represent Peterborough in the Ontario intermediate soccer playdowns, going into round 2 Sept. 17 and 24 against Kingston or Belleville in one bracket of semi-finals. Toronto will be playing Owen Sound or Barrie in the other bracket, with finals Oct. 1 and 8, goals to count on home and home games. This was explained at a well-attended local soccer commission meeting last night with Tom Garland as chariman. CGE gets a bye in the first round.

Rules call for each club sending in a list of 20 players from which the team will be chosen. A team consists of 11 players and three subs. DFA rules say a player once subbed shall not return to the game. No all-star or "ringer" teams are permitted, only regularly registered players.

Local Points

Local matters were also dealt with at this meeting here. Harry Pyle was given permission to transfer from O'Halloran's to CGE. James Buchan, Tom Foster and Tom Garland were registered with the OFA as referees. Conduct of players was discussed. The following are asked to attend a special meeting next Monday in the "Y": Dalton Downer, Stan Murduff, Ben McMaster, CGE manager, Art O'Halloran, E. Lane and Reg Cox, representing the various clubs. O'Halloran's play CGE a league match Wednesday at 6.30 p.m., with J. Buchan referee. Lindsay has withdrawn temporarily as players have been moving to other cities. No game is listed for Saturday.

Britain Wins Title

POINTE CLAIRE, Que., Aug 23 — (CP). — A smoothsailing British team Monday won the world team dinghy sailing championship on the strength of victories in the day's three races at the week-long regatta on Lake St. Louis. Led by veteran sailor Charles Currey, of the Itchenor Club, the British sailors came from behind a two-point deficit, after a Canadian victory in the first race of the team championships on Sunday.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

If the weather is okay tonight, there should be quite a trek over the Hunter St. span about six bells. On account of the oldtime COBL stars of this city take on the modern senior Petes in an exhibition game, proceeds going to aid minor ball here. Diamond followers always like to look back and talk of the stars of yesteryear. Many a warmish argument develops as to respective merits. And it is always interesting to see former heroes in the light of later years. Many of the ex-players, who haven't been away from the field too long, are just about as good as some of the present players, or so many think.

* * * * * *

Ed Murphy has been lining up some oldtime players, who promised to play at least part of this tilt. Such onetime aces as Mayor Max Swanston, Al Heckman, Jeff Hardill, Fred Ash, Tommy Holyman, Frank Whitehouse, Al and Grant Clark, Cy Whatley, Cliff Cadd, Bun Kingdon, Ike Batten, Len Hollingsworth, Jimmy Hall, Hap Harrison, Jack Billingsley, Scotty Maudsley and probably several more we don't recall at the moment. With Alex Kay, dean of COBL umps for so many years, calling 'em. It should prove a real interesting attraction for young and old who like their baseball.

* * * * * *

Sticking To One Game

We notice that a couple of the Petes gave up softball completely this season in order to improve their senior baseball. And they're doing okay, generally, too. Joe Stewart and Freddie Garvey were ace softballers in other years, but felt their game with the smaller and harder ball suffered because of mixing the sports. Another pair who had to make the choice were Jack Mackness and Bob Crowe who returned to the softball wars. Howie Dalton is the execption who goes good in both games. A couple we recall in past years who found baseball pitching tough on their softball reflexes were Jack Playford and Pat Calladine, though both starred in the speedier sport on the smaller diamond. These games usually don't mix.

* * * * * *

A good job the Petes were swinging mean maces last eve in the COBL semi-final opener, as they left a lot stranded on the runways. Not to mention the odd bit of odd baserunning. But they pounded through to a 7-2 win o'er Batawa and that's one peanut in the bag. They'll play Wednesday or Thursday—depending on grounds — in Bella Villa and stage the third of their best-of-five here Saturday. Lefty Dadson didn't have too much trouble as his mates mauled Wright and Muffitt for 16 safeties. Main clouters were Wilson, Dadson himself, Foley and Dalton. Bob Crwe filled in for Garvey, who wasn't feeling good, and went okay. A so-so crowd for a playoff.

Lasses Hard At Work

Couple of colleens' contests at the Bowl over east last eve. 'Twas decided to run a round-robin series with all teams aboard, and top two then playing off for the city championship. CGE just nosed out Woollens 10-9 in one tussle, whilst Ashby's rolled to a 17-9 verdict o'er Marines, who had buttery fingers their fray. Tomorrow, it'll be Ashby's vs. CGE and Marines vs. Lindsay, while Friday sees CGE drawn against Marines, as Westclox takes on Ashby's. The whole works should be cleaned up some time next week. Woollens are still in the PWSU junior playdowns, as Westclox and Lindsay are out.

On the lacrosse front, Hamilton Tigers yanked out a 13-10 senior OLA win over the Petes last gloaming, despite a great try by Dootch Vitarelli, who scored four goals. Owen Sound edged Weston 8-7 in vertime, so the locals still hold sixth spot, but they have to go to Hamilton once more this week and take on St. Kitts here Friday ere schedule's end. In the PMLA, Rockets won the tadpole title 5-3 from Hurricanes, All Saints and J. K. Hughes went to a bantam final 7-7 draw in their second scrap, and will have to meet next week, while Quen's opened juvenile finals with a 10-7 decision over Silver's. They play again tomorrow at seven p.m. in Miller Bowl. Huntsville meets our juves at 8.30 tonight in Miller Bowl in OLA playdowns, while our bantams and midgets are off tomorrow to Orillia.

Dese, Dem And Dose

Oshawa plays East City bantams here tomorrow, and it's Oshawa vs. the local midgets here Thursday at 6.15 in Riverside in OBA playdowns, as our juves go to Oshawa tomorrow ... East City won the peewee title; other minor ball dope in tonight ... Young Petes go to Oshawa this gloaming in junior play ... Ball smeared Co-Ops 21-3 as Grant & Loucks took Duffus 12-5 in civic softball ... A & P won the opener of Foresters Loops finals o'er COF; they meet again tomorrow eve ... Uniteds are at Kingston tonight and here Sat'day ... Kawartha Sports meet Oshawa in OASA junior play but 'twas laid over from Tuesday till maybe Saturday; tickets honored then ... Rays edged Westclox 3-2 in fastball last p.m. to settle top spot; semi-finals commence on two fronts tonight ... Soccer setup is in elsewhere; CGE plays O'Hallorans tomorrow e'en at 6.30 ... Lots of entries arriving for the three days and nights of harness horse racing last half of the week at the Ex ... Little grid talk here lately ... Can't think of another word to say.

C's Victors, 8-5

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 23. — (ENS).— The local club captured the initial game of the second round from Tweed by 8-5 in the OASA playdowns here Monday night before the largest crowd of the season. Bun Crosson started on the hill for the homesters, being relieved by Anderson at the beginning of the second. Anderson pitched steady ball until the eighth when Jimmy Robertson took over.

Lessard went the route for the visitors, hurling stellar ball. A triple by Taylor brought in a counter and circuit clouts by Fralick and D. Robertson in the third put the Campbellford nine well out in front. A triple and a circus catch by Doherty contributed largely to a local victory. Taylor came across with a spectacular catch in right field to retire the side when the bases were loaded. Cotton and Orr played bang-up ball for Tweed.

The teams:

Co-Ops— McAuliffe, Edmison, Trailing, B. Berwick, J. Berwick, Vyse, Jenkins, Coulter, Downer.

Yankees Buy John Mize Home Run Expert

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP) — New York Yankees today hauled in another piece of heavy artillery for their American League pennant push—the Giants' home run specialist, big John Mize.

In a surprising move, the Yankees bought the 36-year-old first baseman from their National League neighbors for an undisclosed sum and told him to get in uniform right away.

The deal exploded with such unexpectedness that Mize had to rush to catch a midnight train for Detroit, where the Yankees open a twogame series today.

The announcement Monday night was terse and lacking in essential detail.

"We've sold Johnny Mize to the Yankees for an undisclosed sum," said Eddie Brannick, secretary of the Giants. "He was waived out of the National League he joins the club immediately."

No money was disclosed. The Giants were supposed to have put a $200,000 price tag on the first-sacker when Brooklyn expressed an interest in him in the spring.

Adds Plate Power

The robust Georgian adds plate power, if no speed, to the Yankees who are defending a slim American League lead from the onrushing Boston Red Sox, now 2½ games behind, and the Cleveland Indians five games off the pace.

Mize probably fill move right in behind Joe DiMaggio in the Yankees' batting order—the No. 5 spot. That will permit Tommy Henrich, who has been holding down first, to return to his favorite position in right field.

This gives the Bronx Bombers a tremendous wallop in the base-clearing section of the line-up.

He has poled out 315 home runs during his major league career which up to now has been spent entirely in the National League. He leads all active players in this specialty. The Yanks' DiMaggio, out half the season, is second with 314.

This year he has hit only 18 home runs and currently is batting .263 with 62 runs batted in. But he has warmed the bench frequently.

Mize's place in the Giants' line-up will be taken by Joe Lafata, 28, and Bert Haas, a utility man who is 35 but much faster than the lumbering John.

Crescents Edge Weston Lions 8-7

By The Canadian Press.

Hamilton Tigers are putting up a stiff battle to remain in a play-off position in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior race. They retained fifth place in the league last night by defeating the sixth-place Peterborough Marines 13-10 at Hamilton.

In another game Owen Sound Crescents edged Weston Lions 8-7 when Bun White scored the only goal of a 10-minute overtime session.

At Weston, the Lions forced the extra period by tying the score in a free-scoring third period after trailing 4-2 at halftime and 5-4 at the three-quarter mark.

Campbell led Owen Sound marksmen with three goals and Hill netted two for Weston.

A & P Gets First

A & P took the first of the best-of-five Foresters' Softball League finals over COF 11-10, the next game being tomorrow at 6.30 p.m. in King Edward Park. The Grocers took an early lead but Foresters rallied in the fifth to tie it and hold it that way till the final frame.

It was a keen tilt with four errors apiece. O'Toole, Thorburn and Huard led the winners at bat, the former hitting two homers. Tadei, Collins, Phillips and S. Tyndall showed the way for the losers, the latter belting out three homers as Tadei and Phillips got one apiece. Richmond started on the slab for A & P but O'Toole took over in the sixth, as Phillips went the route for the losers. Teams:

Foresters—Parnell rf, Tadei 3b; Collins, c; Phillips, p; S. Tyndall ss; Heath lf, Walling 2b, Hobson, 1b; C. Tyndall, cf; Reynolds.

A & P—Knapp, 3b; Thorburn, c; O'Toole, ss, p; Huard, 2b; Plumpton, cf; Richmond, p, ss; Levasseur 1b, Hawkins rf, Clark lf.

Minor Baseball

OBA playdowns for local teams have been announced. Oshawa plays the local East City midgets, the Jaycees, here tomorrow night, while the local juveniles go to the Motor City tomorrow. Oshawa plays the Peterborough bantams here Thursday, and Oshawa meets the local juveniles in a return tilt here Friday, all games being at 6.15.

On Saturday, the local midgets are in Oshawa's Lakeview Park at three, while the Peterborough bantams are in Alexandra Park, Oshawa, at 4.15 p.m. in the best-of-three series. The local peewees will not see playdown action likely until next week.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The greens are closed for this evening and everybody is taking a night off.

But tomorrow morning at 9.30 o'clock we commence the Black Memorial tournament. It promises to be a big day. The objective, 96 entries, has been obtained. Please co-operate by being on time.

It's just possible that we may have a masquerade tournament one of these Saturday evenings. Keep your eye on this column.

And as a reminder—we are going to hold a mixed rink tournament on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 5. Fred Dearborn is the convener.

Down at Port Hope on Saturday, Reg. Dyer and J. Cullen came home with first prize and the trophy, and R. Hopkins and F. Worsencroft came in for high two wins.

The winners in our Family Hour tournament on Saturday night were:

1st—F. Mowry, Mrs. Owens J. Adams, skip.

2nd—B. Dawe, S. Cummings, Mrs. Burns, G. Fee, skip.

3rd—C. Clark, Mrs. Shields P. Moore, skip.

Next Monday night groups 1 and 2 will play their postponed game of Aug. 2.

Rockets Get Title

Rockets beat out Hurricanes 5-3 at Miller Bowl yesterday to take the tadpole PMLA title in the deciding game. R. Anthony got three of their goals, T. Faulkner having one, B. Chapman getting a goal and an assist, while B. Stickle and K. Murduff each aided on one. T. Davis tallied all three for the losers and J. Crough helped on one. It was a neat number all the way as Hurricanes tried hard to whittle down an early lead. The teams:

Rockets: Heffernan, Anthony, Faulkner, Mountney, Todd, Billingsley, Murduff, Chapman, Morton, Chementi, Stickle, Patterson, P. DeNoble.

Hurricanes: Hunt, Davis, Bell, Rogers, G. DeNoble, Cannon, James, Beavis, Crough, Meredith, J. Davis, Byrne.

Referees, R. Hobart and J. Foote.

Tigers Yank Out Win Against Petes

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton Tigers are putting up a stiff battle to remain in a play-off position in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior race.

They retained fifth place in the league last night by defeating the sixth-place Peterborough team 13-10 at Hamilton.

In another game Owen Sound Crescents edged Weston Lions 8-7 when Bun White scored the only goal of a 10-minute overtime session.

At Hamilton the Tigers registered four goals in the first quarter without a reply and a one time in the second quarter were leading 6-1. The Petes drove back and came to within one goal of tying the game before the Tigers tightened their defence.

Dootch Vitarelli of Petes scored four goals, all in the third quarter, to pace scorers on both sides. Blair, McDonald and Isaacs each tallied twice for Hamilton.

At Weston, the Lions forced the extra period by tying the score in a free-scoring third period after trailing 4-2 at halftime and 5-4 at the three-quarter mark.

Campbell led Owen Sound marksmen with three goals and Hill netted two for Weston.

Rochester Wings Crush Buffalo 4-3

By The Associated Press.

Rochester Red Wings once again loom as the major barrier for Buffalo Bisons to clear in their bid for the International League pennant.

Rochester, in second place, took on the Bisons Monday night in the opening game of a vital three game series and bagged the decision, 4-3 in 12 innings.

The triumph was Rochester's 11th over the Bisons in 16 meetings and cut the Bisons' advantage to 4½ games. The Wings have lost only once to the Bisons in their last nine meetings.

Jim Wilson, who hurled a no-hitter last time out, had the Wings beaten 3-1 going into the ninth when Ed Mierkowicz belted his 14th homer of the season with a mate on to tie the score.

Johnny Yuhas started for Rochester and yielded all of Buffalo's runs, including Gene Markland's 21st homer before he left after six innings. Little Jackie Collum held the Bisons to two singles the rest of the way to bag the victory, his third.

Bib Hank Perkowski pitched the Syracuse Chiefs to a 2-0, four-hit triumph over Andy Tomasic and the third-place Jersey City Giants.

Dutch Mele tripled home one run and Ray Lamanno scored the other from second when Rudy Rufer committed an error. Tomasic also yielded only four hits.

Shade Leafs

Montreal Royals shaded the fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs 8-7 to move to within a game of the Leafs. The Royals won the game with a two-run, ninth-inning rally.

The last place Newark Bears outslugged Baltimore Orioles 9-7, winning the game in the last of the ninth with a four-run uprising. Bob Thurman started the rally with a tremendous home run and Bud Heslet climaxed the uprising with a three-run homer, his 16th of the season.

Dodgers, Cards Lock Horns Opening Crucial Series

By RALPH RODEN,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

A world series atmosphere descends on Ebbetts Field today as St. Louis Cardinals come to town to take on Brooklyn Dodgers in a series that Branch Rickey claims will decide the National League pennant.

Rickey, great white father of the flock, contended some time ago that the winner of this series will represent Ford Frick's circuit in the blue-ribbon classic.

Stan Musial and company, leading the Dodgers and the circuit by two games, will stick around for two days during which they clash with the Brooks three times.

The proud Red Birds will display their talent twice today, once in the afternoon and again at night. Brooklyn citizens will be charged separate admissions for the privilege of watching these two old antagonists lock horns twice on the same day.

Receipts of the first game will go to charities in Brooklyn and St. Louis. The opener is a playoff of the July 25th game which ended in a 4-4 tie. That game by mutual agreement was halted to allow both teams to take trains.

A Cardinal sweep of the three-game set would boost the Red Bird lead to five games. A Dodger grand-slam would enable the Brooks to take a one-game lead.

The Cards need to win only one game in order to leave Ebbets Field with the lead in their possession.

Brooklyn dropped their third straight in Boston Monday, 7-6 to the Braves in the only game in either league.

A pair of former Dodgers, Pete Reiser and Ed Stanky, ruined the bums. Reiser drove home three runs on a triple and single while Stanky socked his first homer of the season.

While National League fans have their sights trained on the big doings at Ebbets Field, Boston Red Sox renew their bid to overhaul New York Yankees in the American League pennant struggle. The Sox, 2½ games off the pace, tackle the seventh-place Browns in St. Louis.

The Yanks tangle with the Tigers in Detroit in the opener of a two-game set. The bombers expect to have a new first-sacker on the field—Johnny Mize—one of the National League's all-time top sluggers. Mize was purchased from New York Giants for an undisclosed sum Monday. He left New York immediately to join his new mates.

Increase In Sugar Consumption Caused Additional Tooth Decay

"Tooth decay probably is the most prevalent disease in the United States and Canada," said Dr. Ralph, Smyth, in addressing the Rotary Club Monday.

Dr. Smyth went on to say that at the age of 16 years the average [illegible] or filled teeth. He added that the number of decayed and missing teeth found in 1943 draft selectives averaged 10.

An estimated 112,000,000 cavities occur each year among young people in the United States. He said that the indications are that all the dentists in the U.S.A. are only enough to care for one-half of the maintenance work of this estimated amount of cavities without filling the backlog of 500,000,000 old ones.

Dr. Smyth listed the dental needs in the United States as: extractions 238 million; fillings 632 million; prophylaxis 125 million; dental treatments 20 million; crowns, bridges and partial dentures 60 million.

Dr. Smyth said that the cause of teeth decay is not caused by some body disease. Pregnancy, he added, was thought at one time to cause teeth to decay. Now this is known to not be so. Although the blood stream requires additional calcium, Dr. Smyth continued, the calcium is derived from bone tissue in the body but not from the teeth.

An acid is formed in the mouth after eating by certain bacteria, said Dr. Smyth. These bacteria work upon the carbohydrates to form the acid which in turn attacks the enamel of the teeth.

Sugar, Dr. Smyth said, was one of the most consumed carbohydrates by the average person. A few years ago, he added, the average person ate eight pounds of sugar a year. Now the average has risen to 144 pounds. This is one thing he felt that caused the sharp incline in the number of cavities. Dr. Smyth explained as in the case of milk pasteurization water chlorination there would be a way found in which the advantages of sugar could be separated from the disadvantages.

Dr. Smyth suggested that in order to cut down on the amount of sugar consumed that people brush or at least rinse their teeth after every meal, have no snacks at bedtime reduce the number of soft drinks, and teach their children moderation in the use of sweets. He said that a peanut butter sandwich is better for the children than a jelly or jam sandwich for an after-school lunch.

Although the real cause of tooth decay is unknown, Dr. Smyth said that three treatments give promise to slowing down the rate of decay. The first was the restriction of carbohydrates in the diet. This helps to reduce the acid in the mouth. The second is the use of a small amount of fluorine in the drinking water at a filtration plant. At Brantford he said there is one part of fluorine to every part of water to test the rate of decay in the area. The results, he added, will take some time to be seen. The third treatment is the use of ammoniated dentrifrices. So far these have proven to be beneficial but are still in the experimental stage.

Dr. Smyth said that through Dental Health Week in Peterborough next month the dentists indicate that they stand ready and willing to share with the people their knowledge of ways and means to combat dental disease through education and early treatment.

Harry Northrop and Les Woodruff played a piano duet after which the club sang several numbers dedicated to the new principal of the Hamilton Normal School.

Steel Agreement Soon At Algoma

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 23 (CP)—Settlement of the long-standing wages and hours dispute between Algoma Steel Corporation and Local 2251 United Steel Workers (CIO) drew near Saturday night as a special meeting of union members approved the terms of a draft agreement drawn up by union and company negotiating committees.

Negotiations have been continuing for four months. A final point of dispute was settled when plans for a 44-hour week were included in the agreement.

Also included in the agreement are a 10-cent hourly wage increase, retroactive to April 23 when the 1948 contract expired; two additional statutory holidays, making a total of eight a year; additional union security; extra holiday benefits; and other concessions.

Union representative John Barker said that some workers will start the 44-hour week at once. Other chose to implement the shorter week by working one 40-hour week and one 48-hour week. The extra half day off provided by the agreement will be taken either directly before or after the worker's usual day off. Time and a half will be paid for anything more than 44 hours.

Provincial Police Checked Licences

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP) —C. R. Magone, Deputy Attorney-General, announced Monday night that Ontario Provincial Police at Cornwall supplied Quebec police with licence numbers of vehicles carrying persons to Communist meetings at Point Fortune, Que.

He said Ontario police took no other part in the Quebec police raids on Communist activities along the provincial border. The announcement was made after he received a report from Commissioner W. H. Stringer of the Provincial force.

Earlier reports said the Ontario force "assisted" in the raid by "spying" on a Communist school at Point Fortune. Commissioner Stringer said he had no knowledge of OPP participation in the raids.

Sees Hardships For Cree Indians

TIMMINS, Aug. 23 — (CP) — Magistrate E. R. Tucker of Cochrane, widely known as the "Flying Magistrate", said Monday he foresees possible hardships and starvation this winter among Cree indians living in remote out posts along James and Hudson Bays.

Magistrate Tucker, who recently completed a tour of Indian settlements in the north, said the Indians are getting poor returns from sales of furs, their main source of income with which to buy supplies.

Demand for furs this year has been poor with resulting low prices.

"They will have to ration themselves very severely," he said, ". . . . shortage of food, clothing and other necessities can be very serious for these poor Indians, and they are not trained to ration themselves."

"I am afraid the situation may become critical this winter unless there is definite action by the Federal Department of Indian Affairs to cope with it," the Magistrate said. "Churches and other organizations are doing all they can, but they cannot cope with the situation without government aid."

Cutter Rescues 6 Off Trawler

BOSTON, Aug. 23—(AP)—The United States Coast Guard cutter Casco, on a shakedown cruise, Monday rescued 6 crew members of the Gloucester trawler Magellan, 180 miles east of Boston.

The Casco reached the side of the vessel, whose decks were awash, at 10.30 a.m. and found the crew had abandoned ship. The six men were standing in dories nearby.

At Halifax, a tiny fishing vessel with two men aboard was reported 10 days overdue today. Russell Garrison, of Ship Harbor, N.S., told the RCAF search and rescue unit here that his 37-foot boat had been missing since Aug. 12 after a trip out of the eastern shore port. An Air Force plane probably will take off to start a search.

Promised Dolls Be Duty-Free

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 23—(CP)—Margaret Wooding of St. Catharines, who shipped more than 100 dolls to Somerset, Pa., destined for needy children in Europe said Monday the Canadian government had assured her the gift could be sent to the United States duty-free.

The dolls, contributed by St. Catharines children, now are being held in a customs warehouse at Pittsburgh. The U.S. government wants duty paid on the toys.

"There is nothing much that Canadians can do now to protect their donation," Miss Wooding said, "except to trust in the influence and management of the Reileys in Somerset, who are sponsoring the collection."

H. B. Reiley, publisher of the Somerset American, and his daughter, Peggy, who fostered the idea of dolls-for-Europe, charged earlier that the Uniter States government had reneged on a promise to let the dolls enter the U.S. duty free.

Montenegro Folk Build Cities From War Rubble

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

TITOGRAD, Yugoslavia, Aug. 23 (AP)—As the old legends have it, God's chariot girdled the globe as he created mountains from a sack full of rocks. When he reached Montenegro, the sack split. The contents spilled upon this little land a rocky blessing—and a barren curse for centuries.

Mountain-girdled Montenegro found a freedom unparalleled in the Balkans behind its steep crags until the Second World War came. Then the bomb bays of big planes slid open and spilled forth destruction to end the security of a legend.

Here in the heart of Montenegro the people are building a future under difficult conditions from the rocks and ruins and rubble of their past. It's a tough task, and its success may not be measured completely for more than a generation.

Titograd — formerly a sleepy, isolated country town called Podgorica, literally "under the mountain"—was almost totally destroyed during the war, first by Allied bombs upon German and Italian targets and later by violent fighting between Marshal Tito's Partisans and the rival Chetniks.

It began rebuilding with the war's end.

Partly because it had become a symbol of independence and stamina, partly because of its untapped potentialities, Marshal Tito picked out "Podgorica" to become the capital of Montenegro.

In a scooped out basin within a rim of mountains, the neucleus of a new city has been created — ugly at the moment in the dust of construction, hot without the shade trees the Government plans to plant.

Now, Titograd looks like a typical frontier town of the time when the western part of the United States was expanding. There are no cowboys. But their role is filled by militiamen. Yugoslavia is hard by the border of Albania. And no love is lost between the two countries.

Montenegro's importance as a cornerstone of Yugoslavia's independence remains. Perhaps, that's one reason why work is being hustled here to make it as solid as its mountains.

TODAY WE LIVE IN A GREATER CANADA

New Signs in the Sky...

A distant hum and a flashing streak in the outer sky announce another exciting Canadian achievement—a new jet plane designed and built by Canadians—one more example of the meteoric advances made by Canadian skills and manufacturing abilities.

In Canada, too, giant airliners, which have won international recognition, are now being built for the world's air routes of today and tomorrow.

Today our production—both in extent and variety—has attained heights undreamt of even ten years ago, creating new opportunities in every field of activity for the talents and enterprise of young Canadians.

Increase of air traffic: today Canada's commercial aircraft carry more than four times the number of passengers and three times the amount of mail they did in 1939.

"Countless New Opportunities..."

"I sometimes find it hard to realize the extent and rapidity of our plant's growth. It has all been based, of course, upon the tremendous expansion of Canadian industry in general, which has created countless new opportunities in every field of activity for the energy and enthusiasm of young Canadians."
—says HARRY J. SEHL of Kitchener.

The development of Sehl Engineering is a typical Canadian success story. Only 14 years ago, Mr. Sehl, with one assistant, began operating a small tool and die shop in Kitchener. Its expansion has been spectacular, with new lines of production added, new departments established and new plants built. Today the company, with 90 employees, is fast becoming one of the leading metal producing concerns in the country.

New Groceteria Estimated To Cost $140,000

Loblaw Groceterias building permit for their new store adds an estimated $140,000 to realty

Excavation of the basement is already far advanced by the contractor, Eastwood Construction Company of Peterborough. The dimensions of the ground work outline the rather impressive area this store will occupy.

The permit for the bowling alley at the northeast corner of George and Perry Streets was issued to Strikes Peterborough Ltd. for $38,000. Mr. Ross Wright has been active in the planning of this recreational property on which work is under way.

In the meantime the Dominion Stores Limited building at the northeast corner of George and Sherbrooke Streets is now fully enclosed. Its permit was for $85,000. Walter Mortlock is the contractor.

Look For Site

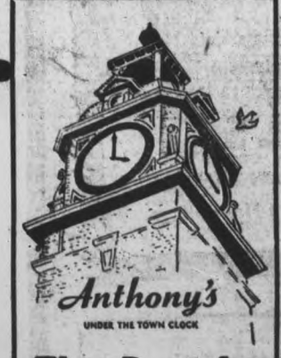
Recent reports have intimated that private interests are looking at the municipally owned property on the west side of George St., between Rink and Townsend Streets, as a business site if the city and the Memorial Community Centre committee make up their minds definitely that they are not going to build there.

Joseph and Anthony Marino are completing a new restaurant at the southwest corner of George and Lake Streets.

Junior Farmers' Quiz At Ex

The agricultural quiz in the junior farmers' program at the Exhibition Thursday has been completed by Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, and his assistant Robert Bell.

H. L. Fair of Uxbridge, county agricultural representative, will be in charge of this part of the test examinations in the junior department. The questions are nearly all within the range of practical farming experience.



Ed. A. Summers, agricultural representative in Durham, will direct the livestock judging classes and will be here Wednesday to select the animals that are to be submitted to the juniors.

Boy Killed Instantly When Hit By Truck

KINMOUNT, Aug. 23.— David Wilkins, 7, was instantly killed on Monday afternoon when he darted out in front of a two-ton truck opposite his home, two miles north of this community. The truck was operated by E. H. Dike, RR 2, Markham.

Police investigation revealed that the driver was powerless to stop the truck in time to avoid hitting the youngster. The accident occurred on the Kinmount-Minden road.

An inquest will be held at a date yet to be fixed, it was announced by Crown Attorney L. W. Jordan and Coroner Dr. Agnes Jamieson of Lindsay.

Mayor To Oppose Discontinuing Of Car Ferries

"It would be a shame if the two car ferries plying between Cobourg and Rochester, N.Y., were permanently discontinued," His Worship Mayor M. J. Swanston said today after announcing that he had accepted an invitation to be present at a conference to be held in Cobourg Friday night to discuss the rumored stoppage of the ferry service. The mayor said that he would press very strongly for continuation of the service on behalf of the citizens of Peterborough, as in past years a considerable number of American tourists had come to the Kawarthas who wouldn't have done so if the ferry service was not in operation.

Mayor Swanston will be accompanied to the meeting by James M. Fraser, manager of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, who has been asked by the Chamber executive to represent them at the conference. The Chamber of Commerce president received a letter Monday from W. N. Bradley, vice-president of the Cobourg Chamber of Commerce, inviting him to attend the round-table discussion, which will be attended by mayors, reeves, wardens, and Members of Parliament throughout central Ontario. The meeting will be held in the form of a dinner at 6.30 p.m.

Three Polio Cases In Isolation Hospital

There are three definite poliomyelitis cases in Queen Mary Isolation Hospital at the present time, Superintendent John Hornal told the Examiner today. All three are children from the Marmora district, and two of them are sisters.

In addition, there is a suspect case from the Hatton property, Wartime Housing. Mr. Hornal said that there have been several suspect cases thus far, but all have proved to be false. The present case will remain in isolation until it has been established whether or not it is polio.

Wilde's Brilliant 'Earnest' Given Bright Performance

By T. J. ALLEN

"The Importance of Being Earnest" is Oscar Wilde at his best, and the production of it Monday night was the Peterborough Summer Theatre at its best. The combination is irresistible, and I predict throughout the rest of the week an overwhelming demand for seats. As far as I have been able to check, this is the first time that the witty, unhappy and great Wilde has had his most brilliant comedy produced professionally in Peterborough. That alone should ensure sold-out houses, and I advise those who have not yet tickets to try for Friday or Saturday nights, and to book early.

"Earnest" is a talking play, but such talk was never heard before Wilde, and never will be heard after him. Shaw, another talker, ages because his plays have social significance. Wilde remains fresh because he does not attempt to indoctrinate. That was why Shaw first disliked Wilde, and yet came to his defence during Wilde's imprisonment, for then Shaw realized that even Wilde held a sincere doctrine, and had truth in his paradoxes. It is astonishing to realize that Wilde, only two years older than Shaw, has been dead fifty years. Yet this play shows that Shaw, despite his longevity, may not outlive Wilde.

Timing Well Judged

Wilde's wit is so quick and constant that a director must nicely judge a median pace, between going too slowly and rendering the play static, and going too fast and not giving his audience enough time to catch the smiles and laughs. Robertson Davies, who directed the play, has, I think, hit on a timing which will make the wit infectious as well as comprehensible. (Monday night's audience was demonstrably difficult.) He has also larded his production with all possible movement and colour and 'business' to keep eye and mind alert.

At first it seemed that the principal women would carry the play, with their gowns and grace. Brenda Davies (Lady Bracknell) gave the stage strength and vigour and played with an understanding of her audience. She was most effectively gowned, by the way. Jeri Sauvinet, in the part of Gwendolen, poses with charming poise; her silences were almost as effective as her lines. Anna Cameron, who plays Cecily, was not quite a knowledgeable ingenue, but I have seen her this season in too many other and diverse roles to dissociate her from them. Christine Thomas was Miss Prism, and admirably, warmly so.

Frank Perry Stars

By the second act the men came into happy relief. Frank Perry gave an individual but authentic twist to A. Vernon, replacing Michael Lyng on short notice, who has been taken ill. His performance was fresh, gay and sure, and gave the audience great pleasure. John Primm (John Worthing, J.P.) fitted the role like the black gloves he wore to celebrate the demise of his fictional brother Earnest. His habit of understatement suited him well in this part. As a pair they were quite delighting.

Bill Needles, as always, gave a human and accomplished performance. He was the Rev. Canon Chasuble.

Ron Bailey quaked and was butlerish in an audience-appealing octogenarian way. Hugh Taschereau, Algernon's man Lane, was a stolid counterfoil.

The two sets were handsomely contrived by Martha Jamieson. Even the fountain spouted water.

Where so much skill and thought has been given to a production like this to make it light and bright, highlights are hard to spot. But two of the most effective scenes were Worthing in mourning and the luscious closing with Lady Bracknell dominating it.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" is a play of ineffable charm and scintillating wit. To say that it was presented effectively by a summer group doing a play a week is as high praise as any reviewer can give.

YM Secretaries Hold Conference

Al Clark, physical director at the YMCA, is representing the local YM at the second Canadian YMCA Secretaries' Conference this week at Geneva Park, Lake Couchiching.

Dr. Thomas W. Grantham, religious work counsellor for the New York City YMCA will deliver a series of nine lectures on the subject "Christian Living Today." Other speakers for the 12-day period will be: James F. Bunting, general secretary of the Schenectady, New York, YMCA; Dr. A. R. M. Lower, professor of history at Queen's University; Dr. H. G. Thode, professor of physical chemistry at McMaster University; Dr. Davis F. DeMarche, director of group work and community organizations at Springfield College, Springfield, Mass.

FIRST HARVESTERS LEAVE

The first group of harvesters, 25 all told, to be sent to Western Canada from the Peterborough district to assist in garnering the wheat crop, left this city Monday afternoon by the regular C.P.R. train, William Mellis, National Employment Service branch manager, announced. The men will get off the train at Winnipeg from where they will be assigned to the farms on which they will work. Mr. Mellis said he was not sure if any more workers would be needed from his territory. Last year 25 were sent.

Child Swallows Turpentine, Mother Painting

Bert Oliver, 15-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Oliver, 1039 High St., is resting comfortably in Civic Hospital today after drinking on Monday a quantity of turpentine. Mrs. Oliver was doing some painting, and turned just in time to see the child place the turpentine can to his mouth. She has no idea of how much the boy drank.

The child was taken to the hospital and there his stomach was pumped out. Dr. J. A. McNeill, who attended the child, is keeping him in hospital until tomorrow morning to prevent complications from developing.

Mrs. Oliver said that the child showed no ill effects immediately, other than that he seemed sleepy.

The mother feels that it is fortunate that she happened to turn and see the boy, else she would not have known what had occurred.

There are three children in the family, Bert, Carol, 5, and Wanda, 4. The father is a trucker employed at the Peterborough Lumber Company.

BERT OLIVER, 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver, city, swallowed an unknown quantity of turpentine Monday. He was taken to hospital immediately and had his stomach pumped out.

Playing On Street Small Child Hurt

Four-year-old Linda Mahoney was hit and severely shaken up by a car driven by Eric G. Mead, 584 Downie St., Monday about 7 p.m. at the corner of Patterson and Rutherford Sts.

The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Mahoney, 525 Patterson St. She was taken to Dr. J. M. O'Brien and from there to St. Joseph's Hospital where she was reported in good condition today.

Mead told police he was driving west on Patterson St. about 20 miles an hour. Approaching the Rutherford St. intersection, he noticed some children playing. He said something took his attention from the children for a moment. When he looked back, he heard a thud and saw a small girl bounce off the left front fender of his car. He stopped and took the child to her home. Mr. Mahoney got a car and took his child to the doctor.

It was reported her injuries were not serious. She had skin cuts and a severe shaking up. Constables Donald Jones and W. G. Scott investigated.

Joseph Yelland Observes 90th Birthday

Today marks 90 years of life for J. H. "Joe" Yelland, a life spent growing with Peterborough and taking an active part in its activities.

Sunday, some of his nine children with their families gathered at his Stony lake cottage where he and his wife spend their summers. Just as he has all his life, Joe Yelland still takes an active interest in all that goes on around him and he keeps posted on world events by reading the daily newspaper—without glasses. His hearing isn't what it was, but he doesn't let that bother him too much.

All of his nine children are still living. Two sons, Allen and Alvin, living in British Columbia, were not able to attend the birthday party. He has other children living in Niagara Falls, Penetanguishene, Winnipeg and Peterborough.

He is the last of a large family, which included two sets of twins. Mr. Yelland's father had a carriage making business which Mr. Yelland took over and ran in a shop across George St. from what is now the Church of the Open Bible, near the Y.M.C.A.

He was a first-class carpenter. When the horse carriage business gave way to the gasoline buggy, Mr. Yelland was employed by the Trent Canal to supervise the building of dams and locks. He built the dam at Gull lake and his other jobs are still important links in the canal system.

From this he turned to work as a millwright, building mills from Fort William to Montreal.

He has seen a great many changes in the town and in the district. He was a member of the fire department when it was a volunteer brigade working from a horse-drawn pumper.

Long before the Kawartha lakes were known as an ideal summer resort, Mr. Yelland built his own cottage on Stony lake near Burleigh Falls. That was 60 years ago. Since then his cottage has burned down twice and each time he has rebuilt on the same spot. He has been an active fisherman and hunter all his life.

He and Mrs. Yelland have celebrated both their golden and diamond wedding anniversaries and on November 18 they will be celebrating their 64th anniversary.

Military Men Return To Begin Fall Training

Capt. P. W. Sargeant returned to Peterborough this week to resume his duties as head of the A. and T. staff at the local armouries. He was the last of the Active Force staff to return from summer duties at Picton and Valcartier, Quebec. Capt. Sargeant was at Valcartier instructing high school cadets from Eastern Canada in radar.

Sgt.-Major William Pushie was attached to the Facilities Wing at Picton for the summer while Staff-Sgt. Gerald Dunn was at the Quartermaster Stores at Picton and Sgt. B. L. Smith was instructing at the School of Artillery, Picton.

Capt. Sargeant said Tuesday morning that he expects the fall training of the two local reserve force units to begin between September 8 and 13.

Dazed, Thumb Broken

Found lying dazed with his thumb broken on the sidewalk on Simcoe St., Lloyd Lang, was picked up by Constable W. S. Fife Monday night at 10:10 p.m. and taken to Civic Hospital for treatment in a police cruiser.

Constable Fife reported Lang was intoxicated.

BAND PRACTICES

PCVS Bugle Band began practicing Monday night for their appearance at the Canadian National Exhibition with the Lindsay band. Six drummers, 14 trumpeters and one cymbal player turned out for the first practice. They will practice Wednesday and Thursday nights at 7:30 this week.

Pigeon Lake Causeway Project Discussed, More Information Sought

A special committee from Victoria County on Monday afternoon opened discussions with County and City officials regarding a possible causeway across Pigeon lake. The causeway would take the place of the floating bridge which was washed out in 1922. Members of the Peterborough Roads Committee withheld judgment and said they would communicate with the Victoria committee "in a few days time."

Chairman Norman Wilson of Burleigh-Anstruther told the visitors that there were too few facts and figures available on the proposed causeway to make possible any recommendation by his committee at the present time.

Harold Wilford, Victoria County Engineer, explained that soundings had not been taken as to the depth of the water and structure of the bottom. And he did not know if there was a source of rock fill in the immediate vicinity as was the case in the building of the Chemong Causeway.

Length of the causeway would be 1.2 miles, longer than Chemong. However, he was of the opinion the water in Pigeon Lake was much shallower than in Chemong Lake and would require less rock fill to complete the job.

Guess At $200,000

As a "guess estimate" he put the total cost of the Pigeon causeway at between $150,000 and $200,000—probably $180,000. If the project were approved by the Provincial Government 80 per cent. of this would be subsidsized and the remaining 20 per cent. would be divided among interested municipalities.

Victoria officials felt that both the city and county of Peterborough stood to gain, particularly in the long run, by completion of the causeway between Ennismore and Emily Townships and leading on to Bobcaygeon.

Reeve Charles Logan of Verulam Township put forward this view strongly.

Become a Key City

He envisioned a highway from the Rochester ferry in Cobourg through Peterborough, over the Chemong and Pigeon Causeways, and through Bobcaygeon into the North Country. Peterborough would become even more important as a key city to vacationland, he stated.

Clarence Reed, reeve of Bobcaygeon, said the mayor of Cobourg had informed him that on one peak day there had been 6,200 enquiries in Cobourg, mainly from ferry passengers, about roads to take into the North Country. On another day 5,800 such enquiries were tallied.

The Kawartha country would become more accessible to the millions of potential tourists in New York State and Ohio if another major highway were completed. Too many of these tourists now take the excellent highway into Quebec, Mr. Reed stated.

Mr. Logan said they had received the assurance of Premier Frost that the Kinmount-Bobcaygeon road would be paved in the near future, thus adding another link to the proposed highway.

The Verulam reeve also pointed out that the highway to Cobourg did not necessarily have to come through Peterborough. It would be "shorter, cheaper and easier" to go by a more direct route, he said.

Old Floating Bridge

From about 1891 to 1922 there was a floating bridge across Pigeon Lake, maintained by the two counties. Peterborough paid seven-tenths of the upkeep of the bridge and Victoria three-tenths.

The Victoria committee approached Peterborough County for financial aid and other assistance partly on the basis of this precedent. In 1922 the bridge was swept away by the ice.

The bridge at that time formed part of the boundary road between Ennismore and Emily.

Reeve James Humphries of Asphodel stated the Peterborough committee would have to think the matter over carefully. The county had still to issue debentures on the Chemong Causeway, he said, and before the full benefits of this project was realized another would have to be completed at Gannon's Narrows.

"We didn't ask Victoria to pay," he said.

"But this is a boundary bridge," said Mr. Logan. "And Peterborough formerly assumed seven-tenths of the cost."

Get Estimate Of Cost

Alderman Patrick Anglesey, represented the city of Peterborough at the meeting. He said the city was definitely interested in the project, but as yet there was little specific detail to go on. Alderman Anglesey was particularly insistent on the necessity for arriving at an estimate of total cost.

Reeve Jeremiah Mahoney of Douro also expressed his doubt that Peterborough County could embark on any more major projects in the immediate future. The new Civic Hospital was singled out as another large item on taxpayers' bills.

It was suggested that Mr. Wilford, Victoria engineer, start work on soundings in Pigeon Lake and search for a suitable rock fill source. He would be assisted in this by J. D. Kean, Peterborough County engineer.

However this latter aspect would remain in abeyance until the forthcoming reply of the Peterborough roads committee.

Representing Victoria County at the meeting were Warden Dr. F. C. Graham of Fenelon Falls; Frank Weldon, county clerk; Clarence Reed, reeve of Bobcaygeon; Charles Logan, reeve of Verulam; Vincent Fee, reeve of Emily; Mr. Wilford, engineer; and Lloyd Burrows, deputy-reeve of Lindsay.

Viola Neals, Clair Sisson Wed In Springville Church

Springville United Church was the setting on Saturday for the wedding of Viola Mary Neals to Mr. Clair Alban Sisson, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. F. W. Craik of Peterborough. The bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Neals, R.R. 3, Peterborough, and the groom is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Alban Sisson of Bethany.

Pink and white gladioli and ferns formed a lovely background at the alter. Wedding music was played by Miss Betty Sisson of Toronto. Miss Mary Robson of Peterborough was soloist and sang "Because" before the ceremony and "O Perfec Love" at the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor-length dress of white embroidered eyelet. She wore mittens to match and a coronet of orange blossoms which held her finger tip veil of embroidered net. Her bouquet was of American Beauty roses with forget-me-nots caught in the streamers.

Mrs. Wm. Robson, siser of the bride, was matron of honour and Miss Mayme Cathcart was bridesmaid. They were gowned in turquoise and mauve crepe with matching mittens and wore hats of the same material trimmed with gladioli petals. Mrs. Robson carried a cascade of pink gladioli and Miss Cathcart had yellow gladioli.

The groom was attended by his brother Mr. Robert Sisson. Ushers were Cecil Neals, Donald Hamm and Robert Reid.

Guests gathered at the home of the bride's parents for a reception afterward. They were received by Mrs. Neals, wearing navy printed crepe, a hat of navy straw and corsage of pink roses. Also by Mrs. Sisson who wore powder blue silk jersey with hat of black felt and pink roses at her shoulder.

For travelling to points east the bride chose a powder blue dress and matching accessories and a beige coat.

Mr. and Mrs. Sisson will live in Lakefield.

DOROTHY DIX

Matchmaking Mother Not Too Popular Woman

DEAR MISS DIX: My mother makes my home life miserable by her matchaking. I have just passed my 19th birthday and am making a fine salary, so I am not a financial burden. But she wants me to marry. I don't know why, and she doesn't take into consideration fact that I am young, that I don't want to tie myself down yet awhile and that I have never met any man that I wanted to be married to. Is there any way I can make her understand this and stop pestering me?

Dorothy Dix

MARCIA ANN.

ANSWER: The most curious thing in all feminine psychology is the attitude women take toward their children's marriages. Nearly all mothers are crazy to get their daughters married off, and almost all mothers loath to have their sons marry.

Of course, in the olden days, when girls were a burden on their own family and when they had no way of supporting themselves except by following the meanest and most ill-paid occupations, it is easy to see why a mother was anxious to get her daughters married.

But nowadays all that is changed. Girls are an asset in a family instead of a liability. The girls not only earn their own board and keep, but they fix up the house and buy mother pretty frocks. They not only contribute far more liberally to the family fund than their brothers, but give more while they are earning than they will be able to after they are married.

Nevertheless, most mothers are just as anxious to marry off their daughters as ever. They seem to think that it is some sort of reflection on them for their girls to remain single, that it somehow indicates that they were less good-looking and less attractive than other girls and that they have been passed over by men.

Nobody can explain this peculiar mania of mothers. It just exists, and the inexplicable fact remains that a mother who really loves her daughter and wants her to be happy is still so anxious to get her married, she is willing for her to take any sort of a risk in marriage, to marry a man old enough to be her father or a man of whose character and antecedents she knows nothing or a ne'er-do-well who has never even supported himself.

Apparently the great majority of women are of the opinion that even an unhappy marriage is better than single blessedness.

Perhaps the real reason that mothers are so anxious to get their daughters married is because they are bound by the traditions of the past and have not yet grasped the fact that marriage is not the be-all and the end-all in life to girls that it used to be. Now a girl has her work, her interest in life, her financial freedom, and she is loath to give these up.

She does not want to marry just to be a-marrying. She wants to wait until the right man comes along and one whom she loves so much that she will not need mother's urging to induce her to marry him.

It is a pity that mothers cannot realize this and leave their daughters free to enjoy their years of girlhood without trying to goad them into marrying.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Won't you please write something about the parking relatives? I have been married 12 years and have a wife and six kiddies, and during that time I have had to support my wife's mother and her brother and sister. Finally the mother died and the daughter got married, so I drew a breath of relief as I was left with the brother as a non-paying guest. But now the sister has separated from her husband and she is back on our necks. My salary is so small that I can't make both ends meet and we have to deny ourselves and the children many things that we need in order to support these able-bodied grafters. But my wife seems to think it all right. What shall I do?

CAUGHT.

ANSWER: Well, I would suggest a good and thorough housecleaning. Sweep your parasitic in-laws out of the door with a strong warning to them not to come back. As long as you furnish them free board and lodging, they will continue to drink up the baby's milk and let you toil to support them.

Look about you, and you will see that more men are working to support their wives' families than their own. But nobody can help the poor down-trodden husbands. They have to save themselves. As long as they will suffer these deadbeat relatives, just so long will the grafters continue to hold them up.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a son 19 years old who since he left school has done nothing but write. He will work hard at that for a while and then, when his story is rejected, will go into a fit of despondency and be idle for a while, then return to his writing full of enthusiasm. In the meantime, I have to support him and I do not make much. So far all he has sold amounts to $10, and although I am his mother I see no signs of genius in him. Should he go to work, or continue his writing? A C

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I think he should get a job and support himself instead of being a parasite on his mother. Let genius burn at night. If he has the sacred flame, it will flare up. There are no mute inglorious Miltons nowadays.

It will not hurt the boy to come to grips with life before he writes because it is only those who have had experiences who have anything to say to the world?

Woman Manages Backwoods Main

SKEAD, Ont., Aug. 23 — (CP)— Mrs. Emma Poupore, municipal manager of this tiny backwoods town in Northern Ontario, is keenly conscious of public affairs.

Seven years ago, she took over the reigns of government when her lumber-husband, Michael J. Poupore, purchased the town and the timber limits surrounding it.

Nestled in bushland on the south shore of Lake Wahnapitae, six miles northest of Sudbury, the Skead lumber domain employs 400 men who produced 12,000,000 feet of lumber last year.

Mrs. Poupore, a former Toronto resident, contends that her real business in life is "seeing that things run smoothly at Skead."

"It's my job to see that houses are looked after properly and that everybody among the women-folk is content," she says.

Warns Public To Avoid Panicky Thinking

By The Canadian Press

Even as business news comes from the United States in a brighter hue than some weeks ago, there is a word of caution on the weight, or otherwise, of the psychological factor in bringing on economic slumps.

This is contained in the July-August News Letter of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce which notes that while there seems no accurate way of assessing the strength of the psychological factor, that same factor nevertheless can restrict necessary economic expansion.

In short, the News Letter cautions against panicky thinking on the part of the public and stresses for business men that they "particularly" have a duty to be sure their public statements do not inspire panic.

"This is not to suggest that they should present a falsely optimistic picture, but only that they must take care not to paint an unduly pessimistic one," says the News Letter.

Must Be Careful

"The remarks of business leaders about economic conditions naturally carry very great weight, and for this reason they should in the public interest give at least as careful consideration to their statements at this time as do any of the political leaders."

To bolster this caution the Chamber of Commerce pointed to Finance Minister Abbott's remarks to this year's graduating class at McGill University, when he said:

"We are in danger of being ridden by our fears—fear of a depression, fear of another war, fear of Communism and so on. Now these are real enough dangers and I am not by any means advocating an attitude of Pollyana optimism toward them. But these fears must not be allowed to become mainsprings of our action."

Military police said they had arrested three soldiers suspected of having assaulted taxi drivers.

Arrest Two Women

NICE, France, Aug. 23 (Reuters)—Nice police investigating the $800,000-Aga Khan jewel robbery today announced they had arrested and charged two women who withheld information about the holdup. Police refused to disclose the names of the two women, but said they were "in the know."

How To Hold
FALSE TEETH
More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wabbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

Find Widespread Conflict In Planned Building Policies

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 CP) — The Community Planning Association of Canada said today there is widespread conflict in the building policies of various federal government agencies and between these agencies and provincial and municipal governments.

It recommended to the Royal Commission on Arts and Science Development the establishment of a federal government clearing-house to consolidate all national building policies and to co-ordinate these policies with those of the provincial and municipal governments.

To develop and expand community planning, the association also made these recommendations:

1. Construction of a greater number of community halls through federal government subsidy.

2. Better planning of national housing and other building projects through a policy clearing-house which could be located in the reconstruction department's public projects branch.

3. Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation awards for skilfully-executed private projects.

4. Greater freedom of film, radio and television productions dealing with Canada's resources from dependence on either commercialism or narrow government goals.

5. Expansion of government aid to research and teaching of community planning.

Communities were "powerless" to oppose decisions of federal government agencies. More and more federal government buildings were springing up across the country and some of these were benig erected in direct opposition to local community planning.

A special inquiry appeared necessary in Ottawa where national capital planning may not be co-ordinating local and national interests.

"Such an inquiry could be justified on the grounds that the interplay of public interests in the national capital area is exceptional in its degree of complexity; but to a considerable degree that interplay occurs throughout Canada."

Belleville Writ Asks Halt On Rental Homes

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 23—An injunction against the City of Belleville was registered with the court Monday by Joseph Hart, of this city, in an attempt to prevent the transfer of the former county home property to the Wartime Housing, Ltd.

Construction of 100 new veterans' rental homes got under way this afternoon as Mayor D. L. Storey disregarded the writ and officiated at the turning of the sod of the new housing project.

Edward E. Follwell, Hart's solicitor, said his client had issued the writ with the hope that he could delay work on the housing project until the people would be given a chance to vote on it.

While it has been decided by council to use the land for housing, it was thought by some that the location was more satisfactory for industry and that should the site be used for housing, it would only become a slum district.

R. K. Irwin Heads Life Underwriters

R. K. Irwin of the Great-West Life Insurance Company was elected recently to succeed Jack Allen of the Manufacturers' Life as president of the Life Underwriters' Association of Peterborough. Jack Kirkwood of the Canada Life Insurance was chosen vice-president and chairman of the membership committee.

Other officers who are: Robert Dimma, Mutual Life, secretary-treasurer; Edward Bonwell, Prudential of America, director and chairman of entertainment; Jack Broadhurst, Prudential of England, director and chairman of publicity; Gerald Norris, Metropolitan, director; George Charlton, London Life, director; Reginald Crough, Norwich Union, director.

Main Street Topics

SIGN OF APPROACHING TIMES

Stopped at a parking meter on George Street this morning was a large brand new snow plow.

CONDITION GOOD

Condition of both Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, RR 2, Ennismore, who were taken to Civic Hospital Monday morning following a highway collision near the Chemong Causeway, was reported as good to-day by hospital authorities. Mr. Jones sustained a fracture of a bone in his forearm and Mrs. Jones is suffering from bruises and shock.

WET, BUT NOT WATER

Charlotte St. received an unscheduled bath this morning as a soft drink truck swept around the corner and lost part of its load on the pavement. There was glass from one curb to the other, and the beverage flowed in the gutters. The men on the truck commandeered a couple of brooms, a shovel, and some baskets for the broken bottles from a nearby store, and soon had the mess cleaned up.

NOVEL ADVERTISING

Pedestrians and motorists in downtown Peterborough blinked their eyes incredulously today as waves of soap bubbles — some larger than softballs — floated down George St. It was not another "clean up" campaign but a soap company advertising stunt. A display truck equipped with a chimney-like structure was pouring forth the bubbles as it sped up the street.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Peterborough district will probably have four representatives at the annual convention of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs in Ottawa, Aug. 29—Sept. 1. They will be Chief George Smith of the Peterborough Department; Chief Arthur Parker of the C.G.E. plant fire department; George Gimblett, former Chief in Peterborough, who was president of the Association a few years ago; and Chief Allan H. Clark of Lakefield, who is secretary-treasurer of the Association.

NAMED PRINCIPAL

Miss E. J. Barrie of Norwood, a former student at the Peterborough Normal School, was recently appointed principal of the Flinton Continuation School. She will succeed Keith McEwan who is presently engaged in a summer course at Queen's University. Last June the pupils of the school went on a two-day strike protesting the action of the school board in requesting the resignation of their principal.

Ban Bush Travel

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP)—Ontario Lands Minister Scott announced Monday that the Timmins division of the Cochrane fire district will be closed to bush travel from today until Sept. 10, unless a change in weather conditions permits relaxation of the ban. The main highways will not be affected. A similar ban is continuing in the Timiskaming district and the closing of further areas may be considered if the present dry weather continues to keep the fire hazard high.

May Hold Hearings

WINDSOR, Aug. 23 (CP)—A three-man conciliation board may hold hearings in Windsor on the issues unsolved between Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, and Local 200, United Automobile Workers (CIO). An Ontario government conciliation officer, James Hutcheon, is due here Wednesday. He will sit in with company and union representatives in an effort to determine whether it is possible to bring them together on the points at issue between them in arriving at a new working agreement.

Bees Sting Firemen

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 23 (ENS)—Two members of the local fire brigade received bee stings while fighting a grass fire on the property of Redney Glenn here Monday afternoon. The fire broke out near where Mr. Glenn has beehives, but billowing smoke soon scared the bees away enabling the firemen to get the blaze out within a few minutes. Several children watching the fire also were stung.

The fire spread to a small pile of lumber, some of which was damaged by the flames and smoke. One of the firemen was stung on an arm and the other on one ear. The blaze also damaged a small outbuilding.

Argos Try Out 10 U.S. Players

TORONTO, Aug. 23 — (CP) — Toronto Argonauts, who went into the import business just this season, Monday night had 10 United States players trying for positions after five more turned up for practice.

Two of the newcomers were expected — Dwight Follin, 205-pound centre from Kent State College in Ohio, and Frank Reno, an end who played with West Virginia University. Both were sent by the professional Cleveland Browns, with whom Argos have a verbal working agreement.

The other three came up to try their luck after getting the axe at the Buffalo Bill Camp. They are Tony Di Tomo, 220-pound quarerback; Joe Kirkland, 245-pound middle who played with the professional Boston Yankees last season, and Frank I. Guess, former Texas University running half.

Guess astounded onlookers with his place-kicking. He split the uprights with three from the 35-yard line, was a foot off on a fourth—and apologized to Coach Tedder Morris for missing.

British General Dies

LONDON, Aug. 23 (AP) — Gen. Sir John Francis Garthorne-Hardy, 75, died Sunday. He started his 40-year-military career in the Boer War. He received 11 citations and the Distinguished Service Order in the First World War. From 1934 to 1937 he was aide de camp to the King.

Sentence 53 To Die

ATHENS, Aug. 23 Reuters) — Fifty-three people Monday were sentenced to death by a Florina military court out of 112 tried on charges of sabotage and co-operation with and spying for the Greek guerrillas. Eleven others were given life imprisonment, nine got 20 years in prison and two others three years. The rest were acquitted.

Newspaper Man Dies

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 AP) — Henry Surguy, 63-year-old newspaper man who formerly headed the New York Daily News copy desk, is dead. He joined the News in 1933 and prior to that had worked for six years as copyreader, night editor and acting editor of the New York Evening World.

Jumps 8 Floors, Lives

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23 (AP) —A 63-year-old man Monday plunged eight stories from a downtown building and lived. Max Fein told police he became dizzy and fell while looking out a window. After crashing through a second-floor skylight into the mezzanine, he was sent to hospital for shock and undetermined injuries.

6—In Memoriams

DUCKER— In rememberance of mother, Minnie Jane Ducker, who died one year ago to-day at 23 Otter Ave. Toronto.

Take up thy cross and follow Him,
Nor think till death to lay it down,
For only he who bears the cross
May hope to wear the glorious crown.
In that bright eternal city,
Where no tears e'er dim the life,
In the home of many mansion,
We will meet her bye and bye.

Fair To Open On Wednesday

Peterborough Exhibition will not be opened to the public until Wednesday morning.

Directors discussed Monday afternoon a suggestion to start the [illegible] Bang, chiefly to let people see the midway of Bernard and Barry, here for the first time. Against that consideration were the necessities of exhibitors in completing their setting up of displays without the obstacle of moving crowds.

Final arrangement of exhibits was another detail to enable the Exhibition to present itself in its finished appearance.

"We had quite a lot of difficulty Monday night from the hundreds of youngsters and others who were simply getting in the way and holding up work," G. A. Gillespie, manager, said today. "Everything should be ready Wednesday morning, and with fair weather we have four days for the public to see the show. There is a lot of what we call housekeeping to be done this afternoon and this evening, and after that we are hoping to see thousands every day to Saturday night.

"We want them to get a good impression of the Exhibition, and you can't expect that if you haven't everything in good order."

Headquarters of the Air Force at Trenton telephoned today that their salute to the "Ex." would be at 5 p.m. Thursday and Saturday, giving the public an opportunity of seeing some of the new planes of the RCAF.

Liquor Found Illegal Place

Written pleas of guilty of having liquor in an illegal place were submitted in police court Tuesday morning before Magistrate R. B. Baxter on behalf of three of four young men charged by Provincial Constable Emmett J. Crough.

The fourth, Harry Smith, appeared in court and asked for and received an adjournment until Sept. 6. The four men were alleged to have been found by Constable Crough with liquor in a car driven by William McMillen in Warsaw. McMillen also pleaded guilty to driving without license.

The three who pleaded guilty were McMillen, Stanley Lonsberry, and William Robertson.

V. H. Franks Funeral Largely Attended

A largely-attended funeral for the late Vincent Harold Franks, 64, of Lot 21, Concession 6, Emily Township, was held on Monday from the family residence. The Rev. F. W. Pooley of Omemee officiated and pall-bearers were Thomas, Wilbert E., and William F. Franks, Harold R. Miller, Albert W. Davis and Alton J. Clark. Flower bearers were Gordon Jackson, John, Donald, Jack and George Franks, Douglas Brooks and Barry Deyell. Burial was at Emily Cemetery.

Mr. Franks died on Saturday at his residence following a lengthy illness. He was born in Emily, son of the late George Franks and Mary Margaret Lowes, and had lived in the district, a successful farmer, all his life. He was a member of St. John's Anglican Church, Emily.

Week-end Drunks Fined Up To $50

A second conviction within a year of being drunk cost Gilbert Jones, Cavan, $50 fine and $2.50 costs in police court presided over by Magistrate R. B. Baxter Tuesday morning.

He pleaded guilty to being drunk Monday and admitted being convicted of intoxication July 12.

Arthur King, no fixed address, pleaded guilty to being drunk Saturday and was fined $10 and costs.

JoJseph McAleer, charged with stealing a radio, elected summary trial, pleaded not guilty, and was remanded in custody until Monday. He was also remanded on a charge of being drunk Saturday.

To Attend Seminar

MONTREAL, Aug. 23 (CP) — Two McGill University students are scheduled to attend the first international management training seminar at Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity at Wittenberg College in Springfield, O., this week. The McGill Chapter representatives are Charles S. Crawford of Toronto and Godfrey M. Kennedy of Sarnia. The conference opened on Monday and ends Friday.

Have To Shoot Monkey

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (CP)—A Rhesus monkey suffering from skin cancer was shot and killed Monday as it perched in the top of a 75-foot tree in the garden of the Rockefeller Institute. The monkey escaped from hospital where it was being used for laboratory experiments. Attendants said the animal had been injected to produce the cancer and that it was "ferocious."

Smoke Delays Liner

QUEBEC, Aug. 23 — (CP) — Heavy smoke from Quebec forest fires Monday night forced the liner Empress of France to anchor here in mid-stream for eight hours. Originally scheduled to berth at Montreal this morning, the liner now is due there late this afternoon.

Jersey, the largest of the channel islands, belongs to the United Kingdom but has French as its official language.

Golds Take Skid For First In Week

TORONTO, Aug. 23—(CP) — Profit-taking sales sent golds downhill for the first time since early last week here today. Industrials continued under slight pressure on recent gains and base metals followed the general downtrend.

Pressure was comparatively heavy in golds with Senior and Junior Producers declining steadily. Upper Canada Mines continued the highlight, trading briskly for a gain of 22 cents at $2.70. The stock was under slight profit-taking at the opening but soon resumed its recent advances.

Key industrial stocks showed fractional declines in dull dealings. Union Gas, a recent climbing feature, declined ⅞ at 14¾. Papers, Utilities and Steels were also down.

Gulf Lead dipped sharply i base metals to touch a new lo 10 cents and Hudson Bay ar Quemont sagged fractions.

Activity slackened as pressu appeared but a few smaller gold attracted considerable turnover

Sign New Agreement

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP)—Len Harris, United Electrical Workers (CIO), representative, announced Monday the union has signed a new agreement with Willard Storage Batteries incorporating an eight cents an hour general increase. This brings the average wage for the company's 140 production workers to $1.23 hourly. Employees also get sick benefits and are covered for $1,500 each in life insurance.

Cost Of Cables Will Remain Same–Expert

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP) — An American communications expert said Monday the cost of cable messages between Commonwealth countries and the United States probably will remain unchanged despite revisions proposed by two international meetings.

The expert, Fred E. Meinholtz, is director of communications for the New York Times. He was an adviser to the American delegation which attended a recent communications conference in Paris. Subsequently a Commonwealth-United States meeting was held in London.

This is how he explains the seeming contradiction between unchanged rates and agreed increases:

The Paris meeting agreed, among other things, that (1) the word-rate charged for ordinary private cables should be cut by one-quarter, effective July 1, 1950; (2) the existing deferred cable rate should be abolished at the same time; (3) press cables should be charged at one-third the rate for ordinary cables, which would be considerably higher than current figures.

Can Be Superseded

The Paris agreement provided that bilateral agreements among participating countries can supersede the Paris decisions. The later London meeting resulted in such a bilateral agreement.

Meinholtz, who did not attend the London meeting, said he is advised that it:

1. Raised the ceiling on communications between Commonwealth countries and the United States from the present 30 cents a word to 40 cents, effective any time.

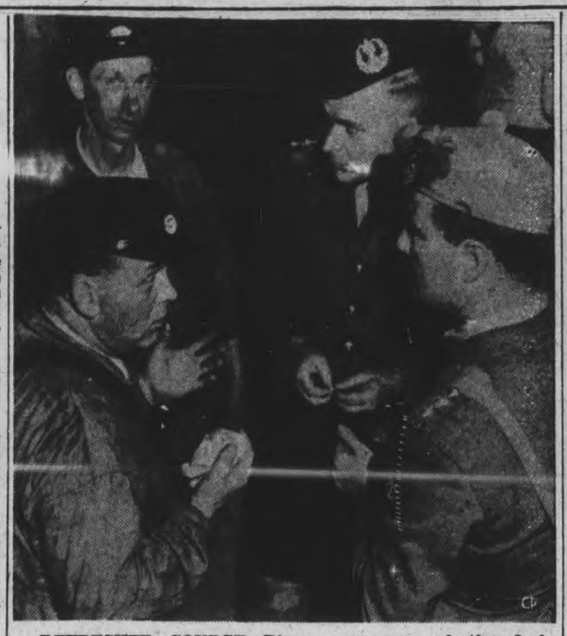
2. Decided that the existing proportion between ordinary rates and other commercial rates should be maintained—one-half the ordinary rate for deferred cables and one-third for night letters.

3. Raised the ceiling on press messages from 6½ cents a word to 10 cents, effective any time.

4. Decided that the Paris decisions on ordinary cable rates and press rates should apply after July 1, 1950.

But, Meinholtz said, ceiling rates are the maximum that may be charged, not necessarily the rate which is charged. He said he has been advised privately from London that "no changes in cable rates westward (from Britain to the United States— are contemplated now," and that the existing penny (two-cent) rate on press messages within the Commonwealth is not affected.

Wm. E. Parsons With U.S. Army



WITH THE EIGHTH U.S. ARMY IN HACHINOHE, Japan—Private William E. Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Parsons, 188 Dublin Street, Peterborough, Ontario, is taking an active part in the Military Training Program, which is being conducted throughout the 7th Infantry Division for the purpose of raising the efficiency rate of the occupational forces. He is assigned to Company "E" 32nd Infantry Regiment, 7th Infantry Division and stationed at Camp Haugen, Japan.

A former clerk with the F & G Markets, Private arsons entered the army in September, 1948, and received his initial training at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

His wife, the former Pegg Beddison, resides with her parents at Peterborough, Ontario.

SCHOLARLY HARDSHIPS

Greek scholars stuffed bags with cast-off wool or leaves for use as pillows.

REFRESHER COURSE—Dieppe veterans of the 2nd Canadian Division, returning for ceremonies commemorating the raid, hastily reviewed problems of international finance in determining how much to tip an eloquent French railway porter. Capt. T. M. Barott of Montreal, right, and Capt. B. A. Beer of Winnipeg hastily settled the problem on learning that the inflated franc is worth one-third of a cent.

Middle Class Housewife Hard Hit By Britain's Social Security Costs

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article, one of a series, discusses some of the changes that are taking place in the daily life of Britain under its Labor government.)

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Aug. 23 (CP)—Ten years ago Mrs. Middletown, wife of a senior civil servant, had a full-time maid to help with the house work and children. Now she does the chores herself, with the doubtful assistance of an old lady who "obliges" twice a week.

Mrs. Clay, a railway porter's wife, had a baby in 1938 with the casual help of an aged midwife. Last winter another child was born. Medical authorities, fearing complications, directed her to a hospital and provided a "home help" to run the household until she regained her strength. It cost her nothing.

Their experiences represent graphically the changes that have taken place in Britain since the war, particularly since a comprehensive system of social security began to function in July, 1947.

Mrs. Clay, who has to manage on her husband's earnings of about £275 ($1,100) a year, says: "It's wonderful!"

Less Enthusiastic

Mrs. Middleton is less enthusiastic. Her husbands income is about £1,300 a year but she says that taxation leaves them little for the "extras" to which they feel entitled because of hard work and specialist education. Housecleaning by herself is only one of her post-war difficulties.

The two families are extremes. Clay earns less than the workingman's national average of around £7 a week. The Middleton's are close to the top of the so-called middle class. Beyond them the income pyramid tapers quickly to an apex, crowned by a few families of vast though shrinking wealth.

Between the Clays and Middletons are the bulk of Britain's 48,000,000 population. It is no longer easy to separate them exactly in classes. Here vanguard of the lower classes pushes up constantly, while some of the middle class give up the struggle to maintain gentility.

"I'm sure everybody is glad things are better for people like Mrs. Clay," says Mrs. Middleton. "I know they had a horrible time during the slump in the '30s, and we must never go back to those days.

Takes Lots of Money

"But the government's social services require huge sums of money, and it's people like us who are called on to provide it through taxation. Our standard of living is going down, which I think is bad for the country as a whole."

Labor's supporters disagree with her. Mrs. Middleton is the victim of a transition period, they say, but in the long run the nation's intelligence, vitality and well-being will benefit from a general improvement in health and education.

Meanwhile Mrs. Middleton feels it would be a downward step if she accepted the services enjoyed by Mrs. Clay, although they are free of visible charge to her and to everyone in the country.

If Mrs. Middleton has another baby she undoubtedly will go to her doctor as a private patient and spend two weeks in a nursing-home. It would probably cost her £50 to £100, but she would receive the care she is used to.

Long Waits

Mrs. Clay had to put up with long waits at a clinic during prenatal treatment, and was hustled around a public maternity ward with a callousness that would have shocked Mrs. Middleon, but it didn't cost her a penny, and today she is well and happy.

She got a £4 grant when her baby was born, an allowance to pay for domestic help, and will receive 5s. a week for the child until he is 15. The boy will receive free education to that age at least. Other opportunities will be opened if he shows ability.

"His dad had to quit school when he was 11," said Mrs. Clay. "Like it or no, my boy will go till he's 15. They say if he's good with his hands he can go to technical school. Who knows? He might win a scholarship and go to university."

The Middletons now are debating whether their children should go to fee-paying schools or free state schools. They favor the former but are worried about finances.

There are vast differences in the budgets of the two families. For example, upkeep of the Middletons' home, inculding mortgage payments, costs more than £200 a year. The Clays, in rented rooms, pay £32 10s.

If only one item does the clays' budget exceed the Middletons. The Clays spend nearly £1 a week on cigarettes. The Middleton's gave up smoking last winter to save for this year's summer holiday.

Douro Couple Mark 47th Anniversary

COTTESLOE, Aug. 23 (ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. William Forsythe of Douro celebrated their 47th wedding anniversary recently at a family gathering in Jackson Park, Peterborough. Among those present were their sons David and Maitland, Peterborouh; Donald, Galt; Ervin, Douro; their three daughters-in-law and four grandchildren, together with Mrs. Menzies of Galt and Mr. and Mrs. Kerwood Taylor of Toronto.

A few well-chosen words from their eldest son, David, preceded luncheon, which was followed by the opening of many messages and gifts from friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Forsythe have as their guests at present Mr. and Mrs. David Forsythe and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Forsythe of Detroit, Michigan.

Hollywood Says Valentino Was Great Guy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23—(AP) — Rudolph Valentino died 23 years ago today, releasing a world-wide flood of feminine tears.

There are still many in Hollywood who knew and worked with the fabulous Latin lover, who would be 54 now. So I asked some of them for their recollections of him on this anniversary of his death.

There is Rex Ingram, the famed director who made Valentino a star by choosing him for "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

"We wanted Antonio Moreno for the role," recalled Ingram, who retired from films 15 years ago because of ill health. "But we couldn't get him. I remembered a young actor who had given me a couple of pictures of himself when he left Universal.

He Was Lucky, Too

"It was a role that would have made anyone a star. But Valentino was also lucky to hit the American public a the right time.

It happened that women were tired of the collar-ad kind of man and yearned for the Valentino type."

The handsome director said Valentino was fool-proof to photograph, except that he couldn't be shot with both ears showing; somehow they didn't look right. The star's left eye was weak and a drooping eyelid was a big factor in his appeal to women, Ingram added.

Veteran actor Alan Hale recalled Valentino as a fine cook and a great athlete. "He looked twice as big with his coat off as he did with it on," he said.

"He had a one track mind," Hale added. "You could run and yell 'fire!' while he was reading a book, and he'd finish reading the sentence, tear a piece of paper, put it in the place, close the book and ask, 'what room?'"

Other Memories

Mack Sennett remembered seeing Valentino dance in a beach spot on Long Island around 1912. "He looked like a typical gigolo with sleek hair then," said the comedy producer. "I never thought he'd become a star."

The Canadian-born Sennett added that women were wild about Valentino, but men hated him—"jealousy, I guess."

Director Sam Wood remembered Valentino as a conscientious worker who was the first to arrive at the studio. "He wanted to be well awake for the first shot," he said.

"He was a great actor. He could project thought without he use of dialogue. Yes, Rudy had a great appeal; there's never been anyone to fill his shoes."

All Hollywood is pretty well agreed on that.

Dismiss Count Against Driver

"If he was guilty of anything, he was guilty of an error of judgment," Magistrate R. B. Baxter said in dismissing a charge of careless driving, in police court Monday afternoon against Wallace E. Nodwell, a student from near Orangeville.

A head-on collision July 23 on Highway 7 east of Peterborough resulted in the charge being laid.

Investigating provincial officer Constable R. A. Feeley testified he had arrived on the scene to find the drivers of both cars in the collision in need of medical attention. He took them to a doctor in Keene.

Nodwell said he was driving west toward Peterborough when he saw a car approaching him on the wrong side of the highway. He took his foot off the accelerator expecting the approaching car would turn to its own side at any moment.

At what he thought was the last possible second, he had swung his car to the left and at that instant, the other car had done the same thing. They collided on the south side of the highway. The front right corner and side of the Nodwell car was badly smashed and the front of the Rogers car.

Nodwell's lawyer, T. J. Carley, K. C., said it was his opinion that Rogers was the one driving carelessly. It was Rogers who had created the situation.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said Nodwell could have done one of several things which would have avoided the collision. He could have put on his brakes, turned to the right or simply kept to his own side. Rogers got back to his own side in time, he said.

Builds Land-Going Boat

BRETON, Alta. (CP). — A unique amphibious vehicle has been built by Jake Friesen here. It is a 15-foot, 400-pound craft with an airplane propellor driven by a motorcycle engine. It can reach 6 miles per hour on the water, then put down its three wheels and travel 20 miles per hour on on land.

FRENCH MASTERPIECE—"Le Pont de Narni" by the 19th Century French master Corot is included in the exhibition of paintings which will be on display at the Canadian National Exhibition. The canvas has been loaned by the National Gallery at Ottawa for the exhibition, arranged by the C.N.E. Association and the Art Gallery of Toronto.

Acquit Driver In Auto Crash

A careless driving charge against James Allen, 479 Bonaccord Street, was dismissed by Magistrate R. B. Baxter, Port Hope, in Police Court Monday.

Provincial Police laid the charge as a result of an accident in which a 1949 car driven by Allen rolled over on Highway 28 about two miles north of Burleigh Falls April 27.

Provincial Constable A. F Grayling said his investigation showed a 33-foot gap in tracks made by the car after it topped the brow of a steep knoll. Where the marks began on the road again, they showed the car had taken a zig-zag course down the highway for more than 100 yards. It then scraped along the rocks of the west shoulder before rolling over and ended up on four wheels in the middle of the highway facing across it to the east.

No one saw the accident happen. First to arrive was Chesley McCall who found Allen sitting in the front seat of the car on the right side. A passenger, Miss Verna Stark, was standing outside the car. Both were taken to hospital in Peterborough. Miss Stark received bruises and Allen was in hospital two months with chest injuries.

Miss Stark testified Allen was driving south toward Peterborough. Just as they reached the top of the rise, they saw a car travelling on the wrong side coming toward them. Allen swerved to the right and struck some loose gravel and lost control of the car. She said she felt a jar as if the other car had hit the back of Allen's car. Allen was thrown out of the car as it rolled over, and landed a short distance south of where the car ended up. She pulled him to the side of the road. She thought perhaps she later helped him to the car.

Defence counsel T. J. Carley, KC, said there was not evidence on which to convict Allen of careless driving.

Plan Rosary Crusade

EDMONTON, Aug. 23—(CP)—The Rosary Crusade, to be conducted throughout western Canada by the Roman Catholic Church, will open officially Sept. 4 with reading of a pastoral letter in all Roman Catholic churches in the west, the Edmonton committee in charge of the crusade announced Monday. Object of the crusade is to revive family prayer and its slogan will be: "The family that prays together stays together."

Close Brush With Death

CEDAR SPRINGS, Ont., Aug. 23—(CP)—A 23-year-old truck driver is recovering in Chatham General Hospital after a close brush with death Monday. Roy Johnston, of nearby Erie Beach, was backing his truck out onto a wharf at Erie Beach when the truck lurched and plummeted over the end of the wharf into the water. Roy was thrown clear and pulled from the water moments later by two unidentified fishermen.

Dedicate Prayer Book St. Peters-on-the-Rock

A gift altar prayer book was dedicated at St. Peter's-on-the-Rock Church at Stony Lake Sunday by Ven. Archdeacon F. J. Sawers, Toronto, in memory of Mrs. Davidson, widow of the Ven. Archdeacon J. C. Davidson, former rector of St. John's Anglican Church, Peterborough.

Mrs. Davidson had often worshipped in this beautiful little church, and her son, Rev. John F. Davidson, has been in charge of its services during the month of July for several years.

The prayer book was given to the church by Miss E. C. Phillips, of Rochester, N.Y.

Preparing Agreement

TRIESTE, Aug. 23 — (AP) — A Moscow broadcast recorded by the Italian News Agency declared Monday negotiations are under way for an eventual accord between Premier Tito of Yugoslavia and the Vatican. Such an agreement, the radio said, is the purpose of the Rome visit of Most Rev. Joseph Patrick Hurley, Ppostolic Nuncio in Belgrade.

Delay Sailing

LONDON, Aug. 23 — (AP) — Foreign Secretary Bevin Monday postponed his departure for the Washington dollar talks which open Sept. 6. Both Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, had planned to sail on the Queen Elizabeth next Saturday. The two government leaders now will sail on the Mauretania Aug. 31.

Cutter Pumps Sinking Trawler Dry

HALIFAX, Aug. 23 (CP)—The United States Coast Guard cutter Casco reported Monday night she had pumped dry the American trawler Magellan and was towing her to Gloucester, Mass.

Earlier reports said the fishing craft had sunk after the cutter took off her six-man crew.

The crew abandoned ship as water overcame the pumps. The men took to the dories and were picked up shortly after by the Canso. The cutter said she expected to reach port this morning.

The Magellan's near sinking capped a long week-end of trouble along the Atlantic seaboard that came in the wake of a gale that struck Friday.

The tiny fishing vessel Miss Quoddy III, missing since Aug. 12 out of Ship Harbor, N. S., put in safely late Monday at Sheet Harbor on Nova Scotia's eastern shore. She carried a crew of two. An RC AF Lancaster had barely got off the ground to start a sweep of the area when it was recalled.

Two other US Coast Guard cutters were busy. The Snohomish went to the assistance of the trawler Pauline Bolland off Maine after towing the fishing vessel Rhode Island into Rockhead, Me.

The Unimak ended a 22-hour towing job about 200 miles off Halifax and handed the crippled Baltic refugee ship Amanda over to the RCMP cutter French.

The Amanda, carrying 31 refugees from Communism, was expected here sometime today.

Elected Mayor

MEAFORD, Aug. 23—(CP)—Dr. A. L. Howard, retired Presbyterian minister, was elected mayor of Meaford Monday with a majority of 332 votes over his lone opponent, James L. Chapman. The election was made necessary when three-time mayor F. Stanley Knight resigned when a dispute arose over the policy in welcoming Viscount and Viscountess Alexander when they recently visited Meaford. Ex-mayor Knight differed with the Meaford branch of the Canadian Legion in regard to the welcome of the visitors.

Coldwell Takes More Part In Parliamentary Debates

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 (CP)—The approaching session of parliament will see M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, stepping into more debates.

Before the election Mr. Coldwell was able to leave much of the presentation of party views in the Commons to his lieutenants.

However, with representation cut from 32 to 12, it will mean a more regular call on the debating talents of the member for Rosetown-Biggar.

One of the chief [illegible] discussion during the session, expected to start the middle of next month, will be Canada's export situation.

The party is on record as urging Canada to make every effort to extend and consolidate trade with the United Kingdom and other sterling-bloc countries.

CCF leaders have repeated that while they don't think bilateral trading is the best form for Canada, it is necessary during the present world trade crisis.

Want Controls and Subsidies

The party plans for the most part to follow the lines it has taken during recent sessions of parliament. Return of food subsidies and continuation of rent controls are two of its most important aims.

The CCF is seting its sights high for the next four years, with the basic object of building so that it can place itself before the people in the next election as a full-grown alternative to the Liberals.

The task of keeping its views before the people will be directly on the shoulders of the reduced Commons membership. Along with the leader, the names of Stanley Knowles, member for Winnipeg North, and veteran parliamentarian Angus MacInnis, representative for Vancouver East, will appear in Hansard more frequently.

Three new appointments to the Quebec Superior Court are expected to be announced within a few days.

Many persons, both in government circles and without, have been mentioned as likely candidates for the new posts. Solicitor General Jean, Postmaster General Bertrand and Works Minister Fournier are cabinet ministers who are reported headed for the bench.

Elphage Marier, Liberal member of the Commons for Montreal Jacques Cartier, also has been mentioned.

There have been reports that the government may go outside of Liberal ranks for some judges. Some political observers believe that John T. Hackett, former Progressive Conservative member of the Commons for the Quebec constituency of Stanstead and a prominent Montreal lawyer, may get one of the appointments.

Say Beef Scheme Will Take Years To Work

CANBERRA, Aug. 23 (Reuters)—While the Dominion Government is completing its plans to convert the virtually-uninhabited northern territory into one of the world's major beef-producing areas, experts here believe it will [illegible] before Britain [illegible] its first beef.

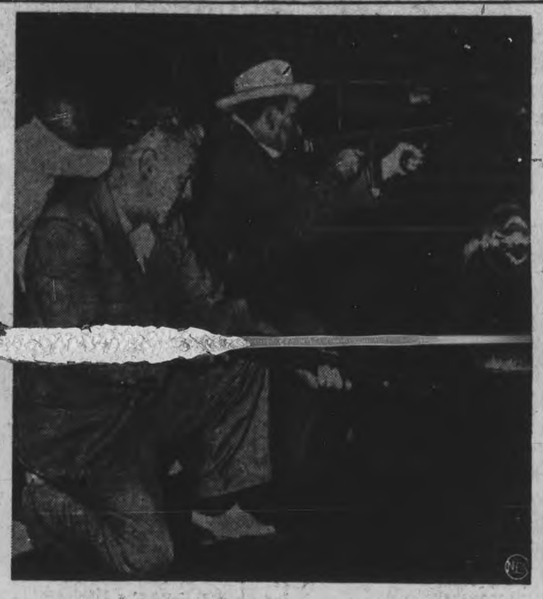
The plan has been devised to enable Britain eventually to import from Australia up to 700,000 tons of meat a year instead of the present average of 150,000 tons.

It is envisaged that the Northern Territory could replace Argentina as Britain's main source of meat.

But no one is prepared to say when an export of 700,000 tons a year is likely to materialize. Unofficial estimates vary between 10 and 20 years.

Face Four Problems

There are at least four major problems.



These are: Insufficiency of watering facilities; lack of roads and railways; shortage of rolling stock, steel and road-building machinery; and scarcity of labor.

Rains in the area are highly seasonal and occur in the summer months, with little or nothing during the rest of the year. The average rainfall over half of the area does not exceed 15 inches; the other half received an average of between 20 and 50 inches.

To meet water shortages, the government proposes to sink wells in the drier areas.

At the same time, thousands of miles of road will have to be built and railways constructed. Considerable earth-moving and road-building equipment is required, and there is some doubt here as to whether all of it can be obtained in the sterling area.

Britain's assistance will also be sought when the problem of rails and rolling stock is tackled.

BULLET BATTLE — Crouching behind a parked car, Chicago detectives fire at a crazed gunman who barricaded himself in his house and shot it out until he was killed. The man, James Craig, fired at a neighbor, then ran into his home. Before police drove him out in the open by setting fire to the house, Craig had injured seven people, including five officers.

Red Group Forms Splinter Party With Yugoslavs

BERLIN, Aug. 23 (AP)—German Communists who hate Russia formed a new splinter party and promptly sent Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia a message of support.

A spokesman for the group claimed 4,000 active members in the Russian zone of Germany and another 600 in the western sectors of Berlin.

Fifty former members of the Communist party and Socialist Unity party announced they had broken away at a meeting in the French sector of Berlin and were forming a "Free Communist Party."

Karl-Heinz Scholz, 41-year-old engineer and veteran German Communist underground campaigner, told a reporter in an interview:

"We have formed to fight imperialist Bolshevism. The so-called internationalism of Soviet Russia is a fraud. We reject any plans for a dictatorship over the people."

Ontario May Become The Land Of Cotton

AYLMER, Aug. 23 (CP)—Sunny southern Ontario may also become the land of cotton if amateur farmer Cliff Lamb's experiments bear fruit.

The retired Aylmer business man created considerable comment last spring when he announced plans to grow cotton in this western Ontario district.

The seeds he planted last June between two rows of tobacco plants now are flowering plants between two and three feet high. Lamb estimates they'll reach maturity in six weeks.

He plans to experiment further next year.

Lamb hopes his experiments will develop a new industry, making use of hundreds of acres lying idle now because the soil that may grow cotton is too poor for normal crops.

Decorate Graves Of War Veterans

MARMORA, Aug. 22—(ENS)—Decoration Day service under the auspices of Marmora Branch No. 237, Canadian Legion, BESL, was held on Sunday afternoon. The parade, augmented by color bearers from Havelock and Madoc, fell in at the Legion rooms and, led by the Havelock Kiltie Band, proceeded to the Public School grounds. The service was conducted by Rev. George D. Young, who offered prayers.

An appropriate address was delivered by Rev. J. M. Brownlie. The hymns sung were "Abide with Me" and "O God our help in ages past." The parade proceeded to Sacred Heart Cemetery, where flowers were placed on the graves of deceased comrades. Rev. H. J. Farrell gave a brief address and prayers were offered for the dead. The parade then visited the Protestant Cemetery, where the graves of the deceased veterans were decorated. Rev. Mr. Brownlie delivered an address and also offered prayers. Proceeding to the Memorial Building, wreaths were placed beneath the tablets and "Reveille" and "Last Post" were sounded by Robert Sanderson. Mayor Percy Gray, Wibert Mumby and W. M. Regan took the salute and march past.

Give Farm Assistance

REGINA, Aug. 23—(CP)—Seventy thousand farmers in southwestern and western Saskatchewan and eastern Alberta will receive about $17,000,000 in prairie farm assistance payments this year, R. F. McGregor, PFA director, estimated Monday. He said the payments would largely be paid to those farmers who otherwise would not be able to carry on until the next crop is harvested.

Change Coal To Oil Industry Union Warns In Nova Scotia

SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 23 (CP)—The coal industry must become a coal-into-oil industry or it is due for a serious and permanent decline, the United Mine Workers (C.C.L.) District 26 told the Dominion Coal Board today.

In an 8,000-word brief, the union said the coal industry is headed for a decline because of the tremendous growth in the use of oil by industry, railways and residential consumers. The board is holding maritime sittings to hear various views on the industry.

It presented figures to show that in 1947 the maritimes consumed oil equivalent to 1,000,000 tons of coal, and that since 1943 oil consumption in the maritimes had increased by the equivalent of 350,000 tons of coal. During the same period coal consumption declined by 600,000 tons.

The brief said the first step in development of an oil-from-coal industry in Cape Breton should be construction, at government cost, of a demonstration or pilot plant for experimentation. Fuel oil from coal now costs not more than three cents per gallon more than natural oil, the brief said. Operation of a commercial hydrogenation plant for experimentation would soon reduce this gap.

The brief said the industry was attempting to sell coal by keeping it cheaper than oil; this had resulted in the coal miner bearing the burden with sub-standard wages.

Dealing with mechanization, the union said: "It is impossible to overstate the intolerable injustice that will be done the coal miner's family if mechanization is put into effect in the coal mines without a planned attack on the social and employment problems that will accompany it."

The union asked the coal board to investigate what affect the introduction of mechanical loading machines will have on employment in the pits.

Seeking Appeal

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23—(CP)—The Manitoba cabinet has passed an order-in-council seeking an appeal court ruling on the right of the Canadian Pacific Railway to perpetual exemption from taxation by certain municipalities Attorney-General J. O. McLenaghen said Monday. Government tax experts estimate that more than $90,000 in possible municipality tax revenues is involved. The $90,000 represents the total amount of taxes past due. Assessment notices have gone out from the municipalities for this amount for the 1948 taxation year but have not been satisfied.

POLICE HOLD LAYNG MURDER SUSPECT

Find Plane Hits Hump In Crack Up

Believe 21 Victims Killed Instantly, Miss Lake Landing

LAC DU BONNET, Man., Aug. 24 (CP)—"All of them were killed instantly."

Ted Coates of Lac Du Bonnet, a bush pilot, made that statement last night after witnessing the wreckage of the RCAF Canso which crashed Sunday night on the way to Winnipeg from Churchill, Man. Coates viewed the crash scene from the ground.

"Parts of the plane and passengers were strewn over an area 600 feet long and about 60 feet wide," said Coates. "Pictures, maps and personal belongings were littered among the bodies."

Coates walked to the crash site after landing his plane on a small lake about one-quarter mile from the wreckage.

Coates and a companion saw the first body about 50 to 60 feet from the plane.

"Ahead of us was the cabin and the cockpit of the plane in one piece. The tail was chopped off by the impact. About 50 feet in front of the wreckage we found the pilot's body. We recognized him by the wings of his tunic."

Not Burned

Coates said the eight Eskimos were easily identifiable by their clothing. He added that most of the bodies were quite recognizable and had not been touched by fire.

"What blaze broke out was a small one and it must have started from one of the engines. It looked as though rain had put it out soon, as only a few of the fir trees were scorched."

The commercial pilot said the Canso crashed in a spot near a small lake. Ironically, a larger lake where a safe landing could have been made lay only a short distance away to the west.

"However, they would never have hit the larger lake in the direction they were going.

"They hit a small rise of land near the lake and started clipping off trees about six feet above the ground. The trees were just about 20 feet above the water at that point."

Coates felt it would have been impossible for anyone to have emerged alive from the crash. "There were no signs that anyone had tried to bale out," he added.

One of Worst Disasters

The loss of life had been exceeded only twice in Canada. The two more severe crashes both occurred in Quebec Province—

Finns Kick Out Red-Led Unions

HELSINKI, Finland, Aug. 24—(AP)—Finland's Central Trade Union Federation voted today to kick out four Communist-led unions which refused to stop their wildcat strikes.

The Federation's executive committee voted eight to six in favor of the action. The committee decided, however, to let the delegate conference of the Federation make a final decision Sept. 4.

Observers predicted that the action might split the Finnish trade union movement wide open.

The unions expelled were the Transport Workers, the Union of Forestry Workers and Log Floaters, the Food Industry Workers and the Building Construction Workers.

Runs Down Author Up For Manslaughter

ATLANTA, Aug. 24 (AP) — An involuntary manslaughter indictment was returned Tuesday against the taxi driver whose car struck down and fatally injured Margaret Mitchell, author of "Gone With the Wind."

Conviction on that charge would mean one to three years in prison for Hugh D. Gravitt, the 29-year-old driver.

The taxi driver was off duty and in his own car when he struck Miss Mitchell.

Deny Name-Calling Counter Offensive

Anglo-American Hostility Talk Blamed On Few Hotheads

LONDON, Aug. 24 (CP). — Responsible government sources regard current expressions of Anglo-American hostility as resulting from a kind of trans-Atlantic blind man's buff which has been given far more attention than it deserves.

They firmly deny reports, published in both countries, that the Labor Party has sanctioned a name-calling "counteroffensive" against anti-Socialist comments published in the United States.

"It just isn't true," said Maurice Webb, chairman of the Parliamentary Labor Party. "This bickering back and forth is just one of those things. We regret it, of course, but we have not even held a meeting to discuss it."

It was understood that the speech on Monday by Labor member Tom O'Brien represented individual opinion and was not given party blessing. O'Brien, also a union leader, referred scathingly to the "pot-bellied money magnates of the United States."

O'Brien's scalding words, taken in conjunction with War Minister Emmanuel Shinwell's week-end warning that twisting the tail of the British Lion could be a dangerous game, gave rise to reports that Labor leaders had decided on an organized campaign. The object of this campaign, it was suggested, would be to blame Britain's dollar difficulties on the US as a prelude to the next general election.

Treasury officials play down any idea of organized campaign. Time and again they have stressed that anti-Socialist attacks published abroad, besides being trivial, ill-informed and irrelevant, have not necessarily reflected official opinion in the country of origin.

If political moves alone dominated the British mission to the Washington financial talks, it is noted here, Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer — almost universally regarded as a man of inflexible integrity—would be the last to make the trip.

Second 'Quake Shakes Western Coast

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24—(CP)—British Columbia Tuesday escaped without any noticeable scratches its second earthquake within 40 hours. But everybody, especially in the north, wondered what would come today.

At 1:31 p.m. PDT Tuesday the earth shrugged its mighty shoulders somewhere out in the Pacific, off the northwestern tip of the Queen Charlotte islands. The shocks trembled the islands and ripped slightly along the mainland.

The northern port of Prince Rupert felt a "faint, uneasy shift." Massett, on the islands, was "shaken." Queen Charlotte City smack in the middle of the chain, was "juggled". Vancouver, and interior cities, were missed.

As in Sunday night's frightening submarine 'quake—Canada's worst—no major damage occurred. But a new fear swept the entire coast.

Edna Evans, telephone operator at Queen Charlotte city, 500 miles north of here, said in a telephone interview: "Many of us, and particularly the older folks, are getting scared. Something's going on out there (in the ocean) and frankly, we're worried."

Farther north, at Massett, Mrs. Stewart Burton said there's talk everywhere of "a bigger one coming." Horses and cows are acting nervously.

2 Cabins Burned Prospector Missing

WAWA, Ont., Aug. 24 (CP)—Police said today that John Anderson, 65-year-old prospector, disappeared Sunday and that his two cabins in the nearby Wawa Lake district were burned. Wawa is 100 miles northwest of Sault Ste. Marie.

The discovery of his overturned canoe on the lake yesterday led police to search the area.

He left Wawa Sunday after telling friends he intended to prospect. He arrived at his prospecting cabin and was seen in its vicinity the same day.

Police started their search yesterday when they were told the cabins were burned.

Compulsory Insurance Plan Puts BC 3 Million In Hole

VICTORIA, B.C., Aug. 24—(CP)—The British Columbia government got a bill from the doctor today—and it was about $3,000,000 more than was expected. B.C.'s first lesson, taken from a British text, that health security costs money, wound up with a problem for Premier Byron Johnson.

Should he increase premiums on the province's compulsory health insurance scheme of have the government absorb the deficit?

With the next premium payment due Oct. 1, he has little time to make up his mind. Meanwhile, hospitals are crowded with patients seeking treatment under the benefit plan.

Health Minister George S. Pearson, under whose jurisdiction the scheme was inaugurated Jan. 1, 1949, estimated in the Provincial Legislative Assembly last year the hospital plan would cost $12,000,000 the first year, but there were incalculables that couldn't be estimated.

Big Deficit

Premiums of $30 for a couple with a family or other dependents, $24 for a man and a wife and $15 for single persons were set.

But the people who "forgot" or "didn't get around" to paying premiums presented an incalculable that will cost the government an estimated $3,000,000 this year.

Hospital costs had increased during the year because of higher wages and other factors, Health Minister Pearson said yesterday. He had set up a $2,000,000 stabilization fund just in case this happened.

There has been some speculation that the government might, as an alternative to increasing the hospital insurance rates, dip into sales tax revenue to take care of the deficits.

610,177 More Votes Cast In June Election

OTTAWA, Aug. 24 (CP) — A record total of 5,856,307 votes were cast in the June 27 general federal election compared with 5,246,130 in the 1945 general election, it was disclosed Tuesday by Jules Castonguay, Chief Electoral Officer. The Liberal party, returned to power with an overwhelming majority, received 2,926,029 of the votes in the last election compared with 2,170,625 in 1945.

Hurricane Heads For N. Carolina

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 24 (AP) — Two tropical hurricanes more than 1,000 miles apart swirled in the Atlantic today—and the older one was cocking its fist for a possible close brush against the North Carolina capes.

The weather bureau said the older and more severe storm was about 125 miles south-southwest of Cape Hatteras, N.C., at 6 a.m. EDT, and hurricane warnings were ordered hoisted along a 45-mile stretch of the desolate upper Carolina capes from Manteo to Cape Lookout.

The second disturbance grew to hurricane intensity last night about 100 miles northeast of St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands.

The storm off the Carolina coast was reported moving northward about 15 miles an hour and was expected to continue this pace well into the day. Its strongest winds raged up to 100 miles an hour near the centre.

The newer disturbance was classed as a "small tropical hurricane." A forecaster said winds of about 70 miles an hour cover a small area near its centre.

Can't Maintain Exchange Ratios

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 24 (Reuters)—Lord Layton, distinguished British economist, told the Council of Europe today that he did not believe that present currency exchange ratios could be maintained for long.

Speaking as the only Liberal member of the British delegation, Lord Layton raised this controversial question—so far avoided by all British speakers—in the second day of the assembly's two day debate on Europe's economic crisis.

He said the assembly's debates had been overshadowed by the dollar problem.

Abbott Says Canada Has New Nationhood

LONDON, Aug. 24 (CP)—The London Star, in a dispatch from its Ottawa correspondent, today quotes Finance Minister Abbott of Canada as saying Canada is "not veering away from the Commonwealth," but that the "nature of the Commonwealth has changed."

Abbott is quoted as saying as other Commonwealth countries had changed, so had Canada—"Some people would say we are growing up; others that we are acquiring a new nationhood."

"That will be to bend every possible effort to find a solution, not a stop-gap, but one to stand the test of time," Abbott continued.

Heads Field Forces

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) —Gen. Mark W. Clark is the new Chief of Army Field Forces. Army Secretary Gordon Gray announced today that Clark will succeed Gen. Jacob Devers who is retiring in September after 44 years on active duty. Clark at the end of the Second World War was in command of the 15th Army Group in Europe.

Chiang Goes To Chungking To Foil Warlord Pacts

CANTON, Aug. 24, (AP) — Chiang Kai-shek today flew to Chungking in an apparent attempt to foil any secret agreements between warlords of Szechwan and the Communists.

Chiang's flight apparently was one of great urgency. He postponed a meeting of the Kuomintang party's emergency council to make it.

Szechwan's warlords are known to be eager to keep their fences mended at all times. They have been at odds with Chang Chun, commander of the Nationalists in southwest China. His jurisdiction embraces the provinces of Szechwan, Kweighow, Yunnan, and Sikang.

Rumors here are current Chang wishes to resign. Chiang, these rumors say, wishes to prevent this.

The wobbly Nationalist situation is threatened from within and without.

In central China the Nationalists presented Chiang with reports of successes. Chiang named a new army chief during the day.

Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, commander in central China, announced his counter-offensive rolled to two new victories over the Communists on both eastern and western flanks of Hengyang. This is the Hunan province defence bastion 265 miles north of Canton on the Canton-Hankow Railway.

Yuhsien, 50 miles east-northeast of Hangyang, was recaptured from the Reds, he said, by Nationalist forces which had struck back from Leiyang, rail town 230 miles north of Canton. On the way they also retook Anjen, almost midway between Leiyang and Yuhsien.

On Pai's western flank, the Reds were reported thrown out of Lantien, 70 miles northwest of Hengyang.

Ex-Convict Captured At Gun-Point

2 Constables Chase Stolen Automobile Corner Man In Yard

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (CP)—Police today questioned a 27-year-old ex-convict, captured at gunpoint, in connection with the murder of Alfred Layng three weeks ago.

Police said the man, on ticket of leave from Kingston penitentiary, has a resemblance to their conception of the killer.

The man, whose name was withheld, was arrested by two traffic officers who gave chase to a stolen automobile. The man leaped out of the car in east-end Toronto and ran into a back-yard where he was cornered.

The car was owned by John Brick of Pickering.

The man was charged with automobile theft and police said they will seek a remand to question him about the hold-up and murder.

A man released from prison on ticket-of-leave has the same status as a parolee, except that he must report to police at regular intervals.

Four U.K. Unions Ask Costs Cut

LONDON, Aug. 24 (Reuters)—Four of Britain's Big Six unions today called for stronger action to make the government cut the cost of living.

The move brought to a climax months of negotiation between trade union leaders and Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, on wages, prices and production costs—key factors in Britain's export trade and the dollar gap.

Attitude of the trade union leaders to the demand will be decided when the general council of the Trades Union Congress meets tomorrow to give final approval to its economic policy report for the annual TUC conference next month.

The four unions are the Transport and General Workers' Union with 1,300,000 members, the Amalgamated Engineering Union, the Union of Shop Distributive and Allied Workers, and the National Union of Railwaymen.

MayBeChanging Army Uniforms

OTTAWA, Aug. 24 —(CP)—Tests now being conducted may lead to various changes in the uniform of the Canadian Army, it was learned today.

In a number of establishments across the country, a new summer work uniform is being tested and may be adopted for general use if the results of two years of experiments are successful.

The suit is olive green in color and is not unsimilar to the uniform worn by the Germans during the African campaign of the Second World War. It is also somewhat like the British army "zoot suit."

The material is light in texture and can be washed easily. It does not fade. The loose-fitting tunic can be worn inside or outside of the pants, either short or long.

'Wedding Burglar' Arrested By Police

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (CP) — A 17-year-old "wedding burglar" was arrested by police last night.

The youth is believed to have operated after the fashion of "funeral burglars" who rob homes while the occupants are away attending funerals. He was arrested after trying to cash a $50 bond at a west-end bank. The bond, belonging to Mrs. Loretta Fitzsimmons, was taken from her purse, one of four taken from her home while the owners were attending a wedding reception.

23rd Rendezvous

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24—(AP)—The "Lady in black" kept her annual rendezvous at the crypt of Rudolph Valentino. Ditra Flame, as has been her custom for years, arrived Tuesday at Hollywood cemetery in her chauffeur-driven car, and placed red roses on the marble slab. It was the 23rd anniversary of the death of the famous silent screen lover.

Forest Fires Unchecked In Haliburton

TORONTO, Aug. 24—(CP) — Firefighters today took up the weary battle against flames sweeping Ontario's woodlands without the hope of help from the elements.

Scattered showers promised yesterday passed over the northlands and the north-central Haliburton region, where the province's latest outbreak still burns unchecked, with scant effect. The official forecaster said only fine weather was in sight for all the wide fire area.

It was man against nature and man—even with his bulldozers, radio, aircraft and other modern tools—appeared to be waging a losing battle without the help of a drenching rain.

A rash of new outbreaks yesterday brought the total of separate forest fires burning in Ontario to 151. More than 1,300 men are fighting them.

To protect the vast Algonquin forest reserve, where five outbreaks Monday were quickly quenched, Lands Minister Scott, of Ontario, clamped a ban on bush travel through the reserve. Main roads were left open.

Villages Menaced

In the Haliburton vacationland 180 miles northeast of Toronto, Irondale and other small communities remained menaced by the fire raging over 8,000 acres of mostly scrub timber. The fire was blamed for contributing to the heart-attack death of Roy Hanna, 60-year-old editor of Haliburton's Highland News, believed to have over-exerted himself on a news-gathering tour of the fire area.

Two Toronto newspaper men reported being trapped nearly an hour yesterday on the 10-mile road between Irondale and Minden. Telegram reporter Howard Somerville and photographer Albert Van reported that they drove along the road through "a tunnel of flame" after firefighters helped beat out flames around their car.

New northland fires were reported yesterday from North Bay to Timmins to Port Arthur. A crew of 400 fought 18 bush fires in 1,200 acres of timber around Sudbury.

In southwestern Ontario's Grand Valley, flames burned through the Luther Marsh to within 500 yards of Gordon Townsend's farm home. Some 300 farmers and volunteers fought a fire that burned three hundred acres of grassland on the Tyendinaga Indian reserve near Deseronto, 20 miles east of Belleville.

Two Navy Pilots Killed Practising Formation For Exhibition Air Show

Two Planes Collide In Middle Of A Roll Over Malton Airport; Squadron Decides Performance To Go On

TORONTO, Aug. 24—(CP)—A mid-air collision killed two pilots practising formation flying to thrill Canadian National Exhibition crowds but the Navy planned today to go on with the aerial show. Lt.-Cmdr. C. G. (Clunk) Watson, 27, one of the Royal Canadian Navy's top pilots, and Lieut. Charles Elton, 24, died late yesterday practising one of the stunts that the precision fliers will stage daily when the Exhibition opens Friday.

Their single-engine Seafires, part of the Exhibition squadron from the Naval air base at Dartmouth, N.S., collided 1,200 feet over suburban Malton airport. The two wartime pilots, both from Toronto, plummetted to death in the wreckage.

A Navy spokesman announced several hours later that the squadron intended to go on with the show. Lt.-Cmdr. William Munro, 27, of Dunnville, the second-in-command, was appointed Squadron Commander to succeed Lt.-Cmdr. Watson, whose widow lives in Halifax.

Morale High

"The morale of the other boys is high despite the personal loss each feels," the spokesman said. "They are convinced the others would want them to carry on."

The death of their leader might cause a slight change in the exhibition of rolls, loops and dives—all in tight formation—that the squadron was practising, he added.

Others in the squadron, all aged 24 or 25, are Lieut. J. P. Whitby of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Lieut. Joseph J. MacBrien of Toronto, Lieut. Jack B. Hartle of Toronto, Lieut. Anton Schellinck of Dartmouth, NS, Lieut. Allan Brice of Calgary, Lieut. Edgar A. Myers and Lieut. Mike Wasteney of Toronto.

Lieut. MacBrien was the third pilot in the three-plane formation that met tragedy. His plane was not involved in the crash, however.

Collide in Roll

Witnesses said the other two planes collided as they went into a roll, a manoeuvre in which each plane spins in a barrel-roll, after buzzing Malton airport at about 300 feet. The propellor of the plane on the right of the V appeared to cut the tail section off the lead plane

Council Demands End To Aerobatic Displays

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (CP)—City Council demanded today an end to aerobatic displays at nearby Malton airport which claimed the lives of the two R.C.N. pilots.

City Council paid tribute to the prowess of the pilots but contended they encountered sufficient risks in the ordinary course of flying without being asked to give aerobatic performances.

Atlantic Treaty In Effect At Noon Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) —The 12-country Atlantic Pact binding Canada, the United States and Western Europe in a common defence alliance went into force today.

The historic moment came at 12:42 p.m. EDT when President Truman signed a proclamation declaring the treaty to be in effect.

Top-ranking officials of most of the pact countries witnessed the signing at a White House ceremony.

Although the alliance was frankly formed under the threat of Russian aggression, Truman said in a statement "no nation need fear the results" of the co-operation of the Western powers.

"This is a momentous occasion not only for all the signatories of the treaty," Truman said, "but for all peoples who share our profound desire for stability and peaceful development.

"By this treaty we are not only seeking to establish freedom from aggression and from the use of force in the North Atlantic community but we are also actively striving to promote and preserve peace throughout the world."

The treaty, signed last April 4, pledges the 12 allies to strike back in the case of an attack against any one of them.

Embezzler Back No More Trips

KINGSTON, Aug. 24—(CP) — Dan Keller, 52, convicted Toronto embezzler with a flare for luxury living, high powered cars and trans-Atlantic plane trips, will travel no more for a while.

The convict who escaped from Kingston General Hospital last Jan. 24, while on ticket-of-leave, has been returned to his cell in Kingston Penitentiary.

Keller, arrested near Port Hope last year, was sentenced in Toronto Nov. 4 last year to three years in Kingston Penitentiary on three charges of theft and six of false pretences.

After his arrival at penitentiary here, he obtained a ticket-of-leave to undergo a serious operation at the hospital. While convalescing, he walked out, clad only in pyjamas and dressing gown on a cold January night.

Police Station Shot Up Wild Brooklyn Chase

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—(AP)—A police station was shot up in Wild West fashion and bullets whistled through Brooklyn streets Tuesday night as police and a bolting prisoner fought a running gun battle.

The prisoner, hit by several bullets, was recaptured after a two-block chase.

Three policemen and a passerby were wounded, none seriously, in the fusillade of 28 shots.

Frank H. Davis, 22, grabbed a policeman's gun from its holster and made a break for freedom in a blaze of gunfire. He was being questioned at the police station.

Davis was reported in serious condition today.

Cabinet Briefing Cripps On Washington Dollar Talks

LONDON, Aug. 24—(Reuters)—The Cabinet meets Monday to give Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin a final briefing on the crucial Washington dollar talks next month, but responsible quarters here expect no permanent solution to the problem.

These sources are certain, however, that Cripps and Bevin will not merely lay the sterling area's economic problem in the United States' lap, but will put forward positive ideas to solve the crisis.

The series of important Anglo-American meetings taking place in London this week is being linked by observers with the three-power dollar talks which open in Washington Sept. 7.

Lewis W. Douglas, United States ambassador to Britain, yesterday saw Bevin, who next week will accompany Cripps to Washington.

Paul G. Hoffman, Economic Co-operation Administrator, arrived last night from Brussels after his fact-finding tour of Marshall-aid countries.

He is likely to meet Bevin today.

Hoffman is expected to be accompanied by W. Averell Harriman, roving Marshall Aid ambassador.

Financial quarters in London today took it for granted that Sir Stafford would resist general devaluation of European currencies, including Sterling, at the Washington talks.

He would also resist unilateral devaluation of Sterling, these quarters added.

There might be little difference between these two things. It has long been accepted that if Sterling were ever devalued, nearly all European and Sterling area currencies would promptly follow suit, though perhaps in varying degrees.

Mayor Reviews Achievements Past 6 Months

Mayor M. J. Swanston remarked today that it was about time to scan his inaugural address of last January and examine its proposal in the light of accomplishment.

"The council is now coming to the end of summer," His Worship said, "and I think they can give a pretty fair account of themselves.

"Off hand I can remember some of the things we discussed at the first meeting as prospects for the year. I suggested a paving program, because the condition of our streets is an essential matter. We let that contract and the work is getting along toward the end of the schedule as it had to be revised when ratepayers on Romaine and Burnham Streets objected to the paving of their streets.

Nurses' Residence

"We said we would co-operate with the Board of Governors of Civic Hospital in their remaining plans, and we let the contract for the nurses' residence and have also arranged with the Board for the landscaping of the hospital grounds.

"Sewage disposal plant was another "must" on our list. Our consulting engineers, Gore & Storrie, will report to us Wednesday evening on the tenders which we received several weeks ago and referred to them for their advice. This is an important engineering job, and in that respect the council had to depend on our consultants.

"The council was in favor of filling the Park St. drain south from Brioux Ave. to the river. City Engineer A. E. Chalmers prepared plans for that work which the council decided should be done as a local improvement on the frontage plan of payment. They set out the terms which were referred to the property owners who would be directly affected, and that is the last we have heard of it.

"Incidentally, Mr. Chalmers has done a great deal of new sewer work which he had planned for the board of works department, as approved by the council in the expenditures for the year."

Ashburnham Sewage

"Another project was the transfer of Ashburnham sewage to the main sewer on the west side of the river. That job required laying a 12-inch main across the river at Burnham's Point. It is being done in conjunction with the Utilities Commission's water main. The two lines of pipe were lowered in the river bed last week.

"One ultimate effect of that work when the sewer is completed from Maria St. will be a long step toward the clearing up of Little Lake.

"We mentioned also the plans for the new city hall. The Toronto firm of architects, Marani & Morris, were engaged. The council has seen their general design and plans, and the architects are now working on the details.

"I don't think any of the citizens are in a great hurry with the erection of the city hall, but the council is moving in that direction. In that matter we have had the cordial approval of the executors of the late W. G. Morrow, who left the city the funds for the building.

"This is not the whole story, but it is a large part of it. I think the council would agree that our main disappointment is that we have not been able to secure a new industry for Peterborough this year. However, an industrial commission was appointed, but it of comparatively recent establishment. The council is hoping that this approach to the industrial question will bear the desired results.

"The housing program appears to be a continuing responsibility. The council as a whole would prefer some other means of obtaining the number of low-rental houses we still need, but in the circumstances it was felt that we should ask Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for an additional 100 houses in their general allotment for this year, and that has been done, involving the purchase of the property required for the site of that project."

Mayor Swanston said he intended to look through the inaugural address one of these days and compare its proposals with the council's record to the end of summer.

"The trouble is that it all takes money, that it has to be paid for some time, but on the other hand Peterborough simply can't stand still."

Saldier May Get Movie Lead

A new Canadian film may have Michael Sadlier of the Peterborough Summer Theatre playing the leading part. Mr. Sadlier is being brought to Montreal by a movie producers' group at Rennaissance Films (which produced the successful La Forteresse) for at test filming Friday.

The new movie will centre on a Czech refugee who escapes as a stowaway to Canada. It will be filmed on location, that is, on the streets, at the docks and in the environs of Montreal. Shooting starts September 19, a week after the Summer Theatre closes.

Mr. Sadlier is leaving for Montreal Thursday night and returning the next night so as not to miss more than one rehearsal day for the Summer Theatre's next play "French Without Tears" in which he is playing a leading part.

one in the Gaspe region that took 29 lives in July, 1948, and the other at St. Donat that claimed 24 lives in October, 1943.

Air Force officials said they hoped to fly out the bodies of the 13 whites this afternoon to Winnipeg. Remains of the Eskimos, who were being transported to Winnipeg for hospital treatment of poliomyelitis, will be taken to Norway House for burial.

Officials said it would be necessary to employ a shuttle system to retrieve the bodies from the Canso. Another Canso will be flown to a lake a few miles away from the crash scene, while a lighter Norseman aircraft will put down on a smaller lake close to the remnants of the smashed plane. The Norseman will be used to carry the remains on the short hop to the waiting Canso.

Maj. G. C. Tyrrell's 400-acre farm. Firefighters said the wind-fanned flames may have started from a cigaret dropped into grass.

Quebec's most active fire was in Lotbiniere County, 40 miles south of Quebec below the St. Lawrence River where three villages are threatened.

Late last night the fire was reported burning out of control, and spreading at a rate of about 10 miles an hour.

At least 12 houses were destroyed, a school, two saw mills, and agricultural crops valued at thousands of dollars. Damage in the county is estimated to be more than $100,000.

The fire had been burning quietly for the last two days but flared suddenly late yesterday afternoon, eating its way through pine and spruce.

In the area around Terrebonne Heights, 35 miles north of Montreal, the situation was reported "completely under control" by Army officers directing fire fighters.

A fire spreading eastwards from Terrebonne Heights towards Mascouche was checked, the village of Pincourt to the north was said to be out of danger.

Dr. O'Brien said that the child received an injured left shoulder together with general concussions and abrasions about her face and body.

Selling Pressure On Exchange

TORONTO, Aug. 24 —(CP)— Selling pressure continued but activity slowed to the quietest of the week on the Toronto stock exchange today.

Golds were pushed slightly lower in mild selling and industrials continued to slip into easier ground with losses tending to widen out as the session progressed. Base metals were down.

Senior golds led the downtrend for the second successive session as selling continued following the recent strong upswings in the gold list. McIntyre dipped a full point at 64¾ and Lake Shore, Kerr Addison and Hollinger were down fractions. Upper Canada continued the highlight in activity, for a moderate advance.

Papers steadied in industrials from recent losses but the remainder of the list sought lower levels. Refining oils, utilities and liquors were down as losses were held to fractions in most cases.

Activity slackened considerably with the selling and turnover was the smallest of the week.

Consolidated Smelters dipped $1 at $97 in a weaker base metal group. International Nickel lost a fraction while Sherritt recovered an early loss and climbed ahead for a four-cent gain at $2.25.

Anglo - Canadian eased five cents at $3.30 in a quiet western oil list.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

PLAYS IMPORTANT ROLE IN RESCUE

You've read about the many dramatic rescues made by the helicopter — in the mountains, during the floods and at sea. Helping to achieve the safe, dependable operation of this St. Bernard of the skies is a Johns-Manville product called a Clipper Seal.

The Clipper Seal is a specially-shaped ring designed for the retention of oil or grease around moving parts, such as the rotor blades of the helicopter. They're also used in conventional aircraft—and rotating industrial equipment of all kinds.

Today, Johns-Manville makes hundreds of styles and types of packings—for use wherever a seal is needed to prevent leakage of steam, air, gas, oil, water or other liquids. For complete facts on J-M Packings, write Johns-Manville, 199 Bay St., Toronto—or see your nearest J-M distributor.

Saboteurs Damage Building Equipment

BOLTON, Aug. 24 — Provincial police are continuing investigation into the sabotaging of $10,000 worth of road building equipment in the Bolton district of Peel County.

In the past two weeks, four bulldozers and three trucks owned by two construction companies working on county road projects have been sabotaged.

Steel cuttings have been put in the oil system of the vehicles. The cuttings mix with the lubricating of the engine and eventually ruin the vital parts.

Canada Leading In Air Survey For Minerals

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 24 (CP)—Canada is leading the way in air surveying for minerals and what's more she is spreading the know-how to other countries.

So says Hans Lundberg, Toronto mining expert, one of the non-government men among 25 Canadian delegates to the United Nations Scientific Conference on Conservation and Utilization of Resources which was called in an attempt to exchange scientific information among countries for practical purposes.

His paper on "air prospecting" today is before a sectional meeting of mining experts. Lundberg said in an interview that he pioneered the field in 1919 in Sweden by discovering a rich ore body from the air. He came to Canada in 1926.

Revolutionize Technique

"The exploration technique has been revolutionized and a complete change of routine and survey procedure has taken place," Lundberg said in the paper.

The old time prospector with his pick and shovel is outmoded, he added. The modern prospector first climbs into a plane and takes a look at the lay of the land before tackling the earth.

One of Lundberg's major points is that cost of the new air surveying methods are one-tenth to one-twentieth of the old ground surveying technique. Moreover, the air survey takes only one-fifteenth to one-two hundredth of the time.

He told a reporter that Canadian engineers are flying in Sweden and the United States and will probably soon be in French North Africa on air surveys for minerals.

Ferry Reports Conflict; Meeting Stands

COBOURG, Aug. 24 (ENS) — Conflicting statements have appeared in regard to cessation of the car ferry service between Cobourg and Rochester, but Mayor Joe Smith said last night that regardless of how complex the situation becomes, the meeting called for next Friday night of mayors and reeves from all over central Ontario will go on.

Yesterday's Rochester's Democrat & Chronicle quotes A. C. Hartzell, chief of the Rochester freight operations for the B. & O. railway, co-owner with the CNR of the car ferries, as saying that no such action was contemplated. The Rochester paper goes on to say that Percy Scott, general manager of the Ontario Car Ferry Co., had stated that he knew nothing about taking the car ferries out of service.

Freight Drops

However, Canadian news despatches on Monday said that Mr. Scott had declared that it was unlikely that car ferry Ontario No. 1 would resume operations. A sharp drop in freight, largely coal from the U. S. to Canada, was the reason it had been taken out of service.

The Examiner was informed last night that one local industry, whose name was not revealed, had estimated that to get their coal via the long haul over the railway instead of the shorter lake route, would cost several thousand dollars more per year in freight charges.

Trolley, Car Collide Six People Injured

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (CP) — Six persons were injured today when a north-bound street car collided head-on with a south-bound street car on East-Central Parliament Street.

Police said the northbound car ran into an open switch and crashed into the other tram.

The six were taken to Hospital. The operator of the southbound car had both legs broken. Injuries to the others, all passengers, were not believed serious.

Both cars were damaged extensively.

Report Polio Case

COBOURG, Aug. 24 (ENS) — Only three new cases of communicable disease were recorded for the week ending August 20 by the Counties Health Unit, but one of them was polio. The report listed two cases of chickenpox, one in Darlington township and the other in Millbrook and one polio case in Brighton township.

Produce, Not Money For Theatre Admission

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 24 (CP)— People may take eggs, potatoes, tomatoes and other garden produce to the Grand Theatre here Saturday, and the producers will accept the offering with gratitude —and dish out tickets in pairs.

An innovation in London, the Saturday matinee of the Shelton-Amos Players of New York is being patterned after the famous "Barter Theatre" of Abington, Va. The company is playing Summer Stock at the Grand, home of London's Little Theatre.

The management is catering to the farm trade for Saturday and suggests poultry, eggs, tomatoes, potatoes, fruit, preserves, jellies or "we leave it you."

"All we ask is that the farmer or growerestimates as 80 cents worth," said Kenneth Baskette, manager of the Grand, "and we will give him two of the best seats in the house."

The produce isn't for the actors. It will be donated to five city charities.

Field Of Grain Saved From Fire

COBOURG, Aug. 24—(ENS)— Fire which partly destroyed a fence on the farm of Alfred Carter yesterday evening, threatened a seven-acre field of grain before Mr. Carter and neighbouring farmers put it out. A call was put into Cobourg fire department but on being told that there was no water supply out at the fire, the brigade did not turn out. However, due to the fact that the blaze had been detected in time, the farmers were able to get it out themselves.

Cobourg firemen had a false alarm call to the residence of Mrs. Rose Hilliard. It turned out that an electrician was working on an oil burner and smoke from the cellar caused someone to put in the alarm.

Grass Tinder Dry

Fire Chief Jim Campbell commented last night that the fire hazard from dry grass was very bad. He pointed out that a small grass fire in Horse Show Park on Sunday spread 80 rods in a short time.

"I'd like to urge the people of Cobourg to be particularly careful at this time, as the prolonged dry spell has the grass so dry that the least thing will touch it off. It would take very little to cause a very serious situation if some of the fields in this town were to catch on fire," Fire Chief Campbell said.

Raid Ball Betters

BOSTON, Aug. 24 — (AP) — Police last night raided what they termed headquarters for baseball betting, seized slips representing $30,000 worth of wagers on yesterday's games and arrested two men on charges of registering bets. Police said that paraphernalia seized in the west-end suite "gave evidence that the Boston booking nest is part of a well-organized country-wide syndicate."

Small Apple Tree

WHITBY, Aug. 24 — (CP) — William Ellis, 83, has successfully grown a large McIntosh apple on a tree 18 inches high. He has developed a new style of grafting which, he says, cuts fruit-bearing time in half. Ellis, a retired painter, has produced a type of apple he calls Lincoln and another known as veiled seedlings.

Exhibition Notes

One of the crops that failed for lack of moisture this summer was the grass seed that was sown on the eastern section of the Fair Grounds.

G. A. Gillespie, manager, said the board spent $100 trying to get a catch this year, but the rains held off.

Sixty bags of calcium have been used in settling the dust of the race track along the grandstand stretch and beyond.

"When we got the dust laid," said Hugh Stewart, president, "some of the city's firemen came down and flushed the concrete stand. We are really trying to beat the dust."

A concession has been let for grandstand pillows that will rent for ten cents.

Among the first arrivals at the Exhibition were Gordon K. Fraser, M.P., and Mrs. Fraser. And they came to work. Mrs. Fraser is head of the fine arts and ladies' work committee, and it was easy for her to find plenty to do. "G.K." took on a roving commission at anybody's beck and call.

Ald. Doug Miller was busy setting up an Armstrong Lumber Co. booth, but his thoughts were not far from the lacrosse team's chances of winning the game in Hamilton last night. He was even looking forward to playoffs next week, Wed. and Sat., depending on that one point lead the team took to Hamilton. Townsend St. will relapse to silence if Petes are not in the playoffs.

John A. Carroll, secretary-treasurer of the Fairs Association and the Provincial Plowing Match, looked in Tuesday on his way to Ottawa.

Bernard & Barry midway is just another carnival show, from all appearances. At first glance they look like the Conklin set-up that used to be here before the war.

One of the veteran directors is Charlie Moore of Smith, chairman of the dairy cattle committee. He has engaged in many of the rural affairs of this county in the last 30 years or more, and is still one of the active workers.

Frank Savigny has been on the sheep and swine committee 20 years. He followed Tom McIndoo of Cavan as chairman.

Armar Butcher of the city's parks department carted some of the tot lot equipment from the playgrounds around town; board of works contributed snow fence, and between them they have fixed up a place for youngest customers. It is immediately west of the manufacturers' building.

Small boys were among those present Tuesday afternoon, and they were everywhere, including the drivers' seats of farm equipment, tractors, hay-balers and so on.

Cliff Curtis commented today that the display of farm implements appeared to be even bigger than at Grassland Day two months ago at the Rowland farm in Smith.

Gordon Hancock is chairman of the attractions committee which arranges for the grandstand program.

Art. McIntyre was heartily welcomed by his fellow directors Tuesday. He has been in hospital for some time, but is hardly recovered sufficiently to be active in this show.

CHEX have increased their stage space for their programs afternoon and evening. This is a free feature for the public that established itself last year.

The weight guessers have a spot or two on the grounds, and the man with the novelties for the youngsters was also set up at noon.

This was children's day, and the little folk were arriving early. Weather was sunny and cool. Probs for tomorrow are sunny and warm.

Foxboro Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding

HAVELOCK, Aug. 27—(ENS)— Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts, Havelock, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Percival, Peterborough, attended the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey at Foxboro on Monday.

Mrs. Roberts, formerly Emma Archer, was the bridesmaid at the wedding of 50 years ago, the groom being her uncle. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride, formerly Annie Crosby, near Stirling. Her brother, Robert Crosby, who was the best man, died several years ago.

At the festivities on Monday, Mr. Roberts took the part of the groomsman.

Family Dinner

The celebration took the form of a family dinner at noon with twenty members of the family present. Thirty guests were present for tea while about a hundred guests called during the afternoon reception. In the evening the members of Foxboro United Church gathered to offer their felicitations.

Mrs. Roberts' sister, Mrs. W. Inkster, Trent River, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Archer, St. Catharines, attended.

Guests were present from Peterborough, Belleville, Stirling, St. Catharines, Trent River, Havelock, and the U.S.A.

William Brown Dies Suddenly

ROSENEATH, Aug. 24. (ENS). —The death occurred suddenly on Tuesday night in Alnwick township of William Brown in his 82nd year.

Mr. Brown was born in Alnwick township, a son of the late William Brown and Agnes Howson and had spent his entire life there. A prosperous farmer, he was a Conservative in politics and highly respected. In 1889 he was married to Isabella Moncrief, who predeceased him in 1921. Of this union six children were born, one daughter, Mrs. Leslie Tucker of Burnley, and five sons, Kyle and Meredith of Alnwick, Keef of Detroit, Federal Brown, and George, who died in infancy.

Helicopter Lands

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 24 (ENS)—The first helicopter to visit this district landed in a plowed field on Wm. Ross' farm six miles southwest of here at 11 a.m. on Tuesday. S. M. Pruner and James Riddell, hydro officials, are using the helicopter to inspect the hydro lines in eastern Ontario. A large crowd watched them take-off for their next stop at Newburgh, near Kingston.

Joseph Keogan Buried

HASTINGS, Aug. 24 (ENS) — The funeral of John Joseph Keogan, who died suddenly at Brantford on Saturday, was held Tuesday at 9 a.m. from Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church with Rev. J. J. Garvey officiating at Requiem mass. Pallbearers were Vincent Keogan, Vester Keogan, Leo Keogan, Ellery Smellen, Thomas Lamey, Harry Noonan. Mr. Keogan is survived by three sisters: Mrs. C. H. Harris (Pearl), of Reno, Nevada; Mrs. Neal (Marie), of Windsor and Olive of Hastings.

Earnings Hit High

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24—(AP) —The government reported today that weekly earnings in the automobile manufacturing industry in the United States reached a high in mid-July. They averaged $68.90 for a work week of 40.2 hours. A report by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said continued record automobile production kept hours and earnings high.

Boys Get 700-Lb. Tuna

IPSWICH, Mass., Aug. 24 (AP) —A 700-pound tuna, almost too big for their 15-foot outboard motorboat, was landed yesterday by two boys using a borrowed line and 15 cents worth of mackerel bait. The fish, hooked by Peter Tyler, 15, and Ellis Hodgkins, 14, both of Ipswich, was the largest taken here this season. An adult fisherman helped them get the whopper ashore.

U.S. Suggests Survey

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Aug. 24—(Reuters)—The United States yesterday proposed an international economic survey of the Middle East with a view to speeding settlement of the Arab refugee problem. Paul A. Porter, American Commissioner at the United Nations Palestine conciliation talks here, made the proposal to his French and Turkish colleagues.

Forest Fires In France Said Under Control

PARIS, Aug. 24 (Reuters) — Headquarters of Jean Marie Marueille, commanding the forces fighting the forest fires in southwest France, announced today that all the fires in the Gironde area, in which more than 80 people are known to have died were under control.

France went into official mourning today for the fire victims.

The death toll has been put at 80 though more bodies are being found hourly in the smoke-blackened wilderness left by the flames.

More than 100 people are missing, and one report assessed damage so far at 4,000,000,000 francs ($14,600,000).

The blaze destroyed 150,000 acres in the last four days.

Girl Breaks Spine

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (CP) — A 17-year-old girl broke her spine today when bedsheets tied together separated as she tried to escape from a second-storey window at the Home of the Good Shepherd here. Police said the girl fell 15 feet and struck a picket fence. The home is a corrective institution.

A Lot Of Chickens

NEWMARKET, Aug. 24 (CP) —Charles M. Gillis of nearby Aurora was arrested by police today and charged with the theft of five barrels of chickens valued at $550. Police said the chickens belonged to the Choice Cut Chicken Company here.

Fair Days

Today the Peterborough Exhibition opened its gates and it is expected that our people and tourists will flock through them by the thousands before they shut again Saturday evening. A Fair the size of Peterborough's has the possibility of being much more interesting than a huge affair like Toronto's. Of course everybody wants to see several times in a decade or so the world's biggest annual exhibition, but for friendliness, earthiness and home-spun quality, the Peterborough Fair is an easier annual dish. It has the diversity of a big metropolitan show and the intimacy of a country Fall Fair.

* * *

It is good to see that the Peterborough Exhibition as revived since the war, is giving emphasis to local industry and agricultural pursuits as well as to imported amusements. Thus city folk have the opportunity to see under a few roofs the things that give milk and bring in the bacon, and their various types. (It is to be hoped that the stalls and pens are more plainly labelled Leghorn, Shorthorn and the like this year than last.) It gives rural folk the chance to see what passes through the hands of the men in shops in factories.

* * *

There are many good reasons for going to the Fair, but the best one is that Fair Days are made for going to the Fair.

Day Labour, Gentlemanly Style

Only a hundred years ago the Factory Act of 1847 which prohibited the employment of women and youths more than ten hours a day was considered a disaster for industry and pampering to employees. It was only fourteen years before this Factory Act that the first effective one had prohibited the employment of children under the age of nine, except in silk factories. Conditions have changed with the times.

Generally throughout Canada industry may not employ youths under sixteen, except on permit, and in most provinces no person under 14 may work in a factory. Instead of ten to sixteen-hour-days six days in the week, more than half (51 per cent.) of the Canadians employed in industry work only five days a week. A third of these five-day workers put in a forty hour week, another third forty-five hours. All but a few thousand of the people who work six days a week in our factories put in forty-eight hours or less.

In the first part of the last century mothers and children worked from twelve to fifteen hours a day under insanitary conditions. The discipline of the early factories was like the discipline of a prison. Small children were often whipped to keep them awake during the long hours at their machines. The men, frequently out of employment because women and children were cheaper, were forced to sell their wives and children into the slavery of the mills, while, as Trevelyan says, they themselves degenerated in squalid idleness. As late as 1842 the Royal Commission on Mines brought out such facts as these from Lancashire woman who worked under ground as a beast of burden.

> "I have a belt around my waist and a chain passing between my legs, and I go on my hands and feet. The water comes up to my clog tops, and I have seen it over my thighs. I have drawn till I have the skin off me. The belt and chain is worse when we are in the family way."

It was shown by the same commission that children under five worked alone in darkness.

Today in civilized, industrial countries like Canada, maximum hours of work, minimum age limits, adequate sanitary and safety measures, and minimum wage laws are laid down by governments. Often the factories go farther in bettering working conditions than laws demand. Added to these improved conditions at work are provisions to give workers holidays. Almost every factory worker in Canada receives an annual paid vacation. Most get a week after one year's service; two-thirds of them are eligible for a second week's vacation, usually after five years; and all but two per cent. get statutory holidays, some or all with pay.

Labour can have dignity under modern conditions. It may even be said that as the old leisured class passes (it never really came into existence in Canada), a new one rises—the gentlemen at the machines whose actual work, computed on the basis of a forty hour week fifty times a year totals only forty days in

Sir Harry Lauder

It has been some years since the name of Sir Harry Lauder was in the news; we are sorry that its appearance now is in a saddening context. He was a great comedian and a warm-hearted man. To millions of people he typified his race. A story was often told on that theme which ran as follows: A Scot in Quebec city was drunk and uproarious and was giving offence in a public place by crying "To hell with the Pope", in a loud voice; a French-Canadian, unable to bear it any longer cried, "You say to hell with the Pope! All right, I say to hell with Harry Lauder!"

After the first Great War Sir Harry's Scotch songs and monologues were bitterly attacked by ardent Scottish Nationalists, who thought that they made the Scots a laughing-stock. Such an attitude, we feel, betrayed a lack of humour and proportion. Nobody with any sense ever mistook Sir Harry's caricatures for lifelike portrayals of Scottish character. But in themselves they were wonderful comic creations. Who can forget that bandy-legged figure, in the wildly improbable kilt, reeling about the stage singing:

When I meet Mackay,
And Mackay mets me,
I treat Mackay, and then
Mackay treats me;
I like Mackay
Cause Mackay's true-blue,
And it's only when Mackay comes hame
That I hae one or two!

It was with simple and obvious songs like this that Harry Lauder wrought his mighty magic. He had the ability of the great music-hall singer to make a memorable experienced out of an apparently trifling song. This was the art which made Albert Chevalier, Marie Lloyd and George Robey great figures. Harry Lauder was not the least of that goodly company which made the music-hall a great institution in its day.

The Death of Margaret Mitchell

The death of Margaret Mitchell, who was struck by a speeding taxi in her home city of Atlanta gives a note of emphasis to the campaign which newspapers, police and safety organizations everywhere on this continent have been carrying on for safer driving. Miss Mitchell was a celebrity, the author of the novel Gone With The Wind, and her death is of wider interest than that of the usual victim of such an accident. We do not for an instant imply that killing a celebrity by careless driving is more deplorable than the killing of anyone else; we comment on this aspect of the accident only because her sad death touches upon the lives of hundreds of thousands of people who did not know her, but who took pleasure in her work. The driver who killed her was drunk, and has a record of 23 violations of traffic laws. An irresponsible yahoo, in charge of a couple of tons of steel machinery, can snuff out an admirable life without even being conscious of the fact.

The laws relating to the licensing of drivers and of automobiles bear no relation to the danger which drivers can create, and the damage which cars can do. It is time that the responsibility of licensing authorities, and the holders of licenses, was equated with the harm that bad drivers and mechanically faulty cars can do. The needless death of Margaret Mitchell may stand as a type of the thousands of needless deaths which happen every year under our present inadequate system.

Duplessis The Vote-Getter

Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland has been brought to task and court by an opposition candidate in the recent elections for having made, it is alleged, statements that the plums of victory would go to the constituencies which returned his party's candidates. Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec, untroubled by court action or even national publicity, campaigned before last year's provincial elections in which his Union Nationale party won 82 of the 92 seats, with this statement: "You tell me that you want a new road, a new school, a new bridge in this country," he would roar. "Then say them with your votes".

If vote-getting by such means were legal, Mr. Smallwood should take a few lessons from Mr. Duplessis.

King Abdullah Seeks British Backing

From a Special Correspondent by arrangement with the London Observer

ABSOLUTE and autocratic ruler of his little few weeks ago, Transjordan's King Abdullah, who arrived in London on Thursday, August 18 on an official visit, is badly in need of the British Government's assistance. Not that he does not already receive British help; indeed, a £2 million sterling grant made ostensibly towards the upkeep of the Arab provides the bulk of the Jordan Government's annual revenue. And this was increased last year by an additional £1,500,000 towards the cost of the maintenance of Palestine refugees and the administration of parts of Arab Palestine.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE main purpose of this, King Abdullah's fourth visit to London—he was there in 1922, 1937 and 1946—is to obtain the British Government's backing for his scheme to include the Arab portions of Palestine in the Kingdom of Jordan. Since the end of the British Mandate for Palestine and the start of the Arab-Jewish war, King Abdullah's Arab Legion has, with the assistance of a few former Palestine Government officials and one or two Transjordanians, provided whatever administration Arab Palestine has had. The bulk of the Arab refugees are either in the part of Palestine controlled by Jordan or Jordan itself. And there are three Palestinian Ministers in the Jordan Government.

✧ ✧ ✧

SO "de facto" if not yet "de jure", King Abdullah rules Arab Palestine and has weighty arguments for including the territory officially in his own domains. But there are serious obstacles and it is likely that the British Government's reply will be guarded.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN the first place, there would be emphatic objections from other Arab countries, particularly Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria, and also from the Arab League. None of these countries itself wishes to take on the job, but none of them wishes to see King Abdullah extend his territory or his influence. All would back, in his place, a Palestine Arab Government drawn from members of what was formerly the Arab Higher Committee, the party of the Mufti, Haj Amin El Husseini.

✧ ✧ ✧

MOREOVER, there is a growing number of Palestinians who would oppose the handing over of the country to King Abdullah. Since the Jericho Conference last January when a gathering of Palestinian notables invited Abdullah to be their king, there has been a marked change of opinion. Active work by the Husseini party, backed by appreciable financial help from Egypt and Saudi Arabia, has turned public opinion in Palestine against Abdullah and considerable propaganda has been made out of the terms of the Transjordan-Israeli armistice agreement under which, according to the anti-Abdullah faction, Transjordan "gave twenty million pounds worth of Palestine land to the Jews, more than Palestine Arabs had sold them during the past twenty years".

✧ ✧ ✧

WHETHER or not the British Government recognizes King Abdullah's claim to include Arab Palestine in his territory, he will request increased financial assistance. For whatever the future may hold for Arab Palestine, it will for some time continue to be administered by Jordan and the funds for an efficient administration are totally lacking. With a grant of some two or three million pounds King Abdullah could organize a workable civil service. He could also pay the "Home Guard" officers and Arab irregulars he has recruited from among the refugees, not so much with the aim of increasing the size of his armed forces as to find employment for these homeless Palestinians and to prevent them from resorting to banditry and terrorism.

✧ ✧ ✧

IF the necessary funds were forthcoming there is a great deal that could be done for the refugees. The primary stage of refugee work has, for the moment, been accomplished: that of providing basic food and shelter. The second stage is temporary employment, employment which necessitates neither considerable expenditure upon living quarters nor on capital for the work carried out. Few countries are in greater need of proper roads than Transjordan and it would require only a relatively small sum to enable the Jordan Government to put reasonable numbers of refugees at work constructing roads from Amman to Akaba, from Amman to Petra and, indeed, laying the foundation of a country-wide and badly needed network of communications. The materials, certainly stone, are readily available in Jordan.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE third stage—resettlement—is quite beyond Jordan's capacities although it will be upon Jordan territory, particularly in the hot but fertile Jordan Valley, that large numbers of the refugees may eventually have to be settled.

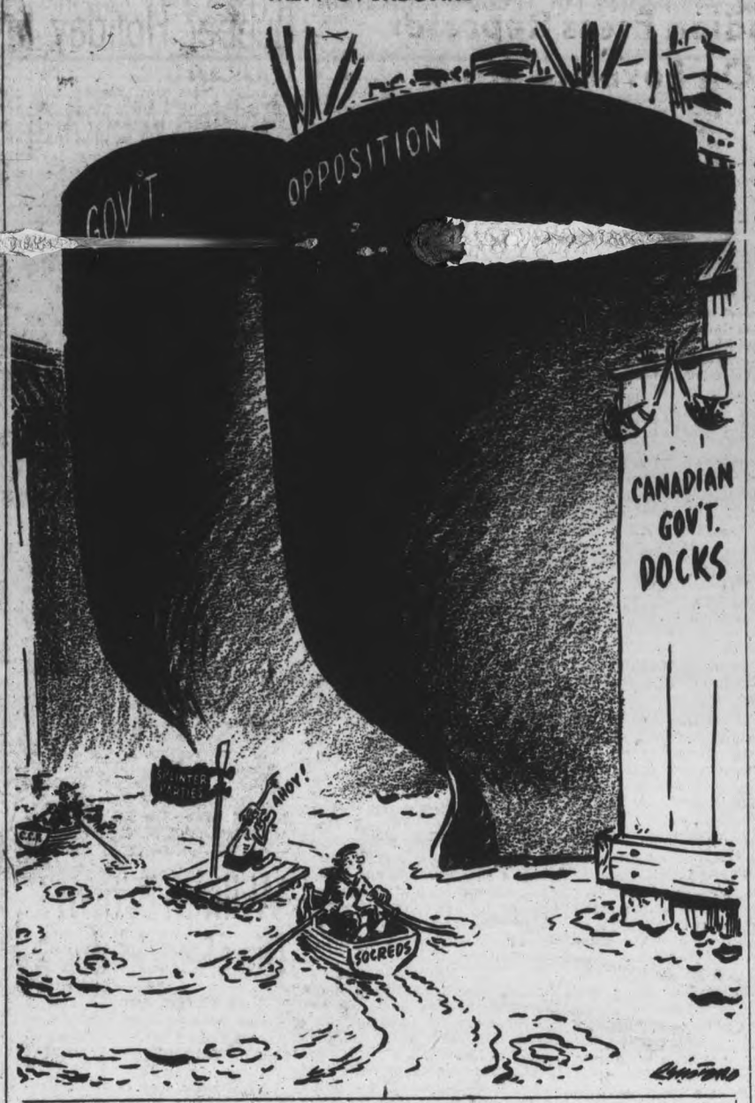
Unconsidered Trifles

Irate Guest—"Look here, the rain is simply pouring through the roof of my bedroom."

Summer Hotel Proprietor—"Absolutely according to our prospectus, sir. Running water in every room."



✧ ✧ ✧

The prosperous, pompous businessman was staying at a small country hotel, and as he entered the breakfast-room in the morning the only other visitor rose from his seat.

"Sit down, sit down!" boomed the great man condescendingly.

"Why?" asked the other, surprised. "Can't I get the marmalade from the next table?"

MEN OVERBOARD

The Lighter Side Of Russian Life

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW

AFTER an uneasy period of total solemnity the Russian people are being allowed once more to laugh at themselves. They do not need much encouragement; but for a long time past the humorists of Moscow have been condemned to be funny only about Wall Street, the Marshall Plan and other dreary xenophobic topics.

The worst sufferer was the satirical weekly Krokodil, whose editorial staff some months ago was severely reprimanded for not pulling its weight in the ideological struggle, and whose columns have been virtually unreadable ever since. But the last batch of Krokodils to arrive from Moscow shows that there has been a new directive; for in a singularly carefree manner one whole issue of Krokodil is devoted to a satirical attack on the combined Soviet press for its insufferable dreariness — though it does not quite put it like that.

At the same time the little summer variety theatre in the Moscow Hermitage Gardens is reported to have struck something like its old form with jokes about Government offices and the excesses of the propagandists. It is true that the sketch singled out for official approbation is called "Bigger and Better Atom Bombs", and that the Marshall Plan affords the staple topic of satire. But what the people above all go to hear are the jokes about their own absurdities — the fantastic press campaign, for example, which claims that every conceivable invention was really the work of a Russian: "Congratulate me!" exclaims one of the comedians, "I have become an inventor!" "Oh yes", says the stooge, "and may I ask what you have invented?" "I have invented the umbrella!" "Pardon me", says the stooge, "but the umbrella was invented a long time ago". "Ah!", explains the comedian proudly, "But I am the first man to have invented the umbrella for the second time".

Krokodil, being a Party publication does not sail as close to the wind as that. The Hermitage theatre, with the Marionettes, has always been allowed a peculiar licence. The humour of Krokodil is more organized and in line with the celebrated "self-criticism" theory, which has been rather neglected in these days of the new Soviet patriotism. It confines itself chiefly to deflating the pretensions of the planners. For example, there has lately been a colossal issue of children's dresses—but in only two or three sizes. So Krokodil shows a Soviet mother with a charming little girl going into raptures in a Moscow store over a life-size doll in a red dress with white spots. "At last!" exclaims Mama—'At last a doll with a dress that will fit you exactly!...."

Again, the peasants have lately been irritated by a shortage of tar and axle grease in the villages accompanied by a glut of cosmetics. Krokodil has a nice picture of an old peasant squeezing tube after tube of cold cream, hair oil and skin-lotion into the axles of an ancient farm cart. "For extreme cases", runs the caption, "Krokodil recommends the above procedure; but it would be more to the point to grease the wheels of the State distributing apparatus".

✧ ✧ ✧

ALL this is symptomatic of a return to a healthier state of mind than the unrelieved xenophobia of past months; and the matter is clinched by cartoon after cartoon in Krokodil's last issue inspired by the All Union Congress of Humorists and Satirists. Here the unrelieved solemnity and dullness of the Soviet Press and the serious reviews are attacked from every side. Editors are genially pilloried by name, and recognizable figures feature in the cartoons. When this is added to Pravda's recent editorial rather helplessly demanding from Soviet writers more attention to style and technique and less to subject matter which has lately been exalted as all-important, it becomes evident that the Party intellectuals are at last appalled by the state to which Soviet writing has been reduced by their rigid and humourless prescriptions from above.

Time will show whether editors and writers will feel safe enough to throw their weight about. As one of the cartoons in Krokodil remarks: "Our editor is a cautious chap: doesn't drink, doesn't smoke, and doesn't allow cartoons or humorous comment". Remembering the Zhdanov purges he could hardly be blamed.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them. (Matt. 4: 23, 24.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him: and he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying....Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil. (Matt. 5: 1, 2, 16, 17.)

Milk And Cheese Off The Ration

(Norway Digest)

More good news for Norwegian housewives on August 8th when the Ministry of Supply announced that fresh, dried, and condensed milk were removed from the ration. Cream as well as cheese of all kinds was put on the free list that same day.

Milk production, which has increased steadily during the past year, is now seen sufficient to meet normal demands. Should shortage arise in individual districts, however, local authorities will be able to set up a priority system, while dried milk plants will temporarily allocate first production to industries using this raw material. Thirty-five per cent. whipping cream will soon appear, according to producers, who until now have limited cream fat content to 10 per cent.

As anticipated, however, cheese wholesalers could not keep pace with the first day's demands. Though lines of trucks waited in front of well stocked cheese warehouses crews could not get cheese to their retailers fast enough. With time to catch up following the first day, dealers were soon replenished, and customers could walk in and order their choice for the first time since 1940—and no ration coupons.

The father decided to have a serious talk with young Jimmy, who was inclined to be light-hearted and irresponsible.

"Jimmy," he said, "you're getting to be a big boy and you ought to take things more seriously. Just think — if I died suddenly, where would you be?"

"Here," said Jimmy. "The question is, where would you be?"

184 Employees Affected In CGE Transfer

The transfer of the refrigerator Department of CGE to Montreal means that the employees remaining at the Peterborough plant face layoffs or transfer to other departments.

Supervisors and key personnel (some of the latter have not yet left Peterborough) and a few other workmen are the only ones to be transferred. The remainder of the employees in the new Refrigeration Department will be from Quebec.

J. E. Girven, assistant works manager, told the Examiner today that this move has been planned for some time. The proportion of layoffs to plant transfers could not be predicted at the present time, he said.

Some of the problems involved, he explained, were fitting in of Refrigerator-trained employees into other specialized jobs, working out a fair basis for layoffs, and graduating the layoffs over a period of time.

He denied all the layoffs would be at once, saying they would probably be spread over from the immediate future until Oct. 1. It was too soon to say whether these layoffs would be only temporary, Mr. Girven declared.

If the employees could be fitted into other departments they would be, but he cautioned they might not have the required skills for work in the Diesel Locomotive Department. And that is the one section of the plant where there are likely to be vacancies.

The Diesel Locomotive Department will manufacture electric motors, generators, and controls for diesels.

Local 524 (UE-CIO) has called an emergency membership meeting for Thursday, 7:30 p.m. in the Brock Street Summer Gardens The subject of layoffs and transfers will then be discussed thoroughly.

Canadian Press Reporter Dies On Favorite Story

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24 (CP) — Jack Aveson, Canadian Press reporter wrote "30" to his newspaper career on a northern assignment of his own choice.

His interest in news of the north was intense. In nearly three years with CP he wrote many stories on bravery and effort of sub-Arctic explorers; about lost aircraft and the search for them; about northern communities, whaling, and such exotic delicacies as beaver-tail soup.

It was typical of the 31-year-old newspaper man that he should make a flight beyong the Arctic circle a part of his summer vacation. He could not know that, with 20 others, he would crash to death in Northern Manitoba aboard the RCAF plane upon which he had set out with high hopes of "good stories."

He died as he would have wished. His last message — from Churchill—said: "Weather delaying flight somewhat, but story possibilities so far good."

All Over Arctic

During the ill-starred flight to gather material for a series of articles, he went north from Churchill to Coral Harbor in Southampton Island and Clyde River, about 300 miles north of the Arctic circle.

Aveson was born in Winnipeg and began his newspaper career as a reporter with the St. James Leader, a Manitoba weekly. He spent five years as a reporter on the Winnipeg Free Press and enlisted in the Second World War as an army public relations officer. He served in Winnipeg, Fort William and Ottawa until his demobilization.

After a brief stint with the Free Press he joined the British United Press and became manager of its Winnipeg office. He resigned early in 1946 to become managing editor of the Mid-Ocean and News in Hamilton, Bermuda.

Later that year he returned to Canada and joined The Canadian Press at its Winnipeg bureau.

He was married in 1947 to the former Norine Burnett of Brandon. They had no children. His widowed mother also lives in Brandon.

UN Recommends Nepal

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 24 (CP)—The Security Council's 11-country membership committee Tuesday recommended that Nepal be admitted in the United Nations. Russia and the Soviet Ukraine cast the only negative votes. This indicated that a Soviet veto might be forthcoming when the application is acted upon by the Security Council.

Elderly Woman Fractures Hip

Mrs. Robert Sedgewick, elderly resident of Hastings, fell from her verandah Tuesday and fractured her hip. She was brought to Civic Hospital in Peterborough where her condition is reported as good.

Robert Anderson, 53, R.R. 1, Pontypool, fractured his leg Tuesday afternoon and was brought to the Civic Hospital where officials report his condition as good. He was skidding logs when one log bounced back cracking his leg.

A South Monaghan youth, 19-year-old Neil Huggins, was badly bruised in a fall from a ladder on which he was working. It is thought no bones were broken.

Also brought to Civic Hospital Tuesday was Mrs. Herbert Hoard, Havelock, who fractured her arm in a fall.

Quebec Holiday Inspires Plan To Establish New Art Centre

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

STE. ADELE, Que., Aug. 24 (CP).—Because she never takes herself "seriously," Pauline Rochon now can joke about that day, scarcely two months ago—when everything went wrong.

It was the opening of Centre d'Art, a summer school of fine arts which the gay, energetic woman has founded in this Laurentian town.

Suddenly, a team of horses was needed to cart the piano around the lake. Then lightning struck the chalet where the painting-teacher had set up headquarters.

It was enough to shatter the nerves of the most stout-hearted person, but Miss Rochon shrugged her shoulders and went to work.

Horses were found and the piano taken to the skiers' shelter on nearby Lac Rond, where the school's ballet classes were to be held. And the lightning actually did little damage to the cottage where the Montreal artist, Agnes Lefort, had set up a studio for her art classes.

"You see I never worry and everything usually turns out all right," said Miss Rochon. Her brown eyes twinkled. "It took a little while, but now I'm beginning to see the humorous side."

A tremendous belief in this country's cultural future, plus a sensitive appreciation for the work Canadian artists are doing, has directed the life of this Ottawa-born connoisseur of the arts.

"I've always been interested in artists and had them as friends," she said, admitting to doing a bit of sketching herself. "But, please don't call me an artist. I can sketch the features of a person, but my ability for doing that is more a question of temperament and psychology."

Four years ago while living in Tilbury, Ont., Miss Rochon came on holiday to this [illegible] French-Canadian town which lies 50 miles northwest of Montreal.

"I always had an idea in the back of my mind that I wanted a centre given over to the teaching of fine arts," she said. "And I had wanted a shop specializing in Canadian handicrafts."

The shop came first. A little more than three years ago it was opened in Miss Rochon's pink-roofed cottage which fronts the main street.

Painting by Canadian artists, jewelry and garments fashioned by residents from Ste. Adele, and from other parts of the province, have made "La Pelerine" the show-place of the town. La Pelerine is the French word for "cape," and also for "pilgrim."

Actually she chose the name [illegible] played prominently in the store. It was part of her grandmother's trousseau.

La Pelerine has been successful, and Miss Rochon hopes that Centre d'Art will grow, also to become a part of life in this picturesque town which in both winter and summer caters to the tastes of Canadian and American tourists.

Uniteds Capture Opener Over Kingston In OASA

KINGSTON, Aug. 23.—Kingston's red-suited Canadian Legion team had Peterborough Uniteds' Lefty Reid practically on the ropes in the ninth inning last evening, but couldn't push across the tying and winning runs. The Uniteds won 8-7 in this first game of the best-of-three, OASA senior "B" playoff round between the two clubs.

Peterborough had plenty of power at the plate, driving southpaw Harvey Robinson from the mound with a four-run uprising in the fifth which won the ball game for them. Bill Warwick, thereafter held the potent invaders pretty well in check except for Jake Wade, who pounded out a total of four hits during the evening, including his first frame homer which sparked a three-run United onslaught.

Although mighty at the bat, the Petes also proved they could be sloppy in the field. Four infield errors in the third inning gave the Legionnaires six unearned runs. There were only two safe hits during that base parade, a beautiful bunt by Keith Belwa and little Eric Ball's home run which drove home three markers. Big Johnny Armstrong hit for the circuit in the eighth to leave Uniteds ahead by only one run.

Then came the thrilling ninth. With one out, Warwick singled off Douglas' leg. Tommy Banks, 40-year-old Legion third sacker, beat out his third hit, after having bunted perfectly twice. The runners moved up as Belwa was thrown out but were left stranded when Bud Harrison made a magnificent throw to first to retire George Rawley after the ball had been muffed by Douglas.

Manager John Addy and Rawley pulled off fielding gems for the losers while Harrison made nearly everything look easy at shortstop in handling eight chances. Sullivan was also kept busy at second but muffed a pair in the painful third.

Civic Softballers Put On Twin Bill

A special Softball Night is being put on by the Civic Softball League this Thursday night at the Bowl. At seven, Co-Ops play Grant & Loucks, the former team having this lineup: Doris, Coulter, Trayling, McLean, McAuliffe, Vyse, Edmondson, Mcwick, Creighton. The Grant & Loucks team is: Riches, Byers, Russelle, Chenier, Dracup, Doucette, Gauthier, Little, Craig. In the second game, Bell Telephone plays League All Stars, the latter being: Shine, Fife, Strickland, Eady, Robinson, Parnell, Corkery, Kenneally, Panter, Jamieson, Brown, Conlin, Anderson, Dummitt, Close and Stillman.

The Bell team includes: Harrison, Gillespie, Conway, Conroy, Wood, Ackford, Tushingham, Boyce, Greatrix and James. Bell is third now, while the top two teams are in the opening game Thursday. Jack Dane is in charge of ceremonies for the big twin bill and a dozen good prizes are up for a draw at this time.

Woollens Victors

"Hooks" Doris led his Woollens to a neat 2-1 win over the Raybestos in the first game of the Industrial League semi-finals. Maio matched Doris in a great pitchers' battle but was lifted in the eighth and replaced by Nichols. Woollens scored a run early and led 1-0 until the fifth when the Rays tied it up 1-1. The game was won in the ninth when Schell drove Dutchie Manbeck home with the winning run to end up 2-1. Both clubs played great ball in the field with McMillan starting two fast double plays to feature the fielding. Lineups:

Dominion Woollens: Manbeck, 1b; MacDougal, 2b; Schell, ss; McMillan, 3b; Burton, r; Berry, rf; Armstrong, cf; snow, lf; Wechorek, c; Doris, p.

Raybestos: Murphy, 1b; Maudsley, 2b; Tindall, ss; Simpson, 3b; Crompton, r; Stuart, lf; Nichols, cf and p; Parsons, rf, Giles, 3b; Maio, p.

Locals Slip OLA Loss To Huntsville

Ontario Lacrosse Association playoffs came to Peterborough last night for the first time this season with Huntsville juveniles bowing to the Peterborough juveniles All-Stars 13 to 7. This was the first game of a home and home series with goals to count on the round. The Petes play the return game in Huntsville on Saturday and carry a sixgoal lead on the round.

At the end of the first period the score was 2 to 1 in favor of the Petes. In the second frame the Petes notched seven goals without a reply from the visitors. The score at half time was Petes 9, Huntsville 1.

In the third and fourth quarters the Petes' back checking was spotty with the result that Huntsville outscored them 6 to 4 Fortunately they had built up a fairly comfortable lead in the second quarter and the final score stood at Petes 13, Huntsville 7.

B. Robinson and J. Heffernan each scored four for the Petes, Foster two and Mullen, Batley and G. Robinson singles. Nicholls was outstanding in goal for the Petes.

Petes—Nicholls, Burns, H. Burns, Foster, Batley, Allen, Robinson, Crough, Fitzgerald, Mullen, Heffernan, Hickson, McIlmoyle, Vincent, G. Robinson.

Huntsville — Woods, Bennett, Malloy, Davis, Inkster, Smith, Murr, Cassidy, Bennett, Seaton, Langridge, Averee, Niskaner.

Referees—G. Hamilton, (Huntsville), and J. Whitnall, (Peterborough).

Petes Winners By 8 to 7 Over Oldsters

The Petes pulled out an 8-7 win over the local COBL Oldtimers before less than 300 fans at Riverside Park last night in a benefit baseball exhibition for the minor ballisters. Paul Estlick's homer in the last of the seventh of a seven-inning tussle broke the deadlock. It was a rather interesting tilt with quite a few Peterborough old-time seniors taking part and some looking surprisingly good for being away from the diamond so long.

Al Heckman started on the mound for the veterans with Mayor Max Swanston catching. Frank Whitehouse later took a turn on the slab, followed by Lefty Billingsley and then Scotty Maudsley, all going well for flingers past their prime and not in training. Young Hap Harrison, Jr, aged 15, finished it up for them. Whitehill, Edger and Estlick pitched for the Petes. Some good hitting and fielding were seen in spots, and the fans were well satisfied with the close exhibition.

The teams:

Old-timers — Holyman ss, A. Clark ss, Kingdon 2b, Heckman p, Whitehouse p, Cadd rf, 1b, Harrison 1b, Ash 1b, Maudsley p, Batten 3b, Dinesen rf, Hall cf, Russelle lf, Billingsley rf p, Swanston c, Girard c, E. Murphy 3b.

Petes—Garvey 2b, Lowrey cf, Brown ss, Wilson rf, Foley lf, Stewart 1b, Estlick 3b, Fitzgerald c, Whitehill p, Edger p, Menzies 2b.

Old-timers — 200 040 1—7 9 2
Petes ..... 110 302 1—8 12 3

Umpires—Kay and Calladine.

Phil Marchildon Raring To Go

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—(CP)—Phil Marchildon, once ace hurler for Philadelphia Athletics, is rarin' to go again.

After almost two full seasons of arm trouble, the Penetanguishene, Ont., right-hander says his shoulder has responded well to treatment and he wants to get back on the list as a starter for Connie Mack.

Penetang Phil, who won nine against 15 losses last season, started medical treatment right after play began this spring. His shoulder acted up the first game he pitched and that contest is the only one that shows on his record this season—no wins, one loss.

But the sleepy-eyed slinger worked six innings against Cleveland a few weeks ago as a reliever and said his sore wing "just felt fine."

"I shut 'em out for that stretch and I'm anxious to get back to work now," he said while he downed a huge breakfast. "Four doctors have been working on me and each one has seemed to do some good.

"Anyway I've been out there throwing the ball and I figure maybe I'm still good for another two to five years."

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Bob Buchanan, secretary of the match and handicap committee informs us that the city golf championship will be decided in 36 holes of play, 18 this Sunday left at Kawartha and 18 at the Peterborough links on Sept. 11. Play starts at one p.m. this week-end out at Kawartha, and the list of eligible golfers and their starting times is published tonight. Cream of the local golf crop will participate, including the defending champ, Stan Whiddon of Kawartha. Those taking part should clip that draw as we won't be able to repeat it near the end of the week owing to excess copy these days.

City Ball Loop champs are now in OBA playdowns, being drawn in the first round against Oshawa. The Motor City midgets tangle here tonight with East City at 6.15 in Riverside, return tilt being in their Lakeview Park at 3.00 p.m. Saturday. Our southend juves go to Oshawa tonight, with thereturn tussle here Friday p.m. Tomorrow, Oshawa bantams play Ray Pammett's East City Jaycees at 6.15 in Riverside, second scrap being in Alexandra Park at 4.15 Saturday. East City peewees are in playdowns later. Looks like the Ashburnham boys did okay this semester locally, taking three of four series. Ball fans should come out and support the boys in OBA competition.

Quite A Close Shave

The Oldtimers gave the Petes a good run for it ere the latter won 8-7 in the exhibition ball game at Riverside last eve in aid of minor ball. Not too many attended, but more than a hundred bucks will be realized for the youngsters, and that's a help. A good game, too, for an exhibition, the veterans for the most part showing they have some diamond skill left after all these years. Don't forget many haven't played for 20 years and aren't in training by any means. Neither side worked too hard, but they put on a neat show for a good cause. And quite a few saw action in various positions.

* * * * * *

We'd like to pay tribute to these veterans who were willing to come out to help the kids. Some travelled here from out of town. Fellows like Mayor Max Swanston, Hap Harrison, Tommy Holyman, Frank Whitehouse of the 20s, and a flock of stars of the 30s, as well as those of more recent vintage, they all rate a bouquet. So does Ed Murphy for staging the tilt, and the Petes. As well as the fans who paid their shot to help out. All were satisfied, though a bigger crowd should have seen it. The oldtimers had a right good re-union on the bench, re-living hectic games of other years. Umpire Alex Kay thoroughly enjoyed the whole proceedings.

Uniteds Go One Up

Uniteds came through nicely in Kingston last gloaming as they staved off a late Legion drive to win 8-7 to open their best-of-three OASA senior "B" playdown series. Next one is here at 8.30 p.m. Saturday in the Bowl. Lefty Reid turned in a neat chore, six of the Kingston runs being unearned and the result of Uniteds' errors. The Fontaine-Hancock fellows, showed their oldtime power at the plate, Jake Wade hitting four for five, one a homer, as White, Reid and Scriver each came up with two safe blows, many of the visitors' bingles being for extra bases. Bud Harrison was plenty classy out there at short again. Kingston has a good club and it'll be a tight series yet, we imagine.

* * * * * *

And the lacrosse picture. The Petes popped off to Hamilton again last e'en to pick up a postponed tilt, but they dropped it 17-7 as Blain McDonald scored five goals and Jack Dorney three. The leading local sniper was Dootch Vitarelli with a pair of counters. Fortunately, Brampton took Weston 17-10 so the Creighton crew are still in sixth spot by a point. They end their OLA senior "A" schedule here Friday against St. Kitts. Our juvenile all-stars took Huntsville 13-7 here last p.m. and will tote a six-goal lead into the return OLA number next Tuesday, as Huntsville can't get place to play Saturday. Our bantams and midgets are off to Orillia this eve and here on Saturday. Americans and Irwin-Godson have a local midget final at 6.15 tomorrow night in Miller Bowl. By the way, Carl Madgett of Brampton is believed to be a polio victim.

Minor Lacrosse

All Saints and J. K. Hughes tied 7-7 in the second game of their bantam PMLA playoffs, and they will meet again next week. Kearns led the attack for All Saints with five goals Bloom getting two and an assist. Hunt topped the other side with three goals and an assist, as Cullen counted two and aided on one, Ryan and Chambers scoring one each and Orde having an assist. Teams:

All Saints—Sutherland, Bloom, Delahaye, Johnson, Kearns, Heard, Merrett, O'Connell, and Drury

Hughes — Hobart, Cullen, Ryan Hunt, Boyce, Rollie, Orde, Ferren and Chambers.

Referee—F. McMasters.

Queen's juveniles won their opener 10-7 over Silver's in the finals and they go again to-morrow night at seven. Fitzgerald, Robinson and Hickson stood out for the winners, as Vincent, Belsey and Crowley were best for the losers. Fitzgerald had three goals and an assist, with Robinson leading with five and two, as Collins and Burns each got a goal and Heffernan an assist. For Silver's, two goals were counted by Belsey and Vincent, the latter having a two-stitch cut, Batley got three assists, O'Donnel a goal and an assist, and McConnachie and Collins a goal each.

Re-appoint Jim Ether Coach Of Diesels

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 24—Jim Ether has been re-appointed coach of Belleville's OHA senior "B" hockey representatives, the CNR Diesels, for the coming season. This was announced Tuesday by Harper S. McIlrath, chairman of CNR Athletic Association. "Mac" Carson will continue as manager while Archer Charlton will serve as trainer.

Other members of the hockey committee include Al. Wardhaugh, Jack Dawl, Bill Mattis, Walter Buskard, Doc Doherty.

Diesels, defending champions in the Belleville and District Hockey League, will compete in the district league again this year as well as the OHA senior "B" race. They went through the regular OHA schedule undefeated last season but bowed to the Kingston Nylons in the group playdowns.

Tigers Hand Reverse To The Petes

By The Canadian Press.

The league-leading Brampton Excelsiors are going to be a tough squad to stop in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior race.

The powerful Excelsiors Tuesday night strengthened their hold on first place by defeating the last-place Weston Lions 17-10 at Brampton.

In another game, Hamilton Tigers scored their second victory in as many nights over the Peterborough Petes by defeating them 17-7

At Brampton, 10 penalties were meted out, including a match misconduct to Bobby Hilson of the Excelsiors. The winners took a 2-1 lead early in the first quarter and never lost it.

Elmer Taylor and Arch Browning took the scoring honors with four goals apiece, which Cruikshanks, Steele and Garbutt registered two each.

At Hamilton Blain McDonald played a standout game for the Tigers as he rammed in five goals. Jack Dorney followed up with three. Dootch Vitarelli paced the Petes with two counters.

Belloise, Robinson Clash In 10 Rounds

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP) — Middleweight contender Steve Belloise tonight pits the power of his mighty right against the all-around brilliance of welterweight champion Ray Robinson in a non-title 10-rounder in Yankee Stadium.

The fight shapes up as a first class punching party with Belloise set to come roaring out in the hopes of landing an early knockout.

The chances of the 30-year-old Belloise hinge on his getting in a hard blow quickly. If not he's liable to run out of gas against the clever, stiff-hitting welter boss. No one ever has kayoed Sugar Ray and the bookmakers don't think Belloise will either.

Buffalo Bows To Chiefs In 7-2 Triumph

By The Associated Press

Pitching records sometimes are no criterion of the value of a hurler.

Take the case of Mike Schultz.

Schultz has a 2-8 record for Syracuse Chiefs, gained mostly in relief roles with the pennant-contending Rochester Red Wings who purchased him some time ago.

However, manager Johnny Keane liked the way the southpaw worked against his Red Wings and planned to use Schultz as his No. 1 relief pitcher but it looks as if Mike's bull pen days are over.

Schultz started and beat Jersey City last week and Tuesday night, in his second start, he turned back the pace-setting Buffalo Bisons 7-2 on a neat six-hitter. The victory enabled the second-place Red Wings to pull to within 3½ games of the Bisons.

Catcher Johnny Bucha and shortstop Al Stringer paced Rochester's 14-hit attack against Alex Carrasquel and three relief tossers. Bucha slammed a pair of homers and Stringer clouted four doubles to set a modern International League scoring record.

Down Giants

Syracuse pounded out a 16-9 triumph over the third-place Jersey City Giants. The Chiefs concentrated their scoring in two innings, the sixth when they tallied six runs and the eighth when they scored ten. Frankie Drews and Ray Lamanno with three blows each led the drive.

Toronto Maple Leafs maintained their one-game, fourth-place edge over Montreal Royals by dividing a twin bill with their Canadian rivals. The Leafs won the opener 8-5 with a six-run, seventh-inning rally but lost the finale 7-3.

Bill Glynn featured the Toronto triumph with a grand slam homer off Johnny Van Cuyk. Clarence Podbielan checked the Leafs on eight hits in the windup.

Baltimore Orioles came from behind and nipped the tail-end Newark Bears 8-5. Homers by Woyt, Ken Wood and Jeep Handley wiped out a 5-0 Newark lead.

Dodgers Dump Cards 4-3 Preacher Roe Saves Bacon

By RALPH RODEN,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Pennant talk is blooming in Brooklyn again.

Preacher Roe, 31-year-old left-hander of the Dodgers, is responsible for the fanning of the Dodger pennant flames.

The Dodger outlook was indeed gloomy until Roe, working with only two days' rest, beat the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 before 30,642 fans at Ebbets Field Tuesday night in the second half of a day-night doubleheader.

Stan Musial and associates took the afternoon game 5-3 to move three games ahead of the Brooks, extend a Brooklyn losing streak to four games and bring the undertaker to the door.

Roe, who usually receives six to seven days' rest between starts was thrown into the breach by a desperate Burt Shotton and he came through brilliantly. Failure would have dumped the Brooks four games off the pace of the snarling Missourians.

A Bad Start

Old Preach, a former Red Bird, got off to a rocky start. Musial tagged him for a two-run homer in the first inning. The blow was the Card star's 22nd.

The victory was Roe's 10th. He has four defeats.

Musial and Slaughter teamed to bat the Cards to victory in the opener. Musial laced out a homer and single and slaughter contributed a triple, double and single to the Cards' eight-hit attack. Stocky Ted Wilks was the winner and Joe Hatton the loser.

Big Don Newcombe will attempt to bring the Dodgers closer to the Red Birds in the series finale today. Either Red Munger or Al Brazle will work for the Cards.

Tigers Lace Yanks

Meanwhile, all three pennant contenders in the American League race were defeated. The league-leading New York Yankees were thrashed 8-4 by the Tigers in a day game at Detroit The runner-up Boston Red Sox were upset by the seventh-place Browns 5-4 at St. Louis. The third place Cleveland Indians bowed 4-2 to the tail-end Washington Senators in Cleveland.

Lefty Hal Newhouser, with the aid of home runs by Pat Mullin, Vic Wertz and Eddie Lake stopped the Yanks. The triumph was his 13th.

Jack Graham's 20th home run of the season ruined the Red Sox Graham connected with one on in the eighth off young Chuck Stobbs to enable the Browns to overcome a 4-3 deficit.

Rae Scarborough cooled off the Indians, yielding only six hits to snap Washington's 11-game losing streak. Bob Lemon was the loser.

Philadelphia Athletics retained fourth place, one percentage point ahead of Detroit, as Joe Coleman pitched and helped bat the A's to a 4-2 victory over the White Sox.

Smacks First Homer

Coleman socked his first major league homer with one on to feature a three-run, second-inning uprising against little Mickey Haefner.

Boston Braves protected their one game, third place lead over Philadelphia Phillies in the National, defeating Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2, while the Phils edged Cincinnati Reds 4-3 in 13 innings.

Johnny Sain posted his tenth triumph and the Braves' fourth straight as he checked the Pirates on six safeties. The Braves wrapped up the game with a pair of runs in the seventh and eighth innings.

Richie Ashburn's fly ball enabled Andy Seminick to score from third after the catch with the Phils' payoff run. Rob Roberts was the winner and Kent Peterson the loser.

In New York, Chicago Cubs barely outlasted the Giants 7-5 after Doyle Lade had pitched a two-hit shutout for eight innings. With five runs in and the bases loaded in the ninth, reliever Bob Muncrief got Bobby Thomson to hit into a force play for the final out and save Lade's third triumph.

Jobless Miners Find Work Berry Picking

QUEBEC, Aug. 24 (CP) — An abundant blueberry crop is bringing a welcome jingle to the pants-pockets of unemployed in mining and lumbering districts of Northern Quebec this year.

The harvest, now in full swing, will probably produce more than 10,000,000 pounds of blueberries currently selling for about 16 cents a pound in the United States.

Some Northwestern Quebec miners who have lost their regular jobs and Northeastern Quebec lumberjacks, hard up for work, have taken to the berry patches for the $5 to $10 a day they can make there in the six-week season.

The blueberry season usually starts early in August, lasting until the first frost in September. This year the berries were ripe early, the last week in July, and a much better crop than last year's 9,286,077 pounds is expected.

The employment market in the blueberry zones spread from Abitibi along the St. Lawrence north shore as far as Sept Iles, 300 miles below Quebec, is affecting the picking population.

Two or three years ago, hundreds of family groups closed up their homes and moved into the blueberry country in trucks and carts for a profitable picking holiday.

This year more of the people in the tents and shacks set up in the berry patches are men without other jobs.

In Abitibi they get about $1.25 for a 17-pound basket they're able to fill three or four times a day. In Lake St. John the price is about $2.00 for a 22-pound box.

Pickers equipped with "combs," a mechanical picking device, work about twice as fast as people picking by hand. They fill five or six 22-pound boxes a day.

History Of World Currency Crisis Outlined In Government Bulletin

By The Canadian Press.

To many Canadians, the world's colossal currency puzzle is just that—a puzzle.

Daily talk of the sterling-dollar crisis often seems abstract because the ups and downs of world economy usually follow a tortuous and well-hidden trail before they hit the average Canadian where he feels it—in the pocketbook.

With discussion of the crisis slated for Washington in September at a conference attended by US, Canadian and United Kingdom government representatives, the External Affairs Department has come up with timely explanation of the whole problem.

Published in the Department's monthly bulletin, the article is called "the sterling-dollar crisis: Canada's concern."

"Britain's dollar shortage is not new, and it is but one facet of a world-wide condition," the bulletin says. "There are very few countries which earn as many United States dollars as they would like to spend in that country.

Particularly Hit

"But the United Kingdom is particularly hard hit by this situation because of her very great reliance on imports from North America and from other countries which demand dollars in payment."

Despite a remarkable recovery in UK production and exports last year, there had been in 1949 renewed and serious decline in reserves of gold and dollars which the UK maintains on behalf of the whole sterling area.

If the drain on these reserves continued at the rate experienced in the first half of this year, they would be exhausted in less than a year.

The purpose of the financial talks in London and Washington will be to consider solutions of this problem.

In the meantime, however, since immediate action was thought necessary, a cut of 25 per cent in British dollar imports has been announced, and other sterling countries have indicated they will take similar action.

This will inevitably affect certain Canadian industries and Canada's earnings of US dollars.

Other Factors

Many factors had contributed to the recent worsening of the British position. Some other members of the sterling area had been drawing more heavily on the central reserves than was anticipated. The prices of some colonial products had fallen heavily in the US.

The US government was temporarily unable to continue its purchases of some products for its strategic stock-piles. The business recession in the US resulted in some reduction or postponement of purchases from abroad. Rumors of currency adjustments produced other postponements

But while all this was going on, Britain had to buy just as much as ever from abroad.

Movie Business Picking Up, Coleman Works

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24—(AP) —The movie business is picking up. Here's how you can tell—Ronald Colman is working again.

The distinguished actor admits he is a sort of barometer of the film industry. He has spent most of his long career as a freelancer.

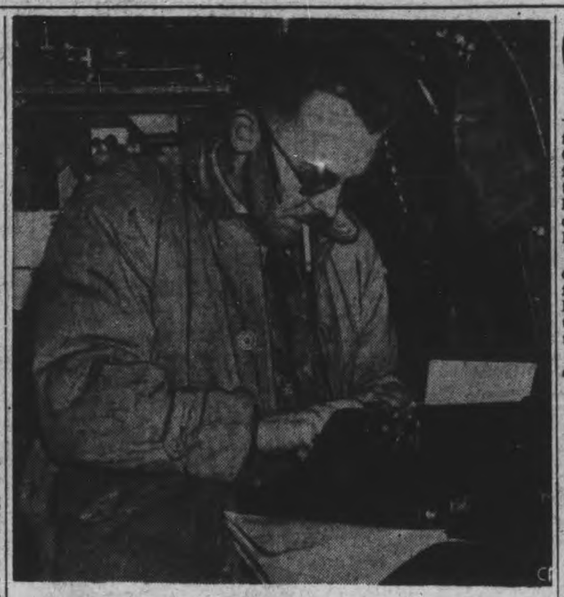
"When business becomes poor, it naturally slows down the freelance field," he told me, 'Studios seek ways to save money and don't buy as many new stories, preferring to use the scripts off the shelf. This means fewer good pictures to choose from.

"Also the studios try to save money by using their own contract players and avoiding freelancers."

In such times as these, Colman relaxes and takes life easy.

"I can find plenty to do," he said, "and I'd rather not work in films for a year than do something I don't like. If I undertake something I know is inferior, I can have no enthusiasm for the work. This shows on the screen, and can kill one's popularity."

Colman has been through many Hollywood depressions, but opined that this last one was probably the worst. "It had more far-reaching effects, because of the loss of the foreign market," he remarked.



The actor waited two years before following up his academy award for "A Double Life" in 1947. He is making his return in a zany comedy, "Champagne for Caesar," in which he plays a savant who knows all the answers on an air quiz show.

Colman has remained a star since he made "White Sister" 27 years ago and he's rather proud of his record. I asked him if he thought he'd ever retire permanently.

"No," he replied in his melodious voice, "I'll probably keep going on as long as they want me. Or until I collapse."

Improve Railways

BOMBAY, (CP) — India's railways received another boost recently in their plans for improved rail traffic. Thirty-three streamlined passenger locomotives have arrived from the United States, the second consignment in an order for 100 locomotives.

PLANE CRASH VICTIM—Jack Aveson of Winnipeg, 31-year-old reporter for The Canadian Press, was one of 21 persons aboard an RCAF aircraft which crashed and burned while flying from Churchill, Man., to Winnipeg. Aveson, who specialized in stories of searches for wrecked aircraft in the north, is shown as he flew on another northern assignment — Operation Attache — in September, 1948. Airmen who found the burnt wreckage of the twin-engined Canso, which was carrying Aveson and his companions from Churchill, reported there were no survivors.

Tail Setting Upsets Society

OTTAWA, Aug. 24 (CP) — The Humane Society will continue to press a campaign against the central Canada exhibition's decisions to allow horses with tail sets in the horse show entries, Captain G. A. Youle, Ottawa society president, said tonight.

He added, however, that no court action will be taken against exhibition authorities.

Two stiff protests—one from the Humane Society and a second from the Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals—have been sent to exhibition heads, describing tail-setting as a "barbarous practice."

An operation is required for tail-setting and it involves the cutting of two muscles on the underside of the tail. The sets, applied after the operation, keeps the tail arched.

"The Humane Societies are quite sure the tail-setting operations are performed behind the scenes in a cruel manner," Captain Youle said. "The best veterinarians won't do it. We're convinced that often it's the stable hand that performs the operation."

Seek Child In Forest

McGREGOR, Mich., Aug. 24—(AP)—Fears increased Tuesday night that a mist-shrouded Northern Minnesota forest has become the tomb of little Larry Coleman. Searchers, however, pressed an inch-by-inch hunt of five square miles of dense wood and swamp land around a farm where the three-year-old was last seen about 72 hours ago. Larry went picking pine cones with an older brother and sister, but became separated from them. Residents said bears have been seen in the area recently and wolves also have been reported.

Can Buy Farms For Only $500

KAPUSKASING, Aug. 24 (CP) —There are uninhabited farms in the Cochrane district of Northern Ontario which can be purchased for as little as $500, the conservation committee of the Ontario legislature heard in a brief Tuesday. Taxes on these farms are as low as $16 a year.

The committee—set up to report on soil erosion, soil fertility, reforestation and flood control—held hearings in Matheson and Cochrane and then toured the district to see abandoned farms.

The briefs, presented by various organizations, suggested government action to get the farms back into operation.

Reasons for the farms being deserted included a suggestion that residents chased away by a fire which swept through the north 30 years ago never returned.

Another was that high wages paid in the pulp and paper industry and better working conditions in factories in the south induced many of the settlers to leave.

Oldest Indian Dies

FORT WILLIAM, Aug. 24 — (CP)—Believed to be the oldest Indian in northwestern Ontario, John Shibobiman, about 102, died here Monday after a two-day illness. A member of the Gull Bay tribe, he had lived at the Kashabowie Reserve for the last 82 years. Although he received food and clothing allowances from the Indian Department, he did not apply for an old-age pension until last Sunday.

Test New Aircraft

TORONTO, Aug. 24—(CP)—A new type of light utility aircraft, designed and built by three brothers from Kenaston, Sask., was tested here Tuesday. The brothers—Mickey Found, 33, a TCA pilot, Gray, 29, and Bud, 25—took their plane 3,000 feet up and remained in the air more than half an hour. Weighing 2,150 pounds, the small aircraft had a cruising range of 500 miles at a speed of 150 miles an hour.

Call Off Mine Strike

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP) — Yorkshire coal-mine elevator operators bowed Tuesday night to the wishes of union chieftains and decided to call off their crippling four-day wildcat strike for higher pay. Union officials who attended a meeting of the Yorkshire workers said the men made the decision "to avoid further serious embarrassment to the country's recovery." The Lancashire branch of the union, which is also on strike, was called into session to consider similar action.

Canon W. Fuller Bishop-elect Of Saskatoon

The new Bishop of the Anglican Diocese of Saskatoon is the Very Rev. Canon Wilfred E. Fuller, Dean of St. John's Cathedral in Saskatoon and a former resident of Peterborough.

He succeeds Bishop W. T. Hallan, who resigned in June to become assistant Bishop of the Huron Diocese.

Bishop-Elect Fuller was elected to his new post on Tuesday at a special session of the Diocesan Synod in Saskatoon.

Born 49 years ago in Peterborough, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh S. Fuller of Stewart St., he attended South Central school and matriculated from Peterborough Collegiate. Later he took a special course at Hamilton High school.

In 1916 at the age of 16 he enlisted in the 93rd Batt., recruited in Peterborough and he saw active service in the war zone as an Intelligence Officer. In the Second World War Bishop-Elect Fuller was a padre in the RCN, serving at the training depot in Saskatoon.

His first parish was in Campbellton, N.B., and while in the Maritimes he also became rector of St. James' Anglican church in Arndale, a Halifax suburb.

At one time he was a member of the Board of Governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, succeeding Col. Wilfrid Bovey on the latter's resignation.

In 1942 he was called to St. John's Cathedral in Saskatoon and later was made Dean of the Cathedral.

Claims Assault Robbed Of $105

Two stories of how he was knocked down and robbed of $105 early today were given to Peterborough city police and detectives by Raymond Sanderson of Port Hope.

Sanderson was taken to Civic Hospital where he was treated by Dr. J. M. O'Brien who reported Sanderson was suffering concussion and cuts and scrapes on the face. He was partly unconscious when admitted to hospital about 2 a.m. but regained consciousness during the night.

Sanderson told police last night he had come here to buy some electrical equipment. During the evening he visited several beverage rooms and each time noticed two men. Later they told him they had a bottle of liquor and invited him out for a drink. They took him along the CPR tracks west of George St. and hit him over the head.

This morning Sanderson told Detective Sergeant John Stevenson he had been in a downtown restaurant and had seen two men there. They followed him as he walked down the CPR tracks toward his brother's home and tackled him, knocking him down.

Wilfrid G. Woodcock Wins Board's $500 Scholarship

Winner of this year's Board of Education Scholarship of $500. for students of the PCVS who hope to go to university is Wilfrid G. Woodcock, 18, of 291 Reid St. He received the highest aggregate marks of any students of Grade XIII whose application for the scholarship met with the regulations set down by the Board of Education.

WILFRID G. WOODCOCK

Wilfrid is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Woodcock who have been Peterborough residents since 1941. He received the first six years of his primary education at Napanee; later when the family moved to Peterborough he attended Queen Mary School and he received his Entrance at Prince of Wales.

His academic abilities were best shown in mathematics and sciences where he gained First Class Honors. He has been accepted at Queen's University enrolling in the Faculty of Applied Sciences.

His ultimate goal is the research end of electrical engineering.

Twice previously Wilfrid won scholarships. In both Grades Eight and Nine he won Scholarships.

When the good news of the Board of Education award arrived at his home the young student was not there. For the summer months he has taken a job with the CPR, travelling around painting railway stations.

On Tuesday morning his mother forwarded the news of his prize to his last address, and it is expected that he has received word by now.

There is room for more than academic studies in Wilfrid's school life. Last year, apart from topping his grade, he was also an active member of the Senior Rugby team that won the COSSA championship. Rugby is his favorite game but he is also proficient at basketball and lacrosse.

He was also on the C'Est a Rire Committee of the school magazine.

Wilfrid's father is a machinist at the Outboard Marine Co. He has two sisters—Dorothy, 16, in her fourth year at PCVS, and Barbara, 12, in Grade VIII, Prince of Wales. His brother Murray, 5, will get his first taste of school life this Fall when he enters kindergarten.

Glover Paintings In Toronto

A Peterborough boy on the publicity staff of Odeon Theatres headquarters in Toronto as a commercial artist is attracting considerable comment for his paintings on view in the lobby of the large Odeon at College street, Toronto. He is Lyle Glover, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Glover of 182 Reid Street. His father, who is employed at the Peterborough Trent Canal office, is an amateur photographer of considerable skill.

Lotta Dempsey, reporting the exhibit in the Toronto Globe and Mail says: "There is a strange quality about the Blues painting Lyle Glover has done. There are some very striking canvases that may or may not be collectors' items, but that would certainly find a welcome place on our walls."

Paintings being shown by Mr. Glover are Burgundy Street Blues, the Lonesome Blues and Across the Track Blues. 'Lotta Dempsey says of them: "All in semi-darkness, with forlorn looking figures (of a single boy in each case, colored) gazing into shadowy skylines. The paintings have all the lonely yearning of the music which the artist has sought, we imagine, to reproduce in paint."

The Glover paintings are part of a collection being shown in Odeon theatre lobbies in line with a company policy to relate cinematographic and pictorial arts, as well as to ornament the theatres.

Petted Strange Dog Man Bitten On Cheek

Fondling a strange dog early in the morning can lead to disaster, Willard Ward, 158 Charlotte St., found at 1:15 a.m. today.

Ward was walking along Simcoe St. when he met a collie dog being led on a leash by its owner James R. K. Brayling, Toronto. He petted the dog and then put his arm around its neck. The dog resented the familiarity and bit him viciously on the cheek and arm. He may have a permanent scar from the wounds.

He was treated by Dr. J. M. O'Brien, but refused to be taken to hospital. Both men had been drinking, police reported.

Brayling later asked for lodging at the police station and his dog was locked up for the night.

George Paxman for 44 Years Director of the Exhibition

George Paxman, chairman of the poultry section of the Exhibition, was contemplating today the prospect of terminating his long service with the Board. He has been a director 44 years, if the eight dormant years of the suspension of the Exhibition during the war, may be counted in that span. With its revival under the leadership of Hugh Stewart, the directors naturally and as by custom turned the poultry section back to Mr. Paxman with his committee assistants, Morgan Brown, Fred Robson and Robert Hope.

"I suppose it is like the show business," Mr. Paxman remarked to the Examiner. "The day comes when it begins to dawn on you that you have been around a long time.

"And the thought comes to you that retirment is approaching, and you might as well do something about it."

In that thinking, "Paxy" was only briefly looking ahead to 1950. His enthusiasm for the poultry show was still as keenly in the present as ever, but now and then he would recall various judges who had been engaged in years gone by for both the Exhibition and the winter poultry show in the market hall, and he realized that most of them were gone.

Have Good Show

"We've a good show, and you ought to come around to see it," Mr. Paxman said, "but you have to consider that the big Ottawa Exhibition is on this week, and breeders that would probably have come to Peterborough if we had some other dates have gone on to the capital. Morgan Brown divided his birds between Peterborough and Ottawa. Frank Andrews of Norwood has a fine display of water fowl."

Mr. Paxman has become gradually reconciled to the fact that many of the poultry show men went out of that business, probably concentrating on production.

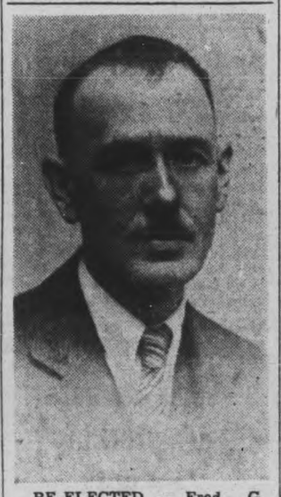
"They bought cars, and that required garages, and the change slowly came about."

Production in the poultry phase of farming means specializing on fowl which the market demands. There is the hatchery business in itself supplying chicks for those who raise flocks both for eggs and poultry

Not So Sure

It was suggested to Mr. Paxman that possibly the exhibition might be able to help in developing that present important phase of the industry, but he was dubious about it

"We tried production classes in our show, but with only fair success."



The prize list this year includes two special production classes, Barred Plymouth Rocks and White Leghorns, but the show classes range through silver, golden, white and other Wyandottes; six breeds of Leghorns, plus the American, English and Asiatic breeds, and so on.

In the poultry building this week, penning the birds and getting them ready for judging, Mr. Paxman has become more acutely aware, than at any other time, of the 44 years since he first became a director, his long term as chairman, his committee associates and the succession of judges.

This may be the last show under his supervision. His thought these days is simply that perhaps he had better retire and let the job and the responsibility devolve on some one younger.

EARLY APIARISTS

Plato, Aristotle and Virgil gave instruction on the care and management of bees.

RE-ELECTED — Fred G. Mann registrar of Moore Preceptory, Knights Templar who has been re-elected to the Grand Council of Sovereign Great Priory of Canada now meeting in Winnipeg. Mr. Mann was first elected to the Grand Council when Sovereign Great Priory met in Peterborough in 1946 and has been re-elected every year since. In the poll for the council it was stated Mr. Mann headed the list.

Leaves Hospital

Bert Oliver, 15-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Oliver, 1039 High St., is progressing so well after swallowing a quantity of turpentine on Monday that he was released from Civic Hospital last night and taken to his home. The tot suffered no serious ill effects from the dose of the unpalatable liquid and is recovering satisfactorily.

PASS EXAMINATIONS

Four Peterborough men have successfully passed examinations as laid down by the Institute of Chartered Life Underwriters of Canada. Three gained the second year of their three-year course—John L. Gamsby, E. J. Henwood and B. E. Metcalfe. Paige Rowell was successful on his first year exams.

Protest $5 Radio Fee

The announcement that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation may recommend a radio licence fee of $5 met with a poor reception at the Allied Labor Council Tuesday night. The Council went on record as strongly opposing this proposed doubling of the licence fee.

Full Houses Of Livestock For Ex Opening

Livestock exhibits filled to overflowing the increased accommodation at the Exhibition this morning.

The new horse barn that was built last year was completely occupied, and a tent had to be set up for 20 additional entries in the light horse section and 20 others in the heavy draft class.

That demand for space is convincing evidence of a surprising fact that for all the discounting of horses in the present economy, dominated by gasoline-powered equipment, including the automobile, the horse retains its place and prominence in the Exhibition and its show rings.

Judging Horses

Light horse judging Thursday afternoon includes roadsters, carriage two and three year olds, hackney pony team; single roadster special and carriage pair special; and in the evening: harness horse stake class and open jumping.

The heavy draft judging Thursday comprises the grade section in the afternoon; and in the evening Clydesdales and six classes of commercial horses.

Haig Kelly is chairman of the heavy draft department and Burritt Mann of the light horse committee.

Cattle Barns Full

Cattle, sheep and swine barns were also fully occupied this morning. Judging of the dairy cattle classes begins Thursday morning, and beef cattle Friday.

The building which Fred Robson completed Monday night has been allotted to farm products, grain, vegetables, fruits and honey; also to women's domestic work, grouped as home products; with ample room also for fine arts.

Gordon Bailey, chairman of the art committee, expressed disappointment today that most of the groups of local painters in oils and water colors neglected this department of the exhibition.

"Their co-operation would greatly enhance the standard of this section of the exhibition a fine feature."

Drawings of children of the city's playgrounds, in the age range from 4 to 15 years, are given a place in the new building. Their instructor was S. Collie.

Big Fraser Flag

Incidentally, to relieve the commonplace effect of the girders of the new building, Gordon K. Fraser, M.P., brought from his home this morning the 18-foot Union Jack that adorns his home grounds and hung it in a central position. Several other flags were placed at the sides

Haliburton Fires Still Rage, Outlook Better

Favorable north-east winds this morning at the Bark Lake fire, 45 air miles north of Peterborough in Haliburton, gave weary fire fighters some hope of being able to check the blaze to-day, according to District Forester A. B. Wheatley of Lindsay. Although scattered showers promised for Tuesday did not materialize, the shift in wind direction will, in Mr. Wheatley's opinion, enable the crews to check the blaze that was eating its way north along the west shore of Bark Lake toward Koshlong Lake.

On the fire's western front, the 1,000-acre backfire east of Lochlin proved its worth in stopping the front from reaching the community.

"The blaze this morning looks favorable, but is not under control by any means," was Mr. Wheatley's final summary of the situation. The same number of men are still fighting the flames and with the help of one aircraft based at Miner's Bay on Gullfoot Lake and two more on call at Parry Sound and Smoke Lake bases, officials feel that there is now adequate air protection in that area at the present time.

Aircraft Demand For 151 Fires

The allocation of Forestry Department aircraft is a hard task these days with a total of 151 fires burning throughout the province. Next to Bark Lake's 8,000 acres comes 18 fires in the Sudbury area covering 1,200 acres which are keeping 400 fighters battling day and night.

Newspaper men Howard Sommerville and Albert Van of Toronto were nearly trapped in their car along the Irondale-Minden road on Tuesday, and editor Roy Hanna of the Haliburton paper died as a result of the exertion of gathering fire stories, it is said. Neither fatalities nor accidents have been reported from the fighter ranks.

Home Furniture And Equipment Play Big Part In Displays

Canadians' absorbed interest in homes and all the furniture and equipment for them which add comfort to save work is reflected in the displays in the Industrial Building on the Peterborough Exhibition's opening day.

From the number and variety of electric refrigerators, radios, sewing machines, heating units, building material, clothing, furniture and other products that has been arranged in attractive booths, exhibition visitors will have no difficutly in believing production has at least caught up to the up-to-now insatiable demand.

Overlooking the scene in the Industrial Building from the stage is the CHEX broadcasting set-up which is actually a complete broadcasting station in miniature. Regular programs will be broadcast from the stage as well as many special Exhibition features.

The people who belong to the voices which radio listeners of Peterborough and the whole district have grown to know are on the stage in the flesh. Similar broadcasts of other years have given listeners a chance to meet and talk to many of these announcers before.

Many of Peterborough's leading stores and industries are represented among the 28 booths. Probably there are more electric refrigerators on show than any other single product. All the makes are there, each with its own special virtue and selling point which salesmen are only too anxious to demonstrate.

Ladies of the Eastern Star Chapter, operating a refreshment booth at the east end of the building, are also selling tickets on an attractive hand-quilted blanket on display.

From the time of the opening crowds filed into the building eager to see all there was to see and do a little wishful thinking and perhaps even decide to buy.

BILINGUAL ISLAND

English and Maltese are the official languages of Malta.

SHOWN AT THE HELM of the schooner Constellation in Montreal this week, are Captain Stan Dashew of New York, his wife Martha, who is listed as "third mate" and their two children: five-month-old Lesley, and seven-year-old son Stephen (Skipper), both of whom are listed as "seamen" on the ship's crew. The family, along with five other crew members, plans to said the coasts of North and South America during their year long voyage, ending up next year in San Francisco. They sailed from Grand Rapids, Michigan, July 15.

Hasn't Been In Bed For At Least 30 Years Sleep Dangerous Stuff Spry 92-Year-Old Says

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 24 — (AP) — It's never bedtime for John J. Healey, who is 92 and wide awake.

He says he hasn't been to bed for 30 years. "Son," he says, "that sleep is dangerous stuff."

How does he keep going? Healey says on three hours' sleep a day—but not in bed. He just leans back in a rocker, flings a blanket over his head, and rocks off for 180 minutes.

The old-timer, who still manages his own trucking firm and just finished stacking his cellar with kindling he chopped himself says:

"I got out of the habit of getting tired when I was young. I did go to bed in those days, but never poisoned myself with more than four hours' sleep."

Biting on a black cigar—one of his 10-a-day quota—Healey smiled: "Lots of fellows just coddle themselves to death."

English Channel Swims Across Philip Mickman

DOVER, England, Aug. 24 (AP)—Philip Mickman, 18, today conquered the tricky waters of the English Channel after two previous unsuccessful tries. The plucky Yorkshire schoolboy, who swam the gruelling distance in 23 hours and 48 minutes, was the first to make it this year.

Mickman swam the last few miles in darkness and drizzling rain. He waded ashore at Kingsdown, seven miles northeast of Dover, at 5:33 a.m. British summer time (12:33 a.m. EDT), his associates said.

Meanwhile, Cuban swimmer Jose Cortinas plunged into the water at Cap Gris Nez, France, at 5:25 a.m. (1:25 a.m. EDT) today for his second channel attempt this month.

After reaching shore at Kingsdown, Mickman boarded the boat that accompanied him on the swim and returned to Dover.

Smiling broadly, the chunky schoolboy walked up the beach at Dover wrapped in a huge blanket.

He was hurried to his shorefront hotel by his father, William H. Mickman, and trainer E. H. Temme, who is a two-time channel swimmer.

Shirley May France, Somerset, Mass., high school girl, who hopes to make the Channel swim this season, was among the first to congratulate Mickman.

Shirley May has delayed her attempt to make the swim until the first week in September.

Mickman's father said the swim was "the story of a boy who wouldn't give up.

Marmora To Get New High School

MARMORA, Aug. 24 (ENS)—Erection of a new High School in Marmora is now assured. A delegation representing Centre Hastings High School District recently visited Toronto where the project received the approval of the Ontario Department of Education.

The school will be completely modern in every respect and will cost $160,000. It will contain, beside classrooms, a science laboratory, household science room, workshop, and gymnasium.

With an enlarged staff of teachers and transportation provided for all rural pupils, a large increase in enrolment is expected.

Armed Forces Drop

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The ministry of defence announced Tuesday that Britain's armed forces dropped 16,100 in strength between April and July. The loss was not explained. Total strength July 1 was 769,900 men and women, compared with 785,000 on April 1. The July strength included 144,000 for the navy, 406,000 for the army and 219,000 for the RAF.

NEW CROP TREATMENT

A great advance in agricultural science is taking place in the west where fleets of light planes are spraying fields with a new chemical that increases crops by as much as a third.

London Letter

London's Wounds Healing Flowers Hide Shabbiness

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Aug. 24—(CP)—Slowly but surely London's wounds are healing. Everywhere brick shelters and tin sheds are disappearing to make room for flowers and shrubs, and that glory of the English garden—a trim green lawn. Storekeepers and householders are painting and cleaning up their premises, restoring some of the color that the war years removed.

Half the facades of fashionable Regent Street now display windows bright with petunias, trailing lobelia, begonias, marguerites and the inevitable geranium. In many of London's mews — once the stables of the aristocracy—women are busy with the flowers that grace and beautify what would otherwise be drab little backwaters.

Quiet Elegance

Historic buildings, such as Barry's House of Commons and Wren's St. James' in Piccadilly, are being carefully rebuilt. The quiet elegance of Georgian architecture is being revealed again by restoration and paintwork.

But London generally is still dull and shabby. Streets as famous as the Strand, Holborn and Oxford Street have something of the taudiness of an eastern bazaar without the east's picturesqueness and color.

Experts say it will take years of rebuilding and much improvement in taste before modern London can compare for dignity with Paris, or the picturesque cities of Italy, where the past merges gracefully into the present.

Dollar Earners

"A great deal could be done immediately to beautify public places with paint and flowers," a London County Council official said. "Restaurants could be made more attractive by just adding gay awnings, pot plants and tables in the open air.

"The tourist industry is potentially one of our greatest dollar earners, but we shall never make the most of it until we realize that there is an aesthetic side to good citizenship."

While many people have called on the government to offer a bold, imaginative lead in clearing up London, government departments are, at least, setting a good example. There are window boxes outside almost every building on Whitehall, from Trafalgar Square to Westminster.

V.C. WINNERS: "I have been having a friendly argument about the number of Victoria Cross winners in Canada. Would you kindly clear this up for me by telling me how many there are and their names and addresses?"

There were fourteen Victoria Cross awards to Canadians during World War II. Four of these were to Canadians serving with the British Forces. They were: Squadron Leader Ian W. Bazalgette, Calgary, Alberta; Lieutenant Robert H. Gray, Nelson, B.C.; Major Charles F. Hoey, Duncan, B.C., Captain F. T. Peters, P.E.I. and Nelson, B.C. The remaining ten, who served with the Canadian Forces, were: Sgt Aubrey Cosens, Latchford, Ontario; Major David V. Currie, Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan and Owen Sound, Ontario; Hon. Captain John W Foote; Flight Lieutenant David E. Hornell, Mimico, Ontario; Major John K. Mahoney, New Westminster, B.C., Lieutenant-Colonel Charles C. I Merritt, Belleville, Ontario and Vancouver, B.C.; Pilot Officer Andrew C. Mynarski, Winnipeg, Manitoba, Company Sgt.-Major John R. Osborn, Private Ernest A Smith, New Westminster, B.C., Major Frederick A Tilston, Toronto, Ontario; Corporal Frederick C. Topham, Major Paul Triquet, Cabano, P.Q

Linn-King Nuptials Followed By Trip To Chicago

At St. Paul's United Church. Warkworth, on Saturday, the marriage took place of Laura Margaret, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce King of Dartford, and Harold Dorland Linn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bogart Linn of Harold. The ceremony was performed by the Rev H. G. Lester, with a background setting of gladioli and fern.

Mrs. Louis King played the wedding music and Miss Gwen Wartman was soloist. Before the ceremony she sang "I Love You Truly" and at the signing of the register, "I'll Walk Beside You."

The bridal gown was of white satin fashioned with fitted bodice, net yoke forming a drop-shoulder effect and full skirt. She wore a three-quarter length veil of embroidered net caught to a crown of lily of the valley and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mr. King gave his daughter in marriage.

Maid of honor was Miss Evelyn McVety, who was gowned in blue taffeta styled with an off-shoulder neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt with bustle back. She wore a matching hat and long gloves and carried pink roses. Miss Marion Yarrow and Miss Zella Gummer were bridesmaids and were in similarly designed frocks of yellow and mauve taffeta with matching accessories, and carried mauve and yellow gladioli. The bride's niece, Doris King, was her flower girl, and she was dressed in white taffeta and carried a basket of sweet peas, asters and fern.

Mr. Desmond Hay was groomsman, and the ushers were the bride's brother Louis King and her cousin John Bull.

A reception was held at the bride's home. Her mother was gowned in grey crepe with satin trim and wore a black straw hat and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother chose blue with a grey felt hat and corsage of pink roses.

The bride and groom chose Chicago as their destination on a wedding trip. Mrs. Linn travelling in a grey gabardine suit with navy accessories. They will live on the groom's farm at Harild, Ontario.

Orillia Girl Gets Lead Role In Film

ORILLIA, Ont., Aug. 4—(CP)—Elinor Maxwell, 18-year-old daughter of an Orillia druggist, has been chosen to play one of the lead roles in a documentary film being made for the National Film Board.

Miss Maxwell and her mother now are in St. Johns, Que., where the first part of the picture is to be made.

The film is intended to further good relations between Ontario and Quebec. It will depict the visit of an Ontario girl to a French-Canadian home and return visit to the Ontario girl's home by the daughter of the French household.

Miss Maxwell has had no previous film experience. She was chosen for the part when the producer, while touring Ontario for a suitable locale, visited friends here.

Got Budget Blues? Try Eggplant Instead Of Steak

If prices at the meat counter jar your pocketbook, buy your steaks at the vegetable counter. Eggplant can appear as a main dish of steak, in casseroles or as a satisfying vegetable. Or you can use it as a centrepiece, it's that pretty.

Select your eggplant for beauty. That's a good way to get a choice one. Look for a smooth unblemished complexion with a lovely dark color, and without those oldage wrinkles. You'll want it heavy for its size too.

There are two schools of thought for salting down eggplant slices before cooking. So try both ways, and use the one that suits you. If you decide against salting, try soaking in french dressing for half an hour. What a flavor that gives. Then you can slide them under the broiler, basting occasionally until tender.

Here's an authentic Italian recipe for an eggplant main dish that will make your family forget those high-priced steaks. The author belongs to the salting school, so:

Peel an eggplant and cut in thin slices. Sprinkle with salt and stack in layers on a plate. Put another plate on top and let stand an hour. While it stands, peel five tomatoes, chop and simmer until tender. Add salt and pepper to taste, olive oil and a sliver of garlic. Let simmer the remainder of the hour. Then rinse the eggplant slices, squeeze dry and fry in oil until slightly brown. Remove and dip in cracker meal, then in beaten egg and back in the cracker meal. Fry again until golden brown. Now pour about an inch of the tomato sauce in a casserole, top with a layer of eggplant, then with grated cheese. Repeat until everything is in. Bake until brown and crusty on top.

Here's another main dish, very satisfying:

Cut an eggplant in half lengthwise. Boil about ten minutes. Scoop out the centres, chop fine. Saute ¼ cup chopped onion in 3 tbsp. fat, mix with eggplant centers, ½ cup soft bread crumbs, 1 ½cups corn cut from the cob, salt and pepper. Stuff the eggplant shell and bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes.

Urge Federal Aid For Education

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24—(CP)—Increased federal aid for education and promotion of international understanding through creative arts is urged by delegates attending the triennial conference of the Canadian Federation of university women.

More than 150 women from across Canada met at the University of British Columbia to hear the address of their retiring president, Mrs. Richard B. Crummy of Vancouver.

Dr. A. Vibert Douglas, of Queen's University, Kingston, was elected international president.

Other prominent women in university affairs present include: Miss Grace Morgan, North Bay, education convener; Mrs. W. R. Hambly, London, Ont., president of Canadian Queen's Alumnae.

Put Perfume On Warm Pulse Beat

MONTREAL — (CP) — Ladies, you needn't bother dabbing perfume behind your ears!

It won't do any good. Better to put a few drops in the crook of your elbow, behind your knee—or on your throat.

"Put it on your pulse, where there's a warm heat,' the perfume chemist said today upon arrival here from New York in search of distinctive Canadian flower scents.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You have a poor memory for names.

WRONG WAY: Accept the fact as something you can do nothing about.

RIGHT WAY: Make up your mind that you can do better about remembering names if you make a real effort to do it. A memory for names and faces is usually developed, because a person realizes how important it is to remember those he meets.

DOROTHY DIX

If Silent Husband Is Bore Can Look Elsewhere for Fun

DEAR MISS DIX: What can a woman do who is married to a man who bores her to death? My husband has no more conversation than a store dummy. Fortunately his occupation takes him away from home four years out of every five, but in the year that he is at home and we are thrown into each other's company for 12 long, weary months, it is well-nigh insupportable. I threatened to leave him the last time he was at home on account of his silence and dullness and he promised to try to be a little bit more entertaining, but after a feeble attempt lasting about a couple of days, he once more passed out into the silence. In what way can I save myself?

WINNIE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Well, Winnie, I should think that if you only had one year of boredom out of five that you could stand it for the sake of the cakes and ale wou get out of matrimony. Enduring a husband who is short on conversation is a pretty easy way to pay for these.

Nothing like as hard as working for them yourself would be. So I think that you would be making a mistake and one that you would bitterly regret if you divorced him for no other reason than that he was not a spellbinder. Especially as your sufferings are intermittent and you get a four-year respite from them.

I am not denying that to be married to a bore is a hard tribulation to bear. No woman's idea of a happy evening is to pass it with a man who has retired behind the evening paper and who only grunts when she asks him a question, and who by no device can be drawn into a real human conversation.

Unfortunately, many women and many men are married to perfectly good husbands and wives who are models of all the virtues, but who are dull and tiresome and tedious. Perhaps their sufferings are greater than that of those who are married to entertaining villains.

All that is left the unfortunates who are married to bores is just to find some interest outside of their homes. For the evenings they must spend at their own firesides, reading is an ever-present resource. And you can always turn on the radio. That will fill the gaps of silence.

But in marriage the ounce of prevention is always worth the pound of cure, and I urge all youths and maidens contemplating matrimony to put more stress on the companionable qualities of those they are picking out to spend the remainder of their lives with.

If I were a man going a-courting, the first thing I would notice would be the line of conversation the girl carried. If she couldn't start topics herself; if she didn't read and think, and didn't know what was going on in the world and have lively opinions of her own; if she couldn't catch a joke on the fly and didn't get the subtle points of a story, why, it would be good night for me, and she would never see me more.

And if I were a girl and had to work like a coal-heaver to entertain a boy; if I had to pry him out of silences, and if he didn't have any interests in anything but the sports page and the comic strip, I would gently waft him out into the outer air.

For I would know that I would yawn myself to death if I married him, and being bored is such a long and lingering and painful way to die.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl of 24. Mother and I have been discussing the problem of love. She claims that most girls would not marry if they know all the obligations that the marriage entails. Why, then, do they marry? Most women do not marry for children. They do not need to marry for companionship because they can enjoy the society of many interesting men without being married to them. Is it then, that they marry for a meal ticket or to avoid being classed as spinsters? I am to be married in a few months and my reason for marrying is that I love a man more than anything else in the world and want to belong to him. Am I so different from other girls?

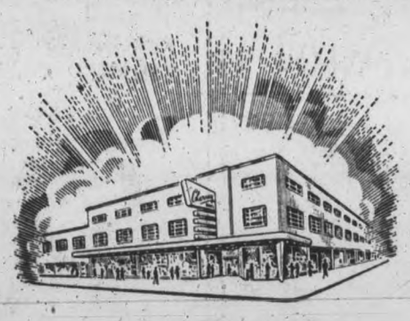
WONDERING.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: No. I think your reasons for marrying is the one that actuates 75 per cent of the girls who enter into the holy estate. It is the desire to be one with some particular man, to "belong to him," as you say, to work with him, to share his anxieties and to comfort and cherish him in sickness and in health, as the stately old words of the marriage ceremony put it.

No girl in this sophisticated age goes into marriage without knowing all that it entails. The modern girl is wise.

Nevertheless, when some lad with a way with him comes whistling down her alley, she gets up and follows him to the altar.



I think very few girls get married nowadays for a meal ticket and still fewer for fear of being called old maids. Most girls can earn as good a living for themselves as the average man can offer and at work they like better than housework and baby-tending. And the bachelor girl is oftener looked upon with envy than with pity.

Two Cousins In DP Camp Re-United After Two Years

Thanks to the combined efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lawler, proprietors of the South Beach Hotel near Young's Point, and officials of the National Employment Service, two Latvian cousins who formerly lived in the same Displaced Persons' camp in Europe, were joyously re-united in Peterborough last Friday. The story was unfolded to an Examiner reporter yesterday by William Mellis, local manager of the NES.

A year ago last November Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rokis arrived in this country under auspices of the Federal Department of Labor and have since been on the staff of South Beach Hotel. They enjoyed working there so much that they agreed to remain after the completion of the minimum service of one year required by immigration regulations.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Rokis asked Mr. Lawlor if he would try to help them in bringing out to Canada Mrs. Rokis' cousin, Arturs Upmanis and his wife. Mr. Lawlor readily agreed and he immediately got in touch with Mr. Mellis who commenced the necessary negotiations with his head office in Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Upmanis arrived at the Displaced Persons' reception camp at Ajax last Wednesday and were met by Mr. and Mrs. Rokis in Peterborough on Friday. The newcomers have also joined the staff of the hotel. Mr. Lawlor was so pleased with the services of the first DP couple that he guaranteed the second couple positions if and when they reached Canada. The two couples last saw each other in the European camp two years ago.

Mr. Upmanis, who is 37, is a man of considerable intellectual attainments, having been on the staff of a Latvian university for 14 years. He speaks German, English, and Russian beside has natural tongue. From 1937 to 1946 he was secretary to a lawyer and manager of an apartment house, and from 1946 to 1948 he was on the staff of UNRRA. His wife, Tereze also worked with UNRRA for some time. She speaks German as well as Latvian.

GUAM, Aug. 24 (AP)—An Air Force C-47 crashed today and burned on a take-off from Guam. All nine men aboard walked away from the wreckage uninjured. The twin-engined transport's left engine failed.

French President Ill

PARIS, Aug. 24 (AP)—President Vincent Auriol was reported today to be ill with a feverish condition and kidney complications at La Pyla Summer, where he is vacationing. A communique received at Elysee Palace said his condition was the result of prolonged over-exertion. It said Auriol required absolute rest in bed for some days.

CHILD'S SULKY SPELLS WORRIED HER UNTIL...

If your child has moody, cross, irritable spells for what seems to be no reason, watch for "hidden" constipation. Oftentimes, youngsters' bowels, altho moving regularly, do not move completely. As a result, harmful wastes remain in the intestines, making the child listless, peevish and not feeling like eating. What may be needed is Children's Own Tablets. They help give the thorough evacuation that quickly helps make most children feel like their usual happy selves. Pleasant tasting, small, easy to swallow, Children's Own Tablets are especially prepared for kids from 3 to 15. Only 25¢ at your druggist. Get a box today.

CNE Warriors' Day Invites Local Veterans

The largest annual veterans' demonstration in Canada will be held Saturday, Aug. 27, Warriors' Day, at the Canadian National Exhibition. Veterans will march in a huge parade headed by His Majesty's Royal Marine Band, falling in at 2 p.m. at the Plaza, Fort York Armories.

Maurice Rea, secretary-treasurer of the local Legion branch, has 100 tickets for veterans and families for the day. Veterans in the parade will be admitted free to the grounds and their families may use the free tickets.

The Warriors' Day Council of the CNE is organizing the affair which will have an international slant this year, with American Legion units taking part.

In addition to the parade, there will be platoon, unit and band competitions, but no entry is expected from Peterborough units, Mr. Rea said. All the veterans and their families are guests of the CNE for one day, but the veterans are expected to march in the parade. Each member of the family must have a ticket, and a further supply is available in Toronto if the demand is heavy.

DIET CHANGE

The chief difference between the present and pre-war diet in Britain is a 29 per cent increase in protein and a 16 per cent decrease in fats.

Have No Fear Of Television Film Board Says

OTTAWA, Aug. 24 (CP)—The National Film Board intimated today it has no fear of the advent of television.

Video programming, it told the Royal Commission on Arts and Science Development in a 25,000-word brief, would call for increased demand for film. In fact 25 per cent of United States television programs consisted of films.

In Canada motion pictures would probably play a still greater part in television, partly because of the difficulty in obtaining live programs and partly because of the lack of relay facilities.

The film board said it not only is prepared to supply Canadian television systems with its large stock of films but is willing to participate directly in Video programming by bringing "delayed" television to rural areas not serviced by regular Video channels.

Record Programs

The board suggested it would record "live" Video programs on film and place them on rural circuits not covered by Video stations. In this way it would bring television to the outlying areas which could not afford television sets.

To meet the future demand for films on the television screen and Canada's current film needs, the film board needed more money.

Community film audiences, the board claimed, have tripled since the Second World War; municipal film libraries have increased from 44 to 235 in four years and some 250 local councils have been established.

The board also wanted to establish itself as a corporate body, with status similar to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, giving its staff greater security. NFB staff are currently on only three months' employment at one time.

Tries Mixing Oils

CAMBRIDGE, England, Aug. 24 (Reuters)—Professor E. Cruz Coke, of Santiago, Chile, told the First International Congress of Biochemistry here he is experimenting with cod liver oil and the liver oils of other fish for what may provide a new approach to treatment of cancer. He said his investigations were based on the activity of certain compounds which arrested embryonic and cancerous development at the same time.

Flower Show Takes Over Old Manufacturers Building

The place of posies at the Exhibition is just the old manufacturers building of other days of glory.

"But, it will be a palace next year," says Wm. C. Wilks, chairman of the flower show. "You've heard about the new building? So, our condition is definitely improving. We used to share a tent with the potatoes and pumpkins. Now we have a building all to ourselves and according to recent conversations I believe the proposed building is likely ot take shape with the Fair Board, the city and county and possibly Morrow Park executors contributing. That is the promise as it is shaping up—a south end communitiy centre also for use of farmers of the district and finally for the "Ex" itself.

The members of the horticulture committee with Mr. Wilks are: Mrs. G K. Fraser, Clarence Bacon, John Buckley, J. M. Burns, George East, Fred Storey and Harold B. Ball. Most of them were on the job until midnight Tuesday night, receiving and placing the exhibits for this morning's judging. Gardens at Port Perry, Omemee Keene and Indian River were competing with the Peterborough flowers

Gordon Bailey was helping with pictures and wall hangings in trying to improve the interior background appearance.

Host of Gladioli.

The last gladioli of summer are holding farewell congress in the flower show. Some of the growers will have a few into September, but the bulk of the good bloom is meeting for the last time this season at the "Ex."

The Bradley gardens at Port Perry are largely represented. Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt and John Bent of Omemee have brought in a load of flowers ,and Herb Cardwell and George Clarke of Wallace Point contributed a grand show of glads.

Mrs Chris Plunkett of Keene, Mrs. Gavin Shearer of Indian River, Mrs. G. K. Fraser, Burleigh Falls; Miss Mina Stewart of Otonabee, have added their garlands to the display.

Two of the big exhibitors are George W. Downer of Morrow St. and Clarence Bacon.

Mr Bacon has 74 entries. John and William Buckley are brothers, but contestants.

One corner of the building is an attractive white and green settting of a springtime tableau, using two drygoods store models, in what looks like nuptial satins, the whole scene set off with flowers.

"That is for the special attention of our Peterborough florists," said Mr. Wilks. "We are hoping that they will come in with us as it used to be in years gone by. They would be a great help to us, especially when our committeeis trying to build up a flower show here worthy of Peterborough. The Bert Hick show at Lindsay is really one of the features of their Exhibition."

Showing of Asters.

Tom Aitkens of King George St. (Okie's Gardens) has several fine lots of asters in his showing. If it were "mum" time, what his blooms would do to the flower show. That's what he says, and those who have seen his individual shows on the market in late October will agree that he would grab the spotlight, now being occupied by asters, gladioli, marigolds, perennial phlox, petunias, snapdragons and so on.

Met By Communists

LIVERPOOL, England, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Bishop of Liverpool said yesterday Negro and Oriental students arriving in Britain are being met at the docks by Communist glad-handers. As a result, the Bishop said, many of them are "well on the way to becoming Communist missionaries" when they start home to Africa, India and China.

New Peach Crop Hits Market 21 Days Earlier

"Peaches have come to market this season 21 to 23 days earlier than usual," George W. Clarke of the fruit department of Canada Packers said today.

"Householders may not realize that this week will be the peak of the peach season, especially in what are called the "V" types. Because the fruit ripened abnormally earlier than usual, there is the likelihood that purchasers may be held back until the usual time on the calendar, and if they do that they are going to be left."

The volume is not particularly heavy, but the quality is the best in the last five years. Government inspection has greatly reduced brown rot in the peach. Mr. Clarke said he had not seen a sign of it this season.

Plums are in fair volume, chiefly gages and lombards at present, and grapes are arriving, and likewise pears. The September fruit supply should be quite satisfactory Mr. Clarke said, but he advises the women buyers of peaches that this crop is at its height this season.

Can't Decide On Extradition OfBrantfordMan

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Aug. 24 (AP)—Prosecutors debated Tuesday whether to start extraditon proceedings to return Ralph D. Cossey, 35, convicted of embezzlement conspiracy, from Brantford, to face new charges of perjury.

A Los Angeles bail-bond concern also is anxious to return Cossey lest a $25,000 appeal bond be forfeited.

W. B Gustaveson, chief deputy district attorney of Riverside County said Cossey, Gerald Burke and John Harris, who ran a collection agency here. were convicted last March of embezzlement conspiracy. Cossey was sentenced to three to nine years in prison, Burke to one year and Harris to five months in jail.

All posted bonds for an appeal, Cossey's being $25,000. Their appeal is still pending but Sept. 18 is the deadline for the filing of final briefs and papers. Thereafter the appeal bond would be forfeited.

Meantime, Gustaveson said, Cossey was indicted July 21 by the Riverside County grand jury on two counts of perjury based on alleged filing of false affidavits in connection with a veteran's tax-exemption claim.

Gustaveson said that if Cossey, arrested at Brantford Saturday, refuses to return voluntarily at behest of the bonding company, Riverside County may initiate extradition proceedings. Thus far Cossey has refused to return.

Cossey was arrested Saturday in the small second-hand store he opened two months ago in Brantford, across the street from the police station. Police, who made the arrest following word from Riverside, said he refused to waive extradition.

John Greatrix Wins Wings

Flight-Cadet John Greatrix, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greatrix, 438 Park St. will receive his wings Thursday afternoon at the graduation ceremonies at Centralia near London. Flt.-Cadet Greatrix joined the RCAF a year ago after graduating from the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School.

He took his primary courses in Toronto and from there was sent directly to Centralia. Flt.-Cadet Greatrix is one of the top graduates of his class, standing first in several of the courses.

Last week he flew twice over Peterborough, Tuesday and Thursday, on missions from Centralia to Trenton in twin-engined Beechcraft. For the next eight weeks he will be stationed at Trenton for bombing and gunnery courses.

Greatrix' main ambition throughout public school and high school was to be a pilot in the air force. Now with his wings he hopes to be placed in a fighter squadron flying jet aircraft.

Flt.-Cadet Greatrix obtained his elementary education at Queen Mary Public School. While at the Collegiate he played on the senior C.O.S.S.A. football championship team.

His mother, father and sister Bernice, are in London for the graduation ceremonies.

Obituary

THOMAS JAMES McMASTER.

NORWOOD, Aug. 24 (ENS)—The death occurred on Monday in Whitby of Thomas James McMaster, beloved husband of Emma Jane McMaster, in his 85th year. Born in Hastings, son of the late James McMaster and Elizabeth Cuffe, he lived most of his life in Norwood, except for a few years in Peterborough.

Surviving beside his wife are three daughters, Geraldine (Mrs. Wm. Kiels), California; Lillian Grace at home; Helen, at home; two sons, Thomas and Robert, Peterborough; one brother, Wm. McMaster, Orillia, and one sister, Florence, (Mrs. Joseph Snyder), Texas.

The funeral service will be held at the Tedford Funeral Home on Thursday at 2 p.m., Rev. P. A. Richard of Christ Church, officiating.

Oshawa Boys Capture Junior Series

By FRED MAYBEE

Oshawa Hunters defeated Young Petes 11-0 last evening at the Motor City to earn the right to advance further in OBA junior "A" playoffs having won the best-of-three lakeshore series from the McGuinness squad.

Gilbert went the route for Hunters, allowing five hits. He fanned six and walked none. O'Connor led the homesters at bat with three hits, including a homer and triple and scored three while McGrath, Hall and McArthur each collected a pair of safeties. Inability to hit proved costly to Peterborough in the final two games of the series after a good start in the first. Oshawa showed good pitching in the series as well as potent hitting.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Elmer Lach, who amassed an unenvied assortment of plain and fancy fractures during a nine-year National Hockey League career, has recalled his retirement declaration and will return to the ice wars.

General Manager Frank Selke of Montreal Canadiens said Tuesday at Montreal Lach will report to Canadiens' training camp at St. Hyacinthe, Que., Sept. 15.

The decision was left entirely to Lach, who twice suffered a fractured jaw last season. Despondent over his series of misfortunes and missing the Stanley Cup playoffs, Lach announced his retirement after the close of the season.

Complete recovery and a flaming competitive spirit have caused Lach to change his mind.

Lach played in only 36 games last season, scoring 11 goals and having 18 assists.

Edgar Laprade, crack centre for New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, has agreed to terms and will report to the Rangers' Lake Placid training camp next month, Manager Frank Boucher announced at New York on Tuesday.

Laprade had indicated at the close of last season that he might retire from professional ranks. Boucher, however, visited him at his Port Arthur, Ont., home recently and apparently talked him into signing. Laprade, born in Mine Centre, Ont., turned down pro offers for many years while he played for Port Arthur Bear Cats.

Rated one of the best stickhandlers in the NHL, Laprade had his best goal-scoring year last season with 18, to which he added 12 assists for a point total of 30.

The 29-year-old pivot man won the Calder Trophy as the league's outstanding rookie in 1945-46, the year he broke into pro ranks with the Rangers.

Norway took the lead and the United States became the closest pursuer after three races Tuesday in the world snipe-class sailing championships at Larchmont, N. Y.

Argentina's defending champions, who won the first race on Monday, were disqualified in the of two races Tuesday for vio- right-of-way, and dropped h in the standings.

e final two races are scheduled for today.

The team standings after three races: Norway 4,265 points; the United States 4,194; Switzerland 4,190; Cuba 4,109; Argentina 4,072; Britain 3,916; Brazil 3,470; Canada 3,360, Spain 3,360.

Canada's entry skippered by Don Cooley and Don Hopkins of Halifax, finished seventh in the first race and ninth in the second race.

Eric Sturgess of South Africa has been seeded No. 1 on the foreign list in the National Tennis Championships starting Aug. 29 at New York's suburban Forest Hills.

Sturgess reached the finals of last year's event, where he was defeated by Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles. Jaroslav Drobny, who recently surrendered his Czechoslovakian citizenship and at present is a man without a country, was seeded No. 2 behind Sturgess.

The biggest surprise of the list announced by the United States Lawn Tennis Association is that Billy Sidwell, who may play singles for Australia in the Davis Cup challenge round against the United States this weekend, was not included.

Frank Sedgman, the young Australian champion, was given the No. 3 spot and his team-mate, John Bromwich, No. 4. They are expected to form the Aussie doubles team in the cup matches

Quakers Gain First One Over Westclox

One part of the Industrial Fastball League semi-finals got under way last night at Quaker Park when the Quakers took a 4-2 win over Westclox. Lloyd Ash pitched three-hit ball, had the Big Bens popping up throughout. Quakers' right fielder saved the day for them when he robbed H. Heffernan of a hefty clout. Shaughnessy and Nolan were the big guns for the winners with two hits each. Westclox infield kicked in with six miscues. McDonald and McMasters were their only hitters. the former getting a triple and single, and the latter a double. Quakers got but six hits but made the most of them. Teams:

Westclox—Heffernan, Casey, Donoghue, Morin, McDonald, McMasters, Quigley, Shearer, Miller, Querin, McElroy.

Quakers—Prescott, Isaac, Nolan, Shaughnessy, Hughey, Ash, Miller, Burley, Land, Weisenberg.

Helen Wills Moody won the United States women's tennis championship for the sixth time, 20 years ago today at Forest Hills, defeating Mrs. Phoebe Watson of England, 6-4, 6-2. She won it again in 1931 but in 1933, facing apparent defeat and on the verge of collapse, she conceded victory to her rival, Helen Jacobs.

Initial TVL Final To Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 24 — (ENS). — The local club captured the initial game in the best of three from Marmora by 12-5 in the TVL baseball finals here on Tuesday night before a large crowd of fans. Drummond started on the mound for the visitors, being relieved by Mantle in the fifth. McNaughton starred for the homesters, hurling steady ball for the entire route. There were no spectacular plays but the kids played bang-up ball with few errors. In the sixth, third baseman Auger received a serious head wound when he fell over Bennett who was running home. After the game he was admitted to the hospital for treatment.

The teams

Grace Lenyczk Comes Into Own

By GEORGE BRIMMELL.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24 (CP) — Grace Lenczyk came back into her own yesterday in first-round matches of the Canadian Ladies' Open Golf championship but a group of young golfers from Montreal to Seattle have stolen the limelight.

Miss Lenczyk, of Indian Hill Country Club, Newington, Conn., defending her Canadian championship for the second time, was disappointing in the qualifying round but yesterday shone as the polished off Mrs. H. Winder, of Vancouver, 7 and 6.

But the gallery was with a 16-year-old wonder from Seattle, Pat Lesser, medalist in the qualifying found with a par 78. In her initial match, pig-tailed Pat defeated Mrs. R. Cleat of Vancouver, 3 and 2.

Daintry Chisholm, the 19-year-old with the boyish-bobbed blonde hair who plays at the Montreal Royal Club, administered a 3 and 2 shellacking to Mrs. Rena O'Callaghan, ranking Vancouver golfer.

OASA Free-for-All

HASTINGS, Aug. 24 — (ENS) —It took a free-for-all to liven up the OASA Junior C playdown between Orono and Hastings here on Tuesday as Hastings blasted Orono 40-3 before one of the biggest crowds of the season. Morrow and Stevenson started pushing each other around and in a minute the diamond was swarming with spectators, and it was a good five minutes before the field was cleared so that the game could be resumed.

Robinson started on the mound for Orono, but was relieved in the third after giving up 13 runs; Welch replacing him fared no better and Robinson took over once more in the sixth.

West threw for Hastings and was in rare form, allowing but three hits and taking out 12 on strikeouts. The game was called at the end of 6½ innings.

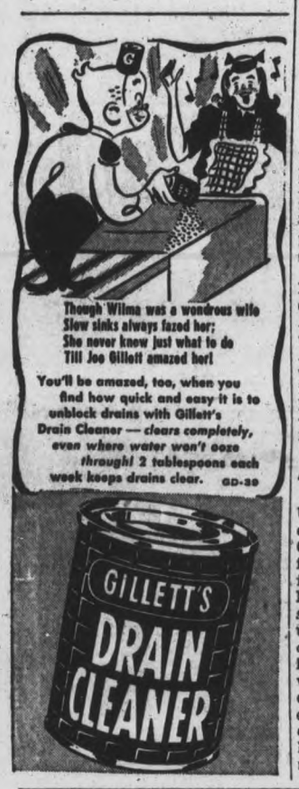
Band Will Not Go To Lindsay When Fee Cut $25

The Peterborough Citizens' Band refused an invitation of the Lindsay Kinsmen Club to play in that town on August 17 because the two parties were unable to come to an agreement on sharing the costs of the trip. Gordon Myles, president of the band, told the Examiner to-day. Mr Myles was asked to comment on certain criticisms which had been made both in Lindsay and Peterborough on the band's rejection of the invitation.



Mr. Myles said that last year when the band played for the Lindsay Kinsmen it received $75, with the members paying for their own transportation back and forth. This year the band was only offered $50, the bandsmen again being asked to pay travelling expenses.

The band president stated that the band was agreeable to making the trip at the lower fee, provided they did not have to pay their own transportation costs. A proposal to this effect was made to the Kinsmen, but it was not accepted, so the bandsmen felt obliged to decline the invitation.

Mr. Myles flatly denied a report that the band had received and returned 10 per cent of the fee after it had been requested in advance of the proposed engagement.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Old Home Town Plans To Honor Yachtsmen

YARMOUTH, Isle of Wight, England, Aug. 24 (CP) — For yachtsmen Colin and Stanley Smith, nothing is too good, their old home town decided Tuesday night in preparing their official welcome home.

The date of the brothers' visit is still undecided but representatives from every family in this village of 800 persons decided at a public meeting it will be a bang-up affair.

The two brothers, who crossed the Atlantic in 43 days from Dartmouth, N.S., in a 20-foot boat, the Nova Esperro (New Hope), will receive a combined clock and barometer set each during the public reception, along with a cheque and an illuminated scroll.

The brothers left Dartmouth, N.S., July 6 in the little open-cockpit yacht. They braved the Atlantic without help until they reached Dartmouth, England, Aug. 18. The home-made boat was towed the last few hundred yards into harbor, the first help they had received on their 2,700-mile voyage.

Ask Liquor Nationalized

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (CP)—The United Church of Canada advocates that the liquor business in Canada should be nationalized from top to bottom with the profit motive taken away, Dr. J. R. Mutchmor, the church's social-services secretary, told the Ontario Liquor Licence Board Tuesday as it concluded its two-day hearings on 169 applications. The whole system of issuance of licences has completely broken down, he said, and a legislative committee to study and revise the liquor act must be appointed immediately.

Individual Talks St. Laurent Plan

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24 (CP) — Manitoba disclosed Tuesday that Prime Minister St. Laurent has expressed an intention on the part of the Dominion Government to carry out individual talks with the various provinces rather than set a date for an early dominion-provincial parley.

The disclosure came from the office of Premier Douglas L. Campbell, who asked the federal government recently to call such a parley.

Mr. St. Laurent said in a letter to the Manitoba premier that plans for individual discussions with the various provincial government already have been initiated.

Mr. St. Laurent suggested it might be desirable to hold "some general conference with a more restricted agenda to deal with specific problems about which general agreement might be expected." Such a get-together would be held prior to a full-scale dominion-provincial parley.

2 Dead, 3 Injured In Head-on Collision

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 24 (CP)—A head-on collision between two automobiles on the seventh concession road in Blandford Township Tuesday night killed two men and sent three others to hospital here with serious injuries.

The dead:

Norman Lock, 31, of nearby Innerkip, driver of one car.

Larry Carter, about 45, of Woodstock, passenger in the other auto.

The injured: F. J. McDearmid, 40, of Toronto; Aileen Lock, whose husband was killed, and their six-year-old son, Norman, Jr., extent of their injuries had not been determined.

Police said they believed McDearmid was driving the second car, with Carter as passenger.

Bull Goes Berserk

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (CP) — Gun-wielding police Tuesday killed a maddened 2,000-pound bull after it ran berserk for half an hour through West Toronto streets. The animal, which escaped from the stockyards, died under a hail of bullets as it charged two policemen on a front lawn. Four railway section hands escaped injury when they dived into a 25-foot embankment to avoid being trampled.

Plan Aerial Survey

EDMONTON, Aug. 24 (CP) — The Alberta government is planning to spend $912,000 for a complete aerial survey of the 255,000 square miles within its boundaries. The actual survey is expected to take about three years although approximately 40 per cent of Alberta already has been photographed and mapped.

Use Canadian Ships

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—President Truman has signed a bill permitting limited operation of Canadian ships in Alaskan service until next June 30. The legislation allows Canadian vessels to operate between Skagway, Haines and other Alaskan ports and between Hyder, Alaska, and other Alaskan and United States ports. Sponsors of the legislation said it is necessary because United States ships do not adequately serve some isolated Alaskan cities and may not be in a position to do so until next year.

Begin Hearings UE-CGE At Queen's Park

Negotiations over the contract between the UE (CIO-CCL) and CGE resumed this morning at Queen's Park, where the dispute has been taken to conciliation.

The Board consists of His Honor Judge Reynolds of Kingston, chairman; J. L. Cohen, union representative; and Bruce Scott, company representative. District President C. S. Jackson heads the UE-GE Joint Negotiating Committee in presenting the union brief. The master contract covers all UE-organized CGE workers in Canada.

Despite the mediation of Chief Conciliator Louis Fine, talks broke down between the two parties in July, and the next step agreed on was conciliation.

Original union demands included a 40-hour week with no loss of take home pay; a general wage increase; union shop; vacation adjustments, and a general tightening of the contract.

Five Youths Plead Guilty To Robbery At Lakefield

TORONTO, Aug. 24 — Five youths who pleaded guilty to multiple charges of theft, breaking and entering and being accomplices after the fact in Peterborough and district were remanded to September 4 for sentence by Magistrate R. J. Browne in Toronto Magistrate's Court on Tuesday.

They are: Robert Seyler, 19; Russell Farmer, 20; James Allen, 17; Victor Carroll, 19, and Joseph Barrow, 18.

The offenses occurred on July 22 and 23 in Peterborough, Lakefield and Bridgenorth.

The five also pleaded guilty to charges of theft, breaking and entering and theft of a motor car in the east end of Toronto.

Chief Constable Garnet Samis of Lakefield testified the refreshment stand and grocery store of C. Fyfe in Lakefield was entered early on the morning of July 22 He said a cash register valued at $400 and containing $20 was taken. It was later discovered in a damaged condition. He added that cigars, chocolate bars, pens and knives valued at $35 were also stolen.

All five pleaded guilty to the Lakefield robbery.

Constable E. J. Crough of the Peterborough detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police testified the Nichol's store in Bridgenorth was entered on the same day.

Articles valued at $60 were stolen.

Farmer pleaded guilty to this offense but the remaining four admitted they had been present but claimed they had not taken part in the theft.

Farmer and Carroll also admitted breaking and entering Jerry's Inn, in Peterborough on July 21.

Constable William Aggis of the Peterborough Police Department testified that $10 and a quantity of cigarettes were taken in the Peterborough robbery. He said some of the cigarettes were recovered from an abandoned car near Pickering.

Order British Government Cut Spending 5%, Civil Servants Lose Jobs

Hint Social Services May Be Curtailed By New Austerity Move, Reduction Means Saving of $600,000,000

LONDON, Aug. 25—(Reuters)—The government to-day ordered all-round cuts in government spending. A 5 per cent reduction at least was believed to be the target. A Treasury warning to all spending departments to trim their estimates for next April's budget laid emphasis on the forthcoming dollar talks in Washington, it was understood.

Official quarters said the Treasury instruction had not been communicated to the United States. Nor was the United States consulted about it.

The cuts are bound to mean the dismissal of some civil servants.

They would represent a saving of £150,000,000 ($600,000,000) on a budget of £3,000,000,000.

Hope Cuts Higher

But the Treasury emphasized in their verbal notice to departmental heads that this figure should not be regarded as a maximum target On the contrary, it was hoped that some departments could cut their spending by more than 5 per cent.

Treasury action has come two months before departmental estimates are normally prepared. Appeals for economy are not unusual, but in earlier years they have usually been issued in September.

Last night an informant close to the government suggested that Britain may have to limit her social services if no beneficial results come from next month's monetary talks in Washington.

The informant, who refused to be identified, said Labor party leaders might have to start retrenchment by dropping the government's free medical services, if the dollar-pound talks fail.

Costly Services

Britain's social services, together with food subsidies, cost one-quarter of the country's whole annual budget of $12,000,000,000.

Britons now call on doctors without paying fees under the National Health Service instituted 18 months ago, though each pays up to 6s 8d. weekly ($1.33) to help support it.

If the Washington parley fails the informant said, British leaders may have to consider having each person pay a shilling (20 cents) for each visit.

He explained that the calls on the service have far exceeded advance estimates and, if Britain might tighten her belt, she can-

Haliburton Fire May Have Been Deliberately Set

TORONTO, Aug. 25 —(CP)— Provincial police are investigating the possibility that some of the outbreaks in the 8,000-acre Haliburton bush fire were deliberately started, it was announced today.

Constable E. J. Milligan said a fire had been set at the Forest Ranger School, near Dorset, but was extinguished before any damage was done. He said people were seen leaving the area, "but our information was not definite enough to warrant any action."

All but one of the 130 forest fires still burning in Ontario woodlands are under control, Lands Minister Harold Scott said.

With the exception of a blaze in Walbridge township, about 40 miles north of Parry Sound, all the fires which raced through thousands of acres have been bottled up by some 2,500 firefighters.

Mr. Scott warned, however, that the fire hazard remained high with no rain forecast for southern Ontario during the next 48 hours.

In Ontario, fire fighters remained on the job and were still busy with aircraft, bulldozers and pumping equipment. Travel bans in Timiskaming, and Algonquin districts and the Timmins area of the Cochrane district are still on but they do not apply to main roads.

Rival Gangs Break Up Dance

TORONTO, Aug. 25 —(CP)—A west-end dancehall erupted Wednesday night in fist-fighting between rival gangs of teen-age zoot-suiters — but police didn't have far to go to quell the disturbances.

Police, swarming into the hall from a station less than 100 feet away, arrested 11 of the youths. All were charged with creating a disturbance and another faced an additional charge of obstructing police. Bail was set at $200 each.

Police said members of a group called the Junction Gang, apparently smarting from a previous beating, attended the dance planning to provoke a fight.

Tragedy Ends Prank Of Runaway Ride

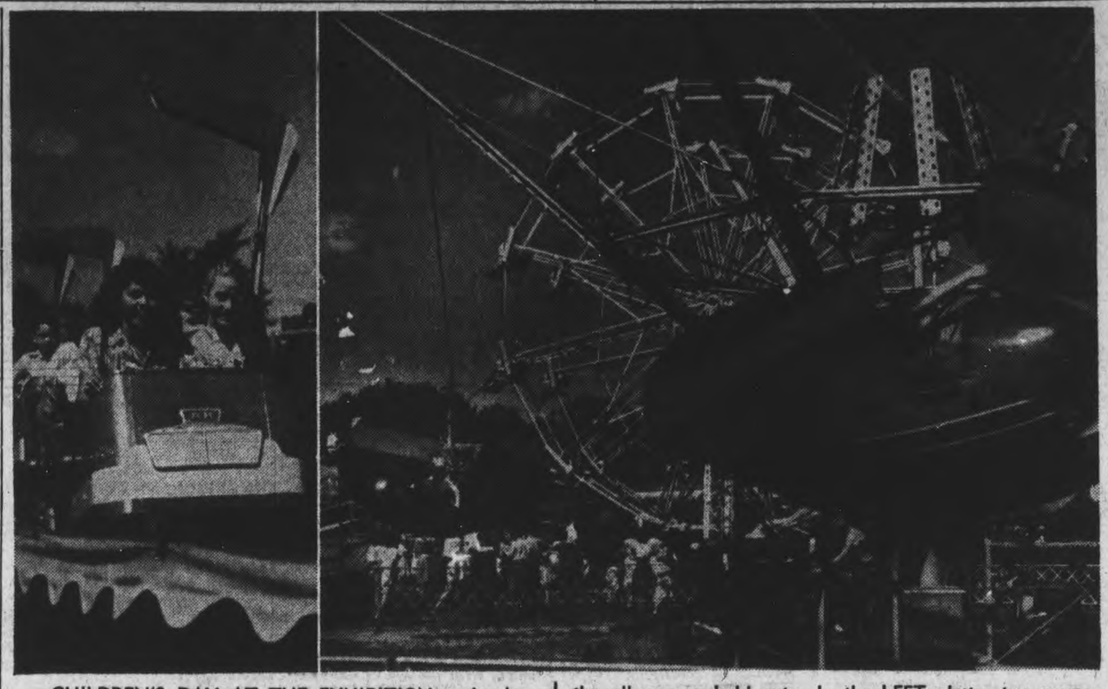
LEAMINGTON, Aug. 25 (CP) —A prank that started in fun ended in tragedy Wednesday when a milk-wagon horse had to be destroyed after it bolted into the side of an automobile.

Police said the prank began when Donald Woltz, 3, Jerry Woltz, 6, Olga Wynrachuk, 3, and several other boys and girls watched Ken Bowman leave his milk rig to make a delivery.

One of the boys got in the wagon and slapped the reins. Olga was frightened and released her tricycle which rolled against the horse's heels.

The frightened animal raced down the street pulling the wagon and a cargo of terrified children.

The horse veered at an intersection and crashed into a car driven by Edwin Stockton. A shaft of the wagon broke and pierced the horse's neck. The childre nescaped uninjured.



Rita Hayworth's Baby Expected In February

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Rita Hayworth's baby is expected in February.

Moslem Prince Aly Khan, husband of the movie actress, disclosed this to reporters today as he landed at Croydon airport from Deauville, France.

Prince Aly announced earlier this month that Rita was expecting a child, but did not say when.

Rita and Aly were married May 27 in Vallauris, on the French Riviera near the prince's luxurious Mediterranean chateau.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT THE EXHIBITION took place chiefly at the midway where they were tossed, rolled, spun and whirled on the many "rides." They gave confections a terrific beating and collected gaudy souvenirs as long as the allowances held out. In the LEFT photo, two young misses squeal with delight as their "car" raced on a roller coaster and at the RIGHT are shown "plane" rides and ferris wheels that added to their general fun.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Pay 30 Million To Build 100 Jet Fighters

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP)—The Defence Department will pay $30,211,190 for the manufacture of 100 F-86 jet fighter planes by Canadair Limited of Montreal, it was announced today by Defence Minister Claxton.

He said negotiations for the manufacture of the planes now have been completed and the first aircraft is expected for delivery by August, 1950.

The contract price of more than $30,000,000 includes manufacture of the airframe, airframe spares, jigs, tools, dies, sales tax, publications, ground handling equipment royalties, and other items.

It does not include engines, radio, armament and other special equipment to be provided from other sources.

Costs quoted for the first 100 aircraft include many initial expenses connected with tooling up. Additional orders, if placed, would result in a lower unit cost said the announcement.

The F-86, a single seater interceptor aircraft, is at present being introduced into use by the United States air force. Powered by a General Electric axial flow jet type engine, the F-86 carries an armament of six .50 calibre guns in its nose, has a tactical radius of 500 miles, a service ceiling of more than 40,000 foot and is the holder of the official world speed record of 670.9 miles per hour, fully armed as a combat aircraft.

The aircraft was released for manufacture in Canada by the United States government and a licence agreement was concluded with North American Aviation, Los Angeles, Calif. This agreement permits Canadian modification or improvement of the aircraft.

Ex. Attendance 10,940

A pleasing feature of Children's Day, Wednesday, at the Exhibition was the action of the directors in honoring the big nickel at its face value in admission to the grounds for the junior customers from 4 to 14 years. That is a tradition of the "Ex" that was revived with the renewal of the show last year before money values had shown any sign of recovery. Perhaps the management might have doubled the price to a dime, after the manner of nearly all the rest of the world, but it was never even suggested.

But, all in all, it was a big day of thrills for the young folks, on the Midway rides, at the grandstand show, and roaming through the wide variety of exhibits questing for advertising handouts as children have done for generations at every fair in the land.

Without Mishap

Children's Day was without mishap. The weather was ideal, and all the details of planning dovetailed smoothly into one of the most promising opening days in the history of the show.

In its broad outline and purpose, this Exhibition appears to be actually bigger than ever. Never was the display of farm machinery so large, nor was there such a variety of implements. That applies, too, to household furnishings, and likewise extends all down the line.

Paid attendance Wednesday, the opening day of the Exhibition, was 10,940.

Three of the big barns are crowded with horses, and overflow entries had to be sheltered beneath a tent that was set up for an excess of 40 or 50. The cattle barns were also full, and stockmen reported that some herds were not entered at the last minute because of doubt about sufficiency of accommodation. In fact there was some comment, hardly criticism, of assignment of barn space to some of the numerous horses rather than to the more useful livestock such as beef and dairy cattle.

Three Young Children Perish In Cottage Fire

PLAGE LAVAL, Que., Aug. 25—(CP)—Three children early today lost their lives when a summer cottage was razed by a flash fire while their parents were out. Dead are two sisters, Nicole and Andree Senez, 4 and 5, respectively, and three-year-old Denise Laurencot of Long Island City, N. Y.

The frame cottage, a mass of flames within minutes after the fire started about 12:45 a.m., was rented for the summer by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Senez of Montreal and Mrs. Jack Laurencot of Astoria, Long Island, mother of Denise and sister of Mrs. Senez.

Police said the mothers left the cottage to answer a long-distance phone call when the tragedy struck. Mr. Senez and Mr. Laurencot were away at the time, Mr. Senez in Quebec and Mr. Laurencot in New York.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a choked chimney, for the cottage seemed to burst suddenly into flames.

Neighbors broke a window and tried to get inside but were driven back by flames and smoke.

When the two mothers returned they attempted frantically to rush into the burning cottage and had to be restrained. The bodies were recovered and taken to the morgue in Montreal, about 20 miles from Plage Laval.

Relatives Doubt Man's Identity

NORWOOD, Aug. 25 (ENS)—Doubt of the indentity as Thomas James McMaster of the body which was received here this week from the Ontario Hospital at Whitby was raised this morning by members of his family in a question that was referred to Dr. Herbert N. Young, coroner, Peterborough.

Funeral service had been arranged for 2 p.m. this afternoon at the Tedford Funeral Home here with Rev. P. A. Richard of Christ Church conducting it.

The information to the family was that Mr. McMaster died at Whitby on Monday. The body was brought from Whitby on Tuesday for burial in Norwood. Mr. McMaster was 85.

Some of the members of the family were inclined to be doubtful as to the body being that of their father. They interviewed Dr. A. R. Atkinson, and, as a result, Reeve Rork Ferguson notified Dr. Young this morning.

It is understood that Mr. McMaster underwent an operation for double hernia several years ago, and that this morning Dr. Atkinson and Dr. Young could find no scars indicating that such an operation had taken place.

Has Open House At Mausoleum

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Aug. 25—(AP) — A 54-year-old postman who lighted up his wife's casket with a neon sign held open house Wednesday night in the red brick mausoleum he outfitted as a living room.

Roy Acklin was host to several hundred persons who dropped by for a look or a chat.

The tomb is about 15 ft. square and is furnished with an electric fan, ash trays, chairs, wall ornaments, potted plants, and a guest book.

Back of the casket a blue neon sign spells out his wife's name—Beulah. In the corners, florescent red and yellow lights burn at night.

Acklin holds open house every Wednesday night.

Urge Liquor Licence Board Bar Tourist Establishments

KIRKLAND LAKE, Aug. 25.—(CP)—Rev. Albert Johnson, general secretary of the Ontario Temperance Federation, yesterday urged the three-man Ontario Liquor License Board not to grant any more public house licenses to tourist establishments.

"I am very apprehensive of the unusually large number of license applications which have come up before the Board here," he said.

His statement followed the hearing of 58 applications, Seven of these were from hotels relying mainly on tourist trade. The Board, including W. Nugent and J. F. White, was presided over by the Hon. W. T. Robb.

Of the original 64 applications, six were withdrawn. This was considered approximately double the usual number made.

Despite this Rev. Johnson later said in an interview that he felt the majority of people in Ontario were opposed to more liquor outlets.

Rev. Johnson said he realized the occasional necessity of dining room licenses, but strenuously disapproved of public house licenses.

Of the total applications, Nipissing requested the largest amount, 29. Cochrane claimed the next greatest number with 21, and Temiskaming 8.

There were two applications for lounge licenses. One of these, from the Monarch Club in North Bay, prompted Mr. Robb to declare that a municipality vote was not necessary. The grounds for this ruling was based on the fact that the Monarch Club is one which is exclusive to members of the Loyal Order of the Moose.

Will Help Market Canadian Apple Crop

Shortage of Dollars, Bigger U.K. Crop Close British Market

OTTAWA, Aug. 25—(CP)—The Federal Government will announce shortly the steps it will take this year to assist in the marketing of Canada's apple crop.

Agriculture Department officials no ware trying to decide the extent of assistance that should be given to the industry, which in pre-war and early war years sold its surpluses in the United Kingdom.

The shortage of dollars and an increase in apple production in the United Kingdom have combined to close that market completely to Canadian producers. So far they have been successful in marketing their crops in Canada and the United States, but this year things may be different as a 21 per cent increase in the size of the crop is being forecast.

The crop is expected to amount to 16,216,000 bushels compared with 13,404,000 bushels in 1948.

It is estimated there will be between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 barrels more of a crop this year than the producers were able to market last year in Canada and the United States.

Views Exchanged

Agriculture Department officials recently met with representatives of the apple industry from British Columbia, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario. Views were exchanged on what should be done with the crop, but no final decision was reached on the form of government assistance for this year.

There has been some speculation over the form the assistance will take. Some believe the government will set a floor price under terms of the Agricultural Prices Support Act and agree to take any apples producers cannot sell. Others believe the government will agree only to take the surplus over last year and leave to producers the problem of marketing the same amount as they did a year ago.

The main problem in the industry is said to arise with the marketing of the Nova Scotia apples. In pre-war days, about 75 per cent of the Nova Scotia crop was sold in the United Kingdom. A large part was made up of varieties for which there is no market in Canada.

No similar problem has yet arisen in other apple-growing sections of the country. Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick, fairly large apple growers, manage to market their crops locally, or at least domestically. British Columbia sells locally, domestically and to a fairly large extent in the United States.

Wearing Swimming Trunks Youth Disappears From Riverside Park Beach

Feared Drowned in Otonabee River When Clothes Found On Wharf Boy Later Found in Dazed Condition

An apparent drowning turned into a mystery as Robert Hendren, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Eva Hendren, 275 Sherbrooke Street, turned up in Pontypool in a dazed condition about 9 p.m. Wednesday night after being missing and believed drowned for 10 hours. The boy was wearing only yellow swimming trunks when first seen coming across a field in the outskirts of Pontypool by Paul Richardson. Richardson took him to Dr. G. W. MacNeil in Pontypool where he told the doctor at first he didn't know his name or how he got there. He had received a bump on the head. When he remembered his name, the doctor telephoned his family in Peterborough. Brothers came and took him home about 10 p.m.

The boy had been the object of a search and dragging operations by police and firemen from about six p.m. He had gone swimming about 11 a.m. at Riverside Park. At 5.25 p.m. his brother Jack Hendren phoned police to say the boy was missing.

Found Clothes

Constable W. S. Fife investigated and found the boy's bicycle and clothes at the wharf at Riverside Park. A wallet with some money was still in a pocket of his trousers. The fire department was notified and dragging operations started in front of the wharf.

Two boats were used for dragging and about 10 other boats were used to try to sight the boy's body in the water. Several girls dived to the river's bottom in the search Radio Station CHEX made broadcasts in the event the boy had not drowned. Dragging operations were stopped about nine p.m. when it became too dark.

It was just at this time the boy turned up 27 miles away in Pontypool.

One of Robert's brothers said the youth had told a story of being hit on the head by a man while another engaged him in conversation just after he had come out of the water.

Gordon Buck, lifeguard at the park, told police he had seen Robert swimming. Just before noon he had come out of the water and put his clothes on. That was the last Buck noticed him.

Police detectives are still carrying on the investigation to get to the bottom of the mystery.

2 Thugs Get $2,000 From Montreal Bank

MONTREAL, Aug. 25—(CP)—Two armed men escaped with about $2,000 from the Provincial Bank Branch at suburban L'Abord A Plouffe today after tying up the manager and a customer.

Police immediately set up road blocks in the area.

Hector Lortie, manager of the Bank said the men entered, jumped over the counter near the wicket and scooped up the money at gunpoint. They then tied up the manager and customer. The bandits escaped in a car parked outside the bank.

Deputy Minister Highly Pleased With Exhibition

Clifford D. Graham, deputy minister of agriculture, formally opened the Exhibition this afternoon, representing the minister, Hon. T. L. Kennedy, who was indisposed at his farm at Dixie in Peel County.

Arriving at Morrow Park this morning, Mr. Graham was met by Hugh Stewart, president, G. A. Gillespie, Clair Collins and Harold T. Rehill, and had time to look through most of the exhibits building before the civic luncheon at the Empress.

Mr. Graham congratulated the directors on the general appearance of their plant and especially on the investment in two new buildings, one last year and the other recently completed, for the accommodation of exhibitors. He said he was glad to observe the prominent place allotted to the flower show, and impressed with its wide range of entries.

The old drill hall of the wartime establishment, packed with displays of manufactured goods, was a big asset to the fair, Mr. Graham said. Although Mr. Graham has been in Peterborough on many occasions in recent years, that building was a development which he had not previously seen.

Mr. Graham used to be head of the department's extension service at one time, and in that experience he was fully aware of the development of the junior department, an innovation which has since been widely adopted by other exhibitions throughout the province.

Use Buglers To Please Union

TORONTO, Aug. 25—(CP)—Officials of the Canadian National Exhibition said today that buglers instead of military bands will be used at flag-raising ceremonies at the Exhibition to avoid the possibility of trouble with the Musicians' Protective Union

They said the possibility of using military bands has been considered but was rejected lest the musicians union object on the grounds the military men were non-union members. Instead, buglers will play at the ceremonies.

Last year, an Air Force band was used.

Rascally Young Cow Languishes In Silo

OSCEOLA, Wis., Aug. 25 (AP) —A young Wisconsin cow with a long record of misbehavior, languished at the bottom of a partly filled silo today, waiting for an early harvest to bring her freedom.

Snoopy, 65-pound pet of 13-year-old Cherine Lampman, had to squeeze through an opening 20 inches wide and 30 inches high to get in. She was inspired at the time, however, since Cherine's father, Everett Lampman, was in hot pursuit.

Snoopy, unruffled and apparently unhurt by her 12-foot fall, got to her feet and munched last year's silage leftovers.

Neighbors decided the only way to get Snoopy out is to fill up the silo. Lampman juggled his farming timetable and decided to start cutting his corn crop this week-end.

Buried Alive Half An Hour Boy 15 Rescued From Hamilton Sand Pile

Legs Caught In Hopper While Playing Among Sand Heaps, Workers Dig Frantically To Save Youth

HAMILTON, Aug. 25—(CP)—Fifteen-year-old Robert Allan was rescued from a bay front sand pile late Wednesday after being buried alive for half an hour. While playing with his brother he had slipped into a hopper opening, from which sand was being conveyed into trucks. Firemen, policemen and workers from a concrete and supply company, which owns the pile, combined in the rescue operation. The boy revived on treatment and was taken to hospital.

An inhalator was applied to the youth as soon as his head was un- Chief Chris Boyle. "He was not covered, according to Deputy Chief Chris Boyle. "He was not breathing at the tmie," said the deputy chief, "but he responded almost immediately to the inhalator. We had to be careful as we were afraid the sand would cave in again and he would be lost."

As the workmen dug for the boy, others searched for boards and hold it back. Working care- and shovels to stick in the sand fully, the rescut workers cleared away the sand from the boy's body and released him.

Artificial respiration was applied for a few minutes while doctors from the General Hospital checked his condition. He was later taken to the hospital but was released after being examined.

Caught In Hopper

The boy was playing on the huge sand pile with his brother Donald, 9 when the accident occurred. As he reached the top, he slipped and fell. As he slid down the side of the pile, his legs were caught in a hopper which feeds an underground conveyor belt.

Before he sank from view the trapped boy called to his young brother to get help. By the time Donald informed some nearby workmen of the accident, Bobby had disappeared.

EYE TOPICS

WILL I HAVE TO WEAR GLASSES?

Many of those who wear Glasses, or who feel that they might some day have to wear Glasses, have certain questions in their minds which sometimes go unanswered.

One problem which disturbs many people who wear glasses is whether or not glasses weaken the eyes so that they are not as good as before glasses were worn. The answer to this question is an emphatic "No!" Glasses do not change the structure of the eyes, but rather enable the eyes to work more efficiently by making it possible for them to focus the rays of light properly which they cannot do without the help of correctly prescribed optical lenses. What usually happens is that the person wearing glasses usually becomes accustomed to good, clear, accurate vision; then when the glasses are taken off momentarily from time to time, things do appear to be reverting to an inferior state, whereas actually they are only going back exactly to where they were before.

Another question that is in the minds of many people, who contemplate wearing glasses, and one which occurs particularly to the ladies is whether or not glasses make the wearer less attractive. The answer also given by beauty experts again is another emphatic "No!" In fact, surveys have shown that men and women alike who need glasses look much more attractive when they are relaxed with the assurance of proper vision instead of being strained and squinting as those who need glasses and don't wear them often appear to be; besides, the risk of passing your friends unnoticed on the street must also be considered.

When glasses are properly styled to suit the individual facial contour and personality of the wearer they can implement one's appearance rather than interfere with it.

Western Canada May Modify Grain Industry

LAKE SUCCESS, NY Aug. 25—(CP). — A leading Canadian agriculturist to-day told food experts of the world that Western Canada's grain industry may have to be modified.

Dr E. S. Archibald, director of the Dominion's Experimental Farm Service, said grain growing may have to be replaced by a "grain-grass and legume sequence."

"Grass would be left down periodically for several years at a time in order to replace lost organic matter," Archibald said in a paper before an agriculture section meeting at the United Nations scientific conference on the conservation and utilization of resources.

He said grain farming on the Prairies, confined almost exclusively to cereals, has been maintained "fairly satisfactorily." This has been done, he said, by technical advances in controlling wind erosion, plant disease, insect pests, and better crop varieties.

In a paper on cropping systems as an aid to sustained production, Archibald added:

"The grain industry in Western Canada however, is relatively young, and there are indications that the prevailing cropping system may eventually have to be modified to include grass and legume cultivation."

Since there is about only two acres of crop land per prson in the world it is necessary that soil resources everywhere be used to the best advantage, Archibald said.

The source said Laborite leaders are awaiting until the Washington talks are over before deciding whether to call a quick election this year, or carry on until near the end of their five-year term next July.

He disclosed this as Paul G. Hoffman, American head of the European Co-operation Administration, began talks with British officials before the Washington parley Sept. 7.

The informant said the government expects its gold and dollar reserves to sag more than one fourth by Sept. 30—down to $1,200,000,000.

At the end of June Britain was down to her last $1,624,000,000. The treasury's goal had been to keep the reserves at a "safe" margin of $2,000,000,000.

ORDER AUTOPSY

An autopsy has been ordered to inquire into the death of Robert Delve, 20, who died in Toronto Hospital today of injuries believed suffered in a fall from a truck in the Lindsay area. Provincial police there said they have not heard of the mishap. Delve was brought to hospital in Toronto and an emergency operation ordered in an effort to save his life. He died shortly after arrival.

Have Strong Quebec Slant In Latest Cabinet Shuffle

OTTAWA, Aug. 25—(CP)—A Cabinet shuffle with a Quebec slant was announced Wednesday night by Prime Minister St. Laurent who disclosed a string of appointments which bring the number of vacant seats in the 262-seat House of Commons to six. Postmaster General Bertrand, 60-year-old lawyer and member for Montreal Laurier since 1935, received an appointment to the Quebec Court of King's Bench, Montreal Division.

Replacing him in the Cabinet is 44-year-old Edouard Pinfret, M.P. for Montreal-Outremont and son of Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret of the Supreme Court of Canada.

Solicitor General Jean, 59, who has represented Montreal Mercier since 1932, will fill one of the four vacancies in the Quebec Superior Court. He will be replaced in the cabinet by Hughes Lapointe, 38-year-old M.P. for Lotbiniere and son of the late Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Justice Minister.

Mr. Jean fills one of the three vacancies in the Montreal division of the Superior Court.

The other posts, Mr. St. Laurent announced, go to Elphege Marier, 61, Liberal M.P. for Montreal Jacques Cartier, and George S Challies, a Montreal lawyer.

Eugene Marquis, 47, Liberal M. P. for the Quebec constituency of Kamouraska, will fill a vacancy in the Quebec division of the Superior Court.

Latest Standing

Latest standing in the Commons is:

Liberals, 189; Progressive Conservatives, 40; CCF, 12; Social Credit, 10; Independent, four; Independent Liberal, one; vacant, six; total, 262.

Firming Tendencies Appear On Exchange

TORONTO, Aug. 25 — (CP)— Firming tendencies appeared in dull dealings on the Stock Exchange to-day. Base metals recovered early losses and slowly forged upwards. Industrials also tightened from recent declines, while the golds tended to slip slightly.

Osisko Lake featured a firming base metal list turning briskly for a gain of 12 cents at $1.07. Activity increased in the list as prices turned upwards from early losses. Noranda climbed into the gain colum, adding ⅛ at 57½. Sherritt, Quemont, and Waite Amulet were also stronger.

Golds were steady from recent declines at the opening, but turned downwards as the session progressed. McIntyre, Dome and Kerr Addison were senior losers. A few smaller juniors were active for small changes.

Scattered fractional gains appeared in industrials at the halfway mark. Utilities, liquors, and papers tightened. Consumers' Gas was strong, touching a new high at $153 before settling back to $152, up $1.

Haliburton Danger Eases

The biggest Ontario blaze in Snowdon Township, near Haliburton, was finaly brought under control with the aid of light scattered showers. It had been raging uncontrolled since the weekend and had devoured 8,000 acres of bush. Another serious outbreak was stopped in Digby Township after destroying 640 acres.

Smaller blazes in the Timiskaming, Trent, Sudbury, North Bay and Gogama forestry districts were reported under control last night.

Held For Theft

Two charges of theft of money from a letter and theft of letters were laid Wednesday against Pat Gahagan, an employee of the post office for only a few weeks, by a Post Office Inspector.

Gahagan was remanded by Justice of the Peace James J. Fleming for trial Friday morning in police court.

It was reported a pile of letters was found in Gahagan's home. Gahagan was a veteran of army campaigns in Italy where he was severely wounded. He was decorated several times during his military career.

Canada Given Thanks By Eden

PLAS NEWYDD, Anglesey, Wales, Aug. 25 —(CP)—Anthony Eden, deputy Conservative leader Wednesday said the problem of Anglo-Canadian trade is one Britain simply must resolve.

In an address at a Conservative garden party on the grounds of the estate of the Marquess of Anglesey, Eden singled out Canada for special thanks.

"Nothing could have surpassed the constant and unwearying succession of acts of thoughtfulness and generosity which Canada has extended toward this country," he said. "There is no country in the world whose loyalty and friendship have proved more true in times of stress and strain.

"It is for this reason all the more deplorable that we now should have to cut our purchases from Canada and thus injure her economy."

Fletcher Leaves For N.Y.

New York actor Bramwell Fletcher who starred in the Peterborough Summer Theatre's production of Angel Street and directed its "Rebecca" is leaving the district immediately for the United States. He is there reviving a new play called Springboard To Nowhere prior to bringing it to New York. This play was given an initial test production some time ago across the border and Mr. Fletcher has great hopes for it.

The well known actor greatly regrets that his contract with Equity has prevented his appearing more frequently on the Peterborough stage. He has, however, enjoyed his summer in this district very much, he reports, and hopes to return next year. During the last two months he has been cottaging at Young's Point.

Ontario Gov't Conducting Wildlife Survey At Picton

PICTON, Aug. 24—A series of surveys are being conducted in Prince Edward County this summer, covering agriculture, fish and migratory birds.

The Ontario Government has an investigator collecting statistics on the number of game fish caught in county waters. This is called a "creel census" and its success depends on the co-operation of tourist camp operators and their visitors filling out the required forms after a fishing trip.

An OAC student is spending the summer in Prince Edward collecting information on the various costs of production for tomato, pea and corn crops. He has arranged with 30 farmers to collect detailed figures on every expense connected with these crops. The government hopes that when this survey is completed it will be in a position to advise farmers on the most economical, efficient methods of growing these particular crops.

The fast declining whitefish catches in Lake Ontario and in the Bay of Quinte has become the subject of a third government survey.

A University of Toronto student is spending the summer in Picton collecting whitefish scales which tell the age and sex of the fish and may perhaps offer a clue to a solution as to why there has been such a drastic drop in whitefish catches.

Another survey was made earlier in the summer by a Dominion investigator to see if there was sufficient food available for migrating birds. After spending considerable time around the marsh between Big Island and the mainland, he announced there was plenty of food for the birds in Prince Edward County.

Labor Supports Retaining Ferry

COBOURG, Aug. 25 — (ENS) — Labor unions in Cobourg are uniting to support F. G. Robertson, Liberal member for Northumberland County in his efforts to prevent the rumoured closing of the Cobourg to Rochester ferry service.

At a meeting of the Allied Labor Council here last night, the members expressed their intention to add their strength in the action being taken to avert closing of the ferry route. The Allied Labor Council voted to send out letters to all the unions in Central Ontario, supporting the stand of Dr. F G. Robertson and they will be represented at the meeting to be held here on Friday night at which the matter will be discussed with Mayors and Reeves of Central Ontario.

Mayor Joe Smith has received word from the office of the Mayor Rochester that enquiries will be made at the head office of the B. & O. Railway. Joint action is contemplated there in regards to the ferry service. Mayor Smith expects to have an announcement from Rochester in time for Friday's meeting.

The Hon. Lionel Chevrier, Minister of Transport, has informed Dr. Robertson that he will secure an appointment with the President of the Company to enable Dr. Robertson to present his case and that a meeting will be arranged with the C. N. R. and B. & O. heads to see what their intentions are.

Hook Catches Ring

AVONMOUTH, England, Aug. 25 (AP) — A crane hook got caught yesterday in a wedding ring worn by Gilbert Britton, 62, a dock worker. Britton was lifted 15 feet into the air. He was lowered to safety and taken to a hospital where the ring was sawed off his finger.

Reduce Death Toll

CANTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The official Chinese Central News Agency said today the toll in an ammunition ship explosion Tuesday at the Formosan port of Takae was eight dead, 10 critically injured and 189 slightly hurt. Earlier the agency had said the total of dead and injured was expected to exceed 500.

Red Leader Arrested

BERLIN, Aug. 25 (AP)—Kari Heinz Scholz, leader of the new free Communist party, was arrested yesterday by French military police for "illegal political activity" in the French zone of Germany. The 41-year-old veteran German Communist and anti-Hitler underground campaigner founded his new party only two days ago. Scholz's slogan is "to fight imperialist Bolshevism". He will appear before a French military court.

Exhibition Notes

It's traditional that the kids have a good time on their day at the Ex, but one young lad really broke the tradition Wednesday afternoon. His mother took him on the ferris wheel, and the boy was no sooner on than he wanted to get off. His five or six years just didn't have the weight of experience behind them to allow him to stay put when the wheel started to revolve. His mother finally calmed him, however, and, with tears in his eyes, he stayed until the end.

Pretty young girls are adding color to the old story of "buy a ticket on the car?" How can anyone resist such beautiful smiles?

Frost started to melt on the sign of one of the exhibitors Wednesday afternoon, but the situation was remedied by a company man who tore away some decorative paper to give the freezing unit a freer circulation of air.

Business along the midway was generally slow most of the afternoon, but picked up after supper and soon the booths were operating in fine style.

Police constables are attempting to enforce some sort of traffic control at the front gates, where the flow is heaviest. Those jaywalkers who inhabit the upper parts of the city on business days, were down at the foot of George St. in full force Wednesday, and had a field day in the maze of cars, buses and taxis.

IMPORTANT INVENTION

A Massachusetts shoemaker revolutionized the industry in 1849 by inventing a machine for sewing leather soles, replacing the nail and wooden peg method.

Raising The C.B.C. License Fee

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation says that some of its problems would be solved if its annual license fee were raised from $2.50 to $5.00. A great many people, we imagine, will be opposed to such a move simply because they are opposed to any increase in taxes, and the license fee has the appearance of a tax. It must be borne in mind, however, that nobody is obliged to pay for a radio license if he chooses not to do so; he can do without radio. And it should also be understood that the C.B.C.'s deficits are paid from public funds, and the retention of the lower license fee does not really solve the question of C.B.C. finance.

* * *

If the license fee is to be raised, however, the public will expect something in return for the extra money. The C.B.C. now broadcasts several excellent programs; if its license costs more it will be expected to increase their number. And if the C.B.C. is to have more public money, the public will expect that it will include fewer commercial advertising programs in its daily broadcasting.

* * *

At present we have in Canada a curious regime in which a nationally owned broadcasting system controls all broadcasting, makes the rules for its competitors, and offers quite a lot of commercial broadcasting to its listeners. If the C.B.C. is to have more money from the public, it might be well to confine its broadcasting entirely to the non-commercial field, leaving programs of the higher cultural and educational sort in its hands, and putting commercial broadcasting in the hands of the independent stations which are in the business solely to make money, and which stand or fall by their commercial success.

* * *

This could only be done if a Radio Commission were appointed, with power to regulate both the C.B.C. and the commercial broadcasters. It is clearly unfair that the C.B.C. should control its only competitors. Under such a Commission the C.B.C. would have one field of broadcasting and the commercial stations another, and the listeners would know where they stood and would be able to choose what they wanted to hear. At present the C.B.C. is a dog in the manger.

* * *

We do not think that such a plan would lessen the C.B.C.'s popularity, and it would certainly clarify its position.

* * *

The snag in the present plan for radio finance in Canada is that the radio license fee is very hard to collect, and many people evade it. We do not know how this is to be overcome, but surely some plan could be devised. As for the $5.00 fee itself, we do not think it excessive for first-rate radio; in Britain the B.B.C. has charged a comparable fee for many years. If the C.B.C. can raise itself to the B.B.C. level, and drop commercial broadcasting, we do not think that such a fee would be considered too much by many Canadians.

Forest Fires At A Glance

A Montreal paper has come out with a tabulated column of forests fires, beginning with Quebec, and going on to Ontario, the U.S.A. and France. It is reminiscent of war-time papers which gave the war front "at a glance". It is the kind of glance we are sorry to take; disaster and destruction fit uneasily into itemized accounts; they too neatly bundle humanity's ills, like a macabre bookkeeper licking his chops over thundering cataclysms.

These forest fires of ours should be more than considered at a glance. We should take a long steady look at them, and resolve as individuals and as citizens collectively that we cannot afford the carelessness which has caused so many of them.

Taking The Bull By The Horns

The officials of the Dominion Drama Festival have laid a brief before the Massey Commission in which they suggest many things which would improve the status of the drama in Canada, including "a highway of municipal theatres over which theatre companies could travel". This is a tall order, and we know that the Dominion Drama Festival does not expect it to be filled in a hurry. But when one addresses commissions, it is wise to speak of one's dreams, as well as of one's basic rights.

The Toronto Star hastens to assure its readers that Canada is not ready for such a project. Very true. England was not ready for her National Gallery until a few determined people forced it upon the nation; now it is one of her prized possessions. We do not suppose that any country in the world has ever been ready for any costly and far-sighted cultural project; it is not the nature of countries to wish for things which they have never known.

It is the nature of wiseacres everywhere, however, to shake their heads solemnly whenever cultural advances are mentioned, and to say that the country is not ready for them. This looks good, and impresses the taxpayers. The Star, we know, is a warm supporter of anything which contributes to the physical welfare of Canadians: we are sorry that it does not also see its way clear to support what would improve the spiritual and intellectual welfare of our country.

Of course a flourishing Canadian drama is not a necessity. The Spartans managed without one; the Philistines never had one, and both these remarkable people have contributed adjectives to our language. Nothing that is enlivening, or entertaining, or beautiful is really a necessity. Only such things as an underground railway service for the city of Toronto are necessities, worthy of Government expenditure.

A Canadian playwright, who shall be nameless here, puts these words into the mouth of a character who has been taken by some audiences to speak for a large section of Canada: "There's always a gol-danged necessity to get in the way whenever you want somethin' purty. There's always somebody starvin', or a sewer needs diggin', or some damn necessary nuisance to hog all your time an' energy an' money if you go lookin' for it. Somebody's got to take the bull by the horns an' ignore the necessities if we're ever goin' to have any o' the things that make life worth livin' ".

The Drama Festival Committee has taken the bull by the horns. They recognize a necessity which is not yet plain to some of their fellow-Canadians.

Politically Reliable Athletes

The best proof of the inferiority of the Communist system to democratic countries may be, as the Windsor Star says, certain actions of the Communists themselves. The specific action to which the Star called attention was the announcement of Sokol, the Czechoslovakian national sports organization, that only "politically reliable" athletes are to be allowed to compete in international sports affairs. It will be remembered that two Czech tennis stars, one of whom was also a hockey player did not return home after their last appearance outside Czechoslovakia.

We offer two comments. In the United States, for example, would professed Communists be happily permitted to represent that country in sporting events abroad? We have noted no hearty American joy about the great singer Paul Robeson's tours abroad. However, Paul Robeson is allowed to go overseas as he pleases; in fact, some sections of the American press have openly demanded that he stay abroad, in communistic countries. Our question about Communist-American athletes as representatives of the U.S.A. abroad is hypothetical, for we know of no outstanding American athletes who are outright Communists. That is natural; there is more money in sports in democratic countries, and, moreover, athletes the world over accept the prevailing political regimes in their own countries without much question, and get on with their games.

Our second comment arises from the suggestion above. A career athlete must make a living. He can do it more profitably and more luxuriously in North America than in, say, India, Timbuctoo, Czechoslovakia or any other less developed country. We suspect that the Czech players who did not return home were persuaded to desert their homeland as much by the lure of dollars as by the abstract attractions of democracy and their detestation of communistic philosophy.

A Communist announces that wealth is a disease. A century or so ago another profound thinker announced that civilization was a disease, too. These diseases tend to go hand in hand, and blessed is the nation which is so afflicted.

Realism At Strasbourg

from
SUSAN STRANGE

THE one really striking thing about this Council Of Europe is the anxiety of everyone here that the Assembly should really get something done before they all go away at the end of the month. (Incidentally, nobody seems quite sure what the delegates, or representatives, should be called, but perhaps the Continental "deputies" is the best). Regardless of party or nationality, they are all agreed that their European Assembly must achieve something more than a surfeit of oratory, pate de foie and Alsatian wine. "It would be better," said one French speaker, M. Mollet, "not to have met at all than to perpetrate the cruel illusion that we are building a new Europe".

◇ ◇ ◇

THEY are not yet quite sure what it is they want to do. It would be surprising if they did after only two days of real debate. But they are sure what they don't want. They don't want to put on just another meaningless international charade—another elaborate anti-climax. This is something new. There is an entirely different atmosphere here than at the United Nations, even though the superficial bustle is just the same. At Lake Success one feels that whatever they say in public, most of the delegates are resigned to the unreality of calling their disunited world the United Nations. Here one feels that the deputies are far from resigned about the present state of Europe. They really want to turn the water into wine—or at any rate, into grape-juice, and perhaps later into wine.

◇ ◇ ◇

AGAIN and again this idea crops up. And there are at least two other themes which seem to be worrying deputies of practically every shade of opinion. One is the make-up of the Council of Europe itself. From the very first sessions last week when it was debating rules of procedure, it was obvious that the Assembly was restless. It did not like being so tightly controlled by the Committee of Ministers. That first vague resentment is now crystallising into some quite specific demands.

◇ ◇ ◇

ONE is that the Assembly — and not as at present the Committee of Ministers— should decide what it may discuss. All the delegates are members of national Parliaments and it is perhaps natural that they should resent, most of all, these gags on their freedom of speech. Another popular proposal suggested by Mr. Churchill among others is that the European Assembly should be able to appeal directly to the 12 national Parliaments. Under the existing rules of the Statute every Assembly proposal has to be carefully screened by the Committee of Ministers, where, of course, each Foreign Minister is armed with the veto.

◇ ◇ ◇

BRITISH Conservative deputies led by Mr. Harold MacMillan have also suggested that the Secretariat here should not be responsible only to the Ministers, but that the Assembly should have its own civil servants. This again seems quite a popular idea. In fact, the Assembly would like to make itself better heard and better served, loss of a once-a-year talking shop and more of a permanent, serious, hardworking organization with permanent committees and permanent links with the Governments and Parliaments of Europe.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE second recurrent theme is what Mr. Churchill called the "empty seats". He suggested yesterday that, as a symbol, the Assembly should leave empty seats in case the prodigal sons of Europe should return from behind the Iron Curtain. But more than Eastern Europe is involved. There is the question of Germany, which has been discussed much more exhaustively in private than in public here. Then again, should Spain also have an empty seat? And there is the question of seats for the overseas dependencies of countries like Britain, France, Belgium, and Holland. There is a widespread idea that by bringing them to Strasbourg, too, Europe can redress the balance of her losses in the East by drawing on the political and economic strength of underdeveloped Europe overseas. What lies behind all these "empty seats" is in fact exactly how far the Council of Europe should spread itself. But as Lord Layton said, the larger the number of nations in a federation, the fewer the functions that can be federalised.

All this again, is poaching. By the statute the Assembly is not supposed to discuss membership. That is reserved for the Ministers. But there seems to be little anyone can do to stop it.

◇ ◇ ◇

BOTH these themes—the powers of the Assembly and the membership of the Council of Europe—have been brought up from left, right and centre. Where there is much more difference of opinion is how fast or slow Europe should go towards federation. Very roughly speaking, there are three main answers: fast, slow, or step by step. After that, there are in each of the three main schools other differences of opinion on what, in practical terms, should be tackled first.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE fast school includes the real enthusiasts for federation, particularly some of the French and Belgian deputies like M. Andre Philip and the only British federalist, Mr. R. W. G. McKay (Labour). One of their main arguments is that Europe will starve without federation. So far, they say, all concerted efforts at economic recovery have failed because sooner or later they have come up against national sovereignty. If this is not modified no amount of American aid will help—and, indeed, if it is not done, the Americans may refuse, as Mr. Paul Hoffman hinted recently, to go on pouring out funds for E.C.A. (Economic Co-operation Administration).

◇ ◇ ◇

THEN there is the slow school. They answer that the economic problems have to be tackled first on functional lines before the political future of Europe can be settled. Already Mr. Morrison (rather unenthusiastically, perhaps) has become its acknowledged leader, with Mr. De Valera as a somewhat improbable bed-fellow. Some of the Scandinavian delegates also share with the British Labour deputies what one might call a European conservatism.

Mr. Churchill has deliberately and shrewdly put himself in a good strategic position between the two extremes. As his speech yesterday suggested, the step by step school wants to work through a gradual but fairly speedy reorganization of the Council of Europe. And while they are doing this, the Assembly should have an intensive study made of how and where power to make European laws can be given to the Assembly and power to enforce them to the Committee of Ministers.

◇ ◇ ◇

ALMOST every point in this programme is in defiance of the present statute of the Council. And if Mr. Morrison and the go slow school cannot stop these attempts with at least 34 out of the 101 votes in the Assembly, the Foreign Ministers will have some difficult problems to face at the end of this session. In particular, the British Government will be dramatically forced to reconsider its own official opposition to greater European unity.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE Assembly has now finished the general debate on the political structure of Europe. Today it began by making arrangements for committees in which each item on the agenda can be intensively studied. Later it passed to the consideration of the Human Rights item. The European Union group here has collected no less than 47 signatures for its proposal for a European Court of Human Rights and it seems likely that in spite of many practical difficulties the Assembly will end by suggesting this to the Committee of Ministers.

TODAY'S NEWSNAME

Sir Thomas Beecham

by
CHARLES REID

(In the presence of a cosmoplitan audience Sir Thomas Beecham, conducting his Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, opened the third Edinburgh Festival of Music and Drama, with a symphony concert in the Usher Hall, Edinburgh on Monday night, 22nd August.)

SIR Thomas Beecham founded his first orchestra as an amateur in his home town of St. Helen's, Lancashire, fifty years ago. It is the opinion of most critics that he is now, at 70, conducting with more finely balanced musicianship than ever before. It has taken him half a century to reach his zenith. All the old fire and velocity are there. And with them goes a new mellowness.

Few men have shown so miraculous a capacity for self-renewal. Sir Thomas is now launched in what amounts to his sixth career. The first career was brief. Coming down from Wadham College, Oxford, he dabbled in orchestral music while waiting to go into the family pill-making business.

After quarrelling with his father, the late Sir Joseph Beecham, who is credibly reported to have cut him off without a shilling, he contrived to complete his musical education, conducted a tatty opera company in the London suburbs, wrote an opera of his own, founded the Beecham Symphony Orchestra, and began to popularize the music of Frederick Delius.

That was his second career. Reconciliation with Sir Joseph opened the third. It was his father's financial backing which enabled him to import the Diaghlev ballet and produce opera on so magnificent a scale both in London and the provinces during and after the First World War.

His fourth career was his management of the Covent Garden estates, which had become a regalory burden on the Beecham family; in three years he sold a million pounds' worth of property and increased the revenue of what remained. His fifth career spread brilliantly over the 'thirties. Its peaks were the founding of his superb London Philharmonic Orchestra and his opulent international season at the Royal Opera House. To Career No. 6 his wartime conducting tours in America may be regarded as an epilogue.

His present career began with his organizing of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra in the autumn of 1946. During the first year he rehearsed and conducted five concerts a week, sometimes directing three recording sessions a day for the dollar markets. His present output is about 150 concerts a year all over the United Kingdom. A fifth of his time is spent in railway trains.

There was never so young a 70-year-old. At his Ringmer (Sussex) home he keeps pigs and Buff Orpington hens. Also he is President of the village cricket and football teams. On Boat Race and Cup Final days he sits with his eyes glued to the television set. I stress these humbler interests for a good reason: like his omnivorous reading, they are a pointer to the man's breadth of outlook and his immense vitality. Music benefits from such varied attributes.

Maid—"I'm very sorry, Miss Brown said to tell you she is not at home."

Mrs. Cayenne—"That's all right. Just tell her I'm glad I didn't come."

A kind old gentleman was strolling down the street when he saw a small boy standing on the front steps of a house, trying to reach the doorbell. The small boy stood on tiptoe, and even jumped up as high as he could, but he was unable to reach the bell.

The kind old gentleman went up the steps, rang the bell, and said:

"Well, my little man, now what?"

"I don't know what you're going to do," said the little boy, "but I'm going to run like the dickens!"

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Think not that I am come to send peace on earth; I came not to send peace, but a sword . . . He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me. (Mtt. 10: 34, 37, 38.)

◇ ◇ ◇

And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities. (Matt. 11:1.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Now the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover. And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people. (Luke 22: 1, 2.)

◇ ◇ ◇

And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people: and, behold I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him . . .

And they were instant, with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified. And the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed . . . And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left. (Luke 23: 13, 14, 23, 33.)

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Coach Spike Matthews is busy drilling the Peterborough Panthers in full equipment five nights weekly at the Oval now. Some 45 prospects taking part, including most of last year's ORFU-ers and several good stars of PCVS in 1948. Newcomers like Wally Graham and Bob Wyatt should be a help in the backfield this campaign with Orillia, Oshawa and Oakville. Grid fans will have a much better opportunity of seeing the Panthers in home games comes autumn and in better surroundings. They'll play night games under lights at Morrow Park in front of the big covered grandstand. Spike expects to field a real strong squad as each position is several deep in players. First game here probably early next month.

* * * * * *

Final OLA senior "A" game of the '49 schedule here is slated for 8.45 in Miller Bowl tomorrow evening when St. Catharines Athletics oppose the Petes. It doesn't mean so much to St. Kitts, who are sure of a playoff spot, but the game is highly important to the local gutted-stick warriors. They're at present in the sixth and last playoff spot by a single point over Weston, and a win here would about put them in. A loss might not prove fatal, if Weston keeps losing this week, also, but one victory for the Lions — with a loss Friday for the Petes—would leave the Creighton crew chilly and forlorn in the cellar. Don't worry, they'll fight furiously on Friday night, and no doubt a packed stand will be seen.

* * * * * *

On With The Parade

Oodles of athletic action yet on the Peterborough scene. Some 15 or 16 teams still in competition against out-of-towners. In lacrosse, the Petes are still in the hunt, our juvenile, midget and bantam boys also being in OLA playdowns. In baseball, the seniors are in COBL semi-finals while the local juvenile, midget, bantam and peewee teams are in OBA play. Softball sees Uniteds, Cosmos, Woollens' girls, our junior boys, and maybe the industrialists, all in provincial playoffs still. Besides our soccer and cricket teams. Not to mention all-local competition. Summer sports' swirl hasn't subsided much around these parts so far.

* * * * * *

A quick glance at the baseball playoff setup. One midget OBA melee here last eve, while Oshawa bantams tackle Jaycees at 6.15 tonight in Riverside to open their series. Friday sees Oshawa vs. southend juves in Riverside, the latter going to Oshawa last night. Saturday has our midgets and bantams playing return tilts in the Motor City, the Peterborough peewees seeing playdown action a little later. Cards on away trips should be dropped in to us in the a.m. Senior Petes played Batawa in Bella Villa last gloaming, and these squads have the third of their best-of-five COBL semi-final series Saturday aft in Riverside at three bells. All these games are quite important and rate lots of fan support.

* * * * * *

Batawa Ties It Up

Bill Easton's battling Batawa Shoemen aren't ready to fold up in the COBL semi-finals without a real scrap, apparently. Last p.m. in Belleville they trimmed the Petes 6-2 to sew up the best-of-five series at a game each. Third one will be here Saturday aft and fourth one back in Bella Villa on Monday. Gordie Muffitt was in fine mound form to scatter seven hits as his mates reached Gunner Whitehill for enough to gain the verdict. They also slapped out two round-trip blows. Howie Dalton and Danny Brown were the only visitors to get more than one safety. So, it looks like no cake-walk at all for the men o' Murphy.

* * * * * *

The lasses' round-robin softball series rolls on and two fine frays were dished up last e'en. Ashby's edged CGE 2-1 in the best tilt of the year while Marines finished strong in the ninth to beat Lindsay 10-6. A goodish game but the Scugog maidens helped kick it away at the last, while that other one was a honey of the best buckwheat with both hurlers good and then mates hustling all the way. Just a toss-up with heads combg down for the Ashby gals. 'Twas decided to forget the Friday night games on account of the Exhibition cuts in considerably on other local activities. So no more jousts till Monday when CGE plays Marines and Westclox tackles Ashby's.

Lacrosse Official Dies

DUNDALK, Aug. 25—(CP)—Thomas Allen Stevens, former president of St. Catharines and Fergus lacrosse clubs, died here Tuesday after several weeks' illness. Born in Mount Elgin, Ont., he was graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. He operated creameries in Dunville, Wheatley and Fergus. He won several awards for butter exhibits at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Close Tussles A Feature In Girls' Loop

Ashby's defeated CGE 2-1 and Marines took Lindsay 10-6 at the Bowl last night in girls' softball round-robin playoffs. The Ashby-CGE game was probably the best seen in this loop all season, and the other was a good encounter, too. Owing to the exhibition, there will be no girls' games this Friday, but on Monday evening CGE plays Marines as Westclox take on Ashby's, while Wednesday has Lindsay vs. Westclox, and Ashby's vs. Marines. Top two teams after the series playoff for the city title.

B. Reid pitched six-hit ball for Ashby's as Mary Perrin gave up but eight hits, both sides playing heads-up ball and errors not affecting the score. E. McFadden and M. Freeman stood out in the field for the winners as E. Boyce and T. DeCarlo went best of the other side in the fine scrap. B. Reid and E. McFadden each had two hits for Ashby's, and R. Boyce and Mary Perrin got two apiece for Electrics. Teams:

Went to Pieces

Lindsay were well up in their game till the final frame and then they went to pieces, as Marines kept plugging away to finally win their seven-run splash at the last. It was a neat number till then, but Lindsay miscues hurt a lot. A. LaPointe, V. Page, M. Chase and P. Graham were best defensively in this fray. B. Larmer led the winners at bat with three hits, one a homer, H. White also hitting a homer. A. McDonald got 3 hits ofr the losers. M. Owen and H. White went the distance on the mound for each side in fair style. Teams:

Marines: V. Page, 3b; E. Smith, lf; M. Behan, ss; B. Larmer, c; P. Williams, 1b; E. Whittaker, rf; M. Hill, rf; A. LaPointe, 2b; M. Walling, cf; H. White, p.

Head Artist Dies

BOSTON, Aug. 25 — (AP) — James F. Dugan, 39, head artist on the Boston Sunday Post staff, died last night, four days after he was stricken with polio. He joined the Boston Post in 1939 as a member of the daily art department.

Batawa Evens COBL Series With 6-2 Win Over Petes

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 25—(CP)—The Batawa shoemen torpedoed Peterborough Marines with two home runs, and then ran them aground on a three-run reef in the eighth frame for a 6-2 win in a Central Ontario Baseball League playoff game Wednesday night. The best-of-five series now is tied at one victory each.

The winners scored in the third on a walk and two singles, to even the score at one run apiece. Mac Watson homered in the fourth frame to give the homesters the lead for the first time, and Sonny Beckstead put them in front with a four-master over the rightfielder's head in the fifth.

The shoemen ran in their final three tallies in the eighth on a walk and three singles.

Score in Second

The Marines notched their first counter in the top of the second as Wilson, who had walked, stole second, and came home on errors to the shortstop and the catcher.

The only other Peterborough run came in the fifth when Garvey doubled in Dalton who had singled.

Gord Muffitt went all the way for the winners, walking six, striking out seven, and giving up seven hits for two runs as his mates played good defensive ball behind him. Gunner Whitehill was tagged for the loss.

Midgets Defeated

East City midgets, city champions in minor baseball went down to defeat at hands of Oshawa midgets 13-5 on Wednesday night in Riverside Park. This was the first game in the OBA round, a two out of three series.

Behind the four-hit pitching of Stone, the Oshaaw boys came through in the clutches, only committing one error. Meanwhile the locals went down 11 times via the strikeout route and kicked the ball around for seven miscues. The Oshawa squad nicked Sullivan of the Petes for eight safeties.

Foley and Ferguson led the Easterners at bat with one for three. Star, Mazurk and Attersley each had two safeties for four trips to the plate for Oshawa.

The teams:

Grace Lenczyk Scrapes Through

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP)—Two of the continent's up-and-coming lady golfers lead off today in the first of four quarter-final matches for the Canadian ladies open golf championship.

Pat Lesser, the phenomenal 16-year-old Seattle high school student, takes to the fairways with Canadian ladies closed champion Bass Davies, 24, of Vancouver, at 1.15 p.m PDT (4.15 p.m. EDT).

Pat, qualifying round medalist, scored a 3 and 2 victory over Victoria's Marjorie Todd to win her quarter-final berth yesterday.

Miss Davies, from Marine Drive Golf Club, defeated Mrs. C. H. Shuttleworth, of Hamilton, 2 and 1.

Defending champion Grace Lenczyk, of Indian Hill Country Club, Newington, Conn., who had to use every trick in her bak to beat 19-year-old Daintry Chisholm of Montreal, takes on Mrs. J. C. Whitelaw, of Laval Sur Le Lac, Que.

Buffalo Nips Rochester In 7-2 Triumph

By The Associated Press

Paul Richards, manager of Buffalo Bisons, has three good right arms—Bob Hooper, Saul Rogovin and Clem Hausmann, a trio of outstanding pitchers.

This hurling triumvirate is primarily responsible for the lofty status of the high-flying International League leaders today.

They have accounted for 43, or more than half, of Buffalo's 80 victories. And, perhaps more important, they have dropped only 14 of the Bison's 54 losses, or a pitching percentage of .754.

Hooper is the leader with 14-5 while Hausmann sports a neat 13-7 slate.

Rogovin picked up No. 14 Wednesday night with a six-hit against the second-place Rochester Red Wings, 7-2. The hefty right-hander fanned 13 Red Wings, equalling the season's best league figure.

Gene Marland led the Buffalo drive, blasting his 22nd home run and a brace of doubles.

Tied With Toronto

Montreal moved into a tie with Toronto for fourth place by beating the Maple Leafs 8-3. Don Bankhead annexed his 17th triumph as the Royals came from behind to win.

The perky Syracuse Chiefs rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to sink the Jersey City Giants for the fifth straight time 7-6.

Al Rubeling and Sammy Meeks crashed home runs for the winners.

Vern Taylor, promising 21-year-old Baltimore southpaw, turned back the last-place Newark Bears on five hits, 5-1. Butch Woyt slapped a homer for Baltimore as the Bears plunged to their 82nd defeat of the season, 32½ games off the pace.

Dodgers Crush Cardinals In Spectacular 6-0 Triumph

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The spirited stretch battle between Brooklyn and St. Louis may develop into a personal feud between the rival managers of the pennant-hungry clubs.

Thus far, Eddie Dyer, boss of the Redbirds, has kept his peace. At least he hasn't openly belittled the Brooks. But not old Burt Shotton. The 64-year-old firebrand sometimes referred to as "Battling Barney," is simply spoiling for a fight.

"They're not much," Shotton dismissed the Cards. "And here's why. We've never felt worse, played worse nor looked worse than we have during the past week. And yet those guys could build up only a one game lead on us. In my book that makes the Cards not so hot."

"What are they going to do when the breaks begin to fall our way, as I know they will. I think we're finally straightened out. We're sure to take them now."

Shotton had reason to gloat at that. His Dodgers never looked better than they did Wednesday. They were smooth, aggressive and spectacular in their 6-0 triumph over the Redbirds.

Masterful Pitching

Don Newcombe pitched a masterful game, allowing only six scattered hits. In addition he helped himself to two hits, one of which scored three runs to sew up the game in the eighth.

Everybody in the starting lineup connected safely. Carl Furillo, Roy Campanella and Gil Hodges hit homers.

In winning the Dodgers moved only one game off the league-leading Cards.

The American League race tightened too, when the pace-setting New York Yankees took a 13-2 lacing from the Tigers in Detroit. Thus, the idle Boston Red Sox moved up to within two games of the Yanks. That's the closest they've been to the top since the first week of the season.

Vic Wertz led the Tigers attack with a pair of home runs, although 13 walks issued by three Yankee pitchers did just as much damage. Young Art Houtteman breezed to his 11th victory with a 10-hitter.

Indians Trampled

For the second straight night, the third place Cleveland Indians failed to take advantage of a Yankee defeat when they bowed again to Washington's lowly Senators. This time they were beaten 3-2. Ironically, it was the first victory for Mickey Harris since he joined the Senators. He had lost seven straight. Mike Garcia was the loser.

Philadelphia Athletics retained their fourth-place hold over the Tigers by the slimmest of margins—one percentage point—by conquering the Chicago White Sox 5-0. Dick Fowler, the Toronto righthander, pitched his fourth shutout and 12th victory of the year for the Mackmen.

Boston's third place Braves in the National League eked out a 6-5 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates. Lefty Warren Spahn staggered to his 16th victory. Boston's fifth in a row.

Catcher Wes Westrum slammed two home runs to lead New York Giants to a 5-3 victory over Chicago Cubs. Sheldon Jones went all the way to register his 10th victory.

Boston and St. Louis in the American, and Philadelphia and Cincinnati in the National, were idle.

Peterborough Pair Winners Black Memorial Trophy

By HERB MARTIN

Robert Gamble and Mrs. Thos. Doughty won the Phillip Black Memorial Trophy Wednesday evening at the annual mixed doubles lawn bowling tournament held here, posting high aggregate for three games of 54 plus seven. Runners-up with 52 plus four were Aaron Black and Mrs. R. Hopkins, of Peterborough, while a Kingston pair finished third.

The big tourney drew 96 pairs from various points in Ontario. In presenting the trophy on behalf of the Black family, Aaron Black expressed appreciation for all who had participated. Chairman William Jeffries was master of ceremonies at the presentation of the prizes. Following are the winners:

First, Mrs. T. Doughty and R. Gamble, Peterborough; second, Mrs. R. Hopkins and A. Black, Peterborough; third, M. McCorquodale and partner, Kingston; fourth, F. Hosking and Mrs. Highfield, Port Hope; fifth, Mr. and Mrs. B. Taylor, Campbellford; sixth, Mr. and Mrs. F. Martin, Peterborough; seventh, Mr. and Mrs. J. McTaggart, Port Hope; eighth, Mrs. H. HOOKS BIG ONE—Shown above is Ross Hart, proprietor of Rush Point Lodge, Round Lake, with the 23½-pound muskie he caught on Sunday after a battle lasting 45 minutes. Beside him is Ronald Eber, 5, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, who was indirectly responsible for the catch, as it was he who persuaded Mr. Hart to go fishing.

Lands 23½-Pound Muskie After 45-Minute Battle

HAVELOCK, Aug. 24.—(ENS.)—Ross Hart, proprietor of Rush Point Lodge on the western shore of Round lake, caught a 23½ pound muskie on Sunday after a strenuous battle lasting 45 minutes. Mr. Hart was using a 12 pound test line. The fish measured 45 inches in length. Ronald Eber, 5, of Cayahoga Falls, Ohio. coaxed Mr. Hart to go out fishing and received a big thrill from the catch.

More Caught

Mr. Hart also caught another muskie which weighed 12 pounds, while Thomas Jackson of Kingston, landed one weighing 13 pounds, all being taken from the waters of Round lake on the same day.

Mr. Stutt of Akron, Ohio, a visitor at Rush Point Lodge, landed a 5½ pound small mouth black bass on Tuesday at South lake.

Council To Consider PigeonLakeCauseway

Contribution the City of Peterborough may or may not be willing to make by way of financial support of the proposed new causeway over Pigeon Lake will be discussed by the Finance committee of the council next week, Mayor Swanston announced at Wednesday's session of the council.

The mayor made the announcement after Alderman P. J. Anglesey had reported on his attendance at the conference Monday night when city and county authorities discussed the causeway. Alderman Anglesey told his fellow council members that he was very careful at the conference and had not committed the city in any way, simply promising to bring the matter before the council at its next meeting.

Babies Month Apart

WINGHAM, Aug. 25—(CP)—A mother has made Canadian history here by giving birth to two healthy, red-haired youngsters a month apart. And the two are not twins, but are single births. The mother, Broadway Dolly, is a Red Poll cow. A local veterinary could not recall a similar case in Canada and knew of only one in the world and that was in Australia.

Build Water Tank

OSHAWA, Aug. 25—(CP)—Relief is in sight for people here who annually go thirsty during summer heat waves. A 1,000,000-gallon water storage tank is being constructed to supplement another such tank which officials said was inadequate during summer hot spells.

Mrs. McKerroll Dies

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP)—Mrs. D. T. L. McKerroll, one of Canada's outstanding churchwomen and wife of Rev. D. T. L. McKerroll, former moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, is dead. Born in Niagara Falls, Ont., Mrs McKerroll was vice-president of the Presbyterian Women's Mission Society of Canada and later became president after church union.

May Cut Payments

CALGARY, Aug. 25 (CP)—Officials of the Calgary chapter of the National House Builders' Association said Wednesday the federal government may soon make a drastic reduction in the legal down-payment required on homes. J. I. White of Calgary, a member of the association's national executive, said NHBA officials met at Edmonton earlier this week to discuss the problem with Reconstruction Minister Winters. He said a 50-per-cent reduction in legal down payments now in force was under consideration.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

By The Canadian Press.

Top baseball officials at New York Wednesday shrugged off as "no substance" a report that there have been hundreds of attempts in recent years to fix baseball games in the United States.

The New York Post-Home News published the report in one of a series of articles on what it calls a $5,000,000,000-a-year betting racket.

The newspaper said "sums up to $10,000 have been offered players" and in some instances there have been threats of violence.

Specifically, it cited tampering letters it said were sent recently to a Brooklyn player and to Eddie Dyer, manager of St. Louis Cardinals.

Baseball leaders acknowledged there have been such letters but described them as of a "screwball" variety.

Walter Mulbry, secretary of baseball, said in Cincinnati that reports of widespread attempts to fix games are without foundation.

He said Dyer received a telegram from Dallas, Tex., which read: "Just bet $5,000 on tomorrow's game." There was no request made in the wire, Mulbry said.

Hamilton's Big Four Wildcats Wednesday night retained the city football championship by whipping the Tigers, Ontario Union entry, 24-5, in a pre-schedule match.

Quarterback Al Dekdebrun, one of Wildcats' United States imports showed the capacity crowd of 12,000 some brilliant forward-passing and tossed one touchdown pass to Eldon Hemingway. Ed Hughes, a big halfback import, galloped across for two other majors.

Frank Gnup, Wildcats' stocky playing-coach who shared quarterback duties, scored their fourth touchdown.

Merle Hapes scored Tigers' touch early in the game with a spectacular 35-yard run.

The self-exiled Czech tennis stars, Jaroslav Drobny and Vladimir Cernik, arrived at New York Wednesday by plane from London. They will compete in the United States singles championships at Forest Hills, N. Y., next week.

Neither Drobny, seeded second in the foreign entries, nor Cernik, ranked 10th, has any intention of returning to his homeland.

"We've been declared traitors" the 27-year-old Drobny said, "and would be imprisoned if we returned to Czechoslovakia."

Forty-four lady golfers from Collingwood, Barrie, Orillia and Midland teed off at Midland Golf and Country Club Wednesday afternoon in pursuit of the Simcoe County ladies' championship.

Medal honors in Wednesday's 18 holes went to Mrs. E. McNabb of Barrie, who scored a 93 over the badly-burned course, whose ladies' par is 76. Mrs. McNabb edged out Mrs. Frank Hartman of Midland by one stroke for top honors. Tied for third was Mrs. Hartman's mother, Mrs. Dave Haig, and Mrs. J. Glanville of Collingwood, each with 95.

Play is scheduled to continue Thursday and Friday.

Harold Wilson, owner of Miss Canada IV, is expected at Picton, Ont., today to make an attempt on the world speedboat mark in his sleek, 30-foot craft.

Reports from Gravenhurst say the boat attained a speed of 155 miles an hour in test runs there early this week. The present world record is 141.74, set 10 years ago by the late Sir Malcolm Campbell on Lake Coniston, England.

Miss Canada, following a disappointing performance in the Harmsworth Trophy races at Detroit several weeks ago when supercharger trouble slashed her speed, will attempt to better the world mark Friday morning on a Bay of Quinte course.

At Toronto, George H. Campbell, president of the Ontario Amateur Softball Association, announced the added entry of six teams for the Canadian Fastball tournament at the Canadian National Exhibition starting Friday.

New clubs entered are Hamilton, Oshawa Broncs, Brougham, Toronto Crothers, Toronto Midtown and Toronto Teachers.

Withdrawal of Windsor, Owen Sound, Niagara district and London Manor Park from the original draw made the change necessary.

Mimico Mountaineers moved into third place in the Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior League Wednesday by defeating the league-leading Brampton Excelsiors 23-10 at Timmins.

Ken Dixon led the Mountaineers with six goals, while Jack Williams and Denny Peters had three apiece.

Local Squads Victors In OLA Frays

Peterborough bantam lacrosse all-stars edged Orillia 10 to 5 in the first game of a home and home series, played in Orillia Wednesday night. This gives the Petes a five-goal lead on the round with the return game scheduled for Saturday, 7.30 p.m., at Miller Bowl.

Play was close at all times with Petes having the edge in play in the first and third quarters. At the end of the first quarter Petes were in front 3 to 2. Each team added one in the second. The Petes pulled away in the third notching five to one lone tally by Orillia, both teams got one in the fourth.

Hobart, Simmons, Parry, Delahey and Sutherland were outstanding for the Petes with Nettels and Wren the pick of the Orillia team.

Petes: Hobart, Ryan, McDougall, Hunt, Roberts, Suthcrland, Strickland, Parry, Cullen, Mullen, Simmons, Bloom, Delahey, Kearns, Kelly.

Orillia: Wren, Stephenson, Belajac, Noy, Douglas, Hunter, Foote, Woodrow, Night, Nettels, Hawke, Curran.

Did Likewise

Following the example set by the bantams the Peterborough midget all-stars trimmed the Orillia midgets 13 to 7 in their first game of a home and home series, goals to count on the round. This gives the locals a six-goal lead for the return game Saturday at Miller Bowl following the bantam game.

The Petes outscored Orillia 4 to 1 in the first and second quarters and in the third by 4 to 2. They slipped on their checking in the final frame with Orillia outscoring them 3 to 1.

Farley led the Petes with three goals and also obtained the two minor penalties handed out to them. Cupoli, Fontaine and Allen each notched two while McIlmoyle, Batley, Galley and Doris each had one. Glassford and James each notched two for Orillia while Taylor, Belejac and Scarlett had singles.

Referee, A. S. Whitnall.

Robinson KO's Belloise In Seven Rounds

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP) — "I want a shot at the middleweight title. I think I've earned it."

Welterweight champion Ray Robinson made the statement on Wednesday night. It was probably the greatest understatement made in sports all year.

Off his performance, he certainly deserves the chance. Whether he'll get it is something else again.

After he cut down socking Steve Belloise in seven rounds at Yankee Stadium Wednesday night, the 28,812 fans present were ready to concede him to be the No. 1 middleweight, champion Jake Lamotta or not.

Iron-chinned Jake and Marcel Cerdan, the former 160-pound boss who meet in a return clash for the crown here Sept. 28, were among the bumper throng which saw Wednesday night's massacre. It wasn't too pleasant for them.

A Great Fighter

They saw a great fighter in action, Robinson hit Belloise with every shot in the book. He won every round but the fifth when he was bothered for just two minutes by a desperate, do-or-die attack by the 30-year-old former sailor.

Then Sugar Ray caught up with Steve at the end of the seventh and flattened him with as perfect a left hook as you'll ever see.

Referee Eddie Joseph counted to five when the bell clanged. Belloise's seconds hauled the inert gladiator to his corner. But Steve was out cold.

Manager Eddie Walker signalled to Joseph that it was all over. Under New York rules if goes in the book as a seventh-round kayo.

Robinson, who weighed 153½ to Belloise's 158, looked fast despite the added poundage.

Ottawa, Hull Men Win Overseas Scholarships

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP)—Canadian Amateur Hockey Association scholarships for overseas study in the arts have been awarded to Guy Beaulne of Hull, Que., and Stanislao Rigolo of Ottawa.

Walter Herbert, director of the Canada Foundation which selected the scholarship winners, said today the awards are worth $1,000 each and are to help the young Canadians complete studies in France and Italy. The funds are put up by the C.A.H.A.

At present studying dramatic art at the Sorbonne, Guy Beaulne, 27, is well known in Eastern Canada as a bilingual actor and producer and as drama critic for Ottawa's French-language daily, Le Droit.

Stanislao Rigolo, 25-year-old Canadian army veteran, is a Toronto-trained artist. His work has been accepted for several important exhibitions and critics rate him as a young painter of promise.

Escape Injury

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 25—(AP)—All crew members escaped injury when a fuel lighter, the West Shore tipped over and threw 800 tons of coal into the Blackwell Canal here yesterday. Later Rober J. Keefe, 64, the West Shore's chief engineer, died of a heart attack.

McGill Starts Special Fund

MONTREAL, Aug. 25—(CP)—A student loan fund has been created by a group of Montreal business men for the purpose of helping boys who want an education at McGill University but lack money, it was learned Wednesday.

For a start, the fund will be directed to students who have football ability, but a spokesman for the group said that "in time, we hope the fund will become large enough to take in others."

Students applying for such aid are screened by a special committee of the loan fund and if they receive help are only honor bound to pay it back.

The Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union earlier this year sanctioned financial aid for students by means of a loan.

At Toronto, intercollegiate football circles saw an immediate attempt to strengthen a weak McGill team in the Montreal report that a "loan fund" was set up for football-playing students.

To Resume Service

BERLIN, Aug. 25 (Reuters) — International telephone service is to be resumed between western Germany and Spain, Gibraltar and Turkey, the American military government announced.

Tie COF Contest

A & P tied COF 16-all last night in the second game of the Foresters' Softball League three-of-five finals for the Bert Austin Trophy. They will tangle again next Tuesday.

Foresters piled up an early lead but lost it later on costly errors. Richmond started for A & P, with O'Toole replacing him in the fifth. Parnell started off for the other side but gave way in the seventh to Phillips. It was a wide-open tilt but keenly contested. Teams:

A & P: Knapp, 3b; Thorburn, c; O'Toole, ss, p; Huard, 2b; Plumpton, cf; Richmond, p, ss; Levasseur, 1b; Clark, rf; Plunkett, lf.

Foresters: Parnell, p, lf; Tadel, 3b; Collins, c; Phillips, rf, p; Walling, 2b; Heath, lf; Hobson, 1b; Dewar, rf.

Umpires, Olmstead and Hempstead.

3 Die In Flames

DECATUR, Ill., Aug. 23—(AP)—Three persons burned to death yesterday when an exploding kerosene stove fired a small frame and shingle dwelling.

It's so different today

PIRACY on the High Seas was, no doubt, exciting until it came to breakfasting on salt pork and ship's biscuit. Nowadays that delicious cereal, Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes, is eaten joyfully on both sea and land. It's made from not one but TWO grains — sun-ripened wheat and malted barley.

Bold buccaneers of today come aboard with zest when Grape-Nuts Flakes are in the offing. And a good thing too, because these honey-golden flakes provide nourishment they need . . . useful quantities of carbohydrates, protein, phosphorous, iron and other food essentials. Say "Ahoy, Mr. Grocer! Grape-Nuts Flakes, please!"

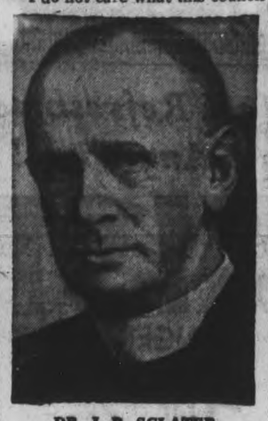
Ex-United Church Moderator Dr. J. R. P. Sclater Dies Overseas

TORONTO, Aug. 25—The minister who made people his hobby and church union his life work, the English-born Scotsman, Very Rev. Dr J. R. P. Sclater, died suddenly on Tuesday while visiting in Scotland. The former Moderator of the United Church of Canada was 71 years old.

Word of Dr. Sclater's death reached church officials here Wednesday. He died in Edinburgh while still working for union between the Church of England and the Church of Scotland. He was on leave from his church, Old St. Andrew's, Jarvis St., where he had preached since the United Church of Canada was formed.

Dr. Sclater was born in Manchester, England, became an ordained Presbyterian minister in 1902, and came to Canada in 1923. Twenty years later he became Moderator of the United Church of Canada.



Believed In Union

He believed implicitly in the ultimate reunion of all Christian churches. "In this rests the hope of the world," he said, and he worked tirelessly for greater co-operation and understanding between the churches.

Cities and universities in Canada and the United States repeatedly demanded his services as an outstanding preacher. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen once said of him: "I don't think I have ever listened to one of his sermons without feeling I had something to carry home with me."

Dr. Sclater often let his dry Scots humor show through. He created a furor in Belleville when the council made him a token presentation of the gold key to the city. He put it in his pocket.

"I do not care what this council or any one else thinks," he chuckled. "This key is mine."

Dr. Sclater had a remarkable record. He refused offers of high stipends from the United States and Britain in order to stay at Old St. Andrews. For many years he was the only non-American on the Harvard University Board of Preachers.

In addition, he was a competent writer. His books include The Enterprise of Life, The Eve of Battle, God and the Soldier and The River of Content.

When Dr. Sclater left Toronto for England in late May with his wife and his daughter, Molly, he planned to return in mid-September. Surviving also is one son, Arthur, of Toronto.

Fenelon Falls Couple Mark Golden Wedding

FENELON FALLS, Aug. 25—Dr. and Mrs. E. A. White welcomed more than 200 guests at a reception held in honor of their 50th anniversary. Four of the original guests were in attendance, Mrs. F. H. Magee; Mrs. Finch, sister of Dr. White; Miss B. Clark and Mr. Alex Clark, sister and brother of Mrs. White.

For the past 30 years Dr. and Mrs. White have made their home here. Mrs. White graduated from Toronto General in 1894. She was a member of the Fenelon Falls School Board for four years. Dr. White graduated from the University of Toronto in 1895 and is still in practice.

William Brown Laid To Rest

ROSENEATH, Aug. 25.—(ENS).—The funeral of William Brown was held at his residence, the Brown homestead, in Alnwick township, on Wednesday afternoon. The service was private and attended only by the near relatives and a few close friends of the deceased. Rev. R. C. White, pastor of Roseneath United church, officiated.

Mr. Brown died suddenly on Tuesday in his eighty-second year, the last surviving member of eight children of the late William Brown and Agnes Howson.

The pallbearers were his three sons, Messrs. Kyle, Keef and Meredith Brown, Joseph Kelly, Sr., Delbert J. Sherwin and Roly Thackeray.

Interment was in Centenary cemetery, Alnwick township.

Included among those from a distance attending the funeral were Keef Brown Detroit; Ray Brown, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Burrison, Gore's Landing; Mr and Mrs Leslie Tucker, Burnley

Dean Of Lady Golfers Ada MacKenzie Loses

VANCOUVER Aug. 25 (CP)—The dean of Canada's lady golfers, 59-year-old Ada Mackenzie of Toronto, has played her first consolation match—and lost.

For the first time in 30 years of competitive play, Miss Mackenzie lost a first-round championship match in the Canadian Ladies' Open—the tournament she has won five times.

And yesterday, in the consolation match, she bowed to Calgary's Paddy Arnold, one up. The match went to the 22nd hole.

Miss Mackenzie was knocked out of the championship flight by one of her own proteges—20-year-old Ann Sharp, of Welland.

Bell Beats Co-Ops

Bell Telephone defeated Co-ops 23-13 in the Civic Softball League last night, hitting the ball hard in every inning. They got four runs each in the first two frames, six next time up, one in the fourth, three next heat and five in the sixth. The losers shoved three over in the first and sixth, one in the second, four in the fourth and two in the seventh. Ackford led the winners with four singles and a homer in five, as Edmison got three hits for Co-ops and Berwick a homer. Teams:

Co-ops: McAuliffe, ss; Edmison, lf, p; Trayling, 2b; Berwick, 3b; Wilson, c; Doris, p, lf; Vyse, cf; Coulter, 1b; Jenkins, rf.

Bell: Greatrix, cf; James, c; Ackford, ss; Harrison, lf; Gillespie, 1b; Conway, 2b; Tushingham, rf; Wood, 3b; Boyce, p.

South Ontario May Get Gas From Panhandle

CHATHAM, Aug. 25 (CP) — Southern Ontario housewives may start cooking with gas from the Texas Panhandle.

D. P. Rogers, president of the Union Gas Company of Canada, Ltd., disclosed Wednesday his company is exploring the possibility of importing enough natural gas from Texas to supply companies in Toronto, Hamilton, London, Windsor and most other centres in southern Ontario.

He said, however, that even if surveys show the plan is economically feasible it will be two or three years before the project is completed.

Mr. Rogers said his company has an option from Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company in Texas for enough gas to meet Ontario needs. An existing pipeline already carries some gas from Texas to Chatham but government approval would be required for further contracts and pipelines would have to be constructed between the various Ontario points.

A decision whether the project is feasible will be made after preliminary studies are completed in six to eight weeks, he said.

Most gas used in Ontario now is manufactured from coal. Mr. Rogers said the natural gas likely would be mixed with the manufactured gas.

Dublin Councillor Avers Statue Frightened Children

After 18 months in Canada, Thomas P. Bourke, the Irishman who has distinguished himself by writing to the Toronto press that the statue of Queen Victoria which Peterborough and London are trying to get is "horrible", is convinced that Canada is entering a new era. He says that in the past year he has noticed a definite trend towards nationalism, as distinguished from the usual colonial attitude.

Mr. Bourke, who lived his life in republican Ireland until he came out here, was in the export-import business. Conditions and restrictions in Ireland and England forced him to leave his contacts there. He is now employed as a travelling salesman by a Canadian-American firm.

He was a member of the Fine Gael party in Ireland for 20 years the main party in the present government. He contested a seat for the party unsuccessfully once, and was a member of the Dublin City Council from 1945 to 1948. While on the council he was a member of committees and commissions on housing, public health mental hospitals, old-age pensions and was connected with town planning.

Approves Town Planning

Mr. Bourke sees a great difference between Ireland and Canada in the town planning field. In Dublin, a Town Planning Law is in effect, which restricts private and commercial buildings or additions to existing buildings, and shifts industries and housing projects connected with the industries away from the cities as much as possible. He feels that similar planning in Canada and right in Peterborough, is the only way to plan for the future, and that "it should be started today for a decent, well-planned city 50 years from now."

OPPOSES WINNIE—William Brooks, above, has been named as the Communist Party candidate who will oppose Winston Churchill in the British general elections next year.

The economic situation of Ireland, Mr. Bourke said, is very good—"she really has a credit rating in the world." England is regarded as the mother drawing an old-age pension, and looking for her children to keep her going. The Irish, he says, have a great admiration for Britain, and are hoping to see her pull up in the world again.

"Anybody Can Have Toronto"

His impressions of Canada itself are varied. He likes northern Ontario, (he works out of North Bay) thinks Winnipeggers and their city are wonderful, and that Toronto is not so good. "Anybody can have Toronto as far as I'm concerned. Everybody's your friend from 9 to 5, but after that they just close up."

Mr. Bourke is hoping to get into politics in Canada in some capacity, and says that he will probably line up with the Liberals, because their policy "hits more of a Canadian trend."

Living costs in Ireland are considerably cheaper, with municipal and subsidized housing, cheaper clothes and food. In addition, the Irishman pursues a slower and easier way of life, with a "there's always tomorrow" philosophy.

Statue Green and "Horrible"

On the question of the statue again, Mr. Bourke says it's on a granite base about five feet in width, 14 or 15 feet in height. It's green, probably with age, he says, with a recumbent figure lying at the Queen's feet. And there she sits—"she was never very good looking I suppose, but this is horrible. They use it to frighten children.

Mr. Bourke says that Peterborough is "a lovely city," and plans to stay in Canada now. He has a wife and child still in Ireland, and says that they will be coming to Canada in due time.

Trying Out Engines

LONDON, Aug. 25 (CP)—Several British automobile manufacturers are experimenting with gas turbine engines but say it will be a long time before turbine civilian cars hit the road. The problem is to make a gas turbine engine small enough. Because of this research is based on the long-term view but there may be some examples of experimental engines at the British Motor Show which opens in London late next month.

Tracking Down Bandit

ROME, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Italian government Wednesday night adopted commando-guerrilla tactics in a war against the Sicilian bandit, Salvatore Giuliano, and his gang. Interior Minister Mario Scelba announced creation of a specially-picked force of heavily-armed carabiniere and riot police in a campaign against the Giuliano brigands in their wild lair near Palermo. The super-pose will consist of 2,000 men.

Coal Strike Ends

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP) — Britain's second serious coal strike this year ended when elevator operators at mines in the rich Lancashire fields voted to return to work Wednesday night. Elevator operators in Yorkshire took similar action Tuesday night. The operators belong to the Colliery Winders' Federation. The strike took 868 out and left some 79,000 mine workers idle. Both groups agreed to put their wage claims before an arbitration board.

W. S. Robinson Dies

DAYTON, O., Aug. 25 (AP)—William S. Robinson, 67, general manager of the McCall Corporation, magazine publishers, died Wednesday of cancer. Born in London, England, he migrated to Canada in 1903 to seek schooling to become an artist. He first obtained work with a harvesting crew near Winnipeg and when he earned enough money, entered the Minneapolis School of Fine Arts.

Deny Doctor Called To Treat Winston Churchill

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Press Association said Wednesday night that Lord Moran has gone to Nice for a holiday, and not to treat former Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Unconfirmed reports from Nice said Churchill is ill at the villa of Canadian-born Lord Beaverbrook on the French Riviera and that Lord Moran has arrived there by plane.

Lord Moran is physician to both Churchill and the King.

Press Association said Lord Moran will spend the holiday at Lord Beaverbrook's villa, where the 74-year-old wartime Prime Minister is spending a week-end at his favorite pastime—painting.

Lowest Sewage Plant Tender $613,136

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCIX. No. 46 THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1949

Acceptance of Hardy Tender Recommended To Council, Must Go To Municipal Board

Definite action toward solving Peterborough's present sewage disposal problem, which has been a source of much annoyance particularly to residents of the South End, was taken by City Council sitting as a Committee-of-the-Whole Wednesday night. The aldermen unanimously adopted a recommendation of Gore and Storrie, Toronto, the council's consulting engineers, that the tender of George Hardy Ltd., Leaside, for construction of additional facilities be accepted. The Hardy tender is $483,662.20, some $40,000 less than the next lowest tender.

The council adopted the recommendation subject to the approval of the provincial Department of Health and the Ontario Municipal Board, which must approve issuance of debentures covering the cost of the work. A delegation representing the council will leave for Toronto in a few days to confer with officials of the these two departments.

Mayor M. J. Swanston, in answer to a question of Alderman Douglas Miller, said that the proposed expenditure would add approximately one mill to next year's tax rate. "That is one extra mill the people won't object to," was the rejoinder of Alderman Grant Miller.

Issue Forced

Chairman of the meeting, Alderman Hurrell Dodds, opened the 2½-hour-long session by remarking that "You are all aware that this issue has been forced upon us by the public and press of Peterborough."

The construction firm undertakes to complete the work within 40 weeks, which will mean that at least the greater part of the job will be completed by next July 1, in time to avoid a repetition of the conditions and the many complaints made this summer by southenders in respect to inadequacy of existing facilities.

City To Build Pump

Gore and Storrie also submitted an estimate, which had been requested by City Engineer Chalmers, covering cost of installation of a "storm water pump" (together with a small building to house it) which it is proposed to place at the lower end of Park St. on the right bank of the river. This work would be done by the city itself and would boost the total cost of the whole project to $613,136. The proposed Park St. pump would be designed to prevent considerable flooding of cellars in that area which has been occurring in the spring of the year when the river is at flood stage.

Other tenderers for the work were as follows (exclusive of the proposed Park St. pump): A. E. Rule, Ltd., Toronto, $524,508; and A. W. Robertson, Ltd., Toronto, $551,768.

No Sludge De-Waterer

Included in the $483,662.20 Hardy figure for the work on the sewage treatment plant itself is an item of $75,848,000 for "engineering and contingencies." The tender originally included another item of $22,000 to cover "mechanical de-watering of the sludge," but this was deleted on recommendation of J. F. McLarren, representative of Gore and Storrie, who attended the meeting along with Mr. Powell of the same firm. Mr. McLarren's alternative suggestion that the sludge be taken in trucks to farms for fertilizer or dumped in lagoons on the plant property was adopted. This method would only necessitate purchase of a truck or trucks. If placed in lagoons, there would be no offensive odor, as the sewage is purified by the time it becomes sludge.

Costs Now Higher

Mr. McLarren frankly confessed that an estimate he made two years ago that the work could be done for around $350,000 had proven considerably out of line. He said that costs of matecials and labor had skyrocketted since beyond all expectations, and that it had been very difficult to make an accurate estimate because during the war years no such work had been done, thus leaving him without a yardstick.

He said that the construction situation had now become clarified at least to the extent that it was now possible to get firm bids from contractors, whereas two years ago they were only willing to undertake such work on a cost plus basis. Mr. Powell told the aldermen that they were fortunate in not being forced to include an "escalator clause" in the contract. Under the present contract any further increases in costs of items will be absorbed by the contractor.

Mr. McLarren said that the proposed improvements had been figured out on the basis of a 40,000 population figure, which he felt should take care of the city's needs for the next 25 years. He said that connecting up of the new sewer pipe from Ashburnham would render imperative the installation of an additional pump in the sewage plant itself. More extensions could be made after that, if necessary.

Mr. Powell said that when the improvements to the plant are completed it will be able to handle 9.5 million gallons of sewage per day, as compared to the present capacity of 4.8 million gallons.

Mr. McLarren said that elimination of aeration tanks would cut the cost to around $275,000, "but you would not be satisfied with the result." He declared that he had done his best to keep the total cost within the $375,000 covered by the council's existing by-law, but that it had been found impossible.

Mentions Brantford

Mr. McLarren said that at least Peterborough was much better off than Brantford, where the city council were faced with the necessity of spending 1½ million dollars to bring their sewage disposal facilities up to requirements.

Mayor Swanston said that the only alternative to going ahead with the work was to stop making sewer connections to all the new houses now being built. Once they were all completed an even more serious situation would obtain if they were all connected to the sewer without improvements being made to the plant. His Worship forecast an increase in the present tax rate of 45½ mills to about 50 mills in 1949 when taking into consideration cost of the new Civic Hospital and the proposed sewage improvements. "We will know in a couple of weeks what rate to expect."

CAR UPSETS

A car driven by Joseph Facciolo, Beaver Falls, Pa., skidded in loose gravel on the Buckhorn-Selwyn road at 10.15 p.m. Wednesday and turned over on its side in the ditch. The driver escaped injury.

Will Present Wartime DFC's To Five Peterborough Men

Twenty-seven RCAF officers and airmen—including five from Peterborough—will receive awards Friday from Lieutenant Governor Ray Lawson at an investiture at Trenton. Officers receiving the DFC whose home address is Peterborough are Flt. Lt. C. N. Crowe 1220 Kenneth Ave., Flt. Lt. M. A. Coderre, 127 Wescott St.; Flt. Lt. K. V. Gadd, 174 Wescott St., Flt. Lt. F. F. Watson, 299 Lake St. and PO. R. G. Clarke, 614 Walkerfield Ave.

Those to be decorated Friday are all from Central and Western Ontario, and nearly all of them are members of the RCAF (Regular) or (Reserve).

The ceremony is to be held in the Drill Hall of the RCAF Station, Trenton, at 4 p.m.

Most of the awards—DFCs, AFCs, and Long Service and Good Conduct Medals, were announced during the war when it was impossible to hold the investitures.

DOUSE GRATE FIRE

A minor fire was reported to the Fire Department shortly after 6 p.m. Wednesday. Paper and other rubbish had somehow become ignited in a grate outside the barbershop of Ray Bacon, 162 Charlotte St.

Approval Given School Site

A big step forward in erection of a new Collegiate in the south end of Peterborough was taken by the City Council Wednesday night when it granted a request of the Board of Education that 15 acres of land in the new veterans' housing development be set aside for school purposes. Motion to this effect was made by Alderman Grant Miller, and seconded by Alderman P. J. Anglesey.

City Clerk Outram brought the matter before council when he reported on a conference held recently between representatives of the City Council and Board of Education.

Start of construction of some 100 new homes for veterans by the Reynolds Construction Company for Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has been held up pending decision on the matter of the Collegiate. As a result of Wednesday's council action, the city clerk will advise Central Moragage today that they can go ahead with excavation work for the new homes.

Mr. Outram said that the contractor was very hopeful of having some of the new homes ready for occupancy by Christmas. He added that the company now has 195 men on its payroll and that the 226 houses upon which they embarked a year ago are now nearly all completed.

Parma, known to epicures for Parmesan cheese, and to flower tovers for Parma violets, is also a storehouse for religious art.

Grandstand Show Thrills Young On Opening Day

It was Children's Day at the Peterborough Exhibition on Wednesday, and the youngsters went away at night after a full day of thrills, refreshments, grandstand excitement and entertainment.

Mothers found it a trying day as they sought to keep a wary eye on their brood and most of them gave a sigh of relief as they started on the homeward journey. The kids were tired too, but it was their one day of the year and they made the most of it.

In the afternoon a crowd of 2,000—most of them children—watched the first grandstand performance, and judging by the whoops of delight and roars of applause the outdoor show came up to expectations.

Circus Twist

As usual it was trained animals they appreciated most, and there were enough of them on hand to give the impression of a small circus. Trained dogs leaped and twisted in the air as Ringmaster Will Hill flicked his whip. Others walked on their hind legs, danced, skipped, and completed high back flips.

The kids loved it. And when one little fox terrier jumped over three hurdles while walking on his back legs there were rounds of applause.

The eight dogs then co-operated in an act with five ponies, taking turns riding on the latters' backs, and changing places with other dogs on a stationary platform each time around the ring.

One of the brown and white ponies showed he was as versatile as his canine ringmates and strutted about on his rear legs.

Clowning

No show of this kind would be complete without clowns and there were three of them to draw the laughs between acts—Erno, Fife and Toto. They drew roars of approval with every studied pratfall.

Their "firemen's act" in which one of them chased another up into the crowd, ostensibly to throw a pail of water on him, caused those in the immediate vicinity to be momentarily anxious lest they take a soaking.

Jack Liddell proved popular with his juggling act. He came on stage tossing up two tennis balls and a racquet, and he went through a full routine with the three balls. He showed his skill using blocks, knives and dumbells.

One of his novelties was juggling nine balls at one time. As might be expected there was a catch in it, and the crowd enjoyed the trickery.

Another item on the program which the children loudly applauded was the appearance of the dancing horse. But even it was shaded by the exclamations of wonder and approval that greeted the arrival of Will Hay's two dancing elephants.

These large, clumsy-looking animals swayed to the music of Ken Good and his Musical Ambassadors, danced around in circles, raised their feet when given the command, and generally showed the marks of excellent training.

For one of them a unique act was claimed. It walked a narrow plank and when in the middle made a complete turn and walked back to its starting place.

A couple of local boys were allowed to get into the show after Dave Fonger had concluded his xylophone number. Schoolmates roared with laughter as one of their number tried his hand at "jingle bells."

Trapeze Couple

The two Ripleys gave an interesting display of balancing using chairs and other equipment.

Chief thrill of the day, however, was when the "Sensational Marions", billed as "America's greatest aerial thriller" put on their daring act.

Most of the trapeze work is done 100 feet from the ground (with no net underneath) and the apprehensive "ohs" and "ahs" of the crowd showed they felt a thrill at this risky display.

For the finale of their act one of the Marions does a handstand on top of a swaying pole, 115 feet high. To the inexperienced eye it appeared that the pole would snap off at any moment, and this apparent risk added to the entertainment value.

The woman member of the team strapped her feet to the side of the top 15-foot spire so she faced downward, parallel to the ground. A hinge was then loosened by her partner and the spire collapsed in an arc, swinging inside a rectangular construction on the pole.

This finale brought screams from some who thought the pole had finally collapsed, but they were re-assured when a moment later the performer stood waving to them, standing safely beside her partner.

Bill Gardiner was Master of Ceremonies.

FEARED DROWNED—12 boats searched the waters of the Otonabee river off Riverside Park, on Wednesday evening for three hours for Robert Hendren, 15, of 275 Sherbrooke St. The youth turned up later in Pontypool. Firemen A. Vinette, Garnet Brown and William Bloom and Lifeguard Gerry Armstrong are shown above in one of the boats. —Examiner Staff Photo.

Junior Farmers Match Wits In Contests At Exhibition

Junior Farmers Day at the Exhibition, Peterborough's gift to the extension service of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, began this morning with an enrolment of 75 girls and 90 boys a total of 165 from the counties of Central Ontario. A. M. Barr, Toronto, associate director of extension, was in charge of the program for boys, and Miss Florence P. Eadie directed the girls' work in the market hall uptown.

Some of the girls chose to compete with the boys in judging of cattle, sheep, swine and heavy horses, at Morrow Park. This main feature of the morning was a test of the juniors' knowledge of types and other qualities of livestock.

The groups of animals had been previously selected by E. A. Summers, Department representative in Durham, and their required order of placing was determined. They were paraded today before the juniors who had made their own selections of the order of placing in each class, and turn in their cards showing their choices. This judging competition demands a practical knowledge of stock.

Identification Contests

The boys' program continued this afternoon with two other tests. One was identification of trees, weeds, grasses, seeds and livestock feeds. The other was an agricultural quiz, comprising thirty questions relating to soils, crops, fertilizers, livestock, pastures and so on. It was prepared by Frank C. Paterson and his assistant, Robert Bell, of the Peterborough office of the department.

Here is a sample pasture question: "The following mixture is for a low lying, poorly drained soil: timothy 6 lbs.; red top, 3; reed canary grass 6; alsike 3 and alfalfa 3. Which of these constituents does not belong in that mixture?"

The answer is in the agricultural axiom that alfalfa does not like wet feet.

The entire junior company will be dinner guests this evening of Canada Packers at the Empress Hotel when the results of the day's examinations will be announced.

Park Fountain Discarded, No Statue Yet

"It won't go out of the Old Country." This was the flat prediction made by Mayor M. J. Swanston at a meeting of Parks Committee of the City Council Wednesday night when yet another round was fought in the battle between Peterborough, London (Ontario) et al over the statue of Queen Victoria now lying in storage in Dublin, Eire. His Worship made the remark after the chairman, Ald. Dr. Herbert Young, had read a letter from the County Council in which that body had expressed willingness for the city authorities to remove the ornamental fountain in Victoria Park. Ald. Young's suggestion that location of the fountain would be a good place for the statue prompted the mayor's prognostication.

It was the consensus of opinion of the committee members that the fountain was not worth repairing and that its present condition was "dangerous". Thereafter, it was decided to have employees of the Parks Department remove it from its present site immediately.

L. B. Pearson's Reply

The much discussed statue of Britain's longest reigning monarch also came up for debate at a City Council meeting earlier in the evening, when City Clerk E. A. Outram read a letter on the subject from Hon. L. B. Pearson, Secretary of State for External Affairs, in reply to one which the council recently despatched to him. Hon. Mr. Pearson, who had been asked to use his good offices in trying to secure the statue for this city, replied that he had asked the Canadian High Commissioner to take the matter up with the Irish government. Mr. Pearson pointed out, however, that final disposition of the statue was a matter entirely at the discretion of Dublin and that other centres were also contending for it.

The letter was ordered filed.

Flower Show At Exhibition Beats Drought, Surprise In Profusion Of Bloom

In the memory of the exceedingly dry summer, the flower show at the Exhibition was a grateful surprise in its assembled profusion of bloom.

The hundreds of visitors Wednesday afternoon and evening must have had still fresh in their minds those long dry weeks from June into August with only occasional rains of dampening effect. But, somehow the flower gardens of the city and district managed to survive the drought with an abundance of beauty that corroborates some recent comment, probably by Mrs. G. K. Fraser at the Horticultural Society's show, to the effect that nature has its own way of caring for its darlings

The judge at the Exhibition, Bert Hicks of Lindsay, complimented the committee of which W. C. Wilks is chairman, on both the quality and quantity of the flowers, and that praise, the chairman said on Wednesday, should be passed on to the growers for their generous co-operation. The other members of the committee are: Harold Ball, Fred Storey, Mrs. G. K. Fraser, Clarence H. Bacon, John Buckley, J. M. Burns, and George East.

The awards were as follows:

Women's Work At The Fair Displayed In New Building

By MARGARET LANCASTER

Two classes on the Peterborough Exhibition 1949 prize list are almost exclusively confined to women exhibitors and there are about five times as many entries in each as were made last year.

Of course we mean the Home Crafts Division and the Domestic Science group, and we do not believe that even one man was brave enough to try and beat the women at their own game, though we have often heard great 'boasts' about their cooking prowess.

In fact, one glance around the women's building at the exhibition grounds this year is bound to give him a deeper appreciation of the "little woman." Some of them have work entered in more than half the sections and that means they have been pretty steadily engaged in the making for the past few months. Yet, all entrants appear to be housewives, probably with families, and there is little doubt they also completed the routine daily tasks of such an occupation to his entire satisfaction.

New and old exhibitors alike, whether they made many or few entries, maintained a high standard, for on the judges' sheet we find such comments as "quality extra good", "beautiful work", "outstanding class". As many as 20 articles were entered in several sections and not one on the entire list was unentered, though no prize was awarded for strawberry jam because the entry was spoiled.

Judges spent the entire day appraising the host of exhibits and picking out three that were better than others. Of course they have rules that make the elimination easier, but very often they held long consultations on the various merits. A few times it was very simple to decide—there was just one entry.

Their decisions are given below:

HOME CRAFTS DIVISION

Needlepoint — 1 Mrs. Irwin Smith, Regina; 2 Mrs. W. J. Ruttle, Udora; 3 Mrs.A. Marriott, of Sutton West.

Fruit, Vegetable Prize Winners At Exhibition

George G. Reeves, of the Farm Products Marketing Board at Queen's Park, Toronto, spent Wednesday morning and afternoon snowed under a profusion of flowers, vegetables and fruit in judging produce at the exhibition.

All types of vegetables are displayed although a few were there only in slim numbers. The cucumbers, the peppers, and the tomatoes were plentiful with few pumpkins, marrows and squash.

In the fruit class the honors were evenly divided between Allan and Bob Weese who carried off all the prizes in the 25 entries in this class. In the Special Gardeners' Exhibit the honors again were evenly divided between G. E. Lowes, of Otonabee, and Chas. Kitney and Sons, of Peterborough.

Wes Wilson, of Omemee, the Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt, of Omemee, and Mrs. Clifford Debnam, of R.R. 1 Pefferlaw, carried off most of the honors in the field roots and potatoes. Again, the garden vegetables, Mr. Zufelt, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Lowes, and Kitney and Sons equally divided the prize-winning honors.

Light Horse Exhibit Meets With Favorable Comment

First day judging of light horse classes at the Exhibition Wednesday afternoon and evening brought comments of "very good" and "very favorable" from the judges and ringmaster, George Newman of St. Catharines, Sam McBride of Brampton, and Dr. Harold Worton. Mr. McBride said "We're just nicely getting into it, but so far it's very favorable."

Entries in some of the evening events were particularly heavy In the saddle horse, mare or gelding, 15.2 and under, there were 13 entries with Kenneth McMillan of Georgetown placing first. In the roadmaster class, mare or gelding in harness under 15.2, there were seven entries, and that of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Barden of Hillsburg, Ontario, took first place.

The grandstand was more than three-quarters filled, and everyone seemed to get a great thrill out of the last field, roadster pairs. The horses raised quite a dust as they pounded down the track, but the crowd seemed to take it in stride.

Following is a list of the winners:

Douse Grass Fire

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 25 (ENS)—Quick action by the fire brigade prevented a serious grass fire, west of the CNR station, from spreading Wednesday afternoon. A fence in the path of the blaze was burning furiously when the firemen arrived. It is thought the fire was caused by a careless smoker.

Sinking Province Holds Key To Sino-Soviet Relations

By Michael Davidson

HONG KONG, Aug. 25—(Special to London Observer and Peterborough Examiner)—Soviet influence and activity in Sinkiang, China's largest province lying far to the northwest, are growing rapidly, according to a foreigner who has just arrived here from that area. Nominally under Chinese Nationalist rule, the population is mainly of Turki blood and never willingly accepted Chinese ascendancy. Anti-Nationalist feeling is said to be hardening under Russian pressure while Turkis who openly oppose either Chinese or Soviet domination are finding it wiser to leave their homes.

Russia is pressing for mining (Sinkiang is rich in minerals) and other concessions including, it is reported, control of all roads and communications; they already have, by agreement with the Canton Government, what amounts to a monopoly of airways. George Yeh, the Nationalist acting Foreign Minister, told me recently in Canton that his Government was willing to sign a trade agreement with the Russians but refused to accept the "economic co-operation" which the Russians insist should be a condition of such an agreement.

Russians Likely Move In

It seems likely that with the disintegration of Nationalist power the Russians may usurp their authority in Sinkiang and simply assume "concessions".

Tihwa, the capital of Sinkiang is two thousand miles north-west of Hong Kong. But Chinese Communist forces, apparently advancing easily against the vaunted Muslim troops commanded by Ma Pu-Fang, are today within 35 miles or less of Lanchow, capital of Kansu province and the "gateway" to Sinkiang from whose border it is only seven hundred miles distant. Ma Pu-Fang is reported to have flown yesterday to Lanchow from Canton where he had been conferring with nationalist leaders.

What will happen when the Red armies reach Soviet-dominated Sinkiang? The answer may give the key to the vital enigma of the Chinese Communists' attitude towards Soviet "infiltration" of their country. It looks as if Sinkiang may provide the first real test of future Sino-Soviet relations.

The Russians, however, are believed to have some Chinese sympathizers in Tihwa among supporters of the former Governor, Chang Chih-Chung, a member of the "peace mission" which remained with the Communists in Peiping after flying to the Red capital last April.

The U.S. State Department is reported to have withdrawn American consular representation in Tihwa. The staff have a six-week trek over the Himalayas before them, as it is stated that fuel problems make it impossible to fly them out via Canton. It is believed here that the British Consulate, following the example of those at Canton and Kuming, will remain. The Consul, Mr. Fox-Holmes, has with him a family of three or more children.

Attempted Robbery

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP) — Raymond G. Smith, 22, of Toronto, was remanded one week Wednesday on charges of attempted armed robbery and of possessing a hunting knife. Albert Smith, no relation, proprietor of a tobacco shop, said the youth had entered his shop, stuck a hunting knife in his ribs and told him to hand over the cash in the till. Young Smith then said "I can't do it," and put the knife back in its sheath. The store-owner then let the boy go, but a customer took chase and police arrested the youth.

Movie Column

Kelly Wants Make Movies For Youngsters

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25 (AP). —Gene Kelly would like to make movies for your kids and mine.

The urge comes from within the actor's own family. He tells of taking his daughter to see himself in "The Three Musketeers" at a Saturday matinee. He enjoyed himself immensely, as did the rest of the kids.

But the picture began to get scary and young Miss Kelly began to cry. Her father had to take her out of the theatre before the picture was over.

"There are no pictures designed for children alone," Gene complained. "Not even the so-called 'Children's Picture.' I took my little girl to 'Wizard of Oz,' and she had nightmares for weeks."

Kelly would like to make films exclusively for the entertainment of youngsters. He would like to show fairy tales — but the real kind, not those we see enacted by adults on the screen.

Charlie Chaplin has told friends that he is eager to return to his native England. But he fears if he leaves the country, the United States won't let him return. And he wants to come back....

Edmond O'Brien was edged out of star billing in "White Heat" by an oddity. It was feared that his name beside Cagney's would make it sound like a re-issue of a James Cagney-Pat O'Brien film. So many of the oldies have been re-released that the public might be confused.....

H. L. Mencken, keeper of the American language, might be interested to learn how "stacked" (describing a female form) has become domesticated. Not long ago it was an item of "men-talk." But it has invaded the prints and you may now hear it in "I Was a Male War Bride." I guess that makes it respectable.

Opposition Groups Demand Changes In State Rule

FRANKFURT, Aug. 25 (Reuters)—Opposition groups have demanded reconstruction of the governments of five of the 11 west-German states as a result of the federal election a week ago.

In most of the states the demand came from the right-wing parties. In Bavaria it was the Socialists who called for a change in the Christian Social Union Government.

The opposition parties in Hamburg, Bremen, Schleswig Holstein and Bavaria based their claims on the failure of the government parties to poll a majority in the federal election. In the United States zone state of Hesse the government's majority dropped considerably.

Any changes in the state government would also change the composition of the Federal Upper Chamber, the Federal Council or Bundesrat, which under the Bonn constitution consists of representatives of the state governments voting under instructions.

Government Set-up

At present, two governments with seven seats in the council, are purely Socialist; three governments with 12 seats are a Socialist-led coalition; another three with 12 seats are coalitions under the Christian Democrats; two with eight seats are purely Christian-Democrat or Socialist Christians; and one with four seats is a Liberal-led coalition.

The whole composition is rather more in harmony with a broadly-based centre coalition than with the right-wing government which is now considered likely to emerge from the lower house.

Of the governments now under fire from the right, that of Hamburg will come up for new elections this autumn, and that of Schleswig Holstein next spring.

The Hesse government has so far shown itself unwilling to make concessions to the right, in Bavaria, dissolution or reconstruction may depend on the Social Christians' ability to come to terms with the near-Separatist Bavarian party.

Liberals Stage Victory Picnic

TWEED, Aug. 25—Hon. Lester B. "Mike" Pearson, Canada's Secretary of State for External Affairs, was the man who wasn't there at the Hastings South Liberal Victory picnic held Wednesday afternoon in Tweed. Senator J. J. Duffus also did not make a scheduled appearance.

Liberal parliament member for Hastings South, Frank S. Follwell, said Mr. Pearson had cancelled his appearance because of an unscheduled cabinet meeting which he had to attend.

Races planned for the children went off according to plan. With the number of fine prizes for winners and an entry prize of ice cream, all the races had plenty of contestants.

Mr. Follwell welcomed all who came to the picnic, but he was disappointed that important government business had kept Mr. Pearson in Ottawa. The picnic was panned as a thank you to the people of Hastings South who, for the first time in about 45 years, elected a Liberal to a seat in the federal parliament. Commented one old-timer, "It's a busy time of the year."

Wins Dancing Trophy

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP) — Blond, 17-year-old Dorothy McKay of Winnipeg, Wednesday captured the Ian Mackenzie challenge trophy for highland dancing at the Central Canada Exhibition. The cup is for supremacy in highland fling and sword dance groups for boys and girls over fifteen. After losing the highland fling contest to Joan Gow of Cornwall, Miss McKay won the combined event when Miss Gow was automatically disqualified in the sword dance for touching her swords.

Will Meet Officials

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP)—John Freeman, joint parliamentary secretary to the United Kingdom Minister of Supply, will meet government officials and industrialists during his visit to Canada during the next two weeks. The British Labor M.P. is due in Toronto from New York today to open the British Commonwealth section of the Canadian National Exhibition the following day.

Record Tobacco Crop

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 25 (CP)—The flue-cured tobacco crop in Ontario promises to be a record, both from poundage and quality, if favorable weather continues, Arthur Robson, vice-president of the Ontario Tobacco Marketing Board said Wednesday. He said growers need three or four weeks of frostless and sunny weather.

Operation Successful

ROCHESTER, Minn., Aug. 25 (AP)—James Gardiner, Canada's agriculture minister, was reported in "fine" condition Wednesday following a gall-bladder operation. A Mayo Clinic spokesman said Gardiner is sitting up and talking and that he probably will be discharged in about 10 days.

New Dean Coming

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP)—Prof. Charles Ernest Smalley-Baker arrived here Wednesday from the United Kingdom to take over duties as dean of Osgoode Hall law school. He succeeds Dean Cecil A. Wright who resigned early this year.

Women Are Outstanding In Exhibition's Success

"Guess your weight within three pounds lady? Ah-h-h, you weigh—142 pounds." But— the lady tips the scales to 150 pounds so she is a winner and can choose from the board a plaster of paris model of a dog that will be a souvenir to her of the Peterborough Exhibition when she has forgotten the delicious smell of cotton candy.

"Who is next?" asks the man in the Mexican-type colored felt hat with gay dangles. Well, it does look as if he's not a good guesser for some people are carrying armfuls of these dogs.

So, another lady steps up. This time he nonchalantly calls out the exact poundage and she slips away quickly. All this is traditional, and yet it still attracts the crowd.

Budget-minded persons at the Fair are struck by evidence of the high cost of living must certainlly have reached these midway people. In the good old days they could try to fool the weight-guesser for a third of today's price, and win a box of chocolates with which to add extra pounds. Now the Exhibition is apt to appear as a major item on the books. Lucky bingo players may have a credit entry to offset. Quite a few were seen on the grounds carrying table lamps, tea kettles and blankets. This is the one game that gives a woman solace while the men are getting their thrill at the games of chance, and the children happily swinging throught the air at high speed in odd contraptions.

Women Show Skill.

Ingenuity and skill of the women in this city and district can best be judged by a visit to the crafts and cookery display, and to the flower and art show. They have an answer for every idea the directors had put in the prize list. Quality of their workmanship was something to cause seasoned judges to comment on. though they were bowed under a heavy load of entries.

Women distinguished themselves highly among the horticulturists and this was no mean job when entrants come from as far as Port Perry. Their miniature gardens, homes and gardens and woodland scenes, a new item at the fair this year, are outstanding. Smallest details were thought of from a woodpile behind the garage to flower boxes in the patio of a tiny house. The latter were well designed with tiny bits of colored shell, set in with tweezers.

Dye Towelling

Perhaps the most original idea in the show was the use of dyed threads of terry towelling to produce the soft green turf in these gardens Many materials and dyes were experimented with before the very realistic grassy color and effect was achieved.

The art of arranging flowers for table decoration seems also a woman's field and their effective contributions filled one long table. Also in the fine arts section, women were the leading exhibitors and prize winners.

Welfare State Seek Philanthropists

CLEETHORPES, Lincolnshire, England, Aug. 25—(CP)—Sir Ian Fraser, president of the British Legion, said voluntary philanthropy will always be essential "even in a highly-developed welfare state."

"There will always be anomalies and individual cases for which no rules can provide," he told Lincolnshire county legionnaires, "and there will still be new ideas to be tried out."

'Germany at the height of the totalitarian regime passed laws to prevent all organized philanthropy. She also regimented ex-servicemen's organizations and forced them to become elements in the single party machine.

"A liberty-loving people like the British will never stand for this and when their hearts prompt them to succour the maimed, they will do so, notwithstandinng any discouragement from their rulers."

Sir Ian said thousands of former servicemen and women would not have received their pensions at all, or would have received less than they deserved, had it not been for the British Legion.

"The Legion is not only the ex-serviceman's friend but also his lawyer."

Happy Marriage a Prize To Be Won by Experience

DEAR MISS DIX: We are a bridal couple, very much in love with each other and blissfully happy. We want to stay that way. Will you please give us a plan whereby we may keep as much in love with each other as we are now? We are determined to make our marriage a success.

Dorothy Dix

Two Lovers.

ANSWER: If you are really determined to make your marriage a success, you can do it. I am firmly convinced that any man and woman who put as much intelligence and effort into trying to make a go of their marriage as of their business will never fail.

So the first piece of advice that I give you is to look upon your marriage as a business in which you have invested everything you have and on whose prosperity your whole future depends. Don't get discouraged when you discover that it doesn't make you a millionaire in a day. Don't throw it up and run off to the divorce court when you find out that there are a thousand difficulties in it that you never foresaw.

Just dig in and make up your mind to see it through. Try to find where you are making mistakes and correct them. Have patience with each other's faults. Remember you are both starting in on a job at which you are amateurs and that you have to learn by experience how to be a good husband and wife.

Use as much self-control in dealing with each other as you would with your bosses or customers.

Settle the money question once and for all. Do not let it become a perpetual bone of contention. Every wife should have a definite allowance given her on which to run the house and another for her own use. Otherwise, she cannot manage her affairs intelligently and economically. There is nothing that burns a woman up with such a sense of humiliation and injustice as having to go like a beggar to her husband for the money she earns by her services in the home.

Be thrifty. Make it a cast-iron rule to put away something every month for the rainy day that is sure to come, but do not deny yourself all pleasures.

Don't argue. Be big enough and broad enough to grant each other the right to think and believe as each chooses. Do not try to make each other over. By the time people are old enough to marry they have settled into their own personal habits and you interfere with these at your peril.

Play together. Work together. Go out together. Talk together. Or else you become like those couples who at middle age are such strangers that they have not a word to say to each other.

Don't quarrel. Give the soft answer that turns away wrath. That is better than standing up for your rights and, incidentally, the best way to get them. Be tender and affectionate and considerate to each other and you will make your marriage a success and love each other better on your golden wedding day than you do now.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have one child, a boy of six and we are always quarrelling about him. My husband never corrects him, gives him everything he wants, never makes him obey and thinks that I am fussy when I try to teach him regular habits and good manners. My husband also ridicules me in front of the boy. These arguments over rearing the boy are making me a nervous wreck. What can I do about it.

MRS. M. J. S.

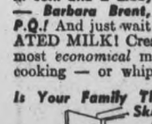
✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I don't know, unless you could have your husband's head operated on and a few brains inserted in it, for it certainly does seem as if a man with any intelligence whatever would have sense enough to realize that he is ruining the child.

Possibly your husband belongs to the class of optimists who believe that you can bring up a child who is spoiled and selfish and impudent and ill-mannered and uncontrolled and that when it is grown it will turn into a sweet, amiable, dutiful son or daughter who will be a polished lady or gentleman and a credit to its parents.

Unfortunately no such miracles occur, as he can see by observing the young hoodlums whose parents also reared children on the theory that they would be all right when they were grown, and change from little devils to big angels. Good manners and good principles and a consideration for the rights of others have to be "proned" into children, as our old nurses used to say, or else they never learn them.

The child psychologists tell us that the patterns of our lives are fixed in the cradle, and that by the time we are six years old our characters are formed. How important then that a youngster should get a right start and form the habits that will make for its success in life, instead of having faults fixed upon it that will be a handicap to it to the day of its death.

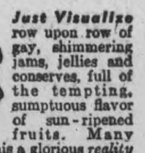


When parents quarrel over the rearing of a child they forget that they are lowering their prestige in his eyes and teaching it a contempt for them. Also, they forget that a child takes its opinion of its parents from what they think of each other.

Rearing a child in these days is a two-handed job, and it needs a mother and father doing teamwork to pull it off.

DOROTHY DIX.

KELLOGG'S ASTHMA RELIEF FOR ASTHMA & HAY FEVER



Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, August 25—"You can imagine my horror when I discovered hair lice in my youngster's hair!", writes a reader. "Then, after discussing it with several mothers, I found out how common a childhood affliction it is... and how easy it is to cure with Cuprex!"... Yes, CUPREX completely destroys hair lice and their eggs in just fifteen minutes! All you do:—Rub Cuprex gently and thoroughly on your youngster's hair and scalp, using a small quantity at a time. After 15 minutes, wash the hair with soap and water and while it's still damp, comb through with a fine comb. Works like magic!—just follow the directions with every bottle of Cuprex—available at drugstores everywhere.

Your Eyes are busy all day long, working hard for you—and they deserve at least some of your attention. That's why I recommend 2 drops of MURINE in each eye night and morning, and whenever your eyes feel tired, weary, used-up. Murine rests and refreshes tired eyes constantly! You see, it contains seven ingredients that blend perfectly with the natural eye fluids . . . soothing delicate eye tissues as gently as a tear, and helping your eyes feel delightfully refreshed! Ask your druggist today for Murine... and make a year-round, every-day habit of it. I find Murine is as refreshing, every night and morning as washing my face and brushing my teeth.

Do You Worry A Little about the results of your pickling? Then here are two "must haves" for "Pickling Time" . . . to make light work of it . . . and to insure success! Write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your free copy of a 16-page recipe booklet called "Pickling Success". AND stock up on HEINZ WHITE VINEGAR! When you are shopping for vegetables and fruits for canning, you insist on the best! Why not do the same with vinegar? Heinz White Vinegar is made from corn, barley, malt and rye—distilled and then aged in wood to bring out the full aroma and flavour. Excellent!—not only for pickling and preserving—but for salads and table use, too!

Is That Drawer In Your Bureau really the safest place for those things you can't afford to lose? Burglars, fire or just being mislaid—they're all hazards for your valuables! And they're unnecessary ones, since it costs only a cent or two a day to rent a Safety Deposit Box at the BANK OF MONTREAL! That's where you'll get real security for the bonds you saved for, the family papers and insurance policies, those pieces of jewellery you don't wear very often. There's a pleasant sense of security in knowing that all these valuables are safe... So why not call at your nearest branch of the B of M tomorrow and sign up for your personal Safety Deposit Box?

I'm Pleased As Can Be to be able to tell you about this CARVING KNIFE BARGAIN! Yours for just 50c is a stainless steel carving knife with a hand-honed, razor-sharp blade — for carving meats — slicing bread — chopping vegetables! Its geranium-red plastic handle will last the lifetime of the knife! And all you do to get it . . . just print your name and address and send with 50c in coin and 2 Libby's Evaporated Milk labels to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.! And just wait 'til you try LIBBY'S EVAPORATED MILK! Creamy-rich and delicious — it's the most economical milk I know for coffee or tea — cooking — or whipping!

SPECIAL OFFER!

Is Your Family The Kind That Skips Breakfast — for all sorts of reasons? You can banish the alibis in short order if you serve delicious 5 Minute "CREAM OF WHEAT"! It's so smo-o-th — it's so good — and so good for you! For 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" contains Iron, Calcium and Phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. Yes, a "Cream of Wheat" breakfast makes good sense — and good eating! Serve "Cream of Wheat" tomorrow morning — like this:- Chop dried apricots, figs and raisins. Stew together and flavor with lemon juice. Use for topping on "Cream of Wheat".

Just Visualize row upon row of gay, shimmering jams, jellies and conserves, full of the tempting, sumptuous flavor of sun-ripened fruits. Many women make this a glorious reality every year by depending on CERTO Fruit Pectin, for all their jam and jelly making. Certo is the natural "jellying" substance in fruits. With Certo and the short boil method, cooking time is cut to a minimum and you get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit. For sure, perfect results simply follow exactly, the simple directions under the label of each Certo bottle.

It's A Good Idea To Teach Your Children To Swim while they're still very young (about six or seven). Then they have no fear of water and enjoy splashing about like young porpoises! It's a good idea, too, to keep handy an extra large supply of HARVEST MARGARINE for your active youngsters! You see, daisy-fresh "Harvest" is not only a real taste-treat — it's also nutritious. For it contains Vitamin "A" — the "body-building" vitamin. Your children will love "Harvest" on their breakfast toast — and their bedtime crackers-with-milk! Ask your grocer for "Harvest" tomorrow . . . but be sure to shop early — for Harvest Margarine is so good, it's always sold first!

Week-End Or Vacation Trips to the country are a relaxation and joy to you — but "dirtying" to your car! That lovely country road you explored — grand scenery — lots of dust! That's why I urge you to keep a package of VEL handy for use after every country jaunt! Vel is truly marvelous for washing your car!... Put just a teaspoon or so of "Vel" in a pail of lukewarm water. Dip cloth in solution then partially wring out. Wipe surfaces gently with cloth. Traffic film and greasy dirt will wipe off easily without scratching enamel — and leave your car shining! (Do not use too much "Vel". It is wasteful and will prove harder to rinse from your cloth.) You'll find, too — that for "campfire" pots 'n pans — "Vel" is just the thing! Just put a spoonful of VEL in your pan, add water and allow pans to soak while you eat. Vel cuts grease even in lukewarm or hard water!

FASHION ACCESSORIES with trick fastenings are inspired by new jam-proof zipper. A small zipped-across pocket delivers "mad-money" without a hitch from each of these gold corduroy whip-stitched mittens (upper left). A zip-apart operation makes this red suede and black Persian lamb carry-all (lower left) a two-purpose bag. Unzipped from the centre red panels, the daytime bag becomes an all-black Persian evening bag. Zipped pockets at the hipline of this girl's plaid wool stole add interest to the three-piece ensemble of bright plaid and black velveteen.

British Women Welcome New Aids For Kitchens

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer,

LONDON, Aug. 24 (CP). — "Welcome back" is the cry of British housewives to the many household necessities reappearing after long absences. There's also a big welcome to many they haven't seen before.

And the large increase in the number of picnic and camping outfits has the appreciation of this year's holiday-makers.

There are compact wicker baskets with gaily-colored perspex dishes. For travelling light there is a chrome-plated aluminum case with twin thermos flasks of chrome and perspex with matching perpex cup-saucer-and-plate sets.

Another travel set in perspex comes in clear, lime or amethyst. A cocktail shaker costs 16s 6d. 3.30), glasses to match 2s. 6d. 54 cents) each and the tray, in translucent stainless plastic decorated with a new-type underglaze design that will not wear off, is priced at 9s. 6d. ($1.90).

At 57s. 9d. ($11.55), a new-type cooling safe has a big future in Britain — the majority of houses have no ice-box. Compact enough to fit into the smallest kitchens, it is a water-cooled food-safe large enough to take a pint of milk and the week's rations. Chilling is by the evaporation of water from a special fabric lining.

The pressure cooker is "coming into its own" and the National Council of Women is setting up "study groups" to teach British housewives how to use it.

For Home-made Butter

To help the butter ration there is the milk-bottle churn which—fitted to the top of the bottle—will turn what is left of the milk ration into butter.

To save heavy lifting, a bucket-carrier runs on chair castors. An egg tank, working an caterpillar tracks with a socket for each egg, ensures they are eaten in order of freshness.

Travel irons are back — a standard sole-platt iron has fold-down handle for neat packing, while a stream-liner packs down compactly into a zipper case. The only adjustment needed for voltage change-over is a twist of a screw.

There is a plug-in simmer switch for the lounge. Mounted with plug-in base for connecting two appliances, it can be used with control precision on the coffee percolator, kettle or convector heater.

A new domestic dishwasher standing two feet square and two feet nine inches high has two separate tanks, one for washing and the other for rinsing. Each has separate immersion elements for heating the water under thermostatic control in case there be no main hot water supply.

Also welcome back are colored telephones and light switches.

Potteries Call For Recruits, Production Slow

Deep in the heart of industrial England are two centuries-old hand craft industries with a problem unique: How to meet overseas demand for their products, advices from London, England, indicate

While most industries strive to sell their goods in a hardening export market, the pottery and crystal glass trades look at a growing backlog of orders. They are now exporting every bit of quality ware they can produce and manufacturers say there is no telling how much more could be sold abroad if it could be made.

Clay Throwing

They admit the answer to the problem will not be easy. It's not just a matter of speeding up machines for machines have little to do with the hand worked pieces demanded overseas. Increased production depends on finding and training more men in clay "throwing," intricate hand decorating, hand blowing of glass and cutting crystal, crafts handed down from father to son in Britain for more than 400 years.

Export orders for British pottery and cut crystal now are running at a combined rate of £13,000,000 ($52,000,000) annually and still increasing. More than $6,000,000 worth is going to North America every year and this without the aid of high powered sales staffs which other industries find it necessary to maintain overseas.

All For Export

Every bit of cut crystal and decorated pottery and China manufactured in Britain is going for export. Britons can get crystal but only uncut and in pottery must be satisfied with "plain white" and export rejects.

Britain shipped china worth £1,233,846 to Canada in 1948 compared with £177,888 worth in 1938. Exports this year are expected to reach close to £1,50,000. Earthenware worth £1,824,858 went to the Dominion last year against only £527,271 worth 10 years before and there is a possibility close to £2,000,000 worth of earthenware will go to Canada this year.

Pottery men emphasize that overseas sales are based on quality of fine hand work. Without more skilled workers in the potteries production could only be increased at the expense of quality

Long Training

To meet the problem hundreds of foreign workers, mostly Polish, have been recruited to the pottery area around Stoke-on-Trent, north of Stratford-on-Avon country made famous by Shakespeare. Concerted efforts are being made to recruit young Britons fresh from school into the crystal glass factories of the Stourbridge area of Worcestershire to the south.

But neither pottery nor glass men can see any immediate easing of the production problem. New recruits require a training period ranging up to six years to learn the handicrafts of the trades and until they learn there can be no rapid increase in output.

BABY'S UPSET STOMACH QUICKLY CORRECTED

BABY'S little "Tummy" is often easily upset. It is easily righted again, too, if you know just how to do it. Let Mrs. M. B. Alway, of London, Ont., tell you: "Baby's Own Tablets are a great help at the first sign of upset stomach, during teething time or when a cold is coming on. They work quickly yet gently to carry away poisons and promote restful comfort."

And Mrs. W. R. Sharp says: "I nursed my baby shortly after being alarmed over a motor accident and her stomach became quite upset. I gave her Baby's Own Tablets and she soon stopped crying — and quieted down."

Equally effective for teething troubles, constipation, simple fever. Sweet-tasting, easily crushed to a powder, if desired — prompt in action. No "sleepy" stuff — no dulling effect. Buy a box today for sickness so often strikes in the night. 35 cents.

Junior Farmers

Homemaking Clubs' Exhibit

In the old Market Hall during the morning 70 girls from the counties of Northumberland, Hastings, Durham, Prince Edward and Peterborough assembled to show homemaking club exhibits. There are both inter-club and inter-county demonstrations. Entries were expected from Victoria county as well, but did not show.

The program is under the direction of Miss Florence B. Eadie, supervisor of girls' work for the Ontario Department of Agriculture, assisted by the two home economists from this area, the Misses Jean Noble and Elsie Irvine. Also helping are the Misses Ruth Shaver and Flora Durnin, home economists from the Women's Institute Branch and Home Economics Service, Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Accompanying the girls are 12 leaders from the various clubs. These leaders are instructors of the clubs, and are prepared for their posts by a special course of instruction.

The market hall is alive with floral table decorations, colorful sandwich plates, exhibits of sewing and table arrangements. Besides the exhibits themselves, the girls are required to pass judgment on the entries, and then they themselves are judged on their placing abilities.

Each of the counties put on a demonstration or a skit in the afternoon, as part of the Peterborough Exhibition's Junior Farmers' Day.

GAS DITCHED

About 700 gallons of gasoline were lost when a tank truck, driven by H. G. Tanner, Peterborough, overturned in the ditch about half a mile south of McCracken's Landing at 4.45 p.m. Wednesday. The crash occurred after the steering gear broke and Tanner was unhurt. The accident was investigated by Provincial Constable G. E. Henderson.

Three Boys Rein Horses At Ex In Close Heats

Grandstanders at the Exhibition Wednesday night got an added piece of entertainment. They cheered themselves hoarse as three young boys guided three very fast horses around the track in three heats.

The first heat with Catherine Tipton, driven by Hugh Stewart Jr., 15, having a 150 ft. handicap. She won in 2:18, but was closely followed by Minto Direct, driven by cousin Hugh Stewart, Port Hope, 12, and Snappy Abbie, driven by Jim Stewart, 13, brother of Hugh Jr.

In the second heat, Catherine Tipton was given a 200 ft. handicap, and still won, again in another tight fit. The time was identical to the first heat, 2:18. These first two heats were very close, and had the crowd in the stands cheering and yelling as the horses came up to the wire. Minto Direct was second again in the second heat, and Snappy Abbie third.

Spectators Approve

The third heat was much the same, except that Catherine Tipton won going away that time. She was not handicapped in this heat, and pulled away early to stay. This was the fastest heat of all, 2:14 and the horses finished in the exact same position as they did in the other two heats.

Railbirds got a big kick out of seeing these three young boys urge the horses on, and there were many favorable comments afterwards on their respective driving abilities. "I thought he had all there was in that horse on the far stretch," one said, "but he certainly pulled her up on the turn."

SHARES RACING HONORS

Walter Blackwell, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell, 200 O'Carroll Ave., shared the honors at Camp Kamanao in the Royal Life Saving race held recently with Scott Custer. Mr. Custer is the son of the United States naval attache at Ottawa. Gordon Minty, honorary swimming director at the YMCA, was the swimming director at the camp this year.

Put City's Centenary On Aldermanic Agenda

First step in plans for a fitting celebration of the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of Peterborough as a town was taken by City Council at its meeting on Wednesday night. Alderman Arthur Burrows rose to "remind" Mayor Swanston that no committee had yet been appointed to make arrangements for the City Council's part in the observance.

His Worship thanked the alderman for the reminder and promised that the matter would be on the agenda of the next council meeting, slated to be held early in September.

Obituary

MRS. ROBERT H. JOHNSTON

After a lingering illness, Mrs. Robert H. Johnston of RR 1, Ida, died today at her residence. She had been living at Ida for 37 years.

The former Bertha May Slight, she was the daughter of the late Thomas and Kathleen Slight. She was born and educated at Port Hope and resided there before moving to Ida.

Besides her husband, Robert H. Johnston, she leaves three sons: Earl of RR 2, Peterborough; Percy, at home, and Elmer of Kingston, N.S. She also leaves three brothers: Thomas of California and Harold and Percy of Toronto; also a sister, Mrs. Eva Sabourin, in the state of Washington.

Mrs. Johnston was a member of Springville United Church.

The funeral will be from the Comstock funeral home Saturday at 2 p.m., the Rev. E. W. Rowland of Springville United Church officiating. Burial will be in Union Cemetery, Port Hope.

DIES ON HONEYMOON

Collapsing on the Belleville-Toronto train at the Lindsay CNR depot, Sydney B. Lamb of Latonia, Ky., died before medical aid could reach him. Lamb was married three weeks ago and was en route to Toronto with his bride after visiting his sister-in-law, Mrs. W. Piercey, in Lindsay. The train was delayed about half an hour. Dr. W. Crowe, coroner, attended.

Need More Men To Settle Farms

KAPUSKASING, Aug. 25 (CP) —One of the desperate needs of agriculture in the great clay belt of Northern Ontario is men to settle the farms which have been cleared but then abandoned.

That's the word from farmers at a meeting of the Ontario Legislature's select committee on conservation here.

In Glackmeyer township alone, which takes in Cochrane, there are 100 farms with 50 or more acres cleared which are not under cultivation, the committee was told.

The clay belt was described as extending from Ramore northwest through Cochrane and Kapuskasing to some 50 miles west of Hearst and extending along the Ontario Northland and Canadian National Railways for 10 to 50 miles. It comprises about 17,500,000 acres.

A. W. Golding, Reeve of Glackmeyer, told the committee that many of the farms were taken years ago mostly for the lumber and pulp on them. He said if it were possible to concentrate settlement in such areas it would cost much less for drainage, schools and other services.

Writer Seeks Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25—(AP)—Craig Rice, 40, mystery story writer, filed suit for divorce yesterday against her fourth husband, Henry Warren Demott, Jr., 29, radio writer and producer. Miss Rice, who charged cruelty, said she and Demott have signed a property settlement. They were married in San Diego, Calif., April 30, 1948, and separated last July 25, she added.

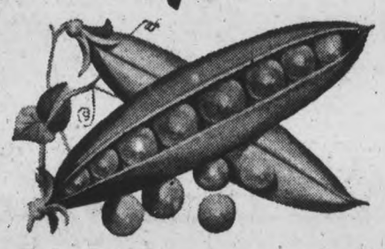
AMERWOOD IS PRE-FINISHED • AMERWOOD IS EASY TO APPLY • AMERWOOD IS BEAUTIFUL

Pre-Finished AMERWOOD

PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is the new and beautiful wall panelling that arrives on the job completely finished. Ready to apply in the lengths that suit your job. No waste.

PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is the new and beautiful wall panelling where the hard growth stands in bold relief. It has been stained, lacquered, baked in an infred oven (the same as your modern car bodies), waxed with a polish many times harder than the simonize you would apply to your car and then polished to a satin finish.

PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is ¾" in thickness, comes in 6", 8", 10" widths and 8', 10', 12', 14', 16' in length. Packed 6 boards to the package and in three attractive colors, Amerwite, Amerocon, Amered.



When PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is applied and your last nail is driven the job is then complete, no paint, no fumes, no extra muss. It requires no extra tools, just hammer, saw and square. Drop in and see it at our yards.

LAURENTIAN PEAS

Take 1 tin of York Peas, drain off liquid and heat this in top part of double boiler. Mix 1½ tablespoons cornstarch and 1½ teaspoons granulated sugar in a small amount of cold water, and add to the liquid, cooking over hot water and stirring until thickened. Now add ¼ cup of chopped onion boiled until tender, 1½ tablespoons finely chopped parsley and the peas. Salt and pepper to taste. Serves 4—and is it ever good!

PEAS AU GRATIN

This is a little different. Families that go for spaghetti and other hot cheese dishes will find it a pleasing variation. First, drain 1 tin of York Peas, saving the liquid. Make 1 cup medium white sauce as shown in the recipe for Creamed Peas and Salmon (lower left). Add ¼ cup grated cheese to the white sauce, stirring constantly until cheese is melted. Now add the York Peas, and heat thoroughly. Serve hot, alone or on buttered toast.

MINTED PEAS

Here's a nice variation, and it's simple. Turn 1 tin of York Peas into a pot, and add a few sprigs of mint to the liquid. Heat slowly so the mint flavour will be absorbed by the peas. Drain off liquid, and serve hot. Incidentally, minted York Peas are delicious in salads—so save any that are left over. And did you know? Liquid from York Peas is a good basis for soups, gravies. Don't waste it.

CREAMED PEAS & SALMON

Take 1 cup of canned, diced or cooked salmon. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 2 drops Tabasco sauce, and 1 cup medium white sauce. Then add the York Peas. Serve hot as is, or on buttered toast. To make medium white sauce, put 2 tablespoons flour in a cup, blend with a little cold milk. Add milk until the cup is half full, then fill to top with liquid from the peas. Add 1 tablespoon butter, ¼ teaspoon salt, and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Cook in double boiler, stirring until thick.

Sawmill Lost In $10,000 Fire

WALKERTON, Aug. 25 (CP) — A seven-hour battle by 400 volunteers against a swamp fire in which a $10,000 saw mill and $8,000 barn were destroyed 11 miles northeast of this Bruce County town was believed won Wednesday night, if the weather continues to co-operate.

About 25 acres of willows and slash in a corner of the Greenock swamp had been burned, and late Wednesday night its outskirts had been ringed by a firebreak plowed by volunteers who rushed to the scene.

The fire was still burning in the heart of the swamp area and Fire Chief Erwin Lobsinger of Walkerton, said that only change of wind could make the situation dangerous again.

Some 75 fire fighters remained on the scene and with the intention of keeping a night long vigil in case the blaze shift towards the vast acreage of the swamp so far untouched.

Firemen said the fire started about two p.m. in the sawmill operated by George Bestor, from flying sparks. It spread to a barn which Mr. Bestor recently sold to Andy Zettler, a district farmer, and then raged through a section of the swamp.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Britain's Social Security Program Proudest Labor Achievement

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Aug. 25—(CP)—A social security program that can sustain every citizen from infancy to death is the proudest monument erected by the Labor administration. Many hands from other parties mixed the materials during the wartime coalition government, but the final pouring was done by Labor. Whatever their private views, Conservatives are pledged to accept the result should another election place them in office.

Trade union leaders, remembering grinding poverty during the depression of the 1930's, regard the Labor government as duty bound to maintain the "welfare state". Many of them are hurt by the indifference of working people to the miracle that has been wrought.

"When I was a young man I gave my life to the Labor movement," said a Labor Member of Parliament for an east London working-class district.

"Those were the days when you saw hungry kiddies in bare feet and rags right around here. You can't find them now.

"Our fellows have got soft. My boy is 21, earning three time what I did at that age. When I try to tell him what Labor has done, he says: 'Oh, stow it, Dad,' and goes off to the pictures."

In a neighborhood public-house, drinking the weakest and most expensive beer Britain has known, and puffing a heavily-taxed cigarette, James Dolphin, 33, who earn £7 10s. a week in a carpet factory, gave his viewpoint.

"We won't go back to the old days, never fear," he insisted. "But the way I look at these social services is this—We pay for them, don't we?

Earn These Extras

"Soon as I work a bit of overtime, old Cripps whacks it off in taxes. I figure we're entitled to everything we get."

He shrugged off a suggestion that tax rates fall more heavily on higher income groups than his, that those with greater earning power were "carrying" the poor.

"Fair shares for all," he grinned, recalling a Labor party slogan.

Dolphin's benefits are secured by a weekly payment of 4s. 11d. His employer contributes another 4s. 2d.

In return he is assured of an allowance if he loses his job, a pension when he grows old, and a grant when he dies to help with his burial. His wife gets a special grant if she has a baby, and an allowance of 5s. a week for every child after the first.

Medical care, financed principally from general taxation, is free to everyone. Subsidies keep down the price of basic foodstuffs. His children get free milk at school and hot lunches for a few pence.

Good On Paper

Attorney-General Sir Hartley Shawcross estimated recently that food subsidies and the National Health Service were worth £1 a week to every household in the country. If education, national insurance and pensions were taken into account the benefit would be the equivalent of £2 15s. for an average family of five.

Another member of the Government, Fuel Minister Hugh Gaitskell, sounded this warning note:

"We have got to recognize that we cannot get any further social services without additional taxation. We are going to find it exceedingly difficult to avoid taking the broad basis of the community to finance any further social services program."

At present Dolphin, married with two children, pays less than £5 a year in income tax. Another man with the same size family, earning £600 a year, pays £46 10s. in tax. If he earned £1,000 it would be £216. Dolphin's chief contribution to the State is through indirect taxation.

Small wonder that professional men complain that they are bearing the financial burden of social reform.

With an eye on this dissatisfaction, the Conservative party promises that "In our review of income tax (if elected), reliefs for parents will have a large part to play."

But it forthrightly endorses the social services as a whole, describing them as "a co-operative system of mutual aid and self-help provided by the whole nation and designed to give to all the basic minimum of security, of housing, of opportunity, of employment and of living standards below which our duty to one another forbids us to permit anyone to fall."

NATIVE CIVILIATIONS

Three of the western hemisphere's highest civilizations had already flourished in America before the advent of the Spaniards —those of the Aztecs, Incas and Mayas.

Find Two Soldiers Of Fortune Fighting New War In Scotland

HELMSDALE, Sutherland, Scotland, Aug. 25—(CP)—A pair of soldiers of fortune back from Burma and the Middle East are fighting a new war here in the Scottish highlands. Sworn in at temporary bailiffs, they're carrying the tactics of jungle warfare into the salmon poacher's camp. And the local gillies are fighting back.

Maj. Jeffrey Lockett and Capt. David Mansell returned to Britain to write the story of their adventured with the chindits in Burma and with the Arab Legion in the Palestine war.

Their publishers advised that they find a "quiet spot" for their literary endeavors. Little realizing the new excitement in store for them, they chose this North Scotland community.

Helmsdale welcomed them as officers and gentlemen, turned a tolerant eye on their writing ways. But when they switched to law enforcement, the atmosphere chilled.

Poaching Respectable

Poaching hereabouts is thought of as a time-honored mode of innocent law-breaking. And salmon prices being what they are, it's a highly profitable sport.

Lockett and Mansell, known locally as chindits or commandos, write by day, fight their private wars by night.

Using a fast motorboat, they roar out from shore to pounce on a poacher's craft in the river estuary. Or, quickly reversing tactics, they swim out silently to seize offending nets from under the poacher's nose.

Fighting back, the poachers intensify the stealth of their midnight moves. The chindits may find sand mysteriously poured in the gasoline tank of their launch. Or a shower of rocks will greet them as their boat emerges from the darkness toward the wharf where it is customarily moored.

It isn't safe for the chindits to leave unguarded a seized poaching craft. One boat recently had to be transported by truck to a secret inland hideout pending court proceedings for its confiscation.

No local trucker would hire his vehicle for the job. The chindits had to find a contractor in a town some miles away.

To Study Market

BRISBANE, Australia, Aug. 25 (Reuters) — W. A. Mawbey, Queensland government pineapple expert, said Wednesday he will visit Canada and the United States next month to study the market prospects for Queensland canned pineapple. Mawbeyey said Canada, which had bought about half a million cases of Queensland canned pineapple annually, is having her own dollar troubles and has to import less canned pineapple from hard-currency areas. This opens an excellent opportunity for Queensland to increase sale to Canada, he said.

110 MPH Ocean Hurricane Heads For Florida, Coast Braces For Blow

Storm Warnings Raised Along East Coast Likely Strike By Evening; Hurricane Centre Close To Bahamas' Capital

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 26—(AP)—The entire Florida east coast braced today for a "renegade" hurricane packing 110-mile-an-hour winds. The hurricane, increasing in size and intensity, whirled toward the coast. It was due to strike earlier than had been expected. Forecasters were reluctant to fix a time when the hurricane would reach the mainland because of the storm's erratic nature. But at its present forward speed and direction the centre would reach the Florida coast in about 10 hours—or between 5 and 6 p.m. EDT today.

The Miami weather bureau ordered northeast storm warnings hoisted north of Melbourne to Fernandina. They already flew from Melbourne South to Key West, taking in the entire east coast.

Hurricane warnings were up from Vero Beach in Miami and inland to Lake Okeechobee. The west Florida coast was on the alert.

A 6 a.m. advisory said the hurricane still was moving on a west-northwest course and its centre was close to Nassau, capital of the Bahamas near latitude 25.2 north, longitude 77.5 west, or about 190 miles east southeast of Miami.

Growing In Size

The hurricane still was growing in size and intensity. highest winds reported so far near the storm centre were 110 miles an hour at Cat Island in the eastern Bahamas and gusts to 75 miles an hour at Nassau.

The strong side of the doughnut-shaped storm had not yet reached Nassau. Gales extended outward 200 miles to the north and east and 100 miles to the west of the centre.

Increasing winds and abnormally high tides were predicted along the Florida east coast.

Precautions should be taken immediately for the protection of life and property in the area where hurricane warnings are displayed, Chief Forecaster Grady Norton said.

The Florida coast battened down. Some householders and business firms began boarding up yesterday. Boatmen moved small craft to safe anchorages.

Truck Overturns 2 DP's Killed, 19 Riders Hurt

RAPIDES DES JOACHIMS, Que., Aug. 26 (CP)—Two men were killed and 19 others injured several of them seriously, when a large truck overturned near the Ottawa River power project here Thursday. The men, riding on the back of the three-ton truck, were pinned underneath when it rolled backwards down a hill and turned over in a ditch.

Dead are: Stefan Rosiniski, 37, a displaced person employed at the Hydro-Electric Power Commission project. He is believed to have been unmarried. Kastantinis Skele, 47, another displaced person, who is understood to have been married.

Driver of the truck is reported to have jumped out when the vehicle began to slide out of control down the hill.

The accident occurred about noon on a steep grade running between camps 1 and 2.

About half way up the hill, the truck started to slide backwards. The driver, a man named Thompson, was apparently unable to stop it. He jumped out of the cab and the truck continued backwards down the hill.

It ran into a ditch about 15 feet deep and turned over. The 21 men on the back were believed to have been thrown out and the truck landed on top of many of them.

Coroner Dr. J. C. Bradley of Pembroke, who was called to the scene, said a post mortem would be performed on one body and that an inquest would be held next week.

Fail To Delay Air Line Hearing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(CP)—Colonial Airlines failed today to postpone formal hearing of Trans-Canada Air Lines' right to start a non-stop New York-Montreal air service.

Colonial had tried to get a court order postponing next Monday's meeting of the Civil Aeronautics Board at which TCA is to make formal application for permission to start the service.

Today's decision by Judge Edward M. Curran means that the meeting will be held on schedule.

But the judge ruled that the CAB must not submit to President Truman its recommendations on the TCA case until a three-judge court has ruled whether the Canada-United States air agreement of last June 4 is legal.

U.S. Has Lifted Ban Against Union Official

TORONTO, Aug. 26 — (CP)—Robert M. Battersby, local union official, has been notified by the United States Immigration Department that the ban against his entrance to the US has been lifted, it was learned to-day.

He was refused admission on February 18 on the ground that his presence was "not believed to be in the best interests" of the United States.

An employee of the Gutta Percha Rubber Company for 27 years Mr. Battersby is an executive board official of Local 136, the United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America (CIO).

Five Zoot-Suiters Pay Fines Of $100

TORONTO, Aug. 26 — (CP).—All but two of the seven 'teen-age zoot suiters who were fined $100, or two months, yesterday following a brawl at a Parkdale dance hall, have had their fines paid, Don Jail officials said today.

Two of the seven paid their fines immediately at City Hall yesterday, but the other five were taken to jail. During the afternoon friends and relatives of three of the youths paid the fines and they were released.

Lauder Weakening

STRATHAVEN, Scotland, Aug. 26—(AP) — Str Harry Lauder, famed Scots comedian who, is gravely ill at his home near here, was reported today to be weakening. Lauder, 79, has been ill since Monday with uremia and blood clots on the brain.

Norwood Man Buried, Despite Doubts

NORWOOD, Aug. 26 (ENS)—With doubt still lingering in the mind of at least one member of the family, despite receipt of a reassuring report from a pathologist who found scars of a double hernia on the body, the late Thos. James McMaster, 85, was buried in the local cemetery here Thursday afternoon.

Interment was delayed several hours after the funeral service at the Tedford Funeral Home at 2 p.m. while relatives awaited the findings of Dr. C. B. Waite, Peterborough, who examined the body at the request of the coroner, Dr. Herbert Young, Peterborough.

Following doubt expressed by certain members of the family, together with a number of fellow villagers, that the body, which arrived here Monday from the hospital at Whitby, was that of Mr. McMaster, the coroner was asked to investigate.

Dr. Young examined the body Thursday morning and found no scars. Later several staff members of the hospital arrived in the village at Dr. Young's request to examine the body, along with Dr. Waite. Consequently, the undertaker was told that it was alright to go ahead with interment. Dr. Waite told the Examiner that quite frequently hernia scars become very faint with advancing years and that this was the case with Mr. McMaster. He said that the body has to be examined in a certain light to detect them some times.

Changes Greatly

The fact that Mr. McMaster had changed so greatly in appearance because of the nature of his final illness was what led to the raising of doubts as to identification in the minds of family and friends.

Robert McMaster of Peterborough, one of the sons, told the Examiner today that he had not yet received the report of Dr. Waite, and therefore remained unconvinced that the body interred Thursday was that of his father. When told by the reporter that Dr. Waite had informed this newspaper that he had found hernia scars on the body, he still appeared reluctant to accept it as a final verdict.

Talks In U.S. Determine Food Orders

Great Britain Upset That Acheson Not Directing Parley

OTTAWA, Aug. 26 (CP)—Informed sources Thursday said the Washington dollar talks next month will decide whether the United Kingdom's multi-million-dollar food contracts with Canada will be renewed in 1950. The informants said if the United Kingdom comes to a favorable agreement with the United States on how to solve the British exchange problem, negotiations toward completion of new food contracts with Canada likely will start almost immediately in London and Ottawa.

Size of the new contracts will depend on what kind of a deal the United Kingdom can swing in Washington, but chances of their being as big as those signed last year as considered remote.

In that year contracts for wheat bacon, eggs and cheese amounted to almost $400,000,000 and gave Canada a big slice of the London food market.

However, since that time the United Kingdom has signed bilateral agreements to exchange food products for British commodities with Russia, the Argentine and other non-dollar countries.

Those bilateral agreements may mean less future business for the Canadian farmer in the United Kingdom market.

Study All Angles

Britain's importance to the United States in the cold war will play a vital part in shaping American policy in the coming negotiations on Britain's economic crisis.

Administration officials said today that the United States will have to take full account of both political and military factors in working out what htey said will be a sympathetic approach to British appeals for help and co-operation.

It appeared likely that the minimum the United States would agree to (1) Temporary discrimination against American goods as a means of saving British dollars; (2) Measures designed to increase British sales in this country; (3) and co-operation with Britain in promoting development of colonial areas through President Truman's so-called "Point-Four" Program.

British diplomats here became concerned last week over the development of American policy for the talks. The administration announced then that John W. Synder, secretary of the treasury, rather than State Secretary Dean Acheson would be the chief negotiator for the United States.

Miss Acheson

Since Foreign Secretary Bevin as well as Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's economic boss, is coming here, the British had assumed that Acheson and Bevin would be the dominant figures for the two sides.

British concern arose out of the fear that Snyder would want to discuss the British crisis solely in economic terms. Since Britain is

Polio Strikes Aboard Liner Rush Iron Lung

HALIFAX, Aug. 26—(CP) — The United States coast guard cutter Coos Bay bucked choppy seas off Halifax today, carrying a doctor and medical equipment for treatment of a 21-year-old infantile paralysis victim aboard the Cunard liner Parthia.

RCAF search and rescue centre here said the cutter was expected to rendezvous with the liner at about 9 a.m. EDT.

The Parthia, en route from Europe to New York, asked for medical aid yesterday when Sidney Moody, Jr., of South Plainfield, N.J., son of the vice-president of the American Cyanamid Company, was stricken with the dread disease.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in New York, which received the plea, hastily made plans to send a portable respirator and a doctor to Halifax.

Dr. Nathaniel L. Greenfield of New York, a respirator and a converter from the Queen Mary were hustled aboard a coastguard plane at Floyd Bennett Field and headed for nearby Dartmouth.

Meanwhile, the Coos Bay cruising at sea, was ordered into Halifax to make the final mercy dash.

Stiff Wind Whips Water Wilson Calls Off Trials

PICTON, Aug. 26—(CP)—A stiff, 22-mile-an-hour southeast wind held up an attempt by Harold Wilson to break the world's speed record this morning in his sleek Miss Canada IV. The bid will be made "as soon as the wind dies down," the Ingersoll water pilot said.

Wilson swept over the one-mile Picton Bay course on the west of the Bay of Quinte at 7.20 a.m. EDT with only a slight breeze and about a six-inch chop in the water. He hit an unofficial mark of 121.055 miles an hour.

Two hours later, he officially postponed his run and told reporters he "hopes" to take to the water at 5 p.m. EDT today.

The shark-nosed, 2,500-horsepower Miss Canada IV, a poor last in the Harmsworth Trophy races at Detroit, July 31-Aug. 1 is out to break the existing record of 141.7 miles an hour set by the late Sir Malcolm Campbell over Lake Coniston, England, Aug. 19, 1939.

Sudden Decision

With hundreds of speciators on the tree-lined shore of this picturesque lake shortly after sunrise this morning, Wilson steered his $100,000 boat down the course

21,718 Attend Fair In Two Days

Thursday's paid attendance at the Exhibition was 10,778, only slightly under the 10,940 on Children's Day, Wednesday, for a total of 21,718 as compared with the recorded total of 35,570 for the "Ex." of 1948.

Anything like exact comparison is not readily offered because the fair of last year was only coming to life again after the long suspension of eight years while Morrow Park was occupied by Canada's defense department. Its first day, Wednesday, was only a tentative showing in the final stage of preparation.

Attendance figures reported by the Examiner were confined to three days in 1948, Thursday,

Two U.S. Tourists Die In Crash As Car Strikes Bus

TORONTO, Aug. 26.—(CP). — Three persons died and 26 suffered injuries in two separate highway accidents in Western Ontario last night. At nearby Townsend Centre, Abraham Lewis, 75, was killed and 25 other Indians from the Six Nations Reserve were hurt when their truck overturned in a ditch. All were employees of a Port Dover canning firm on their way to night-shift work in a company truck.

Two United States tourists were killed at Chatham, 100 miles west of here. Warren Henry, 63, of Springfield, Ill., and his 19-year-old daughter, Alice, died when their automobile collided with a bus. His wife, Helen, is in serious condition in hospital.

Henry was chief engineer of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Police said their automobile apparently swerved out of control and crashed into the side of the bus, not carrying any passengers. But driver Arthur Hales, 30, of Windsor, escaped with a shaking up.

In the Townsend Centre accident, police said the 25 injured were thrown along the road when their truck sheered off a telephone pole before overturning. Outside of Lewis, who died of a fractured skull and internal injuries, none was seriously hurt.

Eight women, suffering assorted cuts, bruises and leg fractures, were taken to Brantford hospital. The other 17 were taken by truck to hospital at Osweken on the Six Nations Reserve.

Police said the driver, Elmer Cunningham, 24, of Port Dover, was too overcome by shock to describe clearly what happened.

Rescue 84 Men As Sub Sinks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Six navy submariners and civilian technician lost their lives and 84 crew members were rescued today when the submarine Cochino exploded and burned in Arctic waters.

The six navy men were attached to the U.S.S. Tusk, a sister submarine which rescued the Cochino's crew. The civilian, who was not immediately identified, was the only one lost aboard the Cochino.

The sunken submarine was equipped with a Snorkel—an underwater "breathing" tube which enabled it to remain submerged for long periods of time.

The explosion occurred in the Cochino's battery room and was followed by fire.

A lieutenant and five of the Tusk's enlisted men were swept from her deck by heavy seas during the rescue of the Cochino's crew, which was hampered by nigh seas.

The Tusk, with the rescued men aboard, is heading for the Norwegian port of Hammerfast. This is the nearest port where medical assistance can be obtained.

Scientists Race Sealers To Get Brand On 'Pups'

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, Aug. 26—(CP) — A race is in prospect across the ice floes in the Gulf of St. Lawrence between sealers and Canadian government scientists.

The sealers will be hurrying to kill and market the young seals born on the ice next February. The scientists aim to put tags on the seal pups.

H. Dean Fisher of the Dominion's Fisheries Department told in an interview here to-day of plans to study the ways of the harp seals. He is representing the Fisheries Department at the United Nations scientific conference on the conservation and the utilization of resources.

He hopes to leave next October with an assistant for Labrador where he will live with the seal fishermen of that area when the seals start to come down that coast.

Later he will go to Newfoundland and board a sealing vessel on the killing and tagging expedition.

Fisher said the Fisheries Department has noted that the annual catch of seals has fallen from 500,000 in the early part of the century to about 150,000. The seals are commercially valuable for their fur and the oil from their blubber.

He said next winter's study may include aerial photographs of the seal herds.

And he may use a helicopter in an attempt to get his tagging done before the sealers get to the pups.

If he sticks with the sealing ship, he will try to get to the seals before the sealers advance on them with their aces. Fisher hopes many of the tagged pups will escape.

Liquor Licence Plan Changed

TORONTO, Aug. 26 — (CP).—A vital policy announcement concerning the future issuance of liquor licences in Ontario will be issued late to-day, it was reported here.

Headed by Judge W. T. Robb, the Ontario Liquor Licence Board started today its job of ruling on 163 applications for licences heard earlier this week.

It was understood the board's decision on the applications would be released jointly with an official government statement on policy from Ontario's Premier Frost and Liquor Commissioner G. H. Welsh.

The policy announcement is expected to be associated with the new zoning system recently initiated by Mr. Welsh, under which a definite number of licences will be established for each area.

Finds Ancient City Buried Under Sand

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 26—(AP)—An American explorer said today he has found a fabulous ancient city buried under the sands of Arabia.

Wendell Phillips, Concord, Calif., archaeologist said he found the remains of a great civilization near Mareb, traditional home of the Queen of Sheba.

Travelling from Aden, Arabia, on an R.A.F. plane, Phillips related, he landed on the site of ancient Timna, described by the Roman historian Pliny as the "City of 40 temples."

"Timna is covered by sand," he said. "However, several city walls, the gate, and ruins of temples are still visible."

Canadian Travel Offices Swamped By US Business

VANCOUVER, Aug. 26 (CP)—Canadian travel office clerks are suffering writers' cramp these days in a zany travel deal that's bringing more and more United States dollars into the Dominion.

It's all tied up with the removal of Canada's 15 per cent travel tax, last March 23, and the retention of the 15 per cent tax in the U.S. It's a "zany setup" says Ken Curry, Southern Pacific Railway agent here.

Scenting cheap holidays and travel, Americans for the last five months have been buying their travel tickets at Canadian offices, who have had to double and triple their staff to keep up with the avalanche of mail order buying.

Here's how it works:

A U.S. couple decide to take a trip to Canada, perhaps as far north as Alaska, on a Canadian ship. It will cost them $400. If they buy their tickets in the States, there's a 15 per cent tax. This boosts it to $460. By going to a bank in their home town they can get a draft for $400 made out to the Canadian company and mail it to Canada. If they come here and pay for their tickets over the counter, they save another 10 per cent, because, when buying Canadian money in the United States, they get $11 for every $10.

The best aspect to the whole deal is that it's legal in the eyes of the Foreign Exchange Board. The upshot: Canadian travel offices are booming; across the line clerks are almost twiddling their thumbs.

In the last few days, however, a group of Seattle travel agencies, faced with heavy losses, joined together to open a co-operative office in Vancouver.

Netherlands' Woman Tries Channel Swim

CAP GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 26—(AP)—Mrs. Willi Croes Van Rijsel, 31-year-old Dutch housewife, entered the water here at 4.45 a.m. EDT today in an attempt to swim the English Channel.

Mrs. Van Rijsel is the third swimmer to try to cross the Channel from France to England this week. Philip Mickman, 18-year-old English schoolboy, made it in 23 hours and 48 minutes. The other aspirant, Cuban distance swimmer Jose Cortinas, failed, giving up after being in the chilly water nine hours and 20 minutes.

The sea was calm when Mrs. Van Rijsel began the long swim but a heavy fog obscured the Channel and she and her accompanying boat soon were lost to view from the shore.

It is the second try for the Dutch woman, who got about three miles from Dover July 26 before she gave up.

Governor-General Predicts Dynamic Growth For Canada

TORONTO, Aug. 26 (CP)—The Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, today predicted dynamic development for Canada during the next generation.

"The future wealth and greatness of Canada is assured," he said in an address prepared for delivery as he officially opened the 70th annual Canadian National Exhibition here.

"I realize that the commercial and industrial development of Canada has been rapid, and that in itself is remarkable, but I am willing to forecast that it is nothing like what you are going to see in the life of the next generation."

Speaking from observations during his travels in 3½ years in Canada, Viscount Alexander said the old spirit of enterprise displayed by pioneers would be needed to gain dividends from the potential wealth Canada possesses.

Potential Wealth

"As I see it, you have in this huge land mass a potential wealth which is only just beginning to yield its riches. Much of it is difficult to get at and develop. . . .

"But as the population increases and scientific research plays its part, it is no exaggeration to say that the future wealth and greatness of Canada is assured."

The Governor-General said Canada has become a world power. He described the exhibits at the CNE as a "reflection of that great progress in all fields of industry, commerce, education and culture."

It was a picture of the "advance in human well-being and happiness by manifold endeavors. In a troubled world it should give us confidence at what we can do in a constructive way, after so many years of being forced to use all our efforts on the production of the weapons of destruction."

Viscount Alexander offered a number of facts about the Canadian National Exhibition, noting first that it is the largest annual fair in the world.

He remarked that the plant and equipment of the CNE, wholly owned by the people of Toronto, is valued at between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 and that last years 2,612,000 people attended during the two weeks.

"These figures, which I admit are most impressive, do not surprise me at all, because they are only a logical sequence of events which indicate the interest taken by Canadians and Americans in the present development of this country."

Kills Fellow Prisoner John Boyko Hanged

MONTREAL, Aug. 26—(CP)—John Bokyo, twice sentenced to death for murder, died on the gallows for the slaying of a fellow prisoner at nearby St. Vincent De Paul penitentiary.

Bokyo was pronounced dead at 12.30 a.m. by Dr. Romeo Plosffe, Montreal jail physician.

It was while he was serving his term at St. Vincent De Paul that he stabbed to death Dominic (Nick) Tedesco, 28-year-old hold-up man.

Drowns In Barrel

MOUNT FOREST, Ont., Aug. 26 (CP) — Valier Ann Bondi, 13 months, was drowned Thursday in a three-foot-deep rain barrel outside her parents home. Her mother, Mrs. Sam Bondi, said she left the child outside in her carriage. Apparently she toddled away and fell into the barrel, which is partly sunk into the ground.

Final Tribute Paid Downeyville Man

DOWNEYVILLE, Aug. 26 — (ENS)—The funeral of the late Merlin Lucas was held from the home of his parents Tuesday at 10 o'clock to St. Luke's Church, Downeyville, where Requiem mass was said by Rev. Father McFadden who also said the prayers at the grave. The pallbearers were his five brothers, Albert Jr., Keith, Donovan, Urban, and Carmen and a cousin, David Lucas.

The funeral was one of the largest ever held in the church, and the large numbers who called at the home testified the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

The late Merlin Lucas was born near Downeyville 28 years ago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lucas and will be greatly missed in the home as well as by the young people of the parish.

He suffered a heart attack while picking tobacco in Delhi and his sudden death cast a gloom over this community.

Surviving besides his parents are five brothers, Albert Jr., of Vancouver, B. C.; Urban of Sudbury, Keith of Peterborough, Donovan of Lindsay and Carmen at home; three sisters, Mrs. Tearny (Yvonne), of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Edward O'Neill (Muriel), of Peterborough and Shirley at home.

Cheese Contract Filled, Set Floor Price

OTTAWA, Aug. 26 (CP)—The Agriculture Department Thursday announced price support action for surplus Cheddar cheese produced in Ontario and Quebec from Aug. 1 until the end of the year. It will buy the surplus at 30 cents a pound.

The department said that it now has obtained sufficient cheese to fulfill its agreement with the United Kingdom for the shipment of 50,000,000 pounds during 1949.

The contract was completed earlier than expected, and since production was planned in the light of the price established in the contract the cabinet has approved additional government purchases for the remainder of the year, the statement said.

The British food contract called for payment of 30 cents a pound. The same price will be paid by the department's Dairy Products Board.

"The arrangement is for the balance of the calendar year and applies to cheese produced in Ontario and Quebec after Aug. 1, 1949," the statement added.

The department said it wanted to emphasize that the purchase arrangement is temporary. It is designed to maintain market stability in the current production season and give the industry the opportunity of making adjustments in the light of probable future circumstances.

This makes the second major dairy item for which the government has undertaken price support.

It already is buying up surplus butter at about 58 cents a pound and storing it in the hope of selling it at least cost price when production drops and demand climbs in the fall and winter months.

Prices Move Slowly On Stock Exchange

TORONTO, Aug. 26 (CP) — Prices moved narrowly with a few issues featuring activity on the stock exchange here today. Industrials weakened slightly as the session progressed and golds slipped lower. Base metals opened firmer but mid-session losses pushed the group into the minus column.

Northland Mines, with property adjoining Upper Canada Mines in the Larder Lake district, Northern Ontario, turned briskly for a new high at 12 cents.

Upper Canada also continued active, touched a new high at $2.78 and then settled back. Sherritt Gordon and Osisko highlighted base metals in activity.

Otherwise the gold list was at a standstill. Consolidated Smelters weakened 1½ at 95 at the half-way mark in base metals. Noranda also slipped a fraction while United Keno Hill, Steep Rock and International Nickel firmed.

Hacked Body Found In River

AMHERSTBERG, Ont., Aug. 26 —(CP)—Police are working on a foul play theory after the hacked, legless body of a young man was found floating in the Detroit River near here today.

Dr. E. C. Harris, Coroner, said the body was severed at the waist as if a knife had been used.

Provincial Constable Jim Peever said there was a hole in the man's skull just above the left ear and investigation is being made to see if the hole was made by a bullet.

"It could be murder," police said.

A theory that the body was severed by the propellor of a big lake boat was discarded when the coroner said he did not think it would make as clean a cut as appeared.

Urges Expansion Prepaid Medicine

SARNIA, Aug. 26 (CP) — Not socialized medicine but expansion of existing prepaid medical services is the solution to medical care problems of Canadians in the middle and low income brackets, the Kiwanis Club was told Thursday night by Dr. Gordon R. Scarrow, president of the Lambton Medical Society.

He granted that rising costs of medical care are a problem for thousands in the middle-income group but he claimed that so-called "state medicine" would prove not only more expensive in the long run than present "prepaid service" but would probably result in a "deterioration" of medical care.

Experience with state medicine in Britain and other countries, he said, has shown that the cost to the individual is extremely high when taxes are taken into consideration.

Dr. Scarrow said that Canada and the United States may be proud of their high level of medical care. "On this continent there are more doctors per head of population than anywhere else on earth—except perhaps the new state of Israel where it seems there are more doctors than patients."

Urging extension of existing prepaid medical service he emphasized that the system gives "freedom of choice" to both patient and doctor. Under state medicine, no patient would be able to choose any particular doctor and no doctor would be able to refuse treatment to any patient.

May Move To Guiana

LONDON, Aug. 26 (Reuters) — Surplus population from the British Caribbean colonies may be transferred to British Guiana, after an aerial survey of 4,000 square miles in the Northern Bartica and Potar areas this autumn, the colonial office said Thursday night. Transfer of population was one of the recommendations by the British Guiana and British Honduras Settlement Commission, which also suggested large-scale timber extraction, building an all-weather road from Bartica to Potaro, and production of cocoa and other crops.

Bomber Officials Cleared Of Corruption

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP) — Congressional investigators took off today on the trail of additional suspects who may have spread discredited charges of fraud and favoritism in the B-36 bomber program.

Actual hearings are at a standstill for six weeks while agents of the Armed Services Committee of the House of Representatives dig for more facts.

The hearings produced a spectacular climax yesterday:

1. The complete lifting of any suspicions of corruption from Defence Secretary Louis Johnson, Air Secretary Stuart Symington, industrialist Floyd Odlum and everybody else connected with the development of the giant, intercontinental bomber. That was by unanimous action of the committee.

2. An equally-complete repudiation of all the charges and rumors of irregularities contained in a once anonymous memo. that was by the author of the document, Cedric Worth, suspended navy official. He got plenty of help in his repudiation from committee counsel Joseph B. Keenan.

Navy Embarrassed

The navy, much embarrassed, ordered an investigation of its own. It set up a court of inquiry, to convene next Monday, to "inquire particularly as to whether other persons, military or civil, under the navy department participated in or instigated or had knowledge of the preparation of the said document."

Worth was suspended Wednesday from his $8,500-a-year job as an assistant to under-secretary Dan Kimball.

Before the House Committee, with Keenan cracking the whip, Worth executed one of the most sensational flip flops ever seen on a Congressional witness stand.

He admitted to Representative George Bates (Rep. Mass.) that he has no direct or indirect knowledge of any corruption, fraud, collusion, influence or favoritism in the B-36 program.

Two Drunks To Jail In Lieu Of Fines

Pleading guilty to a second offence within a year of being drunk, James Naughton was sentenced to one month in jail when he couldn't pay a $50 fine and court costs in city police court Friday morning before Magistrate R. B. Baxter, Port Hope.

Naughon admitted being found guilty of a drunk charge March 15.

Geraldine Armstrong pleaded not guilty to being drunk at one a.m. Aug. 24, but admitted the truth of Constable J. F. Morrow's testimony that he had found her drunk sitting on the grass in Victoria Park. She was fined $10 and costs and in default was sentenced to 10 days in jail, to which she was taken forthwith.

Bomber Officials Cleared Of Corruption

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP) — Congressional investigators took off today on the trail of additional suspects who may have spread discredited charges of fraud and favoritism in the B-36 bomber program.

Actual hearings are at a standstill for six weeks while agents of the Armed Services Committee of the House of Representatives dig for more facts.

The hearings produced a spectacular climax yesterday:

1. The complete lifting of any suspicions of corruption from Defence Secretary Louis Johnson, Air Secretary Stuart Symington, industrialist Floyd Odlum and everybody else connected with the development of the giant, intercontinental bomber. That was by unanimous action of the committee.

Say St Peter's Bones Found By Vatican

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 26 (AP) —An American newspaper's report that St. Peter's bones have been found in a forgotten tomb under St. Peter's Basilica has stirred deep excitement here.

The New York Times reported August 22 in a Rome dispatch dated August 7 that the bones of the famed apostle revered by Roman Catholics as the first Pope of their church are understood to have been found less than 20 feet under the main altar of the Basilica. The newspaper said discoverers of the relics have been sworn to secrecy, but quoted Vatican circles as saying Pope Pius himself has been guarding the bones in an urn in his private chapel.

A Vatican source unofficially labelled the report "fantastic."

On August 23, the New York Times said "the secret had been so well kept that only Pope Pius XII and not more than half a dozen top Vatican officials were aware of the discovery."

Vatican Hints Great Revelation

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 26 — (AP)—The Vatican radio has urged the faithful to await a "great revelation" by the holy See converning the tomb of St. Peter.

This advice, it was learned, is the only authoritative Vatican comment yet made on newspaper reports that St. Peter's bones have been found less than 20 feet under St. Peter's Basilica here.

The Vatican radio rebroadcast the summary of an article appearing this week in the Catholic action newspaper Quotidiano, headed "premature news and confident awaiting."

A director of Vatican radio told the Associated Press "this represents our views."

Neither the Vatican radio nor Quotidiano ventured to predict whether the Holy See's forthcoming revelation would announce whether St. Peters' bones actually had been found.

Neither was there any hint regarding the nature of the expected revelation, presumably to be made by Pope Pius at some future date.

Reports Show Jobs In B.C. Tough To Find

By The Canadian Press

It's going to be tough for eastern and prairie unemployed to line up jobs in British Columbia this fall. There's an unemployment problem in the province, which is usually considered the logical hunting ground when work elsewhere fails.

The Vancouver Labor Council (CCL) says in a brief that 18,000 persons applied for the 1,161 employment vacancies listed in July by the National Employment Service. And July, as a rule, is B.C.'s peak employment month.

The employment service neither confirms nor denies the labor council's figures. The council's brief claims implications for the winter ahead also are "serious." It says the number of unemployed exhausting their benefits is adding steadily to those already without means.

The brief quotes the present total of unemployed drawing benefits at 7,752 for July, compared with only a little more than half that last year at the same time. It lists job applicants at the end of July, 1948 at 11,264.

Last spring, Vancouver faced an unemployment picture which drew federal government attention. Main factor in the labor glut was a power shortage and unusual weather which held back the opening of logging camps.

Farm Machinery Shown At Fair

Farm implements on display at the Fair this week are worth close to $135,00, one of the company representatives told the Examiner today.

"And, we'd like to show a lot of other, too, if we could have the space," he said.

Eight dealers listed the implements "just for curiosity," with their present market values, and added up the total. It was $132,-124. One company's showing of farm equipment amounts to $39,-440.

The information was obtained by the Examiner because it was obvious that this machinery of production is too crowded for advantage of display.

The farm implements countless rate second only to the cattle, sheep and swine in agricultural importance, but they have to be shown in the appearance of a tangle.

The dealers pay for the space, and they don't object to the outdoors, As a matter of fact they are not saying anything of criticism. But, if they could get more room, they would have more machines on the grounds.

Plane Explodes

Doll Controversy Ends Happily

PITSBURGH, Au. 26 (AP) — The battle of the United States customs office and a young Somerset, Pa. newspaper woman over a shipment of dolls ended happily Thursday.

Blonde, attractive Peggy Reiley came to the customs warehouse here and repacked some 200 dolls shipped from St. Catharines for her "dolls for Europe" campaign.

The dolls then were sent on their way overseas, where Peggy will pick them up again in October. She will distribute them personally to doll-less girls in Britain, France, Germany and Austria.

By repacking the dolls here, Peggy was able to avoid the $14.63 duty the government insisted she must pay if the dolls left the United States possession.

In contrast to the stormy weekend sessions when Peggy insisted she would not pay duty and the government said she must, all was amicable Thursday.

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Aug. 26—(CP)—J. E. Slaight, publisher of the Moose Jaw Times-Herald, said Thursday the Times-Herald has become associated with the Thomson Dailies through a sale of stock in the company.

The Thomson Dailies include eight newspapers in Ontario.

French School Sets Comedy For Next Play

French Without Tears—but a good many laughs—is being presented next week beginning Monday by the Peterborough Summer Theatre at the Queen Mary School auditorium. Graham Ferguson is directing the production.

This well-know comedy by Terrence Rattigan has had long runs on both London and New York stages as well as being made into a highly successful film starring Ray Milland about three years ago.

As well as these high class productions, the play has been a favorite of repertory companies and summer stock and their audiences since it was first written.

French School Setting

The action is set in a French school which specializes in teaching the French language to usually stolid and ambitious Englishmen. The teaching is hindered to a considerable extent by the natural laziness and/or stupidity of the pupils, but not nearly as much as by the distracting presence of Diana. Diana makes a career of being distracting.

She meets her match, however, in Allan, who is not prepared to join the ranks of her slaves. If all this makes the play sound like a very ordinary comedy, then you don't know playwright Rattigan.

Cast of Favorite Actors

The cast is filled with actors who have established themselves this summer as favorites of Peterborough audiences. Jeri Sauvinet heads the cast in the role of Diana. Miss Sauvinet is best remembered for her acting in Rebecca, By Candlelight and this week's The Importance of Being Earnest.

Frank Perry, who is Algernon in this week's "Earnest," and has done notable work in John Loves Mary, By Candlelight and Arsenic and Old Lace, is taking the leading role opposite Miss Sauvinet as Allan.

Giving strong support will be Bill Needles, as Lieutenant Commander Rogers, Anna Cameron as Jacqueline, Gerry Sarracini as Brian, Michael Sadlier as Kit, Hugh Taschereau as Professor Maingot, and Ron Bailey as Kenneth.

This is the company's second last production. The last play will be The Voice of the Turtle, a play which many of the Theatre's fans have been asking for.

Horse-Bitten Arm, Burns, Injuries At Ex

Twenty-three people have received attention in the first two days of the Exhibition at the St. John Ambulance tent. Of these cases only eight happened on Wednesday. Only four children were sent to the tent having lost their companions.

Burned fingers and arms, small cuts and re-dressings have been attended to by the St. John Brigade and the nursing division. Toothaches, indigestion, sick stomachs, sprained ankles, headaches and an arm infection have been referred to the local brigade and nursing staff.

Thursday afternoon about 3 o'clock a boy about 12 years old arrived at the St. John's tent, his arm having been bitten by a horse. From the account given by the boy and his mother a horse bit the boy while they were looking at the horses in the horse barn. Only one tooth had penetrated the skin. He was advised to see a doctor after first aid was applied.

Broken Collarbone

The most serious accident since the equipment moved in happened on Sunday. The wife of one of the grandstand entertainers fell from the back of one of the bull elephants, receiving a broken collarbone. She was rushed to hospital immediately.

In case of any serious accident an ambulance is beside the St. John Ambulance tent.

Victim Of Crash

Word has been received here of the death of A. B. Neil of Glencoe Ont., who was a passenger on the ill-fated RCAF Canso aircraft which crashed in northern Manitoba. Mr. Neil's wife, the former Doreen McKee, is the niece of Messrs. Max, James and Roy Humphries, Miss Lillian Humphries and Mrs. Wm. Moore, all of Hastings.

Hits Pole, Then Car

A car operated by Fred English, RR 3, Indian River, left No. 7 Highway at 7:20 p.m. Thursday, about two miles east of Peterborough, knocked off a telephone pole and then collided with a car driven by J. S. Lamty, 180½ Simcoe St. Neither driver was hurt. English's car sustained about $125 damage and Lamty's about $40 damage. Provincial Constable D. W. Coffey investigated.

Half A Million Dollar Clean-Up

The deed is done. Tuesday the city council accepted a tender for the renovation and extension of the sewage disposal plant. Subject to the Municipal Board's approval of bond issuing and the construction firm's getting the work done on schedule, Peterborough should have adequate sewage disposal facilities by next July.

• • •

The decision was hard for the Council to make because the cost—$613,000 in all—is high and will add another mill to the tax rate at a time when other major civic works are burdening it. But it was a virtually unavoidable decision. Alderman Dodds did no credit to himself, but gave a backhanded compliment to this newspaper and the public generally when he opened the council discussions Tuesday evening with the statement that "You are all aware that this issue has been forced upon us by the public and the press of Peterborough". It was the condition of Little Lake and the Otonabee River, and the hundreds of new homes without adequate sewage service, and the almost nightly stench of the summer air at the south end of the city that forced the issue. The people, ashamed and even angry, brought the conditions to the public ear and eye. The Examiner, in urging that the conditions be rectified and in publishing letters from disgruntled and disgusted residents, feels that it was properly performing a public service, and accepting its civic responsibility in this matter, though perhaps more readily than Alderman Dodds may have liked.

• • •

In the matter of clean air and clean water in Peterborough there could be no hedging because of the cost, nor no delay to wait upon cheaper days. The sewage disposal system had to be improved immediately. There were no two ways about it. The contract terms now decided on are as cheap as they could be got, if the job is to be done satisfactorily. These last several years Peterborough like most healthy Ontario cities, has been experiencing the high cost of treating its growing-pains. The needs and costs hit suddenly, but in this one post-war decade we shall have, we hope, surmounted the major ones, and in doing so will have built wisely and well.

The Abuse Of Resources

Through the ages man has misused and squandered the resources of nature. We called editorial attention last Saturday to the chief modern ravager—world wars. If man is to survive, he must have peace, for modern wars take a toll of resources other than human so heavy that scientists fear that another world war would so deplete the earth of iron, chemicals and arable soils that human life would be extinguished, by starvation if not by explosives.

There are other ravagers, some of them natural, due to tinkering with nature. For instance, soil erosion is due more to upsetting nature's balance in vegetation than to the ravages of time. Iran (Persia) now has vast stretches of barren rock, which used to be a land flowing with milk and honey. Our Canadian mid-west was over-cropped early in the century; by the mid-twenties much of it was a dust bowl. The Tennessee Valley project was designed to repair devastation caused by man similar to the wastes in Persia.

Civilized man has been active as a destroyer. During the past 2,000 years 106 forms of mammal life have disappeared, and 67 per cent of these have become extinct only during the past century. In fact, about 38 per cent. as many forms of mammal life have been exterminated during the last fifty years as in all previous recorded history. The rate at which man is destroying his own means of sustenance is increasing. For instance, more minerals have been taken out of the ground of the U.S.A. since 1900 than from the whole world during all previous recorded ages. Since 1900 the U.S.A. has consumed 97 per cent. of all the petroleum ever produced in the world. Since 1920 the U.S.A. has mined and consumed forty billion metric tons of coal, although the total amount of coal mined throughout history until 1947 was 81 billion tons.

This record of the modern consumption of capital resources, as well as the destruction of life and the threat to the balance is appalling. It is the reason for two conferences being held this and next months at Lake Success, and makes them very important. One is U.N.'s scientific conference on conservation and utilization of resources; the other sponsored by the International Union for the Protection of Nature and by UNESCO is an international technical conference on the protection of nature.

The problems of conservation and the proper use of natural resources are as wide as they are urgent. Science and governments must co-operate to prevent waste, and to exploit to the full "the possibilities which the scientific utilization of resources offers for a sustained advance in the standard of life" as the provisional program of the first conference says.

Science has already done much, through new discoveries, new methods, and the use of substitutes as, for example, when nitrate deposits failed in Germany. But due to the increased world population, the rising standards of living and ruthless exploitation, a balance has not yet been struck.

How Attractive Is Democracy To The Refugees?

We on this side of the Atlantic are fond of preening ourselves everytime a new refugee arrives from Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia or even Russia and announces that he has come because he loves democracy. It is a kind of political flattery to which many North Americans are susceptible. It makes them more smug than ever about the rightness, even righteousness, of all their social, economic and political institutions. Some who may doubt that all in our democracy is not the best it will be have their doubts dissolved by these deserters of foreign homelands who have foresaken all for democracy—so they claim.

Let us not fool ourselves too much. Undoubtedly, many refugees are convinced democrats, and come to our shores because of a fervent desire to live democratically. But there are others who, whatever their protestations of love for democracy, love dollars more. They come here because our standard of living is higher and because they hope to make money perhaps big money. Some of them do, and quite often their money-making ventures combined with their talents greatly benefit their new homeland and further its development.

We do not denounce a refugee who comes here to make money. The making of money is, after all, the major pursuit of most people on this continent. But let us not be deceived into believing that because a refugee loves good food, and good money that he equally loves democracy.

Poles, Magyars, Bulgars, Czechs and Russians have been fleeing eastern and central Europe for a hundred and fifty years and coming to the American continent as immigrants in order to have more food and money for themselves and their families. The flight continues. It happens that now most of the eastern and central European countries are Communistic. So it may be said that as they flee from Poland, Hungary, Roumania, Bulgaria, eastern Germany and Russia they are fleeing from communism.

American and Canadian immigration authorities have taken great care to ensure that immigrants and refugees who are allowed to enter are not communists. These officials look at their records, rather than listen gullibly to what they profess. It is to be hoped that they are equally careful in barring dollar-dizzy fascists parading in the clothes of democrats.

Powder Keg Fizzling

The Balkans are traditionally—since gunpowder was invented—the powder-keg of Europe. Balkan countries seem to be living up to tradition, and Yugoslavia is on top. The disputes of Tito's communistic Yugoslavia with Stalinist communist countries have been blowing up in western faces for two years. The heat has been quite intense lately, and even Stalin is reported to have a red face. We have no immediate fear that a big war will start between Russia and Yugoslavia, for neither Tito nor Yugoslavia is quite big enough for that sort of thing. Even if such a war did happen, we in the west could probably sit it out and chalk it down as a foreign war in which we should not intervene.

For one reason or another we cannot suppress a faint regret that Tito and Moscow seem to be cooling off into amicable relations. A family squabble, particularly one in such a family, can be quite piquant to an observer who has no entanglements with one party or the other. At the same time, if it is a great big fellow who is pummelling his little step-brother we should be inclined to sympathize with the little chap, especially if the little fellow has been polite to us.

The New Indonesia

by PATRICK O'DONOVAN

WITHIN the next few days the leaders of the Indonesian people are to meet the Dutch at The Hague. Probably it will be a long and difficult conference. Its aim is the transference of sovereignty from a Dutch to a native Government, and the creation of a new federal State in South-East Asia. The United States of Indonesia (to be known as Republic Indonesia Serikat) will be more than 70,000,000 strong; it is of great potential wealth; it has limitless power for good and evil in that part of the world, and, slung between East and West, it holds a position of great strategic importance.

◇ ◇ ◇

BUT it is no longer possible to welcome a new nation uncritically, as our fathers did, simply because a little more freedom has been added to the world. The delicious nights given over to the pleasures of martyrdom, to demonstrations against the Permanent Officials and to hoarse shouting of "Quit India," or (the Burmese cry), "We don't want the White Paper," lead to long and savage hangovers.

◇ ◇ ◇

A NATIONAL revolution settles nothing. In our time it seems that these revolutions have been preludes to harsher and uglier struggles for power, and to increased suffering for the inarticulate and the very poor.

◇ ◇ ◇

NOW, Indonesia is going to be free. That is certain—whether freedom is given her at The Hague, or, because of disagreement there, at a later date and after more killing. There are few left who wish to withhold independence from her, or deny that her moral right to self-government is absolute. The round-table conference at The Hague seems to be opening in an atmosphere that is almost friendly. It seems the revolutionary phase is over; but what comes next?

◇ ◇ ◇

CERTAINLY, the present leaders of Indonesia are full of high good-will for all the world. But the key to their future lies not in their intentions but in their financial position, which is appalling. Simply—they lack expertness; their raw materials are an uncertain asset and their oil is still undeveloped; their population is over-fecund, and in Java wildly overcrowded; their Ministers are sometimes irresponsible and not always quite honest; the new State will start life deep in debt and civil war.

◇ ◇ ◇

INEVITABLY, the arrival of the new Government and the departure of the Dutch will coincide with a horrid dip in every standard—of living, of public integrity, of efficiency. The danger—and for us, too—is that if the hopes the nationalists have raised are dashed too utterly they may lose control of the situation. There are 500,000 armed men in Java and Sumatra, and no one knows for sure how they will behave when the excitement is over and the cold dawn comes.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE men going to The Hague to fashion a new country have shown little alarm or even awareness of the perils ahead. They exist in two main parties. The first is known as the Republic. They are the true nationalist revolutionaries, who have fought and killed Dutchmen with enthusiasm since the war, and who already claim sovereignty over a small wedge of central Java (the Djocja residency), and over remote parts of Sumatra.

◇ ◇ ◇

THESE are the men who matter. Their President is Soekarno, the orator and figure-head of the revolution, a heavy man with the elaborate filigree charm of any good professional politician. The Vice-President and Premier is Dr. Hatta, less polished but the real architect of the last stages of the Indonesian revolution.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE second party, which claims control over more than two-thirds of the population, is the Federalist Party. They in the past have stood for a more moderate revolution, have not fought, have believed in the necessity of co-operation with the Dutch and in the splitting-up of Indonesia into near self-governing units. They have some brilliant leaders, but they inspire no very passionate loyalty among the millions of illiterate Moslems they rule.

◇ ◇ ◇

AT the preliminary Indonesian Conference, held before they left for Holland, the two parties seem to have agreed. The new country is to be a United States of Indonesia. State rights have been recognized. But the pre-eminence of the Republic and its fierce, sometimes heroic, traditions are obvious if unexpressed. Its revolutionary symbols, flags, hymns and heroes have become the national symbols. It is clear that when the new Federal Government is set up, maybe by the end of the year in Batavia, Soekarno will be the first President of Indonesia and the spirit of the Republic firmly in charge.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE difficulties facing this two-party group of ex-school masters, homely philosophers and devoted passionate little men are appalling. In Java and Sumatra at present there is utter political and military confusion. No one — and certainly not the Republican Government—knows the size, dependability or constitution of the forces—known as T.N.I., or Tentara Negara Indonesia—which are officially under its command. At present they include almost everyone who was ready to shoot at Dutchman. There are no muster-roles, no ration scales, no central discipline, not even in the Djocja Residency.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE present cease-fire, in effect since August 10, is going surprisingly well. There has been no shooting, and it looks as if the Republic has been able to assert its authority. If so, that is an immense success. But the forces that fought the Dutch are not united, and when the Dutch have gone and the disillusionment and maybe the hunger and the boredom begin, the Republic will face its struggle for power.

◇ ◇ ◇

THERE are tens of thousands of young men, trained and armed by the Japanese, who have never worked, who have tasted idleness and power and violence. Many, under patriotic flags, have been living as bandits on their own people. They have almost a vested interest in disorder. There is nothing strange in that; it is one of the nastier features of the Far East.

◇ ◇ ◇

THERE are some Communists; they have a couple of battalions in Solo and some more in East and West Java. They are few—but they are there—ruthless and organized and well-armed, technically in alliance with the Republic, and the only party in all Indonesia not ready to compromise on almost anything. They are there to exploit any economic disappointment; and plenty of idle adolescent troops will be at their disposal should the Republic falter.

◇ ◇ ◇

THIS is not a familiar Communism. Its leader, Tan Malaka (who has been reported dead but is almost certainly alive), has renounced Moscow.. More bitterly he has also renounced the West. Communism here is not a matter of Marx, or of a philosophical attitude towards the individual. It is a simple promise of plenty and exciting living and a complete rejection of the hopeless past. And the simple people will accept it if the Republic fails them.

◇ ◇ ◇

HERE is one country that must somehow be kept from oriental Communism. Here, for its own sake and for ours, is a Government that simply must not fail. We can welcome the new nation, and perhaps admire the courage with which it has faced foreign soldiers. But it will need more than that. From the West it will need steady support, financial and political, and infinite tact. If only Indonesia can be kept above the flood, it might almost be possible to lift a little of one's despair for the East.

ROBBER'S ROOST

Letters To The Editor

AGREES WITH MISS MEDD

Sir: May I add my voice to that of Miss Mary Medd in support of the Summer Theatre? I live not far from it, and it has never entered my head to think of it as a nuisance, although I see cars and people passing my house on the way to it.

On the contrary, I have not missed one of the plays this summer, and although I have enjoyed some more than others I have liked them all. The Summer Theatre brings us a kind of entertainment which we have not had for years, until the Little Theatre began its work here two years ago. We now have the chance to see several good plays, well done, every year and it would be a shame to miss it.

Like Miss Medd, I think the Board of Education deserves hearty commendation for making the Summer Theatre possible in one of their buildings. The citizens built the school, and it is a splendid thing that the citizens are getting so much pleasure from it.

As for the summer company, they are Canadians who have shown us that Canada has nothing to be ashamed of in theatre work, and for one I am grateful to them and hope to see them back at Queen Mary auditorium next year.

Yours faithfully,
E. M. L.

ANOTHER SUMMER THEATRE SUPPORTER

Sir: The letter of Mary E. Medd is one which will appeal to all lovers of justice, tolerance and charity, who would like to see the Summer Theatre here next year.

I am very much surprised to know that some people object. Especially is that so, when I who live in close proximity to the liquor store have seen some of the same come constantly parking in front of my house, driving on the grass and driveway, throwing empty containers and paper on the boulevard, parking right in front of the "No Parking" sign. This continues the whole year round, not of a few week's duration.

I am not complaining, nor do I wish to appear as a martyr.

Yours sincerely,
CHARLES E. COLEMAN.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgements which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them. (Deut. 5: 1.)

◇ ◇ ◇

The Lord thy God will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me; unto him ye shall hearken; according to all that thou desiredst of the Lord thy God in Horeb in the day of the assembly, saying, Let me not hear again the voice of the Lord my God, neither let me see this great fire any more that I die not.

And the Lord said unto me, They have well spoken that which they have spoken. I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren, like unto thee, and will put my words in his mouth; and he shall speak unto them all that I shall command him. (Deut. 18: 15-18.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Now about the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?

Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself....

And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?....In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink....

Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet. (John 7: 14-17, 31, 37, 40.)

"Major, I see two cocktails carried to your room every morning, as if you had someone to drink with."

"Yes sir; one cocktail makes me feel like another man; and, of course, I'm bound to treat the other man."

A little boy was crying as though his heart would break, A nice old lady couldn't stand to see such a little boy cry so hard.

When she asked him what the trouble was, he told her that both his mother and his father were dead, and all he had left was a brother at Harvard University.

"Well," said the nice old lady, "a brother at Harvard! That's fine. What's he studying at Harvard?"

"Nothing," sobbed the little boy. "They're studying him."

Deputy Minister Opens Fair Tribute To Board's Work

In the absence of Col. the Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, Deputy-Minister Clifford D. Graham opened the 40th Peterborough Exhibition shortly after 2 p.m. Thursday.

Col. Kennedy, who was scheduled to do the honors, telephoned his deputy in the early morning to say he was indisposed and asked him to open the Fair.

It had been hoped that the Agriculture Minister would also attend the dinner given by Canada Packers for the Junior Farmers, but this plan, too, had to be revised. After a brief inspection of the cattle barns Thursday afternoon, Mr. Graham had to leave to fill another engagement, also occasioned by the Minister's sudden illness.

In a brief address at a Civic luncheon given in the Empress Hotel, Mr. Graham first passed along the regrets of the Minister at his absence, and then he paid tribute to the work of the Fair Board.

He described the Fair as "an undertaking to serve agriculture and to serve the people." Several times he emphasized the mutual dependence of the urban and rural areas.

"The boundary between city and country is the best last home in the rural area from where people come to do business," he said.

Look After Soil

The Deputy Minister emphasized the necessity of looking after the soil "as fundamental to our living." And he pointed out that as an agricultural society the Fair Board stands for that.

He commended the Board particularly for its realization of the part young people must play in the organization. As an example of what he meant, he stated that the second vice-president was a young man, and a capable one at that.

"If you do not make a place for the juniors of your organization, how do you expect them to go ahead?" he asked.

Speaking on behalf of the Department, he said: "When the people of a community are interested in doing a job, we are interested in going ahead and giving them a hand."

Invited Back

At the luncheon Mayor Swanston invited Mr. Graham to come back for the next Exhibition when the City of Peterborough would be celebrating its centennial.

After welcoming him on behalf of the citizens and the council, the Mayor said: "I hope you will come down next year and help the Fair Board to put on the best Fair they ever put on."

The official party was then escorted from the Empress to the Exhibition Grounds. He told the substantial crowd in the grandstand that in 1948 the value of agricultural commodities had reached the $1,000,000,000-mark, and this year it would be about the same.

To illustrate the importance of the agricultural industry, he said that nearly a third of the population was engaged in it.

A visit to Europe would soon convince people of the advantages of living here rather than in that war-torn land.

In closing, he quoted the words written by a young Canadian farmer as he lay wounded in a hospital overseas: "We have cleared the land, now it is up to you to do the building."

The Deputy Minister then declared the 1949 Peterborough Exhibition officially open.

Mr. Graham is no stranger to Peterborough. Before the war he came here to judge several junior competitions

Speaking to The Examiner afterwards he said he was particularly struck by the improvement in the grounds since his last visit.

"It certainly is a splendid Fair," he declared, "and I hope to be here next year."

Clare Collins, chairman of the Reception Committee, introduced the Deputy Minister and the other notables to the spectators. Sustained applause followed each introduction.

Attending the Civic luncheon were Lionel Browne, Canada Packers; Clare Collins; Warden William Darling; G. A. Gillespie, secretary-treasurer of the Fair Board; Norman McConkey, 1st vice - president; Reg Faryon, Quaker Oats Co.; Col. J. A. Dewart, Dewart Milling Co.; Senators J. J. Duffus and Iva Fallis; Deputy Minister Graham; Alderman Adam Sands, chairman of Legal and Reception Committee; Mayor Swanston; Hugh Stewart, president; and Gordon K. Fraser, M.P.

Praises Contralto

EDINBURGH, Aug. 26.—(CP). —Jean Watson, Canadian contralto from St. Thomas, Ont., Thursday night sang the part of Ulrica in Verdi's opera, "Masked Ball," performed as part of the Edinburgh music festival. The music critic of the Times of London, attending the festival, said Miss Watson's role was "capably sung and forcibly acted."

NAVY PILOTS CRASH—Still burning after its collision with a similar aircraft at the Toronto suburb of Malton, this Royal Canadian Navy Seafire crashed, killing its pilot, together with the pilot of the other wrecked plane. The two fliers, Lt.-Cmdr. C. G. Watson and Lieut. Charles Elson, both of Toronto, were practicing formation flying for a display at the Canadian National Exhibition when the propellor of one plane chewed off the tail of the other. The planes were based at the naval air station at Dartmouth, NS.

Shanghai Britons Want Action Vs. Blockade

SHANGHAI, Aug. 26 — (Special to Examiner).—The British, who together with members of other foreign communities here decided not to avail themselves of opportunities to evacuate prior to the entry of the Communists, but preferred to remain and carry on trade, if possible, are alarmed by the seemingly general failure abroad to understand that the Nationalists have really imposed a blockade.

Though this is not recognized by Britain and other powers with maritime interests hereabouts, it is a fact that Shanghai is completely cut off from the rest of the world, save by wireless. This is the eighth week since Shanghai received seaborne mails. The once flourishing harbor is completely empty of shipping carrying the cargo necessary to carry on business with China, to do which so many Britons and others remained behind. The Nationalists this week reiterated the order blockading Communist-held China, and announced their intention to inflict severe penalties on captains and crews and to confiscate ships defying the order.

"Costly Futility"

The British community is pertinently asking how long this unhappy state of affairs is to be allowed to continue. The North China Daily News, the only remaining foreign daily in Shanghai, states editorially today: "The question which is daily on the lips of thousands in Shanghai is 'Why don't the Powers put an end to this costly futility.'"

The paper insists that this is a case where legality should be tempered with common sense. It has been officially stated at home that the decision of the British community to remain in China is in accordance with the best British traditions. "It may also be remarked," says the Daily News, "that it is in accord with the best British traditions for the Government to support an action of which it has approved."

The paper goes on to point out that losses, already huge, may very soon become catastrophic, and expressed the hope that the British government even now will take every possible step to put an end of a ridiculous and costly development which ought to have been nipped in the bud at the very outset.

Contracts Polio While In Hospital

TORONTO, Aug. 226 — (CP)— Medical men in Toronto were mystified Thursday by a young wife who developed poliomyelitis after 28 days in hospital and gave birth to a child during the most serious stage of the disease.

Medical authorities said they had no knowledge of any previous case of any person contracting polio while in hospital.

The woman, Mrs. Betty Hodgson of nearby Islington, entered the hospital last month. On August 10, after she had been in hospital 28 days, she was found to have polio. Three days later her baby was born, a normal and healthy child. Mrs. Hodgson is still suffering paralysis of the throat and one arm.

Medical authorities offered several possible explanations. Mrs. Hodgson 25, had visitors while she was in hospital and one may have carried the disease, they said.

One authority suggested the woman could have contracted the disease before entering hospital. While the incubation period of polio is not definitely settled, some experts say it may take as long as 35 days to strike after being contracted. Mrs. Hodgson was released from hospital on Tuesday.

Movie Column

Say Hollywood May Win Barbara Ann

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26 (AP)— Hollywood may win Barbara Ann Scott because the ice skating queen doesn't like the cold.

Of course that's just one reason, but it's a big one. Canada's Olympic champion, who has spent a large slice of her 21 years on the ice, testifies that baby, it's cold out there.

"MMM, I love this sunshine," she sighed as she relaxed from the movieland whirl in her $35-a-day hotel suite. "And I like having the ocean nearby. I'm very fond of the water—the non-frozen kind. I'd love to live here."

The way things are shaping up, she may well get her wish. Her agents the highest-powered outfit in town, have been introducing her around at the studios, and the pert and personable blonde makes quite an impression. Some ink may flow before the Ottawa girl leaves town next week.

Make-believe World

Barbara herself is all hepped up about a movie career. "I think it would be living in a make-believe world," she enthused.

She remarked that she had seen all the Sonja Henie pictures. "I loved the way she sailed over the black ice covered with water," she said.

"But I'd rather have pictures with more emphasis on story, and less on skating.

Among the film deals mentioned for her is co-starring with Dick Button, United States skating champion, in "Hans Brinker" for Walt Disney. "It sounds very interesting," she commented. "But I don't know if Dick would do it; his family wants him to finish Harvard."

Tomorrow night, Barbara will try something new—skating to a symphony orchestra in Hollywood Bowl. She said she will skate "the way the music moves me." The pieces will be Slavonic dances (Dvorak), Teddy Bear's Picnic (Bratton) and Buttons and Bows (Livingston-Evans).

Rink Still Small

She's looking forward to the big orchestra, because "some of the bands you have to skate to are pretty awful." However, the drawback is the 20-by-40-foot rink, which she doesn't feel is suitable for free movement. But it's better than the surfaces in New York and Chicago theatres she played—"that's like skating on an ice cube."

Barbara returns to Ottawa next week to begin training for a Canadian tour this winter. Her agents have nothing booked for her beyond February, in case Hollywood calls for her. But even if she does live here, she said she'll keep her roots in Canada. "That's home," she remarked.

The champion has seen the night clubs and studios and met film stars, but she has just three more wishes: to see the footprints at Grauman's Chinese; to meet Walter Pidgeon, "who always seems to be kindly"; and to see Clifton Webb, "who was so funny when he dumped the mush on the little boy 'in 'Sitting Pretty.'"

Jaycees Takes Opener Over Oshawa

Peterborough Jaycees, Ray Pammett's East City midget city baseball champions, opened their best-of-three OBA playdown series at Riverside last night with a 14-3 victory over Oshawa. They play the second game in Oshawa's Lakeview Park at three tomorrow afternoon, a third game if necessary being on neutral grounds.

Jim McGrath scattered four hits in a fine flinging chore over eight innings, having five strikeouts and good support as a general rule. All the Jaycees looked good, with Withers standing at bat with two home runs and a single in five, besides handling everything perfectly at first. The visitors used three flingers, none proving any big mystery to the homesters, and Oshawa were also loose afield with eight miscues. Teams:

Oshawa: Stephen, lf; White, 2b; Sharples, ss; Branch, 1b; Walker, cf; p, rf; Burry, c; Brodie, p, rf; Dean, rf, p; Williams, 3b.

Jaycees: Pammett, c; Byrne, ss; Withers, 1b; Scriver, cf; McGillen, lf; White, rf; McCarthy, 3b; McCormick, 2b; McGrath, p.

Civic Softballers Stage A Twin Bill

About 300 fans took in the Civic Softball League twin bill and draw at the Bowl last evening. Grant & Loucks pulled out a 9-4 exhibition win over Co-Ops in the first game on five-hit hurling by Arn Riches in a neat number. In the nightcap, the loop all-stars proved too powerful at the plate for Bell Telephone and won 13-6, this also being an interesting contest.

The big draw for prizes was made and most of the prizes claimed by this morning. However, the following are not yet claimed, and they should contact officials of the Civic League: 4th prize, Don Howson, R.R. 8, a reel (No. 1039); 6th, J. Swift, BT Co., golf mashie (No. 815); 7th, Glen Stark, R.R. 7, deck chair (No. 746); and 10th, O. C. Woods, 183 Stewart St., dish set (No. 1906).

Lasses Looked Odd

MILLBROOK, Aug. 26.—(ENS).—The Millbrook girls took a 17-12 exhibition softball victory over the "All-American" team here before a record crowd of fans. CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Tonight's the night for you gutted-stick followers, which is another way of saying lacrosse fans. Of the senior "A" variety, we mean, in this case. At 8.45 this p.m. in Miller Bowl, weather permitting, St. Catharines clash with the Petes in the locals' final home scheduled game. Right now the Petes have 14 points in the standing and Weston has 13. They both have one more game to play ere schedule's end, the Petes tonight and Weston vs. St. Kitts tomorrow. So you can see how important this is, as sixth place and the last playoff spot is the goal Weston and the Creighton crew are battling for this week. Sounds like a natural, huh?

* * * * * *

Still awaiting one official box score on a Batawa--Brockville game, so we can't complete the hitting averages for the COBL. But we have figured out the Petes and Oshawa batting marks, and it looks like George Ticcony, catcher-coach of the Merchants, is a cinch to lead the circuit this season among the regular players. He has compiled a fine mark of .429 in all 20 scheduled games, while the best the Petes could do was Howie Dalton's right respectable figure of .407 for 14 contests. These are, of course, exclusive of playoff figures, which do not count in the seasonal statistics. Howie led the loop handily last year with a potent .468. Pat Wilson is second best batter for the men o' Murphy this year with a nifty .389 in 15 games. Official marks released shortly, we hope.

* * * * * *

Batawa Meets Petes

Batawa Shoemen play the Petes at three tomorrow aft in Riverside, third of their best-of-five COBL semi-final series. The teams are tied now at one win each, Bill Easton's Bata bunch coming through with a 6-2 victory in Belleville the other night. They intend to fight it out right to the finish, and the men o' Murphy will have to pull up their sox—and their socks—if they hope to hit league finals 'gainst Oshawa Merchants. Fourth fray is in Bella Villa on Monday and fifth, if necessary, here next Wednesday. Lefty Bill Dadson or Bill Edger will no doubt get the local slab assignment tomorrow, with Art Wright or Ken Peacock probably starting for Batawa. This playoff rates a big crowd.

* * * * * *

Bob Greenlaw will be pitching for the Uniteds when they tee off against Kingston Legion at 8.30 tomorrow night in the Bowl. The second of their best-of-three OASA senior "B" playdown series. The Fontaine-Hancock squad just managed to yank out the verdict in Kingston on Tuesday, and it should be a sizzling men's softball scrap here under the arcs Saturday eve. If Uniteds unlimber their heavy artillery this time, that'll be that. But if their maces are muted and their fielding not up to par, it means a third game will be necessary. Looks like swell softball action anyway and likely before a hefty gallery at ye olde Bowle.

Horse Men Were Hot

Opening day of the three-day (and night) harness horse racing meet at the Ex. saw some competition and some hot arguments. If the drivers and owners burn in the first race, what will happen by Saturday? One protest lodged and an entry withdrawn, two drivers ready to fight it out as one says: "You rammed my wheel" and the other retorts: "You whipped my horse!" And a huge night crowd saw some photo finishes. Charlie Quinlan's local pacer, Peter G. Lee, took all three heats in the aft, while Royal Henley —a Gatineau, Que., entry—won three at night in the 2.24. The 2.15 saw Silk Grattan of Haliburton twice first but having to really step to keep ahead of Jimmie Mc, another Quebec entry. Races continue tonight and tomorrow.

The annual caddy tournament is being organized at the Peterborough Golf Club to be held next Monday morning. All regular caddies of the club are eligible and they'll compete for a large trophy put up by Wallie McIlmoyle. Senior club members are kicking in to provide the kids with a dinner. Stan McBride, Mike O'Leary, Stew Williamson, Joe Watson and Stan Payne are back of the move and plan to make it a hefty affair each year. Alec Watson, assistant pro, will be in charge on Monday. It's a sound idea to encourage the young golfers and bring along future good members of the club.

Rays Roll To Win

[illegible] fast-ball semi-final series at Brinton Field last night by taking a 23-2 walloping at the hands of Raybestos. It tied the series at one game each. Murphy hurled good ball to earn the win for Rays and he received fine support. The Woollens' throwers had no trouble hitting the Rays' bats at any time, and the fielders were run ragged in the one-sided joust. Teams:

Alouettes Edge Stampeders In 14-13 Victory

MONTREAL, Aug. 26 (CP) — Montreal Alouettes of the Inter-Provincial Football Union today definitely ranked as the team to beat in Eastern Canada this year as a result of their thrilling 14-13 exhibition victory over Calgary Stampeders here Thursday night.

The game played before more than 18,000 fans marked the first appearance of the Stampeders, last year's Dominion champions, in Montreal.

A rousing final quarter drive by the Westerners all but swept them to victory in Keith Spaith's forward passing arm and the dazzling running of Pete Thodos.

Virgil Wagner of the Alouettes led his team to victory with strong assistance from captain Frankie Filchock, former New York Giant star and last year with Hamilton Tigers of the Ontario Football Union.

In the first quarter Wagner opened the scoring with a 40-yard touchdown pass from Filchock. The convert was blocked. Minutes later, Ches McCance made it 8-0 with a placement.

Come Back Strongly

The Dominion champs came back strongly in the second quarter, however. Bob Cunningham was rouged by Woody Strode on Keith Spaith's long hoist to give the westerners their first point.

Not long after that, Thodos galloped around the left end of the Alouette line for seven yards and a touchdown. Fred Wilmot converted.

The third quarter was scoreless. It was in the final 15 minutes that the Stamps really showed what made them last year's Canadian champions.

Wagner scored his second major early in the quarter and McCance converted to make it 14-7 for the Als. The Calgarians then put on the most sustained drive of the night.

Six successive first downs moved the play deep into Montreal territory.

From the Alouette 18 yard line Spaith fired another pass to Dave Berry on the four yard line. Harry Hood hit for three yards and Thodos squirmed his way over for a major.

Wilmot converted and the score read 14-13 in the Als' favor.

Spaith heaved a 42-yard pass to Kwong on the Montreal 10. Thodos failed to gain on the last play of the game, trying to go around the Alouette right end.

It was the first defeat for the Stampeders in 18 games.

Cricketers Play Carleton County

By C. H. IRESON

The Peterborough - Whitaker Cricket Club plays in Ottawa this Saturday against the team going under the name of Carleton County, a team the locals have played twice before. The Peterborough-Whitaker Club played as Peterborough County for the Matthews Trophy in the Ontario County cricket championships, while Carleton County was chosen from four clubs in the Ottawa Valley district council.

Peterborough beat Carleton last year and went on to win the trophy. This year, Carleton defeated Peterborough by a single run, and now meet Wentworth in the final at Nicholls Oval on Labor Day, an interesting match for cricket followers here.

The Saturday match in Ottawa is just a friendly match, fine relations existing between the local club and the Ottawa Valley council. As a matter of fact, this game is one between the cities of Peterborough and Ottawa in cricket.

Yesterdays Stars

By The Associated Press.

Batting—Johnny Mize, Yankees, hit his first American League homer, with one on, and singled, to lead New York to a 6-3 victory over Cleveland Indians.

Pitching — Johnny Schmitz, Cubs, pitched a four-hitter for his fourth victory over Brooklyn as the Cubs won the first game of a doubleheader, 4-0. The Brooks won the second, 3-1.

Royals Beaten In OBA Juve Play

Oshawa juveniles defeated the Peterborough Royals of the south-end in the Motor City by a 6-4 count to open their best-of-three OBA playdown series, the second game being played here at 6.15 tonight in Riverside Park. A third, if necessary, will be held on neutral grounds.

A four-run drive in the last of the seventh of an eight-inning game gave Oshawa the nod. Murphy pitched good ball for the Royals till he weakened in the seventh, and Buckton finished up. Mroczek threw six-hit ball for Oshawa, but the visitors made it a fight all the way. They shoved two over in the eighth and were threatening to overhaul the homesters if it went nine, but darkness intervened. Teams:

Royals: Jensen, cf; Allen, 3b; Douglas, ss; Robinson, 1b; Young, lf; Bigford, c; Grant, rf; Jones, 2b; Murphy, p; Grainger, rf; Buckton, p.

Oshawa: Stroz, 3b; Coggins, 2b; Lawrence, ss; Kellar, cf; Fallman, 1b; Day, rf; Claus, c; Jozkoski, lf; Mroczek, p.

"MR. MOTORIST—
Give Me 45 Seconds of Your Time and I'll Save You Money and Inconvenience!"

A regular Exide free battery check-up . . . a simple procedure requiring only forty-five seconds . . . is the only way to detect symptoms of battery failure before they become trouble and expense for you.

This Exide battery check-up can tell you one of three things immediately. First it will put your mind at ease if your battery is in satisfactory condition. Or, if your battery needs a recharge, a check-up will discover its run-down condition before serious damage takes place. Finally, if your battery needs replacing, you can arrange to purchase a new Exide on the spot and avoid being caught with a dead battery miles from help.

The next time you're in for gas and oil, have your Exide Dealer give you a free battery check-up and protect you from starting failures due to battery trouble.

Surely you can spare forty-five seconds now to avoid hours . . . perhaps days of costly trouble later.

And remember, a single starting failure can be far more costly than the little extra you pay for a trustworthy Exide Battery.

Mize Helps Yanks Crush Cleveland Indians 6-3

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Only time and the American League pitchers will determine whether New York Yankees bought themselves a pennant when they gambled on Johnny Mize.

Judging by Big Jawn's showing Thursday night, however, he is easily worth the reported $40,000 the Yankees paid New York Giants last Monday for his services.

Mize, at 36, may not be as nimble as of old around first base but he proved he still could powder the ball when he crashed his first American League homer to help the Yankees defeat Cleveland Indians 6-3.

He hit 315 homers in the National and could well win the flag for Casey Stengel's crew.

Ed Lopat registered his 13th triumph for the Yankees, although he needed help from fireman Joe Page in the eighth.

Increase Margin

The triumph, which ended a three-game losing streak, increased the Yankees' first place margin over Boston Red Sox to three games. The Bosox were beaten 8-3 by the White Sox in Chicago.

The Dodgers were held to a split in their doubleheader with the cellar-dwelling Chicago Cubs. Johnny Schmitz handcuffed the Brooks with a four-hit 4-0 triumph. The Dodgers came back to win the second game 3-1.

Cincinnati snapped Boston's five game winning streak, 4-3, in a 10-inning struggle. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh divided a doubleheader. The Phils won the night portion of the twin bill 4-2 after the Pirates had won the afternoon half 5-1.

Philadelphia Athletics retained their slim hold on fourth place in the American League by downing the St. Louis Browns 9-5 as Detroit defeated Washington 2-1.

Downs Sox

Young Billy Pierce set down the Red Sox with five hits as the White Sox jumped on Maurice and Walter Masterson for eight runs in the first four innings.

Pete Suder and Joe Astroth drove in three runs apiece to help lefty Alex Kellner register his 16th victory for the A's.

Virgil Trucks won his own ball game when he singled home Detroit's winning run in the ninth. It was Trucks' 15th triumph.

Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter batted in four runs between them to help the Cards' Red Munger gain his 12th victory.

The Dodgers weathered a ninth inning uprising by the Cubs to gain their split. Trailing by two runs, the Cubs filled the bases with only one out on three straight singles off Jack Banta.

Pinch-hitter Bob Scheffing then lined relief pitcher Erv Palica's first pitch right at Jackie Robinson, who threw to Peewee Reese to complete a game-ending double play.

Southpaw Ken Raffensberger's double and Lloyd Merriman's triple against Nelson Potter in the 10th won for the Reds over the Braves. It was Raffensberger's 14th victory.

After Murry Dickson pitched his seventh triumph for the Pirates in the opener, Robin Roberts gave the Phils an even break by hurling an eight-hitter over the Pirates. It was the young righthander's 13th victory.

Exhibition Holstein Showing One Of Strongest In Peterborough Fair History

Ten central Ontario Holstein breeders competed for the Peterborough Exhibition ribbons and prize money which were awarded by James R. Henderson, of Kingston, Thursday.

The grand champion male was also the junior: "Glenafton Futurity," from the herd of J. T. Brown and Sons, Newcastle.

Senior champion and reserve grand was also a brown entry: "Glenafton Rag Apple Reliance."

Reserve senior: "Oriole Lodge Dale Cicero," owned by James Bishop, of Keene.

Reserve junior: "Lifloc Tahale Crescendo," owned by N. W. McConkey.

The ribbons in the female section were distributed as follows:

Grand and senior champion: "Keendale Lodge Pietje Bell," Norman W. McConkey.

Reserve grand and reserve senior: "Donwood Hermes Jane," Stanley Wood.

Reserve junior: "Thames Crest Governor Carol," owned by J. H. Jose and Sons, Newcastle.

The Holstein exhibitors, showing 98 head in 141 entries, according to the summary of Roy Ormiston, district fieldman, were: James T. Brown and Sons, Newcastle; James Bishop, Keene; Richard and Allan Davis, Otonabee; Earl Doris, Otonabee; Robert Flett, Oshawa; J. H. Jose and Sons, Newcastle; N. W. 70 Farm Girls Entered In Homemaking Competition

Girls from Prince Edward, Durham, Northumberland, Hastings and Peterborough counties spent Thursday morning and afternoon in homemaking competitions at the Market Hall. Seventy girls were entered, Northumberland having the largest representation with 28 girls. The second largest group of 19 came from Hastings county.

The contestants were divided into three groups, based on the number of years they have in the Homemaking club in their county. In addition they are then placed finally, with regard to the percentage they obtain during the judging contests.

The first prize group, girls who attained 80 per cent and completed six homemaking clubs, had 15 entries, the bulk of them from Northumberland. In the second prize group, there were 30 entries, with the greatest representation again from Northumberland and Hastings. Contestants here attained 70 per cent and completed four homemaking clubs. Fifteen were entered in the third prize group, the requirements being 60 per cent and two homemaking clubs.

The inter-county demonstrations were based on any one of six groups—The Milky Way, The Club Entertains, Being Well Dressed and Well Groomed, Sleeping Garments—the Bedroom Ensemble, Cotton Accessories, and Home Garden Groups. These could be in the form of a demonstration or a skit.

Explains Exhibit

The inter-county exhibits were based on the same six groups as the demonstrations, with a representative from each club being allowed three minutes to explain the exhibit.

The judging was caried on under three headings—Food, Hospitality and Gardening, Clothing, and House Furnishing.

TURNING THE PAGES OF "CANADA UNLIMITED"

From hilltop to hilltop, Canada's early Indians sent smoke signals . . . a warning that foes were on the way. The French settlers despatched their own messages—tales of victory or defeat, sickness or cheer—by runners, who sped along the trails from village to village. By 1700, riders delivered their messages on horseback.

With dramatic speed, man's words and thoughts began to race along the singing wires of the telegraph, which came to Canada in 1846. Thirty years later, Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone . . . instant communication around the world was within reach.

Then in 1919 radio broadcasting made its entrance on the Canadian scene. Within a few years, conversations with ships at sea, with trains and even automobiles, were a reality.

Today, television is on our doorstep. Because our country is so vast, new means of communication is important—offering opportunities to every one of us. Yes, there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited.

Harold Beatty, Bruce Boyington Win Titles Junior Farmer Tests

Two hundred Junior Farmers climaxed a day of judging, agricultural quizzes and identification programmes with a banquet in the Empress Hotel Thursday night. The banquet, an annual affair, is sponsored by the Canada Packers Ltd., and is the moment of suspense when the grand champions of the day are named.

Chairman for the evening was James Goldie, and seated at the head table were Miss Florence B. Eadie, Miss Jean Noble, Miss Elsie Irvine, all of the Dept. of Agriculture, Don Milburn, Hugh Stewart, W. S. McMullin, Dominion Dept. of Agriculture, Jack McPherson, CBC Farm Broadcaster, A. M. Barr, provincial Dept. of Agriculture, Jack Mervin, CPC, and Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative.

Champions Named

The two champions, those having the greatest aggregate score in judging the beef and dairy cattle, horses, sheep and swine, in the identification contest and agriculture quiz, were Harold Beatty, Dunsford, in the senior division, and Bruce Boyington, of RR 4, Uxbridge, in the junior division. Beatty came third in the livestock competition, first in the identification contest, and tied with Ronald Frankish, Lakefield, for first in the agriculture division. He compiled a total of 420 points.

Bruce Boyington, the junior winner, tied for second in the livestock, tied for eighth place with four other in the identification and was seventh in the agriculture quiz, amassing a total of 385½ points.

James Goldie told the mixed audience that they should be proud to have come from farms, and that "we in industry are indebted to you. There's a place in every fair for you".

Hugh Stewart, president of the Peterborough Exhibition, welcomed the Junior Farmers on behalf of the Exhibition Board, and thanked the hosts. Mr. Stewart said that he had not realized until this year just how much work and drive there was behind the Junior Farmers, and that he was very pleased to be associated with them on their day.

Miss Florence B. Eadie, supervisor of girls' work for the Ontario Department of Agriculture, and by her own words a veteran of many such Junior Farmers banquets, extended her appreciation to the Peterborough Exhibition for the attention given to the Homemaking Division of the Junior program, of which she was in charge. She introduced a few of the girls who were prominent in the activities of the day at the Market Hall, and complimented them on their work. Earlier in the day, Miss Eadie said that she was "well satisfied" with the exhibits and demonstrations.

Splendid Program

Mr. A. M. Barr, of the provincial department, read the names of the winners of the competitions at the Exhibition grounds, and said that the program presented by the Junior Farmers was "splendid".

He congratulated them for their innovations in the competitions—the identification and agricultural quiz features—and said that many fairs in Ontario are incorporating these in their programs.

Mr. Barr, in introducing the winners in the various divisions, said that the placing of the participants was not all-important. "The gain of knowledge is the end in which we are interested", he said. He said the Exhibition was to be complimented for the competition program lined up, and for the support given to the Junior Farmers of the district.

Howard Forder of Blackstock thanked the Canada Packers on behalf of the Junior Farmers, and Eleanor Whitfield of Fraserville seconded his motion.

During the lulls between courses, the diners were entertained by Miss Helen Hajnik, who sang "Pale Hands", "Begin the Beguin" and "Through the Years", accompanied by Harry Northrop. A sing-song was directed by Jack Telford. Adam Hawley, Peterborough vocalist, sang "Come To The Fair" and "The Winding Road."

Following is the list of participants and their ratings. The counties of Durham, Victoria, Peterborough, Ontario and Northumberland were represented. Total possible score was 470 points. There was a total of 87 contestants, combining junior and senior classes.

Held In Car Theft

TORONTO, Aug. 25—(CP) — Two young Toronto men and a 19-year-old girl were arrested today after a furious 70-mile-an-hour chase along No. 2 Highway west of Toronto. The three are charged with theft of a car owned by a tourist. Their names were withheld.

MEDICAL ATTENDANT—One of the 21 victims of the crash of an R.C.A.F. amphibian Canso aircraft in northern Manitoba was Constance Beattie, 24-year-old physiotherapist from Brockville, Ont., who was attending a number of Eskimos being brought to Winnipeg for poliomyelitis treatment. Her eight patients also died in the crash.

Open Jumping Keen Contest At Exhibition

Horse judging Thursday afternoon proved to be one of the main attractions of the day. Carriage events were paraded before the grand stand.

The open jumping in the evening was a battle between Sam Stanley and S. S. Staples, with Stanley's horses capturing four of the five prizes. S. S. Staples' horse took the second place honors.

Judges Wilmer Stephens and Max Featherstone were kept busy in the evening's judging of heavy horse class. In the Commercial Division, Silverwood's, Campbell's and Wonder Bakeries tangled for the honors, those being split fairly evenly three ways.

Dawes' famous black horses were paraded before the large crowd on the grand stand during the afternoon performances.

AMERWOOD IS PRE-FINISHED • AMERWOOD IS EASY TO APPLY • AMERWOOD IS BEAUTIFUL

Pre-Finished AMERWOOD

PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is the new and beautiful wall panelling that arrives on the job completely finished. Ready to apply in the lengths that suit your job. No waste.

PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is the new and beautiful wall panelling where the hard growth stands in bold relief. It has been stained, lacquered, baked in an infred oven (the same as your modern car bodies), waxed with a polish many times harder than the simonize you would apply to your car and then polished to a satin finish.

PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is ¾" in thickness, comes in 6", 8", 10" widths and 8', 10', 12', 14', 16' in length. Packed 6 boards to the package and in three attractive colors, Amerwite, Ameroon, Amered.

When PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is applied and your last nail is driven the job is then complete, no paint, no fumes, no extra muss. It requires no extra tools, just hammer, saw and square. Drop in and see it at our yards.

Physiotherapist Spent Life Helping Others

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 26 (CP)—There are few here who did not know Connie Beattie, Brockville and Toronto physiotherapist, one of 21 victims of the mercy plane crash last Sunday in the wild bush country of Manitoba, 250 miles north-east of Winnipeg.

Most of her 24 years — her 25th birthday would have been next Tuesday — had been spent in helping others.

This fall she was to come home to marry Dr. Guthrie Grant, of Brooklin, Ontario.

Born in Brockville, the attractive, personable girl was an honor student at Brockville Collegiate and commander of the Girl Cadet Corps in her senior year. After graduation in physiotherapy from Toronto University in 1945, she enlisted in the Canadian Army Medical Corps as a lieutenant.

She joined the staff of Toranto East General Hospital's physiotherapy department. In 1948 she headed it. The same year she was elected president of the Canadian Physiotherapy Association and was in charge of the Dominion Congress held in Toronto.

When the Health Department at Ottawa asked for a volunteer physiotherapist to go to Chesterfield Inlet, in the Arctic, to treat polio-infected Eskimos, she immediately offered her services. She left last April.

She was returning after four months' continuous service with eight stricken natives when the plane crashed.

In her native city, her work as Girl Guide and Brownie leader and swimming instructor were well known. She was to address the Kiwanis club next week. This type of community service was typical of the popular girl.

She is survived by her parents and brother Alan. Her father is a drug store proprietor.

Washington Spotlight

Blame Unholy Alliance For Long Congess Session

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(CP)—Congress now has been in session for 236 days. The date of adjournment is anybody's guess. Senator Scott W. Lucas (Dem. Ill.), Senate majority leader, this week expressed determination to try to hold the law-makers in Washington until Thanksgiving—the last Thursday in November—if necessary.

Lucas, whose unhappy job it is to keep things moving in a balky, wordy Senate, has had little success. His pessimism is understandable. Other legislators are more hopeful, even if pessimistic, too. September 1 still is the target date for some.

But numerous major matters are awaiting attention and every one of them seems assured of lengthy, all-out debate.

No Time Limit

Six Appropriation bills are on the Senate calendar, for instance. So are bills to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements program, to boost the minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour, to increase executive and military pay, to improve the law supporting farm prices and to extend federal aid to education.

In normal times, Congress would have been required to pack up and go home by July 31 at the latest. But because technically a state of war emergency still exists, there is no time limit.

President Truman is one of the big losers as the session nears the end of its seventh month. His political future is at stake because the matters with which Congress is dawdling are those on which he campaigned for election last November.

There is a name-calling undertone to all the adjournment talk. Administration leaders say the holdup is the result of an "unholy alliance" between sniping Republican opposition and "rebel" Dixiecrats—southern members of Truman's own party.

One of the most serious results of the late-Summer bickering is the straining of bipartisan co-operation in foreign policy. Republican leaders played a big role in the House of Representatives' decision to cut the size of the Arms-for-Europe program.

Churchill Takes Cold In Mediterranean Dip

NICE, France, Aug. 26—(AP)—Winston Churchill is suffering from a cold caught while taking a dip in the Mediterranean, his secretary said Thursday.

Although earlier reports said the wartime prime minister was bed-ridden, they apparently stemmed from the fact that it was early in the morning and Churchill does not arise early.

A police inspector guarding the villa told reporters he had seen Churchill walking around later in the morning.

Toy Factory Burns

YARKER, Ont., Aug. 26 (CP).—Fire destroyed Thursday the toy factory and planing mill of J. W. Wright & Sons in this Eastern Ontario village. Damage is estimated at $20,000. Fire brigades from Kingston, 17 miles south-east of here, and from nearby Newburg and Enterprise, battled the blaze for seven hours.

Mrs. Tackaberry Dies

TORONTO, Aug. 26 — (CP).—Mrs. Evelyn G. Tackaberry, mother of Air Commodore S. G. Tackaberry of Ottawa, died here Thursday. Born in Kemptville, Mrs. Tackaberry came to Toronto 40 years ago.

Anti-Red Bloc In Asia Studied

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain are expected to discuss possible development of an anti-Communist bloc of countries in the south-east Asia area when they meet here next month.

Formation of such a bloc, to develop that area along western democratic lines, has been suggested by various leaders, including President Quirino of the Philippines.

It evidently is one of the things on which the American government will have to make a decision in arriving at a new policy toward the Far East as a result of the Communist successes in China.

To date the United States officially has refrained from giving any open encouragement to the plans of Quirino and others for such an organization. On the other hand during Quirino's official visit here officials displayed a more friendly attitude toward his idea than they had shown previously.

Rev. J. P. Sullivan Appointed Rector

KINGSTON, Aug. 26 (CP). — Rev. J. P. Sullivan of Kingston has been appointed rector of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Cathedral here, it was announced Thursday. Rev. J. A. O'Neill, rector at St. Mary's for the past 10 years, has been appointed rector of Marmora.

Other appointments announced today are: Rev. R. C. Pickett as first assistant, St. Francis Xavier parish, Brockville; Rev. John J. Buckley, who was ordained here last April, to be assistant at St. Michael's parish, Belleville; Rev. J. A. Carley to undertake post-graduate work at Apollinaris University, Rome; and Rev. T. J. Raby to undertake post-graduate work at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis.

Choice Steers In Demand At Top Prices

TORONTO, Aug. 26 — (CP).—Good to choice steers and heifers met broad demand at strong prices while cows and bulls were steady on the Toronto Livestock Market this week. Plain killers saw little action with demand for these grades nearly at a standstill.

The cattle run of 8,938 head compared with 11,901 a year ago and last week. Export buying included several loads of bulls and the domestic trade was eager for brandable cattle. Choice weighty steers sold for $22-$22.50, with one small lot at $22.75. Good light steers were generally up to $21, with a few at $21.50. Good heifers brought $20-$20.50, with a few up to $21. Plain steers and heifers were too numerous at $16-$18 with the bulk of the carryover consisting of these grades. Boners were as low as $11.50. Good bulls ranged from $15.50-$16.50 with a few heavyweights bringing up to $17. Plain lightweight bulls sold downward to $11.50. Fed yearlings were in good demand at $20-$24 a hundredweight. Plain to medium stockers brought $13-$16 a hundredweight and a few better quality sold at $16.50-$18. Ordinary quality milkers and springers were from $130-$175 each.

Calf receipts totalled 2,669 head. Good to choice vealers were steady at $22-$25 with extreme tops at $26 a hundredweight. Common to medium sold at $16-$21. Grassers for slaughter were $11.50-$15. Several loads of good to choice vealers were exported to the United States.

Lower Prices

The hog run totalled 2,310 head. The price on Grade A was established at $34.25 and $33.85 for Grade B1, an increase of 75 cents, but by midweek buyers were bidding sharply lower. Sows experienced the same market, gaining $1 but bids becoming lower.

Sheep and lambs were 3,884 head. Good ewes and wethers opened weak at $23 and closed at $22-$22.50, with bucks $1 a hundredweight discount. Good light sheep were $9-$11, with cull sheep ranging downward to $5. Yearlings sold at $12-$15.

Report Only 20 Died In Crash

WINNIPEG, Aug. 26—(CP)—Twenty persons died in the crash of an Air Force amphibious Canso aircraft in Northern Manitoba Sunday, 13 of them whites and seven Eskimos, the RCAF said Thursday.

Earlier reports placed the number of Eskimos aboard at eight, but the RCAF sad the error arose through a confusion of the native names.

Three children, the oldest 15 years of age, were among the Eskimos killed in the crash.

The three children, all girls, were identified by the Indian Affairs Department here as Anayasee 10, Annartosi 10, and Ublureak 15.

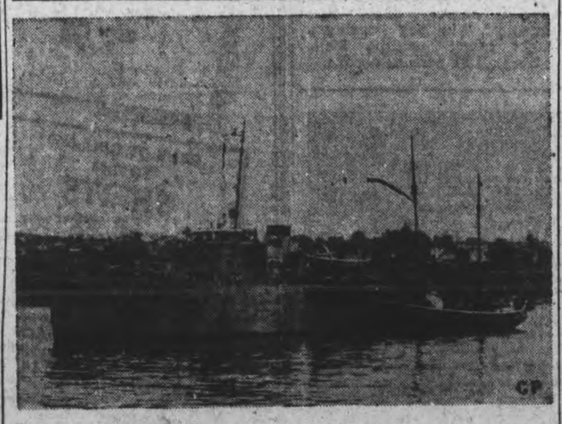
The Department identified the other Eskimos aboard the plane as three men, Arnaluktitar 65, Akrolayuk 25, and Ohoto 27, and one woman Anglalik 25.

The RCAF reported earlier that another Eskimo had been picked up by the Canso at the last moment, bringing the number on board to eight. A late report that the Eskimo passengers numbered only seven could not be confirmed immediately.

Only 2 Forest Fires Said Out Of Control

By The Canadian Press.

The forest fire situation throughout Canada today was reported improved with only two blazes, both in Ontario, out of control.



One of the fires still out of control is in Walbridge Township about 40 miles north of Parry Sound. The other is near Sudbury.

Some 2,500 firefighters have been battling bush fires throughout Ontario for several days. Lands Department officials say the fire hazard remains high with no general rain in sight.

In Quebec, the fire at St. Donat 80 miles north of Montreal, was reported under control.

Killed By Wires

CLARE, Mich., Aug. 26.—(AP).—Two youths crashed in a small plane near here Thursday, downing a high-tension wire that electrocuted two women. The falling wire struck Mrs. Pearl M. Hall, 53, and her daughter, Lillian Hall, 20, as they picked beans in a field near their home. The women were killed instantly. The pilot, Robert G. Chale, 24, and his 19-year-old passenger, Glen Davey of Weidman, Mich., escaped with face and head cuts.

SAFE IN PORT—Disabled by Atlantic storms which tore away her sails, the tiny schooner Amanda, with 31 Baltic refugees aboard, was towed into calm Halifax Harbor by the RCMP cutter French. Her voyage from Gothenburg, Sweden, took three weeks.

Eight Bursaries Pay $2,000 In City Schools

Three PCVS students, grade 13 graduates, have won Dominion-provincial bursaries of $400 each. Altogether eight bursaries amounting to $2,000 have been granted to students at PCVS and St. Peter's High School.

Recipients of the $400 awards are Barbara A. Johnston, 18, of Manning Ave.; Frank Wright, 18, of Bolivar St.; and Wilfrid G. Woodcock, 18, of Reid St.

Miss Johnston is the daughter of the late Col. T. D. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston. In grade 10 she divided second prize in the Nicholls Scholarship for general proficiency and academic standing. And once before, while at St. Mary's Convent she received a scholarship upon graduating from grade eight.

She has applied to the University of Toronto for admission, but has not yet received an official acceptance. Her course will be pass arts.

Frank Wright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wright. At the moment he is working as swimming instructor at Bancroft, and a few weeks ago he appeared prominently in the news when he rescued 12-year-old Marilyn Haydon of Bancroft from drowning. The girl was unconscious when he pulled her from the York River.

He is also a swimming instructor at the YMCA under Gordon Minty.

Frank has made application to Queen's University.

The third of the trio is Wilfrid G. Woodcock who has been accepted by Queen's University in the Faculty of Applied Sciences. He also won the Board of Education Scholarship valued at $500.

His ambition is the research aspect of electrical engineering.

Two bursaries for students going on to Normal School are included—one to Eleanor A. Bowles 19, of Cavan, and the other to Jane Hickey 17, of Omemee.

Miss Bowles is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowles of Cavan, and she was a Collegiate student. Miss Hickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hickey, attended. St. Peter's.

Two academic bursaries were also divided between the Secondary Schools. Donald F. Hartshorn 17, of River Road, will receive a $100 grant as he goes into Grade 13 of PCVS. And Mary Lou Creally 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Creally, of Maniece Avenue, will receive a $100 award going into Grade 13 of St. Peter's.

Donald is the son of the late Fred Hartshorn and Mrs. Roxy Hartshorn. During the summer months he is employed with the York Trading Co. In 1948 he received a $30 bursary from the Morrow Trust for his general academic work.

Shirley M. Minicola 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Minicola, of Rubidge Street, is the winner of the $100 Vocational bursary as she goes into Grade 12. In 1948 she won three scholarships including one for general proficiency, totalling about $25.

One of eight children — three boys and five girls — Shirley is is working until school begins, at Zeller's Limited. Her father is a machinist at the Outboard Marine Company.

Race Horse Man Charged With Cruelty

A charge of hitting a horse across the head with his whip during the last race at the Exhibition Thursday night has been laid against David Dowson, Port Perry, by Humane Society Inspector Gerald Dunford.

It is alleged that Dowson driving in the back stretch slashed Jimmie Mc owned by A. W. Simpson, Gatineau, Que., and driven by Melville, with his whip.

Mr. Dunford said he had several witnesses to the incident. He examined the horse after the race, but no evidence of the blow had developed then.

The incident led to an excited argument in front of the judge's stand at the end of the race. Dowson claimed the French Canadian driver of Jimmie Mc had "rammed" into the wheel of his sulky. Melville denied he had done anything to cause Dowson to whip his horse across the head.

Mr. Dunford had been in the judge's stand during the race and was a witness to the argument.

Lakefield Children Get Swimming Awards

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 26—(ENS)—Nine children of this community were presented with certificates of the Royal Life Saving Society at the swimming pool last night by the society's examiner, Mrs. Ken Forbes of Peterborough. Mrs. Forbes said that all the swimmers had done very well and showed excellent training at the hands of their instructor, Jim Parkin.

Winners of the certificates are: bronze cross, Denise Doubt; bronze medallion, Morley Brown, Nancy Doubt and Bob Pratt.

Intermediate certificates: Dan Armstrong, Patsy Nichols, and Betty Jane Rath; elementary certificates. Jim Fraser and Glynn Griffith.

Swerves From Children Gas Truck Hits Car

Swerving to avoid two children who ran into the path of his gasoline truck, Francis Vaisey smashed into the front of a parked car owned by Russell Scriver, 145 Hunter St. at 9.40 a.m.

About $200 worth of damage was done to the front of the car and about $25 to the truck.

The Scriver car was parked in front of 143 Hunter St. just west of Rogers St.

Vaisey told investigating constable D. S. McKay he was driving along Hunter St. when two children ran out from behind a parked car directly into his path. He swung the truck to the right to avoid the children and smashed into the Scriver car.

Injured Youth Dies Enroute To The Hospital

MINDEN, Aug. 26 (ENS). — Robert Delve, 19, of 94 Dearborn Ave., Toronto, died early Thursday morning while en route to the Toronto General Hospital of injuries received when a truck in which he was riding left No. 35 Highway, six miles south of here, at 1.45 a.m. Thursday. The accident occurred when the truck, driven by Archie Fairgrieve, R.R. 2, Oakville, got out of control on a curve and turned upside down in the ditch.

Delve and a companion, Guy Harrison, 516 Manning Ave., Toronto, were standing up in the back of the truck. Both were thrown off, but Delve was pinned underneath the side of the vehicle. Harrison escaped with hand laceration and a possible fractured rib. He was treated at the office of Dr. Agnes Jamieson and later taken to 'Killcoo Camp" for boys, to which both were attached as counsellors.

Dr. Jamieson, who is also coroner for Haliburton district, said that it had not yet been decided whether there would be an inquest. The crash was investigated by Provincial Constable A. R. Edwards of the Minden Detachment, OPP.

PLANES SHOOT UP

Five Harvard planes and later a jet, all from Trenton buzzed the Exhibition Grounds Thursday afternoon about 5 p.m. The Harvards first swooped across in level formation then across in step formation. Then they twisted and turned, gunning their engines before leaving for home. The jet caught the large crowd on the grounds by surprise and put on a speedy five-minute show.

He Lit A Lighter To See Better . . . Gas In Well—Oop!

Explosion of natural gas in a recently bored well on the farm of Harry Wheeler, east of the Liftlock, caused surface burns on the arms and face of Jack Edwards, the hired man.

"I thought my head was blown off," Mr. Edwards said, in describing his first reaction of shock.

He was peering down the old dug well Tuesday about 5 p.m., wondering whether any water was rising from the newer depth. To increase visibility below him, Mr. Edwards thumbed his cigarette lighter, and he had a momentary sensation of something like an atomic bomb, as the gasoline flame touched off the gas that had accumulated in the well.

Bored For Water

The boring job had been recently completed by Falconer and Sanderson, and Mr. Edwards was interested in the expected reward of increased supply of water.

Harry Wheeler told the Examiner he wasn't satisfied with the old well, which was a wide one. So he engaged the drillers, and they projected the depth of the well another 37 feet.

A singeing flame flashed in Mr. Edwards' face, and up his arms. It burned off his eyebrows. He remembered that he had noticed a bucket of water near the top of the well. He plunged toward it and thrust his head to the bottom.

No Cash Awards For Winners

Prize money won by the winners of junior and senior divisions of the Junior Farmer program at the Exhibition Thursday will be applied to some sort of an educational trip or course, Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, told the Junior Farmers at a banquet Thursday evening. The winners were Harold Beatty, of Dunsford, Victoria county, in the senior division, and Bruce Boyington, of Uxbridge, Ontario county, in the junior.

Each of the boys won $25, but the money is not given to them outright, as the Exhibition Board and the Department of Agriculture feel that the money should be used in some educational way. Mr. Paterson said that the winners last year took a short course at Guelph, but this year's winners have already taken that, as a result of winning local competitions.

The boys took part in a program that called for the judging of beef and dairy cattle, heavy horses, sheep and swine, an identification conest, and an agricultural quiz. Beatty scored 420 out of a possible 470, and Boyington 385½.

Mr. Paterson said today that his department is trying to line up something in the way of a trip or a course for the boys. Officials favor a trip, he added.

Skidded 311 Ft. Driver Freed Careless Driving

A charge of careless driving against Michael J. Aseltine, 59, Toronto, was dismissed by Magistrate R. B. Baxter in police court today.

"I am prepared to accept your explanation, if you could call it that," Magistrate Baxter said.

The charge laid by Provincial Constable D. W. Coffey resulted from an accident in which Aseltine's car skidded a total of 311 feet along the north shoulder, across highway 28 and along the south shoulder coming to rest on its side The accident happened Aug. 9 about three and a half miles west of Peterborough. No one was hurt and only the one car was involved.

Aseltine said he didn't know how the accident happened but that he had driven through two miles of freshly tarred road north of Lakefield. He said he noticed the left front wheel of his car acting strangely just after he left Peterborough and as a result was driving only 30 miles an hour.

"I never drive more than 40," he said. "My wife doesn't like fast driving."

Richard G. Holmstead, a Toronto service station operator who has been servicing Aseltine's car for some time, said he thought he could explain how the accident might have happened.

On Aseltine's request he had examined the wheel after the car had been towed to Toronto. In the brake cylinder he had found a flaky substance which was dried up hydraulic brake fluid. He said he had experience with this fault and that it often caused a wheel of a car to freeze so that it locked and wouldn't turn. After resting a short time it would turn and act normally again for some time.

Constable Coffey testified he had tried the car after the accident and found nothing wrong with the brakes or the steering.

Reach Major Turning Point In Soviet Post-War Policy

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW

PARIS, Aug. 26 (Special to London Observer and the Examiner.) —It is too soon to speculate profitably about the real meaning of the Kremlin's two notes to Tito. But one thing is already clear: these notes do not merely mark a further stage in the aggravation of an existing situation; they publish to the world the emergence of an entirely new situation.

For it is only now that the Soviet Government as such has put the whole formidable weight into the campaign against the Tito regime. Until the note of August 12 Stalin had been content to allow this campaign to be conducted mainly through the Cominform. That is not to say that the Soviet Press had not vociferously joined in the general denunciation of Tito. But the general line until August 12 was projected from a party angle: Tito was held up as the enemy of the international working class in general and of the "People's Democracy" in particular.

The significance of the note of August 12 was that for the first time Tito was officially declared an enemy not simply of international Communism but, specifically, of the Soviet State. This note was followed by the withdrawal of Mr. Lavrentev, the Soviet ambassador to Belgrade, and his promotion, as a Balkan expert, to the rank of Deputy Foreign Minister. The second note of August 19 contained scarcely veiled threats on the part of the Soviet Union as a power. In other words the whole issue has been removed from the level of a quarrel within the Cominform and placed firmly on the level of an international dispute between two conflicting powers.

The unavoidable conclusion that the Soviet notes do in fact represent a rational change of policy in a direction as yet undeclared is certainly reinforced by other Soviet activities during the past fortnight, which suggest very strongly that the Kremlin is preparing to take a far more open interest in the domestic affairs of the other satellite states. This has manifested itself in a number of ways, ranging from a leading article in Pravda (which only rarely devotes a leader to foreign affairs) reminding the satellites that they depend for their very existence on Soviet might, to a flattering concern in the details of satellite production and, more intimately still, to a curious Izvestia article attacking a number of Polish writers for not adapting themselves to the Soviet line in literature (this is an entirely new development).

At the same time, the Communist strikes in Finland, together with the tone of Soviet references to the Finnish Government, makes it quite clear that even if the Kremlin is not contemplating a Finnish coup in the Czechoslovakian manner, it has decided, for reasons of its own, that this is a suitable time to remind the Finns in rather brutal terms of their isolation from the West and of the undeniable fact that their anti-Communist Government exists, as it were, only by permission from Moscow. Another significant development is the new wave of Soviet inspired arrests in Hungary, accompanied by various hints linking anti-Soviet elements in Hungary and elsewhere in active conspiracy with Tito.

Large Supply Of Gas Valuable In Crisis

TORONTO, Aug. 26 (CP) — A large and adequate supply of natural gas would be of real value to Ontario's industrial position "in the event of another world crisis," Mines Minister Gemmell of Ontario said Thursday in a prepared statement.

Commenting on a Chatham announcement that the Union Gas Company has an option for Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company of Texas for a quantity of gas considered sufficient to meet Ontario's needs, Mr. Gemmell said:

"The far-reaching importance of an assured and adequate supply of a high-heating gas cannot be stressed too strongly at this time, especially since many of the gas pools and fields within the province now are either partially or completely exhausted."

Youth Wanted To Run Away Admits To Police Story Of Being Slugged A Hoax

Robert Hendren, the 15-year-old who was believed drowned Wednesday and turned up mysteriously in Pontypool Wednesday night, has admitted he had been trying to run away from home. Detective W. A. Clark said he was suspicious of the boy's story of being hit over the head by a man at Riverside Park when he found no trace remaining of a bump on the head.

With Detective Sergeant John Stevenson, Detective Clark worked out what they thought a boy would do if he were trying to run away. They traced the movements of a boy as far as Cavan. They believe he walked the railroad tracks as far as Cavan, but do not know how he got to Pontypool from there.

Find Clothing

The detectives began to trace back from where young Hendren turned up in Pontypool. Dr. G. W. MacNeil told them the boy had come from the direction of an athletic field. They searched the field for some time and finally found bits of the boy's clothing scattered all over the field. Some of it was torn.

When faced with this evidence, young Hendren broke down and admitted the truth. Detective Clark said the boy had a large stack of comic books and members of the family said he was a constant reader of the comic books.

Detective Clark said the youth had planned his disappearance very well to make it look as if he had drowned. It was thought he had learned the idea of the careful planning from the comic books.

The boy had come out from swimming just before noon and the lifeguard was due to go off duty. He dressed and went a short distance away. When he saw the lifeguard leave and in the few minutes before the relieving guard came down to the water's edge, young Hendren slipped back, left the bicycle together with a spare set of clothes he had ready.

He then left. Police believe when he got as far as Pontypool, he had changed his mind about running away and dreamed up the story of being hit on the head to cover himself.

He told Detective Stevenson he had fallen and hit his head giving him the idea of being slugged.
